

Top writers in The Times

Magnus Linklater, PI4 Libby Purves, P14 Nigella Lawson, Pl3 Woodrow Wyatt, Pl4

From you to your baby Can a foetus feel pain? PAGE 12

TIMES

PLAY THE £50,000 GAME

The top 250 team managers PAGES 22-23

Dublin welcomes move towards 'agreed elections': Belfast rally shows IRA its anger

Major keeps hopes for peace alive

By PHILIP WEBSTER, POLITICAL EDITOR, AND NICHOLAS WATT

JOHN MAJOR promised the country and Parliament last night to keep the search for a Northern Ireland peace settlement alive in the face of the evil* Docklands bombing and the end of the IRA

He left open the door to Sinn Fein to be readmitted to the process if the ceasefire is restored and moved to repair relations with the Irish Government by making plain that he was not wedded to the idea of elections as the only route to

In remarks welcomed in Dublin and by nationalist politicians the Prime Minister declared that, although he still believed elections were the most promising way forward, his mind was not closed to other options. He insisted that: all the Government's actions -including the elections proposal — were designed to lead directly to speedy negotiations between the parties, an emphasis that also pleased Irish ministers and led them to drop.

uty Prime Minister, said he of the bombers. had been encouraged by Mr Major's comments. "We were House of Commons had earlireassured by his very clear er strongly backed Mr Major and direct and speedy link as he declared that, although between possible elections and the peace process had suffered negotiations. That is a direc- a setback from the men of tion the Irish Government has violence, it was not over.

been pursuing."

Mr Spring added that Dublin still had many questions about elections. But he significantly softened his opposition to Mr Major's plan when he

Mitchell's talks

Senator George Mitchell. who produced last month's report on the Northern Ireland negotiations, last night begged David Trimble, the Ulster Unionist Party leader. to help to salvage the peace

The conciliatory attitudes being adopted in London and Dublin are likely to pave the way to a summit as early as next week-between Mr Major and the Irish Prime Minister. John Bruton, to keep the peace Dick Spring, Ireland's Dep. place in London — in defiance end of the road for peace. If we are pushed back, we will start again. If we are pushed back again, we will start again. If we are pushed back a third plea to Trimble

· A subdued and restrained

At a meeting in Washington Mr. Mitchell pressed Mr Trimble to keep searching for way to convene all-party talks. Mr Trimble was also due to meet President Clinton at the White House.

said: "We all know that imposed elections will not work. What we need are agreed

He said: "We are not at the time, we will start again. There can be no end to this search for a permanent settle-ment in Northern Ireland until we have achieved a settlement in Northern Ireland ... we may have to take more risks. We will not take reckless risks. But if we see a risk that we believe is appropriate in the cause of peace, then we will take it and seek the support of this House for doing so." Although he confirmed that contacts between Sinn Fein and ministers had been cut off after the renewal of violence,

Mr Major surprised MPs by the lengths to which he went to offer them a way back if the. ceasefire was restored. Senior ministers admitted yesterday that they did not know whether Gerry Adams, the Sinn Fein president, was privy to the IRA's decision to restart their campaign.

The doubts, which intelli-gence sources have so far been unable to clear up, were reflected in Mr Major's statement that a huge question Fein and they must decide "whether they are a front for the IRA or a democratic political party committed to the ballot not the bullet". He declared it was for them to show through words and actions whether they had a part to play. Mr Major insist-Continued on page 2, col 5

> Major's speech, page 6 Security zone, page 7 Leading article, page 15

Part of the crowd of 3,000 outside Belfast City Hall yesterday. The rally began with a minute's silence for the victims of Friday's bombins

'We felt a need to come here again'

BY MICHOLAS WATT IRELAND CORRESPONDENT

THOUSANDS of people joined a peace rally in the centre of Belfast yesterday to register their anger with the IRA for threatening 18 months of peace in Northern Ireland. Parents with young children joined office workers outside Belfast City Hali at the same spot where tens of thousands of people cheered on President Clinton just over two months ago. The rally started off with a minute's silence in memory of the victims of the Docklands bomb attack. Hundreds of people in the crown of more than 3,000 people held up paper doves, reviving memories of the rallies that were held at the height of the Troubles.

Women for Peace, who organised the rally, said they were encouraged by the turnout. Anne Carr said: "The last time we were outside the City Hall was just before the IRA ceasefire. I hoped and prayed that we would never be here again. But after the bombing we felt a need to come here again."

Olive McAlea, a pensioner who came to the rally with her sister. Bridget McCann, said she was devastated by the IRA bomb. She said:

Turning out at the rally is our small way of telling the paramilitaries that we want peace, especially for the children. God seems to be with us today because the sun is shining."

Her comments were echoed by Charlie Butler, who lost three relatives in the IRA bomb attack on the Shankill Road in October 1993. He said he took heart from the thousands of people who turned out. "If this many people across the divide can come together why can't our politicians?"

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr George Carey, last night urged the Church to redouble its efforts to help achieve a peace settlement in Ireland Dr Carey, addressing the General Synod of the Church of England, said that the bomb was a tragedy "both in terms of the injuries and loss of life and of the blow it represents to the search

He said: "At such moments the role of the church is this: to redouble its efforts to help achieve a peace settlement and to continue to support all those, not least politicians of different traditions, who still thrive for a peaceful resolution of the conflict."

The Synod unanimously expressed "deep dismay" at the terrorist attack.

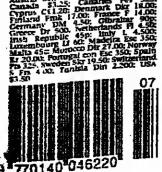

-ril show you my report if you show me

Officers to face war crime court Two senior Bosnian Serb officers General Djorje Djukic and Colonel Aleksa Krsmanovic, were taken from detention in Sarajevo last night and transferred to the war crimes tribunal in The Hague. Bosnia deal, page 10

The Times on the Internet http://www.the-times.co.uk

NHS ready to pay £10,000 for surrogate pregnancy

By DOMINIC KENNEDY, SOCIAL AFFAIRS CORRESPONDENT

is negotiating to pay for a surrogate mother to have a baby for a childless couple at a cost likely to exceed £10,000. A district health authority is in talks with the Assisted Conception Unit at King's College, London, to make the arrangement for a woman who has lost her oterus. It is believed to be the first NHS surrogacy. Many health authorities refuse to pay even for in-vitro fertilisation. The news came as the British Medical Association, which used to advise doctors. to have nothing to do with surrogacy, issued ethical guidelines which acknowledged the growing public ac-ceptance of the practice. Dr Fleur Fisher, head of the BMA's ethics committee, said: This is still a technique that

THE National Health-Service can be very helpful to some couples." John Parsons, head of the King's College unit, said it was right for the NHS to pay for surrogacy as a last-resort treatment. The district health authority, from the south of England, would need to pay for psychological assessments, the collection of eggs, the in-vitro fertilisation, monitoring, counselling and insurance for the surrogate mother.
The NHS would be expected to pay the surrogate's ex-penses, usually between £7,000 and £10,000. Mr Parsons declined to say which health authority was involved but confirmed it was a "full" surrogacy, using the egg and sperm of the couple to create an embryo to be implanted in a surrogate's womb.

"Partial" surrogacies are usually do-it-yourself arrangements when the surrogate mother inseminates herself using sperm from the prospective father. The BMA estimates that there are fewer than 100 cases of surrogacy each year but believes the numbers are growing. A small study of surrogate mothers had shown that 75 per cent reported depression. Whilst surrogate mothers appear to be more detached from their foetus than is usual, they may come to love the baby by the ninth month." says a report published yester-day. "Even if she does relin-quish the child, feelings of pain, anger and guilt might persist for a very long time, and be coupled with fears that the child was not being properly loved and cared for."

Wakeham called in over tunnel debts

By Jonathan Prynn, transport correspondent

A FRENCH court has ap-pointed Lord Wakeham, the former Cabinet minister, as a mediator in the dispute between Eurotunnel and the 225 banks to which it owes more than £8 billion.

with Robert Badinter. former Prench minister of justice, he will try to find a deal that will save the company from financial collapse. The two men were appointed under a French procedure designed to protect employees when a company is deemed close to insolvency.

Eurotunnel has already stopped paying interest on its borrowings and could be forced into receivership by March next year, if it fails to agree a financial restructuring by then. The mediators will interview representatives of all those with a financial interest Body and Mind, page 12 in Eurotunnel's survival, including shareholders, bankers, management and staff. It it likely to report in the summer, but cannot force an agreement on the company. Sir Alastair Morton, the British chairman of Eurotunnel, insisted last night that the appointments by the Paris based Tribunal de Commerce were a "positive development" that could break the logjam in the talks. He said: "In no sense is this a stage of insolvency. It is a court procedure that is pursuing an agreed reorgan-isation. This is the friendly

He said there was "no threat" to travel concessions enjoyed by shareholders: "Of the 420,000 shareholders who have them over 300,000 expire in November. They must use them before then."

Vital talks, page 23

Limbo, frustrating eighth age of the not-yet-old

By NIGEL HAWKES IN BALTIMORE .. AND NICK NUTTALL

FORGET the seven ages of man. An American psychologist has invented an eighth, which she calls limbo.

An increasing number of people enter limbo when they leave their jobs, she says. Too young to retire, they are caught between two worlds: their full-yesterday that she had studied a random sample of 762 men and women between the ages of 50 and 72, two fifths of whom were still working. Among those who had retired, she said, we are finding many of these seasoned citizens find themselves in by the lack of options open to them.

Professor Phyllis Moen, of Cornell Utiliversity, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science

yet to a great extent existing structural arrangements limit their options.

"We have changed the behaviour of people and their health, but we have not changed the cultural convention that equates retirement with leisure. Most of these people would like to work less, but not retire."

The issues of ageing are likely to intensify with increasing longevity, according to British scientists. British time careers are over, but they have yet limbo. They have skills, education, organisations said yesterday that limbo enter old age. Many are frustrated good health and financial resources. ho-age issues were starting to be addressed. Age Concern said it was setting up Age Resource advice centres where staff would try to match the skills of fit and active older people with local skill shortages. Simon Watts, of Voluntary Service Overseas, said that, from being an organisation for school and university leavers, it was now encouraging people as old as 70 to join. "Some have skills which are no longer needed here. But in the developing world they

OBITUARIES 17

ARTS36-38 CHESS & BRIDGE...... 39

94. 1 mm to

LAW REPORT.....19 BODY AND MIND.....12 BUSINESS NEWS.....23-29

HOME NEWS

After the shattering blast, a quiet unity

Since the Northern Ire-land peace process began it has become commonplace to remark on the change in attitude there. If John Major can take any credit for this he can take credit, too, for a change that has been less noticed. There has been a transformation of MPs' approach in the Commons where Ireland is

They received yesterday's statement in a manner which those who recall how Ireland recognise as a quiet revolution. Gone were the bitter and inflammatory knee-jerk responses from Ulster Unionists. Gone were the platitudes about evil, the flag-waving

HEAD teachers of secondary schools condemned Labour's policies for raising standards as an "uncomfortable mixture of the naive and the messian-

In a withering critique of proposals launched by Tony Blair last December, the Secondary Heads' Association accused Labour of putting political considerations before educational objectives, Most of the planned initiatives lacked substance or were "trivial" attempts to offer an alter-

The head teachers criticised the degree of centralisation in Labour's blueprint for schools and expressed alarm at the prospect of renewed control by local authorities. John Dun-ford, the association's presi-dent, said: This suggests

Labour is coming in thinking

it can legislate every problem

Labour leaders dismissed fears of a revival in town hall power over schools and insist-

"sound good practice". Pri-out of existence."

native to government policy.

and sabre-rattling, once char-acteristic of Tory backbench reaction. Gone was the naive sympathy with which many Labour MPs used to swallow nationalist propaganda.

In their place we heard from every side the sort of careful and informed reaction one might expect from an assembly composed entirely of junior ministers. MPs seemed genuinely to be trying to be calm the situation. It was most

The Prime Minister is at his best when guiding the Commons through danger. Never rallies for defence with skill. Speaking with quiet informality he reminded the House both of the perils but also of

Homework guidelines criticised

Labour proposals

By JOHN O'LEARY, EDUCATION EDITOR

vately, some accused the association of jibbing at its tough line on failing schools and

The dispute provided the first challenge to Labour from the teaching profession, which has opposed many of the Government's reforms. The association said it welcomed

the philosophy behind the policy document, Excellence for Everyone, but found few

Among the proposals al-tacked by the head teachers were the speeding of dismissal procedures for poor teachers.

official encouragement for streaming by subject, the in-troduction of national homework guidelines and the involvement of local authorities in school development plans. Juhn Sutton, the gener-.

al secretary, appealed for schools to be given a period of stability to make existing cies. The association was also positive ideas.

schemes work.

based on the best research and development of detailed poll-incompetent teachers.

MATTHEW PARRIS POLITICAL SKETCH

the prize. He outlined his scepticism towards Sinn Fein without apology but also without aggression. He told MPs why they should not adopt positions they might later

In an impromptu remark to Robert McCartney, the North Down MP, Mr Major said: "In outright war one can only go far victory. In circumstances such as [these] I think there will be areas where people will have to look and see whether the ends justify the means." Not, perhaps, a ringing phrase - certainly we cannot imagine hearing it from his predecessor - but a telling one, and not a bad summary of an ism whose clarity and point emerges as we get to know Major better. The whole House responded to it. Instead of the usual voice chimed in as though part of some choral arrangement: a arranged to celebrate the virtues of caution. Tony Blair led off: a confident and supportive tenor: Tom King (a former internal critic to

Major's

Northern Ireland Secretary) wished the PM well. Mr Major thanked both. For the Unionists, John D

Taylor (UUP, Strangford) was flexible. Mr Major was attentive. The Rev Ian Paisley (DUP. Antrim North) rumbled but, helpfully, failed to erupt. Major thanked him. To a buzz of interest, the SDLP's John Hume buried his anger and proposed a preparatory referendum. Major promised

Paddy Ashdown had a slight quibble. Major overlooked it. Peter Shore urged obliged. Labour's Bridget Prentice (Lewisham East) and Mildred Gordon (Bow and Poplar) offered soprano and ceived them. Michael Mates (C, East Hampshire, and a former Northern Ireland minister) was interesting. Major was interested. Clive Soley (Lab, Hammersmith) volunteered a thought. Major chewed it over. Alone in their notes of dissonance. Labour's Tony Benn and the Tories' Nicholas Budgen (Wolverhampton South-West) hinted at unreconstructed attitudes: Benn's nationalist, Budgen's Unionist. Their isolation served only to underline the change that has come over this Commons. A hushed chamber: as quiet as Friday's explosion was loud. But, in its way, equally surprising.

Revised ERM may herald the euro

Europe's leaders are planning a new exchange-rate mechanism as part of moves towards a single currency. Theo Waigel, the German Finance Minister, says today. In an article in Parliamentary Review underlining Germaan article in Farmine may be a repeat Union countries to forge ahead with a single currency by 1999. Dr Waigel says that the Madrid summit in December backed the idea of a reborn ERM as a bridge to the euro for countries that did not sign up at the start.

However, the Treasury said that the summit communique says that member states simply decided to conduct a study of the future relationship between countries inside EMU and those outside. France hints at delay, page !!

Winds bring power cuts

Winds gusting at 80mph damaged power lines in Devon and Cornwall yesterday, leaving 4,000 bomes without electricity. A barn on a farm near Stithians was roped down to prevent it being blown into a nearby road. A typhoon was thought to hisve ripped the roof off a house in Royston.
Hertfordshire, and damaged roofs in nearby streets. A search was under way last night for an unnamed climber missing after being swept down a mountain by an avalanche in the Highlands.

Forecast, page 22

Boy on murder charge

services yesterday charged with murder after a teenager was stabled to death in a row with friends. Richard Duxbury, 16, died on Samrday night from n single wound to the chest from a bread knife at Chaddesden, Derbyshire. A 15-year-old and a 17-year-old were charged with violent disorder and released on bail by Derby magistrates sitting as a youth court. All four youngsters lived locally and attended the same school.

Army recruitment bonus

Thousands of soldiers are being issued with bonnty cards that could earn them £250 each if they recruit a friend. The satisfied soldier card scheme is the latest move by the Army to boost recruiting in the face of an alarming shortage of frontline troops. A shortfall of 2,000 is expected this year. Cards are being handed out to potential recruiters of all ranks in undermanned units. The first two soldiers, a Guardsman and a member of the Royal Anglian Regiment, have already received their payment

Church lottery dilemma

Some parishes and churches will be forced to seek lottery rash, despite recent criticism of the National Lottery by senior members of the Church of England, the General Synod was told yesterday. The Rt Rev David Sheppard. Bishop of Liverpool and chairman of the Church's Board of Social Responsibility, said he believed the intery was here to stay, but "we believe it could be better regulated and that there are some regulations which would be better put

Raffle couple guilty

A couple who offered their Lake District cottage in Great Langdale as the prize in a raffle found themselves in trouble when they failed to sell enough tickets. The woman £150,000 home. Andrew Barnett, 50, and his farmer wife Elizabeth, 40, admitted at Carlisle Crown Court stealing £1,022 from some of the people who bought tickets. They will be sentenced next month. Twelve charges of obtaining money by deception were withdrawn.

Juror jailed for fraud

A infor who swindled more than £3,000 in false expense claims during one of Scotland's lungest-running trials was jailed for six months yesterday. Glasgow Sheriff Court was told that Thomas Young 35, nf Haghill, Strathclyde, said that he carned £200 a week at a restaurant but he worked there unly un a casual basis. The six-month trial held at the Sheriff Court in 1994 came close to being aborted when two other members of the jury were also dismissed for expenses

Jail hostage inquiry

Prison staff began an inquiry yesterday into liow two inmates were able to get a craft knife and hold a prison auxiliary hostage for nine hours at a top-security prison. The male auxiliary was released unburt after being held in n cell at Whitemoor prison in Cambridgeshire by two men

Baseball bat victim

A passenger in a car who died after being beaten with a baseball bat by another motorist was the victim of an unprovoked attack, police confirmed yesterday. Peter Swailes, 39, was attacked un Fridny by a man after an argument near Pontefract. West Yurkshire. He never regained consciousness and died two days later.

Take That split denied

The top-selling pop band Take That is to issue a statement today after speculation about its future. Anguished fans bombarded the band's record company yesterday after press reports that the group would split after one final tour. The reports were dealed by the record company RCA, which said they were "completely unfounded"

Allison falls foul

Malcolm Allison, the former soccer manager, has been sacked as a radio commentator after complaints about him swearing on air. Mr. Allison, who used to manage Middlesbrough, was working for Tyneside-based Century Radio when he swore as Newcastle United's Les Ferdinand scored the winner against Middlesbrough na Saturday.

lack substance. lead from the back say head teachers with bad teachers.

CHIEF POLITICAL

JOHN MAJOR suffered a setback last night when one of his critics was elected leader of worried by the "somewhat the backbench Tory Right.
John Townend. MP for Bridlington, narrowly defeated a challenge by Neil Hamilpunitive approach" to dealing But the association's greatest concern was in the lack of clarity in Labour's plans for ton, a former minister, for the chairmanship of the 92 Group Mr Townend who publicly backed John Redthe role of local education authorities. Some proposals for dealing with failing schools were "intrusive" and wood in last year's leadership contest, confounded predicany revival of powers removed Conservative rule tions that he would be punwould demotivate teachers. ished for his past disloyalty.

Mr Hamilton was put for-ward as the "establishment candidate" in the battle be-Peter Miller, its deputy president, said many able people had left local authorities as the bodies' powers had declined. tween two right-wingers with There is serious concern similar Euro-sceptic, freemarket views. The 46-year-old about the calibre of people who are working in LEAs now. Many would not com-MP for Tatton drew support from loyalists and Young. mand respect in schools," he Turks impressed by his strong Thatcherite credentials.

Speaking on BBC Radio 4's
The World at One, Estelle Morris, Labour's education spokeswoman, said Labour But Mr Townend's power base among the Euro-sceptic tild guard in the 92 Group proved decisive. He was backed by most of its fivehad made clear spending commitments, including the promstrong steering committee and Mr Sutton said Labour's rise that no child aged under gained his reward for 12 years as the group's secretary. Mr Townend, 61, is a confident of embargo on spending commit- seven would be taught in that Labour had any plans to Sir George Gardiner, another of Mr Redwood's supporters, re-impose LEA control.

John Townend, who defeated Neil Hamilton for the chairmanship of the Conservative 92 Group:

Small firm gives

Tories a big boost of £114,000

who was elected to the steering committee when he stepped down ... after 11 years as chairman..... Conservative. MPs have curbed their appetite for Inter-nal intrigue and rebellion as the general election approaches but Mr Major still faces stiff tests - over the Scott report on Thursday, the Europe White council elections in May and

A. LITTLE-KNOWN family

building firm has made a surprise £114,000 donation to the Tories at a time when corporate donors have been deserting the party. The donation from J.J. Gallagher, a Birmingham-based building company, has dwarfed the contributions of some of the party's biggest commercial

Directors of the private company, which employs 40 people in its Bordesley Green

headquarters; were reluctant to discuss the donation, which has upset Midlands trade

In the past the company has been better known for its passionate support for Wol-verhampton Wanderers football club rather than for John

Major. The family sold the club for £2 million to Sir Jack

Tony Gallagher, the company chairman, said last night: There are many others in the country who donate money privately and don't

The company has been a staunch but less generous supporter of the party in the past. It gave £12,000 in 1991 and £10,500 the following year. Last year the company made a profit of £7 million.

Mr Gallagher, the son of the have to reveal it."

supporters.

ister will be hoping that Mr Townend and his allies will not rock the boat.

late founder, who comes from

Co Mayo, said: "We make all the necessary disclosures about any donations we make.

ily increased. There is a history of this company supporting the Conservative Party. If you do it through your company you have to disclose it - if you do it privately, you do not. It is private. We are a very

Bob Shaw, Birmingham district organiser of the Transport and General Workers' Union, said: They are giving the Tories £114,000 for polit ical purposes. We are amazed

as anyone else that a firm which is really small fry has given such a large sum.* The construction industry has been gripped by one of the most protracted recessions in living memory with tens of thousands of workers on the dole. The company has been involved in a number of big retail contracts in the Midlands. Juhn Partridge, spokesman for the Transport and General Workers' Union - which covers builders - said:

"You expect this from merchant banks but it is unbeliev-

Company donations to the Conservative Party have slumped by a third in the past able from a building firm."

low-key company."

The amount has not necessar

The 92 Group's influence has been weakened by the disparate opinions in its ranks and its tendency to act as little more than a talking shop. Mr Townend said: "The 92 is the biggest backbench grouping and my aim, with the help of increase the influence of the the economy. The Prime Min-Centre-Right in the party.

Renewing your home insurance in February or March?

If you're 50 or over, save with Saga Homecare

You will know how expensive home insurance can be - particularly if your insurance company is also having to insure younger, less careful householders.

Thankfully, if you're aged 50 or over you can benefit from Saga Homecare - a superior household insurance that's only available to mature, responsible people

Because of this, Saga Homecare can offer you genuine savings over other policies, while giving you cover that fully protects your home and possessions.

So if your home insurance is due for renewal soon, or if you would simply like to find out how much you could save with Saga Homecare, call us today - free.

The Saga Price Promise

If you find another comparable policy at a lower price within 2 months of taking out Saga Homecare, we'll refund you the difference.

Sage Services Ltd would like to send your information about services ed by other Saga companies and may pass details to these companies to enable them to do so.

- Exclusively for people aged 50 or
- Cover is comprehensive and low
 - Free Saga Assist services -24 Hour Domestic Helpline 24 Hour Legal Helpline. 24 Hour Glazing Service. Key Recovery Service
- Save 30% off WorldWide flights.
- · Free pen with your quotation.

Call us today!

For your free no obligation quote and a free Saga pen. Simply call us on the number below. We will be pleased to answer any questions you have on Saga

0800 414 525

ext. 2315 Lines open Monday to Friday 9am - 6pm, Saturdays 9am - 1pm

And why not ask us about our competitive MOTOR INSURANCE of slamming doors". He was not seeking to erect barriers for produce harsh words that will make it more difficult for those in Sinn Fein to do what needs to be done.?

Mr Major's readiness to explore alternative ideas marked a contrast with his stance last month when, responding to the report of the Mitchell commission, he suggested that a start to decommoissioning or elections were the routes to

He confirmed, however, ed he was "not in the business support for the election idea; he stressed that it would have to be broadly acceptable and that it would be strictly timelimited. Any suggestion of a return to old-style Stormont rule was "manifest nonsense". But when asked whether he had taken note of Mr Bruton's criticism of elections as "pouring petrol on the flames" he replied: "That is a matter under discussion and I think we will be able to reach an amicable agreement."

Mr Major said that the Docklands bomb might not be the last atrocity: more mightNorthern Ireland. Mr Adams later condemned.

Mr Major for breaking ministerial contact with Sinn Fein. He said: "We are back to the old agenda. It didn't work for 25 years; marginalising, iso-lating people didn't work. What worked was dialogue, what worked was people trying to move the situation forward. The big lesson of the past 18 months is that unless John Major is part of the partnership to build peace then we are all doomed.

Simn Fein is not surprised by Britain's decision to cut off

Car insurance over £300? 0800 600 800

Major keeps peace hopes alive

er, the party was deeply concerned by a similar move made by Dublin on Saturday.

Head advises parents to ban children from raves

A HEADMASTER warned parents yesterday to keep their children away from rave par-ties after a schoolboy was left his lemonade was spiked with drugs. Neville Tate, headmas ter of Yarm School, Cleveland. parents that allowing could result in death.

ed to attend events over the next few days at the Hardwick Durham, where James Fountain, 16, had a drink laced at a party ten days ago. He is in a serious condition in a psychiatric unit, semiconscious, unable to recognise his parents or hold a conversa onds. Scientists have yet to determine what was put in his drink. Tests have confirmed heroin, amphetammes or opiates but it will be some time before more complex tests can determine whether it was Ecstasy or LSD.

Mr Tate wrote to the parents of his 500 senior pupils, accusing the party's organ-isers of negligence. The was run wholly without appropriate supervision or effective control." he wrote. "As a : consequence of this nextigence some very undesirable people ipped a powerful drug into a scheduled to take place at the same venue. Doubtless you will wish to give serious thought to the suitability of these dances as far as your son schools whose pupils were present will be encouraging the police and the licensing gained admission and it app-authorities to look closely into ears one of them may have this and other aspects of the ed in the scizure of cannabis, Ecstasy, steroids and syringes, as well as CS spray, a knuckle-duster and an imitation firearm. Three men in their 20s police bail until next month.

Hartlenool, Cleveland, had, in effect, been on "a week-long trip and doctors were fearful targeted by drug pushers at the party after he either confronted them or warned fellow pupils to keep away from the dealers. He executed from the dealers. His parents told police that their son was vociferous in condemning the -About 300 teenagers from independent schools all over the North East paid £6 each to get into the party, organised by a sixth-former from Barnard Castle, a public school in the region. The youth was questioned by detectives last Several pupils from public schools are known to make a substantial profit by organising such events. They start at about 7.30pm and finish before midnight. A DJ is hired to provide dance music and, although alcohol is not provided, the venues all have li-censed bars. Publicity is circulated within the public school network but tickets are often also sold on the door.

James's parents, Christo-pher and Barbara Fountain, thought their son was drunk when friends took him home from the party. The next morning they realised it was not alcohol and took James to their GP. He was taken to Hartiepool General Hospital and transferred to the specialist psychiatric unit at St Luke's Hospital, Middlesbrough, His parents have been at his

Wanted: homes for atomic kittens

FROM GILES WHITTELL

FOUR kittens born inside a nuclear power plant have een cleared for rehoming after being cleansed of heavy doses of radiation.

Alpha, Beta, Gamma an barbed wire fences and evad ed infra-red beams to seek nuclear power station on the Californian coast.

Despite a rigorous plant undetected for three weeks. Engineers then found and tried to carry them to freedom without ootifying plant officials.

The plan foundered when alarm bells rang at the decon-tamination monitors through every day. Geiger counters registered high levels of ra-dioactive caesium and cobalt in the kittens' fur. They were surrendered to specialists warning that they might nev er be completely radiation-

Although they were ex-posed to the equivalent of six X-rays, the kittens showed no ill-effects. Oo Sunday officials said they would probably within 65 days, prompting bids from would-be owners

Top schools order urine tests for drug offenders

By DAVID CHARTER, EDUCATION CORRESPONDENT

number are introducing rego-readmitting known users and Headmistresses Confer agreed with parents and the caught with caunabis should. We know drug-taking is be given a second chance. The part of youth culture. I think advice was drawn up by a schools have ruled out ran beadmaster of The Haber-dom drug tests but a growing dashers. Aske's School in Hertfordshire and chairman lar urine tests as a condition of of the committee, said that boarding schools were more people will move away from committee of the conference. the first frozen response into Its 240 schools include Eton: saying we must understand it College, Millifield in Somerset and do something more posi-and Wellington College, Berk: tive," he said. "Drugs-testing shire, which all expelled pur will be used to support people

Ecstasy 'can devastate brain, heart and liver'

the brain, heart and liver, according to research published today. Doctors in Sheforgans of seven men aged 20 heart, considering the patholto 25 who died from taking ogy in those who die." a Ecstasy and a similar drag.

All of their livers had undergone dramatic changes, ranging from large areas of dead tissue to jaundice. Five of the men had in the report that they estimize days are to the heart. Three had swelling internal bleeding and damaged new USERS of Eestasy risk seri- effects of Eestasy. The short-ous irreversible damage to term risks of Eestasy use are term risks of Eestasy use are be asked about the long term effects on the brain, liver and people use Ecstasy in Britain cach week. The misture of LEADING independent incidents. Keith Dawson, drugs It would never be used randomly, which would be wrong morally and probably a third of boys aged 15 and 16 and more than a quarter of girls in that age group had tried cannabis. Amphetamines or "speed" had been tried by 11.2 per cent of the boys and 95 per cent of the one in teri children aged 13 and 14 had tried cannabis.

suspended for drug-taking provided that they took urine tests ranging from twice a week to once a month. None of the pupils, who left last summer, tested positive.

A growing number of schools are writing a drugstest clause into their contract. with parents so that they can ask a student to undergo analysis if there are well founded suspicions.

In the past 12 months Eton expelled a boy and suspended another for possessing Ecstasy and four sixth-formers were arrested in March after one was found with cannabis. Last summer, three boys were expelled from Wellington College, four were suspended from Westminster School, London, Millfield. Three were excelled and 19 disciplined at Pangbourne College, Reading.

The only electricity supplier to run your account on brainpower

Yes, I want a named account manager with phenomenal learning capacity to get on to my business ☐ I want advice on energy usage . ☐ I want the most competitive price Fosition.

☐ I want simplified billing ☐ I currently qualify as a 100kV/ customer* I want to know how to get a competitive quotation any legal system would want in France and live near by so to separate two sisters from that the children and their their brother. They are devot mother could live in the house.

Landon Electricity ph. Prespost. 45-47 Manuscont Hall, Weyendige. Surrey. KT13 892. Tel. 9500 (1 77 33.

Court orders Scots girls to join father in France

TWO young girls at the centre of a custody battle have been ordered to return to their father in France despite their pleas to stay in Scotland with their mother and younger brother. Fiona Cameron, 36, who has been ordered to return her Sasha, 5, to their father Robert Cameron. 41. near Bordeaux in a fortnight, said she was "devastated" by the ruling. She said Rachael had been crying herself to sleep at night with the worry of the case.

Yesterday, Lord Hamilton, sitting at the Court of Session in Edinburgh, ruled in favour of Mr Cameron, an archaeologist and ordered the girls return to France. Last July the same judge ruled in favour of :) The Court of Session heard act hopes?

that Rachael and Sasha wan-ted to stay with their mother and brother, Hamish, 3, in Portmahomack, Highland. Rachael said: "I want to stay because I love my pony Snowdrop so much. I love my teacher and my school." She said she had forgotten most of language difficult at school.

Her mother claimed the children had lived in France for a total of only three months. Mrs Cameron said they would be in an "intolerable situation" if they were forced to return psychological harm Yesterday, after hearing she had lost her case, Mrs Cameron said: "I can't believe that consult her solicitor in the next few days to see if there is any taken. "I am dreading going to court using a language I don't understand in a country l future of children born in Scotland, * she said.

Lord Hamilton pointed out that Mr Cameron was prepared to move out of his home any legal system would want in France and live near by so to separate two sisters from that the children and their

AFRICAN

EUROPEAN

ASIAN

RACIST

Fifty years on, German returns to homeland for silver hidden in last weeks of the war

Count recovers the treasure he buried in face of Russian advance

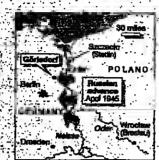

By Dalya Alberge Arts correspondent

A GERMAN count has ser-carried a hoard of silver he buried more than 50 years ago as a teenager fleeing with his family from the advancing Russian forces.

Count Alexander zu Lynar-Redern, 67, a retired manager of the Lufthansa airline re-called yesterday how he buried the treasure at night as the: Second World War drew to a chaotic close. It was hidden hours before the Soviet troops moved into Gorlsdorf, the castle and estate about 30 miles northeast of Berlin, in which his family had lived for 1890s and Meissen porcelain. With their gameloeper, off which European royalty coachman and an estate ate in the 19th century. The count, who lives in Nice with his French wife, will sell them through Sotheby's at a series

toria - who had been wid- covered the area with leaves awed in 1934 — were and branches. The count, who preparing to flee with other had hepatitis and was too families in German villages weak to dig recalled how they near the River Oder, A tractor felt like old-fashioned pi-and two trailers on which hey were planning to escape had room only for people, not possessions they were taking 30 of their faithful estateworkers with them.

The count said: "The Russians were very close. The sky The treasures included a was lit with artillery. I was 120-piece silver dinner service afraid that I'd get hit by a made by Odiot of Paris in the grenade and I'd be buried. worker, they packed their best silver and porcelain into wooden crares.

They loaded them on to a of sales in May and June for horse-drawn cart and drove an estimated £150,000: into the forest where they dug.

On April 20, 1945, the count two deep holes. They lowered and his marker, Princess Vic.

able things".
He enlisted the help of map.

The count's markings narrowed their search to a radius of 200 metres, but the treasure was some two metres below ing equipment, they found the exact spot within 90 minutes. The count recalled how, as they started digging, "we heard a little click. That was

Mr Mills said: "It was an emotional moment. His sister and nephew were with him. It was all that remained of their

The wooden crates had disintegrated and much of the porcelain had broken under the weight of sandy soil above rates. They wrapped each precious object in newspaper, and used stone has the mark ers along the forest track as

The silver was placed in one hole, the porcelain in the other. The count drew a map, determined to retrieve the treasure one day.

Five days later, he and his mother told the estate workers to grab their most pre-cious possessions. They fled. Within 24 hours, the Soviet army arrived at Görlsdorf. The building and its contents were quickly destroyed. "My mother believed she'd come back after six months." He was sure it would take longer, but not 50 years. He kept the yellowing piece of paper with him wherever he went it was all that was left of his heritage. It was not until June 1995 that he was able to return. Görlsdorf had been expropriated by the Communists: the forest had become the private hunting ground of General Mielke, head of the Stasi, the East German secret service, The general regularly harsted over the land under which the treasure was buried.

Unification and the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 made it possible for the count to return. He was told after lengthy negotiations that the land would not be returned but that he could keep "port-

Gregory Mills, a professional easure hunter. The forest, mainly fir trees; had changed so much in half a century that they could not rely on the

the first plate."

childhood."

Mr Mills, European manager of Geophysical Survey Systems, specialises in find-

it. But several hundred pieces remained intact, saved

because they had been covered in verdigris, a greenish coating caused by damp conditions, and bits of old newspaper that had attached itself to the items: all can be

Some of the silver was stacked vertically.

Court Alexander zu Lynar-Redern at Sotheby's yesterday with the Odiot silver dinner service, recovered with the aid of the map, below left, that he drew as a 16-year-old before his family abandoned Gorlsdorf, the family home about 30 miles from Berlin

ing archaeological treasure. unable to track down any of The company manufactures their relatives. radar systems for subsurface detection. Rumours of buried treasure had long circulated among villagers near the estate. The count said: "I thought someone might have found it." But the three men who had helped to bury it kept their secret to the end. The count tried to trace his former staff but all three had died and he was it will represent half the £22.7 million which the trust, and its sister organisation in Scotland, will need to get the

The trust hopes to raise the rest of the money from the European Union, business partners and educational trusts and foundations. The aim is to use CD-Roms, virtual-reality and interactive multimedia displays to bring to Four properties have been chosen to demonstrate the concept: Avebury, the prehistoric henge and stone circle in Wiltshire: the ruined Fountains Abbey in Yorkshire, which dates from a Benedictine foundation of the early 12th century: Cragside in Northumberland, a 19th-century mansion which was the first in Britain to be lit by hydro-electricity; and Snow-life the history of properties.

Threads", off the ground.

"A Thousand

The Odiot silver service was ordered from Paris by Count Wilhelm von Redern. to celebrate his marriage to Hertha von Jenisch in 1834. Von Redern, a prominent figure in Berlin society of the day, was chamberlain to the King of Prussia, Friedrich

The present count has kept a few items as "a souvenir". To clean a silver service of this size, he noted, "you must have

Harry Charteris of Sotheby's said: "To find an Odiot service is a rare occurrence. To find one that has been buried for 50 years is incredible." It is expected to fetch about £65,000 in Geneva on May 13. It is inscribed with the von Redern family coat of arms. The remainder of the silver, mainly 19th-century

household items has estimates ranging from £40 to £1,500, and will be sold in London on May 30.

The 19th-century Meissen porcelaim includes one service of 134 pieces and another of 119 pieces. It will be auctioned in London on June 4. The proceeds will be divided between the heirs of Princess Victoria zu Lynar-Redern.

Leading article, page 15

End of the search: Gregory Mills recovering part of the silver hoard buried more than 50 years ago

BY DOMINIC KENNEDY

date, Lancashire.

The fund's "daily sun cover. diering a protection factor of 15 costs £8.95 for Z50ml and £12.99 for 500ml. There is a mild factor-25 sunblock for children, costing E9.49 for 250ml, a £5.99 factor-25 stick and a moisturiser or "daily cooler costing £4.99 for 250ml. The products are made

Both charities are copying the tactics of the Australian Cancer Society, which has boosted funds by gaining 25 per cent of the Australian sun-

Dr. Julia Newton Bishop, of St James's Hospital, Leeds, said she suggested the idea to the Imperial Cancer Research

Campaign six years ago. Only now was the public ready to accept such a product on the

The Cancer Research Cam-paign's lotion will be on sale from the middle of March while consumers will have to wait until April 1 to try the Imperial Cancer Research

lotion market.

market

by Boots Manufacturing.

TWO leading cancer charities sun for 20 times as long as both claimed yesterday in have launched Britain's first charity sun lotion. The Cancer Research Campaign described its factor-20 sum protection lotion as a Cancer Research Fund said that its four lottons, a stockand a moisturiser, all using the new Sun Safe label, made it the first UK charity to depet on its own range of supreare "products"

The rivalry means that bolidaymakers will this sun mer be spoilt by a choice of charitable options. Profits on the products will go to re-search. Both labels give medical tips on skin care, and each charity said it had been helped by Boots the Chemist

The Cancer Research Campaign assembled an impressive array of champions to endorse its lotion: two professors, a doctor, an Australian advertising man (to talk about skin-cancer campaigns) and the buying and marketing controller for beauty and personal care at Boots the Chemist Merv Hughes, the Australian cricketer, appeared in a promotional video. The Imperial Cancer Research Fund issued a state. ment quoting two doctors, a : knight and a retail expert.

There is little to choose between the products on price. The Cancer Research Campaign has only one, called the Cancer Research Campaign Sun Protection Lotion*, which will sell at £7.99 for 200ml and Eli 49 for 400ml. It has a sunprotection factor of 20 (allowing sunbathers to stay in the . Fund's range.

Advertising switch cost council £130,000

COUNCIL'S decision to stop advertising with Times without the cream), comes in Newspapers and change to plain blue bottles and has The Guardian has been been launched without any strongly criticised by the disadvertising.

The lotion was originally trict auditor, who found that the switch cost £130,000 in court and higher advertising developed by the Australian Cancer Society of Victoria and has been made in Britain by After a six-year investiga-Standard Soap of Skelmerstion, Keith Stanton, the Midlands district auditor, has The Imperial Cancer Re-search Fund has a range of decided that there was no wilful misconduct by councilproflucts marketed under the label. Sun Safe. They have lors or officers which caused the loss and no one is to be white labels, contrasting with fine usual browns or oranges preferred by makers of sun surcharged.

The advertising switch was agreed in 1989 by Labour-controlled Derbyshire County Council after The Sunday Times ran two articles critical of David Bookbinder. council leader at the time.

ENERGISCHE STERNING

☐ It was Sir Frank Fraser Darling, the British scientist, who drew attention in 1969 to the possibility of deforestation and fuel emissions melting the polar ice caps (article, February 5).

Although the Law Society has had problems with a new computer system (report, February 7) all solicitors' practising certificates remain valid, and applications from those seeking a first certificate are being processed by hand. We accept that the Law Society is not in breach of its statutory responsibilities.

Cunard has not yet annoonced its millennium plans for the QE2 (report, February 8), and the American based Millennium Society has no booking with Cunard.

National Trust unveils futuristic plan for the past

THE National Trust is bidding for £11.35 million of National Lottery cash to mark the millennium by installing computer-based information systems at 30 of its most visited sites.

The trust says the scheme will revolutionise the way information is presented in the 21st century, dramatically improving the enjoyment, education and entertainment offered

The trust will be competing for funds with the Countryside Commission, which unveiled plans yesterday to spend £67 million buying blocks of land and creating 1,000 new public open spaces, or "greens", by the turn of the century. It hopes to get National Lonery money to cover half the cost.

Richard Simmonds, chairman of the commission, which advises the Government on countryside and landscape matters, said: "Our objective is to provide local open spaces a green lung — to communi-ties which have none at

"The whole idea is very exciting. A thousand new recreational areas on the doorsteps of the local community would benefit a tremendous number of people, and wildlife

Martin Drury, director-general of the National Trust, said: "This is a project about revelation and discovery. The project seeks to weave a tapestry of information, enabling people of all ages to discover the great wealth of natural and man-made treasures in the trust's care."

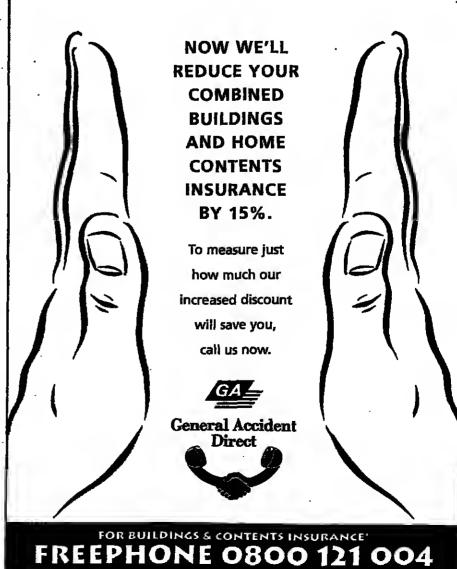

If the money is forthcoming.

donia in North Wales. At Avebury a "virtual reality walkway" housed in an ancient barn will "peel back the various historical layers of this large-scale and complex site". Archaeologists recently found evidence of a burial mound indicating the site was in use before 3000 BC.

If the project wins the sup-port of the Millennium Commission, work on the project could begin by the end of this year and all 30 sites could be completed by 2000.

The trust owns 201 historic houses, 233 gardens and public parks, 581,000 acres of farmland and 555 miles of coastline, in 1994-95, some 10.8 million people visited trust properties.

PAY BY INSTALMENTS INTEREST FREE

MOTOR*0800 121 000 REDUNDANCY & SICKNESS 0800 121 008 - TRAVEL 0800 121 007 Weekdays 8am - 8pm, Sat 9am - 2pm.

*Written details on request. General Accident Direct, FREEPOST, Hamilton ML3 1BR.

SDLP leader calls for referendum as main parties voice support for Major's campaign

Let the people show their will for peace, says Hume

JOHN HUME, leader of the nationalist SDLP, yesterday condemned the IRA bombing in London as "a terrible atrocity" and called for an all-Ireland referendum on the peace process before the end of

He told MPs that the people of Northern Ireland had shown a "massive will for peace". Referendums should be held in the republic and in the North asking people if they unequivocally disapproved of violence and if they wanted all parties to begin negotiations.

I think that one of the best ways forward now is to let the people speak and let them speak very clearly." he said. Because if they do, neither the IRA nor anybody else will be able to ignore them.

Tony Blair, the Labour leader, responding to John Major's statement, emphasised his support for the Government's approach. Whatever the political differences between myself and the Prime Minister, on this we shall stand four-square together in the cause of peace." he said. The attack might have been a tactical move by the IRA, but for the victims it was a matter of life or death, he added. "There can be nothing but the most profound contempt for those who will butcher wholly innocent people in the pursuit of any such strategy, whatever it is." Mr Blair said that Sinn Fein represented only a small section of the nationalist community and must accept peaceful methods if it wanted to join talks. "That is the only conceivable course that any British Government could conceivably justify."

John Taylor, deputy leader of the Ulster Unionists, joined Mr Major in condemning the "IRA atrocity". He said that the inevitability of another terrorist attack had grown as Sinn Fein rejected the Downing Street Declaration.

DEBATE

oles of the Mitchell Commission and refused to reach agreement with all the other nationalist parties at the Dublin Forum for Peace and

"Sinn Fein has totally isolated itself." he said. "The benefit from this terrible incident is the mobilisation of the people of Northern Ireland for lasting peace. There is a great abhorrence for what happened."

Paddy Asbdown, the Liberal Democrat leader, also gave his party's full support to Mr Major. Is this not the moment when the Sinn Fein must decide whether they are going to be a democratic party committed to peace, or whether they are going to be the prisoner of every callous and arbitrary decision made by the IRA army council?" he said.

Mr Ashdown then called on Mr Major to restore trust and unanimity of voice and action between Dublin and London. Surely if that requires compromise on the favourite solurions being put forward by both sides, that is a small price to pay," he said.

The Rev Ian Paisley, the Democratic Unionist leader, said it was "very strange" that when nationalist leaders condemned the bombing they then repeated the "propaganda lie" that Mr Major and the Unionist leaders were to blame. He accused them of being prepared to "parrot the lying propaganda" of JRA/Sinn Fein".

Only Tony Benn (Lab. Chesterfield) condemned Mr Major's negotiating tactics. He said that the ceasefire was the product of work done by Mr Hume, Gerry Adams, the Sinn Fein president, and the former Irish Prime Minister Albert Reynolds. He said that Mr Major's election plan had never been the subject of proper discus-sion with Dublin. "In one sense there has been no peace process, there has been a ceasefire," he said.

Mr Major told Mr Benn he was "quite wrong". The Prime Minister said that Sinn Fein had not been asked to decommission every weapon they had, "they were asked to make some decommissioning to in-

Robert McCartney (ind Unionist, North Down) said: The restoration of a ceasefire and the entering into further negotiations with Sinn Fein/IRA begs the question, will they simply further down the line, when they meet with another impasse, or some situation which does not meet with their approval, simply blast it out of the way in the manner of Canary Wharf?"

Bridget Prentice (Lab, Lewisham East) said that one of the victims of the blast was John Jeffries, one of her constituents. "He was a very ralented young musician and very popular," she said.

Mr Major replied: The best memorial to Mr Jeffries and to all the others who have been mirrdered over the past 30 years, would be for all of us. to bend all our will to finding a proper full-term solution."

Leading article, page 15

John Major leaving Downing Street for the House of Commons yesterday to make his statement on the end of the IRA ceasefire

'We will not be deterred by terrorism'

This is an edited extract of John Major's statement to the Commons

THE IRA has brought the 17-month-old ceasefire to an end. There is no shred of an excuse for this return to violence, least of all now, when allparty negotiations were clearly in

After the August 1994 ceasefire declaration, we called repeatedly on the IRA to make clear that it was permanent despite criticism by some for doubting IRA good faith. We did doubt their good faith, and the IRA did not say it was permanent. Nonetheless, after a prudent period of time, in order to move the process forward. we were prepared to act on the working assumption that the ceasefire

In the months that followed we reduced the more visible and inconvenient aspects of security. We took soldiers off the streets and opened all the border crossing points. We did everything possible to create new jobs and helped to produce a remarkable economic upsurge.

We talked to Sinn Fein leaders at official and ministerial level. :We constantly sought to move the peace process on to the all-party negotiations everyone agrees are necessary. No one - no one - took more risks MAJOH'S STATEMENT

we never lost sight of the fact that the IRA commitment had not been made for good. Nn responsible government could have done otherwise. That was why we and others saw a start to the decommissioning of illegal arms as a way of creating confidence in Sinn Fein's acceptance of democratic peaceful methods, and showing that the violence really has ended.

But all the time that Sinn Fein were calling for all-party talks, we knew that the IRA continued to train and plan for terrorist attacks. Punishments beatings and killings continued. They remained ready to resume full-scale terrorism at any time. We could never be confident their behaviour was that of an organisation which had decided to renounce violence for ever. Their's was not true peace.

I regret to say that the events of last Friday showed that our caution about the IRA was only too justified. The timing of the return to violence may have been surprising. The fact that violence could resume was not. We must now continue the search for permanent peace and a comprehensive political settlement. Let there be doubt that the Government's commitment to this is as strong as ever. We will work for peace with all the democratic political parties and buge question mark now hangs over the position of one of the parties: Sinn Fein. Their leaders have spoken often of their commitment to peace and peaceful methods. But they have always ducked and weaved when they have been questioned about the IRA and their methods. After the events of last Friday their ambiguity stands out

Sinn Fein's leaders claim that they did not know about the bomb at South Quay and the IRA's ceaselire statement. But they have refused either to condemn or to dissociate themselves from either. Madam Speaker, Sinn. Fein must decide whether they are a front for the IRA or a democratic and not to the bullet.

Meanwhile, one thing is clear. In the absence of a genuine end to this renewed violence, meetings between British Ministers and Sinn Fein are not acceptable and cannot take place. That is also the position of the Irish Government. They have made it clear to Sinn Fein that their attitude and willingness to meet at political level will be determined by whether the IRA ceasefire is restored. We and the Irish Government are at one on this: the ball is in the court of Sinn Fein and the IRA, if indeed that distinction, means anything. It is for them to tions, whether they have a part to play in the peace process or not. I am not in the bosiness of stamming doors. But the British and Irish peoples need to know where Sinn Fein now stand.

. The peace process will go on. The aim is, as it has always been to establish the necessary confidence to enable negotiations between all the parties to start. I want everyone to be absolutely clear on this point. The objective of all our actions and policies before and since the ceasefire has been to get to a position where all constitu tional democratic parties can ge round a table together. Everything is a means to that essential end.

The peace process in Northern Ireland has received a serious setback from the men of violence. But it is not over, not by any means. We have seen the benefits of what has been achieved since the ceasefire: the freedom to live and work normally, and to enjoy life; increased prosperity and new jobs; new hope for the future. These must not be thrown away.

This Government will not be deterred by terrorism. The people of Northern Ireland have tasted peace, a peace that changed their lives. I have told the House before that I will leave no stone unturned in the search for peace. That is true today and will remain true in the forure.

The people of Great Britain and Northern Ireland deserve no less.

for peace than this Government, But Prime Ministers are under pressure for new way forward

The British and Irish Governments will ensure that whatever the next steps in the Northern Ireland peace process are, they will be agreed between them. The recent public disagreements between London and Dublin may not have affected the IRA's decision to explode the South Quay bomb, given the extent of planning involved, but they did sour the political atmosphere. The result was a maximum degree of misunderstanding with faults of interpretation on both sides.

All that has now changed. Yesterday was a holding operation as post-outrage statements usually are. The formalities of condemnation. RIDDELL ON POLITICS sympathy and praise were duly paid in the Commons by the Prime Minister and other party leaders.

But more striking was the tone adopted by John Major in his discussion of the prospects for future negotiations. He between ministers of either Government and Sinn Fein in the absence of a genuine end to violence, though contacts will be maintained at official level. But, equally, nothing will be done to push people into the hands of the IRA.

Consequently, in the Commons yesterday. Mr Major carefully avoided raising the temperature of exchanges with Gerry Adams. In talking of the "ambiguity" of Sinn Fein's position in relation to the IRA. Mr Major seemed to recognise was firm, but conciliatory.

That reflects a joint approach agreed with John Bruton.

there will be no meetings ams' political position. He didnot want to "erect barriers or to produce harsh words" which would make it harder for those in Sinn Fein to do what needs to be done. Saying he was "not in the business of stamming doors", he argued that it was now up to Sinn Fein to decide whether they are a front for the IRA or a democratic politically party committed to the ballot not the bullet". The underlying message was, "we will keep our the vulnerability of Mr Adpolitical problems."

Mr Major was careful to

Given the IRA's refusal to distance from you, Sinn Fein. unless and until you (Sinn Fein/IRA) unequivocally return to the ceasefire and demonstrate a commitment to aggravate your [Mr. Adams's]

distinguish means from ends in establishing "the necessary confidence to enable negotiations between all the parties to start". Everything else, he added, is "a means to that essential end".

start decommisioning arms now, he argued that holding elections to give an electoral mandate which would lead straightaway to negotiations between all parties remained the Government's preferred option, "the most promising opening available", and is, of course, strongly backed by the Ulster Unionists. Mr Major

SDLP. Moreover, Mr Major said yesterday that other options would be considered none would be ruled out. He was representations and misunderstandings" by emphasising that the elected body would have to be broadly acceptable and would be strictly time-limited and not have legisla-

That has always been Mr

Major's position, but the reassurances were not clear enough in Mr Major's earlier

Commons statement and in his prior contacts with the

Dublin Government and the dismiss out of hand the call by John Hume for referendums north and south of the border : on the renunciation of violence and all-party talks.

suggestions and did not even tive and administrative Mr Major's emphasis on the powers. "Any suggestion of a return to old-style Stormont rule is manifest nonsense" Mr Major's emphasis on the end of all-party negotiations, rather than the particular means of achieving them. offers the hope of friendlier and more positive talks with Dublin and the SDLP. That is no guarantee of agreement But there is now pressure not just on Sinn Fein and the IRA to restore the ceasefire but also on the two Prime Ministers' to produce fresh proposals at their summit next week. Yesterday, they bought time.

PETER RIDDELL

You won't find a digital offer like this in the shops.

MOTOROLA MICRO-TAC INTERNATIONAL 7500 The pocket phone with the unique Motorola flip:

 90 mins talk-time ◆ 15 hrs standby-time One-touch turbo dialling Complete with charger and battery

Weight approx 275g

FREE IN-CAR ADAPTOR FREE LEATHER CASE TOGETHER WORTH OVER 255

The magnificent Motorola Micro-Tax International 7500 digital mobile phone at a price-busting £14.99. FREE connection to Vodafone PersonalWorld. FREE in-car adaptor and FREE leather carrying case together worth over £55. And FREE delivery to your door within four working days.

Trust Cellphones Direct to make world of difference in the world of digital with a package like this. And you don't even have to leave home to get it. Simply phone us with your credit ails to receive your phone plus xtras within 4 working days.

valuable e
FRE
Monthly Sestal
Pook Rate Call DJ. Wide Off Fresh Calls Secure Control of the
 INC THINK WAY

£17.63 (£15+VAT) 42p per min (35p + VAT) 18p per min (15p + VAT)

GUARANTEED PEACE OF MIND

Cellphones

ORDER NOW FOR FREE DELIVERY IN 4 WORKING DAYS

Office subject to status and a standard author contract for each phase with Collaborate Direct Ltd. 185 Lower Picture of Read, Richarded-upon-Thanes TWG R21 peaceful negotiations. Mean-while, we will not try to Unionist leader preaches calm to 'men who matter'

By Alan Hamilton in Belfast

REACTION

GUSTY SPENCE was in a burry. He was on his way to the Maze prison yesterday afternoon to brief loyalist prisoners on the hardline Protestant community's reaction to Friday night's bombing by the IRA.

For Spence, it was a familiar journey. He served 17 years of a life sentence for a sectarian murder committed in 1966, before the present troubles had even begun. Still protesting his innocence, he has become the grand old man of the Progressive Unionist Party, regarded as the political front of Ulster's leading loyalist paramilitary force, the UVF.

Puffing a pipe and looking every inch the kindly uncle. Spence said his message to the prisoners, many of whom have influence in the paramilitary war councils, would be simple. "I will be telling them to persuade the men who matter to do nothing. There is no future in answering one crime with another crime."

With the IRA ceasefire broken and ail-party talks not yet begun. Spence believed that peace process was now in a dangerous vacuum, "But I think the paramilitaries will keep their powder dry; they have been through the mill. and they are realists. They

LOYALIST

the London bomb, but they are not fools. Any talk of reprisal raids on Dublin is

At the Rex bar near the PUP headquarters in the Protestant heartland of the Shankill Road, the first reaction to Friday's bomb had been to draw a steel shutter over the froot door and admit customers only by a buzzer on a locked side door under surveillance of closed-circuit television.

By yesterday the shutter. not previously used since the ceasefire was declared, had gone again and the street door was open to all-comers. "My customers assured me it was a bit of a knee-jerk reaction." the manager said.

Party workers in the bar said that the paramilitary commanders had been in continuous session since Saturday, assessing their response to the IRA bomb. Hardliners in the movement are said to be pushing for retaliation. "All British citizens are British citizens, regardless of which country they live in: if the IRA wages war on British citizens, loyal-

UVF said. "We will not immediately abandon our hit back if the Provo campaign escalates. If there is a full-scale IRA return to arms, we are ready to match it."

The movement's political dership insists, however, that the paramilitaries are well disciplined. "Look at 1991, when we called a partial ceasefire to allow the Brooke talks to go ahead. The IRA bombed Cookstown . and Dungannon, but we did not respond; we knew we had the moral high ground," Spence

The peace process had been dealt a blow by the London bomb but it was not dead, Spence added. "One bomb does not make a war. The omus is on the nationalist community to show Sing Fein they have no mandate to enter into a new campaign of violence."

On Sinn Fein's refusal to agree to decommissioning of weapons, however, the loyalist paramilitary attitude approaches understanding. "We would have difficulty in living with the six principles of the Mitchell Commission, as do the IRA. Loyalists are unwilling to give up their guns, so why should the IRA? It is completely unrealistic to expect decommissioning before settlement; after a settlement, it would be far simpler," Spence said. In the Rex bar one loyalist activist said: "We are frustrated by Sinn Fein and very, very angry at the IRA. People here have become used to taking down their steel doors, and not having a heart attack at the first sound of screeching brakes. We don't like people who put that peace at risk But would the loyalist paramilitaries now put peace at risk themselves? Gusty Spence thought not "Mind you, even I have to make an appointment to see the men who really matter."

Miles of the

Spence, left, announcing the loyalist ceasefire in 1994. Yesterday he was advising against a return to violence

Security alerts cause road and rail confusion as the capital struggles to get back to normal after explosion

Fears grow for firms as police turn away Docklands workers

By Russell Jenkin AND TIM JONES

THOUSANDS of office workers were turned away from London Docklands by police when they arrived for work yesterday. More than one hundred firms are inside a "sterile" security zone circling the site of Friday night's IRA

Commuters appeared bewildered as they saw for the first time in daylight the extent of the devastation radiating from South Quay.

Many were left unsure what to do next. Some assembled at pre-arranged points and others were told where they were being temporarily relocated. Beyond the blue and white police tapes, roads remained strewn with blasted masonry and shattered glass. Alarm bells continued to ring.

Motorists bore the brunt of the heightened state of security in the capital as police rebuilt the "ring of steel" around the City of London and approaches to the Isle of Dogs. Traffic was bumper to bumper through the Limehouse Link and Blackwall tunnel as cars were pulled over and drivers questioned. Security staff at Canary Wharf — where security has not been relaxed throughout the ceasefire - stopped and searched cars trying to drive into Canary Wharf.

Rail passengers faced chaos as mainline and Underground stations were plagued by security alerts. At one point Euston, Paddington and Liverpool Street stations and Holborn Underground station were all closed.

The bomb, planted under a concrete and steel railway on the DLR (Docklands Light Rail) from running beyond Canary Wharf. The Docklands Business offices on the edge of the blast zone could be reopened by tomorrow. That includes the Harbour-Exchange complex, which houses dozens of small businesses. Big employers in the area, such as Frenchowned publisher the Builder Group, had found temporary office accommodation. Some small and medium size companies located inside the security cordon face a devastating interruption to their business and could go to the wall - especially those without insurance cover against terrorism. Insurance working alongside engineers and armed police officers.

The business park backing on to South Quay boasts "blue chip" companies such as Accident and General and branches of Lloyd's and Midland banks. But high-rise blocks, such as the Harbour Exchange, are home to dozens of much smaller enterprises.

the possible loss of business and the cost of relocating offices. A few may not be insured against a terrorist bomb. The Association of British Insurers bas put the cost to Those companies are the most vulnerable to interrup-tion of their commercial life, lion and £150 million. That compares with the £600 million cost of the IRA bomb that devastated Bishopsgate in the City of London in 1993.

Companies servicing the devastated area, including restaurants, public houses and tial long-term problems trying to rebuild their businesses. This is a sterile area." She said: "It has all been pretty When she arrived for work Clare Chapman, 22, an account executive for The Praca public relations company at Beaufort Court, was waved back by police shouting: "Get out of here.

a quarter to seven on Friday night. We just missed it." Paul Deedman, 30, from Greenwich, southeast London, could not enter the headrelocated in Victoria. "I didn't terrifying. We left the office at think there was much point in telephoning beforehand. Relocation would give us somewhere to go but I cannot do any work until I can retrieve munications Agency in South Quay 3. His offices are being Industrial absellers begin the painstaking task of checking for broken and loose windows among the acres of glass surrounding South Quay

IRA bomb plot was initiated three weeks ago

By STEWART TENDLER AND RICHARD FORD

THE IRA started preparations for the Docklands bomb more. than three weeks ago when an English vehicle's tax disc was stolen in Ulster to disguise the origins of the lorry carrying the explosive, the Rev Ian

4 2

المخاب المتهمين وراالي

Paisley told MPs yesterday.

Mr Paisley, Democratic
Unionist MP for North Antrim, said that the tax disc wasused with false number plates on the IRA's lorry. The vehicle was then brought into mainland Britain on the Larne to-Strangaer Jerry. Mr. Paisley said the details had been confirmed by police to the person who had lost the tax

Mr Paisley said that the theft showed how the IRA had. plotted and premeditated the anack. In reply Mr Major said he noted the comments about Britain. Yesterday as police the tax disc and told Mr Paisley it was "very strong curreboratory evidence"

Mr Paisley's son, also Ian, the DUP's justice spokesman, said the tax disc had been taken from a second-hand, English-registered lorry on the forecourt of a car sales man's property. "It was stolen for targets consider three weeks ago — before the possible risk.

Box 481, London El 9BD. Additions to our guide.

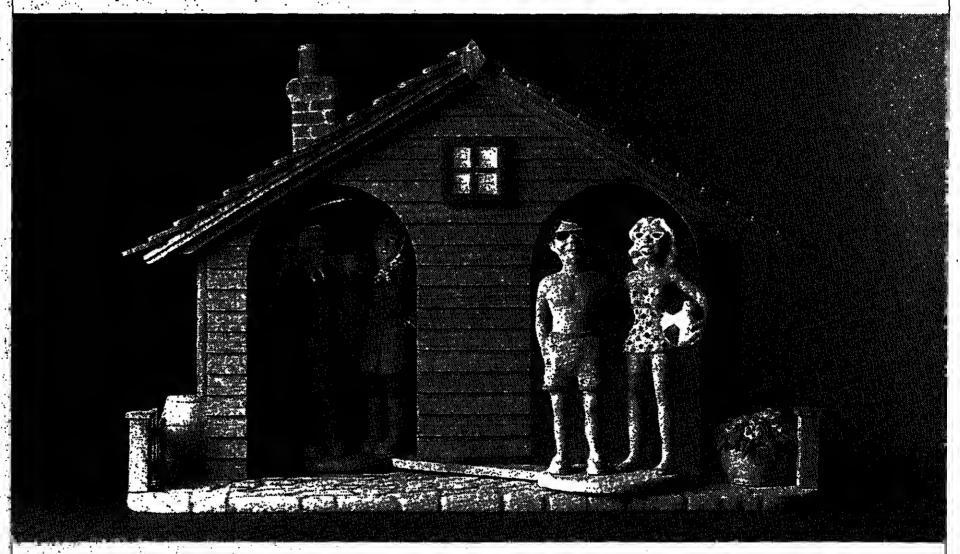

Mitchell Report [on arms decompleted," he said.

Police hope that closed circuit television cameras on main junctions, motorways and town centres may have captured the bombers.

Security managers are being urged to check cameras for pictures of the larry being driven across London or film showing the lorry being parked in a garage, British Transport Police will check videos from trains going into London from Docklands just before the blast to see if the bombers escaped that way.

In the past 17 months Special Branch detectives and . MIS officers working undercover have also seen IRA units examining targets throughout continued to search the site of the bomb blast, Sir Paul Condon; Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, issued an assurance to Londoners and a call for vigilance. The Yard has already drafted scores of marksmen from other duties or leave to provide extra cover for targets considered to be at

AT LAST. A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER FI HOME BUYERS

Because you can never forecast what's going to happen, we've come up with a new mortgage. repayment scheme which helps you cope, come

We call it our Tax Free Home Plan and it's been designed to adapt to your circumstances, when and how they change.

At some stage you'll probably get married, settle down and have children, which is why we've made the plan as flexible as possible.

And, while it's something we hope you'll never need, it's reassuring to know that in addition to life cover, you can also arrange for the plan to protect you against the effects of serious illness and disability,

By now you'll bave nonced the two magic words "Tax Free" and there's good news bere, too. With the potential for a healthy return on your investment, you may find yourself having to choose between paying off your mortgage earlier than you thought, or taking a nice lump sum at the end of the day.

If you'd like to find out more just call into your local Halifax branch.

With our new Tax Free Home Plan, we believe you'll be home and dry.

T, W, Th. F, S, Sun, two courses, Tel: 01428 604439. Tyne and Wear: Leela's South Indian Restaurant, 20 Dean Street, Newcastle upon Tyne, lunch M. T. W. Th. F. Sat, two courses, Tel: 0191-2301261.

Surrey: Undershaw, I Portsmouth Road, Hindhead, lunch M.

Eat out for a fiver

Out For E5 offer, it is also easily affordable. All you need is one of the vouchers published daily and you, plus up to five friends, can take advantage of this superb offer which is valid until the end of March. If you missed our 24-page guide send two first class stamps to The Times Eat Out For ES offer, PO

Kent: Riggings Restaurant, East Street, Herne Bay, hunch T. W. Th. F. Sat, dinner: T. W. Th. two courses, Tel: 01227 361880. London: Le Mercury, 140a Upper Street, London NL hunch M.

T. W. Th. F. Sat. two courses, Tel: 0171-354 4088

gurants in 7he Times Eat out for £5 guide.

servations must be made in advance and the voucher presented cal. The offer applies to the Eat out for £5 menu only at applicable sittings for up to six people. One, two or three courses apply as specified in the guide. Where less than three courses are offered, starters and desserts can be selected from the main menu and the appropriate price must be paid. This offer applies to food only — trials must be purchased separately. Where no drivits are purchased, restaurants may change a discretionary $2 per person cover charge. The offer is valid from February 12 until March 31, 1996. Refer to the guide for full details, days evaleble and whether

Get a little extra help.

THE VALUE OF AN INVESTMENT CAN GO DOWN AS WELL AS UP AND IS NOT GLARANTEED. YOU MAY GET BROCK LESS THAN THE AMOUNT INVESTED. TAX FREE HOME FOR MY CHAINE TO HAVE AN AND CAPITAL GAINS TOX. TAXABIDON BLUES MAY CHAINES IN THE FULL WRITTEN CONDITIONS OF TAX FREE HOME FLAM FREE HOME FLAM FREE HOME FOR AND CHEER OF WHITE TO HAVE AND LINE OF THE FREE HOME FOR AND CHEER OF THE COAN EXCELL SO AN ANTIGENEE. BY HET PRECIOUS AND CHEER OF WHITE HOW AND THE WAS AND THE PRECIOUS AND THE PRECIOUS

YOUR HOME IS AT RISK IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR OTHER LOAN SECURED ON IT. HALIFAX BUILDING SOCIETY REPRESENTS ONLY THE HALIFAX FINANCIAL SERVICES MARKETING GROUP (WHICH IS REGULATED BY THE PERSONAL INVESTMENT AUTHORITY) FOR LIFE ASSURANCE, PENSIONS AND UNIT TRUSTS. Tourists destroy resting place of Scottish kings

Political pilgrims face ban from John Smith's grave

TOURISTS and political pilgrims may be banned from the graveside of the former Labour leader John Smith on the Hebridean island of lona. Trustees at the island's 13th-century abbey have applied for permission to build a wall round the ancient burial

The resting place of Scotland's first kings is being destroyed by the number of people who go to the island each month to pay their re-spects to the politician. One grave has caved in under the weight. The wall would be constructed from stone and would allow access to the graves only for the Ionian community and relatives of the dead. Residents, who number fewer than 100, fear that the 12-metre wall will take up too much space. Argyll and Bute District Council's planning committee will consider the proposal on Thursday. It will also examine a plan to install a

John Smith is buried on the island of Iona, which has seen an unprecedented invasion of visitors cast-iron gate, bearing a picture of Mr Smith's grave. The former MP for Monklands East died in May 1994.

Evelyn MacPhail, the chairwoman of lona Community Council, said: "People just don't have any respect. They literally trample over people's graves to see John Smith's nal resting place.
"None of us realised the

They even bring coach parties here to see it. Something has to be done to protect the site. It peaceful place. I don't go near

MULL

Makeshift railings that were put up last summer merely clambered over them. A gravel path may be laid to stop people walking across the now in the tourist season."

pilgrims have turned the site into a virtual quagmire The most persistent question asked on the island is Where is John Smith's grave?". In the past, the question was "Where are the Scottish kings buried?". The original decision to grant Mr Smith, a mainlander, a plot in cemetery normally reserved for islanders and their descen dants was criticised by local people Mr Smith's family was given special permission for burial only because he was raised in Argyll and was the leader of a major political Mr Smith's widow, Elizabeth, supports the proposal for a wall and has urged tourists to be more respectful. If the plan is adopted on Thursday, the family will be able to reach the grave through a private gate. Local residents would prefer a temporary fence which could be removed if, and when, public interest in John Smitb's

Burning bright: keeper Caroline Connor with her feisty new charge yesterday

New tiger cub comes up to scratch

LONDON Zoo's newest tiger is no pussy cat. The male Sumatran tiger cub, which made its first public appearance yesterday, is proving ing quite a handful.

Caroline Connor, 20, the keeper who has been a surrogate mother to the cub since its birth three weeks ago after its mother Mira was unable to suckle it, said: "He's no pushover, this one. He likes to get his own way." The cub is already getting through nearly half a litre of milk a day and is well on the way to his father's daily ration of 100b of beef.

Miss Connor said: "He's got quite a temper. He just doesn't know what to do with his big paws."

The cub, which will be reeting visitors at the zoo in Regent's Park from today, is one of only 250 Sumatran tigers in captivity. There are fewer than 600 left in the wild. The cub will be named interest in John Smith's grave would have gone on so long. grass to the site of Scotland's earliest Christian settlement. We also include: 1). 3 year/60,000 mile free servicing including parts, labour and courtesy car 2). 3 year/60,000 mile comprehensive warranty. 3), 3 year Daewoo Total AA Cover. 4). 6 year anti-corrosion warranty. 5). 30 day/1.000 mile money b 6). Metallic paint. 7). Electronic ABS. DAEWOO THINK THAT 8). Driver's airbag. 9). Side impact protection. DELIVERY CHARGES AND 10). Power steering. 11). Engine immobiliser. OTHER EXTRAS ON A NEW Depending on the model you choose, this CAR ARE RIDICULOUS. will cost you between £8,445 and £12.895 for the 3.4 and 5 door Nexia and the Espero saloon. If you want to find out more then call 0800 666 222 or write to Daewoo Cars Often what car manufacturers say is not what you Limited, PO Box 401, Kent BR5 1TG. pay. What they show you is the list price. That is the price of the car not including any of the 'extras' No extra charges? No catches? No small print? That'll be the Daewoo. DAEWOO you'll need to actually drive it. 'Extras' like delivery, number plates, road tax and fuel. Little details like these are hidden away at the bottom of the page in tiny type and can set you back a hefty £500 or more. They are charging you around £450 for delivery alone. 'What Car?' says this can cost as little as £110. Daewoo says it's time it was scrapped and 'What Car?' agrees. We have always included delivery, number plates, 12 months road tax and a full tank of fuel as standard.

Bypass protesters ransack offices of building firm

THE offices of a construction company were ransacked yesterday by a group protesting against the Newbury bypass. The raid, by about 50 campaigners, caused damage estimated at thousands of pounds and was the most violent demonstration so far.

Priends of the Earth, which is co-ordinating the auti-by-pass movement, distanced itself from the attack at the offices of Tarmac Roadstone searctaker, was slightly hurt was poured on computers, files were rifled; a fire extinguisher was thrown through a window and telephones and fax machines were damaged. One man was arrested.

Malcolar Whittle, managing director of the company. described the attack as "terrorism" and said his employees feared for their safety. He said: "I have nothing against peaceful protest but what has happened here was not the work of environmentalists — it was simply vandalism. My staff were very worried because the behaviour was very threatening."

Some of those involved are believed to have arrived in. Newbury at the weekend to take part in a rally that attracted 4,000 people. They turned their attention to the offices because there was no work on the bypass yesterday while guards took part in a training exercise.

Tarmac has been named by Friends of the Earth as one of six companies bidding to build the bypass although the Newbory office is part of its quarrying operation. were an easy target. Mr Whittle said: We bolted the front and back doors but they

when he tried to resist.

the protesters. Tony Juniper deputy campaigns director for Friends of the Earth, blamed outsiders. I think a lot of them were just down for the day. I think they were frustrated because there was no work today. We will work with anybody as long as it remains peaceful. It is a shame. Theo Simon, speaking from the office of the Third Battle of Newbury protest group, said there could be further aggressive action: "I don't think firms like Tarmac understand any other language and they have got to be hit where it hurts," he said. "They are motivated only by profit. Computers and faxes can easily be replaced but the English landscape is irreplaceable. There is going to be more of it."

Photograph, page 22

Venables action is adjourned until after Euro 96

BY A STAFF REPORTER

TERRY VENABLES, the England football team's coach, won an adjournment of legal action against him yesterday after his lawyers argued that he needed to concentrate on the European championship.
The adjournment until July

15 of a High Court action by the Department of Trade; and Industry — which is trying to ban Mr Venables from acting as a company director — was granted after Mr Registrar Rawson read a letter from the Football Association pleading for Mr Venables to be given the chance to get on with his

Ian Burton, Mr Venables's solicitor, said outside court that even when the case returned to court, the amount of work needed to prepare the action would mean that it would not begin this year.

However, Mr Venables is still facing two other actions that he may be unable to postpone until 1997 — a libel case brought by Alan Sugar, chairman of Tottenham Hotspur plc, and a claim for allegedly unpaid fees by Bry-an Fugler, Mr Venables's for-

If the Department of Trade and Industry is successful in Venables: allowed to concentrate on England its action, Mr Venables will be barred from administering. forming or managing a company, or being manager of a company's property, for up to

But Mr Burton, speaking after the case had been adjourned, said: "The worst thing that could happen to him would be that he would not be able to run a limited company, but he could still operate as a partner of a firm. He could still own a football dub if it was not a limited

Apple Apple and

The state of the s

h_{surance}

C00E3 1940

0800 600 800

He denies all the DTI allegations and will most definitely be fighting the case." Mark Cunningham, representing the department, said at the hearing in the Com-panies Court that the allegations related to Mr Venables's conduct as a director of Scribes West, a London drinking club; Edennote: Tottenham Hotspur pic and Tottenham Hotspur Football and Athletic Club.

Venable

FREE TO

roles. In 1992, Hillary Clinton had to defend him against charges of adultery. This year she is the one in trouble, and Mr Clinton is having to defend her against a plethora of Whitewater charges. Campaign officials reject the idea that Mrs Clinton has become a political liability for her husband. They say she is in huge demand and has a passionate following. Certainly there are many Americans, particularly women, who regard her as a latter-day Joan of Arc pilloried by reactionaries for daring to abandon the First Lady's traditionally passive role, but these supporters were mostly hardcore Demo-

AS President Clinton launches

and his wife have swapped

Among the broader electorate, the picture is far less comforting. Polls suggest she is the least popular First Lady since polling began and that most Americans believe she is

The eventual Republican presidential nominee would risk a tremendous backlash if he attacked her directly, but probably he would not need to. Mrs Clinton is now en-graved in the public mind as the first President's wife ever subpoenzed to appear before a grand jury, the woman who turned $1,000 into $100,000 on the high-risk commodities market with help from wellre-election campaign, he placed friends, and the First Lady who dismissed seven long serving members of the White House travel office to help cronies who coveted its

FROM MARTIN FLETCHER IN WASHINGTON

Mrs Clinton is barely recognisable as the smart, ambitious, idealistic lawyer who arrived in Washington wanting to change the world and was swiftly dubbed "Saint Hillary". She still wields great power behind the scenes, bot in public, instead of trying to revamp the nation's giant healthcare system, she sticks to safe issues, such as women and children's welfare.

She labours to soften her image. She is said to be deeply distressed at what has happened to her and even to weep n private from sheer frustration, but a long Washington Post analysis last Sunday blamed her downfall squarely on her own shortcomings.

The Post argued that Mrs Clinton's troubles stemmed from the fact that she arrived in the capital steeped in suspicion of the Washington culture and divided everyone into friends or foes.

That was why she sought to confine the White House press corps to the briefing room. incurring the media's hostility, and why she brought in so many Arkansas friends who subsequently became disasters. It was wby she insisted > several of her team with subpoenas. David Gergen, Mr Clinton's former media adviser, told the Post he "strongly, strongly" believed that much of this would never have happened" had the Clintons just dis-gorged all this stuff and let sional elections.

"the press will take them and twist it and put it in the worst possible light and it will give our enemies ammunition'

House has been forced to release documents in drips and drabs, sometimes under threat of subpoena. Mrs Clinton's aides and friends have risked perjury by claiming collective amnesia when giv ing congressional evidence.

The appearance of a cover-up became so strong that Ken-neth Starr, the Whitewater special prosecutor, took the unprecedented step last month of issuing the First Lady and

The result is that the White

the press have a few field days. American newspapers have fastidiously skirted the question of what would happen if, Starr brought charges against Mrs Clipton, Could her husband continue seeking reelection in such circum stances, and how many Americans would vote for a President whose wife was awaiting trial?

Kasparov during the second game, which he won. He said: "I simply understood the essence of the endgame in a way the computer did not"

Kasparov gets measure of the monster

FROM QUENTIN LETTS IN NEW YORK

THE world chess champion Garry Kasparov spent yesterday with advisers after squaring the score in his six-game match with IBM's Deep Blue computer. After levelling the series at one game each. Mr Kasparov said he had the measure of the machine he calls "the monster".

On the first rest day in the $500,000 (£326,000) match in Philadelphia, Mr Kasparov said that he used human guile. "I tested the computer subtly,. giving it chances to act like a machine and trade short-term advantages for long-term weaknesses," he said. IBM experts spent the day feeding new information Into Deep Blue, crouched over their keyboards like mechanics in the pits. C.J. Tan. leader of the scientific team, said: "We hope we can adjust Deep Blue to take in different strategies."

In a match commentary written for USA Today, Mr Kasparov said that, had he been playing the same game against "a very strong human", he probably would have had to settle for a draw. "But I simply understood the essence of the endgame in a way the computer did not. Its computational power was not enough to overcome my experience and intuitive appreciation of where the pieces should go." Specifically, he said that on move 19 in the second game, Deep Blue took one of Deep Blue, which can considhis pawns, thus saddling itself er 50 billion moves in three with "permanent problems on the king side". His remarks will be welcomed by those who believe that the match goes further than mere chess, presenting a challenge to mankind's sovereignty. Mr Kasparov bas spoken of his mission to defend "human dignity". However, the champion accepted that than anything ever built be-fore, and that in certain kinds at it plays like God". Mr Tan disagreed with Mr Kasparov's comments about Deep Blue's fallibility, saying: "I am not sure Garry really understands the computer."

The scientists have been refreshingly candid in their minutes, is vastly stronger

sponded gloomily to Sunday night's defeat, and the technifrom Mr Kasparov to enact Deep Blue's commands wore a long face when the computer resigned after 73 moves and six hours of play. The third game begins of Saturday's win they re-

Pioneer computer to be given kiss of life

FROM QUENTIN LETTS

THE Model T Ford of computers will be switched on tomorrow for the first time in 40 years. Experts hope it will cough into life, but they are

Eniac, a 30-tonne machine signed by the US Army to help artillery calculations during the Secood World War, will be reactivated by Al Gore, the Vice-President, at the University of Pennsylvania. It will mark the fiftieth anniversary of its public unveiling. Eniac stands for "electronic numerical integrater and computer, the long-winded name given it by scientists who created it to quicken the process of computing trajec-tories for artillery shells. The job was previously done oo paper and mechanical calculators by female clerks. Owing to the ravages of the machine will be turned on. Eniac originally drank 174 kilowatts and used 17,468 vacuum tubes, 70,000 resistors, 10,000 capacitors and 6,000 switches. For this investment, il delivered a ballistic demands, only certain parts of trajectory in 30 seconds. When Mr Gove presses the button, originally used by General Gladeon Barnes, lights are expected to blink

"Eniac was arguably the machine that sparked the information revolution," said a university staffer. "It was the first large-scale, general purpose electronic computer." Eniac could add 5,000 numbers in a second. A modern standard Intel Pentium personal computer brain does 70 million. It is also smaller.

and the numbers 46 and 96 should appearon the display.

Walkabouts take a tumble as Iowa hopefuls exploit electronic media

es have enjoyed an extraordinary place in the American political calendar, an influence long defended by those who believe the state acts as the nation's living room in its. choice of President.

Hillary Clinton, left, with Barbara Walters

But this year the walkabouts, discussion of issues in rural farmsteads and the "retail politics" which have dominated the process throughout its 24-year history have seemingly vanished under a welter of highly expensive political advertising.

As voters attended 2,142 precinct caucuses last night to decide their choice for the Republican nomination, there was a strong sense that both lowa and the successive primary in New Hampshire next. week may have lost for ever an image as last redoubts of grassroots campaigning. The age of electronic media and the Internet has arrived and America's living room, it seems, is now the property of

Promotions for pesticides and pork produce had finally returned to the state's screens the previous day after six Tom Rhodes reports from Des Moines on a Republican advertising blitz that is hastening the demise of "retail politics", where rivals meet grassroots supporters months in which regular commercial breaks had offered little other than the faces of Republican politicians. They had started much earlier, ranmore frequently and were more unpleasant than had ever been witnessed by the Midwest. On a typical day. viewers of one station in Des Moines had been subjected to as many as 80 campaign

At KCCI television alone candidates had spent $850,000 (£566,660), three times the cost campaign advertisements this Des Moines station at the last caucuses in 1988. Steve Forbes, the multi-millionaire publisher, and Senator Robert Dole each spent $250,000, while Pat Buchanan, the conservative commentator, spent $60,000.

Dave Busiek, the station's news editor, said that, while a certain amount of retail politicking had taken place in lowa, it had been far less prominent than in previous years. "Unfortunately, most lowans have touched the candidates through the television screen, he said. "The levels of

The most obvious answer to the question of why this year has been so different appears advertising have been unpre-

to have been the entry into the 1996 campaign of Mr Forbes and his vast fortune. In the final quarter of last year, the publishing scion spent $10 million on television and radio commercials, most of them in lowa and New Hampshire. While advertising alone had not been responsible for his rapid rise in the polls - many in the electorate favour his simple code for a flat tax and anti-Washington rhetoric - it has nevertheless proved that a candidate need not necessarily meet the people to gain name recognition. In the final days in lowa, Mr Forbes had broadcast a half-hour film of himself, Steve Forhes, A True Vision, An Honest Voice, no less than 21 times. Experts bave said that the Forbes money-machine in Iowa and New Hampshire is more of a symptom than a cause of change. This may be the nail in the coffin for retail politics, there is no doubt Lombardo, a Republican pollster, "but Steve Forbes didn't do it. Forbes has just acceler ated the movement of these

UNSECURED PERSONAL LOANS Leonly 1989 ook at what our lowest rate ever could do for you. What you Total save with amoun: Hamilton Payable £188.07 Direct £9,027.36 13.8% £206.68 ·You'll see in £169.95 £9,920.64 the table above 19.9% £197.40 how our lowest rate £893.28 £9,475.20 ever compares to those of some of our competitors. 16.9% £199,32 £447.84 With Hamilton Direct Bank, a division of HFC Bank plc, you can £9,567.36 take out an unsecured Personal Loan for 17.5% any amount from £500 to £10,000 for absolutely £540.00 any reasont. For example, buying a new car, paying off your credit cards or building a new kitchen. So why not take advantage of our attractive HAMILTON fixed rates: Direct Bank 13.8%APR on unsecured Personal Loans from £5,000 to £10,000. 16.9%APR We have the money to hand. on unsecured Personal Loans from £500 to £4,999. Leall now to his our what your represents could be on

Dump is hot tip for New York tourists

By QUENTIN LETTS umbrella." Lucian Chalfen, a

A NEW tourist attraction has opened in New York: the municipal rubbish tip. Two-hour guided tours of Staten Island's "Fresh Kills" dump are being offered to school parties, foreign dignitaries and visitors.

As one would expect of New York, it is the largest Fresh Kills, a name which dump in the world. insurance over £300?

Call Admiral now 0800 600 800 dates back to the earliest settlers, is 3,000 acres of putrid household waste. The city's sanitation department is confident that despite the ye watering stink, the occaional rat and the many bombarding seagulis, it will become a "must see" item on tourist inneraries.

Brochures and maps will be placed in tourist bureaus to proclaim the scientific wonders of the dump, which last year accommodated 7.9 on pounds of rubbish. their guided tours visitors will learn about waste 103 barges which deliver rubhish around the clock, and the underground pipes which take the accumulating methanc to a nearby gas plant. "We do recommend that reople wear comfortable shoes and bring a hat or an dump spokesman, said. "We have many seagulis here and they have pretty good aim."

During pre-launch trials, tourist business was brisk. School groups left with a greater understanding of the amount of rubbish discarded by man, and civic leaders from Europe and Asia were impressed by the daily sprin-king of deodorant, non-toxic

The guided tours are given by selected members of the dump's 500-strong workforce. Previously neglected, the rubbish disposal crews are said to be delighted by the tourist scheme.

Burying garbage is not high on the list of many people's career choices," Mr Chalfen conceded yesterday. The tours will show the world that there is more to being a

-rubbish dump toiler than holding your nose and showtrash. Describing the careful process of layering rubbish and soil, Mr Chalfen said: "It's like making a lasagna," Fresh Kills has accepted New York's household rubbish since 1948 and is now the only solid landfill left in the city. A rival dump near J.F. Kennedy Airport had to close owing to the preponderance of seagulls and the danger they posed to jets. Parts of New York have been built on former waste dumps, including the southern tip of Manhattan and the celebrated Rikers Island jail. Any prisoner trying to tunnel out of Rikers is in for a rotten surprise.No charge is made for the Fresh Kills tours, and visitors are encouraged to take away souvenirs.

*13.8% APR is available on loans from £5,000 to £10,000. † Loans for business or simulatic purposes are excluded. † Rates are correct as at 02/02/96.

This offer is not available in the Isle of Man. A written quotation of our credit actus is available on request. All loans are subject to status.

You must be aged 21 years or over and in receipt of a regular income. The minimum loan is £500. Hamilton Direct Rank. A dression of HFC Bank plc, an authorized institution under the Banking Act 1987. Registered Office North Street, Winkfield, Windsor, Berkshite SL4 4TD, Registered in England No. 1117305.

French bishops defy papal line on condom use

FROM BEN MACINTYRE IN PARIS

THE Roman Catholic Church in France acknowledged for the first time yesterday that condoms could be necessary to prevent the spread of Aids.

Many competent doctors state that a reliable condom is today the only means of prevention. In this respect, it is necessary," the French Bishops' Conference said in a report released yesterday.

The panel said that using for adult sexual eduction, but added that their use was "understandable in cases where a person who already engages in sexual activity needs to avoid serious risk". That principle contrasts with the Pope's insistence that sexual self-control is the only morally acceptable way to fight the epidemic. In a sex education guide issued two months ago, the Vatican condemned the idea of "safe sex" or "safer sex" as "dangerous and immoral, based on the illusory theory that a condom can provide sufficient protection against

The guide said: "Parents must insist on abstinence out-

FROM BEN MACINTYRE

IN PARIS

THE veteran singer and actress Tina Turner was made a Knight of the Order of Arts and Letters yesterday by the French Culture Ministry.

fellow Americans, Sylvester

Stallone, Paul Newman and

Sharon Stone, in receiving

France's highest arts honour.

amid increasing fears that the country is gradually being swamped by Anglo-American popular culture.

At a Hollywood-style ceremony in the Palais de Congrès

in Paris last night, Ms Turner sang the theme tune from Goldeneye, the James Bond

film that has proved a box-office hit in France. "She has

Ms Turner, 56, joins her side marriage and fidelity within marriage as the only true and reliable education to Mgr Jacques Gaillot, the outspoken former bishop of Evreux in Normandy, was ousted by the Vatican last year for openly promoting the use of condoms to prevent the spread of Aids. He has since set up his own "virtual dioon the computer Internet. Several other French bishops have cautiously supported the use of condoms.

Yesterday's report by the French Bishops' Social Commission, however, marked the first time that the Roman Catholic Chorch in France has as a body officially recognised that condoms can save lives, although it added: "In advising young people to use condoms rather than help them understand their sexual identities, we make them prisoners of their sexual drives." The statement, the fruit of six months' consultation between a panel of hishops and medical experts, makes no reference to the Pope's statements on the subject of Aids

France honours Tina Turner

Turner: lives in France and speaks the language and prestigious," Bernard

Doherty, Ms Turner's publi-

Turner with the award is sure before, never anything as posh tion among those who say sing in it.

The decision to present Ms

enotled Aids: Society in Question, the commission said it was regrettable that church tatements on the issue had left it open to charges of promoting death, while noting that the use of condoms was partly responsible for the epidemic's slowing growth rate in "Public health officials sup-port the use" of condoms, the commission's president, Mgr Albert Rouet, Bishop of Poioers, wrote. The Church, tending towards opposition, has seen itself accused of working for death.".

Luc Montagnier, the French researcher who first isolated the Aids virus, hailed the report as an important development, but added: "I do not think John Paul II will change his opinion.

Various French medical groups, including the Catholic Committee of French Doctors, also said the statement would help to clarify a hitherto amhiguous situation. "The word 'condom' is no longer taboo for the Church." Marc Gentilini, head of the doctors' committee, told the daily

France is being inundated by Anglo-Saxon" entertainment.

award is becoming merely another international show-business perk, while others say that by honouring so many American entertainers.

the Government is contradict-ing its pledge to defend home-grown French talent against

Last month a law came into force in France requiring radio stations to ensure that at least two-fifths of pop songs broadcast are in French.

Ms Turner lives in Cap Ferrat and, unlike Ms Stone, who cannot speak a word of French and whose award last October was derided by the press, the American singer is

For your protection all telephone conversations are recorded. Please bear in mind that the current lax situation could change in the future. Sun Alliance Investments On-line is a trading name of Sun Alliance Unit Trust Management Limited, which is registered in England with No 2170242 (Registered Office: 1 Bartholomew Lane, Loudon EC2N 2AN). Regulated by IMRO and the Personal Investment Authority.

SUNALLIANCE

TOSETHER WE MAKE SOME ALLIANCE

THE ONLY

CORPORATE

BOND PEP

CAPITAL

PROTECTION

OUR NEW DAISY PEP can reported to have grasped the

the foreign invasion.

His credentials depend not only on his aerial marksmanship, but also oo his readiness to stand up to Hermann Goering, the head of the Luftwaffe. He caught the attention of the Nazi leadership when he started to shoot down dozens of aircraft in the Some have argued that the Polish and French campaigns, as well as during the Battle of Britain.

on the ground or at sea.

tion his death.

Galland is the closest that

Germany has to a war hero.

Even so, most newspapers

yesterday neglected to men-

IN BONN

By 1942, at the age of 30, he had become the youngest major-general in the army or air force. He was put in charge of Germany's fighter aircraft effort and refused to be drawn into ideological infighting. Both Hitler and Goering were highly critical of the way Galland's fighters were deployed against the Allied bombers in their daytime raids over Germany. Goering told Galland in October 1943: The fighter wing has lost its standing, it is fighting in a lousy fashion. The Führer has lost his faith in your fighters. you see the enemy. I will

Major-General Adolf Galland, who was known during the Second World War as the Flying Dandy because of his smart appearance and pencil-thin moustache

order my flak to shoot your cowardly cripples out of the Galland and other fighter aces promptly sent back some of their medals in protest. The major-general, who was full of praise for Allied bomber aircraft design, followed Goering's advice and concentrated huge numbers of fighters to respond to Allied raids. The fighters would attack, refuel and attack again.

Galland's contempt for Goering remained, however, and he became part of a group of Luftwaffe officers who, towards the end of the war, openly criticised the manage ment of the war effort. He found himself in direct conflict with Hitler when the German leader ordered the conversion of the new Me262s into bombers.

Galland said that the Me262s were unbeatable fighters For the Mosquito bombers, however, the Me-262s lost their main assets of speed and flexibility.

For a while Galland was put under house arrest, but in March 1945 Hitler placed him in charge of the Me262 Sonadron. The war was lost but Galland argued. "It would have been dishonourable to possess the best weapon and not to fight on."

Galland was a prisoner of war until April 1947 and he then became a consultant to the Argentine Air Force. How ever, the way back into the reconstituted German Air Force was blocked by its founder. Josef Kammhuber, an old rival Instead Galland opened up a successful aerospace consultancy and wrote his memoirs, which sold more than two million copies. D Paris Bernard Delhon

France's oldest First World War vereign and probably the country's oldest man, has died at the age of 110 AFP

by the German pilots squadron and held as a prisoner

Fiery critic of 'King' Yeltsin offers to quit Vatican post

FROM RICHARD BEESTON IN MOSCOW

ONE of President Yeltsin's closest former advisers has his country, and as long as he resigned as Moscow's envoy to the Vatican after calling the Russian leader a power-hungry monarch and publish-ing damaging details about intrigue inside the Kremlin.

Vyacheslav Kostikov, who served for three years as the presidential spokesman, handed his resignation letter to the Russian Foreign Ministry after he was given a public dressing down and recalled from Rome in disgrace last

The halding and combative former press chief outraged the Kremlin when he published excerpts from his memous. Parting with the President, and went on television to criticise his former boss and the men who run

In the book Mr Kostikov describes how the Kremlin is run by a small clique of shadowy figures, how the offices and telephones of all employees are bugged by former KGB agents and how President Yeltsin has become removed from the day-to-day running of Russia's highest Grigori Karasin, a Foreign Ministry spokesman, said:

"An ambassador represents serves in his position wrong and inadmissible for him to make negative remarks. Mr Kostikov leaves governabout the leadership of his ment service he will be free to own country. This is a violagive as many interviews as he tion of professional rules and norms." Although furious Krentlin aides would like to punish Mr. Kostikov by accepting his resignation, they will have to judge carefully if he is more dangerous inside or outside government service. Mr Yeltsin, who is expected to announce on Thursday his intention to seek re-election, is trying to rebuild his public. image and cannot afford any negative publicity at this critical point in his campaign. If give as many interviews as he likes and to revise his kiss and tell account, which is likely to become an overnight besiseller.

Kostikov: Yeltsin "is a power-hungry monarch"

In an interview with Itogi. the weekly current affairs programme, which has been programme, which has been broadcast for two weeks in succession. Mr Kostikov painted a highly unflattering picture of Russia's highest office with policies made by a group of sycophantic cronles and where the head of state had become an emperor with no clothes. Mr Yeltsin was portrayed as a vain and ideologically bank-rupt leader who regarded power as his friend, his concubine, his mistress, his passion". Mr Kostikov said: "It is a terrible thing when a man convinces himself he is great, irreplaceable and powerful. Maybe he is powerful, but he should not say it himself and allow others to say it. This system of converting the President into a monarch is, of course, very dangerous."

Deal 'ends crisis in

Bosnia'

Sarajevo: Richard Holbrooke, the American diplomat who brokered the Bosnian peace plan, announced yesterday that the peace process was back on track after reaching a compromise over the deten-tion of suspected war criminals (Stacy Sulfivan writes).

After a flurry of shuttle diplomacy between Zagreb, Belgrade and Sarajevo, Mr Holbrooke said all parties had agreed that the Bosnian Government would submit a list of suspects to the United Nations War. Crimes Tribunal for screening before it tries to

Last week, the Dayton deal nearly collapsed when the Bosnian Serbs said they were breaking off all ties with the Nato peace implementation force and the Bosnian Government in retaliation for the arrest on suspicion of war crimes of two Serb officers and at least eight other soldiers.

Mr Holbrooke said the compromise would preserve freedom of movement and boister the Dayton commitment to prosecute those who had com-mitted war crimes. It is not certain, however, that Bosnian Serh military leaders will go along with the plan. "We have received mixed messages," a Nato spokesman said.

Bomb found in Colombo

Colombo: A locry packed with 266lb of explosives was made safe a mile from the cricket stadium in Colombo where a joint India-Pakistan team is due to play Sri Lanka today, police said. The match is being taged as a consolation for fags who were to have seen Australia and the West Indies compete in the World Cup. Both teams are staying away pecause of a bomb last month ni Colombo in which 87 people killed and 1400 to the rampage of the rampage of the at least 30 civilians.

Tamil Tiger guerrillas shot dead two soldiers. The military said, however, that only one civilian, a 12-year-old child, was killed in crossfire after the ambush. Pro-government Tamil legislators said support for the Tamil Tigers. World Cup, page 44

Arafat takes oath of office

Gaza City: Yassir Arafat yes-terday took the oath of office as the first elected Palestinian President. With his right hand on the Koran, Mr Arafat told a gathering in the hall that will soon house the 88-member Palestinian Legislative Coun-cil: "I swear before God that I will be sincere to the country and preserve the constitution, law and interests of the Palestinian people."

The brief, hastily-organised ceremony came after elections last month in which Mr Arafat won 87 per cent of the vote. (AFP)

Tunnel blast fails to free victims

free twenty people trapped in a tunnel in Hokkaido hy dynamiting a huge boulder failed (Peregrine Hodson writes). Hopes have faded that any survivors will be found. Saburo Okabe, the minister for Hokkaido, turned up 48 hours after the disaster, to be greeted by irate relatives who asked why he had taken so long. The Government's tardiness has been compared with that after the Kobe earthquake in January 1995.

Culture bandits plunder Rome's heritage

FROM RICHARD OWEN IN ROME

AN EMBARRASSED Minister of Culture admitted yesterday that Italy is losing valuable works of art to thieves at the rate of 30,000 a

Antonio Paolucci said the latest aucient monument to be plundered was the Baths of Caracalla in Rome, where thieves have made off with a stone column weighing three tonnes. The baths, oot far from the Colosseum, func-tioned for about 300 years from 217 until they were vandalised by the Goths. The ruin is used nowadays for coravagant openair opera productions such as the Signor Paolocci said the valuable works are kept in baths, like many other ancient monuments in Italy, were guarded by day but not night. He conceded that this did not emisin how an entire Roman column had been removed but added: Even if we were to put the whole of the Italian Army and all the carabinieri standing guard over every column and every art object, it would still not be Plunder is not a new plue houses and churches in Rome are built with the masonry of ancient buildmgs. However, modern Italy has 3,500 museums and more than 2,000 archaeological sites and only 9,000 custodi-Three Tenors concert in 1990. ans to guard them Many unlocked churches, and it is not uncommon to enter a maral church only to find an curtained off space where according to the guidebook - a Renaissance painting should be hanging.

According to Colonel

Roberto Conforti, the head of the carabinieri unit which monitors art thefts, the stolen objects find their way to the homes of the "new rich" as status symbols.

Art experts attribute the mismanagement of Italy's treasure house of art not only to lack of funding, hot also to a 1970 decision to remove control of cultural sites from local authorities - which were the proud inheritors of the old city states from which Italy was formed - and to centralise it in Rome. As a result, art galleries such as the Uffizi in Florence (damaged by a terrorist bomb attack three years ago). cannot cope with the hoge numbers of visitors who converge on them every year.

MAKE YOUR SAVINGS BLOOM The Daisy PEP offers you more than a high tax-free income. For, while the amount of income may vary, you can opt to protect your capital. The projected total yield is currently estimated to be 6.9%. Underlying all this is the reassurance of Sun Alliance's award-winning investment performance. So why wait? Plant your money now in a Daisy PEP. Register by calling Sun Alliance Investments On-line free on the number below. Alternatively fill in and send us the attached coupon. *Projected total yield at 6/2/96. The value of units and the income from them can go down as well as up.

Sun Alliance Investments On-line, FREEPOST 3479, Reading, Berkshire RG10 9ZZ.

0500·100·333 OPEN DAILY BAM - KOPPM LIMITED OFFER FOR MORE INFORMATION

THE DAISY PEP

ALAIN JUPPE, the French

Prime Minister, yesterday ruled out the possibility of France and Germany going it alone with a merged currency and hinted that economic and monetary union would have to be rescheduled if others fail to Speaking after a morning of talks with Helmut Kohl, the German Chancellor, M. Juppé

also made clear that he thought Britain would sign up for the single currency.

Most of the French Prime Minister's visit seems to have been devoted to the power of positive thinking on monetary union. "I am not here to spread the message of scepti-cism or despair," he said.

several times.
The French franc was stronger than ever, he said, inflation was lower even than that recorded in the official statistics and the budget deficit had been slashed to a little less than 5 per cent of gross domestic product. The assumption had to be, he said, that France would meet the

However, apart from cheerleading for the French economy - still necessary in Bonn, where some economists are cannot make the 1999 target - the Prime Minister was clearly preparing for a rethink on the timetable for monetary union. The Maastricht treaty

Maastricht entry criteria.

make the grade by 1999.

Juppé hints that single currency

may be delayed

FROM ROGER BOYES IN BONN

number of countries must be ready and willing in 1999 to take part in the union. If that is not the case, there should be an agreement over another date," he said.

The Germans will not be happy to hear this. Wolfgang

Schauble, the Christian Democrat parliamentary leader, has been retracting similar thoughts expressed over the past week, apparently under pressure from Herr Kohl not to open an loophole that carr

6It cannot be that France goes it alone with

Germany. Others

will join us, even the sceptical?

be exploited by monetary

Earlier, in a German

Juppe tried to quash the idea of postponement. "If we started by postponing the date for a year, someone would say why not two years and then it will be 2010 and nothing will have been done. I believe we should stick to our goals."

Despite this confidence,

the prospect of failure crept back into M Juppe's public ewspaper interview. M union sceptics.

mant yesterday that EMU could not be constructed solely by France and Germany, despite speculation that the two were planning to merge their France goes it alone with Germany," he said. "I'm certain that other countries will join us, even those who pres-ently seem very sceptical." Later, talking to French reporters, M Juppe made clear that he was talking about Britain. Indeed, in his interview with Die Welt yesterday,

M Juppe mocked the British position. "You have to take with a pinch of salt the supposedly objective analysis of our British friends in such situations," he said. "They are after all in a very comfortable position. They forecast a fail-are of European monetary union. But if it happens anyway, then I am sure they will

Oddly, M Juppe did not hold a joint news conference with Herr Kohl. The German leader clearly believes that the big common Franco-German initiatives should be announced only with President

Chirac. The meeting covered many issues apart from mone-tary union, however, and according to German and French diplomats, showed a considerable degree of policy

☐ M Juppe will be travelling co-ordination. For example:

try to jump on the train.

"It cannot be the case that

MEPs push for controls on TV

and Internet

FROM CHARLES BREMNER IN BRUSSELS

MONTHS after European Union governments disposed of French-led attempts to fight the influence of Hollywood entertainment, the European Parliament will try tomorrow to re-impose quotas on tele-vision and fix controls on the Internet

The Parliament's dominant Socialist bloc - including dozens of British Labour MEPs — has a reasonable chance of blocking last year's agreement. This would force broadcasters to transmit a minimum of 51 per cent of home-grown programmes. The broadcasting and recording industries are more alarmed over attempts to extend quotas and controls to socalled multimedia services. not yet in existence, which will be transmitted by telephone line, cable and on the Internet. The controls are backed by France, which has been fighting a losing battle for the past six years to preserve the European cultural identity".

With American films representing 82 per cent of those on show in Europe, the native industry needs protection, say the French and the Euro-Socialists. The Internet, according to the Gaullist administration of President Chirac, represents the latest and most sinister example of American "cultural imperialism". Philippe Douste-Blazy, the Culture Minister, last week lamented the fact that 90 per cent of the Internet was in English and that typing in "Bonaparte" or "de Gaulle" isations from the Europea: broadcasting and recording industries is attempting to dissuade MEPs from legislat ing on television and th fledgling multimedia indus try. Applying broadcastin rules to planned services suc as video-on-demand, tele shipping and electronic infor mation would cripple from data banks in the Unite

A coalition of 40 organ

in the world, the group said. The Socialist-led moves are being fought by the smaller conservative bloc, headed by the European People's Party It says new restrictions wil trigger battles with the United States and stifle the emerging multimedia industry.

Europe's anempts to compet

Roy Perry, the British Con servative MEP responsible for the media, has charged the Left with trying to foist high-brow French films on a reluc tant European public. "Even Neighbours would get the red card," he said. It was not clear how many, if any, of the Socialist amendments to the broadcasting directive will survive voting tomorrow, Under the EU's near-impenetrable system of legislation, the Parliament's reworking of the directive will be returned to Culture Ministers for further action. Since France leads a tiny minority of members favouring quotas, the govern-ments are unlikely to accept the Parliament's stronger demands. This would leave the existing relatively mild regime

Alain Juppé, left, and Helmut Kohl before their meeting yesterday

Kohl will follow at the week-end. Both will be trying to make Russia a member of the Group of Seven leading industrialised nations, before the Russian presidential election in June, The French seem to be edging closer to a fuller acceptance of the Schengen borders agreement. The French and Germans agree that Dutch action on drug smuggling may well soon lead to border

☐ Germany and France are to

ency in Bonn as the nucleus agency in Bonn as the nucleus of a future European defence procurement industry.

However, Herr Kohl perhaps remembering the frequent friction between Klaus Kinkel, his Foreign Minister, and M Juppe when he was the French Foreign Minister still appears to be somewhat wary of the Prime Minister. Diplomats say M Juppé spent an unusual amount of time expounding French ideas for ending national military service, Herr Kohl wanted to

BARNSLEY

01226 770880

BASILDON

01268 522288

BASILDON

01303 259000

GLOUCESTER

01452 502525

GRAYS

01375 396693

GÜILDFORD

01483 300888

HARTLEPOOL

01429 234566

HEMEL

01442 233003

HORSHAM

01403 260410

IPSWICH

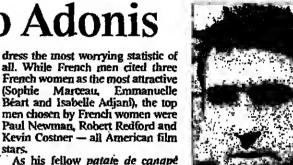

01473 215915

professional French Army and is plainly uneasy about the implications for the German Army, which has been wedded for fifty years to the model of a conscript force.

Bank bid: The Bank of England may enter the race to design Europe's new bank notes, although the Government has not committed Britain to a single currency. The bank confirmed last night that it was considering submitting designs for the euro.

Leading article, page 15 | brought him responses only is very clear: a sufficient statements. He was ada-

Depardieur in favour

French women prefer a couch potato to Adonis

THE traditional French male lover - he of the perfect body, high-flying career and taste for romantic gestures - is out of vogue, according to surveys which show that most French women would prefer to curl up with a homely and amusing couch potato.

A poll conducted by Harlegain, a French publishing firm, found that rust 1 per cent of women regard ambition as an attractive quality, while only 2 per cent feel that "the Greek god physique" is a prerequisite for a lover. A sense of humour professional success, while reliabil-ity and a "heart of gold" were placed above seductiveness and chest hair in the list of manly qualities.

The couch potato or patate de canapé has become part of the French language and the survey found that women rate highly men who take their leisure seriously. The news will come as a blow to those Frenchmen who have spent years aspiring to be an Eric Cantona or. Brad Pitt when they could have remained a portly Gerard Depardieu or Philippe Noiret.
The intellectual, once the most potent of Gallic sex symbols, bas also fallen from favour. According to another survey by IFOP, to coincide with Valentine's Day, 13 per cent of French women regard intellectual distinction as an attractive characteristic. A shared taste in television programmes will do just fine.

On the other hand, it may come as a relief to the ardent French male to discover that be is no longer required to swim the Seine or write extravagant love poetry to gain approval. The IFOP poll found that a bunch of flowers or a dinner invitation is all that is expected. "In love, the French lack imagination," declared a headline in Le Parisien newspaper as it mourned the passing of the demonstrative French lover. "Where have they gone, the Don Juans ready to walk a tightrope across the abyss just to impress us? Even adultery, so long a hallowed

French institution, has become passé, particularly among the younger neration. The IFOP poll found that although infidelity remains popular among the middle-aged, nearly half of those aged 18 to 34 regard adultery as "scandalous". Before he abandons Proust, the aspiring French Romeo must ad-men chosen by French women were Paul Newman, Robert Redford and Kevin Costner - all American film As his fellow patate de canapé melts into his arms in front of the small screen, the amorous Frenchman might reflect: is that true love beating in her breast, or merely the hope that, if she watches for loog enough, the man of her dreams may

THE MPC

Cantona: little appeal

Britain expels Pakistani over nuclear shipment

By MICHAEL BINYON, DIPLOMATIC EDITOR

BRITAIN yesterday ordered the deportation of an employcc of the Pakistan High Commission, who has been accused of attempting to supply equipment for Pakistan's nuclear weapons programme. . Michael Howard, the Home

teran post

Secretary, served a deportation notice on Mohammad Saleem, after a warning was given to the High Commission last Friday that he would no longer he recognised as a member of staff. The Home Office said in a brief statement yesterday that Mr Saleem's presence in Britain was "not conducive to the public good".

Whitehall officials confirmed that Mr. Saleem, a clerk, had been trying to ship material vital to Pakistan's development of a nuclear bomb. He is the third member of the High Commission to be expelled on such charges with-

British Customs has stopped the illegal export of material that would aid nuclear proliferation on three occasions. There were two incidents last November: laser-measuring equipment was recovered from a British stan, and a shipment of special valves, ordered from France and useful for making ouclear weapons, was held up. Early last year Customs also returned to Hungary portable solidstate lasers that were part of Pakistan's weapons-procure-

Vienna: The International Atomic Energy Agency confirmed that German scientists Bruno Stemm ler and Karl-Heinz Schaab had sold data to Iraq to help it build the bomb before the Gulf War. Herr Stemmler is said to have died in 1995 and Herr be in Baghdad. (Reuter)

ment programme. Saleem was employed by the High Commission while he was living in Britain. He will be asked to leave the country within the next few weeks. In 1990 Britain also expelled Ahmed Jamil, a diplomat who was a close friend of Dr Abdul Qader Khan, the man said to he the brains behind gramme. Pakistan is known to have made vigorous efforts to develop a bomb in response to the nuclear device successfully test-fired by India in 1974. Neither country signed the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty.

Pakistan has never officially acknowledged possession of nuclear weapons, although the Minister of Defence Production said in December 1992 that the country was able to manufacture such weapons. Its programme is based on the Kahuta research complex near Islamabad, which is believed to be able to produce weaponsgrade uranium. Britain officially says only that it is "aware of reports" that the country is hoping to develop a nuclear capability.

The incident is a damaging setback to diplomatic relations between London and Islamabad, and is likely to lead to a cooling in the political dialogue — although not in the booming economic and trade relations.

The Pakistan High Commission would only say yesterday that no member of the diplomatic staff of its mission to crush terrorists THE Prime Minister of Algeria, Ahmed Ouyahia, vowed yesterday to stamp out terrorism "at any cost" after 18 people were killed and 93 injured in two bomb attacks in Algiers, the capital, on Sunday (Mark Huband writes).

Algeria vow

Opposition politicians said the blasts demonstrated the increasing anger of Islamic radicals at the failure of President Zeroual to use his decisive poll victory last November to resolve the four-year-old terrorist war. The Islamic Salvation Front, which denied responsibility for the attacks, said: "After the election we recognised the legitimacy of President Zeroual and called for dialogue. To this day, we have had no response."

Inspector on trial

gone on trial for shooting dead a teenage Zairean immigrant during questioning at a police station in 1993. The incident triggered days of rioting in the French capital. (Reuter)

Rome: At least 11 people were killed and more than 100 injured in a multiple crash involving about 250 cars on a fog-bound motorway between Vicenza and Verona in northern Italy. (Reuter)

Long player

the French woman who is oldest person, is to make a record with anecdotes about her life to celebrate her 121st birth on February 21. (Reuter)

Unholy row

Cairo: Egypt's Religious Af-fairs Minister has ordered noise pollution. (AFP)

ALENTINES DAY 01268 288888 MASSACRE BASINGSTOKE 01256 330333 BRIGHTON 01273 606242 LINE RENTAL FOR ONLY BURY ST EDMUNDS 01284 763000 CAMBRIDGE 01223 462482 CANTERBURY 01227 780111 CHELMSFORD 01245 353906 CHICHESTER 01243 771117 COLCHESTER 01206 369800 EASTBOURNE 01323 720200 FAREHAM WHEN YOU BUY A CALLS FROM JUST 01329 825511 FOLKESTONE

SANYO HANDPORTABLE sakes 😂 🧟 a 3 3 a

*Offers are dependent on signing a new altime agreement through MPC with payment by direct debit and itemised billing $\times 12.06$ per month. Offers subject to status and stock availab +Offer applies for first 12 months of contract on our unique MPC Moneysaver Tariff.

LUTON 01582 487788

01622 201622 NORTHAMPTON 01604 259444

MAIDSTONE

ORPINGTON 01689 876060

PETERBOROUGH 01733 555773

RAINHAM 01708 524406

REDDITCH 01527 584588 ROMFORD

01708 753348 5OUTHAMPTON

01703 211433 ST ALBANS

01727 854444 STEVENAGE 01438 751175

STROOD 01634 296496

WESTCLIFF ON 5EA 01702 333766

LONDON

BRANCHES

A MINUTE

CHIŚWICK 0181 747 1444 ENFIELD 0181 367 5333

FENCHURCH STREET 0171 709 9000

SOUTH WOODFORD 0181 532 9663

STRAND 0171 240 0222

SURREY QUAYS 0171 252 0787

FROM JONATHAN MIRSKY IN HONG KONG

FOR the first time in years the railway lines. most wanted man in China is not a political dissident but a ted criminal. He Gang, 33, of Shenyang in central Human province, allegedly hoarded 20 tonnes of dynamite which exploded in his home on January 31, killing 122 people and destroying about 40 buildings. The blast left a crater 100ft across and 30ft deep.

Posters all over China are appealing to "all social circles and the popular masses to please report all clues to the public security organs to help capture criminal He".

The case highlights a great fear in China: that discontented industrial workers or criminals will set off explosions at factory buildings, party headquarters, on trains or along In private gold, coal, and try explosives are used carelessly and illegally. Gun-powder is also used in fireworks, also illegally, which last year killed or injured 60,000 people. Next week, at the start of the new year, another attempt will be made to ban fireworks.In 1994, 26 people were killed when an illegal fireworks factory in Hebei province: near Peking, blew up. Until recently those on the run were political figures. After the Tiananmen massacre in 1989, a 20-name mostwanted list was circulated across China. Many were Peking activists, but some were from other cities where here had also been uprisings. Half of these were apprehended or gave themselves up. The rest escaped from China, some helped by ordinary people and others assisted by Operation Yellow Bird, an underground network estab-lished by mostly criminal societies based in Hong Kong with links to similar groups in When Chai Ling, the Tiananmen "commander in chief who now lives in Boston, surfaced with her husband in Paris in late 1989, she described how they were passed along the network for months, and her astonishment at the number of people who had risked their lives and liberty to help the fugitives.

Algerian security forces said they killed 22 Islamic rebels in five days of operations across the country, the official APS

Paris: A police inspector has

11 die in pile-up

Marseilles: Jeanne Calment,

mosques to reduce the number of times they use loudspeakers to call the faithful to prayer each day, in an attempt to curb

Day two: Now that newborn babies are known to react to pain, the focus is on the foetus

Can an unborn baby feel pain?

FROM YOU TO

TODAY

 The anxieties that sleep reveals, and how men can produce healthier sperm

RESEARCH INTO THE FOETUS

woman, about to submit to surgery on her unborn saby, would wish to contemplate what it might feel. For while the mother will be offered pain-relieving drugs, the foctus is given nothing.

Blood samples may be taken from the baby, its lungs or bladder drained or an operation performed while it is still in the womb. Until Some now, few doctors questioned doctors whether this is distressing for the foethink the tus. Yet these are procedures which, research is if performed on a live baby without a waste anaesthesia, would invite a charge of of time abuse amounting to torture.

The issue is attracting attention from some of Britain's most senior consultants including Sir John Peel, former gynaecologist to the Queen, and Sir Stanley Simmons, former president of the Royal College of Obstetricians. They attended a recent meeting in London at which research into foetal awareness

Until 20 years ago doctors were taught that newborn babies did not experience pain

Practice changed in the mid-1980s when research showed that they produced a surge in when jabbed with a needle. Operations on newborn babies are now routinely carried out with pain relief.

Since premature babies of as linle as 26 weeks gestation now survive outside the womb, many older foetuses are undergoing surgery inside the without analgesia for which. had they been born, they would have received painrelieving drugs.

Dr Vivette Glover, a psycho-phar-

the department of paediatrics at Queen Charlotte's Hospital, London, says that although the foetus is exposed to many interventions which could be painful - including childbirth and abortion — it is an aspect of obstetrics that has hardly been discussed. The perception of pain requires consciousness which, in adults, depends on electrical activity in the cortex of the brain. Dr Glover says: "Below 13 weeks gestation the foetus has no such cortical activity. After 26 weeks the full anatomical system is present and

These six-month-old babies can be seen to react to painful stimuli; now the search is on to find out whether the response starts even before birth the foetus is quite likely to feel pain. The area of uncertainty between 13 and 26 weeks."

reflection of her inability to visualise the foctus inside her. Waler and flowers are common metaphors. Some women visualise miscarriage, imagining baths of blood. These,

Stukane says, spring from fear and reflect a mind adapting to

As pregnancy progresses into the fourth month, many women experience a greater anxiety in their dreams as the baby develops a stronger reality. Images such as being a new "being" inside.

The first study in the world the foetus's response to having a needle inserted in its abdomen has been carried out by Professor Nicholas Fisk, a specialist in foetal medicine at Queen Charlotte's. Sick unborn babies undergoing blood blood samples taken at the beginning and end of the procedure and the level of cortisol, the main stress hormone, was compared. The unpublished results, based on 47 cases, showed the cortisol rose 200 per cent and the Professor Fisk said: This was the first demonstration endorphins 600 per cent.

mounts a definable stress response to a potentially painful procedure."

In a second study, Professor Fisk and colleagues observed a sharp increase in the blood flow to the brain in seven foetuses who had a needle inserted into their liver compared with another seven in whom the needle - to take a blood sample - was inserted into the umbilical cord. When a : haby is stressed it. shuts down the blood flow to nonessential organs, and directs the blood to the brain.

Professor Fisk is now experimenting by giving tiny doses foetuses in the womb before submitting them to painful procedures. In four foetuses. which have so far received the drug, it had a blunting effect on the previously observed surge in endorphins but no effect on cortisol levels, probably because the dose was too. low; be is now seeking ethical approval to increase it-Presenting his results to the London meeting organised by the Women and Children's Welfare Fund, a charity which is raising money for research into foetal pain, Professor Fisk said there were scientific, practical and moral arguments for investigating the matter. Evidence in newborn babies shows that those given pain relief survive surgery better than those denied it.

We were studying exactly the same things in the newborn ten years ago and there the whole picture has underfollowing the demonstration that surgery leads to huge adrenalin and endorphins."

here remain doubts. nowever, whether the hormonal responses demonstrated by the research prove that pain is being experienced. Sir John Peel, who is also former consultant gynaecologist at King's College Hospital, said: "There are huge differ-ences in individual responses to pain. The margin between pleasure and pain is sometimes difficult to draw but how these could be distinguished in terms of the hormonal response is not clear.

Dr Kyprianos Nicolaides, an expert in foetal medicine at the University of London, said: The research shows certain hormonal changes. One may be related to pain and 55 others may have nothing to do with it."

Professor Fisk said the test would be whether giving painrelieving drugs reduced the responses. But it was hard to gain support for the necessary research because obstetricians fell into two camps: those who felt it was obvious that the foetus felt pain and the work was therefore not worth doing, and those - including eminent members of the profesthe foetus could not experience pain and that the research was waste of time.

JEREMY LAURANCE The Women and Children's

Interpret your dreams

THE RELEVANCE OF RECURRING SLEEP-IMAGES

he vivid and haunting dreams of pregnant women may hold the key to better motherhood. Katie Knight writes. Serene, exstatic or frightening, recurring images during sleep can reveal your inner feelings about your pregnancy and, in turn, ease the transition from daughter to mother.

In The Dream Worlds of Pregnancy, Eileen Stukane says that while dreams are always highly individual, those of expectant mothers share common characteristics.

They are valuable tools for understanding emotional highs and lows, the stress...of relationships, the adjustments a woman makes to her changing body and the conflicts that approaching motherhood rings," Stukane says.

She interviewed hundreds of pregnant women and found their dreams were often the-matic. During the first three months, a woman may find her dream populated by fertile images and small animals cats, sheep and birds. These are surrogate dream images, a marooned at sea or stuck up a tree are common, suggesting isolation and helplessness. Bulky pictures of cars, lorries and houses are often reflections of the woman's bodyimage as her mind internalises her physiological changes. And the partner usually makes recurrent appearances at this stage, often showing the female's anxiety about his ability to provide care and her fear that she is no longer FULL MONEY

s the birth approaches. A Stukane says, many women's dreams are an attempt to decipher the sex of the baby, with startling images of, for example, transparent wombs.

Stukane suggests keeping a dream diary. By examining the impact of your dreams on your waking state you can confront and articulate your anxieties, she says.

● The Dream Worlds of Pregnancy is available from Airlift Books (0181-804 0400). Further reading: Baby Massage by Peter Walker with photographs by Nick Smee (Piatkus, E9.99), on massage and movement for your infant. Your Natural Pregnancy by Anne Charlish (Boxtree, £14.99), advice on using complementary thera-pies: and The Alexander Tech-

Mothering instinct the diaries project provides a valuable database

A voice for mothers to be

PREGNANCY DIARIES

batch of diaries recording the thoughts, hopes and feelings of 700 mothers to be as they progress through pregnancy may hold the key to better maternity care. The maternity diaries, a £150,000 project commissioned by Trent Health, are part of Britain's first survey to record in detail the feelings of mothers during the full term of their pregnancy.

Dr Veronica James, a reader in Nursing Studies at Nottingham University and a director of rescarch into the diaries, says the aim is to collect a body of data to help to discover a woman's needs during pregnancy. Researchers plan to record everything from the mother's relationship with her midwife to each clinic visit, from the day she realises she is pregnant until six weeks after

The idea is that the diaries will give pregnant women a voice, says Dr James. "Each is divided into sections with titles such as 'About myself and 'Records of my previous maternity experience'. It asks them to record, for example, how they felt each time they visited their clinic - did they feel comfortable there, would they have preferred to go elsewhere, were they given the information they needed?"

The diaries also provide space for the women to record their more general thoughts on pregnancy and

Researchers have already received the diaries of some women who have miscarried and these, too, should yield valuable research data.

The diaries allow room for partners to record their thoughts, and provide pages for scan pictures. "We wanted to strike a balance between creating a souvenir to encourage making it a valuable receptacle for research data," says Dr James.

A pilot project, in which 15 women at various stages of pregnancy kept a diary for a month, showed that most enjoyed the experience of committing their thoughts to paper. "Many of them found it that liberating," says Dr James.

Julie Sadler, a mother of two from Nottingham, had just given birth at home to Philip, now nine months, when she was asked to record her experiences and the level of care she received during and after labour. "I very much enjoyed writing it. Pregnancy and motherhood is such a major event in a woman's life, but no one ever really asks you about it in detail," she says. "When I had my first child, i wasn't particularly satisfied with the care I received but I didn't know who to talk to about it. I didn't feel there was a way of recording my dissatisfaction. "After Philip's birth, I was able to record in detail my feelings about my midwife care during the labour. This time I was very happy with it.

The diary provides a valuable opportunity for women to voice their needs. In a restaurant, a waiter will ask whether your meal was OK. No one asks how your pregnancy was. I hope the diaries help to change that."

The project is part of wider research into maternity services in the Nottingham area, and stems from a new Government policy, Changing Childbirth, which aims to give women more choice in health-related issues throughout pregnancy. Most of the diaries, which run to 322 pages each, are expected to be returned between May and July this year. Researchers will then begin collating the data.

A GE THE

4.0

W 524-52

The second second

The Same

Kathryn Knight

BACK GUARANTEE (Normal Price £24.90) Nature's Best sell thousands of pots of

with the product that if for any reason with the product that if for any reason after tolong it for 3 months you are unhappy, we'll give you a full refund. Nature's Best Prostex Formula contains a particular combination of nutrients for the maturer man. What makes our product unique is that is also contains ail from the berries of the Saw Palmetto, which has been at the centre of many studies with men in their mid to late years.

Prostex is one of over 160 products in the Nature's Best range of nutritional supplements. We manufacture most of our range ourselves and sell direct to you saving costs and passing the savings onto you.

hen you order Prostex we will send you a copy of our 60 page cotalogue with details of all the products in our range (plus a £5.00 vaucher Orders normally despatched

NATURE'S BEST 1 Lambert's Road, Tunbridge Wells, Kent TN2 3EO

2 01892 552156

Access, Switch, Visa or Delta

Please send me 3 month's supply of Prostex as cover post and order processing). Lendose a cl made payable to Nature's Best Health Product	heque/PO for £16.90	a 13 may 0
Access/Visa Card no
Erpiny Date	Switch/Debu issue Date
Cardholder's Signature
Name, Mr/Mrs/Ma

IN THE couple of minutes it will take a healthy, relaxed man to read this piece, his testes will have produced another 120,000 sperm. The speed of sperm production and the efficiency of the manufacturing line would have pleased even Henry Ford, But, the testes, like other rupted by external forces.

production lines, can be dis-Any disease which undermines a mau's general health will interfere with his sperm production, as can stress. Smoking tobacco or cannabis reduces the number of sperm and very probably increases the number of abnormal forms. Obese men are less

Why a fit grandfather has more sperm than his son fertile than the slim. Alcohol may benefit the cardiovascular system but its effect on sperm production can be catastrophic. Recent research at the Royal Free and Chelsea hospitals confirms that the more alcohol a man drinks, the less fertile he becomes. One ancient aristocratic family was about to die out as the title-holder had neither heirs in the nursery nor sperm in his semen. His doctor forbade all alcohol, sperm returned and the lineage was assured. The effect of age on sperm production is unexpected. Professor John Aitken of the Medical Research Council Unit of Reproductive Medicine in Edinburgh says that there has been only one careful study. in Germany. It produced a surprising result: healthy randfathers had higher sperm counts than their sons and grandsons. Any loss of fertility from increasing age had been obscured by the overall reduction in fertility which has increasingly affected Western men as this century has progressed: Men born in the 1970s are likely to have half of those born in the 1950s. Although in the German study the oldest donors had. the highest sperm count, occasionally babies born to their partners may suffer as a result of their age: Dr Michael Baraitser, a consultant clinical geneticist at Great Ormand Street hospital, said that although the children of elderly fathers were usually just as healthy as those of younger men, they were twice as likely to suffer from the effects of a genetic mutation which would give rise to an abnormality. Such diseases range from achondroplasia, a form of dwarfism, to Waadenburg's, in which the symptoms include a white streak in the hair, loss of hearing and speckled eyes. Fortunately, as Dr Aitken explains, the number of times that such mutations occur is

EFFECTS OF AGE ON FERTILITY

The effect of age on a woman's reproductive life is better known. A woman is born with all her eggs, the production line, closed at birth, and ideally from puber ty the eggs mature at monthly intervals. The quality of the ova deteriorates with advancing age and with it her fertility. Foetal abnormalities are also more frequently found in children of older women. In young women, for instance, the incidence of Down's syndrome is one in 2,000 live births; by the age of 40, it is about one in 40.

One simple measure to reduce the chances of having a baby with many of the foetal abnormalities, is for women of all ages to take folic acid, a. vitamin, before they plan to become pregnant.

DR THOMAS STUTTAFORD

Down and out in India and St James's Palace

living in squalor in an Indian slum, I would greatly relish a rich, royal Western woman telling me how well off I was. But perhaps I would be flattered. After all, it would have been rather worse if the Duchess of Kent, on her visit to the slum and the Hindu women who live in it, had simply squinted sympathetically at them all and murmured: "Poor you, how perfectly dreadful."

It may be crude to point out that the Duchess, admirer of the life that is lived in such poverty, has been staying in comfort in mod-ern hotels during her stay. Of course she has been. It would be madness to choose to dwell, even temporarily, in the sort of discomfort that prevails in the slums. It may not be madness for the Duchess to be so convinced of the superiority of the slum life compared to our spiritually impoverished affluent existence, but it is symptomatic of the Western deca-

It's not new, of course. The rich and relatively comfortable have always envied what they saw as the purity of the poor. Marie Autoinette didn't dress op as a shepherdess simply because she thought the costume becoming.

Only those who know nothing of financial and concomitant hardships can congratulate them-selves on questioning the benefits of material comfort and privilege. The cynic might say that seeing poverty as a sign of spiritual richness is a damn fine way of doing nothing to alleviate the sufferings of the poor without having to feel guilty about it. Religion's smart money has always have no that any last ways been on that card: telling people that it's not the poverty in this life that matters but the celestial riches in the next is, as Marx and others have pointed out, a sharp political move.

And meanwhile the rich can award themselves the luxury of envy as they point out that it is harder for them - harder, indeed, than it is for a carnel to pass through the eye of a needle - to enter the kingdom of Heaven. Why then, the poor are lucky:

God's on their side. Surely the enduring tendency of the well-off to see the life of the materially deprived as spiritually blessed stems from the scripthan a biblical teaching it touches a chord within us. As society has become more af-fluent, the notion seems to have ever more resonance; for only those with no idea what it is like to live in grinding pov-erty can think there is comfort in it. I am not sure whether this belief comes from a sense of guilt about our own material comforts or a feeling of disapintment that these do not make us as happy as we would like to be - or, simply and more likely, a mixture of both. But we take so much for granted that we are no longer able to imagine truly what life would be like without everything we are privi-leged enough to affect to despise. It is easier to be Anita Roddick thinking that the savage life in some underdeveloped scruh is a superior existence than it is if you're the one stuck in the scrub in

The Duchess of Kent admirer of the simple life

Overworked executives are unwise enough, sometimes, to share with us their thought that life must be hard in the deserts of Africa but there is a simplicity to life there that, for all their fast cars and big houses, they genuinely envy. Those who voice sentiments such as these should be dispatched to the heat and dust forthwith, just to see how glorious this simplicity is in reality. People have no idea: they really do feel that getting stuck in a traffie jam twice a day and working 100 hard for a lot of money is more stressful than watching your infant children of dehydration yourself if you'll live to see the next day.

i am not saying that life is not hard for us too: unfortu-nately suffering is not relative; we all feel our miseries and hardships absolutely. I balk at the countyour-blessings school (aithough I am trying a bit of teach-yourself on the subject) but I do think some selfawareness necessary. Although Although galling and prone to hideous hypocrisies, the belief ioneyed, Western way of doing things is, in all important concerns, inferior to rougher ways of life (as if having no running water or sanitation somehow sanctified existence rather than made it hard and foul) is up to a point better than assuming that our ways are always the best.

And perhaps the Duchess is right: perhaps in gaining materially we do lose other, important, things. Perhaps the price of civili-sation is that we behave, in some respects, in a less civilised manner. She envies the Hindu women for fostering a society which values its elders and respects the commitments of family. Showing a fluency in New Age-speak which appears to be the second language of the Royal Family these days, she praises them for living in harmony with love.

She is clearly sincere, and no one who tries to do good or be good should be disparaged for it. But if I had to choose between living in an Indian slum or St James's Palace, I don't think I'd have much trouble making up my mind.

Chaucer? No chance

ANY don you care to mention has been speaking out for some time about the ever-increasing ignorance of each new generation of the undergraduate population.
The fact that academics have probably been doing this ever since the ancient universities were established doesn't necessarily mean they are being bufferishly alarmist now.

But what strikes me is how readily some academics exonerate these students themselves. The latest assessment of the standards in university English departments finds that undergraduates have read very linle that was written read very line that was written before the 20th century, apart from the obligatory Shakespeare play on the A-level syllabus. These academics quite rightly castigate those who have fashioned an A-level English literature syllabus which allows ramils to read more which allows pupils to read more or less nothing but modern

We find," says Professor Martin Dodsworth, that promising applicants have read nothing earlier than Thomas Hardy."

Have read nothing earlier than Thomas Hardy? I understand that the A-level syllabus means they might not have been examined on any earlier writings, but it does not follow that these students should therefore not have read any of them. It might well be a good thing to change the syllabus, but I think the pupils who sit the exams must take some responsibility for being so ill-read. Surely anyone who wants to read English at university should want to read, should have read, books that are not on the syllahus?

One of the great things about reading is that one needs no training, no expertise, no special permission or qualifications to do it. One reads for the pleasure of it. not because an A-level syllabus tells you that you ought.

University English departments should not be in the husiness of catering for those students whose reading is confined to the requirements of any examination syllabus, even their own.

The deadly charm of Scott's secret Weapon

Presiley Baxendale's girlish giggle and gentle manner mask her killer instinct and her talent for grasping cave Julia Llewellyn Smith

hree weekends ago Presiley Baxendale, says: QC, the dark-haired the g and exotically named counsel to the Scott inquiry, celebrated the report's completion with a trip to Paris with her best friends Harriet Spicer, the former managing director of Virago, and Maeve Haran, the novelist. "It was Presiley's idea: no men, no children, just three girls on the Eurostar," says Haran.

The women, friends since Oxford, blitzed the Musce d'Orsay, trawled Galéries Lafayette and, over loog and gossipy dinners, gently teased Baxendale about her new status as Sir Richard Scott's hitwoman. What was her secret, they asked. "Presiley said 'It's quite simple, I'm a devil for detail. I really knew my stuff," savs Haran.

This intimate knowledge of mountains of paperwork cer-tainly agitated Baroness Thatcher when she was crossexamined by Baxendale. "I had the transcript pinned to my wall for a while," says Haran. "It says - Thatcher (wearily) 'Is there more paper? I have never seen so much per'. Then Baxendale (perk-(i) Oh, there is much more paper'. That is so like her. An unfailingly cheerful disposition is another key to Baxendale's dazzling success. Observers have noted her nabit of giggling girlishly as the goes in for the kill. In a ketch of the Scott inquiry. ohn Mortimer noted approv ngly how Baxendale beamed it the throngs of journalists.

Such geniality can be miseading. Numerous former Cabinet ministers can count hemselves victims of Baxenlale's famously soft approach, which William Waldegrave ias described as "offensive".

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPICE MARE ST. LONDON E8 4SA. (Charity Ref. No. 231323)

Dear Anonymous Friends,

You did not wish your gifts to be spoiled by human gords of thanks. Their value eams in the untold relief you silently provide.

We have bonoured your trust, and always will.

Sir Louis Blom-Cooper, QC, was a chartered accountant, the garden path more easily than anyone I know. She has this slightly feminine charm and a deceptive way of asking questions, so you don't feel you're in the presence of a hostile examiner and then you feel a pit has been dug and you have fallen into it. Gareth Roscoe, legal adviser

'Her looks and her manner. belie her many talents' to the BBC, who instructed Baxendale when he was deputy solicitor at the Department of the Environment, says: Her appearance and her manner belie her many talents. You don't expect such quality in the way she deals with problems. Harriet Spicer says: "Her probity is veiled by her fantastic sense of humour. People don't expect such penetrating questions from someone with such a good sense of fun." There are many more disparities between the stuffylawyer image and the Baxen-dale reality. "She has a slightly romantic, baroque, individual style," says Haran. "Even when she has to wear her lawyers' all-black uniform, she will make sure the jacket has an incredibly exotic lining.

The nonconformity is a family trait. The Baxendales are a group of wonderfully strong individuals. rather Sitwellesque," says Haran. They are not your average who later became chairman of Lings, the world's largest manufacturer of Turkish delight; her mother, who died recently, painted murals.

Presiley's name, voted the most captivating at the Bar. was chosen by her parents after friends bought a silver loving cup at an auction engraved with the words "To my darling Presiley". Her middle name is Lamorna. after the Cornish cove.

Baxendale, 45, was educated at St Mary's, Wantage, a school better known for turning out Sloaney socialites, such as Lady Helen Taylor, Serena Stanhope and Susannah Constantine. She read law at St Anne's College, Oxford, where her tutor was Ruth Deech, now the Principal. I couldn't say there was anything out of the ordinary about her," says Mrs Deech. "She was a thoroughly nice, hard-working, unaffected pupil in a very gifted generation of Oxford women.

And a contemporary says: You wouldn't have said she was going to be wildly successful. She wasn't a 'gnome' ploughing through piles of cases in the library. But she did enjoy the law." "At Oxford we were the bad"

girls, who just wanted to have fun," says Haran, who shared a house with Baxendale and Spicer. "By that I don't mean there was lots of drugs and bonking, because there wasn't But we weren't desperately ambitious. We didn't want to be president of the Union or play Juliet in OUDS. The only society we all joined was the Wine and Food Society."

fter Oxford, however, things began to accelerate. Baxendale, who had gradtiated with a 2-1, came third in her year in the Bar exams and in 1974 joined 2 Hare Court. the chambers of a High Court judge and family friend, Sir Anthony Lincoln. She made her name and honed her diffident style as a counsel for the tribunal in the notorious Jasmine Beckford and Kimberley Carlile child-abuse inquiries in the 1980s, which were chaired by Sir Louis. In 1978, Baxendale, whose previous boyfriends had never conformed to the publicschool/Oxhridge mould, married Richard FitzGerald, a tax barrister whom she had known before university and who had, apparently, always stated his intention of marrycounty family." Her father ing her. Their wedding was a Presiley Baxendale: "Her secret is probably that people don't expect such penetrating questions from someone with such a good sense of fun" triumph of bohemianism. Presiley wore a pink 1920s dress and all her family came in fantastic clothes," recalls Haran. I seem to remember her sister in a kimono. She was the first of us to have children, so we are always ringing her for advice oo everything from gripe wat-er to ghastly adolescence."

'At Oxford we were the bad girls who wanted to have fun'

Baxendale's daughter Felicity, now 13, is a boarder at owne House, in Berkshire Felicity wanted to board, Presiley was very tearful about it"), while Charlie, nine, attends a London day school. FitzGerald, says Sir Louis, is

"a backroom boy, a very nice man, who professionally only rarely appears in court and at home takes a bit of a back seal". His passion is doing up houses and moving, so the... family have lived at a succession of addresses, culminating in their present five storey house in a Nash terrace in Regent's Park, worth £1.5 million. Weekends are spent at FitzGerald's family home in Wadhurst, East Sussex.

No one underestimates the pressures of such a demanding career and a young family. "I am astonished that anyone can do it," says Sir Louis. During the Scott inquiry, Baxendale would arrive in chambers at 5am, in order to be at home for the children by 6pm. In the summer she takes six weeks off to be at home.

"She adores her work but she has always had the capacity to switch off," says Haran. She is not an aggressive networker, preferring to relax with a crime novel and her family than to attend a glittering dinner party. Like all busy mothers she patronises Marks & Spencer. "I often go round for an M&S lunch on Saturday and my children love it," says Haran. fter three years of Scott, Baxendale's former clients, which include virtually every government department, are baying for her to return. Everyone predicts great things for Baxendale. who commanded a rate of about £800 a day for the inquiry and could expect considerably more if she returned to the field of commercial law. 'She's outstanding," says Sir Louis. "If she wants it there is no doubt she will go on the High Court Bench. The problem is that Baxendale is uninterested in such glittering prizes. A fellow lawyer says: She wants to do a good job but she has no ambition in the money, status, Establishment sense - absolutely not, I hope she does become a judge though — she would be brilliant, as she always has been." Her ego, everyone agrees, is non-existent. "She is never pompous and never arrogant and for that reason she is a wonderful team player, says Spicer. That is why she has served the inquiry so well."

Is someone chipping away at the deposit you're saving for a home

At the moment, you probably keep your savings in a Bank or Building Society account. It makes sense. Especially if you need money for everyday expenses, like bills

However, if you're saving for a house or flat over several years you might well be losing out. You see, the chances are that whenever you earn interest the taxman will take 20% or more. This can make a large hole in your savings.

With our new Savings Plan, though, you don't have to pay him a penny. If you're able to put aside a small amount each month you can now save in the same way as some of the wealthiest people in Britain.

For an information pack about stopping the removal of your savings, please give us a call.

Telephone: 0500 600 560 Cell weekdays 8am - 8pm and Saturdays 9am - 2pm

As the plan is a PEP, its value, including reinvested income, can fluctuate and is not guaranteed Eagle Star Direct is an introducer only to Eagle Star Markening Group, members of which are regulated by the Personal Investment Authority and IMRO, for unroducing clients for life assurance. the and unit trust business. Tax law it subject to changes which cannot be foresten

A culture in need of cold turkey

Magnus Linklater on the film that divides familes

hen tickets went on sale last week for Trainspotting, a film already described as the most odious of the year", there were queues outside the cinema in Edinburgh, snaking round the block. Odious it may be, but it has also been accorded the status of "cult movie", and the lavish advance publicity has almost guaranteed box-office success, particularly with younger audiences. That it shows scenes of irredeemable squa-lor in the backstreets of Leith, that it is about heroin abuse at the rock-bottom of society, and that, on the admission of its makers, it takes no moral attitude towards drugs, has -far from undermining its appeal — actually enhanced it. The starkest message emer-ging from the Trainspotting phenomenon is the rift it reveals between the genera-tions on the subject of drugs and their insidious appeal. To judge from the success of frvine Welsh's novel, and the theatre adaptation which played to full houses at last year's Edinburgh Festival. most of the young who read or see it accept it fairly uncritically as a genuine portrayal of life in the raw. Most of their elders are appalled. The critics, who tend to be of the middleaged variety, cannot help registering their disapproval. That response is understandable. At one point, the antihero, a shavenheaded university dropout, is shown injecting heroin into a bulging vein in a surrealistic scene which, if you can bear towatch it, has an awful appeal. Take the best orgasm you ever had. Multiply it by a thousand. You're still nowhere near it." he says. As one journalist wrote after seeing the film: For a brief but intense moment of desire I wanted to know what taking heroin felt inside of the experience . . . Translate that into the appeal to thousands of teenagers who will be packing the cine-mas over the next few weeks, and you get an idea of the anxiety most parents will feel about its impact. This could be to drugs what A Clockwork Orange was to violence except that that movie was

The producers of Trainspotting argue that far from glamorising drugs, they have done their grim best to expose the consequences of addiction. The portrayal of one drug-taker on his way down the spiral, HIV-positive, ema-ciated, his skin raddled with abscesses, is certainly effective. But at the same time the anti-heroes of the movie are fast-talking, sharp-witted, often funny: the world they live in is one of black comedy and exhilarating brushes with

The reality, as Giles Coren's recent report in this newspaper only too graphically showed, is very different. In Glasgow, where a new wave of cheap heroin has been finding its way onto the streets, there are now almost two deaths a week from drugs. A "scorebag" of heroin, costing £20, will buy you more for your money than a year ago, and will give you a couple of days' escape from ordinary life. The number of teenagers who smoke rather than inject it is on the increase. There is nothing funny about the bleak housing schemes where young addicts from an abandoned underclass live from fix to fix in conditions of desperation and danger. Few of those who go to see Trainspotting will ever have encountered directly this level of hopelessness and

Nevertheless, the young cinema-goers who will make up the bulk of the movie's audience are likely to accept the drug-taking scenes with far greater equanimity than their anxious parents. It is hard to grow up in Britain today some form or other. As one Glasgow schoolteacher said on radio the other day: "My primary children know far more about drugs than I do."
They know about Ecstasy, Temazepam, speed, cannabis and LSD, and may well have experimented with some or all of them, whatever their parents may choose to believe. They have probably steered clear of heroin itself, but they are unlikely to be greatly shocked by Police admit its use. There is a culture now in Britthey are ain that sees hard drugs as acceptable, already if not always accept-ed. And the fact that losing the an older generation is appalled by their drugs war use and the consequences of their

> abuse merely fuels interest: there is no greater spur to experimentation than parental

t the same time, the destructive effect of drugs, the misery they cause, above all, their sheer availability, is one of the great menaces in modern urban society. Police, who deal on a daily basis with their effects, believe that they are losing the war against them. Those who have lost children innocently exposed to drugs, such as the parents of Leah Betts, are united in their determination to fight them. So what does one make of a film whose makers declare that they take "no moral attitude" towards

It would be pointless to condemn the making of a classy and stylistically successful movie. That it deals with a culture from which we may naturally recoil does not mean it has no merit. But it can at least be taken as a startingpoint for a serious debate about drugs. Parents should see it as well as their children. They are likely to learn more than they ever thought they wanted to know, but that may be no bad thing. At the very least it will provide some common ground for discussion, rather than the usual unbridgeable gap which tends to open up when the subject is

And it might help if Irvine Welsh, the author of Trainspotting and now something of a cult figure himself, were to descend from the fence and deliver his own verdict on the nightmare he has portrayed.

Governing ambiguities

illiam Empson, the Thirties critic and poet, identified, in his book of that name, "Seven types of ombiguity". How sad that Sir William died view the seven William died nine years before the opening of the Scott inquiry: he might have clocked up a couple of dozen more. No textual analyst, after all, could resist the sheer majesty of David Gore-Booth's notion of "rigorous implementation of a flexible in-terpretation", still less Tristan Garel-Jones's Humpty-Dumpty explan-ation that "unquantifiable damage" might well have meant "unquantifiably slight"; or the revelation that "Half the picture can still be true". Nor did Empson have the advantage of listening to Gerry Adams, that man of peace, explaining that he could not possibly "apportion blame" for a bomb for which the "responsibility" indeed rested with the IRA, but that he blamed the British for playing a "high-risk game". Ambiguities, professor? We've got 'em. Anthony Eden's "We are not at war with Egypt. We are in armed conflict" would today seem a soothingly straightforward statement.

Empson's seven types, for the record, were metaphor, double meaning, disconnected meanings in our or allegory, and alternative meanings betokening "a complicated state of mind" in the author, also fortunate confusion, direct self-contradiction and the seventh, the big one, which "marks a division in the author's mind". The modern politician or civil servant must regularly employ all seven types at once. Or, as Mr Major put it to the Scott inquiry. Something I was not aware had happened suddenly turned out not to have happened". Quite. Beam me up, Scotty. Members of the Government will, f am aware, already be seething with indignation at this juxtaposition of Gerry Adams with their own ambiguines. But over this bewildering and disheartening few days, I have been finding more and more parallels between the different types of political obfuscation. The fact that Westminster and Whitehall have for so long been performing the dance of the seven veils themselves must have made it easier for them to draw close to Gerry Adams, the master of double meaning and uncertain alliance. It may even have made it easier to believe that Mr Adams genuinely could be a shining beacon of peace and at the same time a reliable spokesman for people who murder harmless newsagents. Adams may be loathed by those in Britain who deal with him, but he is perfectly well understood: they too know what it is to hold several contradictory positions and still think well of yourself. It is part of their culture. Occasionally, a politician past caring will utter sudden awful truths.

The evasions of ministers and those of Sinn Fein are too close for comfort

illuminating that culture. It happened when Alan Clark said "Morality - I don't like the word" and blew aside all the careful fluff about rigorous implementation of flexible interpretation" by scornfully observ-ing "Bah, you can't break a guideline any more than you can break a blane.

mange". Clark ad-mits he was able. without a backward ering Whitehall blancmange, effectively to coach Matrix Churchill directors in how to phrase an export licence for shell-making machine tools so as to weasel past the high-minded guidelines of his ministerial colleagues. It did not seem to him an awful thing to do, or an unusual one; just a governmental function. Less cavalierly, Lord Howe of Aberavon can now - in retrospect excuse the ambiguity of flouting your own rules by referring plaintively to the real world, in which this country has to make a living". One day, perhaps, Gerry Adams will be retro-spectively candid too, and write an autobiography in which he admits that he actually lost his influence with the fRA in the early 1990s, but felt he ought to bluff on regardless, all the way to the White House lawn.

Sometimes these late outbursts of frankness take the form of petulant fury against those who just don't understand. Tristan Garel-Jones, one of those who signed the public interest immunity certificates which could have led to the conviction of the Matrix Churchill directors, lashed out on Sunday under the shrill headline "Stuff it, Scott!" He is particularly wounded by Bernard Levin's having accused the PII signatories of a crime "second only to murder". Mr Garel-Jones, three years a junior minister and otherwise mainly famous for being the man who, Alan Clark confides, regularly calls him "Baby".

goes on to excoriate journalism and to advise pensioners against lending their lawn-mowers to Mr. Levin.

But rage apart, what he seems to be saying is what they all say: that pro-per "governance" (a Harold Wilson word, that, mainly deployed when hacks are to the usell can only take backs are to the wall) can only take place in an atmosphere of secure "confidentiality". Also he says that the Scott inquiry should never have been set up not least because Sir Richard has no experience of govern-merit (or even gov-emance) and therefore does not appredecisions when core of sense in his argument — "the best option is hardly ever on the table.

The choice is generally between second, third, even fourth best. Achieving second best can often be a triumph".

his is the regular line taken by all apologists for the weaseliness of what happened over Iraq. They tell us that it was a very difficult problem; and that they could not see another way round it. When Mr Hurd says that it would have "seemed very cynical" visibly to relax the guidelines ist after Saddam Hussein gassed Kurdish villagers, his worry was not that it would have been very cynical; government was cynical all along. An dministration committed to increasing overseas trade and protecting British jobs always knew that it would do almost anything to preserve the half-million armaments jobs which hang on our continued trade with unsavoury regimes. But it could not be seen to hold this robust attitude to "earning a living in the real world?, because it did not trust the electorate or Parliament to see the point. Hence the Alice in-Wonderland nonsense drawn out by Sir Richard Scott and Presiley Baxendale. As a lay onlooker with a forgiving nature. I am prepared to believe that none of them enjoyed the deception much. Nor am I especially anxious to see heads roll. It is quite believable that the infinisters in the affair genumely felt, for all those years, that it was their duty to do one thing and appear to do another. The Whitehall habit of evasion and ambiguity was habit of evasion and ambiguity was already in place when they began, it nourished and encouraged any deceptions that occurred, up to and including Mr. Garel-Jones's belief that the PII certificate would not influence the judge anyway and that unquantifiable can simultaneously carry two opposing meanings without hurting a fly tremember that next time when law monwer comes back up and say so on Thursday, his coland here is the hard leagues might hate him, but the nation would probably applaud. However, I doubt whether Sir Rich-ard Scott, is bothering to look out? vases for bouquets. The culture is very strong, maybe stronger than the PM himself. But the emotion it arouses is, above all else, pity. Why do we force these. poor saps to tie themselves in knots? Why do we demand that they speak in riddles? Why was it never possible for any of them to say to us "Get real, you sentimental lot. This is the bot-tom line. Either we sell arms to this murdering swine, or we lose thous-ands more jobs in Britain, which will mean x pence on the income tax to build alternative pacifist industries. Which do you want? What will you pay for a clear conscience?" Perhaps it is our tediously adversariai political structure which makes such frankness impossible; perhaps it is the media; perhaps it is the ancient voodoo of the tribes of Whitehall. Maybe it is not impossible at all, and a leadership should try it. It could even offer referends on such sticky issues. The technology is here: there are computer terminals on every corner. Why not hijack Came-lot for a day — nowes the nation a favour — and lef us hand over our poll card, push "666" for selling arms to the next Saddam or "0" for the moral high ground. Simplify the governance. Tell us, and ask us.

Why we love the Lords

Woodrow Wyatt

on the value of hereditary peers

n Sunday Mr Blair continued his theme of reforming the Lords with another attack on hereditary peers. The 1st Lord Brocket, he observed, got his peerage by paying Lloyd George; the present Lord Brocket, a Tory, has now been jailed for fraud. This is a non sequitur. The case is unrelated to the Tory belief in hereditary peers. Nor was the case of the late Lord Kagan. of Ganner mackintosh fame. He of Gannex mackintosh fame. He contributed substantial sums tocontributed substantial soils to wards the running of Harold Wil-son's office when he was Opposition leader, was elevated to the peerage by Wilson in 1976, and had his knight hood removed in 1981 after being jailed for fraud - which is hardly a Tory prerogative.

To be credible, Mr Blair must stop his smears and begin to think of the implications and side-effects of his implications and side-enects of his reform plans, apparently aimed at improving democracy. Commons MPs are not chosen by the generality of voters, but party members, who in practice are represented by a caucus of a few hundred activists. Other voters have to vote for the candidate presented, however much they may disapprove of him or her. In America. all voters are entitled to register as Republicans. Democrats or indepen-dents; they do not have to subscribe.

Then, in the primaries, they choose between their party's candidates — a far more democratic system.

Nor, in practice, does the Commons act as a fully democratic cham-ber, owing to the whipping mechanism evolved since the 1832 Reform Act. The Lords, on the other hand, vote freely according to their convictions, regardless of whips.

fter a general election, the Commons meets basically as an electoral college to confirm the leader of the winning party as Prime Minister, and for the supporters of the next largest party, or coalities are supported to the next largest party. ition, to confirm the Opposition leader. Thereafter, the Prime Minister thooses the date of the next election out hirring a fly fremember that next time your lawmnower comes back, from the neighbours with an insulation of period definition.

I am also prepared to believe that make the Cabinet propose into law.

Mr. Blair, who is dictatorial by nature, would give in these powers.

Mr. Major, in setting up the inquiry! So he would order the Scots to have genuinely deplored this miserable, their own parliament, able to exact culture and was willing to torpedo it additional taxes, whether they want it and start again with more open got or not. Likewise, Wales is to have a ernment. If he could just get his nerve are not asking for one, and regions of England-will: if Blair so pleases, be forced to have an extra, expensive and innecessary layer of government through regional assemblies. Meanwhile, Blair has not yet explained why, with a Scottish partiament, Scottish MPs at Westminster should be allowed to vote on English matters if English and Welsh MPs were banned from voting on Scottish matters - the West Lothian question. Mr. Blair tells us that mucking about with the Lords is a step towards an elected second chamber, chosen presumably by a system as democratically defective as that for Commons MPs. This would be a nightmare. An elected second champer could not be denied the right to block Commons legislation. Today, the House of Lords cannot derail Commons legislation for very long and, wisely fearing that its limited powers might be removed, rarely exercises them to the full. It most certainly would if Mr Blair's illconsidered reforms came before it. Surely not even Mr Blair would wish to be prevented from carrying through measures he might consider more important by being bogged down in constitutional issues though it might have the advantage > economy so soon. In his remote fastnesses, closeted with ardent, admiring aides, Mr. Blair imagines that bashing the Lords is popular. On the contrary, the country loves and values the House of Lords, despite and even because of its eccentricities. Frequently it catches the public mood better than either the Government or the Commons. It was, for example, way ahead of the Commons in backing that he would be unable to wreck the Sunday trading and Sunday racing. ereditary dukes, marquesses and earls are more highly regarded by ordinary people than they may ment. They are seen as live, romantic evidence of a history we are proud of, some of those most distinguished for their services to the State come from lines which began with royal bastards. The public does not much differentiate between the lesser fry of hereditary and life peers. To debar hereditary peers from voting or attending the Lords would be silly. Are we to lose that spiky critic of the Government, Earl (Conrad) Russell, descended from Lord John Russell who carried through the 1832 Reform: Act? Or Lord Cranborne. whose genes carry the accumulated political skills of the Cecils? What balderdash. I agree, though, that a constant injection of life peers is needed to keep up the high quality of debate, legislative revision and disco-mittee work. Much trouble would have been saved if, as Bagehot wrote, the House of Lords had not resisted the proposal of Lord Palmerston's first Government [in 1855] to create peers for life". On mature reflection, Blair should go no further than Palmerston wanted

Coded praise

QUEEN ELIZABETH the Queen Mother is today expected to per-form her first official engagement since her hip replacement before Christmas. She is due to unveil a memorial at Westminster Abbey to the Special Operations Executive. which was formed as a secret service in July 1940. Although Clarence House refused yesterday to confirm her attendance, former members of the operations executive are brushing down their togs to greet her at the Abbey, Veterans are delighted, Leo Marks, who as a stripling of 20 ran the codes for the resistance movement, spoke of her great interest in the executive.

Decoder extraordinary

"She and the late King came to inspect our cipher artefacts once." he says. "His Majesty stood at one end of the room and we sent him a shortwave radio message, encryp-ted by Her Majesty. Nobody could decode it for a very long time because she had made a mistake. It became known as the Oueen's Marks told her years later that her very mistake had actually helped to crack an indecipherable code in one of the most important operations of the war. "In the operation to blow up the Germans' heavy water plant, we couldn't decode the first message they sent บร," he said. "In desperation I said, Try the Queen's mistake.' And we cracked it - the agent had made the same mistake as Her Majesty." When she heard of her contribution to the war effort, she was modesty itself: "I'm so glad to have been of some

• As patron of the National Youth Theatre. Prince Edward turned out on Sunday night for its 40th birthday party of o London hotel, where Rory Bremner provided light entertainment. "I just don't seem to be getting my message ocross, Dad," said Bremner's Prince Chorles. "Well why don't you try my mobile phone?" replied his Duke of Edinburgh. Prince Edward laughed like o drain.

Oh yes

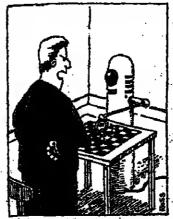

PROOF that John Major has a sense of humour comes from his former press secretary Gus O'Donnell, who persuaded the Prime Minister to sign a book he gave his brother for Christmas. The book was a compilation of Private Eye's spoof on the Adrian Mole diaries, The Secret Diary of to sign it," says Gus. "He even signed it in the style of Adrian Mole — though f don't think he's a regular reader of Private Eve."

The whisper is EMMA THOMPSON, who is expected to receive at least one Oscar nomination today for Sense and

"Right, smarty, let's see how

Sensibility, has already moved on : The talk among movie movers is that she will star with Robert Redford in the screen adaptation of The Horse Whisperer, the tale of a man who heals horses, which earned first-time British novelist Nicholas Evans 52 million when he sold it to Hollywood. Evans is now rumoured to have been offered "a Martin Amis" (an advance of around £500.000) for his next book.

Scene stealer

A CASE for Inspector Goole, the ghostly policeman of An Inspector. Calls. Real London detectives are baffled by a burglary at the Garrick Theatre, where J.B. Priestley's classic drama is showing.

The company manager arrived to prepare the theatre for Friday night's performance, only to find that a prop-burglar had been oddly cheosy. Only the cheap landscape pictores and ornaments adorning the walls and mantelpiece were missing. "A man was on the door all the time. We've no idea how anyone could have got in or out," says a baffled thesp.

So messy

THE BRITISH cleaning lady is an indomitable soul. Early yesterday,

Emma: moving on

Mrs Mary Shelley, 63, emerged from the devastation of London's Docklands at breakfast time to complain about the mess on the Three of her fellow shift workers turned up as usual at the London Docklands Development Corporation building, which took an indirect hit in Friday's blast Undeterred by piles of shattered glass and masonry dust, she tiptoed over to clean the lavatories and refill the lop-roll holders. Then she emptied the rubbish bins. "You couldn't do any Hoovering," she explained.

 $B_{\theta_{ijk}}$

200

* Links

...

* **

. J. 7.22

المحاجد الم

- . -

- A

00 - 1 - E

42. 1-1

· * * *

Mary V.

. Acres

hart .

1971

AFTER THE BOMB

Another ceasefire can never be enough

The Prime Minister made a powerful appeal for democracy and the peace process last night. His determination to strengthen the strained Anglo-Irish axis with a rapid summit should be applauded. But in his anxiety to see something survive after all the sacrifices and exertions of the past 18. months, he and his supporters should not lese sight of what last Friday has revealed about the republicans. Another ceasefire can never be enough.

Proof of a permanent commitment to peace will be required before any party can play a part in shaping Northern Ireland's future. There are signs that the IRA is already constructing a trap for the two Governments. Reports from the Republic suggest the IRA saw the attack on Docklands as a -cone-off", a peremptory shock designed to jolt the British Government out of its complacency and into calling immediate allparty talks. Making points by killing innocents is as callously inhuman as it is counter-productive. Moreover, even if the British had wanted to call all-party talks, they could not have brought the Unionists to the table mless Sinn Fein had either decommissioned arms or embraced elections.

Nevertheless, there are rumours that Sinn Fein, after time has been allowed for the atrocity to sink in, or perhaps after another similar affront, will offer a new ceasefire. The republicans may calculate they will have made their point and proved their determination not to be trifled with. They could hope the two Governments will believe progress is impossible without the republicans and will invite Sinn Fein to full talks.

Extending that invitation would be dangerous folly. Another ceasefire would be, even more blatantly than before, a cynical tactic. . the pace."

It would be abandoned if talks went the wrong way. Any new commitment to peace would be a pretence unless it were accompanied by proof that the IRA had forsworn violence.

There are those who argue that peace is impossible without the agreement of Simn Fein/IRA. In the Irish Republic the main opposition party, Fianna Fail, has urged the Taoiseach, John Bruton, to talk to Sinn Fein. In America, Congressman John King, Chairman of the ad hoc committee for Irish affairs, assures us that "there is no question of a weakening of confidence in Gerry

"Clinton", he says, "recognises that Adams is essential to the peace process." The reverse is true. Mr Adams now appears redundant to the peace process. If he still speaks with any authority, it is as the emissary of men who deal in ultimatums. not negotiations. There is no room for the imperative rasp of the blackmailer at democratic discussions.

There was a peace process before the ceasefire and it can survive the resumption of war. All of Ulster's constitutional parties have moved from their entrenched positions. There may be the basis for a tentative consensus on restoring accountability to the Province while respecting diversity. The challenge for those, such as John Hume, who risked so much to give the republicans a chance to change is to work now with those whose commitment to democracy can never be questioned. The challenge for the Unionists is to reach out to moderate nationalist opinion and show imagination in embracing ideas which can build confidence. The IRA should not be allowed to set

A MUFFLED CRY

Kohl should listen to Juppé and answer his plea

Alain Juppe set out for Bonn yesterday with the firm intention of underlining France's commitment to the 1999 target date for monetary union within the terms laid down by the Maastricht treaty. He made a brave: fist, for an increasingly dubious German public, of talking up France's prospects of meeting the Maastricht criteria come trade union hell or unemployment high water. But far more important was a handful of words he let slip after meeting Helmut Kohl

Despite desperate attempts after the event by his officials to put a different gloss on his words, there is no doubt that the French France were ready for its 1999 date with estiny, events outside France might compel a postponement of EMU. ·M Juppé's personal determination to stick to the schedule is not in doubt. That is partly because of mounting anxiety in Paris that 1999 represents an opportunity, that might not recur, fc. France to escape the de facto mark zone in Europe. When the French Prime Minister told Die Welt yesterday of his fear that, if EMU were postponed just for a year, there would be further postponements and "then it will be 2010 and nothing" will have been done", he reflected a constant anxiety in the French Establishment. But if there is anything on which this same Establishment has always been unanimous, it is that EMU will work in France's interest. only if a sufficient number of countries joins at the start to counterbalance the otherwise overwhelming power of the German monetary authorities in the future European Central Bank.

The telling moment in Bonn came, therefore, when M Juppé was asked about repeated market rumours of an overnight merger of the German and French currencies in a political "dawn raid" to force the EMU project through. In dismissing this out of hand - "it cannot be the case that France goes it alone with Germany"-he also drew attantion to the Maastricht requirement that "a sufficient number of countries must be ready and willing to take part in the union by 1999". If that were not the case, he said, There should be agreement on another

Outside the charmed circle of Franco-German summits, this is no more than a statement of obvious, recorded fact. It is just what Maastricht says. But inside the circle, it is heresy to hint that the treaty's contingency clause might have to be activated. Herr Kohl, who will not hear of it, has repressed those of his henchmen prepared to take a sceptical peek at the improbable EMU arithmetic. Bonn and Paris have the first official French hint that, even if Italy and other countries by repeating, mantra-like, that what matters is the leadership of the Franco-German couple.

Despite his battering by the unions and prospects of more to come, M Juppe continues to elevate hope over experience. France will be there on the day, he assured reporters yesterday - and "other countries will join us". Even Britain, he claimed, would "try to jump on the train" once convinced that EMU was for real.

The stubborn fact remains: an EMU of France, Germany and The Netherlands would be too small for France's comfort; and no serious economist now imagines that Belgium, Italy or Spain will begin to qualify by the end of 1997, the year on which their deficits, public debt and inflation performances are to be assessed. The whispering cannot be silenced in Paris as easily as Herr Kohl stifles it in Bonn.

M Juppe feels the pressure of knives in his back. But France has pinned so much on EMU - and sacrificed so much in growth and jobs to the Sisyphean task of meeting the Maastricht timetable - that, for a French Prime Minister to alter course on EMU with safety, he needs to be able to cite external factors beyond France's control. A muffled cry for help has been heard, from a Frenchman, and in Bonn. If Herr Kohl values the Franco-German axis as much as he professes to do, his ears should pick up the message.

THERE TO BE FOUND

A chance to share in Count Alexander's good fortune

To unearth a hoard of coins or bring up from the black earth gold and jewellery entrusted generations ago to the darkness is a thrill that all can share. Rarely, however, do those who consign their wealth to the ground before fleeing invading armies have the chance to reclaim their heritage. They may dream of returning when the Roman legions have put down the Iceni, King Henry's agents finished combing the monasteries or the Royal Navy called off its pursuit of pirate plunderers. But few ever return from flight or exile. The secrets of their hidden treasure die with them. The story of Count Alexander zu Lynar-Redern is one that will send a frisson through all those who attend the Sotheby's sale of his silver Odiot service and his 19thcentury Meissen porcelain. For not only are these precious pieces rare examples of the heirlooms once found in the great Prussian families; but they have only just been excavated from a forest in former East Sermany where, for more than 40 years, communist spy chiefs hunted over the ground where the treasure was buried. And it was Count Alexander himself who dug up his family's treasures that, 50 years earlier, he and his retainers had hastily consigned to the sandy soil as the guns echoed all around and the Russians closed in.

The wonderment he experienced on seeing his silver again must have equalled that more famously felt by Howard Carter when he entered King Tutankhamum's tomb or. more recently, by Manolis Andronikos who found the bones of Philip of Macedon and all his funereal gold under a mound in Vergina. These men, however, brought to light things never meant to be seen again in the upper world. The terracotta horsemen who guarded the Chinese Emperor at Xian or the Viking boat at Sutton Hoo were interred to honour the departed chieftains; their discovery was a violation of a grave.

Treasure temporarily hidden is there to be found, however. The search is still on for looted Nazi gold and the famed Tsar's Amber Room. Often it is a farmer who stumbles on an amulet in his field. Under the law of treasure trove - which nationalised the wealth of the fleeing Romans, Catholic priests and Cavaliers the Government has first claim. This has not inhibited enthusiasts with metal detectors, however. Nor has it stopped the burying of wealth by misers, criminals or publicists. indeed, one of the most successful treasure hunts of recent times was organised by an author who buried a golden hare and sold thousands of books to those searching in its riddles for clues to the hare's location. and the second s

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

1 Pennington Street, London El 9XN Telephone 0171-782 5000

better training system, a more rigor ous induction or probationary period, an all-graduate profession, and a requirement for all teachers to have passed the (then) O level in mathematics and English, which was ordered by the Government a few years ago.

league tables, particularly for something like 21,000 primary schools, the sheer magnitude of which is mind-boggling in its bureaucracy, not to 5 King Street, Covent Garden, WC2.

Sir, I feel uncomfortable with Simon

Jenkins's comments about Crofton

Schonl's standard for two reasons:

firstly, because there are many who do not only dare to say that part of our success is the environment from which we draw children but say so

However, that is only part of the loudly. I am one of the first to do so.

background to our success. Chris Woodhead, Chief Inspector of Schools, in his letter to me made clear that we are "excellent" when judged against "schools in similar circumstances". Our teachers might feel today that not only are the media constantly highlighting failures in the system but are now knocking them

Please don't seek to find reasons for our excellence; it is because teachers

Sir, In the debate that has rightly followed from the report by Chris Woodhead it should be remembered that some schools, my own included, have yet to be inspected by Ofsted.

(Chairman of Governors).

Langley Grammar School,

vhen they achieve excellence.

teach well.

Yours faithfully.

Headmaster,

MICHAEL THOMAS,

Crofton Junior School.

Towncourt Lane.

Orpington, Kent.

Yours faithfully,

Reddington Drive,

Langley, Berkshire.

A. F. WEST

February 7.

From Mr A. F. West

mention its considerable cost.

Yours laithfully

NASUWT,

February 8.

NIGEL de GRUCHY,

From the Headmaster of

Crofton Junior School

General Secretary,

There is little point in national

Snags in House of Lords reform

From the Director of the Conservative Political Centre

Sir, Your leading article (February 8; see also letters, February 9) quite rightly states that the central requirement in constitutional debate is to distinguish clearly between evolutionary and radical change. However, it is surely not as obvious as you seek to imply that the incorporation of the European Convention on Human Rights into British law, and the curbing of the rights of hereditary peers, could form part of an evolutionary ap-

The former would mean that authority now vested in Parliament would pass to the courts; the latter would re-move from the Upper House the principal component which it has had since its start in the Middle Ages.

Since the Labour Party refuses to spell out its plans for an elected secand chamber, there is an acute danger that the outcome would be a purely nominated Upper House, creating in effect the largest quango in the land (indeed it is hard to suppress the suspicion that that is Labour's real aim).

Yours faithfully, ALISTAIR B. COOKE, Director,

Conservative Political Centre. 32 Smith Square, Westminster, SW1.

From Earl Russell

Sir, Liberal Democrats are not about to go into a last-ditch defence of the hereditary peerage. Nevertheless, before we can be persuaded that Tony Blair's one-clause Bill is the right way to tackle the question, many of us want reassurance about two substantial misgivings.

First, we need to be reassured that Labour understands that the overarching purpose of constitutional reform is to reduce the power-of the Executive. The debate on the Scott report has shown how terrifyingly urgent this task is.

When we find Labour beginning the task of constitutional reform by a measure which will strengthen the power of the Labour Prime Minister then, like people going to Birming-ham by way of Beachy Head, we feel the need to ask whether we are going in the right direction.

Secondly, the hereditary peers in a small, illogical and anomalous way do check the power of the Executive. We would therefore want to find some way of filling the gap which their abolition would create. This is why it would be very difficult to tackle the composition of the Lords without kine at its pov

Yours faithfully, RUSSELL, House of Lords. February 9.

From Lord Stanley of Alderley Sir, Although 1 am not against reform of the hereditary element of the Upper House, the appointment by patronage that Mr Blair favours would destroy its independence.

Over the past 20 years I have, on numerous occasions, had to ask their lordships if a particular amendment, always rural-based, was correct. I have never tried to persuade a peer appointed by party patronage to vote against his party; it would be incorrect and impolite to do so. However, I have no quaims about asking an hereditary peer to break ranks - most own no allegiance but to their conscience

Yours faithfully, STANLEY of ALDERLEY. Trysglwyn Pawr, Rhosybol, Amlwch, Anglesey. February 10.

From Mr C. R. Holman

Sir, Peers are disharred from sitting as members of the House of Commons. In this situation the House of Lords provides the hereditary and the appointed peers with their only voice in the government of this country. To deny any citizen of the United Kingdom the right to participate in the processes of government of this country due to an accident of birth is probably even more undemocratic than the present arrangement.

Any legislation for the reform of the House of Lords must grant those who are then barred from the Upper House the right to stand for election in the Lower House of Parliament, without first having to renounce their peer-

Yours etc. C. R. HOLMAN. 14la Bilton Road Rugby, Warwickshire.

On the qui vive From Mrs Marianne Fry

Sir, You reported on February 5 that a portrait of Elizabeth 1 is believed by a psychiatrist to reveal a childhood of

It would surely be remarkable if the gaze of a girl whose father had be-headed both her mother and her stepmother did not show "frozen watchfulness" and "warmess".

Yours faithfully MARIANNE FRY, Hollies House Booton, Norwich, Norfolk.

Letters for publication should carry contact telephone numbers. We regret that we cannot accept letters by telephone but they may be sent by fax to 0171-782 5046.

Educational excellence as priority

From Mr Michael Hart

Sir, For once it is difficult to agree with Simon Jenkins ("Half a league backward", February 7). Of course league tables are highly questionable, but Of-sted evidence on low standards, unsatisfactory lessons and poor teachers (report and leading article. February 6), far from being useless, has vitally contributed to putting education finally near the top of the political agenda. For years both main political parties, though for very different reasons, have concealed from the public the plain fact that many of our three to 18year-olds are worse educated than children of comparable age in most European and several overseas countries. Our provision for nursery and vocational education is quite inadequate. The former requires money; the latter a greater contribution from industry.

We have some of the best schools in the world but a larger number of poor ones than most of our competitors. This has nothing to do with single-sex education and is only marginally linked to the question of money.

The real reasons are twofold: educational apartheid, by which 8 per cent of our most influential and ambitious parents turn their backs on state education, and the large number of teachers and teacher-trainers who, though overwhelmingly hardworking and dedicated, continue to place social above academic education and, as a result, perpetnate, often unconsciously, a long tradition of low expectations. Let us hope that the next Government will have a consistent policy to tackle these issues.

Yours faithfully, MICHAEL HART (HIM Inspector of Schools, 1974-76). 49 Chesterfield Road, Eastbourne, East Sussex.

From the General Secretary of NASUWT

Sir, I share Simon Jenkins's assessment that inspection and league tables constitute management by public humiliation and that this may be the result of mismanagement over many years. However, even if headteachers and governors had been more assiduous in rooting out incompetence, they might not have been able to replace dismissed teachers with anyone bet-

The National Association of Schoolmasters/Union of Women Teachers has called for more than 20 years for a

Sir. Four million innocent civilians have been killed in conflicts throughout the world since 1990. This slaughter is fuelled by the sale and export of weapons. As one of the world's leading suppliers, the UK must accept its responsibility for a deadly trade which ruins local economies, obstructs development, increases regional instability and is responsible for publication of Sir Richard Scott's report into the arms-to-lraq affair, eminent politicians, scientists, military officers, church leaders, trade unionists and peace activists will join forces with over 1,000 non-governmental organisations all over the world to urge the introduction of binding international codes of conduct on the arms

Tomorrow, two days before the massive abuses of human rights.

From the Bishop of Coventry trade. The codes seek to introduce a more responsible, principled approach to the sale of weapons and prevent exports to countries with poor human rights records, regions of tension, dictatorial regimes and military aggressors. We call on the UK Government to take the opportunity of the forthcoming intergovernmental conference to press for the introduction into the Maastricht treaty of a European code of conduct on the arms trade. We must learn from the Matrix-

Churchill affair and never again allow short-term commercial gain to override international peace and security.

Yours faithfully, †SIMON COVENTRY. †DAVID LIVERPOOL, †RICHARD OXON:, Safer World. 33-34 Alfred Place, WCI. February 12.

Alternative medicine

From Dr J. K. Mathews

Sir, While agreeing with most of Jeremy Laurance's article on alternative medicine, "An honest alternative, or just magic?" (February 5; see also letters. February 8), I have to take issue with his final sentence that "illness is what doctors have forgotten about".

The problem is not that doctors have forgonen about illness but that patients have forgotten what "illness" means.

Too much of most general practitioners' time is now spent dealing with relatively minor conditions which do not require medical intervention. Reassurance may be all that is nec-essary, but this does not have to be given by a health professional with the level of skill and training of a general practitioner.

Only when patients, and alas some of the medical profession, recognise the valuable role that other less highly trained health professionals can play in basic health advice and reassurance will doctors again have the time to deal with what would medically be regarded as illness.

Doctors have not forgotten about ill-

A new royal yacht From Mr Tom Benford

Sir, The idea of a square-rigged, sail-training royal yacht (article, February 3; letters, February 8, 12) is as misguid-ed as the "Victorian" street furniture which now disfigures Surbiton's main shopping street.

A suitable seagoing vessel to carry the Sovereign into the 21st century would be a large and imposing — better still, awe-inspiring — nuclear-pow-ered trimaran in polished stainless steel, a Concorde on the water.

Yours faithfully, TOM BENFORD, 3c Cranes Drive, Surbiton, Surrey. ness: they unfortunately are not being given sufficient time to practise medi-

Yours faithfully. KENNETH MATHEWS. Hellesdon Medical Practice, 343 Reepham Road, Hellesdon, Norwich, Norfolk.

From Mr Eric Ratcliffe

Sir, Your leading article of February 5. mentioning the Society of Medical and Dental Hypnosis, throws back my memory to what must have been a very early use of hypnosis in profes-sional dentistry.

My father, a Twickenham dentist. performed two extractions about 1929 on a hypnotised patient, who had none of the after-effects of gas anaesthesis and felt no pain.

I was in those days, as a small boy, sometimes employed as a restraining weight on the ankles of pagents, who could move violently under gas. Under hypnosis, the patient remained completely calm.

Yours sincerely, ERIC RATCLIFFE, 7 The Towers. Stevenage, Hertfordshire.

Choir practices

From Dr Harry Judge

Sir, You reported on February 8 that the person alleging discrimination against the Dean and Canons of St George's, Windsor, for not employing her as a baritone is being represented by her husband, who, she said was "freelancing as a vicar". I can find no reference to freelance vicars in any of the standard works of canon law or ecclesiastical custom.

Migh! that status be somehow related to that of a loose canon.

Yours etc. H. G. JUDGE, 2 Upland Park Road, Oxford

Star writers, with or without ghosts

From Mr Robin Rhoderick-Jones

Sir, If Joan Collins, a writer who, according to her own lawyer ("How to hit a publisher for millions". Week-end, February 10) requires "face-toface, line-by-line, page-by-page" editorial help, can persuade one of the world's most powerful publishers to part with $1.2 million as an advance, it can only be — as Quentin Letts points out — on the basis of her celebrity status, not on her ability as an author.

Is it not time that this exploitation of a gulfible public was stopped? Novels and purported autobiographies which are largely the work of editors, ghost-writers or collaborators should be described as such prominently on the front cover and not passed off as being the work of models, television stars and sportsmen who have played little part in the finished product.

This increasing practice of wilful deception may be good for the coffers of publishing houses and the pockets of barely literate celebrities; but it does nothing either for the trading standards or the honesty of a profession which is rapidly descending to the depths once plumbed by the wilder fringes of cowboy estate agents.

Yours sincerely, ROBIN RHODERICK-JONES, Middle St Andrew's Wood, Dulford, Cullompton, Devon. February 11.

From Dr Ed Block

Sir, Quentin Letts besmirches the shade of Thomas Hardy by linking him to the ghost-publishing world of Joan Collins. Hardy began his autobiography around 1920; later, towards his end, he and his second wife, Florence, went through it, changing "I" to

After his death in 1928 Florence added some paragraphs covering the last few months and her insensitive funeral arrangements in Westminster Abbey. So it is a (unique?) autobiogra-phy in the third person, or self-ghosted biography: the real McCoy, very fine stuff.

Unlike the help which Jeffrey Ar-cher's novel received over 16 drafts, Hardy was always hounded and hampered by inferior prurient editors and what they excised in magazine serial he replaced in book form.

We are grateful to Ms Collins and her editor Ms Evans for revealing the real world of publishing, previously suspected, behind unreal unnovels.

Yours truly, ED BLACK, and Political Science. Language Studies Centre. Houghton Street, WC2. February 12.

Hit or miss?

From Mr Guy Thomas

Sir, Popular music had a bad time of it in The Times today (February 6). It was P. G. Wodehouse with his lyrics who joined Jerome Kern to write Bill (sung at the memorial service for the theatrical agent Billy Marsh), one song in Showboat which didn't have words by Oscar Hammerstein II.

On another page Quentin Letts. surveying a new generation of America's pistol-packin' mommas, risks facing a firing squad formed by admirers of Ethel Merman, Betty Hutton and Dolores Gray among others who, as Annie Oakley in Annie Get Your Gun, all sang at one time or another You Con't Get o Mon with o Gun, but not alas Doris Day as Calamity Jane.

Yours etc. GUY THOMAS. 295 Lonsdale Road, Barnes, SW13.

Here today ... From Mr J. A. W. Jennings

Sir. The reason why the snow had almost gone within three days although the ambient temperature during the period never rose above the freezing point of water (letter, February 2) was because the radiant heat from the sun imparted far more energy to the snow than to the surrounding air. Sublimation of snow could not take place out of doors, as Dr William Alcock says (letter, February 6), because the atmospheric pressure would always be too high. Sublimation de-pends on the boiling point of the solid substance being lower than its melting point at the pressure of the atmos-

Yours faithfully. J. A. JENNINGS, Babington House, Frome, Somerset-

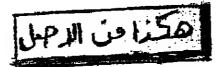

Shooter snookered

From Mr E. K. Taylor Sir, In September 1939 I was introduced to my newly-acquired Lee Enfield rifle and told to cherish, love and care for it as I would my wife, my mother or my favourite sister. I came to know it so intimately -- its sleek, smooth lines, the velvery touch of its stock and the lovely curves of its butt - that I could pick it out in the darkest of nights. Unfortunately, un-like Steve Davis and Stephen Hendry (leading article "A cue missed", February 9) I never mastered the art of shooting straight with it. Yours faithfully.

E. K. TAYLOR, I Irvine Close, Hereford. February 9

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE February 12: The Princess Royal, President of the Patrons, Crime Concern, this afternoon launched the Legal and General Kickstart Handbook, Legal and General Headquarters, Temple Court, Queen Victoria Street, London EC4. Club Fiftieth Anniversary Reception and Dinner at the Imperial War Museum, London SEI.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint Captain Charles Winter, Coldstream Guards, to be Temporary Equerry Her Royal Highness this evening anended a Special Forces Captain Edward Macfarlane.

Today's royal engagements

The Queen will hold on investitur The Queen will hold on investiture and Buckingham Palace of II.00.

The Duke of Edinburgh, as President and Honorary Life Fellow of the Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Maoulactures and Commerce, will preside at a meeting of the environment committee at Buckingham Palace at 10.00.

The Princess Royal, as Patron of The Basic Skills Agency, will attend the advisory committee meeting at Commonwealth House at 10.30; as President of the Save the Children Fund, will preside at an industry and commerce group meeting of Buckingham Palace at 4.00; and, as President of the Save the Children Fund, will present corporate members' fundraiser certifi-cates at Buckingham Palace at

Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother will unveil a memorial to the special operations executive in Westminster Abbey at 2.55. The Duke of Gloucester, as pairon will attend the opening of the exhibition of work by Frederic Lord Leighton at the Royal Acad-emy of Arts at 7.00.

The Duke of Kent will visit the John Hampden Grammar School, Marlow Hill, High Wycombe at 10.45; will visit the Wycombe Summit, Abbey Barn Lane, at 11.45; and the Memorial Centre, East Common, Gerrards Cross, at 2.30.

Today's events

The Queen's Life Guard mounts at Guards at 11.00. The Queen's Horse Guard mounts at Buckingham Palace at 11.30.

Andrea Duchess of Manchester

The Memorial Service for Andrea Duchess of Manchester will be held at St Andrews, Kimbolton, Cambridgeshire, on Saturdoy, February 24, at 2pm.

Viscount Leathers A Service of Thanksgiving for the life and work of Viscount Leathers will take place in the Chapel of St Mary Undercroft, Palace of Westof noon on Thursday. March 7, 1996. Those wishing to ottend are requested to apply for tickets to: The Rector's Secretary Room 7, 1 Little Cloister, Westmin ster Abbey, SWIP 3PL, enclosing a stamped addressed envelope. Tick ets will be posted on February 28.

Sir David Lightbown, MP

A Service of Thanksgiving for the life, and, work of Sir David Lightbown, MP, will take place in St. Margaret's Church, West-minster Abbey, of noon on Tues-day. March 12, 1996. Those wishing to offend are requested to wishing to ottend are requested to apply for tickets to: The Rector's Secretary, Room 12, 1-Little Cloister, Westminster Abbey, SWIP 3PL enclosing a stamped addressed envelope. Tickets will be posted on March I.

Service dinner

71st (Yeomanry) Signal Regiment
The Earl of Limerick, Regimental Honorary Colonel, presided at the annual dinner of the 71st Yeomanry Regimental Officers Dining Club held last night at the Cavalry and Guards Club, Piccadilly.

Dinners

Mr lan Lang, President of the Board of Trade, was the host last night at a dinner given by Her Majesty's Government at Lan-caster House in honour of Mme Wu Yi. Minister for Foreign Trade and Economic Co-operation of Sports Aid Foundation The Prime Minister was the guest the Sports Aid Foundation held. last night at Guildhall, Mr David Mellor, QC, MP, chairman, presided. Alderman Sir Brian Jenkins. Lord Moyor locum tenens, accompanied by Lady Jenkins, the Right Rev Lord Runcie and Mr

Paul Zetter also spoke.

During the evening Mr Zetter presented Mr Bernard Gallacher with the Waterford Crystal award. and Mr Paul Dickenson with the Roy Moor oward. Among those The Athenaeum present were:

The Secretary of State for National Heritage and Mr Peter Bottomicy, MP, the Chairman of the Foundation for Sport and the Arts.

You are not to pervert justice, either by devoucing the poor or by subservience to the great. You are to administer justice to your fellow-countryman with shirt harness. Leviticus 19: 15 (REB)

BEAUMONT - On January 30th 1996, to Catherine tode Bomd) and lan. a besutiful much loved daughter, Alexandra Grace La Touche.

BRIGGS - Maree and Darrin. would like to announce the birth of their daughter Bella Grace Ahern, on Friday 9th Fabruary. A big Brank you to all the staff at St Mary's.

COLES - On 6th February, to Mary and Trevor, a daughter, Della Carolina Amethy, a elster for Alexander.

PATTORINI - On John January, to Tom and Marie (née Berlow), a son, Thomas

Nicholas. FEEHARI - On February 8th at

The Portland Hospital, to William acc Beth and

BIRTHS

His Honour Nathaniel Micklem A direct to mark the retirement fast July of His Honour Judge Micklem, Birmingham's first Chancery judge, was held at the Birmingham Botanical Gardens on Friday, February 9, by the Midlands Chancery & Commer-cial Bar Association and the Midand & Oxioni Circuit. Ar land & Oxford Circuit. Among those present were:

Mr Justice Knox, Mr Justice Chadwick (chancery supervising judge), Judge Crawford, OC (Recorder of Birmingham), Judge Weeks, OC, Judge Malcolm Lee, OC, Judge Richard Glbbs, OC, Mr Recorder Boggis, OC, Mr John Mowbray, OC, Mr Richard Wakeriey, OC (leader of the circuit, Mr David Stembridge, QC, Mr John Mitting, OC (choirman of the association), Mr John Randali, OC, and some 33 other members of the par

Dr D.O. Hall was the speaker at a talk dinner held last night at the Athenaeum. Sir John Maddox was

Birthdays today

Mr Michael Attenborough, exec-utive producer, Royal Shakespeare Company, 46; Dr D.V. Atterton. chairman, Guinness Mahon Holdings, 69: Mr David Banks, editorial director, Mirror Group Newspapers, 48: Miss Caroline Blakiston, actress, 63: Mr Liam Brady, football manager, 40: Professor Derek Burke, former Vice-Chancellor, University of East Anglia, 66: Earl Cadogan, 82: Dr J.P. Clayton, former Apothecary to HM Household at Windsor, 75; Miss M.E. Collins, former matron-in-chief, QARNNS, 69; Mr Gareth Davies, chairman, Glynwed International, 66; Professor Janet Finch, Vice-Chancellor, Keele University, 50; Baroness Flather, 62; Dr D.G. Hessayon, horticultural and agricultural ou-thor, 68; Professor Lord Lewis of Newnham, 68; Lord Lovat, 19; Mr John McAllion, MP, 48; Mr Gor-don McMaster, MP, 36; Lord don McMaster, MP, 3c; Lord Manners, 73; Mr Colin Manhews, composer, 50; the Earl of Moray, 68; Miss Kim Novak, actress, 63; Mr Leonard Pascoe, cricketer, 46; Lord Peyton of Yeovil, 77; Lord Pym, 74; Mr Oliver Reed, actor, 53; Pym. 74; Mr Oliver Resol, actor, 36; Miss Margaretta Scott, actress, 84; Mr George Segal, actor. 62; M Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber, author and politician, 72; Dr Donald Sykes, former Principal, Mansfield College, Oxford, 66.

School news

St George's School, Windsor Castle

A Reception for Old Boys and friends of the school will take place at the Athenaeum Club, Pall Mall. on Thursday, March 7, 1996, from 6.00-8.00pm. Those wishing to attend should contact Maurene Wilson at the School, 01753 851645. St Mary's School. Caine

The Governors of St Mary's School, Calne, and its Prep School, St' Margaret's, are pleased announce the appointment of Mrs Carolyn Shaw from Cheltenham Ladies' College to be Headmistress in September 1996 in succession to Miss Delscey Burns.

Lectures

The Royal Academy

The Royal Academy of Engineering
The President of The Royal Academy of Engineering, Sir William Barlow, FEng presided at the 1996
Royal Academy of Engineering/Royal Society of Edinburgh Lecture held last night at the University of Strathchyde, Glasgow, The guest speaker was Lord Cullen, HomeFing, FRSE, Sengtor of the HonFEng, FRSE, Senator of the College of Justice in Scotland, who spoke on The Development of Safety Legislation'.

The Pilgrims Lord Sherfield delivered the in-Lord Shernesd denvered the in-augural Pilgrims*Reflections* lec-ture, held in partnership with the Royal Society for the Encourage-ment of Aris Manufactures and Commerce, last night at 8 John Adam Street, Miss Prue Leith, chairman of the society, and Mr Robert M. Worcester, Chairman of The Pilorims, were the bosts, Six Peter Marshall also spoke. Among

Peter Marshall also spoke. Among those present were:
Viscount and Viscou otess Norwich. Lord Greenhill of Harrow, the Hon Sir Peter and Lady Ramsbotham, the Hon Sir Peter and Lady Ramsbotham, the Hon Sir Peter Vanneck. Sir Graham Wilkinson. Sir Anthony Cleaver, Sir Mitchael and Lady Craig-Cooper, Sir Eric and Lady Drake, Mr and the Hon Mrs Oliver Colman; Sir Campbell Fraser. Sir David ond Lady Hardy. Sir Peter and Lady Heap. Sir Frank Laylield. OC. and Lady Laylield. Sir Frank Roberts. Sir Althony Tuke; Mr Peter Viggers. Mr. ond Mrs Viggers. Mr Peter Barton. Mr P James Builer, Mr Jon Foulds, Mr Michael Jopling. MP. Mr J Watcyn-Lewis. Dr George Rankine and Mr and Mrs Robert Sigmon.

THIS engraved glass panel has been installed in the new Jacqueline du Pré Music Room at St Hilda's College, Oxford, Jim McCue writes. It was engraved by Laurence Whistler (who has just celebrated his 84th birthday) and his son Simon, a viola player who occasionally played with du Pré.

The staves of music, engraved by Simon, show passages from her repertoire, including Brahms. Dvorak, Saint-Saens and the Elgar concerto which she made her own. Laurence Whistler's design omits inessentials, such as du Pré's facial features. The musician is no. more than a head and arms. The instrument itself has become her body, as she became an embodiment of the music. The glow of the cello, the sparkle of the crown and sensuous tresses evoke the warmth of her performances, while the ribbon of staves suggests the dance of the music and the different styles of playing, sometimes smooth, sometimes abrupt and jagged.

University news

King's College London The following appointments have

Dr Howard Gospel to the Chair of Management, from September L. He joins King's from Pembroke College, Oxford, where he is Rhodes Lecturer in Management Studies (Organisational Behaviour and, Human Resource Manage-

Dr Alessandro Schiesaro to the Literature, from July 1. He joins the college from Princeton University where he is Assistant Professor of Classics. Readership

Dr John Gardner to be Reader in Legal Philosophy, from September. 1. He joins the college from Brasenose College, Oxford, where he is Fellow and Tutor in Law.

Dental Sciences, to be Professor of Oral Microbiology.

Dr Trevor Clarkson, Reader in the Department of Electronic and Electrical Engineering to be Professor of Intelligent Communications Systems.

Dr Ghulam J Mufti, Clinical Senior Lecturer in Haematological Medicine, to be Professor of Haematological Oncology. Dr Mark Sandler, Reader in the Electrical Engineering, to be Professor of Signal Processing. Readership

Dr Adrian Bomford, Senior Lecturer in the Institute of Liver Studies, to be Reader in Medicine.

Appointment

Promotions
Chairs
Chairs
Ockelton to be a full-time Immigration Adjudicator, designated as a special adjudicator, with effect from today. Mr Ockelton will sit in Dr David Beighton, Reader in Leeds.

Anniversaries .

BIRTHS: John Hunter, physiologist and surgeon, East Kilbride, 1723; Lord Randolph Churchill, statesman, Bleitheim Palace, 1849; Feodor Challapin, singer and actor, Kazan, Russia, 1873; Eleitnor Farjeon, writer of children's verse and stories, London, 1881: Georges and stories, London, 1881; Georges, Simenon, writer and creator of Maigret, Liege, 1991.

DEATHS: Benvenuto Cellini, sculptor and goldsmith, Florence, 1571; Jacopo da Bassano, painter, Bassano, Venice, 1592; Cotton. Mather, Puritan and writer, Boston, Massachusetts, 1728; Richard Wagner composer, Venice, 1883: Georges Rouault, Expressionist painter, Paris, 1958; Dame-Christabel Pankhurst, soffragette, Los Angeles, 1958.

The accession of William III and Mary, 1689.
The massacre of the Macdonalds

Forthcoming marriages

Mr D.R. Buckley

and Miss LJ.R. Harman
The engagement is announced between Damian, son of Mr. and Mrs S.H. Buckley, of West Haddon, Northamptonshire, and Lucy-Jane, daughter of Mr and Mrs I.M. Harman, of Auckland, New

The Rev C.J. Davis and Wilss M.E. Juckes
The engagement is announced between Christopher, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim. Davis, of Timbridge, Wells, and Mary. daughter of Mr and Mrs. Tom. Juckes, of Little Barrington. Mr S.J.W. Emmerson and Miss A. O'Brien -

The engagement is announced between Sunon, elder son of Mr and Mrs John Walker Emmerson, of Durban, South Africa, and Aine. younger daughter of Mr and Mrs. General O'Brien, of Birr, Iroland. Captain R.J.W. Williams. and Miss S.V.R. Morris and Miss S.V.R. Morris

The engagement is announced between Captain Richard Williams, MC, Welsh Guards, only son, of Brigadier and Mrs Peter Williams, of Croatin, Cambridge-shire, and Sarah, younger daughter of Dr. Robert Morris, of Soutsdale, Arizona, and Mrs. Diana Morris; of Bath, Avon.

Mr M.R.C. Hime nd Miss L. Burfitt

The engagement is announced between Martin Ronald Christian, son of Mrs Michael Cullimore, of Bournemouth, Dorset, and of Mr Martin Hime and stepson of Mrs Hime of Rochampton, London, and Locienne, daughter of Dr Richard Burfitt, of Athens, Greece, and Mrs Michael Lee, of East Hoathly, Sussex.

Marriage

Mr K.A. Omilana and Miss R.K.E. Tarling

The marriage was celebrated on February 10, at St Michael's, Chester Square, London, SWI, between Mr Kunle Omilana, son of Mr and Mrs Michael Omilana, of Mr and Mrs Michael Omilana, of He, Nigeria, and Miss Rebecta Tarling, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Nikolas Tarling, of Markham Square, London, SW3.

The bride was attended by Cattlerine Squires, Leysa Kay, Camilla Tarling, Serena Tarling, Sophie Robson, Clare Robson, Olivia Abrahams, Misha Burgess and Maxie Abrahams, Mr Mike Burgess was best man.

Burgess was best man. A reception was held of the Hurlingham Club and the honeymoon will be spent in China.

Appointments in the Forces

Royal Navy and Royal

Marines
CAPTAIN: W N P Batho - CNOCS
Portsdown as CO 1.5.96; P G Hore
- MOD London 26.7.96; J H
Morgan - MOD Bath 17.5.96.
COMMANDER: A. A. S. Adair Battleake in Gmd 31.5.96; C J Clay Battleare in cand 31:396; C.J.C.Ry.
Staff of 2SL/CNH 21:5.96; D.M.
Craig Sultan 14:96; P. S.
Eaglestone DCTA Andover 194:96; I.:B Gauld Staff of 2SL/CNH-12:3.96; A.K. Grant
Exchange USA 23:96; J. H.
Hollidge MOD Battle 24:5.96; M.J.
Robbins Excellent 12:4.96; C. B.
Stanley RNSC Greenwich

29.3.96 R.G. Thern - SACLANT USA 16.896.; SURGEON COMMANDER: A S C Allison - Staff of 2SL/CNH 35.96: J. R. Broome - Neptime:

LOCAL LIEUTENANT COLO-NEL-H.De, lager - RMR Tyne as CO 16.796. CNAPIAIN: S.J.Brown, Raleigh 293.96; W. J.J. Maddiebs; Collingwood 194.96; J.K.Watson, Drake CBP 84.96.

COMMODORE: B S Morgan 30.4.96 LOCAL LIEUTENANT DOLO

NEW A PETROUP 6.495 TO SURGEON COMMANDER ON L Cowley 25.96 CHAPLAIN: D. H. Goodfold 6.5.96

The Army

MAJOR-GENERAL Major-General of the Building Societies

Association was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Discussion Circle of the Royal Over-Seas Lague held last night at Over-Seas House, St. James's Mississian Chief of the Delence Staff (Logistics), 162.296 in the rank of Major-General.

Major Jones and Major Jones Andrews An The massacre of the Macdonaids at Glencoe by the Campbells, 1692. Sexton - To Staff Coll. 12.296. C M. REME

Sexton - To Staff Coll. 12.296. Colonel Mike Dorward, Compared to the School of Electronic Macdonaids are stablished, 1943. Colonel Mike Dorward, Compared to the School of Electronic Macdonaids and Accordance and CO 1 Bn Reme, 16-2-96; R F Robinson RLC. To be CO 21 Log Sp Regr RLC. 12:296; P Snow RLC To HQ Chilwell Station, 18:296; CM 1.Tennent KRH = To JHQ II. 12.296; B W McCall Reme - To MOD, 12.296; J R C SAVILLE Reme - To HQ Reme Trg Gp. 12 2.96.

COLONEL P H Gibson late Reme, 13.2.96 - -Royal Air Force

, -a t. ( - t.

GROUP CAPTAIN: I S Hall -MOD, 12.296; J Turner - MOD,

WING COMMANDER: J N Scholefield - D OF Resettlement, 52.96; I Harvey- RAF Aldergrove, 52.96; K G Brackstone - RAF St Mawgan, 52.96; G M Watson HQPTC, 10.2.96; R P Bull HQSTC, 12.2.96; D J Robinson HQLC Brampton. 12.296; J A
Thomas - HQLC Wyton, 12.296; A
M Gordon Shape Int Staff, 12.296;
M A C Codebrook - Staff Coll
Bracknell, 12.296; M W Taylor - D OFR&S, 12.2.96; S.P.J.Lilley - RAF Lossiemouth, 12.2.96. Retirements

WING COMMANDER C M Jakeinan, 12.2.95.

Meeting

Royal Over-Seas League Mr. Adrian Coles, Director-Gen-

DEATHS

WASSELL - On Pebrusty 2nd 1996, peacefully in Dewinh, Devon. Horacs Cyrs. dear busband of Dulce and father of Anthony, Suam and Deborah. Cremation took WATLINGTON - Vicint died peacefully at his daughter's home on Pehrusey Sth 1996, syad 38: Creamized with Anna). loving and much loved father; grandfather and father there of Nicky. Fran and Parist Deeds avec father, grandfather and substitute of Nicky. Fram and David Passe. Framera Service at Paradon Wood Crematorium (Harlow) on Friday 16th Pebruary at 5 pm. No Sowers by request, donations if wished February at 5 pm. No sowers by request donations if wished to R.M.I.B., Enquiries to T.A.C. Lambert 6- Co. Ltd., Funeral Directors, Woodford Green, bd: (0181) 504-4572.

WERSTER - Animy St John Descefully at home on Petrosry 10th 1996, darling husband of Vuleric and lemina tables of Vetentine.

husband of Valerie and hoving father of Valentine, Virginia. Antonia and Rory and a much loved grandfather, Funcal at Ash Priors Church 19th February 12, noon, Pamily flowers only, Grandfathanks to Doctors and Purses.

BMDS: 0171 782 7272 PRIVATE: 0171 481 4000

PERSONAL COLUMN TRADE: 0171 481 1982 FAX: 0171 481 9313

SHELANCE - To Rachel and David. a son. Daniel. on 2nd February 1996.

STILEMAN - On February 107h. to Rebecca (née Cremer) and William. a son. Thomas William. a brother for Kate. Herry and Anna.

SWIMDOM - On 26th January. to Shereine (née Charmand) and Shephen. a daughter. Phoebe Res.

WARRACK - On February Sh 1996, to Melese (née Naismith) and William. a demphar, Freys Eizhoth. a sister for Max and Polty.

ZETTER-WELLS - Oo February 121b 1996. to Carrie (oée Zetter) and Lawrence. a daughter.

DEATHS

ALEXANDER - Marion Cochy
(née Robinson) on 7th February suddanty in Singapore aged 85.

AMSELL - Viasta, uée, Cermaková, formarly of Olomote, Czecheslovakia, died peacefully on 8th February 1996, aged 72 years, fulthful friend, and beloved wite of fill for forty years, beloved mother of Randolph, Julie, William and
Robert and grandenother of Randolph, Julie, William and
Robert and grandenother of Randolph, Julie, William and
Robert and grandenother of Randolph, Julie, William
and
Robert and grandenother of Randolph, Julie, William
and
Robert and grandenother of William, Wilfred Sonas and Kuntang, Memorial Service and interment at a later date.
APTHORPE - On February 10th 1996, peacefully at his home in Specifial, Reginald George aged 93 years.
Cherished husband of the late Joy, dear father of Tha, Robin, Jomma and George and a loved grandfather.
Funeral Service at Speciall Church oo Monday 19th
February 1996 at 12 goon.
Flowers or demailman for the R.S.P.B. may be sent c/o
Woolnoughs Foneral
Service. The Chapets, Holton Road, Haterworth, Suffolk, BOMFORD - Guy Brigadier (state R.E.) OBE, DSc., dearty loved husband of, Annietie and faither of Anthony.
Christopher and Rodney; aged 96, im 10th February peacefully at home, Pameral on 21st February at All Saloth Church, Sutton
Courtenay, Oxfordshire at Sho. Flowers and enquiries in R.H. Barker F/D. 40
Wannage Road, Didool, Oxon
OX11 OBT, Tel: (01235)
550033.

BROWN - Peacefully on 11th
February 1996, Mary Evelyn Oxfoliel, Widow of Thomas Ward Brown and demonter of the late George and Edith, Fernbough, dear mother, grandmother and gread-grandmother, Funeral at 1.30 pm on Thursday 15th February at Barham
Crum atorium, Or.
Canterbury, No Gowers, but donation if desired in Kelsey, William Petrick.

HALL - On January 26th, to Emma take Livermore) and Louis, a daughber, Hobel
Sophie, a sister for Charlie.

HAMKRES - At The Portland
Hospital on February 6th
1996 to Tony and Linda Hackins, a soc. James Anthony, a brother for

Anthony, a brother for COUNTRINGY.
HEALD/GARDNER-BROWN - Co February 10th, 10 Faraway and Richard, a daughter, Helena Margaret HETZEL - On 6th Petruary, in Cincinnati. USA, to Kate (pée McCoy) and Jim. a daughter. Zoc.
MHLES - On February 2nd
1996, to Deirdra Moyalhan and Roger, o daughter.
Katherine (Kitty) May
Dorothy, a spher for Elen.
MOODY - On 11th February, to Wendy and Paul of Kinsale, Co. Cork, a fine son, William,

PHICE - On Petruary 7th, to Claire (née Lloyd) and Michael, o daughter, Olivia Catherine Popita, a sister for Helena.

FYRUS - On February. 2nd
1996, to Keekin and Peter. a RENCHNER-KELLY - On January 27th le Mouni gace, New York, to Mira and Peter, o daughter, Julia Dec Gratias

DEATHS RULLETT - On February 11th, at home, June Annie, doorly loved wife of Alan and mother of Nicky and Stephen, Funeral Service at All Setots Church, Maidelone on 19th February at 11 am, Family Howers only,
Donatians, if desired, to Mairie Cute Cancer Care,
c/o Michael Lawrence, 93
Ring Street, Maidelone.

King Street, Meidelme.

CARMICHAEL - Duncan (Dugle) on Pebruary 5th 1996 suddenly in Actra. Glare. West Africa. Aged 76 years. Destry loved husband of Petricis. Father and friend to John. George and Kratha. Grandpa to Hannay. Georgetic and Trish. Bettle of Britain Fighter Pilot (Flurricament saw service in Europe, Africa and the Middle East. Managing Director of W.F. Clarke (Chana) Lid for 50 years. Skep well Cld for 50 years. Skep well Cld Conster. Son of Chan. You are forever to our hearts. Donations. If destred, to RAF Benevoknit Fund or St. John Ambusianca. c/o The Bristol Bond. PO Box 763. Bristol Bond. PO Box 763. Bristol Bond. PO Box 763. Bristol Bond. P. Chandelle Chanael Control St. Control Box 765. Bristol Bond. P. Chandle C. Chandle C. Chanael C. Chandle C. Chandle C. Chanael C. Chandle C. Chanael C. Chanael C. Chandle C. Chandle C. Chanael C. Ch

Box 763. Bristol 18699 12J.

CROMBRE - Peacatully on 9th February. Albitair Cameron. Loving husband of the lata Nancy. father of Lin (deceased). Soyle. Chaftes. James and Nicholas; grandfather of Tom. Others. Jessica. Ceig. Angus and Timothy and etep-grandfather of Jo. Zoc and Fiona. Burial at Ramsell. Yorkshire on Monday 19th February at 12 pm. Flowers (no wrealths please) and all enquires to Lee and Holmes Funeral Directors (01423) 7120662. Memorial Service and Requiem Mass to be held to Oxford at a later date.

DEATHS

DEATHS

DEVITT - Howson Charles.
OHE. of Andress. Isle of Man. died pescritily after a short filmes on Friday 9th February aged 87, Much laved hasband. father, grandfather and great-caudister. Private fuerni. Thanksgiving Service at Kirk. Andreas. Isle of Man. So Monday. 19th February at 2.30 pm. Family flowers only jesses. desistions to lieu may be sent c/o Mr. Peter Vickers. St Bridget's Hospice. Kensington Road. Douglas. Isle of Man.

DYSON - Pascrhilly, after a short filmess, at The Princess of Walss Hospitel. Sridgend. In his eightleth year. Dr. Frank Laurence Dyson. M.D. F.R.C.P., of Colwinston. Belle of Man. Sold of the Colwinston. Deloved muband of Platipps. After of John. Robert and Peter. Private cressation at Mid Glamorgan Crematorium. Coychurch, Bridgend. A Memorial Service will take pince at All Batch Charch. Porthcawl on Thursday February 16th 1996 at 2 pm. EVASS - David Nost goddenty on 6th February. Belleyed hasband of Sustame. Isving father of Bridget. San. Mark and Marion and providers reparting faneral agrengements and doubless to St. John's Ambulance. in Beu of Towers. Research aged 29 years. In a road accident

Jesaica. Ceila. Angus and Timothy and etergrandfather of Jo. Zoc and Floma. Burial at Ramsgill.
Yorkshire on Monday 19th February et 12 pm. Flowers no wreaths please) and air enquiries to Lee and Holmes Funcral Directors (01425) 712062. Memortal Service and Roquisen Mans to be held to Oxford at a later data.
DAWE - On February 9th.
Peacefully in the davobad care of Burwarsh Place.
Lacoold Redwers in hts 96th year. Fisher of Enid and the laby Norman. grandfather of Georgio a. Adam and Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign
Manager of Ulimann and
Co., Freutian of the CRy of
Luxinda. Formetty Foreign Manager of Purit and Schortas. Craysing.

DERNEACH - Mielte died peacefully in hospital. aged S., Brits Frobenco of Law, S., Br

DEATHS HOOGES - Joan (née Edminson), suddenly on 9th Pebruary 1996, aged 82. Widow of Donald Ernest, dear wife of Nor Saymous Stringer, Beloved mother of Gillian and Nichael, dearest grandmother of Toby and Laura. Christopher and Jennifer. Puneral at 6t Mary Church, Faveley, m. Hesley-on-Thames, 4 pm. Thursday, 18th February. Flowers or donations to the National Outcoporouls Society. e/o Tomain & Son. 38 Reading Road, Henley-on-Thames, ROS 1AG.

MURST - Annie (Nan) pencifully on 12th February
agel 104, Widow of the lafe
Souyeon Commender, Henry Horst R.N. former member of F.A.N.Y., holder of Crofx de Courte and Paint, Moch loved sund, greist-autat and friend. Funeral Service at The Church of St. James Without The Priory Gate.
Southwide, Farsham, Hamis, on Monday 10th February at 11.16 am followed by private cremation. No
firweys pieuse but donations
if desired to King George's Fund for Selices or another naval Charity.

JEGLERY - Ylecountees, Susan, beloved wife of Martin and mother of Richard, Fious, Sarah, Renriette and Katie, Pencetully, at the Frience Hospital, Northellerton on Echronary, 18th, Entered February 10th, Funeral 2.30pm Tuesday February 13th at Hawnby Parish 13th at Hawnby Partan Church, Flowers to Huttons Flowers, Thirsk Road, Northatlerton, Mamorial Service St Margaret's, Westminster, details to be amounced laber.

ISAACS - Suphie, on 12th February 1996 aged 84. beloved mother of Norman and David. Funknii Golders Green Crematorfum, Wodnesday 14th February st. 4 pts. JACOBS - Emusa Jane Colvin (nis Bryson) - on Pubrumy Sti pencefully at The Royal Free Heapths. Hampsdeed, after a long illness borne-with Characteristic courses and determination. Beloved wife of Phil. loving mother of Maddates and Polar, spir wife of Phil. loving mother of Maddeine and Peint, chair, of Georgina and Phirriet, daughter of Lawrence, and Hilary, Private family funeral and dowers, but any donations to her memory would be welcome for The Liver Patience's Support Group, The Repai Pres Houstal, Hampstand, NWS 200 (market for Research).

JAGGER - Kuthieur Winifred (Kay) on Friday 9th February peacefully at Suiton Veny House Nursing Home, withshire, in her 102nd year, lest remaining daughter of the lase Mr and Mrs Charles Unfill Jauger. Beloved hund, great-sunt and greef-greef-sunt. Cremation 12 noon Tuesday 20th February 1996 at Haycombe Crematorium, Buth. John Dr. Geoffrey Hogh Pendril, peacefully aged 80, after a long filmes on 10th February 1996 at Haycombe Crematorium, Buth. John John and Saiber of Aniony and Simon. Funcal Bervice at Romas Catholic Church, Rothbury, Northumberland, on 14th February at 10.30 am, Family flowers only. Donations, if desired, to inhured Rockey's Company Ltd., Welwyn, Harts. ALS SEU.

DEATHS ...

LM., Welwyn, Herb. ALS SEU.
KRUGER - Peecefully on February 9th 1996 Gerb Kruger, aged 86, fale of Haslamers, Musch loved mother, grandmother, sind greet-grandmother, Funeral at 82 Bartholongew's Canach, Haslenter on Friday 16th
February at 10:30, am.
Family flowars only, Donations, if desired, can be sent to Macrofilm Service.
Ming Edward VII | Houghts.
Middrays.

LIVETT - Audrey Mary died pencefully on Saturday 10th February 1996, beloved wile of David. dear mother of Jane and Judith and a grandmother to eight grandeone. Service at St John the Baptist Church. Add. Leeds on Friday 16th Enhance of 12th and February at 11,30 cm fol-lawed by laterment. No flowers by request please. Donetions if desired to St

John the Bapter Church, Adel.

MALE - On Sunday Pebruary 11th Peter Male C.M.G., M.C., died peacetilly after a long struggle so bravely borne. Beloved husband of Pet and devoted and greatly loved father of his 7 children. Flower or dependons to St. Michael and All Angels. Sundayhill. Funeral Friday 16th February 1996 peacefully after a long tenses. devoted wife of the lafe James McNelli of Disnoon, a chartheed mother of James McNelli of Disnoon, a chartheed mother of James and Genty loved gramsy of Tum. Andrews and Christina. Bervice in Kirn Parish Church on Wednesday 14th. February at 1 sm., interment thartenter. Fe Cowal Camero, Finally Soweth only please. Donations is distingt to McDeller Nurse.

DEATHS BIONROE - On 7th Peiriusry 1996 whilst on holiday at the Caps, Kenneth, dearly loved, husband of Sue and a devoted father and grandfather. A Memorial Service to be arranged at a labor date. MORLEY-FLETCHER Elisabeth, percefully in hospital on lith February
Private cremation. No

DEATHS RICHÁRDS - Mary Jennie suddenly en Pebruncy 12th. Beloved wife of Ray and sister of Anthony Montagos Browns. ROSE - On Sunday 11th
February 1996, Elizabeth Margaret (Betty) Me Moight, pancefully aged 45 years,
Funeral Service on Fridge 16th February at 250 pits at 65 blicholse Chawton, Family and close Briands, verticate, No flowers per recursed but, donations in, lieu 40 St.
Nicholas Chiech, Enguise
10 Chacke Read & Daughter, 15 Turk Street, Altoo, Gastia.

ROSS - Kenneth Hartison

MOGLEY-PLETCHER

Elisabeth, peacefully in hospital on 1th February in hospital on 1th February. Privale cremation. No nover.

MORRIS - Sally (irehe Constance) Mach leved widow of Quintia and mother of Richard and Caroline, died very peacefulls at Richeston and Caroline. Med General Service at Torquary Crematorium on Thursday 18th February at 3-pm. Family flowers only please. New Mary 250. Per Per 18th February at 3-pm. Family flowers only please. New Mary 250. Per 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250. New Per 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250. Per 250. Per 250. Per 250. New Mary 250. Per 250.

250 see RLP.

PAYER - Charles Martin.
Payerbully at Meadbank
Narsing Hone on Sunday
1 tits Pabruary aged 52
Years. Describ theheled of Bichard and Stephen and grandfather of Edward, Narite James and Marthew.
Possent Garries at St. John's Parish Church. Esping at 2.50 pm 00 Treaday.
February 20th following a private cremation. Family flowers only but donation. If dealized, to the Stroke Amogiation.

DEATHS

SINCLAIR Mollis (Listly Sincht) searchuly at the Epson Beaumont, on Friday Str. February, after a short illness, aged 92 Beloved widow of Lemard and dear mother of Albana. She with also be greatly missed by her grandchildren, and greatgrandchildren. Private foneral at Randall's Park Lastifished on Thursday 16th Family Gowers only. Spencett a trip of Hoses. Widow of Rodney Styling mother of Hugh and Seathy and grandmother of Jense, Otwis Seath and Catherine. Private cransition indowed by a Service of Family Jone 15 Michael and All Angels, Withyham, Singer, on Sannday Fabruary 17th at Spn. All welcome. No flowlers blesse, but donations if desired to Friends of Anaddown Forest The Ashdown Forest Cantre, Wych Cross, Forest Sow, Essi Susser Hills Sip. ST. FELIX DARE - John ST. FELIX OARE. John German's of Georgetown, Onyman's in his 91st year. Suddenly in his 91st year. Suddenly in his 91st year. Suddenly in Saturday 10th, Palvasary 1996, Much loyed Anton of Julian. Stoom and Disma-The funeral will hike place so Thursday 18th February 1996 at 11, am at the Carquettle Church. Kensinghou Church. Street. London, WS. All enquiries to A. France & Son, 45 Lamby. Conduit. Street, London WG., het. (0171) 408-4901. WC1, Mr. (0171) 4054901.

STR. 60E - On Str. Patrusry
1996. of Onted Surrey, Joan Lary Struct Stigge, souddenly but searchilly. Much-loved whit of the last John Stigge, inother of Dawn. Rebin, Richard and George and grandmother of Ruffus, Jentma. Holly. Jack and Joe. Francai at All Sainty Church. Milliord-on-Sas at 2.50 pm on Sainraby 17m Pehrusry. Family flowers unby pieces, but if deared donations to RUICERA. 6 Avonutors Road, London

donations to RUKBA: 6
Avonmore Road, London
W14 and TOD .- On 8th February.

on Sth February, suddenly, Aspe. loving, and, devoted widow of Colin. mother. of David. Chitsopher and Smon and grandmother of Jetmes. Brims, Rednest, Sam, Bobert and William, Fuseral at St. Margaretts. Augmering at 11am on Monday 19th Pebruary, Donations, if desired, to The Childrens Society, 5/6 Co-op F/S. Kingsham, Read. Childrenser, TOTTENHAM OR Truesday, Sin February, St. home in Graftsbury, Common, Versent, Elizabeth, Marian Bridgid, adored wife of Henry and mother of State.

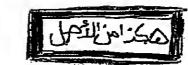

WHESOH - Air Commodore Danis Aymard, CSE, AFC, QHE, MECS, (DANS); FRCR, Died Descendly and with dignay on February 9m saed 94. Beloved busband of Angela and much loved sather and grandfather. Private cremotion. No flower pieses Donations, it destred to Phyllis Tuckwell Hospice, Farmhum, Surrey. There will be a Service of Thanksgiving to be amnounced later. PRESENT FRANCE John R.E. PPEGA. on 7th February, peacefully at Nevetts. Busingurd, aged 94 years. Puneral at Cambridge Crassitorium on Thursday 15th February at 1.20 pm.

WOLFERDEN - Joan Alicaformerly of Peacock Vand
Hotal Bonchurch, lale off Wight died peacefully at house in Bonchurch or 10th February 1996. The funeral will be held on Pidge 1660
February at St. Boniface
Parish Church, Bonchurch
10 W at 3 Jun Enquiries contact Henry ingram &
Sus (Ventro) 1.8. 01983
822028.

Berney A. TORW LINE

A STATE OF THE STA

RAILE con cost tità MARK THE

OBITUARIES

Gerald Savory, playwright and former Head of Plays at BBC Television, died on February 9 aged 86. He was born on November 17, 1909.

GERALD SAVORY was the young playwright who enchanted West End audiences during the late 1930s with a light suburban comedy emitted George and Margaret. The play ran for two years at Wyndham's Theatre and clocked up an impressive 799 performances. It was a phenomenal triumph for the youthful Savory, and a sophisticated piece of writing which sparked enthusiastic comparisons with Terence Rattigan and Noël Coward. His humour, as The Times critic noted in 1937, arose not so much from original situation, or even particularly from wit, as from "a kind of unfailing aptness and even exaggeration of the commonplace'

The H. M. Tennent impresario Hugh ("Binkie") Beaumont, whose organisation had profited enormously from the play's success, asked Noël Coward to take it to Broadway. But Coward mistakenly had parts of it rewritten - for which he always blamed himself — and the play suffered the added misfortune of appearing in the same Broadway season as Rattigan's French Without Tears. It ran for barely two months in New York and never recaptured the success of its long London run. That hardly mattered to Savory. whose name was made in Britain, and who became known ever afterwards irritatingly for him, perhaps, consider-ing his subsequent elevation to be head of BBC plays - as the man who had written George and Margaret.

GERALD SAVORY

Gerald Douglas Savory was the son of two actors, both of whom were reluctant to see their son join them in such a precarious profession. He was educated at Bradfield College and then, having failed in his first jobs as a stockbroker's clerk and a private tutor. joined his parents on the boards. He made his professional debut at the Playhouse in Whitley Bay in 1931 as Mr Smith in It Pays to Advertise. The 1930s were spent learning his craft in repertury companies in Hull, Brighton and Bournemouth, and in touring Canada and Australia with his mother, a popular actress named Grace Lane. George and Margaret was his first play and was written while he was on tour. It concerned the frustrations of a liberal Hampstead family, slowly simmering to boiling point, as they wait for the George and Margaret of the title to arrive (they never do). It was demonstrably an actor's piece of writing, full of excellent lines and with genuine opportunities for light comic performances. It was tried out by the Repertory Players, and was then spotted by Binkie Beaumont who brought it, in a new production, to Wyndham's and made it his first big commercial success. A film version followed in 1940, by which time Savory had been lured to the Hollywood studios by Alfred Hitchcock, and he became an American citizen.

ing other people's scripts and a crisis point was reached when he was sent the script for Ninotchka. He was no fan of either the writing or the leading actress - Greta Garbo - and he marched into his boss's office to make clear that he could not bear "that Swedish woman". His head of department politely suggested that Savory should leave, and by the time he had retraced his steps to his own office, Savory found his name had been struck off the door. A then little-known writer called Billy Wilder took over the project in his place.

He was sooo bored, however, rewrit-

Savory meanwhile directed summer stock, and gave Grace Kelly one of her first jobs. She was grateful and introduced him to her father, Jack Kelly, who owned television stations in Chicago. By this means Savory entered the highly unpredictable world of live television, overseeing the transmission of plays five nights a week.

He commued to write plays, at the rate of almost one a year in the early days. The second, Good and Proper 1939), was about an unhappily married couple, and contained an excellent part for Savory's mother. It was the success of A Likely Tale (1956) at the Globe, however, starring Robert Morley and Margaret Rutherford, which prompted his return to London.

Savory's experience in American television led to an appointment first at Granada TV in 1964 as executive producer, then at the BBC, as head of plays, 1965-72. This was a period when the production of new drama was a high priority in the corporation — ABC and Granada had set the pace — and Savory's department had a lot of catching-up to do. Projects during his tenure included The Six Wives of Henry VIII. Elizabeth R and Cathy Come Home. In 1975 there was the monumental Churchill's People, based on Winston Churchill's History of the English-Speaking Peoples.

After leaving the plays department, and with no official post, Savory worked on whatever interested him. There was an adaptation of Bram Stoker's Dracula for BBC2 in 1976; work for Thames in the late 1970s on Nancy Mitford's Love in a Cold Climate; and an adaptation of E. F. Benson's Mapp and Lucia, for London Weekend Television.

Savory was married four times. His first marriage ended in divorce, and his second and third wives prede-ceased him. He is survived by his fourth wife, the actress Sheila Brennan, whom he married in 1970, and by a stepson from that marriage.

MERCER ELLINGTON

Mercer Ellington, jazz rmpeter, composer as bandleader, died in Copenhagen on February 8 aged 76. He was born in Washington DC on March II. 1919.

DESPITE considerable achie vements as a musician in his own right, Mercer Ellington's career was inextricably bound up with that of his father, Duke. Mercer played the trumpet in his father's band from 1965 until 1974, and was his copyist and road manager for longer than that. He also conducted whenever his father was indisposed or absent. Some of the band's bestknown hits (including Things Ain't What They Used To Be from 1941) were written by Mercer, yet for the most part he assumed a background role, seldom publicly acknowledged by his father.

The relationship between father and son was complex, at its worst becoming what Mercer described as a "cold war", but at its best leading to their collaboration on the ballet Three Black Kings during Duke's final illness and stay in hospital. It was never easy for Mercer to establish his independence as a musician, even after his father's death in 1974, when Mercer took over the Ellington Orchestra. In his autobiography Duke Ellington wrote: "My son . . . is dedicated to maintaining the lustre of his father's image."

Mercer Kennedy Ellington was born before his father became famous. When his mother, Edna, separated from his father in the late 1920s he moved to New York with his grandparents, who made a home for the increasingly successful Duke in Edgecombe Avenue, Harlem, Mercer grew up with his father's younger sister Ruth, and he learnt the rudiments of composition listening half-awake to his father playing the piano in the small hours of the Mercer showed a talent for composition, helped by his father: "He'd leave me problems to solve by the time he got

Trevor Russell-Cobb,

public relations consultant and bibliophile, died on

January 31 aged 77. He

TREVOR RUSSELL-COBB's

pioneering monograph Paying the Piper: The Theory and Practice of Industrial Patronage, was avowedly a work of propaganda, designed to persuade businessmen and ind-ustrialists to spend heavily on supporting artists and the arts. Published in 1968, it championed an unfamiliar cause which was largely achieved within a decade and is now conventional board-

Trenchantly and professionally argued. Paying the Piper took as its premise that "the arts are vitally important not so much in solving human problems as in helping us feel that we all face them together". This struck a chord

among businessmen and politicians to whom the Beatles were still a new phenomenon.

and the light-hearted apho-risms which introduced each section on the individual arts

- Augustus John's "If you don't shut up I'll paint you as you are", for instance, or Quiller-Couch's "If you think a public meeting can compose a ballad, just call one and see"

- helped to attract an unexpectedly wide audience. A long leading article in The Times

Literary Supplement, prissily written and largely hostile, provided the author's mill room wisdom.

a on lediu morning.

back...he never put a note down, but he scratched out what was in poor taste, Mercer then entered the Academy of Musical Art to study composition, saxophone and Duke's hand recorded Mercer's compositions from the late 1930s, but when Mercer formed his own band in 1930, despite his father's advice to capitalise on his name and play Duke's music, Mercer steadfastly refused. After a short spell in the Services with Sy Oliver's US Army Band, Mercer led his own group for much of the 1940s, issuing his first discs in 1946. The pianist on those records was the English critic Leonard Feather, who formed a record company with Mercer in the early 1950s.

Mercer became a successful arranger, producer and manager, and he went on to produce record sessions for the rest of his life, including one with Cleo Laine only last year. He joined Cootie Williams's band in the 1950s as trumpeter and road manager. before repeating the job with Duke.

Mercer's first years leading his late father's band wen successful, and he performed many of the longer composi-tions Duke had only played a few times in public. As the older members left or died, the band drifted further from Duke's legacy, Mercer direct ed his father's music in the Broadway show Sophisticoted Ladies in the early 1980s. but at the end of the decade he settled in Copenhagen, only sporadically returning to New York for occasional bandleading.

He made some excellent recordings with his late father's band, including his own extended suite Music Is My Mistress. He supervised the acquisition by the Smithsonian Institution of the Ellington archive of scores, and similarly passed the recorded legacy to Danish Radio.

He is survived by two daughters and two sons, including the guitarist Edward Ellington II.

THE HON HONOR EARL

The Hon Honor Earl. portrait painter, died on February 2 aged 94. She was born on March 24, 1901.

31.

The state of the s

g a l

manufacture of the first

ENLIVENING patrician elegance with a vigorous dash of ochemian eccentricity, Honor Earl breezed through the upper echelons of society garnering subjects for her painter's brush. Her pastel portraits caught the expressions of the most eminent people of her day, including four generations of the Royal Family and some of the most dazzling stars of stage and screen.

But though herself ravishingly beautiful. Honor Earl found merely pretty features "boring" to paint. She preferred faces of character and often chose as her subjects her cleaning lady, down-and-outs on the London streets, and prostitutes and criminals whom she came to know uring her many years service as a prison visitor.

But it was in the portraiture of children - an area from which most artists shy — that Honor Earl specialised. Again she chose her sitters from across the widest spectrum of society, her subjects ranging from Peter Phillips, the Queen's first grandchild, to Christopher, a severely crip-pled Barnardo orphan. She children and knew how to keep them alert while they sat. Often she would sketch with one hand while playing with glove puppets in the other or making tunes with a comb and piece of paper. . .

. Perhaps her understanding of children was born of the lovelessness which she herself had felt as a child. Her father Viscount Maugham, a lawyer,

FOR SALE

GIFTS

RENTALS

RADITIONAL stone frequence & floor life. York Personn. Lineatime & Shat. Personn. Lineatime & Shat. Handimed Turnacotta. Cobble Setts. etc. Heavilly Service. Natheral & International delivery. Holley Hearing 0.2380 SEC033 (Willing

A BESTERDATE Newspaper, Or Deal. Superhity Present President OBOO 906609

areas for whiting ster Tel: 0171 243 0964.

entering into any commitment. Meet sports tichets are subject to strict re-sale and transfer rules.

for under Neville Chamberlain, was a chilly, distant figure uninterested in his offspring and fiercely devoted to his work. He was the elder brother of Somerset Maugham, although the two remained always bitterly antagonistic. "It's very sad my father is convinced that you dislike him," Honor's elder sister once ventured to her

MATIO

TICKETS FOR SALE

Warried for all matches Tel: O171 529 5622/ F: 929 8483

TICKETS

E NATIONE RUGBY
FREC CLAPTON.
CARIS,
THA TURNER.
FROM JOYA
BROOT SPIRNOSTERN
NEL DIAMOND
PHANTON. SUMMET
SOLVAL ASOCT
ALL POR TRANSCA.
SPORTEN EXTREME PROSTEN EXTREME PROSTEN

TEL: 0171 323 4480

5 Nations Ragby 96

OR Portland Assectator

set Maugham stuttered in reply: "He is p-p-perfectly correct. I think he is the most detestable old gentleman." Somerset Maugham did not take to Honor either, perhaps offended by her childish tact-uncle, hoping perhaps to elicit a denial. But the aged Somerlessness - she once broached in his presence the forbidden subject of his liaison with another man. Honor described herself as her uncle's "least favourite niece". But though this did not worry her unduly — she hated the dreary holidays spent with him at Cap Ferat — she was stricken by the knowledge that she was also a disappointment to her mother, whom she adored. While Honor's brother and two sisters were all very bright, Honor had dyslexia, a condition that had not yet been recognised at that time. She was always to remember sobbing her heart out over Reading willhout lears ouncing the word god instead of dog, while her French governess berated her for her stupidity.

It was only when she discovered her talent for drawing that her life changed. "She's half-witted in most ways but she draws," everybody said. Art became Honor's lifeline, and even in old age she would still confess that it was only

TICKETS FOR SALE

TICKETS

(Bought & Sold)

Rugby 5 Nations Phanton, Riverdance Oliver, Saigun, Etc., Turner, Brace Spaines

E. Chapton, Bon Jovi,

9171 488 4414

PETTRAL LONGOL SUPER-PETTRAL ADMINISTRAL THEOLE 451 3094 / Pax OI B1 459 442

WINTER SPORTS

UK HOLIDAYS

CENTRAL LONGOL

when drawing that she felt a complete self-confidence.

In 1937 Honor Earl became a prison visitor "I have seen so many tragic people whose misery could have been avoided by the right treatment," she said. Forming close friendships with prisoners in Holloway and in girls' borstals she realised for the first time that great good could coexist with great evil, and without the good being impaired."

Honor Earl was always to remain broad-minded in her outlook. Indeed her brother Robin - a quixotic figure who lived a life of reckless extravagance and of a certain disrepute - dedicated his book about homosexuality The Wrong People to her because he considered her the most liberal member of his family. Throughout her life she combined her talent for painting - a skill which she compared to that of a perform ing seal ("I have learnt how to do certain tricks") - with charitable work. During the war she fought to draw attention to the waste of refugee talent to the war effort and raised funds for the All-Nations Voluntary Service League by selling her works. But, though she supported a wide range of charities, her principal concern was for under-privileged children. The proceeds of her exhibitions were donated to, among other causes, the National Council for the Unmarried Mother and Child, Save the Children, and the Actors' Orphanage. For this last she did portraits of more than 75 stage and film stars. She later followed it with an exhibition called Children of the Stars the proceeds of which went to the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Honor Earl also founded and acted as chairman of the Young Musicians Fund. a charity to help young people who showed outstanding musical ability but whose parents were not in a position to pay ued to work into old age, she declared that she "looked forward like anything to dying". A lifelong member of the College of Psychic Studies, she had a great interest in the spirit world and believed herself to have been visited by Honor Earl's husband Se-with welcome grist. For a man to whom a love of books meant far more than the pursuit of his chosen profession, such success was remarkable. Russell-Cobb's library of some 30,000 titles provided not only the fount of his exceptional knowledge of literature but also the foundations of his small house in Pimlico: without their support, his friends feared, its very serving with the Eighth Army and rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. After the cal assistance department of the United Nacions.

TREVOR RUSSELL-COBB

at that time one of London's leading public relations consultants. His clients there included the Tobacco Research walls would collapse.

The son of a soldier and a singer - his mother taught at the Webber-Douglas School --Trevor Russell-Cobb was educated at Wellington College and trained as a pianist at the Royal College of Music ("I was Moiseiwitch's worst pupil", he used to say). In 1939, after a brief spell in the City, he enlisted in the Welsh Guards, war he joined the British Council and, later, the techni-

In 1955 he found his professional métier as a director of the firm of Campbell-Johnson, Council and Watney Mann.

whom he took with him when he set up his own public relations company some ten years later. Russell-Cobb, always his own man, was also and pa excellence a club man - not in the modern sense (he did not belong to the Garrick, for instance) but in the 18thcentury mode. He subscribed to countless groups and learned societies: notably to the Royal Society of Arts, of which he was treasurer for five years, the Johnson Society, the William Morris Society, the Foundation for Ephemera Studies and the Omar Khayyam Club. For 25 years he was a director of the English Chamber Orchestra and he was a trustee of the Sir John Soane's Museum unril his death.

More than all else, Russell-

Cobb loved to talk - about words, ideas, music, literature, especially about Dr Johnson, whom he cante to resemble. In conversation he usually chose to take the contrary, unexpected view, simply for the fun of it; he assumed in his companions a flatteringly wide knowledge. both general and esoteric, and if they failed to measure up he would enlighten them with grace as well as wit. In the preface to Paying the Piper he quoted Man Ray: "I have made some of my listeners think, and it sometimes made them angry, but I have also made others angry, and it has made them think." In Trevor Russell-Cobb's case, for

'angry" read happy. Trevor Russell-Cobb is survived by a son and daughter of his first marriage to Suzanne. who also survives him, and by two sons of his second wife, Nan, who died in 1979.

FOR SALE FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS HE THINK - 1791-1996 other thice available. Heady for pre-Christopher Lorenz will take place on Friday 16th February at 5t Michael's Christopher Lorenz Nighpate. London NS at 11are. ORENZ - The funeral FLIGHTS DIRECTORY THANKSGIVING . COSTCUTTERS on Signa & Inde In Europe, USA & hoot deathn-tions, Digitamit Travel Servicia Lat: 0171-730 2201, ABTA 25705 IATA/ATOL 1566, SERVICES ANDERSON - A Service of Thankspiving for the life of Para Anderson will be held at St Nicholas Charch Richards. West Sanson at 11.50 and on Sainting 2nd March. HERMANY Daily low con Highes Olsi 429 2900. Vim/ Access, ABTA 90006, ATOL VACATION TRAVEL Sabriday 2nd Ramina O'SHARCHUN - There will be a Service of Chambagiving for the life of Frank Cristanohum on Wednesday March 13th at 12 noon in St Bridg's Church, Fleet Straft. Bride's Church, Fleet Suret. STABLEY-CLASKE - A Descript of Thankspiving for the life of Other Cole Curroll. Leaby) will be held at . The Church of the Assumption. Howth. Co. Dublin on Thunday, March 14th 1996 LISA Curada Curbbean Africa For Bost S.America Assessin # 11.50 MTL IN MEMORIAM -PRIVATE HOOPER - Margaret Lilian who died February 13th 1993. Most dearty loved Muns, remembered with pade, so brave. Your loving too Erson. 0171 283 4869 REASSY FLIGHT CENT ENT CAMERA FIFT CA FLATSHARE PLATMATES London's foremon Est 1970) Profundonal file sharing service. 0171-689 549 FLIGHTS DERECTORY FLIGHTS UP TO 60% DISCOUNT ON SCHEDULED FLIGHTS WORLD LINK Agents for ATOL consolidates TEL: 0171 538 8273 01476 74111 TRAILFINDERS Low cost flights worldwide AND UP TO 45% DISCOUNT ON HOTELS & CAR PENTAL

HELEATE ST WE Cherning 2 bed has 1 heth rec'ht 8320pw neg PW Gapp 0171 943 0964 -Wales v Scotland France v Ireland CHALET Surptime in our President America/Swise reserve. Strong O181 9486925 Abbs/Al for tuition. grailable now 0600 371855 Though Honor Earl contin-LADBRONE GROVE Large 1 bed + study from Ent, pervider, beth /stwr, large f/f idt, was/td. bry gdp. #250pm 0171 221 2461. 0171 929 5622 E Siding Depart a White Roc Sid 017: 792 1186 (City) CAPITAL FLIGHTS NWAR. Specious 2 had fine. recently refugh, porter, bel-corp. large recep, cap park, 6280pm. 0171 579 4816. All cc's accepted WANTED OLD records, 1 gramsphowns, music bea wanted 0171 229 9618. ABACUS TICKETS BOUTH RESENSETON SW7.
Lovely 1 bed fint + wood floors.
large rec. 1/7 kg, beth, £265aw, mag FW Capp C171 243 0964 ROLEX AND CANTER his costs wice said, Tel 0171 401 0820 Instant quois. VIP Service wraiths from the afterlife. Rugby, Euro 96 Footbei Phentom, Absolutely at Pop, Sport & Theatre. WARDSWORTH lovely 1 bed. flat, belongy over park £190pw OLE1 #71-0347 bastian predeceased her. She ANNOUNCEMENTS With LiDON 5 per 2 bets from fir her, see dining 6 steels, pin. Libera & south, close SR & tabe 657 Sper. Drury 05.71, 579 4816 Tak 8181 673 2944 is survived by a son. All major ou's accepted Wil Large 1 dbie bed fell 1st floo Set. Large recep. beft/dbw ra w/m. £250pw 0171 221 2461 ALL TICKETS GROUP THEATRE YOUNG CHELSEA BRIDGE and school (18-40 age pr Tet: 07)-573 1665 5 Nations Rugby 96 SERVICES ANALALE AT DESCRIPTION OF ST ANIMALS IN NEED Dr. Oliver Thorvald Mrs. Thorvald Eric Thorvald et: 01273 70073 Please hato as you companished that in the state and described case and days at Desse values seems like glob of it secondly it. Car secondary positions district within the days are constituted to the a second provider in the potter city areas. We specified in the potter city areas. We specified in the potter city areas. We obtain the unobtained 0171 403 9555 Martha Thorvald TICKETS FOR SALE Louisa Vrodny.... Anna Vrodny.... Oswald Vrodny... Wholester Amerika Welfride TRUST. Charlester, Pleased Pr.7 SED (Bay Smally be 2007ed). ACCESS TICKETS ALL AVAIL Phenton. Score Seigon, Oliver, Stopes, Rod S. Cheston, Sport C71 AFT 1401 SOLD OUT EVENTS 5 Nations Reply
Bruce Springsteen,
Eric Clapton
and all major pop show
All theatre tickets
inc Phantom etc. ALL AVAIL: Phonones, all the airs, Davies, S. Serbestern, Rucky, all teors 0171 480 6183 HELPING Corporal Grimm. ALL YRCKEYS Roger, Ems v Re-land, R Ascot, Polp. Com-Springstern, Clapton, All con-certs, Parenton, etc & Sold Out events 0171 930 5895 Pt 5894 HOUSE THE HOMELESS Call to Now! Tel: 0171 821 6616 Dominions are urgently needed to make us to duy more house: and resour more families in surgent need of support, Help us less the amplitums of homelass-5 Nations Rugby 96 TICKETS CONTROL Workshide: 0141-239 3434

The TO 65% DISCOUNT ON HOTELS & CAR
CONTROL OF THE CONTROL OF Wales v Scotland France v Ireland lace the problems of borneless-ness by naming Chargh Housing Trust as a beneficiary in your Will benefit from FOR SALE When responding to advertisements readers are advised to Match tickets available now CHURCH HOUSERS establish the face value and trail details of lickets before 0171 929 5622 TRUST
Self-erland Recept
72-75 West Receive Streetin
Legitor MWS 72T

(City)

All co's accepted

"ON THE FRONTIER" By W.H. Auden and Christopher Isherwood. Music by Benjamin Brioen. Tristan Rawson
Mary Barton
Eric Berry Everley Gregg Cecil Winter Juliet Mansel _Lvdia Lopokova John Mood _Wyndham Goldie __Nigel Fizzerald ____tan Dawson Ernest Milto

Though, in its bitter end, this play does not go beyond an advocacy of hatred and of heroic death on the barricades, and is, therefore, slashed across by the familiar confusion of those who will not or cannot distinguish between a political dislike of war and a spiritual perception of the futility of all violence, it is conspicuously more mature and, in the highest sense, more charitable than the dramatists' other work. It is, too, steadier in

ON THIS DAY

February 13, 1939 经金融的政治

On the Fronder was one of the three plays W.H. Auden wrote in collaboration with Christopher Isherwood in the 1930s - the others were The Dog Beneath the Skin and The Ascent of Fo.

dramaoc movement, less flippant in tone, simpler in structure, and happily free from those interludes of farcical deliance that have in the past seemed to associate the idea of revolution with the pulling away of chairs by turbulent nephews or the laying down of orangepeel by intellectual street-urchins. A genuine attempt has been made to state the view of a great capitalist and to attack him with argued satire. Even the dictator of Westland, while being held up as a hysterical lunatic, is considered with seeing eyes, and Mr. Ernest Milton is enabled to draw a portrait of a human being with humour in its terrors and truth in its extravagancies.

Two States, Ostnia and Westland, go to war. The follies of extreme nadonalism, the delusions and sufferings of the peoples, the deadly similarity of propaganda, from whatever source, the uselessness of warlike effort—all these are set out in scenes, adroitly interlocked, which carry the audience from a small hume in one country to a like home in the other, or from the tranches into the presence of a dictator. Characters are seldom allowed to remain impersonal symbols, but are endowed with enough individuality and life to enable recitation to cease and acting to begin ... The point to remark about the play as a whole is that, altogether apart from its merits or demerits as propaganda, it has a considerable spark of theatrical life, and can be watched with cominuous interest even by those who do not come to a theatre in the same spirit in which they attend a political meeting.

Search for directors is made easier

TWO registers of non-executive directors for smaller companies have been launched, one by Kingston Smith, the chartered accountant, the second by the Institute of Potential directors will not have to pay a charge to appear in the Kingston Smith Gro-NED register, but they will be screened. Companies will be provided with two or three suitable candidates for a fee of £500 plus VAT.

The IoD Directors Direct service will provide small firms with the CVs of suitable candidates. The service costs £850 plus VAT. David Treadwell, IoD head of board appointments, said: "An independent voice on a board, whatever the size of the company, enhances good decision-making which ultimately leads to improved profitability. Essentially the role is to bring outside objectivity to what can so easily become a cosy and possibly complacent executive team.

Michael Snyder, Kingston Smith senior partner, said: "Our expectation is that if more smaller companies take the right kind of non-executives on to their board, it will contribute to a healthy and more successful small business sector." He added that companies with non-executive directors produce significantly higher profit margins and that the most successful entrepreneurs are those that are open-minded and listen to outside

He adds: "Applicants for the Gro-NED register must have direct experience of running smaller businesses, or have been closely involved in advising them. A nonexecutive director in a smaller company must be of real practical value and prove their worth in a measurable way. In big companies, they often have a policeman-like role, keeping an eye on the executives on behalf of the shareholders."

Mr Snyder said non-executive directors would expect annual fees starting at £5,000 and would attend monthly board meetings and be available for ad hoc advice and consultation.

Further information from: Kingston Smith, Devonshire House, 146 Bishopsgate, London EC2M 4JX, or from the IoD board appointments on 0171-451 3259.

RODNEY HOBSON

HM Customs and Excise

The Home Office

The Police, County Courts

The Ministry of Defence

The Official Receiver

HM Collector of Taxes

Transport Lost Property

Mits Photocopies Castaners Coss Panacer DEH700 Car CD

Carton Fishing Tackle
Photographic Equipment
Computer Design System
Rating Bilds
Garden Symmer

Case of Wine

Two Cordiess Dails Toputa Forklift Truck Sony Castcorder

A Set of Gold Clobs

NAME_

ADDRESS.

REGISTRATION APPLICATION

.Post Code.

To: Government Auction News

Freepost SE 8648, Romford RM6 SBR

Public Utilities

A hard journey to success in the world of travel

Barbara Trigg

meets a woman who is now passing on her determination to succeed to others

ersonal tragedy drove Alpa Shah into business on her own. After she and her husband arrived in Britain from Kenya in 1988, she obtained work as a systems analyst in a travel agency. Then in 1991 she was made redundant. Shortly afterwards her husband died on a visit to the US to make plans for the family to settle there. She was left with a five-year-old son and no income. "f wanted to work, but a nine-tofive job was out of the question."

said Ms Shah. She particularly did not want to leave her son, Vikesh, after he had lost his father. Uncertain of what to do, she attended a two-week business course specifically for women, run by the Ealing Co-operative Development Agency, which gave her advice on how to set up in business. She decided to open a travel agency from home.

First she bought a limited com-pany "off the shelf". Then with a borrowed desk and chair, a typewriter and an arrangment to use someone else's fax, she started trading as Alvic Hotel Reservation Services. She did not want to be just any travel agent and decided to specialise in the music industry. She tried to persuade a family friend, who was a road manager in ☐ Exporters aiming for editorial coverage in foreign newspapers can obtain help from the Central Office of information. A new service includes writing by a professional journalist, transla-tion, processing of photographs and distribution to the foreign press through UK diplomatic posts. The cost is £30 for the first country and £40 for each additional one. Contact: Simon Holder on ☐ A helpline for small businesses has been launched in Wales by that industry, to give her a chance to handle travel arrangements. She reasoned that people bad to be given an opportunity or there panies. Eventually he agreed.

Her first show was Hollywood and Broadway, starring Lorna Luft and Wayne Sleep. She made all the travel arrangements for them and an entourage of 30 people on a sixsaid. "Hotels wanted pre-payment and no one would lend me the money. I had to convince hotel managers that my business was credible with just a business plan.

British Telecom and the Welsh

Office, with financial help from the European Regional Development

Fund. The service has the support of Tecs, enterprise agencies and local authorities. Firms wanting advice on topics including premises, finance, export opportunities and recruiting staff can contact an adviser familiar with the caller's local area. More than 48,000 new businesses have been set up in Wales during the past 12 years and one in seven of the workforce now runs his/her own

Tel: 01477 500777

Open 7 days

The music industry was totally male-dominated. Although I did not face racial discrimination, I faced discrimination because I am a woman. But I made up my mind: never in my life will I give up." By then she had decided her selling point would be a 24-hour service to meet the late-night requirements of the entertainment industry.

Her first client took her at her word and rang at 2.30am to make changes to the travel arrangements. At the end of the tour they were so satisfied that they introduced her to other promoters and she was on her way. One of ber women, two of whom have followed her lead.

early clients was the London Philharmonic Orchestra, which re-sponded to a mailshot. It has stayed

Elaine Paige, Philip Schofield and pop groups. In 1994 she took on three staff. Four months ago the company expanded to offer travel services to the public and moved into premises in Alperton, west

London. Last May she organised a seminar to help women to set up in business, ft was attended by 110

ith her ever since. Others include

Alvic Travel is on 0181 900 9689

Shortfall in training for managers 'hitting small firms'

THE training needs of small firms are not being met, according to a report by a Cambridge academic. Much of what is on offer is geared to large companies and seen by owner-managers as far too theoretical. Government-provided train-ing is often unsuitable. The report, Developing Managers for the Stand-Alone Business, shows there is not yet a developed market for training in this sector. Barry Welch, the author, until recently Fellow in Management Studies at Downing College, beheves the disadvantage to small firms is of concern because they depend entirely on the manager's skill and professionalism.

Although the sector is widely recognised as underpinning the conomy, it may be underperforming significantly through lack of vital skills, the report suggests.

Owner-managers, in whom all the roles and prospects of business are concentrated, are specially vulneraole and need support.

The survey shows the problems small businesses face in contrast to corporate concerns: early fragility, dependence on a small number of people, shortage of resources, difficulty in raising finance, emphasis on current and short-term priorities, a need for versatility and skills which change with growth and a demand for access to external advice and assistance.

Nearly half the managers inter-viewed do not find training effective, especially in recruitment and planning. Yet most managers see training as a strategic investment, provided it gives value for money is at the right level and is practical. Cost is a big concern for firms of between 25 and 50 employees.

Those with fewer than 20 regard £50 a day as the maximum. Those with up to 100 employees say £100. Not surprisingly, managers favour free or subsidised training or tax concessions, plus readily available

Training averages 2-32 days a year. About 20 per cent have more than seven days; a quarter of firms with fewer than 200 have none. Advice on training is mainly from the training providers themselves and from training and enterprise coun-cils, but smaller firms seek advice from professional institutions, personal contacts, accountants or banks rather than Tecs, "which still have to establish their credentials"."

Programmes should group participants according to their business's stage of development, combine personal and business development, respect managers' knowledge of their firm and emphasise mutual help and networking. Programmes are best held after the working day, with a light buffet provided, for three hours, once a week for ten weeks.

It's from my bank manager

11.

'is BlG

number, which is charged at local rate, is 0345 969 798.

A one-day conference on Labour and small and medium enterprises will be addressed by Tony Blair, the Labour leader, Margaret Beckett, the DTI Shadow Minister, and Barbara Roche, the Opposition spokeswoman on small firms. at the Gibson Hall; London, on March 20. Other speakers include Tim Melville-Ross from the Institute of Directors and Ian Peters of NatWest Bank. Details from Neil Stewart Associates, 11 Dartmouth Street, London SWIH 9BL:

☐ The national franchise exhibition will be held at the NEC, Birmingham from October 4 to 6. The show has been moved to a larger hall after heavy advance. exhibition, which attracted 140

☐ The business angels service piloted by National Westminster Bank in the North West and the Thames Valley has been extended to the whole country. The bank estimates that private investors wishing to back small firms have funds totalling £2-4 billion.

☐ Tendering for Government Contracts, the DTI guide, advises small businesses on selling to the bookings at the end of last year's public sector, with guidelines on the millionaires saunch soon Can 01702 559161.

MORTGAGE Reposessions interraced boules, ideal, for renting 21,0,000 freehold. Low outlay high profits and high runts, Ouaraniced tensa-cies, Full management; Harling-ton Properties 0161, 773 6698

SINK or swim! If you face cargo-rate pressures we have auda-cious remedies that can clear the dacks giving you a fresh start, Call 0171 466 0033

STRATEGIC Opportunity to estal expansion of major US Corp. in UK-Eur. Octobanding income potential. C. Kirby ind dist. 01691 780001 (24 hrs)

NOTICE TO READERS

with all advertisements, readers are strongly advised to take professional advice before paying a deposit or entering into any financial commitment.

URGENTLY

REQUIRED

SHOW KITCHENS

We will build you a tailor made kitches at a fraction of the

-01908 503222 En 65

LITTLE BORWOOD,
MILTON KEYNES MKLT OPT

THE FIRST EMERGENCY

BUSINESS SERVICE

How Much De We Earn? Protessional Training & Business Support

Guin Swift urgently require show kitchens in order establish a network of show homes throughout the U.K.

normal price, if you will allow us to be prospective conteners

GRUN SWIFT.

UNIT'S, BACON HOUSE INDEST,

For full details phone

public purchasing that include £40 billion spent each year by central government and E20 million by the NHS. Nearly 50 departments and agencies are listed, with their main purchasing areas. Copies by quot-ing URN95/896 from DTI-Small Firms Publications, Admail 528, London SWIW 8YT.

Hingston Publishing has produced a book, The Greatest Guide to Home-Based Business, the third in a series of guides for small businesses. Copies cost £7.95 from

BUSINESS FOR SALE Beds/Bucks area. Franchise potential, Box No 3534 CORNWALL Attractive boilday villas in idyulic manor house grounds Low furniture and fritions inc. disabled facilities. Fishing lake, tennis rourir eic. Gooss income approx. E14/18.000+ p.a. from £102.000+ vAT, Box No 3530 PIRST AID Training Company Approved by the HSE Local and national contracts. Turnover in excess of £100,000 p.s. on part time hours Houge potential for increased earnings, excedent profits. Asking price [R.O. £300,000 Genuine prospective burchason's send own CV & defails to Box No 3548 looking to accurre print compa-nies in South East England. Turnover £2m+ Principals only Fax: 01494 771892 BUSINESS

BUSINESSES

OPPORTUNITIES

AAH! At last one that really works £2500+ pm p/time 0118 942 9228 24trs & Issen ABSOLUTELY Genuine. No rick tremendous income potential worldwide, full or part time 01255 892659 (7 days)

Announcing

For the wholesale public disposal of goods from the official departments of:

Nationwide coverage of over 1,000 no-reserve price auctions every month.

From the total asset sales of companies in receivership to the offer for purchase of stolen and used replacement sales, from the clearance of transport department and airport unclaimed effects and post office undeliverable parcels to the disposal of local authority and utility vehicles, property and land. Not restricted to dealers and traders. Open to all members of the public, A publication featured by BBC Television and Radio. The Independent, Businesses and Assets, and referred by the DTi, DoE, HMSO, HM Customs & Excise and The Small Business Advice Centre.

£1,000 £13 £23

518

£300 £150

£300

red possessions, from the auctions of confiscated contraband to large-scale MoD new-and-

30 Westing Dresses Porsette 928 sponses An Office Desk

100 Computer Comes

Jaguar XIS Calmules Hi-tech Mobile Phone

Latery Orthopactic Red Large Getenhouse Francel Oil Panning

Two Paics of Sizes Proneer Hi-Fi System

£18 Collector's Record

Special Promotion with this Compon - Save E29

(C) 1993. Reputered at the Bosonic Library ISSN 0960-1939. Access Visa Harline 1983 597 7355. Washington Late. To Pleas St. Landon ECAT. LAA.

home business, p/f time $2,500 - £5,000 p.m. 0121 474 2296 AGENTS REQUIRED, all Bread, high income potential, no investment. Communications industry. Swiftnet Ltd 0181 446 9494.

RICH MAN -POOR MAN! If you prefer the first option, the easy way, and are of management callbre, Call:

01933 272275

Liquidators, Receivers

Bankruptcy and

Insolvency Practitioners

Local Authorities, NHS

The Sheriff's Office

The Post Office, Bailiffs

The United States

Department of Defense

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

A MINE Franchine. Be one of the first to own your own business in the fastest growing service industry in Europe which is part of the information guper highway, a market that is set to expend exponentially a one time investment of EL 280 purchases everything you need to launch your business with purchasted ongoing training and full support. Call for details 0:17000 260 783 Fax. 0:1491 875 107 Mainton pack

RESIDENTIAL Letting Agency can easily be run from home, providing a very good, all year round income. Can be run aloupside your present lob or business. Comprehensive business startup package including genuine telephone helpline 190.
Piesse rail Thomson Press Lid anytine no 0171 644 S069 for a free colour brochure.

OSTRICH FARMING A wholey owned appreciating sees technical in the UK that can produce up to 70% profit per essure.

PINSTRIPE

WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA? Make money without grilling your fast cirty using our incides or new your own (min 1 apre). Return swellship for up to 25 years. The INTERTOR'S HELPLIRE, Don't Size 1 Hartey Street, London VIR 194

ACORN MOBILITY STAIRLIFTS NEW

& RECONDITIONED 5 year warranty now available Thousands of satisfied customers Buy direct from the National 24 hr breakdown cover

Phone now for a FREE no obligation quote T 01274 722600 WHAT TYPE OF FRANCHISE

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR? If you want a franchise in pizzas, curpet cleaning or car servicing, we're not for you.

BUT if you are looking for a franchise in a professional by ares; a franchise which offers a service to your community; which provides you with continuous top quality support to ensure your success, then The Marketplace Franchise may well be for you.

The Marketplace is a local publishing franchise. To succeed with us you'll need sound business experience, the ability to invest £15,000 to back your confidence in your own abilities, and the astincts to aegutiate with local busin

If you believe you are ready to succeed, please telephone 81823 664770 for a Prospectus. Marketplace Publications Limited 14 Coombe Park, Four Oaks, West Midhards. B74 2QB.

Available
No Selling involved
Small Capital Outley
Uelog Your Home PC
Full Training & Seckup
FOR FREE

AMERICAN WAY IN THE

NO INVESTMENT REQUIRED HOME SHOPPING -THE RETAIL REVOLUTION

GOLD & COSTUME JEWELLERY LADJES, MEN'S & KIDS CLOTHING. There is untimited income potential and exclusive areas are allocated. For free catalogue and

A DINGUIS Formatted business deal owner operator, plot shop in operation, fow investment EZOK. Fully second, simple to run, full training provided, about to sequent throughout the UK. Phone O1656.766566 90sec mess can earn £2500 pm pt at home 24hrs0115 9427690 purchasers, 0800 387 685
AT LAST, "The Emerital Quide for Independent Consultants" 250pp, ring bound manual for prospective and new consultants. Crammed with marget data guidelines and tips for success. Free explanatory bedfel from Ball Lid, Dept 7, Freepod RP99, 7 Brittens Gourt, Ciltion Reynes, Bucks, MK46, 5VR. 01238 241026. EASY MONEY 10 participants only no network small outlay guaranteed returns no skills phone pow 0171 739 8919 2700,000 per year innountate income / from subspaniel franchise opportunity in leisure industry 685 rested slea, available from 25,800 + VAT Finance available / subsect to status, Phone: Franchise, Maintee O.181 859 8950

GERMAN GOLD Bonds. Pre-War, Do you wish to sell? Please context Box No 3668 ECOLOGIQUE IUNG LTD - Catt-ing all Ex-L-Arome Aposts f An-ideal opportunity to join a pra-miere skincore company at its embryomic stage. Contact Garry Russell 0171 987 0396.

BUILDERS & Million opportu-pity for £5.000 investment. -How? Stephen Hughes Tel: 0800 772000

0171 • 436 • 1127 Whilst we take reasonable precautions

DETECTIVE

START A PROFITABLE IMPORT EXPORT AGENCY

WORK FROM HOME CASH FLOW OPPORTUNITY 4 - 6 Hours Per Wesk 12 Months Figures

PON PRIZE
INFORMATION PACK
PHONE ANN
FREECALL
0500 140 141
COMSTRAD Ltd 3rd Floor, 55 St James's Street Leading the way in Computer Technolog

As the leading professional matching & Comments Support organisation in business mediation and arbitration, with over 30 years proven expertise, we can substantial tees from our clients setting problem bills with their creditors at a reduced rate. For every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard gen a real professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard gen a real professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard gen a real professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard gen a real professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard gen a real professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard generating professional's every bill we reduce, we recalve a standard years are seen to set the second for the pays for you and a partner. This is not a difficult of not being paid at all, they are interested as elected as possible. As a trained valour Associate, working part or full-time, you will.

For a free fursioners.

working part or full-time, you will prospectus and video, call be providing a truly needed prospective and video, call business service and your 0171 225 3755 or profit potential will be staggering. Fax 0171 225 2274

60 Albert Court • Prince Consort Road Knight-bedge • London SW7 28H

TWO "PARTMERS" required,
One for the Midlands and one for the North of England, Leading British Specialist company with: "Investmentary pecurity product seels to appoint, losspooles, seels to appoint, losspooles, seels to appoint, losspooles, seels to appoint, losspooles, seels to appoint, lossbove eyens, shelter presenting, a golden opportunity in create £LOQ,OOD plus, per straint, profit business, working under the unbergills of our highly experienced. Dopporation, investments sirks £18 / 18,000 fully secured by stock Only dynamic self statistics, who have the necessary capital, and can provide the highest references for your fuller density beasedur.
The Castirnan, The Bruerpide
Group - Faz Old, 533 8005.
WANTING TO GO IT ALONE 10 seasony-Clinic Franchise Pro-practions in UK, Mininghos Investment £35,000 recorded to John Jacusco Hrvansky, owned chain of Beauty Clinics in coun-tric. Full training provided by comporation with £1.256 T/6 Tel: 0171-700 1115.

LOANS &. INVESTMENT

A MORTGAGE or remortgage no income proof required adverse credit history welcome no up from fees 01277 200912 BANKS UNSYMPATHETIC? Any purpose property locate from £25,000 No up tront fees, .01273 587484 Days, 01273 699784 right times. SUSMESS Finance to 100%, interest rates from 4%. All pro-posats / projects considered humediste decisions, Telf-Faic 01773 744 745 / 0385 374 487 FUNDS immediately available / crisis funding now for any business problem, we can arrange long term refinance or restructuring of your company or paraership, call Crewn Corporate 01462 780860 office hours

IF YOU Require help paying VAT, inland Revenue or Raiss call Crown 01452-780960

FRANCHISES

FRANCHISING IN THE 90s The Sunday Times and The Times will be holding a Franchising Feature to appear holding a Franchising Feature to appear Sunday, March 10 and Tuesday, March 12, 1996.

By advertising your Franchise Opportunity in both publications you would reach an audience of nearly 5 Million readers.

For further details and incommenders.

For further details and incentive advertising THE BUSINESS TO BUSINESS TEAM on 0171 782 7255. "NRS April-Sept 1995.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MANTING TO GO IT ALONE to recruitment but lack finance. Contact Mike Durn at Eurofeed Services 01462 300108.

Dove

The second secon

As an introduction to Government Auction News take advantage of a £20 discusurt. Register today and claim tweire monthly issues for only £39.70 (usual price £59.70). Simply complete and return the registration application below without delay. Summory thirty day refund guarantee of customer satisfaction. Send me Government Auction News every month for 12 months. I wish to take advantage of the special _Post Code -

7.00 7.00 11.22 5.07 12.05 13.05 14.05 16.

CLUB

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY A GENUINE NO RISK

Scaeside is the fastest growing catalogue company in Europe - we are currently operating in over 200 sowing in the UK. The House Shopping Market is booming and is on larget to double in size NOW is your chance to be part of it Our full colour estalogues comins, at LINERATARI E discount prices-

TEL 01670 789110

THE TIMES TUESDAY FEBRUARY 13 1996 Court of Appeal Deposit of deeds does not create charge The plaintiff in Systember 1991 obtained judgment in the Queen's Bench Division gainst S' in the wal S could not charge, named was trested as prime face evidence of a coultrat to mergage, and, as part performance of that interest in the property, in interest in the property, in interest in the property in the legal stitle and beneficial interest in the property, in interest in the property, in the legal stitle and beneficial interest in the property, in the legal stitle and beneficial interest in the property, in the legal stitle and beneficial interest in the property, in the legal stitle and beneficial interest in the property in the legal of the legal Section 2 of the Law of Property (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act-1989, which provided that a dis-position of an interest in land had to be in writing in a document signed by both parties incorpora-ing all the terms of the agreement ing all the terms of the agreement, abolished the long established rule that a mere deposit of title deeds relating to a property by way of security created a valid equitable mortgage or charge of the property without more.

The Court of Appeal so held in a reserved judgment dismissing the appeal of the third defendant, Societé Générale Alsacienne de Banque SA ("SoGenAl"), from part of the judgment of Mr Justice Chadwick (The Times July 7, 1994; Chadwick (The Times July 7, 1994; [1995] 2 WLR 94) in the Chancery Division when be granted a declaration that, as between SoGenAl and the plaintiff bank, United Bank of Kravait plc. SoGenAl did not hold any equitable mortgage or charge over the undivided share belonging to the first defendant, Hadi Haji Sahib (S.), in the proceeds of sale of the property known as 37c Fitzjohn's Avenue, Hampstead, London.

Mr Christopher Pymont for the third defendant: Mr James Munby, QC, for the plaintiff: the first and second defendants did not poear and were not represented. LORD JUSTICE PETER GIB

SON said that since Russel v. Russel ((1783) | Bro CC 269) a deposit of title deeds relating to a property by way of security had been taken to create an equitable mortgage of the property without any writing, notwithstanding section 4 of the Statute of Francis 1677. and its successor, section 40 of the

in order to secure and enforce that judgment debt, together with costs and statutory interest from the date of judgment against, interest alia. S's interest in the freehold

The present proceedings were brought to enforce the charging order, but neither S nor the second defendant, his wife, joint owner and person in possession of the property, had taken any substantial, part. The real issue was therefore between the plaintiff and SoGerial which claimed an equitable more treatment of the property. table mortgage over S's interest.

That claim was based on, inter alia, an advance of £130,000 made by SoGenAl to S in September 1990 which was treated as between them as a series of successively renewed time deposits by SoGenAl-with S. Ar no time did the wife authorise SS lawyers to hold the land certificate to the order of

They asked S's lawyers to act for them in order to regularise the security arrangements in respect of the property. No legal manage was executed by S and his wife, although by August 1992 correspondence contained a clear indica-tion that S accepted SoGenAl was secured in respect of the time deposit current for the time being since he held the legal certificate for the property to SoGenAl's

SoGenAl. Consequently, SoGenAl

did not have security over the

The judge below assumed Si-would have been estopped from

His Lordship said that section 2 was enacted to give effect in that part of the Law Commission's report on transfer of land Formal-ities for Contracts for Sale etc of Land (Law Com No 164; June 29, 1987) which recommended repeat of section 40 of the 1925 Act and abolition of the doctrine of part performance, proposing new requirements for the making of a contract for the sale or other disposition of an interest in land.

Thus, by section 2, a contract for a mortgage of or charge in any interest in land or in the proceeds of sale of land could only be made of sale of land could only be made in writing and only if the written document incorporated all the terms which the parties had ex-pressly agreed, and was signed by or on behalf of each party. It was not suggested that there was any such document in the present case. such document in the present case. The judge had correctly con-cluded (at pl10) that the courts had consistently treated the rule that a deposit of title deeds for the purpose of securing a debt operated, without more, as an equi-table mortgage or charge as contract-based, and the courts were concerned to establish, by presumption, inference or evidence, what the parties intended, and then to enforce their common interest as an agreement.

His Lordship emphasised the essential contractual foundation of the rule as demonstrated in the authorities, more recently in In re Wallis & Simmonds (Builders) Ltd expressly or by necessary implica-tion repealed the 1925 Act and later legislation recognising and entend-legislation recognising and entend-log the scope of a security by deposit of title deeds. He drew attention to modern com-mentations conclusions that section 2 was not intended to repeal the rule: see Snell's Equity (29th edinue see Sheirs Equity (19th edi-tion (1990) pp444-45); Cheshire and Burn's Modern Law of Real Property (15th edition (1994) p670; and "Informed dealings with land after section 2" Bently and Coughlan (1990) 10 Legal Studies 1325-3411 p325, 341). His Lordship differed with reluctance from such distin-guished lawyers but was not persuaded their views were cor-rect. The citation and reference to earlier legislation was now sub to and in the light of the 1989 Act. The new formalities required by section 2 governed all dispositions of interests in land.

2 There was nothing in the Law.

Commission's report in suggest that security by deposit of title deeds was intended to be affected or was even considered. His Lordship said that the inclusion of contracts in grant mortgages in the reports proposals was made plain in paragraph 43, and as security by deposit of title deeds took effect as an agreement to mortgage, in logic there was no reason why security by deposit of title deeds should have been excepted from the proposals.

In any event, if the wording of section 2 was clear, as his Lordship believed it was, the absence from

3 That the rule that a deposit of title deals created a mortgage was not dependent on any actual contract between the parties, although, if there was one, that contract would govern the parties' rights. It had to comply with section 2 but that did not affect the legal presumptions or inferences which arose when there was a mere deposit. His Lordship said that it was clear from the authorities that the deposit was treated as rebuttable evidence of a contract to mortgage. To allow inquiries, such as evi-dence to establish whether or not a deposit was intended in create : deposit was intended in create a mortgage security over the land and whether or not the original deposit was intended at the outset to be security for further advances, after the 1989 Act was quite inconsistent with section 2 requirements of the land of the ing as it did that the contract be made by a single document containing all the terms of the agreement if it was to be valid.

it seemed clear that the deposit of title deeds took effect as a contract to mortgage and fell within section 2. His Lordship agreed with the judge below (at pitt) that the Law Commission's recommendation that contracts relating to land should be incorporated in a signed document containing all the terms was clearly intended to promote certainty, and that the new legislation was likely to have the effect of avoiding disputes on oral evidence as to the obligation which the parties intended to secure. Therefore, by reason of section 2, the deposit of title deeds by way of security could not give a mortgage or charge.

Lord Justice Phillips gave a concurring judgment and Lord Justice Leggatt agreed with both. Solicitors: Radcliffes & Cox Clyde

Verdict on conspiracy count safe rather than the conspiracy charge

Regina v O'hAdhmaill Before Lord Taylor of Gosforth, Lord Chief Justice, Mr Justice Latham and Mr Justice Hooper

(Reasons February 9) Where a trial judge refused defence counsel's suggestion, made for the first time at the end of the defence closing speech, that an alternative count of unlawful possession of explosives should be added to an indicament charging conspiracy to cause explosions, the salety of the jury's verdict of guilty on the conspiracy count could not

The Court of Appeal so stated in giving reserved reasons for having dismissed on February 1 the appeal of Feilim Padraic OhAdhmaill, a former lecturer in sociology at the University of Central Lancashire in Presion and an admitted member of the IRA against conviction at the Central against obviously at the Central Criminal Court (Mr Justice Rougier and a jury) on a count of conspirary to cause an explosion. contrary to section 3(1)(a) of the Explosive Substances Act 1883. He was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment. An appeal against sentence was dismissed.

Mr Geoffrey Robertson, QC. who did not appear below, and Mir Sir Derek Spencer, QC, Solicitor-General, Mr John Nutting, QC and Mr Richard Horwell for the

THE LORD CHIEF JUSTICE. giving the reasons of the court, said that the appellant admittedly was knowingly in possession of explosives and ammunition, was a member of the IRA and was acting

He was arrested on February 21. 1994 while dismanling the rear seats of a car, which had been under observation after it had been imported from Ireland on February 13. Concealed inside the car hool and seal cavities were 17 packages of Semiex, 17 detonators and other items including a guo and ammunition and under-car booby traps.

In his wallet was a number of digarette papers wrapped in cellophane, some bearing a code en-abling phone calls and meetings to be arranged secretly and others bearing lists of possible military, political and strategic targets.

The prosecution case was that he was to have played a controlling role in a planned IRA hombing campaign to take place in England in early 1994. The defence case was that, despite the admissions, the evidence did not necessarily disclose a settled conspiracy to carry

His Lordship considered in detail the argued criticisms relating to the trial and summing up and

Leave had been granted on February 1 at the hearing of submissions on an application for leave to add an additional ground of appeal concerning the absence of any count charging a lesser offence than the conspiracy count. In the course of his final speech. defence counsel told the jury that he was going to invite the prosecution with the judge's leave to add an alternative charge of unlawful possession of explosives, a charge of which the appellant would not rite the jury to acquit him. The matter was thus raised for the first time with the prosecution and the judge after the defence speech. No count was added.

Mr Robertson contended that the refusal to add the charge might have led to injustice. Faced with admissions by the appellant that that he had the explosives with him uiai ne nau the explosives with him at least with the possibility of some future use being made of them in the IRA's interest, the jury were likely to be hostile to him and reluctant to let him walk out. It was submitted that the jury might have convicted of the lesser charge rainer than the conspiracy charge if they had had that option. Mr Robertson referred to R v Foirbanks (1986) I WLR 1202), in which Lord Justice Mustill had said that a judge was obliged to leave the lesser alternative only if that was necessary in the interests of justice, but that such interests would never be served in a situation where the lesser verdict simply did not arise in the way in

In Foirbanks careless driving vas an alternative verdict capable of being returned on the count before the jury of which the appellant had been convicted. In instant case their Lordships were concerned with the suggestion that, at the instance of the defence or of the judge and at the end of the case, a further count should have been added to the

which the case had been presented

401, 408) Lord Ackner had said: What is required in any particular case where the judge fails to leave an alternative offence to the jury is that the court, before interfering with the verdict must be satisfied that the jury may have convicted out of a reluctance to see the defendant get clean away with what, on any view, was disgraceful conduct. If they are so satisfied then the conviction cannot be safe or satisfactory."

The Lord Chief Justice said that, after considering the course which the trial in the present case look, the count which was before the jury and the count which was proposed should be added, their Lordships saw no reason to doubt the safety of the jury's verdict.

Accordingly, the additional ground of appeal failed and the appeal against conviction was dismissed. The sentence was not manifestly excessive.

Solicitors: B. M. Birnberg & Co. Camden: Crown Prosecution Ser-

Assessment on future chance of employment too high

Ministry of Defence v

Before Mr Justice Keene, Mr J. A. Scouler and Mr P. Dawson Judgment February 6

An industrial tribunal ought not to have assessed as 100 per cent the missed because she was pregnant returning to the full 22-year period of her service in a case where the assessment of chance related to a long period of time subsequent to the tribunal's decision.

The Employment Appeal Tri-bunal so held when allowing an appeal by the Ministry of Defence from a decision of a Newcastle upon Type industrial tribunal last March awarding the applicant; Jane Nathan, compensation for unlawful discrimination on the ground of sex. The ministry bad appealed on the ground that the award was excessive.

FRANCHISES

Mr Timothy Pitt-Payne for the ministry, Ms Judith Beale for the

MR JUSTICE KEENE said that Mr. Pitt-Payne had accepted that a finding of 100 per cent chance was not necessarily perverse or an indication of an error of law per se. But he argued that an assessment at 100 per cent when dealing with what would have happened over a long period of time required excep-tional circumstances,

A distinction had to be drawn between cases where the long period of time had already passed and those where it related to a long period of time steaching into the future when seen from the date of the tribunal's decision.

Where the period had passed by the time of the tribunal's assess-ment the tribunal was able to look back at what had in fact happened and take that into account. In the present case the tribunal's finding of 100 per cent chance of the applicant serving for 22 years from her enlistment in November 1982 involved making a judgment about what might or might not happen between March 1995 and the year 2004.

Many unpredictable factors could affect the applicant's ability to serve throughout the remaining nine years of the 22 years of service including health, the possibility of further children, the uncertainty of childcare and the risk of redundancy resulting from the fact that

BUSINESS SERVICES

COMPANY CREDIT Ratings instantly by 4st. Searches, fr £14, directure, accounts, 0600 716 669 Fee: 01254 6222221:

TD. COMPANIES 249 mci prof. quality service. Tel 0151 929 9865/8729 Emergine.

EXPERIMINCED Freelance man-agament considers is weeking new projects. Call: 0802 239 270 Fac: 01277 373 318

YOUR OFFICE in London 709/ Day, account mail, Tel Ats, Fax. The Sees Serve DI 71 436 0766

the size of the armed forces was

Mr Pitt-Payne's argument was that no reasonable tribunal could be 100 per cent certain that the applicant would not have been affected by such possibilities between 1995 and 2004 and the tribunal had either misdirected itself or the decision was perverse. An assessment of a 100 per cent chance which related to a future period was not necessarily perverse. But the further into the future the tribural was having to look the more difficult it became to regard a 100 per cent chance as a permissible option. Apart from the length of the period the permissibility of a 100 per cent assessment depended on such factors as the slength of the 25,000 mixed company U.K. Los sumber database lot. Co name / los quabited 1995 as missie on vice career, the ease with which she would have pursued such a career as well as being a mother, the value attached to her by the armed services, the risk of redundancy, her health and her age.

An industrial tribunal was not obliged to make a discount in the percentage because some period of time in the future was involved but the further into the future one looked the greater the opportu-nities for the vicissitudes of life.

The majority of the appeal tribunal considered that the industrial tribunal's decision was outside the range of permissible options. To say that there was no possibility of anything happening during those years between 1995 and 2004 which would lead to the cessation of the applicant's service was stretching credulity beyond an accorable limit.

It was irrational of the tribunal o regard as a 100 per cent certainty the prospect of the applicant having continued in military serbe allowed and the case remitted to

Single application valid In re William Pickles plc

Before Mr Justice Rattee Budgment February of

A single originating application under the Insolvency Act 1986 could be issued in respect of a number of separate companies in respect of the receivership of those companies. There was no need to mons in respect of each separate

Mr Justice Rattee so ordered in the Chancery Division on an application made by William Pick-les pic on a single document intituled in the name of all 14 companies, thereby reducing the

Mr Manhew Collings for the MR JUSTICE RATTEE said that the liquidator of William Pickles ple and 13 other companies which had formerly been wholly directions relating to the marshalling of securities and certain intercompany indebtedness.

The only point was whether by reason of anything under that Act or the Insolvency Rules (SI 1986 No 1925) made thereunder it was permissible to issue a single application in respect of matters which were common to all the companies or whether it was necessary to issue 14 separate applications, involving carra costs

His Lordship had been referred to In re a Company (1984) BCLC 307), where Mr Justice Mervyn Davies had declined to allow a suralar application that a single petition should be allowed under section 75 of the Companies Act 1980 with regard to a number of companies which were not in any mon shareholders. His Lordship referred to rule additions, be intituled 'In the matter of (naming the company to which the proceedings relate)' and in the matter of the Insolvency Act company included reference to the plural and he accepted the submission of counsel that there was nothing in the Act or rules which required that there should be a separate application in respect of each separate company.

A person who was a liquidator of more than one company could issue a single originating application for directions under section 112 matter of all the relevant companies together rather than having a separate one in each case. There might be reasons why in rate application in each case might be convenient but there was no ing in the present case why a single application would not suffice.

Solicitors: Addleshaw Sons &

BARBORUPTCY Association of Great Britain and areland, Est. 1983. Tel: 01482-658701. IS BIG BUSINESS the same tribunal. 7.26(1) of the 1986 Rules: "Every proceeding under Parts I to VII of the Act shall, with any necessary owned subsidiaries, sought leave ACCOUNTS Prepared; but A VAT pusiters resolved, Pland from Call five 0500 000 998 NOM STATUS Martinges & Joans + bridging Disease, Commercial/residential. CCPs. Arrears, no income proof, no age Brist, PSS 01772 632591 Solicitors: Treasury Solicitor: to issue one single originating application under the 1986 Act for More and more companies are pulming out, Contact Silver Cres Advisory Service for superi advice, 0161 441 2096 on the move and need . . . SMALL OFFICES to let in Cro-tral Lendon, from 90 to 900egt mouthly te, yes investible, across to conference and needing fooms plus accretical services. Excellent inclusive rests. Phase 0171, 721, 7000 or Fax 0171 721, 7109. Scots Law Report February 13 1996 Outer House

COMPUTERS &

Notebook 16ME/810MB Win98, 6 Mos. dd. 1 37 wart. reg 62548, now £1,996 01372 377544 day 01882 284509 eve

OFFICE EQUIPMENT

AN OFFICE FURNITURE COMPANY

Has in stock approx 300 new design and chairs.
Goey and light oak.
For impactions delivery sale / him or assumence job.

Tet: 0121 447 7322

Fax: 0121 447.7467

HOTELS & LICENSED

PREMISES

18€ 1 €3 €

 $(-i)^{k} (x^{k+1} + i)^{k+1} (x^{k+1} + i)^{k+1} = x^{k}$

the second of the second secon specialist companies to move them, particularly in this high tech world of computers and sophisticated office equipment. Business Moves Limited is one of the major players in the corporate moving sector and is now offering franchises in key

▲ Established in 1984 A unique Business Franchise A Own Marketing area △ Comprehensive Training

& Investment £66K* including working capital Potential earnings £50K+

Spain, Germany, Canada, USA, South Africa and New Zealand.

A number of franchise apportunities are still available throughout the UK, when there are 60 presently trading. We are scaling individuals who are prepared to invest their capital, proved tradinate management and autoprocessuries shifts to play an important role in the proved tradinate of this recently publicly Estat company.

CASE CONVERTERS will be healting our very first Discovery Day Segminars on the following Saturdays: 24/2/95 London, 2/8/96 Southampton, 2/8/96 London, 2/8/96 Southampton, 2/8/96 London, 2/8/96 Recented from 3/8/96 London from the following Saturdays: 2/4/2/96 London, 2/8/96 Recented from 3/8/96 London for the datable springs business wonlane with the presented.

A BETTER WAY TO SELL

Tell Serah Hamilton now on 0171 737 8400 for Visitor Information Pack & Ticket (price 510)

Are you an experienced manager with a background in marketing services to the corporate sector and looking for your own business?

To reserve your place at a seminar please contact Sam. Hougiston on 01920 486696/7

The British

Franchise

Exhibitions

ter the large large Victor Nove and the second section of the second

CORPORATE REMOVALS

For further in computer, in the O1734 864255

INVESTMENT confidential bank accounts & offshore companies Tel: 01672 564 448 Fax: 01672 563 578 CITION IN Hayfair Your own suits No. Private Hailbox + kay, Predicton address. Fax. No. Votornad, forwarding Ex. Kerogs Pricos. Clibox. 3 Laradowire Row. Berkeley Seasers. London WIX Bell. Tol. 0171, 493 4520 Fax 493 4935. PRINCIPAL Landers offer bridging and short large property loans. Any propositions considered, Q1805 676030 DESTS SOUGHT outright of world collect on a no - success no - fee basis (inhibition deb £7,500). 0171 468 0035

LOANS &

BUSINESS SERVICES 24 hour 'live' Telephone Answering. Divert your own phone whenever you choose, or a one of our direct lines and est be your office responding with your pumpanies name & greating

A GREAT PLACE TO SHOP

Franchising employs over 200,000 people in the UK.

Franchising turns over £5.5

Franchises are 5 times more likely to succeed than other new businesses.

Visit The British Franchise Exhibitions, the UK's leading quality franchise forum, meet the UK's leading Franchiscus and attend our free sentinar programme.

Exhibitors at one or more events include Esso Petroleum Co Ltd, Snappy Snaps, Select Appointments Pic, 1st Call Ltd, Card Connection Ltd, Domino's

Pizza, Drinkmaster Ltd. Ventrolla Limited, Floor Coverings International (UK) Ltd. Cash Converters, PDC investment levels range from $5,000 to £1 million and franchises are available supported by

Copyprint Ltd and many others.

MESSAGE DUS FRANCHISES ...

LTD, CD'S, E50 all Inc. VAT 199, only, £15. Tel: 0181 868 6785 Fax: 0181 569 8886 TD CO'S UK/othere .with bank A/C's, ready to trade 4 no Sabbines £495 - £995, Energize DI 51 929 9865. Franchise Opportunities Seminar We would like to hear from business people who are interested in participating in the growth of one of the UK's fastest growing franchise groups.

OFFSHORE BANES AND INSURANCE COMPANIES Formed from US $ 25,000. Authorized to trade wouldwid-techning U.K. with countries anonymity. Non-status credit cards, offshore companies & Call 0171 734 2738.

Micro 649 Only 299 and Aniocostic Telerocorter Mechines only 2129. Ministers Spy Cases of Judy 2249. For a FREE catalogue or further Information Tel: INCHES HINDSTRAIDA (SI: IREETWISE HINDVATIONS* (81542) 575842 NOW!

WANTED Warshouse / Light industrial use, 4,000 - 8,000 sq. it. Basildon / Grays / Thurrock. We are att and taser, not speculator. Prompt Casts settlement equinal instant decision. Tel 01923 825 661 fax 829 572 BUSINESS SERVICES

COMMERCIAL

SURVEILLANCE Distoyalty can have carastrophic advice and a comprehensive range of amazing electronic LORRAINE ELECTRONICS
7/6 Las Bridge Road, London BO 64W BEST INTERESTS

NEW FRANCHISE OPPORTUNITY Don't man this chance to work for yourself and profit from a m mediad and easy to test sorrice to the catering industry. The veried and wide strateger base will allow you to earn a gov legome, makely in costs, with very low overheads. nchine holocles our enique mochine with 6.8 training as demographs apport.

Exchange training are now models from the LLK and Erc. Contact Alan Mand-Perioty Ltd., Comedia Facut, Old Camedatain, Powys, SY15 SDC.
Tel: 01588 620122, 2008FR

Solicitors' client's identity privilege lost mercial Law Practice Before Lord Macfadyen Undernent January 311 Where a firm of solicitors wrote to a company to advise them that an anonymous client of theirs would disclose the name of a third party who had traudulently overcharged the company, in return for undertaking to pay him a proportion of any over-payment which they consequently succeeded in recovering the client's attempt to take advantage of the fraud of the third party deprived his solicitors of the right to withhold the client's dentity as a matter of privilege and the firm would be ordered to identify their client, in order that the company might, if so advised, bring further proceedings to require that client to identify the third party.

Lord Macfadyen sitting in the Outer House of the Court of Session, so held, in a petition brought by Conoco (UK) Ltd against a firm, the Commercial Law Practice, pronouncing 2n interlocutor ordaining the firm to disclose in writing to the petition-ers such information as they had as to the identity, including name and address, of the person on whose behalf the firm had written a letter to the petiooners, dated October 25, 1995, and who had disclosed to the firm the information contained in that letter. of Justice (Scorland) Act 1972

. "(IA) Without prejudice to the existing powers of the Court of Session and of the sheriff court those courts shall have power, subject to subsection (4) of this section, to order any person to disclose such information as he has as to the identity of any persons who appear to the court to be persons who: (a) might be witnesses in any existing civil proceedings before that court or in proceedings which are likely to be brought; or |b| might be defenders in any civil proceedings which appear to the court to be likely to be brought.

[4] Nothing in this section shall affect any rule of law or practice relating to the privilege of witnesses and havers, (or) confidentiality of communications..." Mr Colin Campbell, QC, for the etitioners; Mr William Galbraith, QC, for the respondents.

LORD MACFADYEN said that on October 25, 1995, the respondent firm of law agents had written to the financial director of the pe-titioners. The letter stated that the respondents acted for an unnamed client who had information that might be of interest. It narrated that the peritioners had contracted with an unnamed third party for the supply of goods and services but due to a clerical error had over-paid the third party. The third party was aware of the error, but had retained the over-payment in a suspense account.

The nature of the error was such that without specific information an audit was unlikely to discover it. The sum in question was over £1,000,000. The letter went on to say that the respondents' client would provide sufficient information to identify the error, in return for an under taking to pay him 20 per cent of such sums as the petitioners might recover from the third party. The petitioners responded by bringing a petition under section I of the 1972 Act, seeking an order requiring the respondents to dis-close the identity of their client. At the bearing to dispose of the petition Mr Galbraith argued that the petitioners were not enritled to information was privileged. The general rule was, he said, simple and well understood.

Except within the scope of a recognised exception, privilege applied mall facts, communicated between solicitor and client, including, since there was no Scottish authority to the contrary. the identity of the client. He submitted that the English cases of Bursill v Tanner ((1865) 16 OBD I). Ex parte Campbell. In retheart (0870) LR 5 Ch App 703). Parkhurst v Lowen (1818) 2 Sw 1941, Studdy v Sanders (1823) 2 D & R 347) and Pascall v Galinski (1970) 1 QB 38) afforded too narrow a base for general rule that there could never be confidentiality in the identity of a client. Mr Campbell maintained that the identity of the client was not confidential; and that in any event. privileged where the agent was directly concerned in carrying out an act of the client that was disreputable, dishonourable, iniquitous or in bad faith :see Begg. Law Agents (p320); McCowan v Wright ((1882) 15 D 229, 237); Bareloys Bank v Eustice (1955) t WLR 1238. 1250G]: Ventouris v Mountain [1991] I WLR 607; Gamlen Chemical Co (UK) Ltd v Rochem Ltd (unreported CA); Micosta SA v Shetland Isles Council 1983 SLT 483, 485) and Clark v HM Advocate (1965 SLT

(Notes) 51). In his Lordship's opinion the perition raised issues as to the scope of solicitor and client confidentiality which were, at least

It was unsound to argue that because the privilege belonged to the client, the solicitor could not claim privilege for any matter in respect of which the client himself would be obliged to answer. R v Peterborough Justices, Ex parte Hicks (1977) 1 WLR 1371) was distinguishable. A client was entitled to insist his solicitor to keep confidential a fact communicated by him to the solicitor, even in circumstances in which the client. if asked, would be obliged to disclose it. His Lordship was reluctant to adopt what he understood to be the English rule that the identity of the client was not confidential. It seemed quite possible to figure circumstances in which to demand of a solicitor an answer to the question "From whom did you obtain that information?" mig have precisely the same sort of impact on the administration of justice as it would to demand of What did your client tell you?"

It seemed artificial to distinguish the identity of the client from the subject-maner of the solicitor-client relationship. The information sought fell within the scope of the privilege, unless an exception applied.

The question therefore came to be whether the petitioners were correct in contending that the fraud exception applied. On the narrative set out in the letter, the third party had been involved in fraud in the broad sense, since he was said to have knowingly issued and in due course to have accepted payment.

The question was whether that fraud so tainted the client's pos-ition as to deprive him and the respondents of the plea of confidentiality. It was clear that the exception was not confined to cases of fraud stricto sensu; as Lord Justice Schiemann had pointed out in Barclays Bank, fraud in that context had long been given a broad meaning.

On the other hand "iniquity".

although no doubt used as a convenient shorthand by Lord Justice Bingham in Ventouris, was in his Lordship's view too vague a concept to afford much guidance. As Lord Justice Goff had said in Gomlen, dishonesty rather than something merely dishonourable was required.

The issue raised in the present case was one for which there was no direct precedent. His Lordship was wary of deciding the issue t way of an ad hoc exploration of public policy considerations.

public policy consideration which underlay the fraud exception might be capable of extension in which a client and his solicitor, not themselves guilty of fraud or involved in carrying out a fraudulent transaction, were involved in a transaction the purpose of which was to derive for the client benefit of his knowledge of a fraud committed by another party. At one level, he was proposing a simply commercial transaction. However, it was difficult to ignore the fact that the opportunity would not have presented itself to the committed by the payee. In this unusual situation, at the border the balance of completing public policy considerations favoured disclosure rather than confidentiality.

His Lordship was also satisfied that the reference in section I(IA) to "defenders" was broad enough to include the respondent to a further section I petition, such as the client His Lordship was satisfied that such a pediton was likely to be

The terms of section I(IA)(b) made it plain that the fact that disclosure of the identity of the defender in the proposed proceedings was the object of the present proceedings could not be sufficient foundation for a submission that the proposed proceedings were not likely to be brought.

Mr Galbraith had finally submitted that as a matter o discretion his Lordship should decline to grant the prayer. He submitted that the petitioners had an alternative remedy. They were simply being invited to negotiate a contract. He suggested that that was not the type of situation for which section I had been provided. He went so lar as to suggest that the petition was an abuse of section 1; the petitioners were seeking to get valuable information for

Mr Campbell's response was that if the petitioners were enough to invoke section I(IA), there was no question of their seeking valuable information for nothing. They were simply pursuing a statutory remedy which, if well founded, demonstrated that the client was mistaken in thinking that the information he held could be turned to his commercial advantage. His Lordship agreed that if. as he had held, the petitioners were well founded in their reliance on the statute, they were entitled to the information without paying for it.

Law agents: Bennett & Robertson: Alex Morrison & Cu. WS.

Long-time leader steers his side back into first place with several key transfers

James kicks out Keegan to make room at the top

obody said you got to the top in football management by being Kevin James, the man responsible for Kevins Kickers, clear-ly has the ruthless touch

After making much of the early running in Interactive Team Football (ITF), Kevins Kickers were headed for the lead by Gohils Gods 65, one of 80 plus teams entered by the two Gohil brothers, from London. James realised he needed to regain the impetus from somewhere, and prompt-ly axed both Kevin Keegan, the Newcastle United manag er, and Keegan's striking mainstay, Les Ferdinand. The ploy worked. Mr James reasoned: "Both players had been in my side throughout, but I reckoned that now was the time to make the change with Newcastle no longer in the FA Cup."

So Keegan and Ferdinand were sent packing, and re-placed by Dave Merrington. of Southampton, and Robbie Fowler, of Liverpool.

"Southampton have some important games coming up which I think they might come through well. And, most importantly, they are still in the FA Cup. I am not saying that the competition will be won and lost in the Cup, but it is just one of the very important elements that go into succeeding at ITF." Mr James has plenty of praise to offer for the way that ITF is scored and is a firm believer that it is a competition where skill plays at least as big a part as chance.

I must watch what I say but in ITF I am sure that you can think, plan and study your way to an improved position. That said, luck still plays its part such as when Dichio, of QPR, scored that deflected against Liverpool the

Thousands of people will have Liverpool defenders in them the points for a clean

Mr James recently ap-peared on Sky TV with fellow ITF managers, Raj Gohil and

Steves Llons 8

Saltzburg United

Bal's Team Who Needs Mark

Turners Earners

Jones Boys Four

The Likely Lads

The Young Guns

Francis Caldwell FC

No Fear Utd

Partick Thistie

Twighlight United Albemarie Town

The Wee One Too

Langton Longshots Barrzy's Babes

The Doug Hutches

Tonys All Stars

Goal Diggers

50 50

Nats Lions

The Good Bad & Ugly

Steve Lyons, He was impressed, in particular, with

"Raj Gohil struck me as a shrewd customer and a man who won't go down without a fight. I think if it comes down to the wire in the competition, I might ask Raj if he wants to split the prize and have done with it. There is nothing for second in this game." Mr

If your team could be doing better, with your players lacking form and fitness, you can move into the transfer market to improve your fortunes. ITF allows you to change up to two players each week. Which player you want to offload and who you replace him with is up to you, although you must with one from the same cate gory (ie, a full back with a full back) and keep within your E35 million budget.

The ITF transfer system also allows you to adjust your team if one of your players is actually transferred out of the FA Carling Premiership. He would then no longer be eligible for ITF and would have to be replaced. Any overseas or Endsleigh Insurance League players who move into the Premiership during the season will become available for transfer before the following week.

You can make transfers only by telephone. Using a Touchtone (DTMF) telephone (most push-button telephones with a * and a hash key are Touchtone), call the 0891 333 331 line during the times given. Calls will be charged at 39 pence per minute cheap rate, 49 pence per minute at other times. If you are calling from Ireland, you must call 004 499 020 0631 and you will be charged at 58 pence per minute at all times. When making a transfer, you must ensure that the team value still falls within your £35 million budget and does not contain more than two individuals (two players or one player and a manager) from the same club.

If you are lagging behind the leading team selectors, the transfer system will be an appealing option to you in the chase for the £50,000 prize or the monthly £500 prizes.

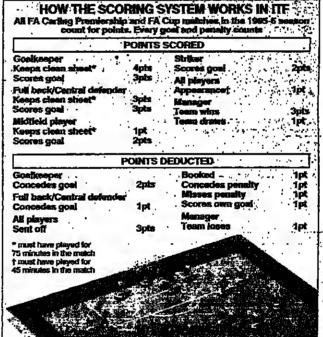

With ITF, not only are you pitting your selectorial skills against other readers of The Times, you are also matching your wits against those in the know. With the support of the Professional Footballers Association. Premiership players have entered sides of their own, and Alan Stubbs, of Bolton Wanderers, gives his selection on the opposite page Like him, you may spend £7.5 million on Dennis Bergkamp - but will he do better than

All matches in the Premiership and those in the FA Cup involving Premiership clubs count and your players and points. With Kevins Kickers making a bid for the winning line, is it time for you to delve into the transfer market?

□ All transfer queries regarding Interactive Team Football should be directed to 0171-757 7016. All other 01582 488 122.

Sheringham, of Tottenham Hotspur, left, has made defenders like Aston Villa's McGrath wince on his way to 63 points as an ITF striker

117 117

117 117

175 175 175

生物物物的

THE WEEK'S TRANSFERS IN ITF Code 50605 £6 5m There are no outgoing transfers to FTF this week

(K Booth) (Mr P Johnson (Mr J Donovan

(A Brown) (R Banham)

(J Buckle)

(K Booth)

(B Ghuman) (N Persich)

(P Turner)

(N Webb) (N Brewer)

(J Sanderson)

(Mr G Banks)

(N A Woodroffe (Mr J R Reader

(B Shepherd) (G Saunders)

(P Parke) (F Çaldwell)

(K Booth)

(C Nicol)

(A Brown) (P Dilworth

(I Hedges) (A Kent) (A Nelson) (C Stacey) (J Ward)

(T Burns) (M Podeur) (M Stacey) (W Doyle) (-----)

(Mr P McDowall)

(G Pedder)

(M Parish) (Kr Patel)

416 416 416

415 415 415

415 414 414

108 108 108

Nigels Right Foot

its A Muga Game Sky Blue Royles Firefly City Harrington Inter

The Entertainer

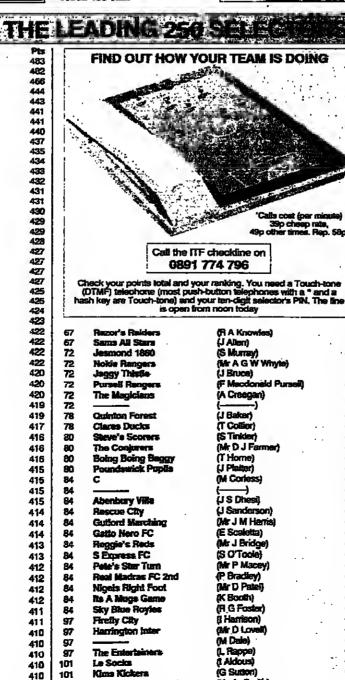

Borussia Dunc

The Phantons
The Mighty Dunston

Le Socia Kima Kickera

(Mrs E L Arro

(Mr P Johnson)

(K Booth) (Fi G Foster)

(i Hamison)

(M Dale) (L Rappe) (I Aldous) (G Sutton)

N Thompso

The state of the state of the state of			21.50
Xperts Utd -	(S Dodd) - 36	9 1 175	Norma
PMT Eindhoven	(Mr A Shelley) 38	9 183
Seacalgeo FC 4	(S Adams) 39		Robbo'
Well Safe	(A Costello) 39		Good T
Donnay's Dream	(H Matthews) -39		· Westah
Nippers	(K Hughes) 39		Blakes
Paron United	(Mr A Hewitt) : 39		. Oi Arm
Premier Alistans	(D Middleton) 39	- 1	The Cik
Tilehurst Tornados	(D Chembertaini) 39		Ramad
Keegans Crusaders	(S Annitage) 39		The Ge
Badsun F	(D Mulholland) 39		Recing
Royle's Rangers	(P M Evens) 39		. Wancai
Partick Thistie	(C Nicol) 39		Goone
Turners Earners 2	(P Turner) 39
Meids Sidli Monsters	(M Meldrum) 39		Demon
Sparky	(M Radcitio) 39		Waltace
Tyes Blue Noses	(Mr S Tyre) 39
Eggs N'hem	(Mr D Warner) 39	- 1	They're
Adams Man Or God 4	(R Plice)		Journe
Pig in A Poke	(Mr J Weters) 39		- Legion
The Dreem Team	(C Farrest) 39	100	Megs E
Kisspurs Two	(EJ Kisby) 39		11 100
	(P Hanna) 39	100	Black S
County Pine A	(J Hung 39	100
Long Drive	(I Parker) 39	200	Guilty C
Avenue Dunelmian Uni	(KD Balfour) 39		Skys II
Faye Wanderers	(Mr R Vaughan) 39		Mercury
Brille Boys	(C Timson) 39		View Fo
Seldom United	(Mr.T.Armitage) 39	245	Score A
The Minds Fibjad	(R J Danavell) 39	205	Phychic
Fraser Dribbiers	(G Glenshan) 39	200	Abreya
DM 001	(D McGragor) 39	200	Bohlner
Scol Utd	(B Scollick) 99	200	Preston
Doug's Desperados	(Mr D F Richardson) 39	205	" Risk Ye
Boogle Meisters	(B Robinson) 39	20	Jason I
Street FC	(S Bartlett) 39	200	Moneyt
QPR Auctioneers A	(S Kempher) 39	- 25	· · Boys D
Barrys Army	(J'P Berry) 39	1 2 5	The Sec
Vesuvio	(G Selchelor) 39		Donnas
110 Percent	1	1 270.	Mac Un
			KBTU
Merson The Person			Goodle
Meen Machine	the manufacture of the same of	1 210	Morch 5
Accrington Offic	from my bindred		Andys !
Kalsers Champions	(Mr K Chieholm) 39	200	Wylde (
Don't Make Me Laugh	(R Collett) 39		Taperes
Formby Flyers	(A Norton) 39	240	Splint U
Inter Adagio	(S Stade) 39	240	Death C
Milton Town	(Mr RW Fitsell) 39	970
Aston Thrillers	(N Petel) 39		Lemont
Mercer's Men	(D Bowsors) 39	219	Did h
Reseal 3	(D Shuter) 39	219	Glasso.
	(P Hutchingon) 39	219	Marts N
Only Can Saver	(M McKeown) 39	219	Excelle
Wimpe Utd	(A Heath)	 - 219 -	Switche
Royal Woolwich	(G Williams) 38	219	Points
Maxi Heros	(M Trouteeuci) 39		Bijou
J K's Dolphine			Mighty
Plafty Rovers	(UF Kitchen) 364 (Mr I Plats) 393		The Lea
The Lockstore	D Lock) 38		Max Uni
The Black Knights	(R A Green) 383		Map 9
Plikys Pirates	F		Al's Als
Low la Change	(R R Pilangton) 39

	100	A CAN DESTRU	244 ARS
9.			(T Sigsworth)	392
9.	183		(S House)	391
8 8	183 . 183	Robbo's Army Good Times United	(P Callaghan) (Mr T Stableton)	391
8	183	- Weetable Utd 3	(D-Smith)	i) 391 391
8.	183	Blakes Rovers	(E Blakemore)	391
8.	183	Oi Armstrong Yes	(C Hyde)	391
8	183	The Glory Boys Ramedeo Raiders 2	(N Venn) (Mr A Shah)	391
8	183	The Gentlemon	(D Grassick)	391
8	183	Racing Club Hengel	(G Williams)	391
8	193 193	Wannabee Stars Gooners Forever Toge	(A.P Harris)	390
7	193	Demon Stones FC	(Dei Lewis) (Procesuley)	390 396
7-	193	Dreem Team	(J Veliman)	. 390
7	193.	Wallace & Gronalt FC	(Mr S Hyams)	390
7	193	They're Here Journeymen	(Mr P Johnson) (A Jorden)	. 390
7	193	Legion Of Doom	(D Madden)
7	193	Megs Eleven	(T Becker)	,390
7	193	Black Swan Utd	(S Armitage)	2 790
5	193		(R Gummery) (Mrs S Carter)	390
6 8	205	Guilty O J	(I Aldous)	390
6	205 205	Skys The Limit	(B Cox)	389
8	205	View Forth	(Mr J Taylor)	389
6	205	Score A Bondle	· (S A Billingham)	389
	205	Phychic TV	(T Vardy)	389
5.	205	Always Hope Bohlom Forest	(Mr R Foster)	389
8	205	-Prestone Star 11	(SiBunn) (C-Clark)	389
5.	205	Risk Versus Reward	(N O'Hare)	389
5	205	Jeson Lee Rules	(T Ross)	389
-	205 205	Moneybegs United	(P Ethidge)	389
5	205	Boys Day Out Villa The Seckers	(S Sowden)	389
5.	219	Donnas Doughnots	(G Langley) (D Buri	399
5	219	Mac United :	(TMcClustory)	388
.	219	KBT Utd	(R Patterson)	388
	219	Goodles 3rds	(J'Goodman)	908
•-	219	Morch Pass Andys Elites	(Mr M Mc Gover	n) - 388
	219	Wylde Green Town	(A Poole)	388
ı	219	Tapcream	(M Riggins) (R Hetherington	388
	219 .	Splint Utd	(P Mason)	388 388
	219 219	Death Or Glory	(A T Davies)	` 390
	219	I Did it Semsway	Mr P Gregoriou). 388
	219	Glasso's Goers	(A Healy)	389
	219	Maris Mayericks	(J Glassbrook) (M Stade)
	219	Excelleiors	(N Excell)	389
•	219 219	Switcheroo	(A Richardson)	388 388
1	236	Points Make Prizes: Bijou	(Mr Dj Chopping	389
	236 :	Mighty Reds	(M Minasian)	387
	236	The Lest Laugh	(f Lewis)	397
М	236 -	Max United	(S Mazumder) (J McNamera)	387
!	236	Map 9	(M Priestiev)	387
: 1	236	Al's Alsorana FA Allsters United	(A Hencock)	387 387
;	236	Mole FC	(S Dosani)	38
: 1	236	Baze Bruiners	(Mrs Jad Jordan
۱.	236	Broom United	(Mr.B. Harwood) (A Steinicki)	387
;	236 236	Leitrim Celts	. (Mr MJ Hamilton	387
ł	236	Leitrin Cells: Jumel APC	(left 1&J Harmiter	9 - 387 9 - 387
۱.	236	The Lodge	. (G Ogun)	387
2 }	236	Danie A A	(S Pang) (D Strechan)	380
			- (- anscissio),	387
_

ARTS 36-38

Why Julian Spalding won't have dead sheep in his gallery

LAW 31,33

Scott: an unfair attack on a fair judge

SPORT 39-44

Capriati facing toughest return of her career

TELEVISION AND RADIO Pages 42,43

BUSINESS EDITOR Lindsay Cook

TUESDAY FEBRUARY 13 1996

Names ready to dismiss £2.8bn offer

By ROBERT MILLER

LLOYD'S names, whose assets have traditionally sup-ported the 300-year-old insurance market, are set to reject a £2.8 billion settlement offer to end years of litigation and cap the cost of members' liabilities. Failure to reach an agreement could force Lloyd's of London to stop writing new business.

David Rowland, chairman of Lloyd's, said that yesterday's proposals, contained in the Reconstruction and Renewal document, represented "the best and most pragmatic framework" for a final settlement for tens of thousands of names, who have suffered cumulative losses of nearly £12 hillion since 1987. The terms of the final offer will be made to 30,000 individuals, rather than collective action groups, by the end of May. Under the proposals Lloyd's said that £800 million of the total global offer would be used as a ht ation settlement This would include some £50 million that would be used to meet costs incurred by the action groups of names that have instigated legal proceedings against Lloyd's and indiidual syndicates. largest, tranche of up to £1.3 Some £2 billion of debt billion will cap the cost of vidual syndicates.

Tranche 1: Between £300 million and £500 million to relieve disproportionately high losses.

Tranche 2: £200 million to £300 million to reduce the cost of "finality" without disadvantaging those who have paid their debts to Lloyd's in full.

Tranche 3: £1.1 billion to £1.3 billion to cap the cost of "finality" at £100,000 ofter deduction target at Lloyd's and so assist names.

2100,000 after deducting funds at Lloyd's, and so assist names facing difficulty in achieving "finality".

Transhe 4: £100 million to £150 million to provide further assistance to those names otherwise unable to meet the cost of credits would also be allocated to names in four tranches, depending on individual circumstances. The debt credits are intended to reduce the cost to members of reinsuring their liabilities into a specially formed company, Equitas. Lloyd's said that each tranche of money is designed to address a specific objective, with the first tranche of between £300 million and £500 million being used to relieve disproportionately high losses. The second tranche of between £200 million and £300 million will reduce the cost of "finality" without unfairly disadvantaging those who have paid their debts to Lloyd's in full. The third, and

"finality" at £100,000 after deducting names funds already held by Lloyd's.
The fourth tranche of between £100 million and £150 million would provide further assistance to names otherwise unable to meet the cost of finality. Access to this tranche would be means-tested. John Mays, chairman of Merrett No. 2 group and a member of the Litigating Names' Committee, said the £2.8 billion offer was "not coough" and the £100,000 "5 nality" cap should be halved. Robert Miller of the Association of Lloyd's Members said additional funding for the settlement could be raised by doubling or trebling to £300 or £450 million the contribution from Lloyd's managing agents; who made £400 million to £600 million in commissions between 1993 and 1995. Christopher Stockwell, chairman of the Lloyd's Names Associations' Working Party, said: "The settlement proposals are based on expediency and not justice. They are not acceptable ... Thousands of ruined names know that the cause of their E12 billion 'losses' has been regulatory failure, incompetence, negli-gence, deliberate concealment and fraud." Alan Porter, chairman, of the Devonshire and Cuthbert Heath action groups of more than 2,300 lingating names, said the terms of the Lloyd's final offer "were not acceptable", and that the plans for means-testing are "impracti-cable and offensive".

Last night Lloyd's indicated that the terms might be further improved if the addition-

David Rowland promised final terms by end of May

Mediators aim to save vital talks on Eurotunnel

By Jonathan Prynn, transport correspondent

TWO French-appointed medi- March 1997, when it must ators have been sent in to revive the rescue talks between Eurotunnel and its bankers, which are close to breaking down over how much of its £8 billion debts should be written off.

Lord Wakeham, the chairman of the Press Complaints Commission, and Robert Badinter, a former French justice minister, were appointed by the Paris Tribunal de Commerce, after the compamy's French auditors warned in November that the company was close to technical

They will spend until the summer talking informally to the company, its bankers, shareholders and creditors about finding a possible solution to its financial problems. The procedure is used in France to protect employees when a company is in danger of collapse, but has never been tried before on a company of Eurotunnel's size. Sir Alastair Morton, the cochairman of Eurotunnel, yesterday welcomed the appointments, unanimously agreed by the Eurotunnel board.

He said Lord Wakeham "and his very distinguished French confrere will bring good sense to their 'good offices' mission between the company, the banks, the governments and the rest of our always stimulating situation." However, he insisted that the appointment of the mediators was "in no sense" the first stage of insolvency. He said: The intent is quite different to going under; the intent is an accommodation of what the bankers would like to have, what the shareholders want and what the company needs." The solution would be a structure that allowed the company to service its debts and gradually pay them off, while leaving sufficent cash flow to finance its future development and leave a reasonable prospect of a dividend payment to shareholders. This could take up to a decade, he

Eurotumel has suspended interest payments on its £8 billion of junior debt until er commodity prices feed

through into industry's prices warned.

TODAY

BUSINESS

company". Sir Alastair and Patrick Ponsolle, the French co-chairman, said they would refuse to agree to any proposed deal "in which the payment of interest and repayment of principal might absorb the company's whole cash flow to the end of the concession". The statement conceded that a debt for equity swap might be inevitable in return for later and lower remuneration and repayment of their loans" around £450 million.

Pennington, page 25

FT-SE 100 2.86%
Vield 3.86%
FT-SE A All share 1883.33 (+2.96)
Nikkel Closed New York: 5588.89 (+46.97)*
S&P Composite 660.35 (+3.93)* secure the agreement of hold-3-mth Interbenk ers of 65 per cent of its debt for an extension to the standstill. The interest is building up at about £700 million a year compared with forecast revenues for the current year of New York Sir Alastair admitted yesterday that failure to secure an extension of the standstill in the absence of a restructuring "could be fatal to the 555; DOLLAR Tokyo close Yen Closed HORTH SEA OF

Brent 15-day (Apr) $16.25 ($16.20)

GOLD.

Warner and MAI plan theme park to rival Disney

By ALEXANDRA FREAN AND ERIC REGULY

MAI, the television and financial services group that last week agreed to merge with United News & Media, is expected this morning to announce a £225 million joint investment with America's Warner Bros to build a theme park in southern England.

The park, which would include a film studio, multiplex cinemas, rides and restaurants, is to be built on a tract of vacant land in the west London borough of Hillingdon, just north of Heathrow airport. Planning consent has not yet been granted.

MAI and Warner would share the cost equally. MAI has considerable financial flexibility because its proposed mer-base rates. Andrew Cates, of UBS, said: The current sluggish state of the manufacturing economy and these weaker inflation figures are powerful weapons to a Chancellor who needs to lower base rates to aid his party's political fortunes." He said that any ger with United is through a share swap that offers no premium and adds no debt. Warner, owned by Time Warner of New York, one of the world's largest media and entertainment groups, has been trying for some time to enter the theme park market. which is dominated by the Walt Disney Company and the Universal Studios division of MCA, the Hollywood studio that is now part of Canada's Seagram. The Warner-MAI park would draw on Warner's rich movie heritage to create attractions. Warner's movies include Batman, Lethal Weapon, Beetlejuice, Casablanca and

The Maltese Falcon.

MAI and Time Warner already have a number of joint ventures, including Itel, an international TV and film distribution company based in London, and a production

☐ Mencury Asset Management, the fund manager that backed Granada's winning bid for Forte, sold more MAI shares yesterday. The move suggests that a rival bid for

MAI is unlikely. Mercury sold 870,000 MAI shares at prices ranging from 430p to 442p, reducing its holding to 19.7 million shares. or 5.98 per cent. On Friday, it sold 8.3 million MAI shares, a 2 per cent stake, for about £25

Analysts said Mercury known as an astute judge of the takeover game - would be unlikely to sell MAI shares if it sensed a counterbid. Carlton Communications, the largest ITV company, was considered the most likely bidder. Carlton would not comment.

chance of early Lloyd's review By ARTHUR LEATHLEY, POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

A WIDE-RANGING review should not look only at what

Nelson dismisses

of regulation of Lloyd's will be set up by ministers, but not before the next general elec-tion, MPs were told last night. Anthony Nelson, the Trade Minister, said that an early review of regulation could damage the prospects of suc-cess for Equitas, the reinsurance company being formed to meet Lloyd's liabilities.

Mr Nelson said it was unlikely that a full review of regulation at Lloyd's could be carried out before the summer of 1997. He told the Commons Treasury Select Committee: "We should look again at the overall structure when the horizon is clearer."

He conceded that the Government had taken too long in looking at regulation in the past and that ministers needed to be "nimble".

Heckled repeatedly by Lloyd's names attending the hearing. Mr Nelson said that it was important not to distract attention from setting up Equitas successfully. "If it were undertaken now, it would make the prospects of Equitas getting off the ground very much less," he said.

However, he dismissed suggestions of some MPs that the review was being delayed to avoid commoversy prior to a general election.

Mr Nelson added that there had been inadequate regulation and supervision of most areas of the financial sector. but he insisted that a review meet liabilities. Matthew Carrington, a had gone wrong in the past. Pressed repeatedly by Tory and Labour MPs over the supervision of Equitas, Mr Nelson said that the Department of Trade and Industry would check Lloyd's assessment of the amount needed to Tory MP on the committee, said that many of the names contributing to Equitas "have no confidence in Lloyd's".

al funding can be found". Hopes rise of rate cut as inflation eases

By JANET BUSE ECONOMICS CORRESPONDENT

INFLATION in industry has peaked and is now easing, providing a favourable back-ground for further cuts in interest rates to breathe new life into the recovery. Output prices - an indica-for closely watched by both the Treasury and the Bank of England - rose 0.4 per cent in January as manufacturers produced their New Year list prices. But this was a much smaller rise than in previous years and the annual rate of output price inflation fell sharply, to 3.8 per cent, from 4.4 per cent. This is the lowest level since March, 1995.

Excluding food, drink and tobacco, underlying output prices were unchanged in the month and the annual rate fell to 3.6 per cent, from 4.4 per cent. This was the lowest level since January last year. Input prices, the cost of raw fell 0.3 per cent in January. taking the annual rate down to 4 per cent, from 5.9 per cent in Date ber.

The effects of the commodity price shock which, coupled with sterling's weakness, sent sharply higher, is now over and should allay some of the fears of higher inflation at the Bank, which tomorrow publishes its latest Inflation Report. The Bank has repeatedly expressed concern about a chain reaction in which highand then into higher inflation on the high street. The City is forecasting further falls in output prices over the coming months and at least one more 4-point cut in

Sales continue recovery into January

HIGH STREET sales ap-peared to hold up well in January despite bad weather and humper spending on the National Lottery, according to a survey by the British Retail Consortium (BRC). which represents retailers.

The like for-like value of sales - which removes the effect of any expansion of retail floor space - was 4.1 per cent above January a year carlier.

This is similar to the yearon-year growth of 4.3 per cent in December and suggests that the recovery in sales seen late last year was sustained into the new year. In contrast, sales in January 1995 plunged sharply after a good

In the latest three months, the BRC Retail Sales Monitor, based oo returns from a sample of 75 leading retailers, showed average growth of 3.9 per cent, up from 3.3 per cent in the October to December period. Andrew Sentance, BRC's chief economic adviser, said: "Recent cuts in interest rates and the prospect of lower personal tax in the spring are helping to build consumer confidence and sustain a stronger trend in retail spending than we saw lingering Bank concerns on inflation that may be expressed in the Inflation Report were likely to fall on deaf ears. Figures for retail prices in January are due to be published on Thursday and are expected to show that both headline and underlying inflation have fallen below 3 per cent again. Many City economists believe rates will be cut

after the March monetary

John Buchan.

Gentleman author of the excellent The Thirty-Nine Steps.

Designed specially to heat election-based interest rate. wobbles our latest deal's a rattling read:

A variable mortgage rate discounted by $1 for 12 months

& Ability to switch free of charge to a 6-year fixed rate within one month of the election being called

3% of loan as eachback up to £9,000

Funded by a top 10 building society

* Available for purchases and remortgages up to 95% * No compulsory insurance, required: lender's fee (198 added to Kan

For a written quotation call the Precipions number or drop in at 10-12 Great Gueen Street, London Work 50D.

John Chamol.

Whereas it takes only a few simple steps to get an excellent mortgage deal from us. BUSINESS NEWS

UK workers 'top for EU purchasing power'

BRITISH employees' purchasing power is greater than workers in almost every other European country, the Government said yesterday as Lahour sharply attacked its claims for the UK's job perfor-mance against its principal ec-

Ministers denied that the Government's strong promo-rion of what it claimed were the job successes of its economic and labour market poliries were a pre-election move, though they accepted that there might well be a political spin-off from any improvement in individual or business confidence and any rise in the economic "feel-good" factor.

Gillian Shephard, the Educarion and Employment Secretary, launched a new drive to place Britain's employment record against other countries across Europe at the centre of the Government's emphasis on Britain's economic and compective performance.

Publishing what she described as a "blizzard" of statistics on the UK labour market's comparative performance, she claimed that the success of the UK economy and of the Government's policies would continue. In comparison with other Euro-

No bar on pension claims

BY ANNE ASHWORTH

THE life insurance arms of the high street banks have announced that they will not bar personal pension compensation claims that are outside the sixyear legal limit.

The banks involved are: Abbey National, Barclays. National Westminster and the Royal Bank of Scotland, the members of the British Bankers' Association (BBA) Bancassur-

ance group. It remains to be seen whether other life insurance groups also agree to consider claims arising from pension sales made more than six years ago. The Prudential last week revealed that it would not exclude claims outside the Tony Baker, deputy di-rector general of the Asso-ciation of British Insurers (ABI), said he had called on members to clarify their positions, asking them to reassure policyholders that claims would not be rime-barred. Many vic-rims of the £4 billion pensions scandal fear their claims will be rejected because of a time bar.

pean Union countries, she said, Britain had one of the Europe, one of the highest employment rates, fewer people on temporary contracts and companies "flocking" to do business in the UK.

Giving the statistics before tomorrow's monthly UK un-employment figures which ministers hope will show a further fall, she said: "These are important figures which show clearly what has been happening in the United Kingdom labour market."

Ministers acknowledged that most of the figures were familiar, including data show-ing the UK's unemployment rate at 8.6 per cent and its employment rate — the proportion of the working age population in work - at 68 per cent, compared with 8.6 and 65 per cent for Germany, 11.6 and 59 per cent for France, 12.6 and 51 per cent for Italy and 22.2 and 45 per cent for Spain.

As well as citing what they claimed were Britain's low addioonal non-wage labour costs of £18 for every £100 in wages, compared with £32 in Germany, £34 in Spain, £41 in France and £44 in Italy, min-isters suggested the real purchasing power of UK workers was as high as any in Europe. Michael Meacher, Shadow Employment Secretary, said: "In Iti years of Tory government. Britain's job creation re-cord has been feeble at best."

[] Employers are accelerating their drive for more flexible work patterns as they strive to become more competitive. says a survey in Personnel Today, the business magazine.

ASIL NADIR'S former adviser. Elizabeth Forsyth, goes on trial today at the Old Bailey, 17 months after she returned voluntarily to the UK from northern Cyprus to face ques-

oons by the Serious Fraud

Mrs Forsyth, 59, of Great

Dunmow, Essex, denies two charges of handling nearly £400,000 in cash and property allegedly stolen by Mr Nadir from Polly Peck International, the fruits to electronics group which collapsed in 1990. She was chairman of South Audley

Management, a management company that looked after the Nadir family's tax and proper-

Mrs Forsyth was in court yesterday as Mr Justice Tucker picked the jury from a panel of nearly 40 men and women. The judge told the prospective jurors: "There has been a great deal of publicity about ty affairs in the UK.

Office.

Jury selected for Forsyth trial

By Jon Ashworth

the case."

Polly Peck and Asil Nadir. 1

want to ensure as far as I can that Elizabeth Forsyth has a fair trial, so it is important that any one selected as a juror to try her case should not have any preconceived ideas about

A panel of eight women and four men was selected, but they were not sworn in.

Another 12 were also picked as reserves. The judge told all of them to consider their positions overnight, adding: "I don't want this to be a decision anyone feels they have been

The 12 jurors will be sworn in Ioday, when David Calvert-

Smith is expected to open the case for the prosecution. The trial will be held in the Old

Bailey annexe in Chancery

Lane, used for the trial of Kevin and lan Maxwell. The case is expected to last between four and six weeks.

Butte loses appeal in $1bn action

A US Federal Court of Appeal has thrown out Butte

Mining's appeal against a dismissal of its $1 billion fraud action against Robertson Group, a subsidiary of Simon Engineering. Since Butte filed its lawsuit in May

1992. Simon Engineering has argued that the claims, relating to Butte's 1987. Rotation and an acquisition the group made a year later. were "baseless and miscon-

By losing the appeal, Butte will be forced to liti-gate only in the UK, where it has launched a lawsuit against Robertson and two of its subsidiaries as well as

Ernst & Young, the auditor. Simon said the UK case is worth far less than the failed

$1 billion US claim. The complaint against Robertson originated more than three years before Simon bought the group in 199t.

Armour Trust surges to £1.3m

BY PHILIP PANGALOS

ORGANIC growth and acquisitions helped Armour Trust, the confectionery to automotive products group to buck the adverse effects of unseasonal weather with a 75 per cent surge in first-half

Strong trading from the fragrance division helped pretax profits to jump from £758,000 last time to £1.33 million in the six months to October 31, on turnover ahead tl per cent at £19.9 million.

The profits advance was exaggerated by an absence of reorganisation costs which depressed earnings by 220,000 in the comparative period. But an underlying 15 per cent profits rise was still achieved in spite of the unusu-ally hot summer, which hit sales of confectionery, and a warm autumn, which slowed ales of automotive winter products such as antifreeze.

Andrew Balcombe, chair man, is optimistic about prosman, is optimistic about pros-pects, especially after the recent cold spell and the introduction of a CD-Rom entitled The Driving Test— Your Licence to Drive. The CD-Rom, which sells for £29.99 at Halfords and is approved by the Department Transport and the Institute of Advanced Motorists, contains sample driving test ques-tions in advance of the new driving test to be introduced

Mr Balcombe said: "Turnover for the beginning of the second half until Christmas was good, due in part to the short burst of cold weather. Growth since the new year is enerally regaining momenturn and we plan further expansion. I believe the improved performance seen in the first half will continue through to the second half." The interim dividend rises to 0.46p (0.418p), payable on May 10, from earnings of 2.5p

US to clear bill at World Bank

BY JANET BUSH, ECONOMICS CORRESPONDENT

AMERICA, still embroiled in a fight over cutting the US budget deficit, yesterday pledged to pay all its arrears to the World Bank's concessional lending arm before July 1997, but will not take part in an emergency fund being set up for one year by other donor countries.

The International Development Association (IDA) is facing a crisis of funding because Congress has cut America's contribution by half. Donor countries are working to a June deadline to agree funds for the next three years of IDA lending to the world's poorest countries and have been in intensive negotiaoons about how to come up with the money without a contribution from America.

IDA deputies met in Paris yesterday and are close to setting up an emergency fund, of three billion Special Drawing Rights (SDRs), which will tide 1DA over for the first year of its next three-year programme. It is hoped that this will be finally agreed at a meeting in Tokyo on March 7 and 8.

Jan Piercy, US Executive Director to the World Bank, said yesterday that the US will not take part in the emergency fund, but will pay $934.5 million in arrears during the fiscal year 1997, starting on July 1. She also said that America is committed to returning to the usual framework of of loans - donors contribute every three years - but said that the US will not be able to agree to the amounts currendy projected by the World Bank. The Bank calculates the US contribution at $960 million in 1993 and $980 million in 1999.

Poor pay the price, page 27

Accounting bodies

THE proposed merger between the UK's two targest

CIMA. the management accounting body, had planned support among the English ICA membership have 140,000 members, and would have dominated the audit, tax and business streams of the accounting profession.

But it foundered on the views of the English ICA membership. Market research last year showed a 67 per cent majority of members in favour of the broad principles of the idea. but that figure has slumped to just 36 per cent following more detailed proposals.

Keith Woodley, English ICA president, said: "We will still look at ways of co-operating."

Kvaerner increases profit to £246m

KVAERNER, the industrial group that is based in Norway and has interests in the UK, increased profits to £246 million (£123 million). The shipbuilding to pulp and paper group, whose shares are listed in London, enjoyed a £57.4 million exceptional gain on the sale of its gas carrier business. Kvaerner owns the Govan shipyard on the Clyde, the UK's largest commercial shipbuilder, which made a positive contribution last year. The group, which failed to take over Amec this year, employs more than 3,000 in the UK. Kvaerner said the improvement was made despite weakness in the pulp and paper and mechanical engineering businesses.

Warren case postponed

THE courtroom clash between Frank Warren, the boxing promoter, and the DTI was postponed for a second time yesterday after the judge chosen to preside over the proceedings was taken ill. The High Court hearing is now expected to start next week. Mr Warren, 43, is resisting attempts by the DTI to have him banned from serving as a company director. He says the proceedings concern the affairs of various companies before 1991, and have no bearing on his present business interests.

MCI and AT&T talks

MCI Communications Corp and AT&T Corp, long-distance telephone rivals, are negotiating about sharing the costs of providing local telephone calling. The talks come just days after a new telecommunications reform Bill passed into law, freeing long-distance and local telephone companies in compete on each others' turf. AT&T and MCI declined to comment, MCI's MCI Metro subsidiary is spending $2 billion building local circults to reach mainly business customers in 24 cities.

BICC chief to retire

SIR Robin Biggam is to retire as chairman of BICC, the construction group, in June. He will be succeeded by Viscount Weir, a non-executive deputy chairman. Lord Weir is chairman of Weir Group and vice-chairman of St James Place Capital. He is a director of Canadian Pacific and was formerly a director of the Bank of England and British Steel. Sir Robin joined BICC as managing director in 1986, became chief executive in 1987 and chairman in 1992. He is chairman of Pairey Group and a nonexecutive director of British Aerospace and Redland.

Ernst & Young Asia link

ERNST & YOUNG, the professional services firm, has linked with Asia's biggest consultancy group with a view to boosting its consultancy portfolio. Tata Consultancy Services, based in Bombay, has worldwide revenues of $130 million, and a sizeable UK client base. Tata Sons, its parent company, employs more than 275,000 people. TCS alone employs more than 5,000 professionals in more than 100 cities, including London, Manchester, Birmingham, Edinburgh and Bristol, and up to 25 per cent of its revenue comes from the UK.

Consolidated Coal deal

CONSOLIDATED COAL, the small, independent mining company that was floated at 50p a share last August, is acquiring Glotec Mining, a private group that owns open-cast and underground mining sites in South Wales, for £2.6 is a non-executive director, is also looking to raise £1.6 million through a placing of 3.5 million new shares, at 53p a share, in order to develop the mines being acquired from Glotec. Consolidated Coal shares eased lp to 5lp.

Tax evader jailed

A DRESDNER BANK client in Germany was yesterday sentenced to 45 months in jail and ordered to pay a DMI-3 million fine, the first customer of the bank to be sentenced in a two-year inquiry into tax evasion. The Koblenz court ruled that the 55-year-old sausage skin dealer, who was not named, had evaded taxes through a Dresdner Luxembourg account. He had confessed and repaid more than DM10 million in back taxes. Two Dresdner Bank officials in Koblenz, alleged to have helped him. were released on bail last month.

BOC widens China link

BOC GROUP, the UK gases company, has established a 50-50 venture with Taiyuan Iron and Steel, its largest investment in China. The joint venture, to be managed by BOC, will take over Taiyuan Iron's industrial gases assets and production and will invest £18 million in new plant to expand the existing capacity. It will manage three existing air-separation units and a hydrogen production plant. The new air-separation unit will be capable of producing 750 tonnes a day of oxygen and will be built by BOC's global engineering arm.

British Coal sells land

BRITISH COAL has sold almost 800 acres of agricultural land in Northumberland, raising about £2.1 million. A package of 789 acres, offered last November, attracted average prices of £2.700 an acre. British Coal is to sell a further seven regional agricultural land packages. The first, likely to be about 5,000 acres in South Wales, will be offered next month. This will be followed by 7,000 acres in Ayrshire, Lanarkshire, East Lothian and Fife and packages in the East Midlands, Staffordshire, Lancashire and Yorkshire, plus 13,000 acres in the North East.

EU seeks inquiry

THE European Union is to ask the World Trade Organization to investigate the relationship between low wages and trade. But treading carefully weeks before an Asian-Europe summit, Sir Leon Brittan, Trade Commissioner, said the EU did not seek to impose a "social diktat" on lowwage trade partners. "We have no agenda for depriving lowwage countries of their legitimate economic advantage," he said. He denied reports that the EU was putting conditions on trade accords with nations in Asia and Latin America.

LEGAL & PUBLIC NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS IN THE MATTERS OF A PLAN OF ARRANGEMENT OF OLYMPIA & YORK DEVELOPMENTS LIMITED WITH HEAD OFFICES IN THE CITY OF TORONTO, PROVENCE OF ONTARIO -andIN THE MATTER OF A PROPOSED ARRANGEMENT INVOLVING

GW UTILITIES LIMITED AND ITS SHAREHOLDERS PURSUANT to the Order of Mr. Justice Winkler made on January 31, 1996 in the Ontario Court (General Division), any party purporting 10 be entitled to make a claim against GW Utilities Limited and/or its subsidiaries (GW Utilities Subco Inc. formerly 755992 Ontario Inc.) GW Utilities (U.K.) 972768 Ontario Inc. and 982055 Ontario inc.) for liabilities (actual, coolingent, secured, unsecured or otherwise) of GW Utilities Limited and its subsidiaries, existing immediately prior to the amalgamation of GW Utilities Limited and Olympia & York Development Limited, which was implemented on March 30, 1993, must do so by making such claim in writing directed to Coopers & Lybrand OYDL, Inc. the Administrator of Olympia & York Developments Limited at the following address:

Coopers & Lybrand OYDL Inc.
Administrator of Olympia & York Developments Limited 145 King Street West
Toronto, ON M5H IVE
CANADA Attentioo: Ms Roxanne Anderson

No claim may be made against GW Utilities and/or its subsidiaries unless it is received in writing by the Administrator on or before March 8, 1996

Barristers and Solicitors Stotia Plaza
40 King Street West
Toronto ON M4H 3V4
CANADA

Coopers & Lybrand OYDL Inc.

LEGAL, PUBLIC, COMPANY & PARLIAMENTARY NOTICES TO PLACE NOTICES FOR THIS SECTION FLEASE TELEPHONE 0171-782 7344 OR FAX: 0171-782 7827 0171-782 7344

TRUSTEE ACTS LEGAL NOTICES

The December 2 1986
The December 2 1986
Ander Emiles
N LIQUIDATION
TAKE NOTICE THAT I, As
John Hamilton South of the LEGAL NOTICES TARE NOTICE THAT I Magel lotte Hamilton Service of Mortage Hamilton Service of Mortage Hamilton Service of Mortage 47 Hollweit HEL ST Albams, Herts 41: 1543 was appeared Linguistics of a meet log of the company's creditors test on 2rd Fromany's creditors test on 2rd Fromany 1996 Dated 2006 Marmittonium in Linguistics

THE INSOLVENCY ACT 1986 warwick Dever Wanners Lie 1 Trading Name Dismond Service AUTICE IS HERZEY GIVEN PUrsuant to Section 98 of the Imply and the Imply and the Imply and the Imply and the CREDITURS of the above Support Company will

shelve merger plans BY ROBERT BRUCE accounting bodies has been abandoned. The English tCA and to out detailed merger proposals to its members in June, but signs of sharply declining scuppered the plans.

The merger would have created the UK's biggest accouning body, with some Greenspan likely to stay

ALAN GREENSPAN, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, the US central bank, is expected in the next few days to be nominated for a third term as the world's most powerful financier. Mr Greenspan, who has won praise from all quarters for his handling of the US economy over the past eight years, has few serious rivals for the post. Even though he is a Republican, he is likely to be have the backing of President Clinton, a Democrat. He can also rely on the Republican majority in Congress to ratify his appointment. His current

FROM RICHARD THOMSON IN NEW YORK term as head of the central bank ends on March 2. As the man in charge of short-term interest-rate policy in the US, he has waged a relentless fight against inflation which has sometimes put him in conflict with the Govemment when he was obliged to raise interest rates. However, Mr Greenspan is an astute political operator able to look after his own interests.

He was once Richard Nixon's domestic policy adviser in the 1960s, and was appointed to the Fed by Ronald Regan in 1987. He made his peace with the Democrats after Bill Clinton's election, but has recently moved to the right, apparently to please the Republicans in

Although he studied at the prestigious Julliard School of Music and once played saxophone in a swing band, Mr Greenspan turned to economies shortly after graduating. He has become a millionaire from his business consultancy. practice in New York President Clinton is also likely to nominate Felix Rohatyn, the veteran financier and director of Lazard Frenes. the investment bank, as the Fed's deputy chairman:

magers by busines

- to # the first

ي المنسبة الداء

1. 1. 1. 4. 7

The second secon

1000

المرجعة والمرج المناء الما

ing A

SIR Alastair Morton could not have been more vehement yes-terday in insisting that the appointment of mediators to sort out the company's financial problems was a harmless French idea to use distinguished peopie's good offices rather than the first step on the shuttle to insolvency. Others may be forgiven if they do not share his insoucience. Under French law, a company's auditors are obliged to report to the President of the Tribunal de Commerce in Paris if they fear imminent bank-ruptcy. The President sends in mediators to try and sort out a rescue deal and give the company some breathing space from

If this is not quite Chapitre Onze, it is something perilously close to it. The two mediators announced yesterday are undoubted heavyweights who share the advantage of having no direct personal involvement in the Eurotunnel farrago, al-though Lord Wakeham was a member of the Cabinet that gave its blessing to a 100 per cent privately finance Channel Tun-nel in the mid-1990.

nel in the mid-1980s. The mediators' task is to persuade 225 banks not only to keep Eurotunnel affoat but allow it enough buoyancy to leave open the prospect that shareholders might still receive some dividend

Chapter ten and a half at Eurotunnel

finally runs out. This is a tall order that will stretch even Lord Wakeham's legendary skills at political infighting and establish-ment manipulation. But poli-ticians are certainly the right people for the job and Robert Badinter, Wakeham's French confrere, may be the key figure in using continental culture to resolve what raw Anglo-Saxon business methods cannot.

If Eurotunnel survives, it will do so ultimately because the French Establishment does not want 620,000 citizen shareholders to be left with nothing. This would hardly aid the cause of privatisation in France, which has aiready got off to a shaky

Disgruntled Frenchmen have a tendency to cause trouble, for instance by refusing any scheme drawn up by banks.

The smaller number of UK shareholders, again overwhelm-ingly private investors, are probabaly more realistic. Most may now reckon their travel concessions are the only thing worth preserving. In many cases they will be worth more than the shares, which do not reflect the value of untransferable perks. For these to be preserved, it is only necessary that the company does not go into liquidation and the shares continue to exist. The board must therefore make sure they are not bargained away.

Were it oot for the political dimension, banks might well do a Canary Wharf, foreclosing in order to take control of the equity. It is still possible that two thirds of more than 200 of them will be toolish enough to vote in March against continuing the current moratorium on junior debt service for another year. Avoiding that is the mediators first objective.

Britain for sale, all bidders welcome

☐ WHAT is the point, belea-guered company boards might reasonably ask? According to Scottish Amicable Investment Managers, who also manage £2 billion of other people's money, takeover bids should normally be accepted and it would be great for shareholders if there were more of them. Analysis of 15

PENNINGTON

off bids in recent years, rather than surviving by grace of the competition authorities, shows that most went on to underperform the stock market

The Glasgow manager con-cludes: "History suggests that shareholders are better to accept the offer on the table and reinvest the proceeds in the stock market". In case potential bidders have not received the invitation, Scot-tish Amicable spells it out loud and clear. Time is ripe for success in gaining control of underperforming assets. Institutional shareholders are becoming increasingly reluctant to back incumbent management as they are being forced to deliver short-term investment perfor-mance for our clients". Competition invites fund managers to take any bid premium going, often by selling in the market, regardless of the long-term consequences. So make that bid

Bigger fish than Scottish Ami-cable adopt this strategy, though they are more coy about it. It is not surprising that escapees-underperformed the market by an average 12 per cent in the first

The bid brings forward poten-tial share price growth. Far more telling is that 10 out of 13 were underperforming after three years. As Douglas Ferrans of Scottish Amicable notes, aggressors usually have the upper hand. The defender has to make some pretty bold promises and often fails to deliver".

There are big exceptions, such as Racal and Dixons, whose independence rewarded investors. And if fund managers unthinkingly backed bidders, bid terms would soon slide lower. So a tactical veil will cloak fund managers' eagerness. But anyone framing public policy on takeovers should realise that a simplistic principle that all premiums should be cashed to boost. short-term performance is all that can be expected from institu-tional shareholders.

Lloyd's line of least resistance

☐THE "final" offer to disgrunfled Lloyd's names may be no more final than the last time. But some modified version of the detailed plan unveiled yesterday seems likely to pass muster in the summer, despite the chorus of disapproval that immediately peppered it. That may not be because it is a great plan. It is because it is a great plan. It is clearly flawed. But Lloyd's David Rowland has one powerful force going for him. Most people concerned have grown so battle weary that they want the issue to be over and done with.

At least this Lloyd's settlement plan would achieve that. It can terminate the misery of any name. All liabilities for the past can be quantified and dealt with, and names can finally end their sentence in the insurance mar-ket. Just as important, those liabilities to be reinsured with Equitas will be capped. On the basis of £2.8 billion kitty, the cap is £100,000 of new money.

Otherwise, 9,000 names might have to pay more and 2,000 might be down for £400,000. Capping will take about £1.2 billion, against £800 million reserved for litigants. It will also benefit from extra money from auditors, brokers and managing agents that will be needed if thousands of successful or optimistic litigants are to back

When the latter groups do their soms, they may find that many names do not care if the plan lapses, Lloyd's fails its names solvency test and has to shut up shop. Extra should be forthcoming. Then, more will surely be reserved for litigants before the rest helps lower the liability cap.

If such changes are made, the unavoidable injustices of such a scheme should not stop it. The arrogance of Lloyd's still might. The Council of Lloyd's would still wield its long-discredited dis-cretion to deny access to one or more of the funds to professionals nominally responsible to the disciplinary board, as well as shirty outside names. Still no point being a name if your face does not fit.

Managers buy £200m British Alcan businesses

A MANAGEMENT team has triumphed in the race to acquire the downstream interests of British Alcan for £200

British Aluminium, a newly formed company backed by institutional investors, is acquiring 12 businesses from Alcan, boasting annual sales in excess of £500 million and profits of more than £25 million. The company will be based in Manchester and will employ about 4,200 people.

The businesses being acquired include Baco Consum-

THE European Court of Human Rights is to examine an appeal by Ernest Saunders, former chief executive of Guinness, that he was denied a fair hearing in his trial on fraud charges.

The hearing takes place on February 19. In May 1987, Saunders was charged with false accounting, theft and the destruction of documents.

The charges related to the 1986 takeover of Distillers by

Guinness. The Serious

Fraud Office accused

Guinness of artificially inflating its share price during the takeover battle. In August 1990, Saunders was convicted and sentenced to five years in jail. Three prominent businessmen

were also convicted - Gerald Ronson, chairman of Heron International, which took part in the share-buying operation: Anthony Parnes,

a trader; and Sir Jack Lyons, er Products, manufacturer of Bacofoil household foil. clingfilm and wrapping products, with operations in Amersham and Huddersfield. It also owns Luxder Gas Cylinders, the manufacturer of high-pressure gas cylinders, with UK operations in Nottingham and Aldridge, Staf-fordshire, and in the US in California and North Carolianother subsidiary, is the largest aluminium distributor in

A total of £265 million has who acted as a management consultant to Guinness.

They have always maintained the share operations were common practice and therefore could not be classi-

In May 1991, the Court of Appeal upheld the judgment against Saunders on all but one count but cut his jail term to two and a half years.

the use of the incriminating statements - he was required by law to answer DTI questions or face jail for contempt - breached an article of the European Convention on Human Rights relating to a fair trial.

fied as a crime.

Saunders appeal

to human rights

FROM A CORRESPONDENT IN STRASBOURG

been raised for the transaction, allowing scope for new investment and growth. Institutional investors in British Aluminium include Mercury Development Capital, CVC Capital Partners and Morgan Grenfell Development Capital.

The management team will also have a stake in the The chairman of British Aluminium will be Jeff Whalley, the chairman of FKI, who will work on a part-time basis with lan MacKinnon, chief executive, and Brian Purves, financial director. Mr McKinnon was formerly a member of British Alcan's management team from 1991, when he was recruited to manage the speciality and acrospace division. He left during 1994 to assemble the management buyout. He is a former managing director of Leyland Bus.

Mr Purves is currently a member of the Rover Group executive committee and has held senior finance positions at Land Rover, at Rover's commercial division and at

Rover Group headquarters. At FKI, Mr Whalley has presided over the company's increase in value from £250 million to £950 million since the demerger of FKI Babcock

The conviction was upheld again last November when The businesses are being acquired from Alcan Aluminium, the Canadian the Court of Appeal was asked to reconsider the case in the light of new evidence. parent of British Alcan. British Alcan will continue to be Saunders' new appeal centhe UK's largest producer of tres on the use at this trial of primary aluminium, rolled statements he made to Department of Trade and Inaluminium products and aludustry inspectors. He claims mina chemicals.

Its activities will comprise Alcan Smelting & Power UK. based in Newcastle, which operates primary aluminium smelters with a combined capacity of 179,000 tonnes a year; Alcan Rolled Products UK: Alcan Recycling and Alcan Chemicals Europe.

Building up hopes: Andrew MacKenzie, left, chief executive of Bryant, with Sir Colin Hope, chairman, yesterday

Farnell bid for Premier in balance

THE fate of Farnell's £L8 billion bid for Premier was balanced on a knife edge last night as the leading institutional shareholders finalised their positions for today's vote (Alasdair Murray writes).

Attention centred on the voting intentioo of the Pru-dential fund managment division, which controls 6 per cent of the voting rights. Prudential was believed to be concerned about the cost of the deal but last night refused to comment on which way the company would vote at today's extraordinary meeting. Prudential's position is crucial because Farnell needs 75 per cent of the vote to proceed with the takeover. Farnell claims the support of about 24 per cent of shareholders. Famell's share price fell 10p to 639p.

Time-Turner deal and top job in jeopardy

FROM RICHARD THOMSON IN NEW YORK

THE $7.5 billion takeover deal between Time Warner and Ted Turner's cable television network could be in jeopardy and the future of Gerald Levin, Time's chairman, has been thrown into doubt. The deal faces strong oppo sition from the powerful Federal Trade Commission (FTC). whose approval is needed for the takeover to go ahead. The FTC believes the deal has "manifold problems" which could prove too complex to iron out. If the deal went through it would create the world's largest entertainment group, worth $20 billion.

Meanwhile, a devastating 15-page article in New Yorker magazine. written by Connie Bruck, who is an authority on Time Warner, details a series of blunders by Gerald Levin in negotiating the deal which substantially raised its cost to Time's shareholders. For example, it is alleged, he failed to notify Telecommunications Inc. Time's largest shareholder, before announcing the takeover, allowing TCI to demand cheap access to the Turner network, and a series of other "sweetheart" deals as the price for not blocking the News of the deal sparked intense boardroom in-fighting that could have spelled disaster for Levin if the cochairmen of Warner Bros, Bob Daly and Terry Semel, had carried out a threat to resign. Levin bought them off with extra compensation of $150 million and sacked Michael

Musica and their arch-rival, who is likely to get a pay-off of about $70 million.

Outmanoeuvred at every turn, with feuding executives increasingly unhappy shareholders, and a growing reputation for profligacy, Mr Levin's "eventual forced exit seems likely, the article says. speculation that Mr Levin's departure is inevitable whether or not the Turner deal goes through. Many observers believe Mr Turner, who is to become Time's deputy chairman, will oust Mr Levin at the earliest opportunity if his company is taken over. But if the deal collapses, Mr Levin is likely to be ejected by his shareholders.

Profits at Bryant halved but prospects promising

BY ALASDAIR MURRAY

BRYANT, the housebuilder, revealed yesterday that half-year profits had halved to EIO.1 million as the industry continues to suffer from poor

Shares fell a further 1.5p to 104.5p, but later recovered to close unchanged at 106p. Sir Colin Hope, the chair mism for the rest of the year. "The prospects for the hous-ing market in 1996 are showing signs of gradual improvement as purchaser confidence responds to reductions in personal taxation and interest rates."

Overall turnover fell 5 per cent to £232 million for the six months to November 30. The homes division experienced a fall in reservations of 20 per cent and completions dropped said that all the homes divisions, apart from County profit while the construction division maintained profits at

El.1 million. The company increased the average house selling price to £114,000, from £106,000 last year, largely owing to a concentration on more expensive sales. But operating margins fell by 6 per cent as build costs land bank was reduced from 9,700 to 9,000 plots. The company added that it was now concentrating on negoti-ating options to purchase

Bryant revealed that it had made a £500,000 provision to cover 80 redundancies announced last autumn, and had negotiated a number of reductions in build costs, which combined with a decrease in overheads would enable the company to boost operating margins.

The dividend was maintained at 1.45p payable on

Tempus, page 26

STRETCHED.

1 8 5 1 In the air, a First Class sleeper scat in First Class space, giving you 15 extra inches of legroom. On the ground, a limousine to take you to the airport and another to meer your plane on arrival. All for a Business Class fare. Continental's BusinessFirst non-stop daily from London Gatwick and Manchester to New York or Gatwick to Housroo - and on to over 115 U.S. cities. See your travel agent or call Continental on 0800 747800.

Continental Airlines

sensers who originate travel and purchase tickets in the U.K., Ireland, Isle of Man, Jersey & Guernstey, up to a 50 mile radius of Lundon Catwick and Manchester and 40 miles of other principal airports, as well as all major U.S. destinations served by Cong

Wall Street helps to show London the way forward slowdown in factory gate prices and another firm start to trading on Wall Street enabled share prices in London to shake off some of their recent lethargy.

The FT-SE t00 index suffered an early fall of almost 20 points, reflecting the remnants of a sizeable sell programme. believed to have been carried out late on Friday by BZW and overnight weakness on world bond markets. But the drop in factory gate prices and an opening leap of almost 50 points in the Dow Jones average on Wall Street saw it claw its way back to end the session 10.3 points up at 3.726.6. Trading conditions were described as thin with just 648 million shares changing hands by the close. The market took the fallout from Friday's Isle of Dogs bomb outrage in its stride, although a few companies were undermined by events, The political consequences of the subsequent breakdown of the ceasefire left Northern Ireland Electricity nursing a fall of 16p at 410p. But there were other factors at play: NIE also had to contend with the shares going ex the 5p divi-dend. Charterhouse Tilney. the Liverpool broker, also changed its recommendation on the shares from a "buy" to a

Other companies to be hit included hoteliers, with Granada down 12p at 712p, and Greenalls 3p at 574p. MAI fell 10p to 425p, with still no sign of the suggested bid from Carlton Communications, 2p firmer at £10.36. News of last week's proposed merger between MAI and United News and Media has been attracting growing opposition from fund managers. At least one is said to be urging Carlion to step in and make an offer for MAI.

Mercury Asset Manage ment yesterday sold a total of ing from 430p to 442p. Last Friday, it unloaded a further 8.3 million shares. It now accounts for 5.98 per cent of MAI. United News, publisher of the Doily Express, finished Ilp lower at 634p.

Blue Circle Industries was a firm market, climbing 13p to plans for the group to build a new town at Ebbsfleet in north Kent, which lies close to the passenger station proposed for the high-speed Channel

Spurs shares rose llp on better sponsorship prospects tunnel rail link. Argyll, the Safeway supermarket chain, firmed 3p to 320p ahead of today's trading statement, which is expected to make positive reading for 644p ahead of figures. Revenue growth is expected to show signs of decline, but brokers are hoping that the re-tax profits more than halve to £10.1 million. Sir Colin Hope, chairman, blamed the setback on a distinct lack of purchaser confidence. He was more optimistic about prospects than he has been for some time.

Manchester United continued to draw strength from the news of last week's £40 million sponsorship deal with Umbro, the sportswear supplier, with the shares rising 5p to 234p. It dwarfs a previous £23 million contract clinched by Liverpool with Reebok, another sports-wear supplier, and focused attention on Tottenham Hotspur, the Premier League side. Shares of the north

London dub surged lip to

269p, with Vinay Bedi at Wise

Speke, the Newcastle broker,

Rank Organisation finished 8p up at 473p excited by talk of a possible link-up with Time Warner, the US media and leisure group. Its Warner Bros subsidiary will today announce a E225 million investment in the Britisb leisure and entertainment sector linking up with a leading British media and leisure company.

company will announce proposals to buy back its own shares using some of the E800 million cash it is currently British Aerospace dropped 16p to 828p on talk that at least one broker was recommending clients to switch into Rolls-Royce, up op at 212p.

Bryant Group, housebuilder, closed the un-

NORTHERN IR ELECTRICS POLITICAL WO	TY:	M	h.	46
DULL PRIC		/y	· M	- 144
FT-SE all-share			~~ J.	42
price Index	تراسي	A.M.		40
(rebesed)			1.	- 38
	$\mathbf{v}_{\mathbf{v}}$		hare price	- 36
A		L	N 100 7 22 750	1 -
The same of the sa	erita sud erese]].,÷		34
a W	art Dr. G.	40 7	- (N. 1. c)	- 32
8 July 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19	الوزياء المجاهجين	7 . 7 %	8 10 45 21

	A - 1 - 1	COMMODITIES
LONDON		ICIS-LOR (London 6.00pm)	GNI LONDON GRAIN FUTURES
COMMUNITY EX	CHANGE	CRUDE OILS 6/barrel FOR	WHEAT BARLEY
COCOA		Brent Physical 17 to -0.10	(close E/f) (close E/f)
tar 905-404 May	-mar (017-1016)	Brent 15 day (Mar)	Mar 11930 Mar
	mid	Brent 15 day (Apr) 16.25 n/c	May 121.40 May 112.0
	·	W Texas Intermediate Man 17 90 -0 10	Jul 123-50 Sep 197-
		"A Texas Intermediate IApril 17 40 -0.05	Sep 11 35 Nov 1092 Nov 113 05 Lan 1113
Dec 498-187 Mar 1006-1405	Volume, 2531	PRODUCTS 6/MD	Volume: 211 Volume:
		Spot CIF NW Europe (prompt delivery)	Tolshe, Sir i voisile
ROBUSTA COFF		Premium Gas 15 B: 170 third O: 172 (n/c)	POTATO IE/6 Open Clave
Mar 2/o2-2/nu Non		Gawil EEC 1821-31 1951-11	Mar ursq 2000
MEY 1944-1942 Jan 21 1957-1855 Mar	1830-1470	Non EEC IH Feb 169 1-101 171 1-131	Apr 1920 1833
(2) (954-195) (CD (954-195)	Volume 5349	Non EEU IH Mar 164 ;-5) 165 1-60	May 2ng 20%
•		3.5 Fuel Oil 91 1-34 93 1-31	Volume 57
WINTE SLGAR		Nuphtha	RUBBER ING 1 RSS Cif b/M
Renters Oct inot: 300 Dec	316 C. (5.5	IPE FUTURES (GNI LM)	Mar 104 75-105-25
Mar 2-91.5-95.5 Mar		GASOLL	,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,
May 367 046 0 May	349 349 5	Mar 160 (10-60 25 Jun 146.50-4u.75	BIFFEX (GNI Ltd $10/60
Nug 346.5-45.5	Volume: 2977	Anr 152.50-52.75 Jul 146.00-16.50	fligh Low Cla
		May 149.50-49.75 Vol. 21176	MAT 96 1470 1445 14
			Apr 46 1460 147) 14,
MEAT & LIVES		BRENT (6.00pm)	Jul 96 1325 1325 133
COMMISSIO		Mar 1679-1682 Jun 15.74-15.81	Oct 96 1350 1350 175
Average lassifick proces at		Apr [6.24-16.26 /u] 15.72-15.74 Man 15.92-15.92 Vol. 38500	Vol: 72 lots Open Interest: 45, Index 1449 -4
markets on February and February	Sheep Cattle	Man 15 02-15 04 Val. 34500	luger : 444 -4
pragrat 117.14	134.70 119.50
191-1 11.52	13.74 11.47	(Official) (Valume prev day) LONDON	METAL ENCHANGE Redolf Wel
me/Wales 117,14	134.73 119.79	Compet Gde A ($/fontre) Carde 2553 0-
197-1 111.52	•3.15 •1.13	Lead ($76 mine) 751 00-
	-130 -119	Zin: Spec Hi Gde (Stimmer) 1053.0- Tin (Stimmer) 225.0-iconland unq	13449 119.41 +5.73 +3.20	Tin 15/10gger
14	-170

	Tin 15/100mer
.Scotland: unq 13449 119441	Tin 15/10gmer
	Nickel 15 rogger
1412-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4-1-4	Alexandra Addition of the same and the same and	200 00000000000000000000000000000000000
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	LIFFE OPTIONS

Calls Parts	Calls Puts	Calls Pots
Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct	Series Apr Jul Det Apr Jul Oct	Series Mar Jun Sep Mar Jun Sep
Alld Door 500 35 42 50'. Ti, 16' 14'	BAA 400 (35. 44) 51° 4 105 13
PSZ251 550 IC 175, 27 325, 441 447	[1490] 500 [1 2] 20 19, 27; 30; Thomas W 500 50; 57; 50; 2; 11 10;	reserve engl 7: 10 31 38', 46 53 amstred - 20 14 22 29'; 8 14 16
Argyli WC 25% 32", 25" 4 17", 14	[12 20 4 2 2 2 1 1 2 1 2 2 2 1 1 2 2 2 2 1 1 2
130 10 IN 201 IS 27 20	PS44 550 [5 25 20 17 Mr. 97
ASDA 140 4 12 14 7 5 6	Series Feb May Age Feb May Age
miles 110 4 7 9 7, 45 H	BAT Ind _ 950 21' 32 41' 2 19 29	1
Enote 550 Set 64" 70 25 95 17.	PSON 100 110 210 310 51 55
(*544) 600 27, 31 34 15 25 3V.	BTR AD 25, 27 40 D 5	1 17793) 360 11 19 25 11 24: 28 8 11 12 17 17 18 19 19: 18:
8r Airways 900 Z2', 30' 41', 12' Z3 Z7	1925 330 1. 4 12° 6 13' 21
$500 $10 $25 $6 $7 $50	BriAero Nau 32 57 74 3 240 75.	PCAP1 2nd N 96 37 30', 12 Distance
97 500 47 Se 60° 2° 4° 11°	1929 450 5 37, 53 26, 57 60°.
r$44°a 530 14 25°, 32 20 26 31°,	20 Telum 200 A 201 ET. C. A 161
Str Steel 160 14' 14' 20' 3 % 10	15,05°3 390 0 7 13° 24° 27 35
(P) 100 4 W. 11 125 (W) 215	Caddings . 800 25 % 47 1 147 197.
C & W 420 497 54 12 45 12" 15	175294 550 1 12 245 245 437 47
[467] 466 21 31 37, 18 28 31	Guinness 420 34, 40 45; C 4, 11	(*) 4 120 41 11 12 11 12 12 13 12 13 13
CJ NOU 25 34 FG 25. 29. 37	19450 440 3 (4 22') 8' 24' 34
[5][94 - 650 6 [A], 전 및 및 47.	GEC 30 4 19 245 5 170 21
ICT 9700 35% 52 61° 21° 29% 40%	1 mag 1 391 ov 10, 12 30, 12 3m	London 200 No 157 177 51 10. 12 (201) 20 17 H. 14 29 22 23
MQ51 550 11 201 34 51 57 421	Hanson 150 6, () 14 1 70 10.	C2017
Ringflahr . 500 33'. 41'- 50' 11 19 25	Marketter 190 1 -
1520 450 N. IN 22 41, 48 52		1 1 2 1 2 1
Land Sec 027 26 33 29 7. 31 23'.		Thate 1900 to $ 189, 171. 19 22 54.
(5) 5 p. 19 150 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 50 5		1 may 1 300 31 300 31 400 715 44
M 6 5 - am 425 211 27 33, 7 15 14	Lucas 190 12 17 22 05 51 55	formalins a 20 th 20 30 30. On 60 11.
(430) 440 4 10 155 il 39 41	2190 30 1 9 12 9: 1% 1%	[[조류학 : 250 e. 5 le la l4', 20'.
Net West 650 20 154 44 37 Jr 44	Pilkingga Livinger is 🚾 🚜 S. 🙉	126-ydx 758 300 30° 30° 41° - 11° 25° -
יו פאר ול איז ניו ערן דין ערן דין פארן	17200's 313 1 3 13 P 14 19	#320 322 $ 17 - 14 37
1431	Prodemial, 420 22 30° 41 1 13°, 30	!
ged in the second secon	(*44)1 46° 1 10° 20°, 20 39 42	Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct
7 494	Rediapet 399 36 385 41 0 11 17	GLess W 400 45's 63 76's 25's 12's 45's
paren - ii ve ii ve	P415 430 45 185 267 R: 25: 32.	(PCN) 450 IT: 38 - 51' 47 M- 77.
10011	R-Reyce 200 12: 17: 23 1 6: 10	HSDC 1050 59 33 10; 37: 49 62
SHIPT BOTH AND AN	723 22 1 4 17, 9, 17 27,	1 100571 1100 12 58: 70 58: 77 171
19725) 750 14 30 40, 57, 4n 52	Tescs 200 S 17: 19 J: 17: 16	Replet . 100 51's bon 79 11 18 34
September 2, 200 141; 12 141	1°261'0 30° 0° 5° 11 18° 27 22°.	1 1000027 - 0000 31 001 17 11 12 24 1 1 12411 - 620 21 37 51 22 37 46
(200) 400 (2) 37, 25, 11, 17, 25,	Vodalone 230 14: 23 28: 17: 7 12	। संस्थान केलाचा केल्पकाल केल्पका
Testalett 30 6 H 9 Z. 4 . 7	12334 340 2 12 18 85 165 215	Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct
Arrests 15 7 6'. 7 5 7 8'.	Williams 330 S. 13 185. 3 147, 197,
12-0 pc 71 94 15 24 37	(732) 760 4 Pt 7 25 30, 57	Burgallers . No. 21 . 10 . 19. 14 . 22: 27.
(*1.794) 1300 29 45 65 40 40 50	(் புதுதி இவரு பாகும் கூற கூற குறிகும்
Paracta 1200 57 97 112 - 25 43 55	FT-SE INDEX (1975)	Series Mar Jun - Mar Jun
P12424 1250 35 to 85 49, 69, 76	2600 TOTAL TOTAL STEP 1850
(I transfer of the second	Calls	Fishers 200 5 5 C. P
Series Feb May Aug Feb May Aug	Reb (30) 10 10 10 10 11	17315, 28JUQ — 15 14 —
	Mar 147, 107 T21 44 23 10,	Series Feb May Feb May
Union 201 2 26 25/ 17 24/ 33/	Apr 154: 138: 95: 65: 62 3
1444.7	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Erram Gp . 450 25/. 40 - 0/ 0/ -
Ladorose 100 10 15 12 22 26	Indy	1975j kupo 67. 8 – 25 25 –
[*[69] 100 to 10 14 18 18	1001
Und Blac 240 27 4 50 20 20 11	1 37-pals Seels 3 47-323 77 127	Senes Mar Jun Sep Har Jun Sep
P2400 300 0 5 NF 20 27. 31	1 15	"48 Par . Hu IV. 37, 15 9 19 30
	, Table 1	15007 500 41 19 JU N 44 50
February 12, 1996 Feb. 2484 Call 13102		SON PWI 150 20' 30 44 2 6 11'.
Part 11322 FT-SE Caff 465 Part 7779	Mal Att 126 -	PME 1 290 E (7) 250 (2) (8 25.
PRO LINE A COMPANY OF THE	han de — de — de —

look at its current contracts Pony and Hewlett

Brokers say that the govern-ment inquiry into BSkyB's exclusive sports screening contracts with the Football Association and the Premier League could eventually see the clubs negotiating their own deals.

Farnell Electronics slipped 10p to 639p as it continued to urge institutional shareholders to support its £1.8 billion takeover of Premier Industrial in the US. The bid is being opposed by both Standard Life Legal & General, but Farnell says three of its four biggest shareholders, accounting for 24 per cent of the company, have already offered their backing. The Prudendal, with 5.5 per cent of Farnell, has still to decide which way to vote.

Amersham International the diagnostics specialist, celebrated US Food and Drug Administration approval for one of its products with a rise of 15p to 850p. It has been ven the okay for Myoview, its radiopharmaceurical agent for heart imaging. Brokers say the world market for Myoview worth about £250 million, with the US alone worth £140

Tepnel Life Sciences touched 90p, at which point the group announced it knew of no reason for the recent rise in the share price which saw it more than double in value last week. It ended the session 4p lower at 70p. GILT-EDGED: Prices in London clawed back early losses, prompted by overnight set-backs for US Treasury bonds and German bunds. But trading remained thin, with investors' adopting a cautious stance ahead of this week's Bank of England report on inflation, the RPI and publication of the Scott Report into the arms for Iraq affair. In the futures pit, the March eries of the long gilt finished all-square at £109516 as a total of 36,000 contracts were completed.

Among conventional issues Treasury 8 per cent 2013 finished a tick lighter at £100916, while at the shorter end Treasury 8 per cent 2000 was unchanged at £1041312. □ NEW YORK: Shares on Wall Street continued their upward momentum and by midday the Dow Jones industrial average was 46.97 points

FT-SE 100

Three Month Sterling

Three Mth Eurodollar

Japanese Govmi Bond

Italian Govern Bond Prestout open internal 8860.

Prime Bank Bills (Disk

Building Society CDs.

Dollar Deutschemark French Franc

Overmight open to, time by Local Authority Deps. Secting CDs

Three Mth Euro DM Mar 96 / Previous open interest: 17-1430 Jun 96 /

MAJOR INDICES
New York (midday): Dow Jones 5588.00 (+49.97) S&P Composite 660.35 (+3.95)
Tokyo: Nikkel Average Closed
Hong Kong: Hang Seng
Amsterdam: 503.55 (+1.56)
Sydney: 2263.3 (-8.5)
Frankfurt: 2428.05 (+16.12)

Zurich: 1857.8 (+4.1 FT Govt Secs 94.59 1+0.11 . 2.2544 (-0.008)

E-SDR

RECENT	SUE	S.
Ballymatray Hidgs	6	.,.
Century trins (120)	120
Dmatek	72
Medla Key (60)	65
Nihn Petim Wits	8 .
Revelation Picc	105
Self Sealing Sys (54)	55
SkyePharma B Wrts	8'4

RPIX 150.7 Dec (3.2%) Jan 1987=100 RPIX 149.6 Dec (3.0%) Jan 1987=100

RIGHTS ISSUES

Berkeley Gp n/p (435) 85

Oxford MI n/p (235) 84

MAJOR CH	INGES .
RISES: Border TV MAID
Alpha Airports
Acom Comp
Psion
Hadleigh
Grampian
Tottenham Horspur
David Brown
Blue Circle
Cortecs
Vosper Thorny
Courtauld Textile	. 413p (+11p)
Norbain	. 455p (+12p)
London Clubs	499p (+13p)
Reuters	.:644p (+13p)
26pg	, vavb (+)ob)
Vendome
GKN
Capital Corp
Amersham	. 850p (+15p)

	Amersham
t	FALLS: Hampden Group
5	St Helena
,	British Aerospace 828p (-16p)
- 1	United News 634p (-11p)
ſ	HTV Group 348p (-6p)
,	Granada 712p (-12p)
.	Booker 363p (-6p)
ا ۽	Fameli Elect 639p (-10p)

Closing Prices Page 28

3733.0 10147 3736.5 838

4160.0

44.22

96.75 96.78 7469 96.82 96.94 13362 109-00 139-10 108-15 10%-15

484.25 101.00

36384 236

6242 3957

" 12 auth

b wet

6′c-5″c 4 90

6-4

Call

5-4 4-3 '4'r-3'1

3 months
2 "repr
3-3 pr
3-2 pr
3-2 pr
3-2 pr
1'-1 pr
3-2 pr
1'-1 pr
3-1 pr
3-1 pr
3-1 pr
1-1 pr
1-1

6-0

6/2-5″9 9.01 6/4-6

LONDON FINANCIAL FUTURES

Mar us . 114,52 | 14 9| | 110,82 | 110 en lun us ... 118,38 | 119,38 | 114,57 | 114,38

98.20 98.27 98.112 94.09

May 46 | 111 45 | 111 78 | 110 78 | 111 79 | 51613 Jun 46 | 110 75 | 111 11 | 110 60 | 110 81 | 321

b'estr.

6'c-6'n "5 14 6'n-6'n

99.20 96.01

Mar 96 .

171: 40 -W31: 40 -

Base Rates Clearing Sants or Finance Hse o': Discount Market Loans: O night high: o': Treasury Bills (Discount 2 mill o .: 3 mill o's. Seil: 2 mill o's. 3 mill: o .

MONEY RATES (%)

EUROPEAN MONEY DEPOSITS (%)

1-1-

GOLD/PRECIOUS METALS (Baird & Co)

Bullion: Open $405 10-405 50 Close: $403,20-403 70 High: $405,40-405 90

Platianus $4($57-27525) Siber: $5 72 ((3.735) Palladium $130.00 090.15)

STERLING SPOT AND FORWARD RATES

25224-25256 46,30-46,41 9,7070-4,7290 1,9712-0,973 2,2527-2,2559 235,76-234,39 197,61-189 0, 2404,7-2408-6 2,0447-2,1027 1,5304-1,5314 9,53450 uses

9.8340-0 9/30 7.7440-7 7580 10.622-10.646

? ---1 · ---7 · ---4 ·--1 · ---1 ·--1 · «

Range 4050-4647 (1070-4749) (1

Krugerrand: $402.75404.75 ($252.75-264.75)

BEMILLES Imposing the Standard

tale about shareholder activism. Those who hoped that institutions would use their block votes to support ethics may end up disillusioned. Having found their voice, some fund managers want a bigger role in running UK plc, not confined to sermons about salaries.

In simple terms, fund managers at the Standard believe that Farnell is paying too much for Premier. They fear that savings available from mergiog the businesses will be lost on day one to the shareholders of Premier. Interest cover will fall, making Farnell more risky and the large equity issue will put earnings per share on a treadmill, running fast but standing still for at least a year.

The initial dilucion is acknowledged by

Farnell and the core of the problem is whether

STANDARD'S LIFE's vocal opposition to the management can be trusted to deliver the Farnell's bid for Premier tells a cautionary promised long-term gains. Standard is quick promised long-term gains. Standard is quick to declare its support for the board (how could it say otherwise, having amassed 2 per cent of the shares) but refuses to shut up and sell. Blast C

Standard would pay dearly selling shares today, because of the depressing effect of the rights issue. More interesting is its decision to take its argument with the company public. Standard has already sent a round robin letter to chairmen on corporate governance issues but inioating a row over strategy indicates which issue is more important to the institution. Standard has effectively said that Farnell's bosses are wrong on the biggest issue facing them and the company. Having taken that view. Standard should not meddle in the bid for Premier, it should ask for the Farnell board to go.

Bryant Group

BRYANT provided no nasty surprises in yesterday's halfyear results, but the company was able to offer little to dispell the gloom that has engulfed its share price.

Even by the recent fairly dismal standards of housing company results, Bryant's performance was poor. Ri-vals such as Berkeley Group have suffered from the dull market but have dealt with the challenge in a more enterprising manner. Bryant's excuses included an increase in build costs, a problem that should have been addressed late last year. attempted to inject some rent trading position, but the trading levels talked about were less than those of early 1995, when companies briefly believed that the elusive homebuyer was back in the some to suggest the company could even be facing more serious problems. This seems far-fetched, but market. There is also a worry that Bryant is loaded with land bought expensively a few years ago, although the company vigorously denies this accusation. The expensive land holdings and gearing. that, despite a reduction from

29 to 21 per cent, remains too high for flexibility has led

Chairman Sir Colin Hope optimism into Bryant's curthree years before Bryant really recovers. Expected full-year profits of £24.5 million place the shares on an expensive multiple of 18.

it will take at least two to Bryant is not a secure home for your money at present.

Brands

RUMOURS that Allied Domeoq is heading for a break-up ought to raise ques-tions not only about Allied but about companies whose strategy is to acquire and develop brands. Big branded drinks companies have been a pretty poor investment over the last five years. Shares in Guinness, Grand Metropolitan and Allied Domeon have all significantly underperformed the all share index over the period and there are few brokers willing to bet.

of outperformance. given the prognosis of slower and household brands are thought to be good bets in a recession because of their sales resilience at a time of lower spending. However, two worries are beginning to erode investor confidence in such companies.

pensive proxies for wellknown consumer brands. Cheaper generic drinks cannot entirely displace leading brands but the competition can erode prices and market share, leading to loss of margin and profit:

Growing consumer scepticism towards the price premium demanded by brand manufacturers reflects investor suspicion of the economics of the business. Maintaining brand leadership requires continuing investment in promoting the product. is whether the money spent That in itself is curious on promotion is a genuine investment in sales growth or merely covers depreciation of the goodwill attaching to the trademark. Most brands lack the international clout of these brandswill never justify the expense of their acquisi-

Blue Circle

The suggestion that Donald Trump might be interested in building casinos in Ebbsflect, Blue Circle's new town project, has excited the market, adding 13p to the company's shares. A curious reaction given the Donald's volatile financial track record.

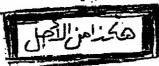

Development of Blue Circle's 400 acres of land in north Kent has been mooted for many years but last

World's month the company applied for planning permission to develop 175 acres around the Channel tunnel rail link sta-- price for don. Even in its imagined ghastliness, a Trump Town in North Kent seems more plausible than Disneyland in Paris bot Blue Circle's plans for Ebbsfleet could take 20 years to realise, no reason to

Coca-Cola or Guinness and even the most successful companies own a long tail of indifferent products. Sometimes sitting proudly in the In parts of the developed books as a prop to the world own-label products are company's balance sheet, EDITED BY CARL MORTISHED DOLLAR RATES WALL STREET 1.3250-i_3259 --- 10.34-10.35 --- 30.28-30.29 Feb 12 Feb 9 midday close ... 1.5755-1.5775 ... 157000-1570.1 ... 06.60-106,70 ... 2.5460-2.5470 ... 1.5482-1.6492 ... 152.89-152.99 ... 14.132-1.4142 ... 123.89-152.99 ... 14.132-1.4142 ... 123.89-123.91 ... 123.90-1.2040 OTHER STERLING

	THE TIMES UNIT TRUST INFORMATION SERV
ARE UNIT TRUEST MANAGERS LTD THOSE 259 783 Ground John German John Ground Joh		Sail Buy + - % Sail Suy + - % Suy Suy - - % S
General Early 22.480 291 10 0.80 1.05 1	180 - 40- Account 71:13 of 15 . 0.55 Leave Tree! 22/30 25/301 + 5:10 HAMMENT SINK 70:12 25/40 + 0.40 0.12 1/20 25/30 25/301 + 5:10 HAMMENT SINK 70:12 25/30 25/301 + 0.40 0.12 1/20 25/301 25/3	Middlerd FSACS that First 40-Accorn 91.39 97.2 + 0.19 3.37 97.31 686.34 310.90 457.1 + 1.00 4.60 1.00 4.
01203 E53 251 LAW UNIT TST MISRS (MRNy 0 Bond 52 40 50 75 + 0 19 64	- de Account 1920 165 027 5 20 1 1000 PEAR UNIT TRUST MIGNIT LTD - do Account 2020 1025 0 102	Benderal 110 77 117,60
Higher Inc Inc. 424 50 462 10 + 205 409 COF CHARITY RIMOS SIMPRO Inc Inc. 424 50 462 10 + 205 409 011 1500 1015 GRAPH Inc Inc. 207 20 71000 + 105 543 benefited inc. 723.77 144 60 43 Market Inc. 207 20 105 543 benefited inc. 723.77 144 60 43	30 Green 57400 $11607 + 0.90 3£3 (Green 11367 + 1667 + 161 1.76 (Learning to Management 11367)	Stropker Growth 112 119 77 0.77 0.77 Spatis or 90.58 95.58 1 102 4.78 Cash Haist not 100.68 112 4.78 124 4.78
SECTION SECT	Sets Incomes 369.20 382.30 3 0.00 3 0	More Marie 70 db 83.19 + 0.95 410 Int State 62.40 99.41 40.20 40.50 For Straight Eastern 500 High Print 13.00 119.00 40.90 63.50
Fig. 5m bill 47.55 01.45 D.E.	65 days of 6m 16(5) 15(6) 15(6) 15(7) releasions 2015 312(6) 120 15 16 95(1) 17(7) 1	141 45 150 507 + 2.07 2.05 Regular Pressure (17) 224 50 (21) 40 20 150 150 150 150 150 150 150 150 150 15
ABBCY UNIT TST MGRS GOS 777 J.73 GRG 6 Read by 131 30 139 JD 0.0 P 7 18 Hop tor Courty 172.20 139 GBH 0.20 4.0 Westbased Bond 192.00 139 GBH 0.20 4.0 Februar Courty Westbased Bond 192.00 139 GBH 0.20 4.0 Februar Courty West Gat 147 GBH 157 GBH 15	Memory Inc. # 182 70 153 077 + 0.20 3 1.55	Suppose Of his SSE,10 755.87 +11.20 D1882 518.023 D1
High Inc Equity 17:00 190 201 - 0.70 4 25 Workshood Point 19:00 19	40-Account 100 70 199 70 - 110	US Se and 1-t lac. 272 10 209 10 + 140 0.52 FA Atomica (Act) 775 14 254 60 + 210 0.05 Gather Bond 1 684 0 + 0.44 7.51 Japan Instale 70 56 6359 + 0.12 FA US Seally lac. 172 05 187 05 18
Managering 47.57 50.531 + 0.01 4.57 Described 77.55 82.61 + 0.14 Managering 47.57 50.531 + 0.01 4.57 Described 77.54 60.04 - 0.45 0.46	## - Account 100 70 199 70 - 0.10 Additional Part 11 11 Additional Part 11 12 Additional Part 1	High leasure 2152 2763 + 0.10 10.00 FA Asia 51.22 6321 - 0.29 UR Geney Landes 1 10.12 + 10.21 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.12 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 12.05 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 12.05 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas 44.10 42.20 + 0.07 UR Geney Landes 1 10.22 + 0.24 53 FA Jas Sanis Cas
ABSPRONTIN LIMIT TRUST MGRS LTD General Growth 3.00 55.38 + 013; 2.66 103; 2.67 103; 2	## 40-Accord 100 70 199 70 - 0.10	Accurate 1923.00 102.10 + 210 216 UK SING COS 99.52 MAR. 16 + 0.02 10 OK SING COS 99.52 MAR. 16 + 0.02 10 OK SING COS 99.52 MAR. 16 + 0.02 10 OK SING COS 99.52 MAR. 16 + 0.02 10 OK SING COS 99.52 MAR. 16 + 0.02 OK SING COS 99.52 MA
-do-Action 26.53 38.93 40.00 157 ANTHLIST LIMIT TRUST MORE LTD Enterorating 27.96 79.57 40.11 566 Special 26. 44.30 47.12 4.007 2.00 Special 26. 44.30 47.12 4.007 2.00 Annual Lat & Growth 59.00 61.70 40.36 0.50 COLOMAN UT MORE LTD	Formula Form	European 77.93 50.54 + 0.15 0.47 Managed 111.40 (18.51 + 0.01 Capital (43.60 153.76) - 0.20 1.54 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.00 161.00 161.65 + 0.01 564 (25.60 161.0
Transfer	Processor Proc	MRU MATTUAL UNIT MIGRS LTD Enimpson 119.00 125.33 + 0.32 Smir facts 479.00 505.05 + 0.40 0.51
18908 197.70 + 0.10 Lutin American 56.19 50.90 0.12 0.00 Pacing 8.17 91.51 + 0.10 0.70 Pacing 8.17 91.51 + 0.10 0.70	73 Cap din inc. 402 y 100 50 174 10 - 0 00 7 22 Ut income 56.99 37 00 + 170 4 00 40 40 40 + 610 40 0 + 610 40	REAP LINEST TRUST MANAGEMENT LTD PROYAL LIFE FD AMENIT LTD CHIRD PRIVATE LTD CHIRD C
Property Stage	64MOA 17000 3850 + 010 216 double mm 2000 2150 + 165 double mm 20405 21630 + 000 356	Second Court Cou
ARTHAN'S URBT TRUST MORS LTD	Constitution Cons	Ferrogan Del 132.50 144.50 1.120 0.30 172.50 172.50 172.50 182.50 1 42
THESE DIRECTOR WAS ARREST SYS LTD 10.75	Deleton	Window Coat 22.20 11 0 4 000 1-2.31 Sametra (W 13 Magazina) Sametra (W
OTHER CURRENT PART PRINTS OTHER CURRENT PART PRINTS OTHER CURRENT PART PRINTS OTHER CURRENT PART PART OTHER CURRENT PART OT	Tell Stand, Friend Section 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	Dug 101277 690 2000 Adminis Enc. 01277 690 2000 Administration of Professional Enc. 01277 690 2000 Administration of Profession October 2000 Administration of Profession Administration Administration Admi
Consequence Column Colum	To According 178 70 136 70 178	UK increase by: 63 M 66.665 + 0.27 3.43 determination: 39.00 4(6.50 + 1.20 0.12 90.00 + 0.00 0.12 90.00
Ameri Spec 2c: 203 60 719 50 - 0.60 0.05 Exception facilities 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	Orient Act 166-50 178-10 0.19 Embryon 98.06 104.27 0.40 1.03 Maidon General 156-78 162.05 2.71	4+ Acoum SAAS SAAF 0.31 FT Asia (0.00) (0.05) 2.924 2.105 0.79
Security	- 05-7 ACRIM 1	Distribution 1982 1983 10.47 2.88 Reference Distribution 18.98 19.21 19.55 19.56
Recovery 153,561 165 30 0.30 170 180 10 180	017 762 2000 Diggs only 0127 554 427 U. Gronelle Freids Bright Growth 56.97 60.837 + 0.23 1.62 Cash Teyt 152-52 125-427 + 0.64 5-70	County Acc. 138.57 147.42 2.32 2.37 186.601 186.70
Percenting Percent Percent 68 75 71-40 144 DIMENSIONAL TST ARGAT LTD 0171 410 0177	Its Variable Cos 153.09 163.79 + 0.90 0.71 153.09 163.77 + 0.95 0.71 153.09 163.77 + 0.95 0.71 153.09 163.77 + 0.95 0.71 153.09 163.78 + 0.95 0.71 153.09 0.71	MORTHERN BOCK URIT TRUST LTD Commodify 195.30 185.20 - 1.20 States Bond 82.33 65.20 + 0.26 501 101.282 2555 Extent Decovery 14.30 12.70 - 0.270 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.77 Extent Decovery 14.30 12.70 - 0.00 0.00 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.00 12.00 12.00 12.77 Entrance 2.28.00 12.70
0171 000 00.33	Since abord 2085 21 98 + 0 10 5 03 International Floating Since abord 150 05 150 150 150 150 International Floating Since abord 150 05 150 150 International Floating Since abord 150 05 150 International Floating Since abord 150 05 150 International Floating Since abord 150 05 Inter	MORMICH Union TST MANAGERS Every last 145.10 156.49 + 1.007 0.24 Portional 162.59 107.0 + 0.57 1.35 107.0 + 0.17 1.35
America 27:70 20:00 + 130 Bood 119:30 10:4407 - 010 677 But Sub East 170:30 10:5501 170 Growt George 69:57 74:01 + 0:04 535 Growt George 69:57 74:01 + 0:04 535	Decision Finals Personal Temper Person	ISC Sensitive Cost 1.293.3 15.06 + 0.04 21.5 5.04 to Dephrating 108.90 113.00 - 110 107 5.04 to Dephrating 108.90 113.00 - 110 3.05 European 45.14 99.97 + 5.39 0.64 1.04 to Dephrating 151.05 170.17 + 0.79 3.25 180.10 180
	Pacing Growts 236.00 252.49 - 2,30	Entropast 25:99 14*99 1.39
Mingel Fd 1962 0 20450 + 140 2 755 0 20452 77 565 0 20452 77 565 0 104 104 104 104 104 104 104 104 104 1	Med From Ed 27.73 227 231 + 097 311 16 16 16 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17 17	South Earl Author 19427 309.68 - 1 70 10.69 Southbox 265.50 423.77 - 2.80 2.88 Wonderdoor (2014 40.88 4.90
Whether Opps	Ped Interes 170 83 170 831 + 0 80 6 44	100 100
But in Felia: 391 66 414 10 - 0.66 257 Camerathyle # 22.15 2353 - 0.03 255 Inoquam Poline 94 40 99 101 - 0.18 6 53 Equity Incorne # 139.05 146 08 9 0.05 4 09 Except Poline 94 27 47 7 + 0.11 399 Equity Incorne # 56 CC 500 11 0.00 1	- de-Pacity Rin - 271.29 711.29 - 109 1.29 - 105 - 105 -	Wateriards Inc. 174.70 185.50 40.40 0.35 Unit Growth 153,30 186.45 4.03 0.37 187.35
Tactige 212.30 229.91 2.34 in Cap lac 100.10 112.97 + 0.05 294 income fructs 24 in Cap lac 24 in Cap lac 25 294 in Cap l	Suny Term Bis	-00-1-00-000
Income # 569 90 609 1017 4 77 477 107 Smaller Chin 245 90 250 20 + 0.60 115	Section Sect	Section Sect
Richmeny 457 40 459-20 - 0.10 2.75 Geneth Acc 240,67 765.25 - 0.03 0.70 Senit Cas Inc 51.54 55.27 + 0.07 2.16 Senit Cas Inc 51.54 55.27 + 0.07 2.1	Object Control Contr	Service Equation 100.20 105.70 105.70 2.56 -6-Accum # F13.06 173.06 1.56 3.69 3.69 1.56 3.70 3.69 1.56 3.70 3.69 3.
Anni Mer. 270 ali 2010 - 0.00 1.95 Anni Mer. 197 70 177 00 - 0.00 1.95 Euro Gent Inc. 174 10 198 0 - 0.0 0.59 Japan 6 Gen Inc. 103.00 1.75 00 - 0.00 Japan 6 Gen Inc. 103.00 1.75 00 - 0.00 - 40-Account 103.	Single Will not 615-32 654-607 155 Semino Cot 100 10	State Gen. 125-00 13400 +050 Periote 67 Se 62-64 +045 Bostone 58-44 300 32 + 152 140 Moreoteral Stat 65-22 914 - 0.21 - 40-Accorn 100.95 107.98 + 0.51 1.85 40-Accorn 85.33 85.30 + 3.0 3.40
BAPPACE FUND MANGERS LTD Horb American 142.42 (49.92 - 0.02 1.32) 0177 214 1004 Philian 133.43 140.45 + 0.47 3.13 American Growth 127.90 134.20 + 0.90 Smalle Cox 09.73 72.94 + 0.11 2.81	- 40 40-20 147.25 279.67 LAURELUE REEN UNIT TRUST MEANT MATHESON UNIT TRUSTS LTD Chief for 199.9 302.0 7 -	PRI UT MGRS LTD 0171 SSS 3963 Family Dec 275 10 239.50 + 0.50 1.51 Empire Gh 170 01 120 01 120 0 - 0.41 1.00 Empire Gh 170 01 120 01 120 0 - 0.41 1.00 Empire Gh 170 01 120 0 - 0.41 1.00 Empir
Computations $756 $1.01 + 0.00 4.50 $1.01 + 1.00 2.01 $1.00	U. Small Cos 60 9° 65 14 - 0.62 212 LAJRESTHAN LIGHT TST LIGHT LTD Income 460 02 - 469 38 7.59 563 Batch Richards 6.71 156 611 275 689 512 211 500 500 500 512 512 512 512 512 513	Individual Funds 18 Aug 18
18700 15710 40.00 040 Recovery 4c; 5770 5785 -0.17 158	September 100 C	Equity 367.20 264.301 + 4.00 2.30 -40-2ccum 50.54 37.62 + 0.11 121 -10-2ccum 50.54
-80- Action 266 40 285 50 + 9.05 2.30 Not termin 29.56 99.65 + 0.70 2.50 Not termin 29.56 Not termin 29.5	GRANNOLE UNIT 155 MGMT LTD 15500 T34.735 + 140, 259 46-4000 11500 122.10 +6.10 249 100 40 100 61 100	Section Sect
0177 250 3300 97727 320 497 14	### Section Control Co	PERFETURE URIT TST MIGHT INFO 13 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1
041 223 9633 156 60 - 082 134 Californ Produi Clarets 0900 e14 101 Edition Clarets 09	Mail American 1979 17.50 17.50 17.50 19.70	The Section 19.52 Section 19.57 (19.50 Section 19.57 (19.50 Section 19.50 Section 19.5
-da-Account 153.34 162.26 0.15 0.15 0.15 0.15 0.15 0.15 0.15 0.15	Bold Nation 107-19 13-22 -0.25 144 Appendix 75-00 20.51 -0.04 Income 177-00 109.007 -0.200 4.2 General Media 107-05 107-05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 -0.05 Composed Rend 104.7 109.76 -0.27 1.7 -0.05 -0.0	Under University Universi
Account Acco	10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	## Safe Color 18:19 19914 - 0.59 0.01 ### 1.03 10 10 40 ### 1.03 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10
011 400 7216 Short Dated GB	## According 1979 1979 1979 1979 1979 1979 1979 197	## 40 Accum
Fendure	Constant of 1 2 2 3 2 5 3 1 6 1 2 4 2 2 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 5 1 6 1 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2 4 2	Gadai 19.73 75.34 - 0.13 Fin fast SE.33 GEOD + 0.23 15.3 Fin fast SE.33 GEOD + 0.23 15.3 Fin fast SE.33 GEOD + 0.23 15.3 Fin fast SE.33 GEOD + 0.23 GEOD 12.3 Fin fast SE.33 GEOD 12.3 Fin fast Fin fa
07707 822 100 Lan Gun Deta 122.80 256 161 + 1.70 1.88 Sensial 256 160 160 270 0.62 Sensial 256 160 160 160 160 160 160 160 160 160 16	HAMBROS UNIT TRUST MISRS LTD Stranger 55.55 80.37 - 2.12 0.51 Portion Tau 31.28 - 0.03 T.41 Bragaties 01.57 27 2000 Delang 01.27 650 39.0 Portion Stranger Control Con	Early 071 case come late Garden Case
ind Greente 144,80 260 30 + 450 0.30 1 Exp Price # 52,67 84 16 - 0.33 17 1 Marth American 29,90 36/50 + 120 0.30 1 Exp Price # 52,67 84 16 - 0.33 17 1 Marth American 29,90 36/40 - 246 080 Cap Philos 162,00 120 120 120 120 120 120 120 120 120 1	HESTERSON TOUCHE REMALETT BANDO 321 30 June 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	PROTECUPAL LIGHT TRUST (ACANT LTD) U.K. Equily 447 50 477 40 + 2.00 2.77 WHISTINGOME LIMPT 1ST MISMIT LTD. 017257-01700 400-017257-01700 1771-520 2444
ROBERT OF LEAST IN 1927 261 010		THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O
Offs 83 1743 End 0707 63 1740 4 770	Edit Note 252.39 310.34 - 935 77	Exception Internet 05:00 05:03 + 0.58 117 60 4ccom 29.40 27.59 + 1.00 225 600 105:03 + 0.58 117 60 4ccom 29.40 27.59 + 1.00 123 600 105:03 4ccom 29.40 27.59 + 1.00 123 600 105:03 4ccom 29.40 27.59 + 1.00 123 600 105:03 6
CAPEL-CLIRE MITHERS UT INSART LTD ORIGI 831 7433 Eng 1097 837 7435 Up 1097 831 7435 ORIGI 831 7433 Eng 1097 837 7435 Up 1097 831 7435 Englise Cax 640 2039 21700 + 170 Englise Cax 640 10 557 0274 + 002 145 Ground 640 4030 55500 + 160 172 30 400 640 6000 471 00 170 170 640 6000 471 00 170 650 00 650 00 100 650 00 650 0	2000 (Allegards 16) 0" 17074 - 0.52 942 Magazi Fast 25 40 25 251 0 10 4 52 Employe Galler 171.60 102.00 - 0.00 001	-do-Accum 151 of 171 20 + 120 4 20 Fr Estain in: 19200 202 0 10 5 Squror: Restal 186 explana 218 00 222 0 - 0.5 90 5 - 60 Accum 227 00 242 0 - 100 0 71 Yaid expressed at CAR (Compound Annual Return), 1 25 50 240 00 - 0.2 0.5 1 page for 50 5 50 2 + 0.07 1 Tr. downstrain 24 40 427 1 + 0.05 2 22 1 this Annual line 116 30 360 0 + 2.0 0.5 1 Profess Character Endured Exempts.
e)		74930 37230 4 250 0.34 Charge

TAX LAWYERS 2-6 YEARS

Our City Client has a pre-eminent reputation as one of the ten most profitable practices in London. An effective combination of legal excellence, business acumen and drive has enabled the firm to achieve dramatic growth in numerous different fields including tax.

The Tax Department advises on a wide spectrum of quality domestic UK tax work as well as innavative international structures for both UK and overseas clients ranging from high net worth entrepreneurs to major international companies.

Two quite different tax specialists are sought, both, ideally, with 2-6 years' relevant experience.

Corporate/International

A corporate tax lawyer with a strong grounding in domestic UK tax attracted by a role which will include a substantial element of international tax involving both planning and transactional work.

Personal/International

A personal tax lawyer seeking to diversify in a role which will include both private client tax advice with an international flavour and corporate tax advice, particularly for the venture capital industry.

Both roles carry real prospects of advancement to partnership in a meritocratic firm which is swift to reward excellence.

For further information in complete confidence, please contact Sally Horrox or Jonathan Macrae on 0171-377 0510 (0171-995 3396 evenings/weekends) or write to them at Zarak Macrae Brenner. Recruitment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, London EC2M 2PY, Confidential fax 0171-247 5174. E-mail sally@zmb.co.uk

ZARAK

MACRAE

BRENNER

ACCOUNTANCY FIRMS

INCREASING THE CAREER OPTIONS FOR LAWYERS

A number of the major UK accountancy firms have already put in place associations or close working relationships with legal practices. Others are planning to do so shortly.

ZMB has received a significant volume of instructions in this sector. These include specific vacancies for

- company and corporate finance partners, both equity and salaried, aged 30-45
- assistant solicitors at the 2-8 year level with company commercial skills
- specialists in the IT, employment, tax and banking

For an absolutely up to date assessment of the options in this rapidly changing sector, please call Sally Horrox, Miranda Smyth or Yasmin Phillips on 0171 377 0510 (0181 995 33% evenings/weekends) or write to us at Zarak Macrae Brenner, Recruitment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, London EC2M 2PY. Confidencial fax 0171 247 5174. E-mail sally@zmb.co.uk

ZARAK

MACRAE

BRENNER

London

Reading

PLANNING LAWYER

"BERWIN LEIGHTON IS REGARDED AS HAVING THE LEADING PLANNING PRACTICE" (The Legal 500 1995)

CURRENT WORK INCLUDES:

- The Birmingham Narthern Relief Road - Britain's first tolled motorway
- Over 10 million sq.ft. of commercial development associated with the Channel Tunnel Rail Link
- Over 3 millian sq.ft. af town centre shopping schemes
- Redevelopment af Marsham Street
- Mojor programmes of out-of-town shopping far factary autlet centres and faad stores

Our expertise covers all aspects of planning and environmental practice, offering a country-wide service committed to excellence and to understanding clients' objectives. Our clientele is both national and international and includes major landowners, Government departments, developers, retailers, privatised national utility companies, local and other public authorities.

We are now seeking a lawyer with up to 3 years' pge to join our team. You will have had relevant experience, preferably from another City or major regional practice. We will give you the scope to undertake quality work with a high level of responsibility, supported by some of the best known practitioners in the field.

Your initial salary and benefits package will be amongst the highest offered in the City.

For further information, in complete confidence, please contact our retained consultant Stephen Rodney on 0171-405 6062 (0171-354 3079 evenings/weekends) or write to him at Quarry Dougall Recruitment, 37-41 Bedford Row, Landon WC IR 4JH. Confidential fac 0171-831 6394. All direct applications will be forwarded to QD.

UNITED KINGDOM . FRANCE . THE NETHERLANDS . HONG KONG . NEW ZEALAND . AUSTRALIA . USA

NABARRO NATHANSON

Dynamic IT Lawyers

The growth of information technology law has been one of the most dramatic developments in the provision of legal services in the last five years. Now the convergence of technologies is providing lawyers with new challenges and a wide range of client developments, Nabarro Nathanson has a large and diversely skilled IT, Communications & Multimedia Group which has enjoyed exponential growth in the last twelve months under the leadership of two recognised experts in the field.

Our client list includes many leading suppliers and users of 1T and communications technologies and an increasing number of organisations providing products and services in and for the on- and off-line media. The Group bas a fast-expanding caseload and a significant part to play in the firm's future strategy.

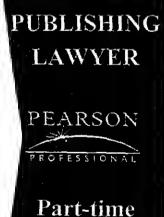

Two assistants, 1-5 years qualified, are now sought to fill genuine gaps in both London and Reading. Specialising predominantly (or wholly if preferred) in noncontentious work, the successful candidates must be able to demonstrate an ability to work on their own, relevant experience, a keen sense of commercial awarness, excellent drafting and negotiating skills and enthusiasm for technology and client

The positions will appeal to lawyers looking for good quality work at a firm with a major commitment to this key practice area. Energetic in-house lawyers seeking a return to private practice are encouraged to apply. Prospects in the medium term

For further information in complete confidence, please contact Clare Tattersall, Personnel, on 0171-518 3218 or at Nabarro Nathanson, 50 Stratton Street, London WIX 6NX. Confidential fax 0171-518 3174. Alternatively contact Jonathan Brenner or Andrew Russell on 0171-377 0510 (0181-940 6848 evenings/weekends) or at ZMB, Recruitment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, London EC2M 2PY, Confidential fax 0171-247 5174.

ZARAK

2yrs+ pge

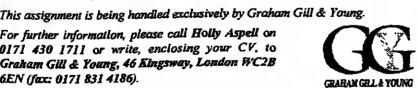

Pearson Professional, part of the Pearson pic media group, is an international company publishing a range of information products for professionals.

A part-time lawyer is now sought by the Legal Department based in central London. The work involves providing advice on and drafting standard and nonstandard publishing contracts for print and electronic products, licensing, distribution and other general commercial agreements.

Candidates must have a good knowledge of intellectual property and copyright law and will ideally have gained experience in the publishing or information industries. Salary will reflect experience. Other benefits include a contributory pension scheme and 25 days' annual holiday (pro-rata).

For further information, please call Holly Aspell on 0171 430 1711 or write, enclosing your CV. to Graham Gill & Young, 46 Kingsway, London WC2B 6EN (fax: 0171 831 4186).

Estates Gazette

Leading publisher of

uinning magazine

Innovative force in electronic media

Growing company with over 1,200

employees in the UK Established training and career

Competitive salary package Located just 25

information

Over 50 award

Assistant Legal Editor

Are you as good with words as you are with people? If so, we at Reed Business Publishing have an excellent appointing for you to join the team in the legal department of Estates Gazette - the UK's leading commercial property

Your admin skills will help you order and process countranscripts while assisting in the editing of Law Reports weekly insen containing summaries of the latest High Court uses and information on property law. Your proof reading experience and good command of English will be important when subbing anticles, and your flan for communication will enable you to commission anicles by contributors and haise effectively with production staff and readers Add the ability to meet tight chadlines, a minimum of ii) warm accurate typing and (ideally) a knowledge of WordPerfect, and we'd like to meet you!

This position could suit either someone returning to the workplace, or a legal secretary, pa who has good English and wants more of a challenge.

interested? Then please write with your CV to the Human Resources Department, Reed Business Publishing, Quadrant House, The Quadrant, Sutton, Surrey SM2 5AS.

Development Executive (Law) Academic-related Administrative Grade 3 (Salary £22,374 · £26,430)

The University wishes to appoint a Development Scienciary to help formulate and then to inclement, a unified strategy for racing money for the development of legal studies temporary. The posteriorates will be incurrent to work closely with adaptionary of the Layer Faculty, with Development Office. collegues and where appropriate, with Dollege Development Direction, as well all with outpide volunteers to help identify options all donors. The above to provide predestigated outpoor and others for an interdisciplinary hard-racing feam is an essential attribute. Candidates, who should preferably be maduates but not necessarily at the, should single an graduales but his necessarily of law, should sincly an underlanding of for an offered in earling about Oxford University, as chudules how of business and what is financial reads are. A knowledge of the legal protestion would be described but and extremely after the statement of the protestion motive, that sensitively organizational daily, and extended after personal and fill computing disast fruit actuary expensions, preferricly an extended could be underly as a supplement. them edition yicrowe

This is a fixed-farm three-year appointment on Asademic-related Administrative Grade 3 (202.374-205, AG) but on appointment at Crade 2 (216.575-221, AG) may be offered with some consequential adjustment in duties for a person with less separates and/or qualifications

Further particulars of the appointment may be obtained from the Deputy Registray (Administration), University Offices, Wellington Square, Oxford COT 2.10, (Tel. (01869) 270003), to whom applications, including a detailed curriculant vities and the remost and addresses of two referees should be sent by 28 February 1996.

The University exists to promote excellence in education and research, and is an equal opportunities employed.

£30-300,000 10 NEW VACANCIES

£100-300-000 Receivly formed solicitors practice seeks additional corporate partners to deal with transactional work for smaller quoted and large private companies. With a strategic business plan and essessest resources and support, projected fee income and earnings are high for partners seeking a fresh challenge. Wiff he City beand but with the benefit of international associations. (Ref. 6500)

UNUSUAL BANKING

Leading U.S law firm seeks specialist finance lawyer, lited fixed in 3-5 years' pay with a training at one of the City's top firms, Much of the work it insertacional and excellent long term prospects exist for the right candidate in an environment which is less structured than many compactors. First rate remuneration package. (Ref 5865)

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY COMPETITIVE This medium sized City firm, with a pre-eminent repression for its commercial property work, is unding to expand its retail, development and property finance seams with the recruitment of I-S year qualified lawyers. You must be ambitious, driven and have a practical and business like approach. The rewards will be excellent, (Ref. 5372)

PENSIONS HOME COUNTIES TQ £45,000 A pessions keyer with up to four years' experience is sought to retrain as a management consultant, working within a multi-disciplinary team. Based at the Home Counties, the successful candidate will work closely with differs in the formulation and implementation of new pession schemes. (Ref.8537) international law firm with high profile IP department, benefiting from a first rate client lits, seeks another 0-2 year qualities ablictor with a technical, bio-chemistry, engineering or electronics fadigmond. You must be enthopiastic and leven to learn from leading specialists in the field.

SENIOR EMPLOYER BENEFITS Niche management consultancy based in London sucks a employee benefits lawyer with at least five years' experience to retrain as a commutant, salvising blue citip companies on compensation and employee

NON-CONT INSURANCE

Top ten City from with leading corporate practice seeks non-construence specialises from 1 to 6 years qualified. Relevant tops crucial as you will intendistry be advising household name a companies and building societies, as well as other instrurgences, on high profile matters. (Ref. 4732)

COMMERCIAL LITIGATION Top us City firm with succleus regulation for its commercial practice seeks an additional 3-4 year-qualitied litigator who is ambitious, self-confident and highly mondrated. You will work in a challenging and rewarding environment, learning top quality work. Salary and benefits will be at the sop end of City rates, (Ref.6516) KNOW-HOW AND INFORMATION

A number of the City law firms are sealing to recruit qualified lawyers for professional support, into each know-how roles in their corporate finance, communical, pensiona, use, EC/comparition and litigation departments. You should be lightler with into spectrus and have a fair for analysis, research, admin and organization. (ActS110)

COMPANYCOMMERCIAL

Radianal firm with excellent reputation for training and development of junior staff, seels a sumber of 0-2 year qualified integers to work in its close fant, London team. You need steam attacked, a broad training and the confidence to operate with Significant responsibility in a busy and dwiving claparament. (ReLESS)

BRENNER For further information in complete confidence on these and the many other variances currently registered with us, please connect Andrew Russell, Jonathan Brunner or Lieu Hicks (as qualified lawyers) on 0171-377 0510 (0171-622 6213 evenings/weekends) or write to us at Zarak Macrae Bresser, Recruitment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, London EC2M 2PY. Confidential feet 0171-247 3174, E-mail andrew@zmb.co.uk

EExcellent Package

Rapidly expanding recruitment consultancy with legal and retail specialisations seeks full-time research assistant to do general research and to investigate possible areas of expansion. With at least 6 months' relevant experience, and possessing computer literacy, you will be immediately involved in rewarding work and will be an integral member of the consultancy team Generous remuneration package!

If you are interested in this position, please send in your CV in the stratest confidence to Mr C. Todd at 46 Bottoni Rose, London WCIN 2BL

TRINITY COLLEGE OXFORD

Official Fellowship in Law

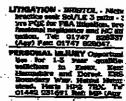

The College mands to appoint an Official Fellow in Law with effect from 1 October 1995, or as soon as possible transaction. The title of University Lecturer (CUF) may be conferred upon the holder of the Fellowships the full stipend associated with such a secturership wit laitedly be met by the College. The title may at 2 later date (flaugh with no commitment to do so) be converted into a stipendary University post. The Fellow will be expected to origage in research or higher study at Law, and to teach Law to undergraduates resping for the Honour Schools of Jurispudencia, and Law with Law Studies in Europe.

Further conflictions may be obtained from the Americante.

Further particular, may be obtained from the Academic Administrator, Trinity Collage, Oxford OX1 38H, telephone 01855 278910, to whom applications should be sent by 27 February 1996. The College axists to promote excellence in and research, and is an equal opportunities

ZARAK

MACRAE

- 4

1000 المناج في

Marie La Marie

-

- Maria - 12

- TOWN

300

Carpent & Clarity

• LABOUR BARRISTERS 33

PRIVATE FINANCE 33

Anthony Scrivener, QC, on the implications of the Scott report, and David Pannick, QC, on the future role of judges in inquiries

Scott: unfair attack on a fair judge report by Sir Richard Scott will be that, in future, public interest immunity (PII) certificates will again have some credibility.

The evidence at the inquiry. revealed the shenanigans that went on when the Matrix Churchill PII certificates were signed. These appeared to conceal the fact that, contrary to expressed Government policy, sales of arms to Iraq hadbeen encouraged and one of the defendants had been used as a British spy. Even the not easily ruffled Sir Humphrey would have Ministers took different approaches to signing the certificates. One did his own thing and took responsibility for what he signed. This looks like an example of what used to be called ministerial responsibility - a doctrine which seems to be in decline. Others were told by the Amoroey-General that they had no choice in the matter and they had to sign — and so they did. Another did not like being told to sign and carefully noted his reservations for posterity. and required those reservations to be passed on to the court.

Unfortunately, in the euphoria of obtaining this important signature to complete the battery of certificates, everyone seems to have forgotten to inform the court of the reservations. This was all the more sad bearing in mind this was a criminal trial. To use the words of Hamlet, the whole episode was enough to cause:

Each particular hair to stand on Like quills upon the fretful porcupine." An Attorney-General telling ministers that they most sign on the dotted line to prevent disclosures seems a long way from those proud words of Viscount Kilmuir, a Conservative - Lord Chancellor. "are relevant to the defence in. criminal proceedings, Crown privi-lege should not be claimed.

The Attorney-General's opinion that ministers had to sign the certificates came under close examination at the Scott inquiry. Some of the questions and analysis are recommended for light reading. It will be interesting to see if this, notion of the Attorney-General survives the report; or whether ministerial responsibility is due to

The confidence of the public and the courts will be greatly restored if they can at least be sure that a minister has considered the documents and exercised his own judgment before deciding to sign a.

In this way, he will have taken personal responsibility for the decision and so will not be heard later to say that the senior law officer somehow put him up to it.

Everyone accepts that it may be cessary to protect state security. and perhaps other sensitive material. but the Scott report will reveal whether the certificates were issued in the Matrix Churchill case for such honourable purposes or merely to protect against political

Hopefully, the report will ensure that, in future, PH certificates are used only for legitimate purposes.

The real problem for the Government is that it is likely Sir Richard has unearthed some unpleasant truths

The only protection against abuse of this procedure is a truthful and frank certificate given by a responsible minister which is then considered by an impartial judge who, having all the relevant infor-mation, is able to strike the appropriate balance between the interests of the State and the individual. It is hoped that the Scott report will help to achieve this objective:

There is a more sinister aspect to the Matrix Churchill fiasco. It likely the judge has unearthed seems probable that the generous some unpleasant truths. There is who, in 1956, said that if documents use of public interest immunity certificates distorted the trial. The effect of the certificates was to deny to the defence practically every document which would have shown the truth and would have confirmed the defence. Anyone who knew of the documents hidden by the certificates should have appreciated this. The question which the Scott report may well address is who allowed the prosecution case to be presented on this false basis? This exclusion of the evidence meant that innocent men ran the risk of

It is obvious that the Government is expecting flak from the report. There are those in the party aithful who are attempting to rubbish the report on the grounds that Sir Richard Scott adopted procedures different from those proposed by Lord Salmon in an earlier and different type of inquiry, and the report was therefore unfair. Lord Howe of Aberavon has already been a vociferous spokesman on the subject.

It is a pity that Lord Howe does not examine, for comparison, the procedures used by the Department of Trade and Industry or perhaps by the Serious Fraud Office or even the police had he done so he would certainly have been much better informed and perhaps less outspoken.

The fact is that the procedures suggested by Lord Salmon for use at inquiries were never intended to be applicable to every situation. He was at pains to emphasise that such rules had to be flexible according to the different types of inquiry.

The procedure at the Scott inquiry was eminently fair: questions were provided in advance, every witness was able to consult his lawyer even during questioning, a witness could not be compelled to answer, the witness was able to correct the transcript of his evidence afterwards, and no criticism could be made in the report unless the witness had been given an opportunity to comment on it.

hose businessmen who have been witnesses at a DTI inquiry will have little sympathy for politicians complaining about unfairness at the Scott inquiry.

The real problem is that it is plenty of evidence of this from the Matrix Churchill trial itself: remember poor Alan Clark when faced imexpectedly with a document no longer protected by a certificate? He said: "... well. it's our old friend being economical. isatit

And thus he brought back happy memories of another "old friend" being caught being to rights at an earlier trial in which the Government was involved.

Anthony Scrivener is a former chair-

INNS AND OUTS

Juries not guilty

THE NEW minister in the Lord Chancellor's Department, Jonathan Evans, MP, has hit back at statements by Jack Straw, the Shadow Home Secretary, that juries now no longer reflect their community and are "skewed" towards the working class and the unemployed.

Mr Straw's allegations of "loose practice" — by which the self-employed and professionals can easily evade jury service — were "very wide of the mark," says Mr Evans. "The Criminal Justice Act 1988 introduced the possibility of deferral of jury service. This aims to reduce requests to be excused. because those who have commitments, such as holidays or specific work problems, are expected to serve at a later date."

He quotes research for the Royal Commission on Criminal Justice showing that the occupations of juries matched the general population "with a slight over-representation of clerical workers and underrepresentation of skilled manual workers"

Jungle out there

KEN LIVINGSTONE, MP, is developing a successful sideline as an expert witness. He recently gave evidence on behalf of the zoo owner John Aspinall at the latter's successful appeal to allow trainers to enter his 200's tiger enclosures. Mr Livingstone supported the argument that the ban prevented the trainers from doing what they wanted to do.

But Mr Aspinall's lawyer, David Harrel, a partner at S.J. Berwin & Co, says: "He also offered to give expert evidence on wildlife, drawing on his extensive experience of going in with live newts."

Food for thought

MEMBERS of the law firm Nicholson Graham & Jones, who wondered what the correspondence mysteriously headed "Project Bal-ū" was about, now know. Its entire pensions department, consisting of eight lawyers, was negotiating to move to the London pension firm Sacker & Co, which will almost double in size as a result.

A spokesman for Sacker & Co explains the project's unusual code name: "The head of Nicholsons's department, Ian Pittaway, and his team met in an Indian restaurant to discuss the possibility of mov-

Perils of doing the dirty work

ir Richard Scott's long-awaited report into the export of arms to Iraq export of arms to Iraq will be published on Thursday. Its contents will seek to answer many questions about the propriety of government conduct, but it will raise almost as many questions about the future role of the judiciary in conducting inquiries on behalf of the Prime Ministers have habitually turned to judges to investigate and report on important and sensitive issues. Some of these inquiries have concerned national tragedies or traumas, such as the Aberfan disaster (Lord Instice Edmund Davies in 1966-67), allegations of child Justice Butler-Sloss in 1983, and the Hillsborough stadi-tion disaster (Lord Justice Taylor in 1989)

On many occasions, the have had the potential to become politically explosive.
Lord Denning conducted an inquiry into the security iniplications of the Profumo affair in 1963. He later wrote that some of the evidence was so disgusting — even to my sophisticated mind — that I sent the lady short-hand writers out and had no note of it taken".

Then from 1965 to 1968, Lord Pearson chaired a Roy-al Commission on Trade Union Reform In 1972, Lord Wilberforce reported on miners' pay. Lord Diplock advised on legal procedures for terrorist trials in Northern Ireland and Lord Widgery inquired into the "Bloody Sunday", in which 13 civilians were killed. Lord Scarman's 1981 report on the Brixton - riots - and Lord Woolf's 1990 inquiry into prison conditions, also concerned issues of fundamen tal political dispute.

Prime Ministers choose judges to conduct these in-quiries for a variety of reasons. Judges are skilled at considering a mass of evidence, analysing its rel weight, and producing a reasoned what occurred and why. Judperceived to be. impartial when troversial is-public respect Appointing judges to do such dirty work is not a peculiarly British phenomenon. When President Kennedy was assassi nated in 1963, it was natural for his successor, President Johnson, to appoint Earl Warren the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, to conduct the investigation into the shooting. The use of judges to inquire on behalf of the Government works well when the issues concern disputed questions of fact, or proposals for reform of technical areas of law. Then the judiciary is playing to its strengths. When, by contrast, judges are invited to make extra-legal judgments, whether political social or moral, politicians have recognised that the judge's lack of prior expertise is outweighed by the value of an independent assessment of complex issues. - The fundamental dispute which will boil over on Thursday con> weight to be atconclusioos . and recommenjudge who was on the working practices 'of Whitehall before he began his task. The attack has been led by Lord intended that

the

DAVID Sir Richard bas PANNICK QC failed to understand the realities of the way government operates in the

Yet Sir Richard was appointed precisely to ensure that substantial allegations about the propriety of gov-ernment conduct were thor-oughly considered by an independent person from outside Whitehall, who would study the material and apply objective stan-

This is likely to be the last such inquiry for many years. Politicians and civil servants are going to take a long time that a judge has required them to answer, in public, difficult questions about their official conduct. They will be very reluctant in future to let a member of the judiciary loose on politically sensitive issues.

The impact of the Scott report on the judiciary will be equally traumatic. Prime Ministers and Lord Chancellors are going to have to twist judicial arms to breaking point if they are ever again to persuade a judge to accept consibility for conducting an inquiry into a politically controversial topic which will occupy months, or years, of work, and which leads to bostile criticism and may result in political repudia-tion of the judicial findings.

ny judge who feels he A is being made an offer that he cannot bruises inflicted on Lord Notan during his continuing inquiry into standards in public life.

Whatever, the short-term olitical consequences of the Scott report the most significant long-term effect will be to ensure that, in future, judges are less frequently distracted from their primary task of deciding cases in

If the Scott report promotes such a divorce between judges and politicians. it is because the inquiry has confirmed that there are irreconcilable differences between them.

The author is a practi barrister and a Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford.

STEUART & FRANCIS

FRESHFIELDS

Freshfields is a leading international firm. We provide a comprehensive, worldwide legal service through our offices in Europe, Asia and New York.

We are looking for confident, ambitious lawyers to join us in the following areas:

- OIL AND GAS -

Our extensive worldwide oil and gas practice is part of our Energy group which is the focus of the service we offer to clients in the energy industry. In particular this work includes advising on gas purchase contracts, joint operating agreements, licensing and North Sea work generally.

COMPETITION

This highly rated team, within our corporate department, deals with a wide range of transactional, regulatory and advisory issues. This involves all major areas of EC and UK anti-trust law and practice.

You should have strong academic qualifications, good instincts about people and business and the necessary relevant experience.

Please write in confidence, enclosing your CV to Jonathon Hill, Freshfields, 65 Fleet Street, London EC4Y 1HS.

BANGKOK BARCELONA BRUSSELS FRANKFURT HANOI HO CHIMINH CITY HONG KONG LONDON MADRID MOSCOW NEW YORK PARIS SINGAPORE TOKYO

0171 782 7899

THE BANKING OMBUDSMAN

£100,000 Package

The Council of the Banking Ombudsman seeks to appoint a new Ombudsman on the retirement on 31st December of the present Ombudsman, Laurence Shurman.

This senior post involves:-

- Acting as independent referee/arbitrator dealing (personally or through delegation) with specific complaints by individuals and others against banks, with power to award up to £100,000;
- Overall management of a 40 strong team in Central London;
- Ensuring that the Banking Ombudsman Scheme is well-publicised and undertaking regular liaison with the media, banks, consumer organisations and other bodies;

Ideally a senior practitioner with more than 20 years' experience, the Ombudsman will almost certainly have a legal qualification as a solicitor or barrister (in private practice, industry or the public sector), or as a member of the judiciary. Crucially, the Ombudsman will demonstrate strong leadership skills, as well as the stature to command respect. A strong intellectual ability is essential, as is a genuine interest in dealing fairly and independently with complainants and banks.

The remuneration package of about £100,000 includes a pension provision and other benefits.

For further information in complete confidence, please write to Gareth Quarry or June Mesrie at Quarry Dougall Commerce & Industry Recruitment, 37-41 Bedford Row, London WCIR 4JH (confidential fac 0171-831 6394) with a full Curriculum Viane explaining why you are interested in this position. This assignment is being handled on an exclusive basis by Quarry Dougall.

UNITED KINGDOM • FRANCE • THE NETHERLANDS • HONG KONG • NEW ZEALAND • AUSTRALIA • USA

Legal Advisers

Wiltshire

up to £30,000 + car

Allied Dunbar is one of the UK's leading providers of financial services. With an innovative product portfolio, a competitive marketplace, a developing regulatory regime and ambitious corporate objectives we can offer challenging legal careers.

You'll have the opportunity to learn in one of the most respected legal departments in the industry and your skills will be developed across a wide range of topics. Our Legal Department is involved in all our operations, taking on a consultative role by tackling issues before they arise. As a result they are at the heart of the organisation helping to identify potential problems and opportunities across the range of Allied Dunbar's activities.

We are looking for two high-calibre Legal Advisers. One role will deal predominantly with litigation including contractual disputes, employment tribunal hearings and occasional claims disputes, io both Couoty and High Courts. The other role will focus on wider commercial aspects, including product design and development.

For both roles we are seeking bright, recently qualified lawyers, or law graduates with some relevant post-University experience. Of equal importance to experience will be your intelligence, enthusiasm and a willingness to learn. The litigation role might also suit an experienced Legal Executive.

Io return you can look forward to an excellent salary and range of benefits including full relocation assistance as you would expect from a

To apply, please write eoclosing full CV and salary details to Jenny Phipps, Allied Dunbar Assurance plc. Allied Dunbar Centre, Swindon SNI 1EL, quoting reference LEGI. Alternatively telephone our 24 hour answerphone on 01793 506767. Closing date for applications:

Allied Dunbar is committed to equal opportunity and welcomes applications from all sections of the community.

For the life you don't yet know

L DAWSON & Co.

Solicitors specialising in personal injury and RTA cases for insurers urgently require cost draughts person. Above average salary to successful

CV to Derek Burrell, L Dawson & Co., Dickens House, 15 Tooks Court, Cursitor Street, London EC4A 1LB.

KILPATRICK & CODY

Kilparrick & Cody seeks a U.S. qualified lawyer for its London office with 3 to 5 years experience for general corporate/corporate innance practice.

Candidates must have top academic credentials, recent corporate/corporate innance experience at a U.S. firm in Europe and the willingness to work in a broad range of practice areas for diverse clients. French or German fluency preferred but not required.

Please send your C.V to Kilpatrick & Cody, 68 Pall Mall, London SWIY SES. No Agencies

CORPORATE LAWYER

Shoosmiths & Harrison is one of the largest, most progressive and successful firms outside London.

We need a first rate Corporate Lawyer to join our thriving Northampton office. Applicants with over 5 years PQE will have an excellent background with a major firm and demonstrate an impeccable track record of heavyweight corporate transactions (including Yellow Book work).

The position is high profile and demands a communicator with strong leadership skills, commercial acumen and Partnership potential.

For further details please contact Keith Lewington on 01604 29977

or alternatively write to him at

Victoria House, 3 Victoria Street, Northampton NN1 3NR

SHOOSMITHS&HARRISON SOLICITORS

BANBURY = NORTHAMPTON = NOTTINGHAM = READING = RUGBY = SOUTHAMPTON

Wales and Chester Circuit

Mr John Griffith Williams QC has been elected to succeed Mr Gerard Elias QC as Leader of the Circuit from 1st January 1996. Mr Christopher Pitchford QC has been elected Treasurer.

Applications are invited for the position of: PRACTICE MANAGER (SENIOR CLERK)

to an established set of Barristers Chambers in Curriculum Vitae to Box No 3040

IN-HOUSE RECRUITMENT... ...A NEW

CONCEPT

In-House Legal is a specialist recruitment consultancy operating vide network of offices and dedicated to the and selection of lawyers for the commercial, industrial and banking

What makes our approach refreshingly different is that, unlike many of our competitors, this is the whole of our business. Our consultants concentrate exclusively on servicing in-house legal departments and consequently have a unique understanding of requirements, trends and developments in the field.

In today's increasingly competitive marketpiace, our combination of specialist local knowledge and the resources and contacts of one of the U.K.'s leading recruitment groups can make all the difference.

Our assistance is only a telephone call away. We look forward to working with you soon.

For further information contact:

SOUTH:

Gareth Chambers, Industry on 0171 405 0151 (Evenings & Weekends 0171 813 6475) Geraldine Hetherington, Banking on 0171 405 0151 (Evenings & Weekends 0171 713 5431)

David Bennett on 0121 643 1895 (Evenings & Weekends 0115 942 0024)

NORTH:

John Sacco on Manchester 0161 839 5791 or Leeds 0113 243 6945

IN - HOUSE

Commercial A major force in financial services and insurance worldwide, this company seeks a 1-2 year qualified solicitor to join a small, but dynamic team advising on a wide range of commercial issues.

Franchise

US entertainment company seeks franchise lawyer with negotiation and drafting experience. Commercial post requiring international experience and ome foreign-language skills.

ALL BOX NUMBER REPLIES SHOULD BE

c/o THE TIMES NEWSPAPERS

P.O. BOX 3553, VIRGINIA ST, LONDON, E1 9GA

ADDRESSED TO: BOX No.

Head of Legal/Regulatory Affairs sought by pinneering international telecums company. Opportunity to be part of a young and enthusiastic

Ref: 27716

Communication-provider requires competent civil litiester with 2 + years' pge to assist business clients. Must have extensive knowledge of High and County Court proced

World leader in computer software, and down-to-earth assistant to the Head of Legal. NQ or junior barrister with National body which advises 100,000 members requires junior lawyer to advise on employment policies, training and related issues. Attractive location

To discuss these opportunities in total confidence please contact Gill Newman BA (Hons) or Nicholas Woolf BA (Hons)

Alternatively, send your CV to either of them at

REUTER

THE PSD GROUP

PRACTICE MANAGER required for provincial Barristers Chambers, Apply in confidence to: Bryan Thomas, Gower Chambers, 53 Mansel Street, Swansea SA1 5TD. (Closing date 27/2/96).

0171 782 FA

Peter Goldsmith, QC, and Michael Beloff, QC, reject criticism of Cherie Booth

The cab rank rule keeps us impartial

The real story

would be if Ms

Booth refused to

tion, was made a Queen's Counsel on the recommendation of the Conservative Lord Chancellor. Lord Mackay of Clashfern. It was a vivid and valuable demonstration of the constitutional doctrine that the administration of justice and party politics are separate in the United itself an object lesson in the fact that gender imposes no fetter on success at the modern Bar. However, on no fewer than three occasions public criticism than three occasions public criticism occasionally been real difficulties in has been made by various persons of Ms Booths advocacy on behalf of one local authority seeking to enforce its claims against a The real storm.

claims against a council tax defaulter. of another seeking to justify its dismissal of allegedly incompetent staff, and of Peter Clowes seeking to obtain parole. and within the last week she has been invited to comment on her representation of a child seeking to enter a selective school. The suggestion is that, as a Labour supporter. Ms Booth should not deploy her professional talents in the service of those who, from a left-wing perspective, are scarcely politically correct or attractive. Even this newspaper has spoken loftily of possible "embarrassment".

We cannot emphasise too strongly. how misguided (even mischievous) such criticism is. The "cab rank rule" is as important an element of the Bars, code of conduct as can be found; it has indeed received the sanction of statute (in negative form) in Section 17 of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990. It means, as Lord Mackay, then Dean of the Faculty of Advocages, said in 1978. "An advocate had to represent people even though he did not like their views." and whether they had legal aid or not."
Why is it so vital? The words of Lord.
Erskine, uttered in 1792 in justification. of his defence of Thomas Paine the ast year Cherie Booth, the wife of the Leader of the Opposirelevant almost two centuries later: "From the moment that any advocate can be permitted to say that he will or will not stand between the Crown and the subject arraigned in the court where he daily sits to practise, from that moment the liberties of England are at an end."

Kingdom.

No objection can be taken to the importance that the advocates cannot natural curiosity of the media in Ms pick and choose their clients on political grounds, on the popularity of the client's cause, or on whim. In certain Commonwealth jurisdictions, with a fused profession, there have > advocate to prejudge the merits or other-wise of a client's case (although he or she may, of course, advise the client as to appear for a client'. his chances of success); that would be to usurp the rule of the judge or jury.

> The most disreputable litigant is still entitled to proper representation. Lord Pearce in 1969 pointed to the reality if it were otherwise. It is easier, pleasanter and more advantageous professionally for barristers to advise, represent or defend those who are decent and reasonable and likely to succeed in their action or their defence than those who are impleasant, unreasonable, disreputable and have an apparently hopeless case. Yet it would be tragic if our legal system came to provide no reputable defenders, representatives or advisers for the latter, and that would be the inevitable result of allowing barristers to pick and choose their

Finally, the rule enhances consumer confidence in the reality of access to the best justice that private or public money can obtain; and in the impartiality of advice received, uninfluenced by perceived personal or political-predilection on the barristers behalf. Advocates can decline to accept.

Cherie Booth, QC, cannot pick her clients on the basis of their politics instructions on various grounds: lack of time; lack of adequate remuneration (if the case is privately funded); lack of experience in the particular field; lack of time to prepare; conflict of interest; refusal to participate in proposed deception of the court. But he or she cannot do so because the client or the client's cause fail to pass muster with a section of the electorate or even with their elected representatives. Lest it be thought that the can rank rule is a formal tradition rather than a living principle, or even that it is more honoured in the breach than the observance, the authors can testify to its daily utility in the courts of law. David Pannick, QC, represented the leader of the Unification Church in the High Court in a much-publicised case last term; but he was instructed for his forensic skills, not any adherence to the Church's beliefs; Michael Beloff, QC, (co-writer of this piece) opposed him for the Secretary of State; each might have taken the other's role; neither would for a second have declined to act.

The real story would be if (which is unthinkable) Ms Booth succumbed to pressure and refused to appear for convict or Conservative council. She should be allowed to continue unharassed with her practice. Her critics should be grateful that the profession which she adorns is faithful to the rule which she applies. Some principles are more important than partisan political points.

Getting into a feather bed with Labour

Tony Blair is wooing the lawyers and putting their minds at rest, says Edward Fennell

Lupton & Broomhead is with electioneering now begun in earnest, City lawyers are preparing for a change in administration. Richard Price, a paraner with Mc-Kenna & Co, confessed: "If we're honest about it we're all expecting a Labour government." No politically sensitive is-sue is of greater concern to lawyers than the Private Finance Initiative (PFI), which has generated lucrative fees for solicitors when the private sector is asked to bid for public service contracts. Although it got off to a couple of false starts, lawyers are now seeing a steady stream of PFI work. They are keen to know whether this will continue under Labour. So far they have not been disappointed. Alistair Darling, the Shadow Treasury minister, is currently meeling City lawyers and seems to be whispering reassuring words. One lawyer who lunched with Mr Darling last week said that, with a couple of exceptions, there would be no significant change. Jerome Misso of Eversheds says: "There may be a certain amount of rebadging, but the essentials will remain the same."

The attraction of PFI is that it brings work from both the public sector and from potential contractors. The leading law firms are trying to build up a track record with each. Berwin Leighton. for example, which has 19 lawyers in its PFI team and acts for the Treasury on Gogs (the Government offices in Great Smith Street). is also working for contractors bidding for substantial slices of NHS work. Phil Bretherton, a partner, says: "It's important to un-derstand the needs of both sides. We're close to the Private Finance Panel but also appreciate the priorities of the contractors. In similar vein, Dibb about to second one of its senior lawyers to the PFI panel both to advise and to gain a better insight into the way the panel works. David Hickman, a partner, says: "We suggested it to the panel and they were delighted to take up the offer." PFI work is a good exam-ple of the positive role that lawyers can play in helping to bridge the gap of understanding between govern-ment and the private sector.

Alistair Darling: reassuring words

In many respects it remains an immature market with the financial implications in need of much refinement.

One feature of this is the depth of resentment among contractors, particularly in the construction sector, at the expense involved in bidding for projects. Their lawyers are now being asked to take on some of the risk.

Mr Hickman says: "One of the features of PFI work is that the lawyers are being brought in by bidders at a much earlier stage. This has its ups and downs. Because a contractor may have to spend up to £200,000 in preparing his bid, the law-yers are being asked to share in some of the burden."

So while the pickings from a successful PFI bid can be very rich indeed, the lawyers may gain meagre (if any) fees from those which fail.

This is making the top lawyers very circumspect in whom they act for. McKenna's, for example, has expertise in construction and has developed a strong record of work for the Department of Transport. This has made it an auractive adviser to bidders for new road projects. in one case recently the firm was approached by four of the prospective consortiums. McKenna's partners had to weigh up the decision very carefully. Richard Price says: "There is an enormous amount of risk involved. To go with the wrong bidder could lead to a substantial

Success in PFI work demands an array of expertise, experience and resources. Eversheds and Dibbs, both leading national firms, feel that their combination of City learns and network of regional offices has positioned them well to attract work from NHS trusts, universities and SO On.

But when Dibbs was awarded the work by the Benefits Agency for contracting out the National Insurance record system it was on the basis of its acknowledged strength in the information lechnology field.

Some specialisms, however, may die an early death. McKenna's is exceptional in its work for the prison sector (ii acted for the successful Securicor consortium), but Mr Price suspects this may count for little in 18 months' time. "Prisons may be" dropped by Labour from PFI," he says, "as just too loaded politically."

TO ADVERTISE

3

LEGAL APPOINTMENTS

FAX:

NEW OPPORTUNITIES

Can your firm really make you a pursier? This City practice can. Pre-aminent property department seeks I-5 year qualified assistant. Quality of work exceptional. High level of responsibility. Pirst class salary pedage and, most importantly, realistic prospects for advancement. This position will not be bettered. Ref. T15493

CONSTRUCTION LITIGATION To £40.000 Close-Irrit construction group within thriving City firm seeks 2-3 year qualified litigator, preferably with experience in professional indentity and building contracts. Group acts principally for employers and professional indentity leasurers. Possibility of some non-contentions work. No other assistant bars your prospects, little T25274.

BANKING LITIGATION Median-sized central London practice with growing reputation, especially for its litigation practice, seels 2-4 year qualified hitgator, preferably with relevant barising experience and proactive personality. Work emanuss from major barising and other clients — firm believes in rapid responsibility and promotion for star

LITIGATION Hong Kong To £100,000 package
No languages required for commercial higgson, 4-6 years page to join this pressignus international firm in Hong Kong, undertaking major commercial higgson work for many blue-chip corporate and institutional cheeses. 1996 should be your year for advenure — the salary package offered deserves your inserest. Ref. T24179

EMPLOYMENT EMPLOTMEN I.

Leading employment practice within major international City firm actively stacking 1.2 year qualified — vast majority of departments work is self-generated united in most other firms. Firm acts on highest profile containables and non-contentious immers, often for international at well as UK offents. Top salary. Ref. T20355...

COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

To £35,000
The compensation and benefits practice of this small but extremely well connected London practice is outperforming most larger departments in City practices, lewing built up a small and highly stilled ween. This is your opportunity to consolidate your editing experience or train in this highly sought after specialism. 1-2 year's popularity and TT3454

eduting experience or train in this highly sought after specialism, 1-2 year's pop preferred, Ref. T13454

COMPANY COMMERCIAL: -To £50,000 This driving and very highly regarded central London practice can offer a bright company/commercial specialist with circa 3-5 years' poe the chance to make a company/commercial special and the state of responsibility and be licen to mark — you will need to relish a high degree of responsibility and be licen to undertake practice development work. Mainstream corporate and corporate finance work on offer. Ref. T26127 If you job this firm you will not only be working with some of the top IT specialists in London, but will enjoy a calibre of client base and working environment which would be the envy of most order "blue chip" City practices. In return, you will need

1-4 years' relevant experience and a strong academic record. Ref. T1 6749 EASTERN EUROPEAN ASSISTANT Our client has a requirement for an Essern European assistant with circa 3-5 years' page. You will have expainence in utilities, power generation, electricity, gus. destribution/orasinission,as well as ideally some expends in emerging markets. Russian speaker. Excellusion;and opportunities. Ref. 1723196

PLANNING With a well respected planning team, our clerk is looking for a dynamic individually with ideally between 3-4 years' planning experience. Promoden prospects are excellent within this progressive team where you will work closely with the property department. You will enjoy a high level of responsibility and clerk contact. Ref. 1725476

SENIOR SHIPPING LITIGATION A sensor shipping Brigator with at least 4 years pop and excellent contacts, particularly P & I contacts, is required by our major City client. Work will be a broad enhance of both west and dry shipping, with a bias sewards west. Excellent partnership prospects. Rolf T26206

PENSIONS To £50,000 TO 5.50,000

This key City player is looking for a pensions assistant with circa 24 years pope. With encoding pensions experience, you will be involved in high quality pensions work as well as having an opportunity to assist in a small amount of employment matters. Excellent prospects. Netl T26346

To £45,000

Top ten Clay practice with a superb corporate tax department which boasts some of the leading names in the field now seeks an additional jurior layer who will benefit from the opportunity of working closely with friendly experts. Real prospects await a dynamic, focused individual with strong addentic track record. 1-4 years ope preferred. Ref. T25119

COMPETITION

Are you a competition law specialist looking to join one of the top City practices with a well respected competition team and first rate quality work? Our dient is seeding such a person with between 3-5 years' pop. You will have a high level of contact with the firm's European offices, Rufe 125084

For further information, in complete confidence, please contact Emma Cowell, Stephen Rodney or June Mestié (all qualified lawyers) on 8171-405 4062 (0171-266 5601 pr 0171-403 5727 evening/weekends) or write to them at Quarry Dougall Recruitment, 37-4 i Bedford Row, London WCIR 4JI4. Confidential fac 0171-831 6394.

and the state of t

UNITED KINGDOM . FRANCE . THE NETHERLANDS . HONG KONG . NEW ZEALAND . AUSTRALIA . USA

SPECIAL PROJECT LAWYER

LEADERS IN THE SHORT-TERM MARKET

• 6 mths - 2 year contracts • Temporary to Permanent • UKlOverseas • All areas of expertise • Attractive salaries • Consultancy

PLAINTIFF PERSONAL INIURY

Well established national firm with a strong reputation in the field of lingarion seeks a solicitor/legal executive for a 3-6 month period to assist with a plaintiff personal injury workload. Candidates should have a minimum of 4 years' experience in this field. Ref:26258

COMMERCIAL - IN-HOUSE

Solicitor/barrister, with around 4 years' pqe, sought by UK food retailer. Comract will initially be for 2 months to start immediately. Candidates should have a strong commercial background, ideally with some employment experience.

COMPANY COMMERCIAL

Forward thinking and highly commercial City firm seeks a 3-5 year qualified company commercial lawyer to join their corporate department. Excellent opportunity to gain first class experience.

Commet to start immediately for 3-6 months. Ref:26127

COMMERCIAL LITIGATION International law firm seeks a 1-2 year qualified solicitor or a 3-5 year qualified sector legal executive, to assist with heavyweight commercial litigation, with a financial bias. Work will include taking statements and organising documentation. Immediate start - 10 month contract. Ref 26252

CORPORATE FINANCE

Corporate finance department of City firm requires a solicitor, with 2-4 years' pge, to join immediately for a 3-6 month contract. Suitable candidates should have had previous experience in mergers and acquisitions and a working knowledge of the Yellow Book. Ref: 25866

COMMERCIAL LITGATION - IN HOUSE

Electronics group based within commutable distance from south-west London seeks a junior solicitor to assist them for a 2-3 month period. Caseload is a mix of contractual disputes, employment and property inigation. Candidates should be able to work on a relatively unsupervised basis. Ref:26353

COMMERCIAL - OIL/GAS

Solicitor/barrister, with 4-8 years' pqe, and a strong background in oegotizing and drafting contracts sought by an international oil company. Previous experience in the oi/gas industry is not essential Contract will be for 6 months. Ref:23941

PRIVATE CLIENT

London based charity seeks a senior private client lawyer for a 6 month contract to assist with the legal issues arising out of the administration of legacies. Ideally candidates should have had previous experience in the charities sector. Ref:26306

For further information please call Nicky Rutherford-Jones or Ernma Hopkins on 0171 405 6062 (0171 350 0682 eveningstweekends) or write to us at Special Project Lawyer, 37-41 Beiford Rosa, London WCIR 4JH. Confidencial fax: 0171 831 6394.

REINSURANCE HUMPHREYS & CO BRISTOL

Listed by Legal 500 and by Chambers' Directory as one of the very few out of London firms with strength in this field. we are looking to recruit a solicitor with significant post qualification experience in reinsurance litigation.

Send full CV with application to the Staff Partner at: Humphreys & Co 14 King Street Bristol BS1 4RF

CAYMAN ISLANDS

Commercial Lawyer with excellent academic commercial Lawyer with eatenent arangement record and 2+ yrs poe with major practice wanted for Truman Bodden & Company, Attorneys in the Cayman Islands—one of the world's premier offshore financial centres. Excellent remaneration, tax free, Partner extremity in the UK. currently in the UK.

Fax resume to Barry Smith: on 809 949 8492.

SOLICITOR for Banking

Litigation, Oxfordshire. preently required with 2-5 yrs PQE Fax 01993 700077 Áth

Christina Rundle

ALL BOX NUMBER REPLIES SHOULD BE ADDRESSED TO:

c/o TIMES NEWSPAPERS P.O. BOX 3553, VIRGINIA ST, LONDON, E1 9GA

The second of th

BOX No:-

COMPANY MANAGEMENT

Professionally qualified lawyer required for St. Johns, Isle of Man based Company Managers The position may suit a recently qualified lawyer with some experience within the offshore Company and Trust environment Apply in writing, in confidence, with full CV to:

Mrs Diane Dentith, FCIS, Managing Director,

INTERNATIONAL COMPANY SERVICES LIMITED Sovereign House, St. Johns, Isle of Man, IM4 3AJ, British Isles.

PERSONAL INJURY & MEDICAL NEGLIGENCE

Practitioners of at least 7 year's call are sought by a busy specialist group within Chambers to replace two members following the appointment to the Bench of one and the departure abroad of the other.

Please apply in confidence to:

John Leslie Lamb Chambers Lamb Building Temple, London EC4Y 7AS

DXLDE 418 London Tel:0171 797 8300

BANKING EDUCATION OFFICER

Allen & Overy's Banking department enjoys an outstanding reputation, advising on numerous high profile transactions. Increase in global business has led to continued expansion of the department's work in London and overseas. We are now looking to recruit an Education Officer to assist with the maintenance of quality standards within the Banking groups.

Working closely with our Head of Banking and Head of Education and Training, you will be responsible for developing, writing and running comprehensive training programmes for fee-earners in our London and overseas offices. This will involve assessing training needs (both technical and skills related), preparing suitable programmes and materials, consulting with and appointing relevant course providers and monitoring and evaluating feedback. You will also have responsibility for tailoring and running courses and seminars in conjunction with the Partners for the department's clieots.

This is a newly created role which will have a high profile within the firm. You will need to be credible and persuasive - a "do-er" with excellent organisational, creative and interpersonal skills as you will be liaising at all levels. You must be able to prepare course materials, not merely administer. You should therefore have a background of working in the banking department of a major law firm and be familiar with the intricacies of banking documentation.

If you are interested in this opportunity, please send your CV plus covering letter, indicating salary expectations to: Jayne Welsh, Personnel Manager, Allen & Overy, One New Change, EC4M 9QQ.

ALLEN & OVERY

OLD SQUARE CHAMBERS

A significant growth in workload in two areas of its particular expertise and the continuing expansion of practice in these areas means that Old Square Chambers seeks applications for two new tenancies from experienced senior barristers.

The ENVIRONMENTAL GROUP is looking to expand its specialist team by the appointment of a specialist environmental practitioner of at least 15 years' call.

The EMPLOYMENT GROUP seeks to strengthen its team by appointing a specialist employment practitioner who practises in Scotland and England.

Written applications please to arrive not later than 23 February to: Christopher Parker, Chambers Administrator, 1 Verulam Buildings, Gray's Inn, London WC1R 5LO.

SHIPPING LAW

An expanding shipping claims and consultancy practice with an international client base seeks two qualified lawyers to join a small team dealing mostly with charterparty, bill of lading and S&P matters.

Applicants should have at least 2-3 years relevant PQE and combine a sound academic background with a high degree of commercial acumen and understanding.

Please apply with full C.V. to: Box No 2688, Times Newspapers, PO Box 3553, Virginia Street, London, E1 9GA

2 Dr JOHNSON'S BUILDINGS TEMPLE, LONDON EC4Y 7AY

Chambers offer their warmest congratulations to Fergus Mitchell (formerly Head of Chambers) on his appointment to the Circuit Bench.

As a consequence of the substantial leading work within Chambers, we invite applications from Queen's Counsel interested in joining/leading this busy set. Such applications will be treated in the strictest confidence and should be addressed to David Batcup.

Chambers are mixed Criminal and Common Law set.

Members of Chambers are:

David Batcup Alan Bayliss Dennis Gould Anthony Fogg Graham J Davies Thomas Clunie Richard Bruce David Wurtzel Peter Higginson Robert Sberman Grant Armstrong Susan Williams Stephen Meizner

Mark Paltenghi Nicholas Rhodes Brain Stork David Barnes Mark Tomassi Pam Oon Thomas Buxton Tyrone Belger Bernard Tetlow Carolyn Marsh David Taylor Graham B Davies Jonathan Ross John Buck

Paul Hopkins Anna Hamilton-Shields Neil Hawes Frances Hastings Alan Fraser Michael Lavers David Williams Claire Wade Paul Phillips Claire Robinson Jennifer Edwards Charles Hale Robert Benzynie

Senior Clerk: Alan Conner Tel: 0171 353 4716 Fax: 0171 334 0242 DX: LDE 429

PARTNER DESIGNATE

THE PRACTICE

Our client is possibly one of the most unique partnerships based in the central regions and is acclaimed for offering an innovative approach with a high quality service. As part of the firm's strategic plan they seek to appoint a similarly unique individual to play a significant role in the company commercial department's : . development into, and beyond, the next millennium.

THE ROLE

You will be a dealmaker and a dealfinder with the resourcefulness to turn your intellect to broader commercial issues which may include complementing their growing reputation in the I.P./I.T. sectors. Ideally well versed in working with a broad spread of clients from publicly quoted to small privately owned businesses you will thrive in the challenge of attracting new business and be constantly seeking new sector .-

Within the practice you will possess the business acumen to identify the needs of the department and have the steel to implement them. Furthermore, you will have the flair and the gravitas to lead. from the front on all matters pertaining to the department.

THE REWARDS

This is a route to attain partnership in the immediate future however, should you' want it today the practice will listen. The position will provide you with the perfect platform to further develop your career and your income. Along with the indicated salary you will receive an excellent benefits package which together reflects the seniority of the position.

· 有一种保护器品产品设施工作的。 《 $11 · In the first instance call John Lacey of Daniels Bates on 0121 633 0010 (evenings/weekends 01543 480137) alternatively write to him at Grosvenor House, Bennetts Hill; Birmingham : B2 5RS quoting ref: 8301.

THIS YEAR WE'S "... RUSHING FORWARD ... USING A
THE BOUNDARIES POWERFUR.
FAMILIELY NEW 171 MASS DREET APPL Wednesday 28th February 1996 THE

The One Great George Street Conference Centre, Westminster, London SW1
For your lirm to progress in an increasingly competitive market the many nuances of marketing must be understood. This conference moves into "the second generation" of professional services marketing – the experts will be delivering action points you can implement, demonstrating how to:

 Be No. 1 in a niche
 Supereharge the marketing performance of partners
 Change culture without ruffling leathers Enhance your reputation and "brand"

Exploit the regional advantage
Target and win profitable work
Specialise and differentiate

Conference Chairman ROGER LAWSON, Director 31 PLC, Past President Institute of Chartered Accountant National Managing Partner

PETER DOUGLAS JAMES GEMMELL Marketont Durecto TONY REISS LESLIE PERRIN Managing Partner
Legal Director/Socre ROY THOMAS PETER SCOTT Manasma Partner London MAURICE FITZPATRICK DOUCLAS MILL

Kidsons Impey Clark Whitehill Associates Cameron Markby Hewitt Osborne Clarke Welsh Develops Eversheds Director of Public Relations Chantrey Vellacott MacFarlage Young (Scotland)

· How to do client surveys Developing an effective marketing strategy Cross selling and techniques to grow client relationships Database marketing This will be invaluable to both Partners and Managers in all sizes of accountancy and law limits. Fee for the conference is normally £360 plus vat, but TIMES Readers have a special price of £324 plus vat.

An Optional Workshop on the 29th will be an in-depth and interactive day exploring:

The conference and workshop is reduced to £614 plus VAT. COMPETITIVE MARKETING for ACCOUNTANTS and SOLICITORS

PostCode_ enclose a cheque payable to CENTURY COMMUNICATIONS, or charge my Visa/Access' AmEx E

Firm / Organisation_____

Conference & Workshop £614 + VAT = £721 45 Conference £324 + VAT = £380.70

Mail or fax 10 : Chris Kohut, CENTURY COMMUNICATIONS, 11 Queen's Cate Place, London SW7 SNX Tel 0171-838 0008 Fax 0171-838 0009 THE LAW SOCIETY OF ENGLAND AND WALES

Solicitors Complaints Bureau

c260,000 + benefits

The Bureau, established in 1986, handles complaints about solicitors and regulates the profession independently of the Law Society. Based at Learnington Spa it employs over 200 administrative and professional staff, mainly solicitors and

The organisation is under review by the Law Society to ensure that it is fully effective in strengthening and maintaining the confidence of the public and profession in the conduct and services of solicitors.

The new Director will have the key role in leading and managing changes in the Bureau structure and in working to enhance its standing with the public and the profession. He or she will also contribute to the direction and development of the Law Society as a member of the top management team.

Candidates must be proven and mature general managers from client/customer service or regulatory organisations of comparable size and visibility.

They should have:

· legal literacy (i.e. as a qualified solicitor, company secretary or be an executive with considerable experience of legal issues and lawyers)

a record of heading organisational change through enthusiasm, skilled leadership and sensitive evidence of success and impartiality in complaints, regulation or customer service/protection

the style to operate effectively in a committee proven public speaking/media handling skills and a high degree of articulacy.

Candidates abould send a full CV, quoting reference TL740, including latest remuneration details, to David Thompson by the closing date of 5 March. The Law Society welcomes applications from all sections of the community irrespective of sex, race, colour, sexuality

MANAGEMENT RECRUITMENT MES'S 33 St. James's Street, London SW1A 1HU Tel 0171-493 1788 Fax 0171-321 0237 or disability.

LITIGATION

SOLICITOR

solucion required by East Susser firm with legal aid franchise in maximonial and personal injury to take over Partners caseload.
Sense of hundur necessary. Good

WESTMINSTER MEDICAL

service with prompt and courteous attention. Medical Negligence Claims Medical Benefit Claims Personal Injury Dr A M Saywood, Westminster Medical

7 The Pastures, Duffield, Derbyshire Di Tet 01332 840202, Fax 01382 840101 Also at: 10 Harley Street, London WiN 1AA Tet: 0171 932 0012

Centres at: Birmingham, Endport, Brighton, Co Northampton, Portsmouth and Stoke on Trent.

BARRISTERS' CLERK EXETER

Applications are invited for the post of Senior Clerk to a thriving set of Chambers based in Exeter.

Remuneration by negotiation. Please apply in writing with a CV to Francis Gilbert QC, Walnut House, 63, St David's Hill, Exeter, EX4 4DW by 29th February 1996.

Applications will be treated in the strictest confidence.

TO ADVERTISE CALL: 0171 481 4481

LEGAL APPOINTMENTS

0171 782 7899

MACFARLANES

LANDED ESTATES AND AGRICULTURAL PROPERTY LAWYER

Macfarlanes is a highly successful broadly based City firm. Unusually for a London firm it also has a pre-eminent private client practice and reputation. This underpins its landed estates and agricultural team which also enjoys national recognition.

The firm needs a lawyer with excellent academic credentials, at least three years' relevant (and recent) experience and the ability to work independently with a minimum of supervision. The work requires familiarity with all aspects of unregistered conveyancing and includes, for example, estate purchases, cottage sales and landlord and tenant advice; however, the work is sufficiently varied that broader legal skills are often required.

The appointment is likely to be on a full-time basis but some flexibility on hours could be offered.

This assignment is being handled for Macfarlanes on an exclusive basis by ZMB. For further information in complete confidence please contact Jonathan Macrae or Miranda Smyth on 0171-377 0510 (0171-359 5212 evenings/weekends) or write to them at Zarak Macrae Brenner, Recruitment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, London EC2M 2PY, Confidential fax 0171-247 5174. E-mail joe@zmb.co.uk

MACRAE BRENNER

ZARAK

A CAREER IN PUBLIC LAW

Commercial Lawyers

Beachcroft Stanleys are acknowledged to be one of the country's leading advisers to public bodies and institutions in the higher and further education sectors. The work is intellectually challenging and demands a practical and creative approach to problem solving. Our caseload is refreshingly diverse and includes funding matters, statutory interpretation, incorporations, mergers, special educational needs, enquiries, judicial reviews and the private finance initiative.

Significant growth in this sector has led to a marked increase in the volume of commercial advice required. As a result, an opportunity now exists for two additional lawyers to join the team, one senior and one junior.

If you have up to I or over 4 years' experience of commercial work, a genuine interest in public law and an excellent academic background, we would like to hear from you. We welcome applications from both solicitors and barristers with the requisite qualifications. Specific public law experience is ideal but not essential.

To find our more on a strictly confidential basis, please contact our retained consultant, Miranda Smyth on 0171-377 0510 (0171-624 8647 evenings/weekends) or write to her at Zarak Macrae Brenner, Recruimment Consultants, 37 Sun Street, EC2M 2PY. Confidential Fax 0171-247 5174. 6-mail miranda@zmb.co.uk

ZARAK

MACRAE

BRENNER

Kleinwort Benson

Leasing/Finance Lawyer

Kleinwort Benson Programme Management

Kleinwort Benson Programme Management (KBPM) is a leader in the design, implementation and management of finance programmes for leading high sechnology suppliers and end-users. It is a part of one of the most prestigious European merchant banking groups and is committed to providing the highest standards of professional advice and service to its clients.

The London based Legal Department now seeks to recruit an experienced leasing and finance lawyer to work as the No. 2 within the team. Working closely with the senior business managers you will be responsible for providing a general legal/commercial advisory service that will include negotiating and preparing a range of commercial contracts and agreements, looking closely at the structuring of products, reviewing relationships with simpliers and advising on strategic and policy matters.

You will be a qualified lawyer with an in-depth knowledge of commercial law and at least 3 years' experience in leasing/finance legal issues. This experience may have been gained within a leading finance house, law firm or hi-tech company. You will also combine intellectual rigour with flexibility and commercial acumen. Maturity, credibility and a practical approach to problem-

KBPM offer an excellent basic salary, the full range of banking benefits and good long-term prospects. Interested candidates should contact KBPM's retained consultant Paul Mewis of BBM Selection on 0171-248 3653 or write sending a detailed CV to the address below quoting Ref: 377.

76, Watling Street, London EC4M 9BJ

GNATE

Tel: 0171-248 3653 Fax: 0171-248 2814

Company Secretary

INVESTMENT TRUSTS

Excellent Salary & Benefits - Surrey

The Person

Fidelity is the world's largest independent investment management organisation, with over $400 billion under management. Our success is built on attracting high calibre professionals who are self-motivated and driven by. success through challenge.

The Scope

You will be an Integral part of a core committed team, responsible for the development of Fidelity's Investment Trust business.

- Report to Director of Investment Trusts
- Ensure accomplishment of statutory secretarial tasks
- Involvement in business issues relating to Fidelity's Investment Trusts
- Liaising with external Boards of Directors
- High visibility and exposure at senior levels.
- High calibre graduate qualified and experienced ·Company Secretary or legal background
- Highly developed administrative skills
- Excellent communicator written and verbal · Ability to liaise at the most senior level Analytical, resourceful and confident, with pro-active approach. Please send a full CV, staring current salary and quoting reference CS/13.2/T, to: Mike Walsh, Fidelity, Oakhill House, Hildenborough, Kent TN11 9DZ. Fax: 01732 832792.

nighty owner tive package

Leading international oil company, with commitment to double their reserves base by the year 2000. Presently active in Europe, Africa, Middle East and Russia; recently brought onstream £1.2 billion development in the Irish Sea. Their expansionist plans in the UK and overseas lead to a need for an experienced oil lawyer to complement their existing team.

- ► Challenging UK and International brief, providing comprehensive legal cover so Asset Teams in pursuic of
- Handle AMIs, production sharing contracts, JOAs, UK licensing activity.
- ► Following recent restructuring into Asset Teams, reports to Head of Lagal Resource Group.
- Excellent career opportunity in company committed to

- QUALIFICATIONS-Blue-chip training with leading legal practice. 10 years
- Durstanding track record with oil company, or law firm specialising in oil and gis.
- Considerable breadth of experience in upstream legal activity; highly commercial approach. International exposure important.
- Adaptable, enthusiastic team player. A self-starter with strong communication skills.

Please send full CV, stating salary and quoting reference L3336, to:

Lachlan Rhodes Executive Search, 50 Regent Street, London WIR 6LP. Tet 0171-478 7117.

LACHLAN RHODES

Legal Adviser

Major International Bank

Excellent Salary + Banking Benefits

City

Outstanding career opportunity for high calibre lawyer to join leading international bank to offer comprehensive range of legal services.

THE COMPANY

- ◆ Worldwide banking group, stroog performance and excellent reputation.
- Diverse range of banking and treasury products and services provided to international client base. Small, proactive legal team operating to highest
- professional standards. THE POSITION Reporting to European legal counsel. High
- profile, international role. Responsibilities will include negotiatioo, review and drafting of a full range of commercial and investment banking products.
- Advising on all aspects of the bank's business.
- OUALIFICATIONS

advantageous.

- Solicitor with good, degree and a minimum of two years' post qualification experience, gained ideally
- within a financial institution. Technical excellence. Broad experience of
- banking and commercial law. First-class communication skills. Confident, commercial approach. Enthusiastic. French language ability and familiarity with French law

Please send full cv, stating salary, ref FS60204, to NBS, 10 Arthur Street, London EC4R 9AY

City 0171 623 1520 • London 0171 493 6392 Abendeen . Birmingham . Bristol . City Edinburgh • Glasgow • Leeds • London Manchester * Slough * Madrid * Paris

SAMSUNG

ALL BOX NUMBER TO:

c/o TIMES

SENIOR CLERK

common law set of London Chambers. Remuneration package negotiable.

Applications in strict confidence to Box

PLC PUBLICATIONS ASSISTANT EDITOR

We are young, expanding, legal publishers with We are young, expanding, legal publishers with an exciting future. You have an excellent record with a leading commercial law firm but want new challenges. You will be commissioning, editing and writing, with the chance to forge a career in legal publishing. Eatheriesm, self-motivation and an enquiring mind are mage important than writing experience. Ideally you will have 1-4 yrs pae with languages.

Reply to Robert Dow, PLC, 90 Battersen Business Centre, 103-109 Lavender HHI, London SW11 SQL or phone +44 171 738 2303

NEW FIRM LONDON EC4

Two Solicitors (company/commercial commercial property and litigation) with quality client bases seek dynamic individual solicitors with established followings of £100,000 plus to join them in creating a broadly based new commercial practice in EC4.

Apply with cv and some details of following to: Box No 2448 The Times Newspapers PO Box 3553 1 Virginia Street

London El 9GA

SENIOR COSTS DRAFTSMAN REQUIRED (CITY OF LONDON)

The successful candidate will have extensive experience in preparing claims for costs and in conducting taxations, particularly in substantial commercial litigation cases and should be able to work either alone or as a senior member of a team. Applications are invited from either employed or self-employed individuals. The salary/bonus package will be commensurate with experience.

Please apply with C.V. to Mrs. J. Carney, 128 Cheapaide, London EC2V 6BT.

EUROPE PLC

REPLIES SHOULD BE ADDRESSED

BOX No:---

NEWSPAPERS P.O. BOX 3553, VIRGINIA ST.

Applications are invited for the post of

to work in a busy and ambitious

No. 3476, c/o Times Newspapers, PO Bux 3553, Virginia Street, London, E1 9GA

THE TIMES TUESDAY FEBRUARY 13 1990

VISUAL ART I

Our daily guide to Cézanne ends with a discussion of perhaps his greatest painting: The Large Bathers

VISUAL ART 2

and a comparison of that stupendous masterpiece with contemporary work by Picasso

■ VISUAL ART 3

The American Tony Oursler exerts the mesmeric charm of illusion at his Lisson show

VISUAL ART

'Don't come in my gallery until you have something

Richard Cork chooses Cézanne's final masterpiece to conclude his survey of the Tate's show

Bathed in a valedictory glow

anging alone on the final wall of the Tate exhibi-tion is Cezanne's last and finest version of The Large Bathers. Nobody knows for certain, but he probably painted this climactic canvas in the year of his death. The ailing artist must have been hard-pressed to execute so much of it during the months before he died in October 1906. But I cannot lament Cezanne's inability to complete a picture he may have regarded as his valediction. The lack of finish adds to the painting's marvellous zest.

If he had been granted more time, Cézanne might have buried this vivacity under layers of troubled reworking. After all, another version of The Large Bathers hangs near by as a reminder of the labour he was prepared to expend on the subject. Leni by the Nadonal Gallery in London, this smaller canvas is a formidable achievement. But when set beside the final version it looks burdened with the prolonged effort Cézanne devoted to it.

He probably worked on it for II arduous years. And the London version is undoubtedly more resolved than the third version (now in the Barnes Foundation collection in Pennsylvania). Anyone fortunate enough to have seen the Barnes Large Bathers will realise that it is a pictorial battleground. Scarred with ruthless revisions, it testifies to the dissatisfaction which made Cézanne such an anxious artist.

The London painting seems, by comparison, almost serene. But Cé-zanne must have realised, when he stopped work on the London Bathers in 1905, that he could surpass it.

He was right: the last version amounts to a remarkable victory over the obstacles which Cezanne created when he embarked on the Large Bathers series in the 1890s. While convinced that the female nude should be the focus of the masterpiece he wanted to produce, this inhibited man could not bring himself to work from posed models. Since adolescence he had suffered from a chronic rear of women, id the idea scrutinising naked females terrified him. Ambroise Vollard, his dealer. recalled that Cézanne "made an exception only for a female servant ... an old creature with a roughhewn face of whom he remarked admiringly to Zola: 'One would say she's a man!' "

Hence the conspicuous beefiness of the bathers themselves. Even when he contents himself with a few forceful contours, Cézanne retains the ability to construct women of Amazonian proportions. Look at the kneeling bather on the far right. utting immense shoulders forward like a female weight-lifter.

Not all the women assembled here have such doughty physiques. The figure sketched so concisely behind

In their pastoral idyll, Cézanne's bathers seem fulfilled, the work of an old man who is reconciled at last with the women he painted

ht-lifter seems more slender and agile as she darts away from the rest of the group. Cézanne balances her vanishing back with a frontal view of a woman on the far left, even more lightly defined. But the slimmest forms are reserved for the two women who turn away and gaze at the water beyond. They lean forward like divers braced for a plunge.

Their presence is echoed by two other figures on the opposite bank. Cézanne has left the canvas empty where their faces should be, and the luminosity of these unfinished heads gleams like a beacon through the intervening heat haze. They appear to be staring at the solitary woman in the river. They may be envying her, for this swimmer seems lost in the pleasures of the water. And just above her body, the extended hand of a woman in the foreground hovers protectively over her. This unexpected gesture possesses the gravity of a baptismal blessing. It provides a key to the mood of the painting, for Cézanne has positioned his sculptural figures at the base of an aspiring arch formed by the tall trees. Here is the area where he departs most audaciously from the two earlier versions, which sliced off display their true height.

Now, by contrast, the elongated trunks thrust heavenwards like vaulting in a cathedral nave. They move towards the pyramidal form which excited Cézanne so much in the Mont Sainte-Victoire. And the two principal women adopt poses that mirror the direction of the trunks behind them.

These women and their companions remain the most commanding elements in the picture. That is why Picasso learnt so much from their simplified and distorted bodies when he painted Les Demoiselles d'Avignon a year later, renouncing the sweetness of his own previous work. By flouting perspective even more than Cezanne, and drawing on the Picasso prepared the way for the far greater heresies of Cubism. He makes. Cezanne seem profoundly attached to tradition.

Moreover, the aggressively angular women in Les Demoiselles are prostitutes. Their disillusioned urban harshness is utterly at variance with Cézanne's wholesome figures. Rejoicing in their pastoral idyll, his bathers seem serene and fulfilled. They are the work of an old man who, having begun his Large Bathers sequence in a state of extreme agitation, ended it by reconciling himself at last with the women he painted.

Ceranne is at the Tate Gallery until April 28, sponsored by Ernst & Young For advance booking, which is advised, telephone 0171-420 0000

Fat ladies yes, dead sheep no Julian Spalding's new Classes gallery will have space for Beryl

Cook, but none for Damien Hirst

6 The art market is

o self-respecting art gallery can be launched these days without a healthy dose of controversy. Glasgow's £7 mil-lion Gallery of Modern Art. due to open oext month, is no exception. Its director, Julian Spalding, has denounced the "dictatorship of taste" that governs the art world today, and declared himself firmly on the side of art as entertainment. He prefers the jolly, fat ladies of Beryl Cook to the formaldehyde sheep of Da-mien Hirst, and will exclude from his gallery a clutch of young Scottish artists who have been widely praised at odds with most gurus of ranging from the art of Scot modernism. He is unrepentant. I am very critical of modern art galleries at the moment." he says: "I see the same 50 artists limited. Only a few As he ticks off the words he names are hates most - "serious". exploited 9 "objectant", tive". impersonal", the disapproving spectre of Nicholas Serota, director of the Tate, hovers in the air. Spalding waves it aside. "When you are looking at a wonderful picture, you don't say, that's impor-tant, you say I love it. Art is about people and about communicating with other people. A lot of modern art is presented as if it has been validated by a priesthood which pronounces on it, then vanishes them coming out and simply saying I love it." The problem with this line of argument - although it will certainly strike a chord among some disillusioned art-lovers is that it seems to set its face against innovation, the dangerous territory where art. experiments rather than panders to popular taste. Spal-ding's remarks about Beryl Cook, whom he admires, or even David Shepherd, whose paintings of elephants he likes (though they will not be in his collection), have led critics to fear that the new gallery will be relentlessly middle-brow.

Spalding rejects this.

"I like Beryl Cook. But I an also interested in art tha catches a wider imagination Other curators are ned to the apron-strings of the art mar few names are ruthlessly ex ploited, then dumped. I'm saying there are millions o of our times. You can't get by just on conceptual art. The new gallery is con structed on four floors, each dedicated to one of the ancies water, to air at the top. It will have an eclectic collection

Bellany, Currie and Peter ercolours of butterflies by David Measures.

There will be interactive and computer art enough abstract that this is not simply a temple to some pre-modernist era.

But there will no space for Damien Hirst, Nor will we see the work of young Scottish artists such as Christine Borland, Calum Innes, Julie Roberts, Douglas Gordon or Kerry Stuart, who have attracted international attention. listed for the Turner Prize, and most have been selected for the latest British Art Show which opens at the Modern Art Gallery in Edinburgh later this month. Ironically, Frieze magazine, bible of the avantgarde world, said recently that the group had helped to ps; Glasgow on the cultural map. Spalding, who was brough up on a south London cound estate, remains unconvinced. "Af the moment I don't know where they're going, what they're saying," he says. I'm interested in art that shows development. Too much modern art feels that it

> MAGNUS LINKLATER

AROUND THE GALLERIES

more recent paintings A hang opposite a selection of drawings and paintings from the 1940s, 1950s and 1960s in a special display at the Tate St Ives. These recent paintings hang close to each other, punctuating the visitor's circular progress through the galleries. Collectively they create a disturbing retinal effect, like a sudden shift of focus, as if a contact lens has fallen out. The paintings consist of a fine build-up of gradations of shallow thin bands of changing and shifting colour. Instead of being dry geometric exercises, however, they oscillate between creating a disengaged grey mass and pinpointing the sharp quality of light particles in a natural atmosphere. Tate St Ives, St Ives, Cornwall (01736 796226) until April 21

Daphne Wright has moulded and wrapped objects with aluminium foil for her current exhibition. The gallery is transformed into a sparse and scrubby metal forest of trees festooned with elongated manclumps. Wright tries to keep close to the structures of nature; and yet the branches of the trees are unconvincing Chunky thick volumetric sections of branch give way at the end to protruding bent wire. From a corner of the gallery comes the sound of a muffled male voice that mumbles something like "let me go" or "liquid gold" on a perpetual tape loop. Despite the intense lighting in the gallery, the piece is undramatic. London Artforms, 1900) until March 2i ☐ Beth B. an avant-garde film-maker from New York, shows a number of disturbing images on three floors at Laurent Delaye Gallery. She ground floor, 7-15 Rosebery

Avenue London ECI (0171-837

spotlights shine down upon wax casts of parts of women's bodies. A cast, for instance, of the bones of a woman's foot crippling disfigurement. A ruptured breast implant on a torso shows a kind of negative or imploding space. Many of the most terrible things done now and in the past to wornan's bodies are listed and illustrated here. Each piece is shown in the kind of antique display used in medical school before the advent of computer imaging. The text that accom-panies the show is informative, but the form that the images themselves take is ultimately not as upsetting as the facts they portray.

Laurent Delaye Gallery 22 Barrett Street, St Christopher's Place, London WI (0171-629 5905) until March

☐ Lucy Wood's shining new trampoline with a great area of half-inch thick glass suspended from the frame provides an excellent conclusion to a well chosen show of work by eight people. Francis Carlile's table with veneered legs and a worn and unfinished top explores the line between the real and the constructed. Nicholas May's doudy, dusty, mooncratered paintings look good in this thoughtful three-dimensional company. David Foster's paintings consist of dense paper cast in shallow relief suspended and framed within a background mesh, while Kate Davis uses video screen. metal and a blue painted glass surficerd to provide clues which are then scrambled in a hid to make sense out of form. The Tannery, 57 Bermondsey Street London SEI 10171-394

0545/ 0171-234 0587) until

Michael Archer reviews a disturbing yet entertaining American artist

A word from our dummies

A naked woman hurls herself at a wall. The implacability with which it resists this onslaught is painful and absolute. But, as the woman can see, the wall is made of flowers. It should yield to her, providing a soft, fragrant embrace. So she throws herself again and again, only to be rebuffed each

We, the spectators, can un-derstand the whole tragic conceit. The wall is a gallery screen covered in paper flow-ers onto which the video image of the woman is endlessly Visitors to the Lisson Gallery have to step round Flower Wall in order to gain access to the main body of American artist Tony Oursier's exhibition. His art exerts the mesmeric charm of illusion. It also conducts a thoughtful enquiry into one of the most richly productive sources of illusion itself: the images and messages of the communications

Oursler, inspired by the constant mutterings of the homeless inhabitants of his Lower Manhattan neighbourhood, makes effigies and dummies that render suspect the thin line between benign normality and unhinged psycho-"Dummies" is his preferred word for these presences since it implies that they are not merely silent but stupid as well. Disturbingly, though, they both speak and make a fright-ening kind of sense. Their bodies are garments held loosely in shape but unstuffed, while the padded white cloth bags that form their heads act as screens onto which videoed faces are projected. The effect SACHA CRADDOCK | is uncanny and it is hard to

Unsettling: one of the works in Tony Oursier's ahow

the contents of two specimen jars talk to one another. A large (female) heart and a small (male) brain argue about how best to understand the world. Clearly there can be no agreement, no meeting of minds. A common set of standards cannot be established between the emotional and rational views put for-shake off the impression that they really are alive. Oursier has made Lisson Gallery a Babel of voices. They are insistent and menacing: perfectly audible, but never kud enough to drown out their neighbours. The woman in Inversion, for instance, knits her brow and is worried about "going up" too far and too fast. An upside down man, his feet resting on the ceiling, has his head close to the woman's and mouths silently in response to her panicky protests. It is an intimate conversation with a private demon, albeit one that is unsettling for those forced to

All this might be rather intense and serious were it not for the fact that Oursier's work, like the media it comments upon, is endlessly entertaining. His scripts are tightly written and, when not downright funny, at the very least wry and well-observed.

Upstairs, for instance, in a scenario that is far more Steve another. They are each in dialogue with another character who is off mic, and there is speciator can slip. How this could happen is illustrated near by where a small dummy props up one corner of a TV with its head.

Television pumps out the comforting pabulum of day-time TV while its diminutive support talks incessantly at and with it in a variety of voices. The fibn, City/Country (Window), is projected onto a screen shaped like the train window from which it was

Like the unending stream issuing from Television, the rhythmic sound of the train sets a persistent pulse tha throws the idiosyncrasies c the dummies, and of their onlookers, into syncopate

Tony Oursler is at the List Gallery, 52-54 Bell Street, Lonat NW1 (0171-724 2739) until Fe

■ FILM

On a roll the Martin Scorsese roadshow hits London with a view to making a killing on Casino

RADIO

Radio 4 premieres one final, typically bizarre play by the irrepressible Mel Calman

THE

MUSIC

Hear it once, hear it twice: Jonathan Harvey's new work is given an immediate reprise at St John's

■ TOMORROW

How I became the new screen lago: Kenneth Branagh talks about the Bard, acting and fatal jealousy

You talkin' to him - or at him?

ome film directors, press-ganged into criss-crossing the world to plug their latest movie, find that when they reach Rome or Rio they have an interview schedule as busy as Butlin's in November. But there is never a shortage of people keen to schmooze with Martin Scorsese.

And there's only so much time available for him to do it in. The result is an A-list of profile writers granted quality time with him, oneon-one and no holds barred. The rest have to queue.

And do lots of homework. Before you meet Scorsese, maker of Taxi Priver, Mean Streets and Cape Fear, you have to read the production notes, and watch videotapes of the several interviews and press. conferences that Scorsese has already given in various cities about his new film. Casino. The film, which traces the Mafia's move into Las Vegas, stars Robert De Niro and Sbaron Stone. It's a trueish story: only the names have been changed, to protect the guilty and a bevy of mobsters on the FBI's witness protection programme.

So, by the time you finally meet Scorsese, there is little you don't aiready know about him or his movie, apart from how much navel fluff he accumulates. But that doesn't stop dozens of journalists. from all over Europe gathering in London's Dorchester Hotel, patiently sipping coffee and waiting to be furnelled in and out of his suite. At last, it's your turn. But just as you are about to enter Marty's suite, along with five other Euro-pean hacks, all you are wondering is this: if I were Bob De Niro nobody calls him "Robert", because that implies you don't josh with him most nights over a beer at New York's Bowery Bar — how would f approach this interview? How movie person who attracts not Tarantino. reporters, but film buffs. For these Joe Joseph sits in as film buffs

try to impress

Martin Scorsese at his own press.

conference

at a time batches, this is not an interview, this is an audience with one of cinema's cleverest, most mesmerising, most controversial directors.

And when the five of you are finally ushered into the room and led to Scorsese and he says hello, howdyadoo, hello, hi. all you're wondering is when will some overzealous member of your party say. You talkin to me? - just to show they have seen Taxi Driver and that they love Marty and Bob.

But they don't, because they are looking in awe at his neat grey flannels, at his black shirt and his navy jacket, and watching him doesn't go out of the head cos it's fiddle restlessly with what looks small, but it stays in to scramble the navy jacket, and waiting rum fiddle restlessly with what looks like a wellworn blackjack chip, and what they're thinking is: "Jeez, he's shorter than I imagined. Much."

But, having restrained them selves, they then ask questions to think was Consect's devoted which even Scorsese's devoted mother would not be interested in knowing the answers, crucial things like, did he change the carpets in the Vegas casino they used as a film set? Did he get enough sleep during the shooting? Who got to keep the suit de Niro wore in this scene or that?

- This information is not for publication, because nobody would be interested - except maybe a fanzine But they ask all the same. would I get into the part of You will often hear journalists inquisitor, because well, Bob and netually bickering with bemused Marty have, like, a rapport?

And you are asking yourself this movie really means—especially if because Scorsese is the sort of its someone like Quentin

You used music sometimes, or in your head right from the beginning? Scorsese's face is say-ing "What?", but his mouth politely replies: "In many ways."

Then someone says: "Would you reckon that Casino is a wiolent meuwie? I'm from Sweden," and everyone wonders if he's actually from another galaxy because Casi no is so gruesome in parts that it's best not to eat beforehand: and you won't want to eat afterwards. It may be the first diet movie.

But at least it gives Scorsese a chance to get excited. Scorsese gets excited when he's talking about Mafia violence - which he abhors, but feels he has a duty to portray authentically.

"All the violence is accurately depicted," he jabbers, leaning forward; furiously flipping his black-jack chip, "to the point of even having technical advisers there— police, ex-hitmen— saying 'Oh yeah, hed come this way, you'd put the gun here." (Scorsese points the gun here." (Scorsese points two fingers ander the back of his skull), "this way, three shots with a 22 in the back of the head, the bullet goes around the brain, it brain, and then when he hits the ground you hat five more in his head. Silencer, please. You put a silencer on. You have to do that."

Swedes, apparently, aren't con-vinced you do. The rest of the interviewers grin serenely, as if Moses just recited the Ten

"Doesn't it make you sad," says the Teutonic journalist who had noticed Scorsese's ironical way with music, and who was nowdistraught that anyone had the gall to criticise Scorsese's violence quo-ta, when they just pick these little scenes and you do the whole frank and provocative movie on an intellectual level or on a morality kind of level, doesn't it make you sad that they just pick out these, you know, on the surface morality?"

You could tell from the way Scorsese looked that he was. You

"You used music in an ironical way," someone tells Martin Scorsese. "Was that in your head from the beginning?" Scorsese's face is saying "What?", but his mouth politely replies: "In many ways" CONCERT

Twice bitten

Sinfonia 21/Brabbins St John's

AS THE "composer in association" for three years with the chamber orchestra Sinfonia 21, Jonathan Harvey had the benefit of hearing his new Hidden Voice, commissioned by the orchestra, twice in one concert. Its premiere opened the programme and, after a brief question-and-answer between the composer and the conductor. Martyn Brabbins, the novelty was instantly repeated. If this is a commung opnion offered by the orchestra in a debate with its audience about the presentation of new music, I am all for it. With a short work (less than seven minutes in this instance), one's ears are opened and ready to absorb more detail from the second performance, which attractively highlighted what amounts to an conversation-piece, the eponymous hidden voice" that of a muted violin, viola and cello heard in relation to the other instruments.

Textures thereby set up impinged more directly when they were repeated, focusing attention on the delicacy of string writing in contrast to a more ritual sounding of brass and tubular bells. Otherwise Brabbins conducted convincing performances that seemed to meet with the composer's approval, and added another novelty: the Sketch No 2, EBB from the juvenilia of Benjamin Britten.

Its first public performance here followed a broadcast of several works from Britten's teenage years. This one was composed when he was 17. His own initials in the title suggest a self-portrait as the viola player he once was, through the expressive association of solo viola (warmly played by Martyn Outram) with the string ensemble.

For the rest. Piers Lane was a deft and scintillating soloist in the Shostakovich Piano Concerto No 2 but Ravel's Ma Mere l'Oye found its requisite balance of content and enchanted character only in the later movements.

Ned Chaillet on how Times man Mel Calman's last play made it to radio

Late show for a free thinker

Calman. "Funny and audacious, and I don't know where Radio 4 can put it." Mel's new play was on my desk at BBC Radio Drama, and one of the leading roles was written for a talking

Mel had previously written plays about a man who woke up one morning to discover he had grown rabbit ears, about a pawnshop debate between a: talking saxophone and a ventriloquist's doll and, exceptionally memorable, a tragicomedy about the death of a rum baba (played by Richard Griffiths).

As quirky as his cartoons for the front page of The Times and his books. Mel's plays for radio revelled in the freedom of the imagination. Why shouldn't a pastry shelf in a sono teashop—the model was Patisserie Valerie, where we odd calorific research—be stocked with a flighty Empsh. stocked with a flighty French eclair, a philosophical strudel and an irritable rum baba. reluctantly drying out?

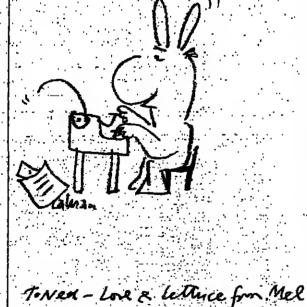

And why shouldn't their fate be in the hands of a dithering would-be adulterous couple randomly selecting cakes as they endlessly postpone consummation?

That play, Sweet Tooth, struck a popular chord from the day of its original Radio 3 transmission, and has been heard around the world. The morning after the first broadcast I received a call from The Times of the drama of the Netherlands asking for the script, the name of Mel's agent and the rights (the Dutch apparently having their own sweet tooth for comedies of love and death)

When it went out later on Radio 4. we got a cheerful letter from the author Len Deighton asking for more of Mel's plays to be broadcast on Radio 4, so they could be heard even further afield in Heartache was the name of the new play, and it was meant the new play, and it was meant the warring interests of the different body parts made a Radio 4, but now there was fie talking penis to consider. And the regular drama slots on daytime radio. And the regular audience.

Mel told me he had written the role for David de Keyser, and that when I offered it 10

him I should reassure him: "It is a big part."

We fixed a time to meet for lunch on a Tuesday early in February, 1994. On the preceding Friday, I woke to hear, on Radio 4, the news that Mel. had died of a heart attack. He had been in the Empire Cinema in Leicester Square with his partner of ten years, Deborah Moggach.

Her later account in The closing of the cinema, the clearing of Leicester Square, of his ambulance and the journey to the hospital, would have appealed to Mel's sense of theatre, and of comedy, inextricably linked. . I spoke to Deborah twice over the next couple of days. and re-read the play several times. It had everything except an ending. Harshly, ironically, it was about the body parts of a man who goes into hospital after a heart attack. heart attack mevitable. Mel had himself had a heart attack, and had banished smoking and heavy drinking from his life, drawing wonderful cartoons in support of a

Although I had worked with Mel on all of his previous plays, no one knew him better than Deborah. If the play was to be finished, the person to find the concluding scene was the woman who was with him when he died. She agreed to finish Heartache and Michael Green, the Controller of Radio 4, said he would find a place for it. Which brought us back to talking penises and tea-time audiences on network radio.

hen he turned to radio, Mel had put aside the well-made plays he had taught himself to write. A great fan of the theatre, he had written a play that was immaculately constructed, witty, sophisticated and knowingly cynical about adulterous couples.

We had worked logether on The Times, with, on occasion, Mel drawing extremely furnity illustrations that reflected our adventures at the Edinburgh Festival. When I arrived in radio I suggested that he ignored the well-constructed play and create radio cartoons, like his cartoon book, The Big Novel. Eventually we did The Big Novel for radio.

wrote for actors he loved; the Rum Baba for Griffiths; the Rabbit Man for Jim Broadbent, parts for Melinda Walker, Meg Davies, and with music from his friend Ronnie Scott - Pawnshop Blues, another play for

Mel was the sort of man who would lead his daughters around an art exhibition backwards in order to avoid the queues: going forward. : His plays are like that. And. it must be admitted, not every audience relishes a cartoonist's spin on experience. But letters about his plays have never stopped coming in.-

Heartache has finally happened because Radio 4 found room at night for the play, and because Deborah Moggach knew how to end the play. when real emotion and com-edy would come together with Mel's broad comic strokes.

I will never stop missing moments with Mel: at a hotel breakfast in Edinburgh dur-ing the Books Festival where he and Deborah were being celebrated; at the Groucho Club where we plotted new plays: at the Garrick Club, or in his Cartoon Gallery with Ian Hislop leaping on top of Mel's desk to applaud an exhibition of Private Eye cartoonists. The front page of The Times has never been the same for me without him.

But bringing his final work to radio is another kind of joy. Completed by Deborah, with Meg Davies taking the part written for her as the ex-wife, it also provides the moments where four of his favourite actors come on as the body

True to Mel's intent, the Penis was offered to David de Keyser as a big part, his agent confirmed that he would rise to the occasion, and, yes, he plays it circumcised.
What Mel would have heard, as the play-materialises on Radio 4, is Charlotte Green announcing Richard Grif-fiths as the Brain, Lee Montague as the Heart, Jim Broadbent as the Stomach, and David de Keyser as the Penis. Audacious. Yes.

■ The author is producer of Heart-Ever after the first play, Mel Radio 4 at 11pm on Thursday

300 MINUTES FOR ALL BT SUBSCRIBERS WHO READ THE TIMES AND THE SUNDAY TIMES 5 hours of FREE phone calls with BT

The Times has teamed up with The Sunday Times and BT to give every reader the chance to benefit from five hours of free phone calls.

Over the next four weeks, tokens each worth ten minutes of free calls will appear every day in The Times. And every Sunday for the next three weeks tokens for free BT calls - each worth 40 minutes - will appear in The Sunday Times.

To qualify for five hours of free calls from BT all you have to do is collect 18 different tokens from The Times and three of the four tokens published in The Sunday Times.

Don't worry if you miss a token or two as a total of 28 tokens will appear everyday in The Times and The Sunday Times until Saturday, March 9, 1996.

Each day as you collect the tokens you will be adding to the amount of minutes of free calls you can get from BT and, by collecting 21 tokens, you will receive 300 minutes (five hours) of free calls. The calls will be credited to your BT bill at the company's local weekend rate.

Start collecting your tokens today The second of 18 Times tokens you need to collect to get your five hours of free calls appears, right. Cut it out and keep it safe. When you have collected all the necessary tokens, post them with the application form which appeared yesterday. (It will appear again in subsequent issues of both newspapers). Applications must arrive by Saturday, March 30, 1996. Readers are not permitted to claim less than, or more than, 300 minutes (five hours) of free calls.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS 1. A total of 21 different tokens must be collected to quality for this offer, G which three must be from The Sunday Times and 18 from The Times. This will entitle you to 300 minutes (five hours) of free ST phone calls which will be credited to your BT phone bill. 2. Credits will Se applied at the standard BT local weekend rate at the time of the application, 3. All 21 tokens, adding up to 300 minutes (five hours), mast be sent with the official application form and seasoned on or before Saturday, March 30, 1996. Only original tokens can be accepted. 4. Part redensption of tokens (less than 300 matutes) is not permitted. Nor are claims for more than 300 matutes. $.Tokens cannot be exchanged for cash or used in conjunction with any other offse. The cash value of tokens is 0.001p 6. Readers must submit a velid BT residential phone number with the full STD code. 7. The offer is limited to one application per BT residential phone number. 8. Although reasonable affort will be made to apply the credit to your next available phone bill, credits may be applied to a subsequent bill. 9. Applications must be sent into the application is assertance with a supplication muon is sent to. Three Numeropapers/BT Free Calif Offer, Newcastle upon Tymo X. NG85 702. 10. Applications sent to any other address or submitted with a phone bill or at a BT shop will not be accepted. 11. If you have any queries about this promotion, please calt 0171-867 0406 between 9.30am and Spm Monday to Friday, 12. If you wish to check your application has been success our halpline on: 0197-418 6533.

CHOICE 1

Fiona Shaw dons the crown of Richard II for the last time VENUE: Until Saturday at the Cottesion

TODAY'S CHOICE

A daily guide to arts and entertainment compiled by Kris Anderson

nEE, near Newbury (01635

46044 Opens tonight, 7 30pm. Then Mon-Set, 7.30pm, mats Thurs and Sat 2 30pm, Mar 16, 6.30pm (5)

St George's, Brandon Hel (0117-923 0359) Tonighi, 7.30pm. 👸

HULL: Opera Rorth takes up residence for one week with yet anoth whice-barrip schedule. Phyllids Lidyd revies her outstanding production of Puccin's less-yerier, La Sonème, the common the membratic state of the company triumphently cames off Verdi's middle-period melodrama Luise Miller

n English and modern dress, and they gamely take on Kurt Well's "lost"

gamely take on Kurt Well's "lost" Broadway musical, Love Ulla. New, Kingaton Square (01482 22666)

THEATRE GUIDE

House full, returns only
Some seets available
Seats at all prices

☐ THE FIELDS OF AMBROSIA (where everyone knows yet) Proposterous American musical about love and the electric Char, Also as unpleasant as you would expect, Aldwych, Strand, WC2 (0171-416 8048), Tonight Sat, 7 45pm; mass Wed and Sat, 3pm. Final week.

THE GLASS MENAGERIE: Sen Mendes's radiant production; Zoé .

Wanemaker and Clare-Sidner play mother and daughter, Ben Walden & Tom

Comedy, Parson Street, SW1 (0171--369 1731). Mon-Sat, 7-30pm, Sat, 3pm.

AN INSPECTOR CALLS: Stephen

bi An Interfect Of Caulty, Septem Dailty's powerful production, with Nicholas Woodeson as the all-knowing respector, and Edward Peel and Susan Engel as the piters of society. Garricki, Charing Cross Road, WC2 (1711–194 5060), Mon-Fir, 7.45pm; Sat, 8 15pm, mats Wed, 2.30pm, Sat, Spm.

SLAUGHTER CITY, New play,

■ CHOICE 2

GLASGOW Andrew Litton's brisezy Issaed of American music and arts — 1 Lies to be in America — continues toragini with the Scottish Chember Orchestra's stake to Broadway, John McGilm conducts a programme of Cole Porter, Rodgens & Heit and Jerome Kern, with aprogno Kim Creawell and

Porter, Roogen's 8 Hart and Jerome kern, with apprains Kim Creawell and battone George Divorsity. The SCO appears egain on Finday for a programme that features types 5 The Unanswered Question, Copland's Appalachian Spring and the European premiers of Zwilich's Triple Concerto Information: (0141-227 5511).

LONDON GALLE-HIES Barbisen: Disphiev: Creator of the Baltets Russes (0171-838 4141).
British Massium. Images from the Western Lake revivel of colour print in contemporary Crime (1071-838 1655) Rational Gailery: Pentungs from Nebonal Trust Houses (0177-747 2865). Medical Portrait Gailery: Flictard and Mans Craway (017 1-306 0055). Phyeraide Gaileries: Youch
Kulsuminator photographs of Shaidi (0181-741, 2255). Royal College of Art: Design of the times 100 Years of the RCA (0171-884 5020). Tater Gézanne (0177-887 8000). V & A Jan Art from India; Back of the Enveloper famous at and design

Envelope: famous at and design scribbles (0171-938 8500) ... White chapet: Emit Noide (0171-522 7888 place about labour conditions, confusing but vivid. Pit, Barbican; Silk Street, EC2 (0171-638 8891). Tonight, 7 15pm.

VALLEY SONG: Athel Fugard plays

☐ VALLEY SUNKS: And Hygern pays the grandister in his steet play, with Esmoralda Bâhl as the gri daycreaming of life in the city Royal Coort, Sparre Square, SW1 (0171-73) (745). Mon-Sat, 7 30pm, mat Sat, 3,30pm,

LI THE WAY OF THE WOLDS.

Thyllide Lloyd directs Congress's most lamous comedy of love trustrated and hillide. Roger Allem and From Shew interesting as the lovers, Geraldine McEwan outstanding as a tragic Lady Westlord.

Wishfort, Matiental (Lyttefton), South Bank, SE1 (0171-928 2252), Tonght, 7:30pm, Wed, 2.15 and 7:30pm, In ap. (2)

□ Buddyr Strand (0,171-930 B800)
□ Cels New London (0,171-4050072) □ Deed Galityr Apolic
(0,171-494-5070) □ Gresse,
Dominion (0,171-416-6060)
□ Jolsson Victoria Paince (0,171-83413,17) □ Miss Salpon Dury Lone
(0,171-494-5400) □ The

(UT) 1-39 (HU)]. I hi The Shekespeare Hovue: Vauriodia (U171-836 9867). ☐ Startight Express: Apollo Victone (U171-828 8965). ☐ The Women in Black: Forume (U171-836 2238)

THE WAY OF THE WORLD:

LONG RUNNERS

onight, 7,30cm, Until Sat. LONDON GALLERIES

Jazz saxophone virtuoso Andy Sheppard blows into Bristol VENUE: Tonight at

THE

POP I

As polished a bluesman as ever played the Empire: guitarist Robben Ford shows his class

POP 2

... but the Astoria crowd take a while to adjust to Frank Black's weirder sci-fi excursions

LONDON

PHILHARMONIA TIMES TWO- The emilinangiumia Times TWO The proparame for the first of two concerts his week. Spring Cantata. Pusican Foll-congs and Symphony No. 2. Sarah Chang is the solerst on Thursday for works by Weber, Mendelssohn and Bahrins.

Brahms, Festival Heli, South Benk, SE1 (0171-960 4242) Tonight, Thurs, 7 30pm (5) THE MISANTHROPE. Opening right for Manin Camp's contemporary version of Molière, directed by Lindsay Posnor. Ken Scott and Bisabeth McGovern Jakes

the leads Young Visc. The Cut. SE1 (0171-928 6363) Tonight, 7 30pm. Then Mon-Sat, 7 30pm, mats Wed and Set. 2.30pm Unit Mar 23 2 RICHARD II This week is London's last chance to see Fiona Shaw as the puppyish long. This daring piece of casting succeeds, as does the whole of

Deborah Wamer's production National (Cottesion), South Bank, SE1 (0171-928 2252), Fn, 7pm and Sal. 1.30 and 7pm (2) ELSEWHERE

BAGINOR Wendy Toye directs George Stles and Anthony Drews, authors of many a Watermill musical, multer revue Warts and All Likely to be with and whimsical The company also includes

THE CHANGING ROOM. David Storey's tascinating play about a rugby league team preparing for the weekly game .lames Macdonald directs the third in the season of Royal Court Duke of York's. St Martin's Lane, WC2 (0171-836 5122) Mon-Sal, 7 30pm, mars Thurs and Sat, 3pm, (5)

Angela Thome reopens Ayckboum's ingenious time-travel play, fleaing from a vengelul enemy waithe doors of a hotel that take her forward and back a Couple of decades Savoy, Strand, WC2 (0171-836 8689) Mon-Sat, 7 30pm, mats Wed and Sal, 3pm (5)

☐ EAST LYNNE, Mrs Henry Wood's famous tale of the downtall of Lady Isabet Vane, played by Rechet Power (Mary Garth or Maddlerrarch; Philip Franks denets new adaptation by Lea Evans, who made a fine version of The Tenans of Wildfell Hall last year. Greenwich, Crooms Hri, SE10 (0181-858 7755). Mon-Sat, 7.45pm, mat Sat, 2.30pm. ⑤

■ ERASARUS MONTANUS; Award-wirming production of Holberg's satirity view or matic Deminant by the Greenwich Studio Theater (in enlet). Part of the "I Wish I'd Seen That" season BAC, Lavender Hill, Battersea, SW11 (0171-223 2223) Tue-Sat, 7,30pm, Sun, 5,90pm (Q)

CLOCKERS (18): Spike Lee's heavy-handed version of Richard Price's novel about young drug-dealers in Brooklyn With Harvey Keitel, Delroy Lindo and

Empire (0171-437 1234) INGIM Trocadero (5) (0171-434 0031) Rio (0171-254 6677) Ritzy (0171-737 2121) UCI Whiteleys (5) (0171-792 3332)

DESPERADO (18) Overblown follow-up to El Metricute, with Antonio Bendensias the guitar-playing littler specing vengeence Director, Robert Rodriguez. Ctaphson Pictoria House (0171-498 3323) MGMs: Chalena (0171-498 3323) MGMs: Chalena (0171-352 5099) Haymarket (0171-639 1527) Tottenham Court Road (0171-636 1539) Bits (0171-672 2130) UKC

6143) Ribby (0171-737 2121) UCI Whiteleys (5) (0171-792 3332) Warner (5) (0171-437 4343)

JOHNNY MNEMONIC (15). The Yakuza want the contents of Keanu Reeves's head. Futuratio folly from

◆ A LITTLE PRINCESS (U).

reycepunk author William Glason Decior, Robert Longo, Odonas: Konstrigton (01426 314656) Serias Cottage (01426 914038) West End (01426 915574)

Marvelous rendering of the children's risearc, with Liesel Matthews as the actives Chimage (1) 11-636 61-8) Trocadero (2) (0171-434 0031) UCI Whiteleys (2) (0171-4343) Warner (2) (0171-437 4343) Watermans (0181-568 1176)

boarding school gri plunged from nones to rags. Director, Altonoo Cuarón MGMa: Chelsea (0171-352 5096)

DESPERADO (18): Overblown follow

NEW RELEASES

CINEMA GUIDE

Geoff Brown's segesment of films in London and (where indicated with the symbol +)

◆ LOCH MSSS (PG), Ted Danson looks for Nessie in a dwt, harmless adventure. With Jooly Fichardson. Divector, John Henderson. Nessies: Fulham Road © (0171-370 2536) Haymarket (0171-339 1527) Trocadero © (0171-343 031) UCI Whiteleys © (0171-732 3332) Warner © (0171-437 4343)

RENDEZ-VOUS IN PARIS (PG): Three Heintrez-vous in Paris (r-s): It tales of love and chance. Featine delight from Enc Rollmer, with a youthul cast of unknowns. Milmenn (0171-235 4253) Renotr. (0171-837 8402).

CURRENT

DEVIL IN A BILUE DRIESS 115) Splendidly atmosphene thrifler with Denzel Washington as the ordinary Joe in late 1940s Los Angeles sturnbling over corpses, police and corruption. Directed by Carl Franklin from Watter

+ FATHER OF THE BRIDE PART II (PG) Stove Martin faces the patter of trry leet. Bland comedy sequel, with

Ticket information supplied by Society of London Theatre Dane Kealon and Kimberly Williams, MGMs: Baker Street (0171-935 9772) Chelsee (0171-352 5096) Odeons: Kensington (01425 914656) Lalcester

 HEAT (15); LA detective Al Pacino tries to exich Robert De Niro's crooks.
 Excellent apic crims drama from winter-director, Michael Mann. Excessit leak of the data in continued director, Michael Marin, Bartologo & (171-438 6891)
Clephann Picture House (0171-498 3323) MiGilda: Folhago Roed (0171-370 2639) Trocadero & (0171-434 0031) Notting Hill Coronet & (0171-737 0705) Odeon Swips Collage (01428 914998) Riby (0171-737 2321) Screen (9aler Street (0171-935 2772) Screen (9aler Street (0171-935 2772) Screen (19aler Street (0171-935 2772) Middle of the Collage & (0171-726 3322) Warmer & (0171-437 4343)

WAITING TO EXHALE (15) Crude comedy-drama about black women's men problems. With Whitney Houston ana renges issess.

MGMs: Shaffesbury Average (0171-836 6279) Trocadero & (0171-434 0031 Odeons: Kensington (01426 914668) Swiss Cottage (01426 914098) UCI Watheleys & (0171-792 3332) Warner & (0171-437 4343) WITHNAIL & I (15) Revival of Bruce

Richard E. Grant and Paul McGann as District.
MGMa: Fullium Road (0171-370 2636) Shaftesbury Avenue (0171-636 6279) Rixy (0171-737 2121)

CAMBRIDGE BO & cc 0171 494 5054 cc (no big iso) 312 1992/ 344 4444 Gape 413 3321/ 312 1970/

404 5454

FAME

LIMITED SEASON

THE REDUCED

GREASE

St George's, Brandon Hill Reconditioned

mojo in full working order and profitable trend for rock stars in recent years. Both Gary Moore and Eric Clapton have found that a trip back to their blues roots has earned them newfound popularity — and in-creased record sales.

The: American musician Robben Ford is the latest guitarist to have booked his return ticket, with a new album entitled Handful of Blues. Some may argue that he has had less distance to travel back than most, having recorded blues albums with both singer Jimmy Wither-spoon and his family group. the Charles Ford Band, in recent years.

Then again, as both the new, album and his live appearance testify, basics is probably too blunt a word for Ford's music. This is blues moulded, polished and perfected by years of playing with everybody from George Harrison to Miles

Backed by a tight band that included Tom Brechtlein on drums and Roscoe Beck on bass, he displayed, from the very first number, Running Out on Me, a style of playing that was fluid, inventive and rarely self-indulgent. There

A s former front man and main songwriter in the Pixies, Frank Black was partly responsible for creating the irrepressible pop-sound that Nirvana used as a blueprint for 1991's Nevermind. However, rather than cashing in on his own legacy, have found attention much harder to the Blue Line Empire, W12 was a controlled passion and almost horn-like quality (shades of Miles perhaps) to his solos, especially on ballads like Nina Simone's Don't Let

Robben Ford and

Me Be Misunderstood or the Otis Rush classic. My Love Will Never Die. But it was not just his instrumental talent that impressed. He has admitted to having taken singing lessons recently and his voice, although light-toned, was heard to good effect on the Ray Charles number, Don't Let the Sun Catch You Cryin'. in a gig that was sold out and wildly applauded. Ford proved to be very much his own man. With a crossover appeal that has made him popular with both rock and blues audiences, he is probably the prototype for the bluesmen of the late 1990s. And, like his namesake, it's a model he has down to a tee.

Black to the future black clothes and big bald dome do give him a certain other-Black disbanded the Pixies at the worldly charm. height of Nirvana's fame and opted for

Black's fatest al-

the show with its opening track. The come by. True, he wasn't blessed with Marsist, the weird atmospherics and extra guitarist, bass player and drum-Deal's looks and doesn't trade in the surf-style riff of which manages to mer, most of the crowd looked like old same witty stage repartee. But his combine all three. Then he gave us Pixies fans waiting to hear songs from the eerie Los Ange-les, taken from his previous two al-burns. But it took the Astoria, Wl a fulf-time solo career.

Since then, while fellow Pixie Kim, Ray, further industry for science fiction, Ain't Me to propel the first signs of life.

Breeders and the Amps, Black seems to surfing and surrealism and he began into the set.

seven or eight years ago. After half an hour, there seemed to be little chance of hearing anything lively, let alone anything from Blacks previous life. Then Black hit a brilliant three-song stretch which began with the soaring single Men In Black and was followed by the cranked-up instrumental Mosh, Don't Pass The Guy and the surreal Kicked In The Taco. By the time the band returned for an encore of impressive B-sides such as Pray A Little Faster, Black was finally Although Black has a new band of inspiring the kind of reaction he would have expected in his previous band.

ANN SCANLON

Merry-making soon goes beyond a joke

Frank Black

TOM BANCROFT's refreshingly down-to-earth ambition as a composer is to write "good tunes that you can hum on the bus". It was consequently no surprise, on this London leg of his 14-piece orchestra's national tour, to find them eschewing the more esoteric brands of big-band jazz in favour of a lively, accessible repertoire comprising everything from light, Basic-ish swing to no-holds-barred free-for-alls in the

Bancroft was born in London in 1967, but moved to Scotland nine years later, and his band draws several key members - drummer John Rae. guitarist Kevin Mackenzie, trumpeter Colin Steele, saxophonist Phil Bancroft Mingus tradition.

(Tom's brother) and bassist Kenny Ellis country's finest small groups, the John Rae Collective. Rae himself is a neat, supple drum-mer, the subtle with his ebullient, abrasive tenor playing, and trumpeter Claude Deppa who gives it life with his mixture of spearing stridency and musical ribaldry. The band went into entertainment mode as soon as they took the stage.

ty number, Cat and Mouse, featuring Tom Bancroft spoken vocals from Orchestra the leader and feline Purcell Room noises from the horn section. A little less jokey, but no less heartheat of Bancroft's project, but it is exuberant, was the subsequent Ban-Phil Bancroft who sets the band's tone croft composition. Pie-ology, replete with squalling brass, querulous tenor and sudden ensemble climaxes, all decorated with typically unpredictable spurts and smears from Deppa, Skewwhiff tangos, dark skeins of folkish skirling and uncomplicated, riff-based, shouting swing followed to almost hitting a jump-jive equal proportions. By the interval, it groove with a novel-was difficult to suppress a yearning for something discreet and soothing. A six-part suite, Birk Hedges, inimpressionistic opening attempting to recapture the awesome splendour of the night-time sky came close to delivering it. However, a humorous follow-up piece, involving the horn section chastising an imaginary dog. dispelled the mood, and it was back to slightly laddish rambunctiousness for much of the concert.

COLISEUM 0171 532 6300 (2414) ENGLISH NATIONAL OPERA Ton? 7:30 THE PEARL PISHERS Tomor 500 TRUSTEN & ISOLDE ROYAL OPERA HOUSE 0171 304 4000 for Box Off & Standby risk Tickets available on the day The Royal Opera Ton'l Fri 7.20 AIDA

Fornor (Last Night) 7.00 THE NEDSTANKER MARRIAGE Thur 7:30 (Last Night) SAMSON ET DALILA Men 7.00 (First Night) SEMELE The Royal Ballet Sat 7.20 Ashten's FOLAPSOCY/NEW

THEATRES

"MOREW LLOYD WE SUNSET BOULEVARD

BEST MUSICAL PETULA CLARK

20-R CREDIT CARD BOOKINGS
CALL 0771 344 0055 (ting fac)
GSP BOOKING 413 3302 (bing fac)
No booking tee for Adelphi
Box Office Callers led Information 0171 379 696 Mon-Set 7.45 Mats Thur & Set 300 Tue & Set 15:00 Tickets from £12:50

ART GALLERIES

ART GALLERIES & EXHIBITIONS The Times will be publishing regular listings in these columns

July Cooper or Joanna Hauptman on Tel. 0171 481 1982

3 WEEKS CHILTI THE LONG & THE SHORT & THE TALL

Even 8, Mate Thu 3, Set S APOLLO 494 SDERJSM 4444/420 0000. Eves B, Main Thy 3, Set S & 8.15 MAYLEY MELLS "Magnificent" F.T. JESHEY SEAGROVE "Respectable" Times

DEAD GUILTY Uchard Harris' new play is THE PERFISCT THRULLER' S.Times EXTENDED TO MARCH 18 APOLLO LABATTE

AMERICAN ULTOYO WEBSER

"ANDREW LLOYO WEBSER & TIM RICE'S BLOCKBUSTER Gon

FEB 22 - APR 20 Tue-Set 7.20, Meta Thu, Set 3.00 Riverdance returns 16 May APOLLO VICTORIA e: 0171 418 6065 e: 2012 0171 344 4444/0171 420 0000 Gps 0171 416 6075/ 413 3321

Andrew Lloyd Webber's New production of STARLIGHT EXPRESS "A REBORN THEATRICAL DES.IGHT Doly Mail White knucke runs 19.45 dely

MISS SAIGON

CALLERS DUCHESS 00 0171 464 5070 00 344

DON'T DRESS FOR DINNER only Outrageous" T.Out a miracle of the treatre" S. Times POR 7 WEEKS ONLY

Even 7:30, Mate Thu & Set 3.00 FORTUNE BO & CC 0171 636 2296/0171 312 8033 ANDREY Susse Hill's

FORTUNE Sundays Only "Colo Astrobating" MARUS . GARRICK (117) 464 5085/ 0171 312 1990 (no bl.g fee)

The Royal National Theatre production JB Prestry's

"ONE OF THE MOST TWO HOURS OF ENTHRALLING, VISUALLY STUDENTS DRAMATO TO MONTH 7/45, Set 500 & 8.15. Wed mut 230

GELGUD 44 505/34 444 TON CONTI SHARON GLESS IN MEET, STRICKI'S CHAPTER TWO RED PRICE PREVS NOW! Non-Fits, Main Thu 3 Set 5 & 8.15

HAMED HAMME PROCESS CATS Even 7 45 Made Top & Set 300 LATECOMERS NOT ADMITTED Dalcie Gray CECAN WILDES WHE METERIAL SIN MOTION, PLEASE BE PROMPT,
BIRS OPIN 26 845
LIMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAIL AN IDEAL HUSBAND Eres 7.45, Male Wed & Sec 350 "GREAT & GLORIOUS" & THEM! DARLY FROM BOX OFFICE

HER MAJESTY'S 24y 495 5400 Ring Self CC 344 4444400 0000 Ring last Grps 464 5454413 3311,530 612 ANDREW LLOYD WEIMER'S THE PHANTOM OF

THE OPERA Directed by HAROLD PRINCE 160W 9802 TO DIEC 96 Error 7 45 Mete Wed & Set 3400, Apply to Sex Office delay for refuses

LONDON PALLADIUM SO/OC 0771 464 5220/344 4444 (27 tid serv chg) 420 0000 Grps 0771 420 0280 "A MAJOR THEATRICAL EVENT" Daily Mail OLIVER

2HD SPECTACULAR YEAR LIONEL BART'S MARTENMECE YOU CAN'T ASK FOR MORE S.Term Even 7:30 Mars Wed & Set 2:30 SOME QOOD SEATS AVAIL MOW FOR WEEKDAY PERFS

NATIONAL THEATHE BO 0771 928 2522 Grps 0171 629 0741,24% ec birg les 0171 429 0000 CLEVIER Today 200 & 7 57 A LITTLE MORT Mysic Music S hina by Stephen Sondains, book by Hugh Winsler, Tomor 7.55 MOTHER
COURAGE & MER CHILDREN Beriod identified the new version by Devil Hero LYTTELTON Torn 739, Toron 2 15 & 7 30 THE WAY OF THE WORLD

William Congrese COTTENLOE Today 250 & 730, Torror 730 STANKLEY Para Same HEW LONDON Druly Lane WC2 BO 0171 405 9072 CC 9171 404 4079 201 G171 344 4444(20) 0000 Grae 0171 413 3311/200-6123 THE ANDREW LLOYD WEBSERY TS. BLIOT INTERNATIONAL

OLD VIC 0171 928 8855/312 8034 "ALAN SERNETT'S SUPERB ADAPTATION F.T. The Royal National Theses THE WIND IN THE WILLOWS

Out Now Backing to 30th Minch 1995 Man - Sat 7.20pm Wed & Sat mats 230pm

LES MISERABLES NOW IN ITS 11TH RECORD-BREAKING YEAR Eves 7:30 Mets Tru & Set 2:30

until the interval UMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAIL. DALY FROM BOX OFFICE PHOENEX BO/CC 0171 399 1733 (344 444/42) 0000 (866) BEST MUSICAL

BLOOD BROTHERS Strings the endlessee to be the fact and reading its approval "O Mai Even 7.45 Mats Titem 3 Set 4 PICCADELLY 0171 309 1734

BEST MUSICAL ring Standard Award 16 BEST MUSICAL BEST ACTRESS SI A MUSICAL Cardin O'Corner '56 Older August Noticescons Jorry Michael Hentage & Stowert's MACK & MABEL

THE HOLLYWOOD ROMANCE
Mon-Sat at 7.45

ing to 25 Se

FUNNY MONEY PONTE BURET COMEDY

1996 OLIVIER AWARDS

"LAURIS GALORE—
A WINNERTD. Exp

"Better than Frydens...
priceinee D. Tel

Mon-Sat 800, Mate The 300, Set 500 PRINCE EDWARD 0171 734 8851 color no big hely Fint Call 420 0100 /0171 344 4444 Grape 650 5723. BEST MUSICAL Lourence Obder America 93

PLAYHOUSE 0171 839 4401

(017) 420 0000(017) 344 444 . SYLVIA SYMB HENRY MICHE

LYNDA BARON HAY COOKEY

TREYOR BANKSTER PETER ELLIS RON ALDRIDGE

2 RODNEY BEWES

IN RAY COOKEY'S

CRAZY FOR YOU Ever 7.45. Mais Thu & Set 300-GOOD SEATS AYAHABLE THIS WEEK MUST END 24 FEB PRINCE 1901/WARD 0171 447 5400 First Call 420 0100 (24hr Blog 16e) 344 4444 Groupe 420 0200

MARTIN GUERRE A New Musical by BOUBLE & SCHONBERG FROM 22 MAY 1998 ROYAL SHAKESPEARE 74 HEAVENLY YEAR COMPANY LONDON: VAUDEWILLE 0171 835 9957 €

420 000 jold 4444 (no big ne)
"For a spenting, affectionals and fillutious evening in the themse, go mid see The RSC production of LES ENFANTS DU PARADIS TODY 7.55 THE PIT SLAUGHTER CITY Too's REVUE"

VALIDEVILLE (1171 R38 9987 oc 344 SEATS NY Terms FROM 20 FEB. Mos-Sat Sport, Wed &

VICTORIA PALACE BO & oc too /0171 930 6123 (big but) 1996 OLDVIER AWARDS

BEST MUSICAL BRIAN CONLEY BEST ACTOR

BEST SUPPORTING ARTISTE IN A MUSICAL JOLSON

Worth walking a million sales to see 10 Mai Engs Mon-Sat 7:30, Mats Wed & Sat NOW BOOKING TO 20th SEPT

SECTION ATTEND THE THEATRE AT LEAST 2/3 TIMES A YEAR. 152,000 GO TO THE THEATRE ONCE

EVERY 2/3 MONTHS. To advertise in The Times 0171 481 1982

All major credit cards accepted

A MANAGER AND

146.7%

A STATE STATE OF

1 2 ALE SE

Charle Com

ئېيىنىلىسىد د

spired by Bancroft's country home in East Lothian, seemed to promise just this in the second half, and an

CHRIS PARKER

ENTERTAINMENTS

OPERA & BALLET

NART BALLET/NEW PAGE PAS DE DEUX/ VacAlign's THE NOITATION

JOSEPH AND THE ARRAZING TECHNICOLOR DREAMCOAT MINITO PHELLIP SCHOFFELD

To promote your forthcoming exhibition Contact or Fax. 0171 481 9313

by Willia Hell FAME IS A PEEL-GOOD TREMPH" Neil On Sunday REATHTAKING" Independ civilining evening O "BREATHTAKING" Independent Even 7:30, Nata Wed & Sat 3.00 COMEDY BO & cc 0171 359 1731 cc 0171 420;0000 (no big lee) ZOE WANAMAKER in THE GLASS MENAGERIA TEMPERSEE WILLIAMS Directed by Sem Mendee Even 7.30 Mets Set 3.00

CRITERION B/O 0171 369 1747

DOMERICAL Tickedines, 0171 416 6080/ 0171 420 0000 (tikg tes), Grps 0171 416 6075/413 3321/420 0200 Starting RECHARD CALICIN and SAMANTHA JANUS and SAMANTHA JANUS "Feel, furious & fur. tup, fur."

Daily Misror
Eves 7.30, Meta Wed & Set Som
TRENETS AVAILABLE - APPLY DALLY TO BOX OFFICE DRURY LANE THEATRE ROYAL 5/64/413 33/11/312 8000

MISS SAIGON
"THE CLASSIC LOVE STORY OF OUR TIME" HOW IN ITS
"TH SENSATIONAL YEAR!
Even 7.45 Mats Wed & Sai Don
Good seems small for Who like & some peris - apply 8.0.
FOR TELEPHONE/POSTAL BOOKINGS & PERSONAL D171 494 5080 (BKG FEE)

MOM M 112 30 AEVy.

-V EVRICA COMEDIA. E 3rd

1011-1235; Evergini Anguer 1011-1235; Evergini Anguer 1011-1252 60 ftt. 1 Anguer 1011-1252 60 ft. 1 Anguer 1011-125

DUKE OF YOMES 0171 836 S122/9837 oc 420 0000/344 4444 (24hrs. no fee) ROYAL COURT CLASSICS Devid Storey's Classic Sporting Celebration THE CHANGING ROOM

THE WOMAN IN BLACK Adapted by Stephen Helicites
"A real staff of borror" S.Tim HOW IN ITS 8TH YEAR

n-Set Sprin Mater Tues 3pre Set 4p Forget WHOLER OF 19 MAJOR AWARDS

AN INSPECTOR CALLS
THE LING MUST BE SEEN INTOXOCATING, THEATRICALLY BLAGBIATIVE EXPERIENCES OF THE 1990FEVE-Stand

HAYMARGET 930 8805
oc 344 4444/25 0000 (dog lee)
The PETER HALL COMPANY
Mortly Share Acap Custom
Peorly Downler Devil Yelland
Michael Designs Dutles Gas

"AM MRESISTABLE PIECE OF THEATHER UNA "A workload evening "F.T. "AR ABSOLUTE WINDLEY" Tome

PALACE THEATRE 0171-034 0009 or 20ths (big tes) 0171-344 4444 Grpc 0171 415 3311 THE WORLD'S MOST POPULAR

Pays & Physicather Heistle As WILLY RUSSELL'S STEPHANE LAWRENCE STEPAN DENES CARL, WAYNE

oc 20ps 344 4444, Grps 312 1970/413 3221 *WINNER!

STRATFORD (0178) 25523) RST 4 SWAYL THE WINTER VISITORS: SEASON Ends 10 April

SHAFTESBURY 0171 379 5259 9171 344 4444 (20tr/to bity feet) Groups (1971 413-332) TOMMY PAUL REATING KIM WILDE AN TOMBY OF MIN WHEN "AN ENTESTABLEM!" JUGGERNAUT THAT LIFTS THE

> Sat 3pm 110

DOORS
by ALAN AYCKBOURN
Notificated Best Comedy
Other Awards 1996
"A NELCORAMATIC COMEDY ROARING WITH LAUGHTER AND LEAPING FORWARD IN FRIGHT". Independent Euro 7:30 Mats Wed & Set 3:00

SAVOY 0171 836 8888 .

cc 0171 420 0100 (no bise feet)

ANGELA THORNE

COMMUNICATING

ST MARTIN'S 0171 536 1443 (no blog feet) 0171 497 9977 (blog feet) Groupe 0171 342 1894 (no blog feet) Dess 8, Tues 2-45, Sat S & 8 44th Year of Agatha Christie's THE MOLISETRAP JOHN BENKETT STRAND THEATRE Box Off & cc (co led) 0171 930 8800 cc (bkg led) 0171 344 4444/420 0000 Groups 0171 413 3321/0171 930 6123

BUDDY The Buddy Holly Story "SRELLIANT" Sur BUDDY "WONDERFUL STUFF" Sun Tel BUDDY Tues-There 8.0 Fri 5.30 & 8.30 Sets 5.00 & 8.30, State 4.50 ALL SEATS 1/2 PRICE FRI 5.30 FERF

THE SHAKESPRARE The Times PRIOR TO NATIONAL TOUR Mon Pri 800pm Set 830pm Mate Wed 230pm Set 530pm

4444/28 0000 (no big fee)
PETER GRESHWELL
"The best Host Coward stace
Noel Coward" Aley Jay Large A TALKNY TO AMUSE From 27 Feb for 5 weeks only

WHITEHALL 369 1735/344 4444/ naj 0171 834 1317 oc (bilg fee) 0171 344 4444/312 1998/497 9977 Graupe 0171 312 1997 (no fee) BEST NEW MUSICAL ROY ORBISON STORY JOLSON

WYNOHAMS 0171 369 1736 (no blog fee) /344 4444 (blog fee) and for 5 Officier Awards

SKYLIGHT by DAVID HARE Orected by RICHARD EYRE The sold-out production at the Royal National Theatre ow transfers for 10 weeks only Mon-Set 6.00 Mat Set 3.00 icial reduced price preview Today & totomow only

WILLIAMS

298,000 READERS OF THIS theatre listings please call our entertainments team on ... or fax 017t 481 9313.

Bailey schools champion in readiness for Wincanton

Alderbrook clears first hurdle

By JULIAN MUSCAT

PREPARATIONS for Aiderbrook's imminent seasonal debut moved up a gear yesterday. when Kim Bailey schooled the reigning champion hurdler for the first time since his victory at Chehenham 11 months ago.

It will be an anxious trainer who runs his hand down Alderbrook's forelegs this morning. The seven-year-old. sidelined through injury for the last six months, showed no immediate ill-effects after jumping a total of 16 hurdles on the Lambourn gallops. But Bailey preferred to defer judg-ment on the exercise. We won't know for sure how he handled it until he spends a night in his box," he said. Alderbrook, whose experi-ence over timber stretches to just three outings, has been plagued by a knee injury he sustained when campaigned on the Flat. The indications are that he has now turned the corner and Bailey is to test the theory in the Kingwell Hurdle at Wincanton a week on Thursday.

AND DEDICATES

Nap: FRONT LINE (3.40 Kelso)

Next best: Rainbow Top (3.20 Lingfield Park) Richard Evans followed up Squire Silk on Seturday by napping Forestal (8-1) at Hereford yesterday.

"I am very happy with the horse." Bailey said yesterday. The schooling exercise went well and he showed he has retained his enthusiasm. I had delayed schooling him so that Norman Williamson could be. aboard but that obviously went out of the window when Norman dislocated his shoulder on Saturday,"

Williamson spent much of yesterday coming to terms.

2.10 Parsons Boy

2.40 White Willow

THUNDERER

The Times Private Handicapper's top rating: 4.40 STASH THE CASH.

101 113149 GOOD TIMES 13 (BF.F.E.S.) (Mrs & Robinson) B Helt 12-0 ______ B West (7) 88

Bacecard number. Sk-figure form (F — lett. F — winner. BF — beelen favoratio in triest race) publish on U — presented rider. B — browght Goleg on which bose has won (F — firm, good to soil, consider of the BF — brokers. V — visor. H — bowly. Done; in bractics. Takers. Age-Fand bond, E — cyestional, C — course whome, D — whigh Birder plan any attriumner. The Fanes distance where CD — course and distance Private Handicapper's caling.

GOING: SOFT (HEAVY IN PLACES) TOTE JACKPOT MEETING

568: 2m 6f 110yd) (19 Tuttipers)

01 BRIDLE PATH 12 (5) (F Wilson) T Eastody 5-11-11
2127-1 SANTA CONCERTO 28 (5) 2f Conf (1 Lungo 7-11-11
26-213 SMCIA CONCERTO 28 (5) 2f Conf (1 Lungo 7-11-11
26-213 SMCIA CONCERTO 28 (5) 2f Conf (1 Lungo 7-11-11
26-213 SMCIA CONCERTO 28 (5) 2f Conf (1 Lungo 7-11-11
26-213 SMCIA CONCERTO 28 (1 Lungo 12-11-11
2000P BRIDCE-HAMEN 15 (Mes 5) Smooth Mes J Goodfellow 5-11-5
20 CHAPWEL ORAVES (Luntama Deposit Life) H J Algabra 8-11-5
20-HORRER (39 V Armos) B Mantaggart 7-11-5
26-RANDEYS CHARCE 280 (1 Happa) J Charlon 6-11-5
27 ROCKETTS CASTLE 28 (Mes 5) Brancelly Mes S Bornad 8-11-5
28 ROCKETTS CASTLE 28 (Mes 5) Brancelly Mes S Bornad 8-11-5
29 DISGRITH 34 (Mes C Algerndor) J Bertlay 5-11-5
30 SOLSGRITH 34 (Mes C Algerndor) J Bertlay 5-11-5
31 FALL SECT 33 (Parifier Relating Life P Chesistrong) 6-71-5
31 FALCH SECT 35 (Parifier Relating Life P Chesistrong) 6-71-5
31 FARCHASE S DAWN 77 (F) (Mes C Wherd J Egra 8-11-0
31 ESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
3 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
3 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
3 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
3 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
3 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
4 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
4 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (R Belatrichon) F Hermagh 5-11-0
5 TESS OTTULLY 28 (

BETTURE: 6-4 Santa Concento, 6-1 Uncla Kouny, 7-1 Bridle Path, 18-1 Decent Peray, 14-1 obseq.

2.10 ANDREW HAMILTON & CO NOVICES CHASE

(E3,050: 3m 1f) (13 runners)

301 302 303

Long transferage Cogni Lave 9-0

RACELINE
FULL RESULTS SERVICE
0891-168-168

± √177

1995: NO CORRESPONDING MEETING

BRIDLE PATH best Highland Way 2161 in a 7nutner novice hurdle at Seripciand (2m 5f 110yd, pood) SANTA CONNERTO best Carley Lad 8f to 14-transe novice hurdle at Carlet Lad 9f to soft) with TESS O'TULLY (6fb better off) 111113h.

Selection: UNCLE VEENY

FORM FOCUS

BENGHAZ 40/41 Sh of 14 to The Grey Mock in notice chase at Carlele (3m; good to soft) with VALPH DE LANGERE 114/17 fa and DORLIN CASTLE 11180. PARSONS 607 about 10/41 5h. JAMD RIVER 41 13h and DORLIN CASTLE (110 of 9 to 88)/good for a soft). SEECHS GOLD reset

1001-32 CHEF MENSTER 80 (D.E.F.S) (G State) Toyer 7-11-7
311923 CHARGHAN CHALLENGE 31 (D.F.G.S) (Cambrin Index) T Eathers, 7-11-2 L Weer 95
1001-03 PAAGESAUG CHALLENGE 31 (D.F.G.S) (Cambrin Index) T Eathers, 7-11-2 L Weer 95
1001-03 WHITE WILLOW 10 (A.D.EF.F.S) (F North) Mrs. M Reader, 7-10-3. G Let (3) 93
3542-10 COOLS LANE 24 (C.S) (L Dun) Mr J Dan 9-10-9 D Parier (3) 85

BETTING: 4-8 Chief Minster, 9-4 Cumbnas Clothenge, 8-1 White William, 12-1 Palacegan Nico, 20-1 Count Lane

FORM FOCUS

CHEST MANUSTER (b) 2nd of 7 to Padro Moo in paddie: at Whithcathe Cam, pand in solid) with a special Cam, pand in solid) with a factor of the solid came of

*KELSO: Tealment: Mrs. M. Reveicy. 41 strengts from 131 namers. 31.3%, Mess L. Russell. 3 from 10, 20.0%; Mess L. Russell. 3 from 47, 27.7%; G. Rachards. 29 from 120, 24.2%; N. Thide 5 from 23, 21.7%; R. McDonaid. 3 from 14, 21.4%; Jocksyst P. Nevert, 40 strengts from 130 rates, 39%; M. Motoney, 15 from 65, 23.1%; A. Dobbin, 24 from 112, 21.4%; A. Thomton, Brom 47, 19.1%; Callaghan, 10 from 61, 16.4%; B. Storey, 25 from 154, 16.2%;

2.40 GLASSEDIN SECURITIES BORDERS CHAMPION HURDLE (Limited handleap: £6,775; 2m 110yd) (5 ningers)

FORM FOCUS

1.40 KELSO ANNUAL MEMBERS HOVICES HURDLE

(£2,668: 2m 6f 110yd) (19 runners)

4.40 Stash The Cash

1.40 SANTA CONCERTO (nap) 3.10 Whatdidyousay

Alderbrook begins defence of his crown with a run in the Kingwell Hurdle at Wincanton next Thursday remains unclear how long he must convalesce; he dislocated the same shoulder in a fall seven months ago and may require surgery. "I'll try to get back as fast as possible but if my shoulder comes out again.

I'll have to have it operated on," the jockey said.

Williamson, already in the clutches of his physiotherapist, is to rest for two weeks before contemplating a return . to the saddle. With the Cheltenham Festival commencing four weeks today, his whole season effectively hangs in the balance. "I don't feel too good with his latest setback. It at the moment, he said.

"Unless I recover quickly, it could be four to six weeks before I'm back." Bailey is to monitor the performance of Fortune And Fame at Gowran Park on Saturday before finalising riding arrangements for Alderbrook at Wincanton.

A disappointing run from Fortune And Fame would leave Richard Dunwoody without a Champion Hurdle mount and Bailey is keen to keep his options open in the event that Williamson fails to recover for the Festival at Prestbury Park. Dunwoody, for his part, has been linked in

3.10 TWEEDOALE PRIESS NOVICES HANDICAP HURDLE

.FORM FOCUS

3.40 MOET & CHANDON HANDICAP CHASE (£4,931: 3m 10) (10 numbers)

a secondary capacity with bles in Co Cork. "He was very Atours. One riding arrangement to be confirmed yesterday was Conor O'Dwyer's place aboard Imperial Call in the Cheltenham Gold Cup. O'Dwyer excelled himself on the seven-year-old in winning the Hennessy Cognac Irish Gold Cup at Leopardstown on Sunday, prompting the geld-ing's trainer, Fergus Sutherland, to retain the alliance on March 14.

"Conor gave the horse a beautiful ride - as near perfect as you could wish for," Sutherland said from his sta-soft) on penultimate start, SUPPEME SUMET 71 2nd of 11 to Penny A Day ne acrica handle has 2m 110yd, good to sody, WHATDENYOUSAY aboud 991 40h of 18 to Admirals Seal in porice bandicap handle at Newtastle (2m, good). BE BRANE 1994 6th of 14 to Jocks Cross in novice burdle at Carlsia (2m 11, good to solt). Selection: DRECT ROUTE positive and the horse responded with a great round.

The horse came home, ate up and there isn't a scratch on him," Sutherland continued, "He's as fresh as paint. The vet who attended him after the race on Sunday said he could hardly believe the horse had rust had a race." Sutherland was similarly bultish about the prospect of Imperial Call, now as low as 5l for the Blue Riband, matching strides with One Man at Cheltenham, "I won't be worrying about any horse other than my own," he said."

RACING AHEAD

Robert Wright suggests the best value in the ante-post market

QUINNESS ARKLE CHASE

Cheltnhers, March 12 GUIDE TO THE LEADING PRICES

Draborgie Certainly Strong Washattan Castle Ventana Carryon Anctic Kinterson

All roads lead to Cheltenham for the next lew weeks, and there is some value to be gleaned before the final trials are staged. There are several discrepancies among the bookmakers in the Arkla ase, and that looks the best Festival race to get involved with strength of her impressive debut in this country, when routing the opposition at Werlandk. However, she tended to hundle her tendes there, and may come unstuck over Chattenham's stiffer obstacles.

A strong it is not challenge is headed by Magnettan Castle and Ventana Carryon. The latter was crusing in third when falling two out in the race won by Magnettan Castle at Leopardstown last month, and Edward OGrady's gelding, who finished second in the Supreme Novices. Hundle at last year's Festival, is likely to tare best of the pair granted a Clear round. However, with that doubt in mind, 5-1 makes little appeal.

The from running Arctic Kinaman was restricted to one run tast season, but was impressive in bearing Callison Bay on his chasing how at Leicester. The problem for him at Cheffenham will be the glut of fellow pacernsivers, with Draborgie, Certainly Strong and Ask Tom all best when allowed to dominate.

Certainly Strong has gone from strangth to strength this term, writing comfortably at Ascot last time, and before that beging Captain Khedive by seven lengths at Sandown. Captain Khedive by seven lengths at Sandown. Captain Khedive humed his change with a metalos at the second lest that day, and has sound prospects of reversing the form at Cheltenham on 71b better terms. A winner at Cheltenham already this season, CAPTAIN KHEDIVE is at his best when held up off a strong page and, at 25-1 with Coral, is worth an each-way wager.

LINGFIELD PARK

1.50 Sheriff. 2.20 Hand Of Straw. 2.50 Apartments Abroad. 3.20 Rainbow Top. 3.50 Dummer Golf Time. 4.20 Discors: 4,50 Tafajhlus.

GORIG, STANDARD DRAW, 6F-1M, LOW BEST SIS

1.50 SEALED WITH A LOVING KISS HANDICAP (51v i: $2 203 2m) (9 tunners) 5. 05. SHEREF 311 (F) 1 (61) 5-3-10

2. 05.5 SHEREF 311 (F) 1 (61) 5-3-10

2. 05.5 SHEREF 311 (F) 1 (61) 5-3-10

3. 05.5 SHEREF 311 (F) 1 (61) 1 (62)

5-2 Au The Land, 3-1 Grent 4-1 Royal Plant 5-1 Guest Attorney, 6-1 Calabrator 16-1 National References, 23-1 others

2.20 SAY IT WITH ROSES LIMITED STAKES

C - 132 MAND OF STRAW 17 of D.G.; * burger, 4.3-1. S Drowne (2) 95

20-0 ARSAL BOY 14 I'I Mai B natures, 4.9-0 A Cardy Morre
42-0 APOLLO RED 38 (C.E.S. & Marc 17-9 Gardy Morre
5: 00-3 MEAN-83-6 D.G. B Pollty 4-9-0 Inn Waste (7) 62

4: 566 N7 TERM 227 6 Smrt 4-9-0 R Cockerne
14: 507 OOLEY 10 B.C.D.F. (6) 1 Poulto 7-9-0 M Festion
15: 05-5 SRITTLECOCK 59 B.D.G.) Mrs. M. Landers 1-5-0 M Festion
16: 465 DOWN EST CAUGHT 7.11 March 4-9 J Wester 90

Col. Let Control 7.3 March 17.11 March 4-9 J Wester 90 3-1 Don't Set Cought, 7-2 Manaton, 4-1 Mr Teigh, 11-2 Hand Di Stray, 6-1 Stratfebbon, 7-1 Aponto Red, 8-1 others

2.50 YOUNG LOVE CLAIMING STAKES (3-Y-0: £2,832: 1m 2l) (5)

12, 00-0 GENERAL HENRY 33 A Moore 8-5 Candy Morres 94
13, 00-0 GENERAL HENRY 33 A Moore 8-5 Candy Morres 94
13, 10-0 GENERAL HENRY 33 A Moore 8-5 Candy Morres 94
14) -121 ROWLINGSONS CHARM 21 (V.C.6) 6 Moore 8-4 M Adure 91
16-42 MAGINT FRANCISS 21 (6) 6 Gebby 8-1 J Domm 95
C1 9-5 ORDANIED 21 I Diemed 7-13 Gebruik 85 5-4 Rawlandsons Chern, 2-1 Mate Françoice, 3-1 Aparlments Abroad, 16-1 others

BLINKERED FIRST TIME: Lingfield Park: 4.20 Elburg Kelso: 3 10 Ord Gallery

3.20 CASANOVA CONDITIONS STAKES

1. Note that the second of the fact of the 2-1 Purroca for TVC Charry, 19-3 Dego France Darwig 6-1 Expeditions stay 19-5. Easy Chicae, 33-1 Charge Place

3.50 CUPID MEDIAN AUCTION MAIDEN STAKES

(3-Y-0 £2.493 61) (5) | 11 | 2 | DARTACH GOLF TRAE COLFOCK AND ASS. | 1 | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New York Colfock And Ass. | 1 | | New 6-8 Duraner Gest Timp 3-1 Servest haven 5-1 Jersahantion (8-1 other)

4.20 SEALED WITH A LOVING KISS HANDICAP

(Drv II: £2,203, 2m) (8) | 12| 020- AGARAST THE CLOCK 434 J Marins 4-9-11 | 16-14 | 17-15 | 15-14 | 16-14 | 17-15 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-14 | 17-7-4 Storme, 2-7 Edwing, 2-7 Wysterfamilier, 8-7 Sw Thomas Berdinan, 19-1 Against The Clock, 12-7 others

4.50 ST VALENTINE'S HANDICAP (£3,469; 61) (3)

(2) 0-02 SPENDER 14 (CD.F.G) P Harts 7-16-3 . J Stack [3] 93 (3) -341 R080 MACC 7 (CD.F.S) L Montager Hall 4-9-13 [res 5 Sanders 9] 93 (1) -341 R080 MACC 7 (CD.F.S) L Montager Hall 4-9-13 [res 5 Sanders 9] 90 (1) - PRENDLY SRAWE 95 (C.G.S) Mac 6 Referring 5-9-11 . R Contraine 8 Whether 13) 90 R3 3443 SR 14SKER 3 (CD.F.G) J Harts 8-9-5 . J Weaver 93 (7) -452 SOUTHERN DOMBROW 10 (CD.G.C. Allen 4-8-11 M. Adams 95 (6) -021 DANWAN 14 (C.C.F.G. 6) L Moore 5-6-11. S Whiterorth 94 (1) 0643 TAFAHRUS 6 (V.C.D.F.) B Flaghers 4-9-6-1 long Wands (7) 94 (5) 4-10 SHARP 84P 26 (8) CD.F.G. R Roser 5-8-4 D Baggs 94 -8 hall 41 Sanders 4-2 Sa Living 5-1 Roser 5-8 can 6-1 can 6-

RESULTS FROM YESTERDAY'S TWO MEETINGS.

Hereford

Going heavy 2.00 (2m 31 110yd holle) 1, Toute Begailde (D Bridgwater, A-11; 2, Rot Du Nord (9-4 fov); 3, Kingewood Manor (50-1), 16 ran 25, hd. M Pipe. Tots 55-40; £1 70, £1 60, £5 30, DF: £7.30, Tric: £108.20 CSF.

231, hd. M Pipe, Total 35.40; ET 70, ET 60. ES 30. DF; 27.30. Thot E108.20 CSF. E14.14.
2.30 (2m ch] 1, Beau Bebillard (A P McCoy, 11½2). 2, Aedeen (B4 tay); 3, Evening Rain (7-2), 9 ran, 81, 2½ P Nichols, Total: ET 30, ET 60. ET 60. DF; 68.70 Thot: ET 30, ET 90. ET 50, ET 10. DF; 68.70 Thot: E10.20. CSF E15.05. Tricact: C32.85.
3.00 (2m 11 hdle) 1, Spring Saint (G Upron, 4-1), 2, Goldingo (7-2 tay), 3, Lawnsstood Junior (14-1), 13 ran 61, hd Miss C Horier Tote: E5 60; C3.20. E1 60, E3.60. DF; E18.10 Tho: E94.50. CSF E19.81. Tricact: E173.02. After a stewards inquiry and an objection by the third to the second, result stood.
3.30 (2m 31 ch) 1, Reve En Rosa (J R Kavanagh, 7-2); 2, Choises Nadve (16-1), 3; Poly Miror (14-1). Myblackhom 15-8 (av (f) 10 ran 251, dcf. M McMillan Tote. E3.90; E2.00, E3.70, E2.00 DF; E36.80.

Two C265.60 (part won, pool of £266.67 carried forward to 4.10 at Kelso today) CSF £53.91 Thoast £654.72 Southwell Going: standard 2.10 (1m 4) 1, El Ballador (J Weaver, 3-1), 2. Grey Agán (2-1 fev); 3, No Submession 15-1) 9 ran 20:1, 3. J Bathell Tote: £3.70, £1.40, £1.10, £1.90 DF: £7.60 Trio: £8.20 CSF, £9.32 4.00 (2m 3f 110/d hdiel 1, Miss Optimist (A Maguire, 11-8 fav); 2, Miss Brechnell (8-2); 3, Harvest Viaw (11-2), 11 ran NR; Ouadrapol, Ouck Oucle, Siver Shred, Summer Haven, Waterrow 15, 2 D Mchokon Tote: 52-60, 51-10, 51-40, 52-70, DP 55-00 Trio (10.60 CSP: 68 31 2.40 (7) 1, Berge (Emma O'Gorman, 8-13 tav), 2, Al The Savoy (7-1); 3, Nashbal (5-1) 9 ran 3l, Vil W O'Gorman Tote $1 80. $1 10, $2.20, $1.30 DF $4,10 The $2.40 CSE $1.60; 12.70 DP 25.00 InD Ended CSF 28 37 4.30 (3m 11 110yd ct) 1, Double Silk (W R Treloggen, 11-10 law, 2, Drumard (33-1); 3, Rusty Bridge (12-1), 12 ran, NR Gaelic Sunney Det, 151, R Wilkins Tole 21.90; 21.80, 24.00, 24.40, DF 218.10 Tro, 2185.10 CSF, 24.01

CSF ES 97
2.10 (1m 3): 1, Sea God (C Munday, 5-2 text); 2. Museum 116-11; 3, Impensi Bid 18-1; 10 ran 44, 1-41, M Chapman 100; 20 00; 13 0,55 30; 27 00 F 273 40, Ino c132 30 CSF; 239 79 Treast 2270 49 Too, C185 10 CSF, 540 14
5.00 (2m til holle) 1, Forestat (Mr J Jukes, 8-1 Richard Evans's nep), 2, Northern Singer (18-1), 3, Lyphato's Fable 16-1). Processod Picker 3-1 fav. 14 ran NR Rosevear. Poyal Standard 8, 11 S Griffiths Tote 65 90; 61 70, 69 90, 62 40 DF; 638 20 Trict 5484 10 (part wort, pool of 5545 50 carried forward to 4 10 at Kelso today) CSF; 6123 75 Tricast 6766 39 3.40 (1m) 1, Prozefighter (O Pears, 9-2 tav); 2, Square Deal (6-4), 3, Mss Zancibar (6-1) 8 ran 5h hd, 21 J Eyre Tote 24 60; £1 90; £1 30, £2 50 DF £5 00 CSF £11 83 Incest £49.22.

180527 19322. 4.10 [1m] 1, People Direct (R Cochrone 15-8 p-tav), 2, Arch Angel (11-4); 3, Elperine (8-1) Bumbletool 15-8 p-fav 7 ran 1-1, 2, 1-4 McAulite 10er (23 05, 21 20, 12 10 DF 15-40 CSP 17-60 Bought in 6,800gns

4-40 (Cl) 1, Super Benz (R Lapon, 6-1), 2, Stand Tall IS-2 lay); 3, My Cherrywell IS-11 11 ran, 11, 71 J Eyer Tota: 05-30, 51 60 rt 50, 51 90, DF, 59 40. Trio 522 80 CSF 521 44, Tocast $116 91 Placepot: £10.90. Quedpot: £9.50.

Yesterday's meeting at Plumpton was abandoned because the course was

SPECIALISTS

LINGFIELD PARK: Trainers: P Harris, 9 winners from 32 runners, 28.1%, Lord Huningdon, 37 from 171, 21.6%, D Murray-Smith, 12 from 59, 20.3%, K McAuliffe, 9 from 50, 18.0%; R O'Sullivan, 46 from 267, 17.2%, W O'Gorman, 28 from 164, 17 1% Jockeya: J Weaver, 62 winners from 262 rides, 23.4%; R Cochräne, 48 from 273, 17.6%; T kes, 20 from 116, 17.2%, S Whrtworth, 22 from 133, 16.5%, P Fessey, 3 from 20, 15.0%

SHEEHAN on BRIDGE

Dealer West

1 NT(12-14)

±10642

LOAV

♦K98

4A83

Contract: Four Hearts by South

Having escaped a club lead, how should South play?

There are two possibilities:

play for the trumps to be 2-2

for East to have a singleton honour), or take the diamond finesse for a club discard.

This is a hand on which

Which is it to be?

Long handleap: Inconclusive 9-7 BETTIMO: 3-1 Emerald Storm, 9-2 Front Line, 5-1 Uran V, 6-1 Calabrese, 7-1 Absorbomby Chail, Canada Boy, 12-1 Jahrese, 12-1 Jahrese,

FORM FOCUS

DIRECT ROUTE best Shesh The Cash 41 to mainlen hundle at Musselburgh (2nd, pood), ROMFOS 3344 2nd of 1. to Buckley Boys in period basicarp busdle at Sedgetted (2nd 11 110yd, good) on peruditingly start, JUNGLE RIFES 144 2nd at 3 to Shelhouse in nowice hundle at Carlmer (2nd 11 110yd, Run), ANOTHER FOURTAN about 1004 4h of 15 to Blackpetch Hold in nonce hundle at Weitharby (2nd.

· ·StS

EMERALD STORIM bost Stop The Walker SI in 12-numer bandicup chase over course and dictinear (good in soil) with ABERCROMEN CHEEF (Sin batter oil) 37 See, MICDAND LOSIVE (9th better oil) 13 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 13 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 14 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 15 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 15 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 16 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 16 Sep and SAUSHEY RUBBLE (10th better oil) 17 Sep and 16 Sep South Westerly in bandicap 17 Sep and 16 Sep South Westerly in bandicap 18 September 18 July 18 Sep South Sep Sep 18 July 18

4.10 ADDISON ROSS NOVICES HURDLE (£2,878: 2m 110yd) (19 runners)

BETTING: 3-1 Baltemoch, 8-1 Chapsel Out, Final Fling, Phincess Maone, Crystal Gill, 18-1 Colorful Art 12-1 Sanghay Sanit, 14-1 offers.

BALHERNOCH best Welch Mill Beck in 13-miner applies Burdle al Sedgefeld (2m fil 110yd good in farm), CHEPPED OUT 35/41 and of 12 to Coloret in Chel is norice heafter over course and distance (good to solt), COLORFUL AMBITION 144/4 th of 14 to Croser Egenty in notice hurdle at Haydock (2m, pood), SHOSING SAND 134/4 do 18 to Colorel in Chief to provice hurdle over course and distance soft with POLLY STAR sell 2nd. PROM-CESS MAXONE 3141 3rd of 12 to Eurofint The Robal in toware faintle at Maxonburgh (2m., good to furth) HOUSE OF DREAMS atom 15 for of 27 to Wisdom in novince hardle at Caterick (2m., good to furth). FINAL RUNG 51 2nd of 25 to Utily Boy in covere hardle at Newcastle (2m., good). Selection: BALHERWOCH

4.40 FORESTERS HANDICAP HURDLE (£2,857: 2m 2l) (6 numbers) 11-FLFO WILLS TELMAR 29 (CD.F.G.S.) (B Partituse) M 1echenter 8-12-0 S Hannelth (7) 80 2015-11 ARAGON AVR 3 (CD.G.S.) (B Partituse) M 1echenter 8-12-0 S Hannelth (7) 80 2015-11 ARAGON AVR 3 (CD.G.S.) (Raise Lowlyers Chab) P Moniton B-11-12 G Carib (8) 85 2400-29 SARSON, 10 (R.S.) (A WARDEN) A Waltern, 10-10-11 M Moniton 95 4423-60 TWOR FALLS 23 (6) (Mes S Money) 6 Monet 5-10-10 M Moniton 95 573-P METRY METHAND 150 (S) (Mes J Campholi) B Machingon 6-10-8 G Lee (3) 83 452212 STASH THE CASH 3 (6) (6 Solel) 1 Over 5-10-9 M A Dobbin 99

Long transcap: State The Cash 9-13. BETTING: 5-4 Stack The Cash, 7-4 Assgon Aur, 7-1 Sansoni, Trem Falls, 12-1 Micry Mermand, Wills Telmps FORM FOCUS

APAGON AYR completed deaths best Modforms Warder 11 in 8-numer conditional jackeys claiming hards at Ayr (20 44. good). Prevenely bad Ution Dancaro 1944 in 10-numer coloniary hards over course and distance [said].

SANSOOL 11 2nd of 11 to Featess Wonder in handlesp burdle at Cartele (2m 4f 110yd, good to soft) on penalizative siart, with WMLS TELMAR (3th warse off) 440 7th TWM FALLS 144 8th of 14 to Letter at heroficeap herotic of Cathorick, Can 1780-4, good to farm on providenate start. STASH THE CASH 74 2nd of 11 to But TEBJE in headings hardle at Ayr (2m. good). Salections: ARABON AYR

POINT-TO-POBNT RESULTS (Siricle).

9ADSMORTH (Wednetry) Confined: 1.
Thesis Monarch (Mesh PC) Confined: 1.
Open Mich II 1. The Electric (S Swifters, 5-2 izer)
Open Mich II 1. The Time (A Pilling, 9-4)
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. Postical Sam (A Rebot, 7.
Open Mich II 1. The Bush (P Tainno, 1-3 tav.)
Open Mich II 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4
fast). Open Mich II: 1. Golden Fellow (A Coe, 7-4 fast).

book, Dormer on Deduction. Against this auction. West would certainly lead a high club if he had the ace-even if they are two-two. ☐ After two good second-

Placeport £14.20

Quadpot £9.00.

+7642

♦K109654

Lead: six of spades

have the king of diamonds. South should overtake the jack of spades with the queen and take the diamond finesse. He then discards a club, ducks one round of trumps, and later plays on spades, allowing the defence to take three trump tricks

By ROBERT SHEEHAN, BRIDGE CORRESPONDENT

Love all

4 A Q J 10 &

N

W E

$

♠KQ983

+7

2 D 3 H

¥K97642 +6

€ A j

¥1083

+QJ2

the declarer can draw inferences from the opening lead. The topic is well covered in Albert Dormer's round wins in the Premier League, Paul Hackett's team heads the table with 83.5, well ahead of Goodman on 69 and Armstrong on 67. The final round will be played at king. So, when he leads a the end of March. passive spade, the most that ☐ Robert Sheehan writes on he can have in clubs is the bridge Monday to Friday in ace. Hence, to make up his Sport and in the Weekend I NT opening bid, he must section on Saturday.

WORD-WATCHING

By Philip Howard

a. A bridge convention b. A racing handicap

CAPELINE a. A French royal dynasty b. Permeable

DOLMAN a. A prehistoric monument b. A serf C A sieeve

c. A floppy hat

Answers on page 42

KEENE on CHESS

BY RAYMOND KEENE CHESS CORRESPONDENT

Kasparov's revenge Garry Kasparov, the world champion, having learnt from his defeat in the first game, gained revenge in the second game of his match against the IBM Deep Blue com-puter in Philadelphia. The third White: Garry Kasparov Black: Deep Blue

Philadelphia, February 1996 Catalan Opening

Nf3 d4 g3 Bg2 0-0 c4 Ne5 Na3 Na464 Ob3 Ob7 Rb1 Qa4 Bg5 b4 Bd6 Qd7 Oxb8 Oc7 Kg7 Rb8 Rb2 Rxa2 Oc8 Ra1 32 Rta1 33 Oh5 34 Og4+ 35 Oc8+ 36 Og4+ 37 Bd5

Qd5 Qb5 Qc5+ Qa7+ Qa8 Qa3+ Oa3+ Ca2 Bxf7 Bh5 Ca3+ Ca7+ Ob8+ Be8-Bb5 Oc7+

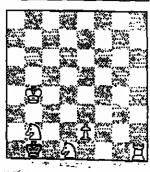

73 Bb5 Black resigns Diagram of final position 8

Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend section on Saturday.

WINNING MOVE

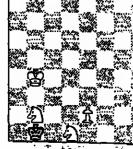

By Raymond Keene

White to play and mate in two moves. This position is a problem composed by Lilian Baird, the Brighton chess prodigy, in 1890, when she was still nine years old. The black king has four flight squares and so it looks as if it will be difficult for White to mate in two

Raymond Keene writes on chess moves. How are the escape squares taken away from Black? Solution on page 42

SPORT

strict Cup message for Walsall

By Russell Kempson

round replays tonight. Wimbledon and Middlesbrough CHRIS NICHOLL, the Walsall manager, is sorely tempted to look beyond his side's meet for a second time, after a rwice-postponed FA Cup fourth-round rie against lpsshould travel to Huddersfield wich Town at Portman Road Town in the last to, with Dean Holdsworth, the Wimbledon tonight. If victory goes to Walsall, the lowest-ranked forward, already casting his mind forward to what might club left in the competition, it lie ahead. Holdsworth has never played at Wembley. will mean a nostalgic fifthround encounter with Aston Villa, Nicholl's former club. "I've been there for concerts but that's all." he said. "When who are managed by Brian I saw Rod Stewart there last Linle, his former team-mate. Nicholl, 49, and Little, 42, summer. I found myself going through the modons and played at Villa Park in the Seventies, when Nicholl cap-working out all the angles of what I'd do if I played there. nained the side, yet they now We were a bit disappointed exist at differing ends of the that we didn't beat Middlesfootball spectrum - Little on the fourth rung of the FA brough first time. They've now got to cope with us at our place Carling Premiership ladder. Nicholl in the lower reaches of and I fancy we can beat them. the Endsleigh Insurance League second division, A The reward is a game with Huddersfield and, with all due respect, we've got to feel renewal of acquaintances would be nice but, first, Walwe can beat them as well. sall have to dispose of Ipswich. Then we're only a couple of Managers don't deal in games away from Wembley." might-bes and ifs." Nicholi Before such a possiblity. said, "You can't think that far Holdsworth has to serve a ahead. We are not intelligent two-match suspension, after his sixth booking of the season in the 2-1 defeat at Sheffield enough to look further than what's in front of our eyes." In other words, he and his players, by order, will not entertain thoughts of Villa until the fourth-round hurdle has been Walsall defender, that might also pose a problem. Mountfield, 33, spent three years at Villa, including the 989-90 season, when they finished runners-up to Liverpool in the then first division.

FA

A late fitness test on damaged.

mine his participation this ern Ireland and Walsall striker, has a more immediate date with the past. He played at Portman Road for three years in the mid-Eighties, alongside

George Burley, the present

lpswich manager, and scored 34 goals in 98 league matches.

"There's nothing better than going back and playing against your old club, especially in the FA Cup," he said.

"Anything can happen, as Ipswich showed by winning at Blackburn in the last round."

Crewe Alexandra, against Southampton, and Oxford

United, against Nottingham

Forest, also try to strike a blow

for the underdogs, in fourth-

Kevin Wilson, 34, the North-

For Derek Mountfield, the negoriated.

Wednesday on Saturday. Birmingham could ordered to play a game behind closed doors after it was revealed that coins and a snooker ball were thrown onto the pitch during Sunday's Coca-Cola Cup semi-final first-leg defeat by Leeds

Gary McAllister, the Leeds captain, was struck by a missile as he prepared to take corner at the end of St Andrew's housing home fans. McAllister was unhurt and appeared to laugh off the incident, tossing a coin towards the linesman.

But Keith Cooper, the referee, has told the Football Association that the coin which hit the Scottish international was just one of a number thrown also handed a snooker ball by his linesman. The incidents came just nine days after an FA inquiry found Birmingham guilty of two misconduct charges after the game with Millwall in November.

Birmingham were then told that any further outbreaks of misbehaviour this year for which they were deemed responsible could result in them having to play a home match behind closed doors. Sieve Double, an FA spokesman. said: "From what Keith Cooper has said it is clear that we are not necessarily dealing with the actions of just one fan. There will be a thorough investigation into what was clearly a very unpleasant incident."

Nicholl has Kostner makes breakthrough for Italy

ITALY celebrated an unexpected success at the skiing world championships in Sierra Nevada, Spain, yesterday when Isolde Kostner, pictured above. won the women's super-giant slalom title. Where Alberto Tomba normally commands the attention of the Italian media, Kosmer, 19, was at centre stage instead, fielding questions and gleefully holding her pristine gold medal.

If not unfamiliar with the demands of the post-race press conference, having won two World Cup downhill races and two bronze medals in the 1994 Olympic Games in Lillehammer, Kostner had nonetheless made her greatest breakthrough. By winning the super-giant slalom, she became the first Italian woman to win an Alpine skiing world championship in the modern era.

This is the first world championships I've entered and I'm very proud," she said. "I made almost a perfect run. Since I was a child, I have always been able to rise to the big occasion. Luckily, I still can."

Kostner did indeed ski faultlessly. She was careful not to fly too far on the one jump on the fast 22 kilometre course and landed cleanly in time to tuck in for the left-hand curve that followed. She also took a perfect wide line in the early stages to build up speed for the flat sections on the bottom.

Heidi Zurbriggen, the sister of the famous Swiss skler. Pirmin Zurbriggen, finished second, 0.66sec behind the winner's time of Imin 21sec, to claim her first medal in what had been, until yesterday, a frustrating Il-year career. Picabo Street, of the United States, inished third.

Katja Seizinger, of Germany, began the day as the defending champion and clear favourite, but her race lasted only a few seconds before she missed a gate at the top of the course, Photograph: Stafano Rellandini

England get stripped for catwalk action

BY DAVID MADDOCK

father of the Football Association, have made of it? Or Bobby Moore for that matter? England unveiled a new change strip yesterday, in all its garish glory, and it is sure to startle the tradioonalists. It is also likely to startle the opposition.

The strip is, apparently, a "choice of indigo [that] reflects our view of what is likely to be a fashion colour throughout 1996 and going into 1997. It is taken very much from the denim look", according to Martin Prothero, the promotions director of Umbro, the manufacturer of the kit.

To the untrained, less fashion-conscious eye, however, it appears more like grey, albeit a pyschedelic shade of that

ATHLETICS

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Indoor meeting Winners: Men: 60m: 8 5um: (Carl) 6 50ses 200m: C Preserger (Austru) 20 94 800m: 1 Siliph 1 Sen 1 tim 48 1 3usec 3,000m: D Bautharn (Ger) 7 45 29c 60m hundles: A Johnson (US) 7 47 soc Long (Charo) 8 07m Winners: 60m: J Physiona (Russ) 7 04 soc 800m: 5 congrams (Hoff) 2mn 1 49sec 1 500m. 1 Nass (Austru) 4 16 04 60m hundles: 6 Ger (1 99m Pole vault S Canun (Chara) 4 12m MacSaS-H, Jenan Indoor meeting: Win-MacSaS-H, Jenan Indoor meeting: Win-MacSaS-H, Jenan Indoor meeting: Win-MAESASHI, Japan, Indoor meeting: Win-ners Mest: 60m. D 8549; Can it 559-3 200m; K Linfe (US) 20 87, 400m; K kubace, (UR) 46 73, 600m; C 4-25-3; US) 1mm 17 21 secs. 60m hurdles. C Jackson (US) 7 51 sec 1 mple jump; H 18 meshta (Hesan) 18 79m 5het J Godma (US) 21 00m; High jump; D 1 ope; Mug; 28 m; Long jump; K Sheele-Thomosan (US) 8 20m; Women; 60m; C 60-day (US) 7 18 sec 200m; 2 Georgeva (Gull 23 31, 400m; S Porte; US) 52 29, 60m; L Messet Sur; 2mm; 60sec 60m; hurdles: C Shishigha (Pazz) 14 30m Sheb; Huang Zhiheng (China) 18 63m; Pole yeult; G Mihalica, 48 mi) 40 0m. TOKYO: Intermetional mariation; 1, V Line TOKYO: Intermetional mariation; 1, V Line TOKYO: International marathon: 1, V Line (Bir. 2hr 8min 33sec; 2, A Perte (Par 2,08,38,3,4 Juzdado (So) 2,68,46

BASKETBALL.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION (NBA) All-star game: Eact 129 View 118 BUDWESSER LEAGUE: Chester 85 View hang 83 Domasies 92 Homel 68 Sheffest 80 Derby 67

80 Derbi 87.
NATIONAL LEAGUE: Mem. First division: Cardill 68 Chystal Palace 102: Dicham and Rischale 87. Coventry 34. Solent 85 Pyrmouth 99. Shoet nor 11 Mid-Suscer 88 Ware 73 Bradan 87. Women: First division: Council 47 Earningham 73. Nathampton 11 Spellhome 56. Pyrmouth Chy 43 London 65. Rischade 62. Barbarg and Cagantian 55. Perma Valley 53. Nathampton 65. Sheffield 70 Tyrio and Wear 38.

BOWLS

PRESTON: Churchill Insurance world indoor championships: Pairs: First round:

indoor championships: Paks: First round: S Gody and R Brassey (NE) bit McCham and N Graham (the 7-5-74-7-6; i Tadm and Middlaten (Assistic L Novan (sert and A Wolch (Supi 7-3-7-8-7-6).

CRICKET

RED STRIPE CUP (fixed day of boat).
Bridgetown, Leonard Intands 446 and 84
4, Barbados 186 and 342 (4 Githmo 115, 5
Armshong 92 Vioners 60; L. Window, 4 39) Leonard Intand, bear Barbados on four websits. Port of Spain: Trindom and receipt 90 of Spain: Trindom 184 and 142 (1, Wilform, 53, Channo) 6-49; Intended and Founga 644; Lamaca by a firmand 544 and 578 (1) Joseph 67, 8 Leons 51 not out), Copyria 125 and 29-1.

CASTLE CUP (max day, of four) Cape
Train. Viestern Province 266 and 230 (S) Noeno 56: B Horan 4-43) Border 260 and 168 (P) Shydon 60, M Phople 567 (C)
Westorn Province boat Border by 92 nats
Johannesburg: Bolanti 236 and 183 (A) Student

MAEBASHI, Japan, Indoor meeting: Win-ners: Men: 60m. D Basey (Can) 6 59530

colour. With its swirling pat-tern and splashes of colour on WHATEVER would Ebenezer a bizarre background, the new day by Alan Shearer, the England forward, commits a broad attack on the senses. It is though, demure in comparison to the new change goalkeeper's jersey, worn yes-terday by Tun Flowers, the England goalkeeper.

Not even the outrageous collection of Campos, the Mexico goalkeeper, can rival En-gland's new fashion statement. The jersey is fluorescent scarlet, vellow, lime, purple and a whole host of other colours. Flowers appeared almost shamefaced in front of photographers, and the best he could manage when asked for a comment was: "Well, I don't think I'll be sneaking up on any forwards unawares in

FOOTBALL

GOLF

GOLF

LA JOLLA, California: Buck Investional: Leading final scores: US unless stateoff: 2571. P. More son 65 miles 156 of 65 271. P. More son 65 miles 156 of 65 271. P. More son 65 miles 58 miles 156 miles 156 miles 156 miles 157 miles 158 miles 157 miles 158 miles

HOCKEY

NATIONAL LEAGUE First division
2 # 0 L F A Pis

this outfit."

The plan by the FA is to play in the new design before the European championship this lamentable goalscoring record for his country recently, is hoping to don the new colours rather quickly. "I might even get a goal in it, you never know, he said. The FA maintained a diplomade silence over the latest creation yesterday, preferring to allow the maufacturers to talk their way out of the understandable criticism for a strip that disregards the tradicons of England football history. Gone, apparently forever, is the red strip in which England recorded their finest final victory. Shearer was glad to adopt the new colours, however, as a respite from the usual abuse which follows him around hour - the 1966 World Cup

There seems to be growing days, but at least when I play for England that all dies away and the fans get behind me.

Shearer was subjected to some alarming hostility by the supporters of Manchester United on Saturday, and was condemned for a late tackle on their goalkeeper, Peter Schmeichel, which earned a booking.

"I have never done anything malicious in my career and I'm not going to start now," he said. "I simply overran the ball, the momentum carried me through and we collided. But there is stronger abuse at matches these days, and it's not just me - it seems to be directed at all the high-profile

LACROSSE

Jackson in trim for Olympic challenge

COLIN JACKSON, the world record-holder at 110 metres hurdles, won the 60 metres hurdles at the Gunma international indoor meeting in Maebashi, Japan, yesterday. The Welsh athlete, who has been honing his Olympic preparations in Australia, won in 7.5lsec, ahead of Mark Crear of the United States.

A silver medal-winner at the Games in Seoul in 1988, Jackson is competing abroad because he is still in dispute with Peter Radford, the executive chairman of the British Athletic Federation. His only scheduled domestic races are at the AAA Championships and the Welsh Games.

☐ The Tokyo Marathon ended in dramatic style yesterday.

with Vanderlei Lima, of Brazil, being named the winner ahead of Antonio Pinto, of Portugal, despite both runners being credited with a time of 2hr 8min 38sec. Pinto was consoled by the achievement of becoming the first athlete to complete four successive marathons in under 2min 9sec.

Pieterse in frame

ATHLETICS: Zola Pieterse finished second to Colleen de Reuck in the South Africa cross-country trials at the weekend to virtually assure herself of a place in the team of six that will contest the world championships over the same Stellenbosch course on March 23. De Reuck had returned from the United States only on Wednesday, but appeared comfortable in the bumid heat and set a pace that immediately strung out the clite field. The men's trial ended in a dead beat between Shadrack Hoff and John Morapedi. ☐ Frankie Fredericks, of Namibia, set a world indoor record of 10.05sec for the 100 metres in Tampere, Finland, last night. Olapade Adeniken, of Nigeria, beld the record with 10.13sec.

Milestone for Nicklaus

GOLF: Jack Nickiaus, the most successful golfer the game has known, said yesterday that the US Open at Oakland Hills in June "will probably end my streak of consecutive major championships" — at 138 tournaments. Last July. Nicklaus said that he would not be likely to return to the Open until it is played again at St Andrews, in the year 2000, Nicklaus did, however, insist that be was looking forward to playing his fortieth consecutive US Open.

☐ Alex Lyle, former professional and father of Sandy, the former Open and US Masters champion, has died aged 75.

Mullen dismissed

FOOTBALL: Burnley. of the Endsleigh Insurance League second division, yesterday dismissed Jimmy Mullen, their manager, after their fourth successive deleat. Mullen was the target of a demonstration by a portion of the crowd during the 1-0 defeat at home to Crewe Alexandra on Saturday, Mullen took charge at Turf Moor in October 1991 and guided Burnley to promotion from the old fourth division as champions that season, then to the Endsleigh League first division in 1994, but they were relegated after

Jordan turns on style

BASKETBALL: Michael Jordan, right, celebrated his Basketball, Association allstar game with a brilliant Eastern Conference victory and earned him the most valuable player award. Jordan, playing in the showpiece game against the Western Conference for the first time since 1993, scored 20 points as the East won 129-118 in San Antonio.

SEACOURT: British Land Silver Racket

chemptonship: Querter-finet H Laftern bt M Coprien 4-6, 6-5, 6-4, A Philips bt M Segneur 1-6, 6-1, 6-4; O Jones bt M Eadle 6-5, 6-5; M Howard bt A Lyons 6-3, 2-6, 6-1

RUGBY LEAGUE

RUGBY LEAGUE

BNFL NATIONAL CUP: Second round:
Aspans 6 Kells 56; Blectpool Starley 18
Rylands 0: Crohon 10 Leeds Social 32;
Eastmoor 18 Dudley H8 7; Eccles 54
Knottingley Rock 12; Printly 13 Reful 29;
Folly Larie 20 Starle Cross 32; Leigh Miners
12 Saddleworth 13; Lideborough 4 Wigan
3; Pamchs 42; Middledon 14 Thaito Heath
13; Queens 20 Blaon 16; St Nicholas Arms
4 Ovenden 20; Terriscade Borough 12;
Knightey Albon 14; Underbank Rangers 28
Iden A B 122; Postporaed: Borough 16;
Knightey Albon 19; Underbank Rangers 28
Iden A B 122; Postporaed: Borough 16;
Knightey Albon 19; Underbank Rangers 28
Iden A B 122; Postporaed: Borough Red
Pulsagers v Mallord, Haydock v Westfeld Welfare: Hensingham v Rose Bridge; Illingworth v Wigan St Judles A; Lowca v
Unsensbury, Milliom v Park Armaleurs, Prestwich v Bratsmoulders; Roose v
Walter St, Seaton v Orrell S*, Jazzas, Walarisad v Egierhorit, West Bowling v
Widnes St, Bedes: Westgare Recountry
Moorends

RUGBY UNION

RENCH CHAMPIONSHIP: Pool one outpuse 17 Nice 0; Nathanne 18 Per

TALIAN CHAMPIONSRIP: MBan 34 L'A-quile 12, Traviso 48 Rome 15; Paxiova 15 Rowgo 3; Sen Dona 29 Catyrua 16: Mirano 18 Piecenza B, Lwomo 0 Catyruano 23.

Match-fixing inquiry

HOCKEY: The International Hockey Federation has appointed a lawyer with a background in the game to advise its disciplinary committee in the investigation of alleged match-fixing by India and Malaysia during the Olymple qualifying tournament in Barcelona (Sydney Friskin writes). This action follows charges brought against the two countries by Canada. The composition of the disciplinary committee has not been announced yet, but it is expected to be convened within two weeks.

THE WEST TIMES

Atlases of the World

Now! No handling charges and FREE postage to all our UK customers Offer applies United Kingdom only Also available from good Bookshops

会会会会会会会会会会

The Times Atlas of the World 9th Comprehensive (De Luxe) Edn £85 7th Concise Edition (15"x11"x1.5") £45 3rd Family Edition (12.5 x9.2 x1.1) £17.99 Reference Edition (12.5 x 9.2 x 0.8) £12.99 Compact Edition (9" x 6.5" x 0.65") £8.99 Mini (Pocket) Edn (6.2 x 4.2 x 0.65) £5.99

00000000

The Times Atlas of World History £40 Concise Edition (Paperback) £14.99 Compact Edition The Times Atlas of Archaeology £35

The Times Atlas of the Second World War 50th Anniversary Edition The Times Atlas European History £25 The Times London History Atlas £22.99

The Times Illust. World History £25 The Times Illust. History of Europe £25

Also available 000000

The Times 1000 1996 - Top Business Guide - £35 The Times Guide to the European Parliament £25 to the Peoples of Europe £15.99

to the Single European Market £8.99 to the New British State NOW ONLY £9.99 to the Middle East £8.99 to World Organisations NEW £16.99 The Times Good University Guide 1995/6 £8.99 The Times Night Sky 1996 (Guide Booklet) £3.50

Please send cheques or postal orders (no credit cards) payable to Akont Ltd, 51 Manor Lane, London SE13 5QW Enquiries: 018 i 852 4575 (24 hours) Delivery up to 8 days (UK)

Aller to the second FOR THE RECORD Dummes 9 Manchester & Swindon Multayfield 5 Medway 8, Pastey 8/lingham a Solihuli 5 Peterborough 7

Numer 51 Ministry, 438- Trunsvall 365 and 214 Transvall ceal Boland by nine worst; Pretona, Numer 63 Nate 167-6 Mart other 03 Nate 167-6 Mart other Date. Province 351 and 275-8 Ministry at 65 Nate 317 and 172-4 Gillscorping 65, Martin 575-8 Month 172-4 Gillscorping 65, Martin 575-8 Month Month Month Month Month All Color and Cause 31p. TENNENTS SCOTTISH CUP. Thad round. Postporned Benede. J Eundee Under Unter Unt A TROPHY Second round: Supported a Pure, 4 Chapellows 0 redwing & Duley 1 Country ac North Manufacture 2 East Country 1 Country ac Ensure 2 Oid Scalibration 1 (and Frantisco 4 Robertum of Homocountry Orl of Champo 2 September and East Setting 1 Redwing Puls 2 Merten INTERNATIONAL MATCH: Brack C Bul-pa a 1-Bras. a ICE HOCKEY

NATIONAL LEAGUE (NBIL): Hartord 5 Datas 3; NY Rangors 6 Tampa Bay 2, Flonda 2 St. Louis 2 (OT): Anahem 4 New Jetsoy 2 Edmonton 4 Calgury 2, Calorado 5 Philassichia 3 Semanasignia 3 BRITISH LEAGUE: Premier division: Basingctoke 6 Milhon Keynes 4, Cardof 10 Normighem 3 Dumant 11 Shorth 2, File 8 Humoersco 1, Nourcastle 3 Sheffled 5 First division: Blackburn 5 Gueldord 1 Stachnell 16 Tellord 1, Chelmsford 3

BEST DRAWS: Loylon Cherk Brome-Tove, Morecambs, Hastings, Albion

AWAYS: Dorby, Blackbook, Famborough,

HOMES: Crystal Patace, Ponsmouth,

WOMEN'S TERRITORIAL CHAMPION SHIP: South 5 Wost 6, North 5 East 5, Buss 3 Molands 5: South 11 North 4 NETBALL NETBALL

ROCHESTER: Schools inter-counties tournament: Under-18: Final placings, 1. Greater Manche xiz. 2. Sussay, 3. Heritordshire, 4. Surrey 5. Kert. 6. Middlesser, 7. Chestme, 8. Avon 9. Schiols. 10. Lancabure 11. Nutbrighartehre: 12. Two and Weer, 13. Esser Metropolitan, 14. Cumtons, 15. Bermingham 16, Northehrer, 19, East Esser, 20. Beothorishere, 21, Northehrer, 24. Budwightenstere, 25. Stropchies, 26, Berkhile, 27, North Durharm, 28, Humbersde, 29, Hampshire North, 20, East Thurnott, 31. Outgythre, 32, Wittshire, 33, Leacestarshire, 34. East Dorset, 35, Statiotechere 36, Northumberland Under-18: Final placinger, 1, Conates Manchester, 2. Berminghern, 3. Meddlesser, 4. Nottinghamchire, 5. East Esse, 6, Gloucestarshire, 7. Wonderstershire, 3. Kert. 9. North Durharm, 10, Northampsonshire, 11. Easter and Methodistan, 17. East Dorset, 18, Stropphine; 14. Surrey, 25, Lancacher, 26, Stropphine, 24. Surrey, 25, Lancacher, 26, South Yorkshire, 19, Sursey, 20, Esser Thurock, 21, Stropphine, 24, Surrey, 25, Lancacher, 26, South Yorkshire, 19, Sursey, 20, Esser Thurock, 21, Stropphine, 24, Surrey, 25, Lancacher, 26, South Yorkshire, 27, Leacestrother, 28, Dobbyanna, 39, Hamsuskan, 34, Humbersde, 35, Tyrie and West, 36. Northumbersde, 36. Northumb

POOLS FORECAST

19 Leyron O . Northistor X 20 Prostor y Costnesser 1 21 Rechtale v Fult att 1 22 Scattore v Centri X 23 Torquey v Hartepool 1 VALIONALL CONFERENCE Studdy February 17 Couper No filtura tomose FIRST DIVISION PRIST DIVISION

1 C Paince v Wattord

2 Lumn v Milwatt

3 Portunith v Sunderfid

4 Southers v Barrongham

1 SECOND DIVISION

7 South in the Rodrigham

9 Burstle v Rodrigham

19 Burstle v Rodrigham

10 Check v Wycomba

11 Shockson v Norts Co

11 Shockson v Norts Co

11 Shockson v Norts Co

12 Burstle v Wycomba

12 Burstle v Wycomba

13 Sockson v Norts Co

11 Shockson v Norts Co

12 Burstle v Wycomba

12 Burstle v Wycomba

12 Burstle v Wycomba

12 Burstle v Wycomba

13 Burstle v Wycomba

14 Burstle v Wycomba

15 Burstle v Wycomba

16 Burstle v Wycomba

17 Burstle v Wycomba

18 Burstle v Wy CONFERENCE
24 Bragione v Macristol X
25 Degenham v Staktigo 1
26 Heonestord v Basti 1
27 Morec De v Aminonam X
28 Hootheich v Haklax 1
29 Rundom v Fambord 2
30 Sough y Fostemp X
31 Soughport v Woving 2
31 Soughport v Woving 2
32 Stevenage v Gassen d 1
33 Tedord v Dover 2
34 Welving v Gottmister 2
34 Welving v Gottmister 2
35 Speared p Lowers 1
36 Tedord v Dover 2
36 Speared p Lowers 1
37 Tedord v Dover 2
38 Speared p Lowers 1
38 Tedord v Dover 2
39 Tedord v Dover 2
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
32 Tedord v Dover 3
33 Tedord v Dover 3
34 Tedord v Dover 3
35 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
37 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
32 Tedord v Dover 3
33 Tedord v Dover 3
34 Tedord v Dover 3
35 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
37 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
32 Tedord v Dover 3
33 Tedord v Dover 3
34 Tedord v Dover 3
35 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
37 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
32 Tedord v Dover 3
33 Tedord v Dover 3
34 Tedord v Dover 3
35 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
37 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
38 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
39 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
30 Tedord v Dover 3
31 Tedord v Dover 3
32 Tedord v Dover 3
33 Tedord v Dover 3
34 Tedord v Dover 3
35 Tedord v Dover 3
36 Tedord v Dover 3
37 Tedord v Dove 12 Barret Wigan X 13 Bury - Lincoln 1 14 Christre v Soundropp 1 15 Outlington v Mansfeld 7 16 Doncaster • Prymodh 2 17 Evette v Cambridge 1 18 Grington v Herelard 1 Se Vientig VILO motale* 2
BEAZER HOMES LEAGUE
PRIEMER DIVISION
35 Cravito v Baldock 1
36 Graves d v Altoristane 1
37 Grosley v Dorchaste 1
38 Hactings v Halesowen X

39 Skestor v Merthyr
40 Newport v Sudbury
41 Ricarden v Cheffham 1
42 Salsburye Burton
43 VS Rugby v Stattord
44 Wordebby v Chemefd
UNIBOND LEAGUE
PREMIERO MINISTON
45 Act glon v Gernsbord
48 Q Audstand v Barrow
49 Chemery v Sudbur
49 Ortschen v Spenigar
50 Emicy v Windord
51 Gualey v Nicord
51 Gualey v Nicord
51 Gualey v Nicord
52 Hyde v Findery
53 Leok v Blyth
50 CT 55 Sudh v Stramset

55 Abian v Cowlend in 2 56 Abian v Arprositi 3 57 Brechin v Rocs 1 58 E String v Livingson 1 ORAWS frome teams! Barnet, Leyton Creent, Scarbonough, Bromsgrove, More-cambo, Srough, Hactargo, Fushdert, Sala-bury, Bishop Auckland, Emkry, Albien

West Brom, Burney, Bury, Carlington, Exter Hechtesfeed, Gravosend, Worcos-ter, Chorley, Hyde.

FIXED CROSs. Homes: Crystal Palaco,

ter, choney, Pyces Proced Codos: Homes: Crystal Palaco, West Brom. Bury, Exister, Grovesend Averya: Kirldermister, Medityl, Soston Drawe: Bromsgrove, Microcambe Hastinga. ☐ Vince Wright

SIERRA NEVADA, Spain: World championathips: Women: Super-glant sta-lone: 1, F.Kostner (II) Imm 21,002ec. 2, H Zuntdogen 13ent2, 1,21 63, 3, P.Street (US) 1-21,77; 4, 9, Marken (Nor.) 1-22,22. (US) 1-21,82; 6, I.Marken (Nor.) 1-22,22. SWIMMING

GELSENIGRICHEN, Germany, World Cup short-course meeting: Winners Merr. Freestyle: 100m: A Popoy (Russ) 47.48sec 400m: J Hoftmann (Ger) min 44.68sec Breastatings: Stinc A Duraburia Ukig 27.82 200m: S Loputinon (Russ) 22.93.22 Backstolar: 100m: E Merie (fil) 53.80. Butterly: Som: M Foster (GB) 23.77.200m: J Hickmann (GB) 155.67. Meding: 100m: J Kruppa (Ger) 35.34.400m: L Sacchi (fil) 412.43. Women: Freestyle: Som: S Yoelen (Ger) 24.75 (equals: European record) 200m: O Hose (Ger) 1:53.31 Bolm: K Viliaghuls (Holi) 8.27.78. Breastatrolar: 100m: H Torman (Aus) 107.76. Backstolar: Som: A Bustrischule: (Ger) 24.98.200m: V Quaral (J 2.08.20.

DAVIS CUP: World Group: Flist round; Baly 3 Russite 2 (Baly names first): A Gaudenzi lost to 7 Kafelmicov 8-3, 3-8, 7-8, 7-5, R-Furtan bi A Chasmilion 6-0, 3-9, 6-3:

7-5. Czech Republic 5 Hungery 0 (Czech Republic names first) O Vacek bi S Noszni)
7-5. 6-3: J Novah bi J Korssko 6-7. 7-6. 6-0
United States 5 Mexico 0 (United States) names first): M Chang bi A Hernandez 6-0; 6-2: T Merbri bi L (zwolfe 3-6, 7-6, 6-4)
South Africa; 2 Austral 1 (South Africa names first: W Ferreirs and G Muller bi 1
Muster A Antondech 6-3, 7-6, 6-7, 3-6, 6-3, 5-un-African zone: Group one: First round: Issue 2 Norway 1 American zone Group one: Veracule 3 Canade 2, Brazil 5,
Chile 2: Barbanea 3 Peru 2, Group twol
First round: Colombie 5 Puerto Filco 0
Ecuador 5 Barbados 0, Unuguay 6 Guete mala 0, Oute 3 Paraguay 2, Aste-Oceani cone: Group one: South Norse 3 Indones.
1, New Zeeland 4 China 1, Japan 1 Philippines 0, Australia 3 Talwan 0, Group two: Trasland 4 Iran 1; Hong Kong 5 S Lanka 0, Postponact: Palicitan v Sauc
Arabas, Berharin v Urbelastan. DUBA: Men's tournement: First round Mechadev ((lier) to 8 Bleck (Zim) 6-4, 6-1, Charleson (Russ) bt L Joneson (Swe) 5-; 6-3, 6-4.

VOLLEYBALL. KNOCK-OUT CUP: Sern-final: Lewistur 3 Wheefield D, Tooling 3 Purbrook 0 NATIONAL LEASUE: Women: First d vision: Guildord 0 Music City 3, Music Cit 3 Sallord D, Berningham 0 Oppingon Sheft Wed 3 Liverpool 1, Wessex

THE WEST TIMES SPORTS SERVICE

RACING Call 0891 500 123

Call 0891 100 123

CRICKET

acones from the World Cup Call 0891 881 461 FOOTBALL

Reports and scores from the FA Cup Call 0839 555 562 Reports and scores from the Endskrigh Insurance League and Auto Windscreens Shield

Call 0839 555.512

4.3

- --

7.75

-

· * ****

. 19 =

100

· Analysis

Hendry Challes And the stage - 18

-

ALCON MAN Se sente

Cool customer arrives on the Formula One scene determined to lead the parade

Villeneuve will not settle for second best

FROM OLIVER HOLT IN ESTORIL

moment of uncertainty, when Jacques Villeneuve saunters into the garage. A small group is waiting to talk to him, unsure of where to stand. So he starts clicking his fingers, rock and roll style, signalling he wants to move things along. Somebody else tries to usher him out into the sun but he wanders further into the Villeneuve is a cool customer. His laid-back North American manner is spiced with French-Canadian piquancy. He is sharp, concise, speaks English and Italian fluently and avoids the public relations patter that turns so many drivers into champions of the platitude. When the group gathers round, he faces each questioner in turn, gazing up at them through his round, metal-rimmed glasses. His Williams-Renault teammate, Damon Hill, may be the favourite for the Formula One motor racing world drivers championship this year, but Villeneuve made it clear at the launch of the team's new car here yesterday that he has not forsaken a winning drive in the IndyCar series he won so tonvincingly last season to borne second to anybody— even in his first year...in Formula One. "We are each going to do our best." Villeneuve, 24, said. We are not there to help the other one. There is no reason not to have a straight fight. Even if you finish second in ...

THERE is a hull, a brief after a few years, you are not worth anything. It is almost more important to beat your team-mate than anybody else.

"Damon is beatable. Anyone is beatable as far as I am concerned. If Williams had told me that they wanted me to come here to be No 2 to somebody, then I would have said no way. I was happy in IndyCar, I was with a winning team. There would have been no point in coming here to be somebody's No 2.

"I am not going to be content to settle for second. Definitely. I am racing because I want to win. I always want to try to beat everybody. That is what is driving me. I know I have a lot to learn, but I am not coming to Formula One as some raw recruit from Formula 3000. I am coming as the IndyCar champion and the winner of the indianapolis 500. It is a bit different."

Villeneuve, the son of the late Ferrari driver, Gilles

Villeneuve, who was killed during practice for the Belgian Grand Prix at Zolder in 1982: has impressed the Williams team with his studied approach to testing since he joined them at the end of last season. There are no frills, no tantrums, rijust: quiet application.

Frank Williams, the team owner, and Patrick Head, his technical director, like strong personalities, that they do not have to mollycoddle, whose fragile egos they do not have to

Villeneuve, right, poses with his team-mate, Hill, as the wraps are taken off their new Williams-Renault Formula One racing car in Estoril

guy, a man with a clear view of where he wants to go and a fierce determination to get

I don't think Formula One is going to be any tougher than IndyCar." he said. There is probably more wheel to wheel racing in the States because the teams and the cars are closer together. It the championship but you are massage at every turn. Ville is cleaner over there, too, below your team-male, there receive seems to be their kind of From what I have seen on

Hendry creates new horizons

BY PHIL YATES

Hendry received a first prize of £125,000 on Sunday, plus the event's highest break award of £10,000 for a 144

total clearance against John

Higgins in the second round.

Since his debut at Wembley in 1989. Hendry has earned

£665,500 from the Masters alone and £4,593,225 in all tournaments. Davis boasts

£4,242,240.

prize-money of television, the racing here is quite dirty.

"If that concerns me, it won't concern me for long. If somebody plays a stupid game with you, you have to play it back because otherwise they will do it over and over. I bope my reputation is for being hard but fair. I have never had a real problem wheel-banging with anyone, but if you have to

There seems little chance of him turning into another Michael Andretti, the IndyCar champion who arrived in Formula One in 1993 with a fine racing reputation and left prematurely and ignomini-ously, six months and just one podium position later, with his tail between his legs and the reputation of IndyCar drivers with Formula One team own-

Andretti, though, picked a team - McLaren - that was fighting signs of decline and was given few testing opportunities to adapt to the lighter, nimbler cars. Villeneuve has already clocked up 9,000 miles in testing at several circuits and will not commute back and forth to North America as Andretti did, living in an apartment in Monaco instead.
"Michael Schumacher is going to be tough, "Villeneuve said as a parting shot. "And Damon will be quick. But I feel at home here already. It is not like I thought. There was supposed to be no life within the teams and the drivers were supposed to be robots. But that is not true. And if the others thought I was coming to cruise round in second, that is wrong, too. 1 am here to St Helens next in line for giant-killers of Salford

By OUR SPORTS STAFF

SALFORD have been rewarded for their giant-killing of Wigan with a home tie against St Helens, the favourites, in the quarter-finals of rugby league's Silk Cut Challenge Cup.

Salford stunned the world of the 13-man game by bearing Wigan — the winners of the competition for the past eight seasons — 26-16 in the fifth round on Sunday. Now, they must take on St Helens for the chance to reach the semi-finals for the first time since 1988.

Leeds, the losing finalists in each of the past two seasons, will play the winners of the delayed fifth-round tie between Halifax and Sheffield. Bradford will entertain Wakefield, while one first division side is assured of reaching the last four as Hull take on Dewsbury or Widnes in the other quarter-final.

Meanwhile, Leeds and the Rugby Football League (RFL) are to seek an injunction against Craig Innes, the former All Black centre, after his decision to join Manly-Warringah in Australia In-nes, 26, whose contract at Headingley does not expire until June 1997, flew to Sydney yesterday after helping Leeds to beat Warrington in the Cup on Saturday. A club statement

QUARTER-FINALS

Hahles or Sheffield v Leeds Hull v Dewsbury or Widnes Salford v St Helens Ties to be played February 24 and 25

last night said: "The Rugby Football League confirmed that it will be supporting Leeds in applying for an injunction to restrain Craig Innes from repudiating his contract and playing in Aus-tralia for Manly."

Maurice Lindsay, the chief executive of the RFL, said: "We have been given a sight of Craig Inness contract and it would appear that Leeds are perfectly correct to challenge what is nothing less than an inducement by the Australian

Leeds had hoped to per-Headingley until their interest in the Cup was over, but were unable to match the rumoured £350,000 offer from Manly.

Alf Davies, the Leeds chief executive, said: "This is a real blow to the club, especially as we have just reached the quarter-finals of the Silk Cut Challenge Cup. We have spent a great deal of money trying to keep our players out of the reach of predators, but there was no way we could match the kind of offer made to Craig from our own resources. Although Craig was quite open with us, we were left with no option but to defend out position legally.

Schuback leads the advance

BY GORDON ALLAN

the quarter-finals of the Churchill; Insurance world indoor pairs bowls third with a take-out for four shots. thampionship with a 6-7,7-3,7-3, 7-5. The fourth set could have gone win over the former Scottish twobowl champions, David Slaven and John Jackson, at the Preston Guild Hall yesterday.

Schuback has won the title twice with different partners but Kerkow is new to the portable rink. Kerkow. 26, who will represent Australia in the world outdoor singles event in Adelaide next month, uses a walking stick as a result of a childhood illness similar to polio. After a tentative start, he contributed fully to the victory.

Slaven and Jackson, from East Kilbride, led 5-0 in the first set, with Schuback having to call on all his

Delay may give edge to Andries

BY SRIKUMAR SEN

BOXING CORRESPONDENT

TERRY DUNSTAN, of Wal-

sall, already holds a decision over Dennis Andries, but the chances of the 42-year-old former world light-heavy-weight boxing champion beating Dunstan in their second ond encounter for the British cruiserweight title tonight at

York Hall, Bethnal Green,

Not only has Andries proved the experts wrong in the past, but the postponement of the bout at the London

Arena from Saturday to tonight because of the Dock-lands bombing, could also weigh in Andries's favour.

Dunstan, who is believed to be struggling to make the cruiser-weight limit, had to stay on a diet for another two days, while Andries, who has no weight problems, was able to

As the boxers had already weighed in on Saturday, John

Morris, secretary of the British Boxing Board of Control, told them they would be excused a second weigh-in.

provided everybody agreed.

Andries insisted on the weigh-in being held again yesterday.

Brendan Ingle, the Sheffield

trainer, and his welterweight.

Min Saunders, escaped serious injury in the bombing on orlday. They were returning to the Britannia Hotel after the weigh-in at the Peacock Gym.

Silvertown, when they were held up by a police roadblock

Seconds later the bomb went off, "The blast shook us like rag dolls," Ingle said.

however.

relax over the weekend.

should not be ruled out.

and Schuback abruptly ended the third with a take-out for four shots. either way and the match ended, after three hours and 20 minutes. with a perfectly-drawn bowl from Schuback "Spike — that's his [Kerkows] nickname because of his crew-cut hairstyle - did pretty well in difficult circumstances. It was a new bowl game to him but for me it was like coming home. I just love this:

rink." Schuback said. Kerkow added: "It was strange: out there, with the spectators so-

THERE is overwhelming year-old in 1985. Davis has evidence to support the claim compiled 244.

needed the practice." Schuback and Kerkow now meet Mark McMahon and Ian Taylor, that Stephen Hendry, who captured the Benson and Hedges Masters snooker title for the sixth time in eight years at Wembley Conference Centre on Sunday, is the finest player in the game's modern

Steve Davis has won the world championship on six occasions to Hendry's five and has prevailed in 70 tournaments compared with a portfo-lio of 58 triumphs by the Scot.

Crucial to the argument, however, is that Davis turned professional in 1978, seven

Despite having such a head start. Davis trails Hendry in total career prize-money and has long been overtaken by the present world champion at the top of the list of century

The 125 clearance fashioned by Hendry during his 10-5 victory over Ronnie O'Sullivan in the final of the Masters was his 33rd of the season and the 331st since he joined the professional ranks as a 16-years before his rival breaks in compeniion.

IAN SCHUBACK and Kelvin experience to peg them back. The who completed a straight-sets vic-Kerkow, of Australia, advanced to match was squared in the second set tory over Lee Nixon and Adrian champion at 100 and 200 metres (ASI). Riley was given a prescription Welch, from the Channel Islands. Another pair from overseas, Rowan Brassey and Sid Giddy, of New Zealand, defeated Noel Graham and Ian McClure, the Irishmen, in a tight contest.

Kerkow has been drawn against Andy Thomson, the holder, in the singles later in the week and Schuback will play Ian Bond, the English national champion. Thomson will be trying to win the title for the third consecutive year, a feat that only David Bryant has accomplished. The prize-money has been increased this year with the pairs close on both sides. 1 certainly winners receiving £14,000 and the needed the practice." singles winner £27,000.

Such statistics cannot alone convey Hendry's dominance.

O'Sullivan summed it up by saying: "There's no one like him. He's got tunnel vision.

he's single-minded and he's in a different league when it comes to desire and dedica-

Hendry's 28th win in 30 matches at the Masters was achieved in textbook fashion.

Patiently, he outwitted O'Sullivan in the majority of tactical exchanges before fully exploiting the scoring chances that his superior safety shots created with breaks of 71, 77,

The general standard of play is getting better, but, by the same token. I'm getting better." Hendry, who has also prevailed at the Regal Scottish

Masters, Skoda Grand Prix

and United Kingdom Championship during the 1995-96 campaign, said. "Mind you, I have to improve because players are pressing hard."

62, 87, 125, 80, 97.

Riley facing ban after drug test

breaststroke, short and long-course, could be suspended for two years after testing positive for a drug found in prescription headache

A sample taken from Riley at the world short-course championships in Brazil in December, where she won her titles in world-record times. revealed traces of dextropropoxyphen, a narcotic analgesic that relieves pain and is on the International Olympic Committee's list of hanned substances, though it does not enhance performance.

Numerous athletes have tested positive for the drug but Riley, 23. from Queensland, would be the first to be punished. According to Vena Results, page 40 | Murray, the executive director of headache pill by Scott Volkers, her coach, after complaining of a headache two days before her race.

Officials from Fina, the international governing body, met in Berlin on Friday but have yet to come to a decision over Riley. Their dilemma is clear: should they follow their own guidance and impose a suspension of up to two years that would keep Riley out of the Olympics or be more lenient and court criticism from China, 19 of whose swimmers have tested positive and been sus-pended, all bar one for steroids, since 1991? A suspension of more than five months, even retroactive, would effectively bar Riley from Atlanta, as she would miss the since the ascent of Chinese swimmers in the early 1990s. Mustapha Larfaoui, the president of Fina, was there last week and efforts were being made to persuade him to call for leniency. An Australian swimming source said: "I don't think it worked. Many here think Sam's going to be the scapegoat for Australia's hard line on drugs." Volkers, the coach, said: "She

Australia has been the most would never take a performanceenhancing drug. It was a headache tablet and the drug in it would not have helped her performance." Riley drew questions about drugs when she reduced the records in Brazil, taking the 100 metres to Imin 05.70sec, from 1:06.58, and the 200 metres to 2:20.85, from 2:21.99.

TODAY'S FIXTURES

AVON INSURANCE COMBINATION: Sec-ond division: Plymouth v Birmingham (2.0): Torquay v Bath (7.0) (2.0): Torqusy v Bath (7 0) PONTINS CENTRAL LEAGUE: First division: Desty v Newcastle (7 0). Stoke v Livarpool (7 0). Postpomed: West Bromwich v Olcham Becond division; Postponed: Manchester City v Aston Vila. PA VASE: Pith-in-und replay: Mangotsfield United v Witerline Town.

vision: Portadovin i Gienavon. SUN LIFE GOLD CUP: Final: Crusaders i Linteld vat Oveli.

Linteld at Oveli.
LONDON SPARTAN LEAGUE: Premier dyslori Tutnel Park v Berkingsde.
BANG'S BREWERY: Premier division: Gomai Afficiar v Stoupport Swits, Westfelds v Luctow.

fields v Lectow.
GREAT MILLS LEAGUE: Premier divesion.
GREAT MILLS LEAGUE: Premier divesion.
Breste Manor Farm v 2ndport. Mangoisteid v Baciesel. Ood Down v Chippenham HELLENIC LEAGUE: Premier division:
Swindon Supermerine v Debot MANERIVA SOUTH MEDIANDS LEAGUE:
Premier Division Cupy. Third notind, second leg: Natycholen v Toddinglon.
O'Briant/Ackenzie Butchers Trophy:

First division Chorley v Genetorough, Dudley v Merthyr (7.45) Suctions Town v Gloucester Sheffield Lild v Milwell (7 45) Second division Blackpool v Swaness Stockpool v Wreatern Bristol City v Shrewsbury (7.45) (I.A.S. SKIDLY TOWN V Glourester LEAGUE OF WALES; Postporned; Rhyl v
Leneardfreed Cup: Owerter-finel, liest leg; Postponed; Sarry v Cwmbran.
COMBINED COUNTIES LEAGUE; Premier division; Chipstead v Raynes Park Valle Farntom v Blon Wox, Godalmeng and GuatEnd v Achters! Suidford v Achters SMITINOFF IRISH LEAGUE: Premier di-

Australian trials.

Third division
Cambridge Utd v Fulham (7.45)
Gillingham v Barnes (7.45)
Lincoln v Harebrot Rochdele v Bury
Exeter v Mansfield (7.45) Auto Windscreens Shield Northern Section Rothertram v York . . .

FOOTBALL

Fourth-round replays
Wimbledon v Modilesbrough (7.45)
Oxford Utd v Nottinghern Forest (7.45)
Crawe v Southernpton

Nick-off 7.30 unless sseed FA Cup Fourth round

toswich v Walsati (7 45) . . .

Endsleigh Insurance League

Southern Section Peterborough v Bristot Rovers (7.45) . . Vauxinal Conference Bet's Scottish League

Motherwell v Aberdeen (7.45) First division Airdne v Clydebank Second division Forler v Orseen of South Third division

Ross County v Uvingston

Premier division

RESULT: Final: S Hendry (Scot) bt # O'Sullivan (Eng. 10-5. France scores: (Hendry first): 158-0, 12-73, 66-90, 78-48, 74-49, 61-17, 71-5, 74-1, 0-103, 122-0, 126-8, 9-62, 80-1, 0-138, 103-0. Terments Scottish Cup Greenock Morton v Mortgose Humberside Hawks had BEAZER HOMES LEAGUE: Premier di-visions Betdock v Ruhden and Demonds. Stafford v Helesowen (7.45). Michard divisions Budsingham Town v R C Warwick. Roddict v Pacet R. Southern divisions. Fisher 83 v Wittey; Reet T v Enth and Betwicken. Westinnsuper-Mere v Sating-tourne; Westinnsuper-Mere v Sating-tourne; Westinnsuper-Mere v Sating-tourne; Westinnsuper-Mere v Sating-tourne; Westinnsuper-Mere v Satisfactury. Fourth round: Hendiey Town v Moor Green.

Fourth round: Biggleswade v Bridge Packaping
INTERLINK EXPRESS MIDLAND FOOTBALL ALLIANCE: Bislenal v Rushall
Dympic, Halesowen Hamers v Hindsley Athletic: West Michards Police v Boldmere
St Michaels, Willenhall Town v Knypersley
Visiona, Rocestor v Pershore Town Industrief Rewinds Cup: Cuarre-firet: Oddury
United v Chaselown. NORTH WEST COUNTIES LEAGUE: Cup: Third-round replay: Trafford v kidsgrove ESSEX SENIOR LEAGUE: Premier di-vision: Maidon v Burnham Ramblers. vision: Maddon v Burnham Ramblers.
JEWSON EASTERN COUNTIES
LEAGUE: Pramier division: Clacton v Sowmarket, Felections v Sudbury. Tiphres
v Comard: Wisbeet v Watton Cup:
Countre-final: Falenham v Ety Ouartenfinal trains. Wathors v Heistead

Dobrins-mail: Poervisin V Ely Chamshing replay: Warboys v Hatslead JEWSON WESSEX LEAGUE: First of vision: BAT v Swanage and Herston, Cospon v Wittchurch
NORTHERN COUNTES EAST LEAGUE:
Premier division; Belger Town v Hucknali, Liversedge v Ossell Albion, North Ferriby v
Pockettin. UNIJET SUSSEX LEAGUE: John O'Hara Cup: Semi-linat; Hailsham v Peacehaven and Telscombe and lescombe WINSTONLEAD KENT LEAGUE: Finst di-vision: Folkestone Invide v Ramsgate: Tharnesmead v Furness. Whistable v

FA YOUTH CUP: Fourth round: Manchester United + Norwich, O.P. R. v. West Harn. Plymouth v. Crystel Palace, Oldham Ath v. Melwell

Ally Malwall SCHOOLS MATCHES: English Schools Full Film Trophy: Quarter-final; Walkall v Wins! (at Walkall Wood FC), FA Premier

Kick-off 7.30 unless stated

Tour metch Newcastle v New South Wales (7.0) TENNENTS CHAMPIONSHIP: Regional League: East one: Curre v Biggar. Edit-burgh Width v Preston Lodge. West. String County v Glasgow Acado

WHU MIDWEEK LEAGUE: Pool A: Abercynon v Pontypool (70) Pool D: Bonymeen v Tondu (70) CLUB MATCHES: Carditi v Swansea (7 0) Pontypool v Penarih (7 0), South Wales Police v Pontypodd (7 0) Cancelled: Nantytfylion v Meesleg

OTHER SPORT

OTHER SPORT

BOXING: World Bosing Organisation intercontinential Bight-weitenweight champloneship: Paul Pyan (Hackney, holder) v.
Jonathan Theston (Norwch). British cruteserweight championship: Terry Dunstan (Vaushall holder) v. Dennis Andels (Hackney): British weitenweight champloneship: Crins Standers (Barrisley, holder) v.
Kevin Liesting (Backney): Not Hall,
Bertrail Green). Commonwealth superbentamweight championship (vacanit NeeSwan (Phondols) v. Nashien Sang (Aus)
(Wels) institute of Sport, Cardiffi BOWLS: Churchili Insurance world indoor TENNIS: LTA women's calelled tournament

Panthers sink under goal flood

Hendry: dedicated

BY NORMAN DE MESQUITA

IT WAS a bad weekend for Nottingham Panthers in the British Ice Hockey League's premier division. After being beaten at home 7-5 by Newcastle Warriors, they then travelled to Cardiff Devils and were 6-0 down during the second period before managing a goal. Devils went on to win 10-2, which kept them within a games without a win.

point of Sheffield Steelers. who attracted a 5,000 crowd to Newcastle Arena but spoilt things for the home fans by winning a hard-fought contest 5-3, scoring three times in the third period.

The third period was crucial, too, for Basingstoke, who scored three goals during it to gain their first win in six games and extend Milton Keynes Kings run to eight two players ejected during an-8-1 defeat by Fife Flyers, while Slough Jets remained bottom of the table after an 11-2 loss to Durham Wasps. There was another big crowd at the Nynex Arena in Manchester. more than 11,000 watching the Storm beat Swindon Wildcats 8-2, although Swindon led 2-0 after 12 mmutes.

Green.
CS LEAGUE: Premier division: Bereham Wood v Welton and Hershem (7.45): Grays v Hitchin (7.45). Postponed: Hendon v Worthing First division: Alderston Town v Tooling and Michael. Berithansand v Trans: Medicarbead Unated v Leyton Pensant. Second division: Beachest v Thury. Withorn v Bedford T. Third division: Camberley v Epoons and Ewelf Classion v Harefield. Lewes v Horsbark. Southeld v Window and Eton. Guestian Insurance Cup: Third ricund: Aylachory v Contribution Am. 1998(6):00. Results, page 40 UNBOND LEAGUE First Division: Warrigton v Lancaster Cup: Fourth Source: Ski Club of Great Britain, L - lower slopes; U - upper; art - artificial.

SNOW REPORTS Weather Conditions Runs to Paste Off/p resort (5pm) Last ANDORRA 110 240 good vaned good sun 0 11/2 (Excellent snow and skiing for all grades) Soldeu AUSTRIA Kitzbühel 5 75 tair varied art cloud 3 8/2 (Higher pistes skiing well; some good off-piste runs) FRANCE Flaine 70 190 good powder good snow -6 12/2 (Excellent conditions; 50cm of fresh snow expected) 90 150 good powder good snow -1 12/2 (Fair visibility but superb skiing conditions) Val d'isère ITALY 100 300 good varied good li (Good skiling in all areas; tricky light at times) Cervinia SWITZERLAND C Montana good powder closed snow -3 12/2 (Good snow conditions generally: poor visibility) 15 280 good varied fair cloud 2 11/2 (Good piste skiing but light very flat)

THE 經濟 TIMES SNOWLINE 0891 333 568 24hr sking information direct from resorts in: 0891 662 258 0891 333 462 Comprehensive outlook in the skiling areas for the week ahead The Std State of Great Behavior 198 Ealer Square, Lumber Septist gas Calls cast Milylum classy rate (Sprana 21 at other synts

Capriati steps back under the spotlight

Andrew Longmore looks at the surprise return of a one-time wonderkid resuming her love-hate relationship with tennis

If the right noises are being made about the unexpected return of Jennifer Capriati Paris Open tonight, but not even the Olympic champion herself would like to predict whether she is ready to get back on the merry-go-round for good. Capriao is all of 19 years old now, with entries in the sporting record books and police files under her name and a highly-developed sense of cynicism that should serve her well if her professed new love affair with tennis is not to end in the same drug rehabilitation centre as the first.

In her first competitive match for 15 months, the American will play Sabine Appelmans, a left-hander from Belgium ranked No 26 in the world, whose surprise at the news of Capriao's return last week reflected the general disbelief of the players on the women's lour. Having played just one match since dropping her rackets in a rubbish bin and retiring to bed for a week after defeat in the first round of the 1993 US Open. Capriao had become just another forgotten wonderkid who could not hack it. The lockerroom talk had long since moved on -Monica Seles's win in Australia, the state of Steffi Graf's injured back. Jennifer Capriad was yesterday's child. "With Monica, we knew what she was doing, knew that she was practising and would come back, but we've heard nothing about Jennifer at all. She's been out for a while, so no one was talking about her, which is why it has been such a surprise," Appelmans said.

The official line, peddled by John Evert, brother of Chris and her former agent, among others, is that Capriati has grown up over the past few months and decided independently that she wants to play again. "For the first time in a long while, she is playing "She's so much more positive about her life. She's grown older and

'Only when her

pudgy face ap-

Paris in February, in a tournament organised by IMG, her faithful start afresh, far removed from the ment to a game dominated by the prying eyes of a middle America sterner features of Steffi Graf and

Muster: surprised at criticism

outraged by the morality tale of the girl once dubbed the "most marketable American since Minnie Mouse" and the next Chris Evert. Yesterday, Capriati practised with Anke Huber in the Stade de Pierre Coubertin, a drop-kick away from the Parc des Princes, and, for all you could tell beneath a baggy pair of tracksuit bottoms, she looked fit and healthy. Huber suggested that time away had not taken the edge off the pace of those two-handed groundstrokes with which Capriati had announced her arrival at Boca Raton a month before her fourteenth birthday, in

Only the continued presence of her burly, bullying father, Stefano, sup-posedly one of the causes for Capriati's initial disillusionment, has raised questions about the strength of the commitment. The relationship between the two is said to be stronger than it has been since the break-up of the Capriatis' tempestuous marriage last vear. Jennifer moved out of the home of her mother, Denise, last September and back in with her father, a prelude to > training for a return to the circuit. As yet, Stefano has not let his daughter speak for herself, which is not promising she will do so after her match tonight - but he confirms that she has been training hard for the past four months back in Florida and is looking forward to playing again.

> "She feels good about herself again," he said. "I peared on front don't see it as a new career, in any way. Sometimes, in all pages did people jobs, you stop work see the damage for a time and then what has happened to Jennifer. It's not important wheth-

to do well." That women's tennis desperately needs Capriati back in the top rank is beyond question. During her 312 years on tour, she became the ngest player, at 14, to reach a grand-slam semi-final, in Paris in 1990, and was one of the few able to match the groundstroke power of Seles and Graf. Above all, her bubbling, infectious, personality agents, seemed a suitable place to brought a hint of colour and enjoy-

FROM ALIX RAMSAY

IN DUBAL

THERE are few things that can stop Thomas Muster getting what he wants on a tennis court. The weather in Johannesburg may have slowed him a little as he began his reign as world No I - Muster spent yesterday in South Africa finishing off a Davis Cup tie

when he should have been heading for the Dubai Open -

but the Muster bandwagon bursts by Pete Sampras and Andre Agassi, belittling the Austrian's claim to the top spot in the rankings for winning all but one of his 12

Certainly the recent out-

was stopping for nobody.

er she wins or loses. She is just trying

Capriati in happier times in 1992, when she struck Olympic gold and was the darling of Wimbledon

Martina Navratilova. The Women's Tennis Association even bent the rules to allow Capriati to make her debut in the month of her fourteenth birthday rather than after it.

Capriati's victory over the ninetimes Wimbledon champion on the Centre Court seemed to mark the pudgy face with a nose ring appeared on the front pages of most newspapers the morning after Capriati's arrest in a rundown Florida motel for possession of marijuana a year later did anyone fully understand what damage the

Muster defends his right to head world rankings

three of the four grand-slam crowns last year, but while they took the limelight, Muster dominated the early part of the year with a 40-match winning streak on the European clay courts, a run which took him to the French Open title. That laid the groundwork for his rise to the top, but

The rules state that only the best 14 results of the year

count towards a player's ranking, while early-round losses can be discarded. While Sampras and Agassi seem to begrudge Muster his achievements on clay, they have achieved the majority of their successes on hard courts and it has irked the Americans.

incessant demands of parents, sponsors, media and spectators could do to a tender psyche. Almost over-night, Capriati slid from being a multi-millionairess, a member of the coveted Forbes Top 40 earners, to just another wasted teenager and her changing of an era, but only when a 1994 in Philadelphia, confirmed the general belief that Capriati's time had come and gone.

The prospect of defending her Olympic title in Atlanta in the finally found how much she does anyone else.

love the game. Maybe she needs the money. Nobody knows whether this will be another one-night stand or a more permanent affair. The players hope the latter.

"Jennifer coming back is good for the game," Appelmans said, "Sbe is another big name and we need all the publicity we can get." Capriati, of course, needs as little as she can get: at least until she finds her feet on the court again and really decides whether this will be her life once summer may have prompted more. "We don't expect anything."
Capriati's return. Maybe she has said Stefano. Nor, this time, should iust look at the effort needed

Consistency on that level is something which has always eluded Goran Ivanisevic, the fourth seed in Dubai. He let his nerves get the better of him and he faltered slightly at the start of the second set against

Jordi Burillo, from Spain,

before reaching the second round 6-3, 6-4. However, he still admires such a virtue in others. "Muster had to win 12 tournaments and seven in a row, it doesn't matter if they are all on day," he said. "He proved he is an unbelievable fighter. He deserves to be

Results, page 40

to maintain that."

The long itch called Emily The Amherst Myth. Radio 4, 2.00pm.

The Amherst Myth. Radio 4, 2.1.10m.

Except for a lock of hair, a daguerreotype and a brief written sketch ("I am small like a wren; my hair is bald as a chestnut burr"), there were no physical dimensions in Emily Dickinson's bequests to posterity. Nor did America's linest woman poet explain why she led a recluse's existence. And still not solved is the riddle of the 1,300 poems found in a wooden box in her home in Amherst, Massachusetts, after she died in 1886. In The Amherst Myth, the British poet Simon Armitage travels to Amherst. He pieces together some of the jigsaw puzzle, but great gaps remain. "We have a terrible itch to make sense of her," says an American professor. The 110-year itch must surely be the longest in the history of verse-writing.

The Off Season, Radio 4.FM, 10.00am.

Although I have heard only a few excerpts from Alex Frater's account of his visit to the Indian state of Goa, it was quite enough to persuade or his visit to the indian state or coa, it was quite enough to persuade me not to follow in his footsteps. Not in the moonsoon season, anyway. Frater's report launches a series in which travel writers return to their favourite holiday haunts after the tourists have packed their bags and gone. Why Frater chose monsoon time, I simply cannot imagine. He sloshes about in muddy paddy-fields at night, watching the locals catching frogs by hypnotising them with torches. A quick beheading, then they are skinned alive, roasted and served to the well-off.

FM Stereo, 4.00mm Clive Warren, 6.30 Chris Evans 9.00 Simon Mayo 12.00 Lisa "Anson, Incl. at 12.30-12.45pm Newsbest and 1.15 The Net 2.00 Nicky Campbell in the Alternoon 4,00 Dave Pearce, incl at 5,30-5,45 Newsbeet and

FM Sterno, 6.00aas Martin Keiner 7.30 Sarah Kennedy 9.30 Ken Bruce; incl at 10,00 Hils 11.30 Jimmy Young 2.00pm Judi Spiers 3.30 Ed Stewart 5.05 John Durn 7.00 Hayes over Batain 0.30 Penmento (6.69 9.00 Burns: A Drem and the Truth 10.00 Alter Egos: Valene Solit bales to Dame Joan Sutherland 10.30

S.00em Morning Reports 6.00 The Breaklast Programme, incl 6.56, 7.55 racing preview 8.35 The Magazine, Incl 10.35 Euronews 11.30 Drify News 12.00 Middley with Mais, Incl 12.34pm Moneycheck, 1.15 Entertainment, News 2.95pm Ruscoe on Prec, incl 3.15 Prims Minister's Question Time 3.45 Entertain-ment News 4.00 John Invertidale Nation-wide 5.45 Entertainment News, 7.00 News Ettra, with Valerie Sanderson 7.35 The Tuesdey Maich 10.05 News Talk The Tuesday Match 10,05 News Talk 11,00 Might Extra, Incl 11,15 The Financial World Tonight 12,05am After Hours 2.05 Up Al Night

TALK RADIO

um On Alr. Mozast (Ov Die Zauberflöte: Hallé Orchestra under John Barbiroff); Schubert

8.00am Sandy Weri 7.00 Simon Bates 10.00 Jonathan King 12.00 Tornny Boyd 2.00pm Anna Raebum 4.00 Scott

All times in GMT. 5.00am Newsday 5.30 Europe Today 6.00 Newsday 6.30 Europe Today 7.00 News 7.15 Off the Shott: Ake 7.30 New tdeas 7.50 The Planets 8.00 News 8.10 Words of Feith 8.15 Rectal 8.00 News in German 9.15 My Music 9.45 Sport 10.00 Newsdesk 10.30 BBC English 10.45 Off the Shettig Ake 11.00 Newsdesk 11.30 Orams: The House of Cards 12.00 World News 12.05pm World Business Report 12.15 British Today 12.30 Your Brain Changes Shape 1.00 Newsdoor 2.00 News 2.05 Outlook 2.30 Mutitirack: Hit List 3.00 News in German 3.15 On Screen 3.30 Outpok 2.30 Multimack: Hit List 3.00 Nows in German 3.15 On Screen 3.30 Ornabus 4.00 News 4.15 The World Today 4.30 News in German 5.00 Europe Today 5.30 World Business Haport 6.45 Sport 8.00 Newsdesk 6.30 News in German 7.00 News 7.01 Outpok 7.25 Faith 7.30 Megernix 8.00 Newsberg 9.00 News 9.00 Newsberg 9.00 Newsberg 9.00 News 9.00 Newsberg 9.00 News 9.00 Newsberg Newshour 9:00 News 9.05 Business Report 9.15 British Today 9:30 Mexidien 10.00 Newsdesk 10.30 World Today 10.45 Sport 11.00 News 11.10 Invitation to the Dence 11.15 Anything Goes 11.45 Country Michalght Newsdesk 12.30 nm What's News? 12.45 British 1.00 News 1.10 Press Review 1.15 Cn Screen 1.30 Western Music 2.00 Newsdey 2.30 Andy Kershaw 3.00 News 3.15 Sport 3.30 Discovery 4.00 Newsdesk 4.30 Europe

CLASSIC FM

The Opens Guide, with High Mechher-son 8.00 Evening Concert 10.00 Mich-ael Mappin 1,00mm Mel Cooper

VIRGIN RADIO 6.00am Russ 'n' Jono 9.00 Richard Skinner 12.00 Graham Dane 4.00pm

Nicky Home 7.30 Paul Coyte 10.00 Mark Forrest 2.00-6.00mm Robin Banks

Barbiroffi); Schubert (Symphony No 3 in D: BBC SO under Andrew Davis); Cavelli (Leuda Jerusalem); Komgold (Violin Concerto); Bach (Wachet aut, ruft uns die Stimme, Carteta No 140); Prokofiev (Peter and the Wolf) 9.00 Moming Collection. Mendelssohn (Overture: A Midsummer Nicht's Descent Moming Collection. Mendelssohn (Overture: A Midsummer Night's Dream); Poulenc (Mass in G); Liszt (II penseroso; Canzonetta del Salvatore Rosa, Années de pèlerinege); Tippett (Fantasia Concertante on a Theme of Conelli)

Coreli) 10.00 Musical Encounters, 10.05 Nustical Encounters. 10.05
Seint-Seins (L'Assessinat due Duc de Guise); 10.15
Artist of the Week: Nicholas. Daniel, oboe. Donizetti (Oboe Sonata in F); 10.30 Janaček (Miaci, Youth); 11.20
Beethoven (Sonata in A, Op 2 No 2); 11.45 Colin Matthews (Chiarosouro)

(Chiaroscuro)
12.00 Composer of the Week:
Indag Berlin. Paul Guinary tells the composer's story and plays his songs (2/5)
1.00 The BBC Orchestras, BBC

Symphony Orchestra under Matthias Barnert, Gerhard Matthias Barnert, Gerhard (Symphony No. 1: Symphony: Homenaje a Pedrell)
2.00 Schoolas Pleytime 2.15 Time to Move 2.35 Listen!
3.00 Billy Maryert. Peter Dickinson introduces music composed by the popular pianist (1/2)
3.20 The BBC Orchestras. BBC
Scottish Symphony Orchestra
under George Harst; Stephanie Gonley, violan.
Tippett (Filtual Dances, The

Clarke
1.40 The Archert (r) 1.55
Shipping Forecast
2.00 Newn; The Amherst Myth.
See Choice
2.30 A Club for Gedfierner. Paul ctors (r)

3.00 The Afternoon Shift
4,00 Rees 4.05 Kaleldoscope.
Paul Vaughen reads Rupert Thousan's new novel The

chors (r) 3.00 The Albert

Allen investigates the history and repertoire of male voice

insuit, and investigates the Midsummer Marriage); Tchaikovsky (Violin Concerto No 4 in B list)

5.00 The Music Machine. Sarah

Walker talks to the composer

Paul Newland about making a in D); Beethoven (Symphony fiving from composing (r) 5.15 in Tune. Geraint Lewis introduces a selection of introduces a selection or intusit: including Welton (Scapino); Britten (Four Cabaret Songs); Howels (Paradise Rondel); Brahms (Serenade No 2 in A, Op 16); Stravirsky (Overture: The Reke's Progress).

7.30 Britten Plus, Ian Bostridge, tenor, Julian Drake, piano-perform music by Britten and Schubert recorded at Tie Wigmore Hell last month 9.00 Towards Musical Democracy. Sam Richards tocuses on tradition and innovation in his profile of the 9.25 The BBC Orchestras, BBC Pascal Tortetier. Sargent (Impressions of a Windy Day); Fauré (Cantique de Jean Racine); Poulenc (Gloria in G); Fauré (Requiern). 10.45 Night Waves. Richard Coles or and investigates Frank Zappa's last work. The Yellow Shark, as the original participents prepare to recreate this epic work for one performance only. Plus a review of the opening of Martin Crimp's new version of Molière's The Misanthrope

S. 75

11.30-12.30am Music Restored.
Burrion Bush cirected by Burning Bush directed by Lucie Skeaping in a programme of early and traditional Jewish music for pole position. They shared FREEPHONE BETTING HOWZAT! You can use your SWITCH or DELTA Bank or Building society debit cards RING TODAY BET TODAY 0800 44 40 40 CARTICULAR STATE OF THE STATE O OUTRIGHT BETTING 7/2 Australia 9/1 England 28/1 New Zealand Pakista 200/1 Zimbabwe South Africa 1000/1 Netherlands 1500/1 Kenya 7/1 Sri Lanka 1500/1 U.A.E. Each way one third the odds a place 1, 2. All in play or not 8/15 ENGLAND v NEW ZEALAND 11/8 TOP SCORING BATSMAN ENGLAND NEW ZEALAND 11/4 Atherton 7/2 Fleming 4/1 Spearma 4/1 Parore 4/1 Thorpe 9/2 Twose 7/1. Fairbrother 9/2 Cairns

Rain stops play for Marshall tournament titles in 1995 on clay, were not going to take the shine off his achievement.

Muster, always combative on court, was not going to take

"I am a little bit surprised because I think Andre and Pete are real champions." he said, "and they know what it is about to be No 1. I did not buy my points in the supermarket and I did not cheat anybody for them. I don't think it is necessary for them to make this comment - I give them respect and they should give

Neither Sampras nor

Agassi were expecting Muster to break their cosy little rivalry me respect."

such criticism lightly.

MALCOLM MARSHALL the former Hampshire fast bowler who is still the West indies' leading wicket taker, bowed out as a player from first-class cricket quietly yes-terday. Marshall, 37, was forced to sit it out in the Centurion Park changingroom as torrential rain washed out Natal's chances of beating Northern Transvaal and so of retaining the Castle Cup, South Africa's four-day domestic competition, allowing Western Province to take the title.

Marshall said he had no regrets about retiring as a player. "I've been playing since 1977 and have thorough ly enjoyed it. But I just feel that this is the right time to Marshall, who took 376

wickets for West Indies at an average of 20.94 runs, played 408 first-class matches, taking 1.651 wickets. His spell with Natal has been spent playing and coaching and in April he returns to Hampshire, whom he represented for IS years, as firstteam coach. "I could probably keep on going but I think I would rather be remembered as a good cricketer than as someone who just hung on for the money." Marshall said.

Geoghegan doubt for Paris

"All I can say is that I have won more matches on hard courts than Pete and Andre have on clay," Muster said.

"But last year I won the biggest indoor event in Essen and reached the semi-finals at the Australian Open so I am not what you could consider as who lie in wait for Muster in

Dubai, Stefan Edberg and Jim

Courier, preferred to raise questions over the tanking system rather than the Austri-an's achievement. There have to be questions about any system that doesn't penalise players for doing poorly in a tournament." Courier said.

"But what a 52 weeks he's had

The two former world No Is a real clay-court specialist."

By OUR SPORTS STAFF

ireland wing, is doubtful for the five nations' rugby union championship match with France in Paris on Saturday because of a hamstring strain. Geoghegan, who has been switched from the left to the right wing as a replacement for Richard Wallace, was unable to take part in training sessions at Lansdowne Road vesterday. France also have a problem

SIMON GEOGHEGAN, the

for Thierry Lacroix, their centre and goalkicker, is troubled by a groin injury. Although Lacroix played for his club. Dax, at the weekend, he was not at his best, and a decision about his fitness will be taken tomorrow. Kenny Logan, the Scotland wing, will be fit to take his place on the bench for the international against Wales in Cardiff on Saturday despite injuring a hand in the Scotland Development XV's defeat by New South Wales on Sunday. An X-ray revealed bad bruising and not a break, as feared at first. Keith Stewart, the Scottishborn Cardiff lock forward who played for the Development XV. has pledged his international future to Scotland. Stewart had been named in the Wales A side to play Scotland A on Friday. New Zealand's state-owned television yesterday lost out to share, won the television pay television over live broadrights to All Blacks matches cast rights for international played in New Zealand, Aus matches featuring the All tralia and South Africa. Blacks, despite a personal plea from the Prime Minister, Jim

Sky Television, which is 51 per cent owned by an American consortium and in which Television New Zealand (TVNZ) holds a 16.5 per cent

AFRORMOSIA

The $800 million agree ment, whereby Sky has bought the rights from The News Corporation, parent company of The Times, was an extension of the deal between the New Zealand Rugby Football Union and News Corp.

SECTION AND SECTION AND SECTION ASSESSMENT Answers from page 39

(a) A North and West African tree of the genus Afrormosia (family Leguminosae), especially Afrormosia laniflora and Afrormosia elata. From Afro- + Ormosia (1811) a genus of trees. The furniture and joinery are of afrormosia (a wood very similar to teak in colour and quality), except for the small chairs which are black, with rush seats."

(c) Usually Crockford's, the name of an exclusive gambling stub opened in Street, London, in 1827 by William Crockford (1775-1844). "Ouida", Under Yeo Flugs, 1867: "They had brought dice for hazard and were turning the unconscious Star and Garter into an impromptu CAPELINE

(c) A hat for a girl or a woman, having a wide brim often consisting of many folds of mustin or the like. The Westminster Gazette, 1899: "A girl in a black mustin capeline with a band round the crown and a big front bow (C) A sleeve that is much wider at the arm-hole than it is at the wrist. "Summer sleeves show that dolmans — the very draped and opulent

SOLUTION TO WINNING CHESS MOVE I. Note and if I. ... Ke2; 2. Nde3 is mate, as is 1. ... Ka2; 2. Nc3.

RADIO 4 5.55am Shipping Forecast 6.00
Naws Briefing Incl Weether
6.10 Faming Today 6.25
Prayer for the Day, with the Rev Andrew Monton 6.30
Today, with James Naughtle and John Humphrys, incl
7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30 Naws
7.25, 8.25 Sports Naws 7.45 Thought for the Day, with Gabriele Cox 8.40 Yesterday in Partisment 8.58 Weether 9.00 News 9.06 Call Nick Ross:
0171-580 4444
10.00-10.30 News; The Off Season (Fill Only). See
Choice
10.00 Delly Service (LW only)
10.15 This Sceptir'd tale (LW only) Britain in the 1750s
10.30 Women's Hour. The actress
Ensine Fielding talks to Jami piano works of Alken
4.45 Short Story: Girl Denoing, by Tony Peake. Peter defies his parents and moves south. to an art college in London.
Sut everything goes horribly wrong, until a moment of

Chelsea, Read by John Michie 5.00 PM, with Jackle Hardgrave and Ben Bradshaw 5.50 Stigoing Forecast 5.55 Westher 6.00 Stt O'Clock News 5.30 Any Other Business (5/6) (r) 7.00 News 7.05 The Archers 7.20 File on 4

7.20 File on 4 8.00 Science Now 8.30 The 1996 Reith Lectures the Language Web.
Professor Jean Altchloon argues that the ultimate goel of language, and a clue to its origin, may be lying (2/5) 9.00 in Touch
9.30 Kaleidoscope (r) 9.59 woman's Hour. The acress Emme Fielding talks to Jenni Murray about her role in 1953, a new version of Racine's Andromache, Seniet, Jenniter Ente reads. Ceuser Celeb by

Helen Fielding (4/12)
11.30 Medicine Now. Gooff Waits reports on medical meters
12.00 News; You and Yours Weather 10.00 The World Tonight, with 12.00 News; You and You's
12.25pm Word of Mouth. Russell Davies presents the series about words and the way we speak (4/6)12.55 Weather
1.00 The World at One, with Nick

Isabel Hilton
10.45 Book at Bedtime: God
Stand Up for Besterds.
Journelist and author David Leitch reads his Leich reads ris autobiography (7/8)
11:00 Hodelburrene (r)
11:30-12:00 The Street (FM only).
Plat Douet Road, St Saviour,

Jersey (46) (r) 11.30 Today in Parliement (LW) 12.00 News incl 12.27am Westher

12.00 News incl 12.27am Weather
12.30 The Late Book: Reef. Shirt Crewel reads the final part of Flomesh Gunesekers's novel
12.48 Shipping Forecast 1.00 As World Service
3.30-5.55am Cricket World Cube England y New Zealand
(LW crity)

FREQUENCY GUIDE, RADIO 1, PM 97:5-99.8: RADIO 2, FM 88.0-PRECUENCY GRIDE NADIO 1, PM 97.599.8: RADIO 2. PM 88.0-90.2: RADIO 3. PM 90.2-92.4: RADIO 4. PM 92.494.8; LW 198. MW 720. RADIO 5 LIVE. MW 693, 909. WORLD SERVICE MW 648; LW 198 (12.45-5.55mm). CLASSIC PM. FM 100-102. VIRGIN RADIO. PM 105.8; MW 1197, 1215. TALK RADIO UK MW 1053, 1089. Television and ladio fishings compiled by Peter Dear, GRant Maxey, Rosemary. Smith and Susan Thomson

These friends are hair today, gone tomorrow

A last night we passed the halfway mark in Peter trieds in the Flannery's Our Friends in the North (BBC2). I wasn't keeping a stopwatch on our progress; but I have a huoch that the historic moment came as Nicky (Christo-pher Eccleston) stared wistfully down at the Tyne. It may have been the moonlight, but for a moment he looked ... just like Lemmy from Motorhead.

Yes, we had reached 1974, a year famous for about three things power cuts, three-day weeks and really awful hair. If Nicky turning into a head-banger wasn't bad enough, there was worse in store for his mates. Geordie (Daniel Craig) emerged from prison looking like something that had escaped from Planet of the Apes. while Tosker (Mark Strong), newly reincarnated as greengrocercum-capitalist-pig, appeared to have the long version of a Bobby

t some unidentified point last night we passed the last night we passed the halfway mark in Peter dare say her friends will have arranged for something seriously a poor fourth to politics, corruption and uninderical idealism. Their feather-cut by next week.

It has taken five episodes to get from the mop-tops of 1964 to this hirsute horror, a relatively gentle two years an episode. But there are 20 years to cram into the remaining four episodes. From here on hairlines could be receding at record speeds.

clear that the series in not so much a dance to the music of time as a stumble. Many of the reservations I expressed at the outset remain. The four central characters never seem to have been good enough friends for the rare moments when their separate paths cross to be of The notable exception is the flicker of romance that remains between Nicky and Mary, a couple destined to go through life wonder and vainglorious idealism, their scenes together are among the most powerful. I fear, however, that we are not destined for a happy ending.

Perhaps aware that his story should not get any more depressing Flannery bright-With the story half-rold, it is ened things up for last night's lear that the series in not so much episode. Geordie was out of purson and out of porpography. Mary and Tosker were on their way to joining the middle classes fout not necessarily together) and Nicky was back home and actually being nice to his parents. Mind you, when your mother has found a machinegun under your bed in the last episode it probably pays to be ruce to her for a little while.

The corrupt Metropolitan Police

REVIEW

news for the forces of good, but bad news for those who have enjoyed the excellent performances of Donald Sumpter as smooth talking Commander Chapple. David Schofield as ghastly DCS John Salway and Danny Webb as the unfortunate DI Conrad.

I may be getting ahead of things. but it also looks as though we won't be seeing much more of finally gor its comeuppance: good Benny Barran (Malcolm McDon-

Armstrong, boin of whom look destined for long streiches at Her Majesty's pleasure. Their energy, charisma and "ail right, bonny lads?" will be much missed.

The sensitive among you will have realised that my reservations are not exactly overwhelming. The characters may be unlikeable and the themes depressing, but Flannery's saga is proving strangely addictive. I shall stick with it to the end - partly for the hairstyles, partly for the acting and partly because I suspect that the whole will prove to be rather more than the sum of its parts. Whether I stick with either

Island of Dreams (Channel 4) or Classic Ships (Channel 4) is far more debatable. On paper, both looked just the job for a cold February night, but the reality proved very disappointing.

 last night's hour-long opener was based on the stories of just two women who have turned their backs on Britain tu marry Greek men on the island of Zakynthos. At times, it would have been more exciting watching olives grow.

t is also predictable - the fact that there are now 3,000 British women now living on the island does rather suggest that there is nothing new about mixed marriages. In fact, as we all know it has been going on for decades we've seen Shirley Valentine. we've read umpteen newspaper articles and we know perfectly well that life for a British woman marrying a Greek man is not exactly a bowl of lemons. Don't tell me, dear, let me guess - you're having trouble with the language and his mother?

You have to be female really to The problems with Island of understand how incredibly female Dreams are multiple. It is too long they make you feel after London," simpered one who had succumbed to the charms of a passing Denis. But, as she admitted, the incredibly female phase soon becomes the incredibly fed-up phase. "Greek men do change when they get married." How they are going to stretch this stuff to another two programmes beats me.

By contrast, I am inclined to torgive Classic Ships, which promised a look at the polished mahogany world of the River Thames, but got diverted by a patriotic duty to remember Dunkirk. The result was rather too much of Raymond Baxter and the Little Ships fon this particular occasion) and rather too little of beaver-tail sterns, clinkerbuilt skiffs and slipper launches. Still it was worth it just to hear its narrator. John Peel, a man who has built a career on dry understatement, solemnly conclude that: Thames boat-builders are right to be proud of their products." Say goodnight, John.

A BBC 6.00em Business Breekfast (80435) 7.00 BBC Breakfast News (Ceetax) (48665) 9.00 Brenkfast News Extra (Ceefax)

9,20 Can't Cook, Won't Cook (s) (3133706) 2.45 Kilroy: Topical discussion (a) (7233290) 10.30 Good Morning (a) (94329) 12.00 News (Ceefax) and weather (6920787) 12.05pm Turnabout (9308955) 12.30 Going for a Song(s) (32961)

1.00 One O'Clock News (Ceetax) and weather (41752) 1.30 Regional News. (Ceetax) and weather (77431752) 1.40 Neighbours (Ceetax) (s) (34226139). ·

ge - 250 c

., , est 1

2.00 Pebble MIII(s) (9660890) 2.40 Rich Man, Poor Man. With Peter Strauss and Nick Notte (2/12) (4877665) 3.30 Arts in Your, Pants (s) (5985058) 3.50 ChuckleVision (s) (5892394) 4.10 Pree Willy (Ceetay) (s) (6896787) 4.35 Take Two (Ceetay) (s) (2862484) 5.00 Newsround (Ceetay) (3792067) 5.10 Grange Hill (Ceetay) (s) (1525226)

5.35 Neighbours (r) (Ceefax) (s) (907058) 6.00 Six O'Clock News (Ceetax) and weather.

6.30 Regional News Magazines (†10) 7.00 Holiday. Jill Dando explores the island of Minorea; Monty Don selle his way around the Carlobean; Diana Madill goes on an unusual trek in France; and Carol Smillia gives her personal guilde to Gleagow (Ceefax) (s) (5771)

7.30 EastEnders. Ricky feels the full force of Blanca's temper, Frank fenews his attack on Pat and Roy and Sani can't understand why everyone is angry with her

Great Ormand Sheet Ris week the focus is on eating disorders and related matters. (Ceeting 14619)

8.30 Next of Kin. Last in series, Maggie wins a : inp to a theme park (Ceetax) (s) (4446) 9.00 Nine O'Clock News (Ceefed), regional · news and weather (1936) 9.30 Men Be suspiciously courteous lo Tony's brother and his girlinerid when they come to stay (r): (Ceefax) (s) (56597) WALES: 9.30 Week in Week Out the disappearance of a tobacco company executive (Ceetax) (s) (391313) 10.40 Match of the Day: The Road to Wembley. Desmond Lynam Introduces highlights of the FA Cup fourth round replay between Crewe Alexandra and Suthampton. The commentator is Clive Tyldesley. (Ceelax) (183481) N.L.: 10.40 On Air 11.30 Inside Story 12.25-2.15am FILM: True Colors WALES: 10.40 Men Behaving Badly 11.10 Inside Story 12.00-1.50em FILM: The Marr Who Broke 1,000 Chains

11.35 FILM: The Man Who Broke 1,000. Chains (1987) starring Val Kilmer and Charles Durning, Based on the true story of Robert Ellis Burns, who escaped from a chain gang and became a successful magazine publisher. Directed by Daniel Mann (Ceefax) (861333) 1.25em Weather (1837511)

VicionPhas + and the Vicion PhasCodes
The numbers and to each TV programms listing are Vicion PlasCode numbers, which allow you to programms your victor recorder instantly with a VicionPlas in handast, VicionPlas* + can be used with most vicion Tap in the Vicion PlasCode or the programmers you wish to blood? To more distalls call VicionPlas on 0559 121204 (calls cost 350,016), chep rais, 450,017 or of other times) or write to VicionPlas*.
Accorded 14, 5 hony House, Plansson Wheel, bondon SWH1
ZIN VicionPlas + "IN-Plascode" and Vicion Programmer are tractements of Gernsta Development Ltd.

58C2 6.00am Open University: Cosmology Before Einstein (1485400) 6.50 James Hutton: Geologist (5040690) .

7.15 See Hear Breakfast News (Caelax and signing) (s) (8354058) 7.30 Stingray (r) (32058) 8.00 Blue Peter (r) (Ceeled (136533) 8.25 Juniper Jungle (r) (s) (8249690) 8.40 The Record (2244351)

(2244351)

9.05 Daytime on Two: Lemexpress (4979684) 9.25 See You, Sae Me (4062348) 9.45 Welch (2570464) 10.00 Playdays (5324936) 10.25 Come Cutside (8374684) 19.45 Teaching Today (996684) 11.15 Clementine (7029435) 11.30 Ghostwiter (3771) 12.00 See Heart (73972) 12.30 pm Worlding Lumbh (30503) 1.00 Teaching Today (49394) 1.30 Storecase (77439369) 1.40 Hotch Potch House (34217481)

2.00 haniper hingle (f) (8) (36434869) 2.10 The Andrew Neil Show(9112348) 3.00 News (Cedeo), and weather (2857313) 3.05 Westminster (Cedeo) (s) (4854936)

3.55 News (Ceetard and weather (1848771) 4.00 Today's the Day (s) (333) 4.30 Ready, Steady, Cook (s) (435) 5.00 Eather (s) 5.30 World Siding Championathps includes action from the men's super grant statom

6.00 Fresh Prince of Bal Air (s) (909077) 6.25 Hearthreak High (Coefax) (s) (701868) 7.10 The Nen and Sampy Show. Animation (Ceefed) (s) (552503)

Presenter Annie Defin (7.30pm)

From the Edge. Series made by disabled people for disabled people (Ceetax) (s) (936)

Public Eyec Reasonable Force (Ceetax) (5961)

8.30 Food and Drink presented by Chris. Kelly. Preparing a seafood fauillette; Chilean red wines for under £5; Jennifer Paterson samples dysters in the west of fretand; Art Malik begins a two-part guide to curries. (Ceetex) (s) (8868) 9.00 Whatever Happened to the Likely. Lads? Classic Dick Clement and (an La-

Frenels comedy starting Rodney Bewes and James Bolam (r) (Ceefax) (5706) 9.30 The House: Settling Scores (Ceefax) (s) (424435)
10.20 Lucinda Lambton's Alphabet of Britain. O is for Quiet Evenings In (r) (Ceetax) (s) (650145) 10.30 Newsnight (Ceetax) (577477) : 11,15 The Larry Sanders Show. American comedy series starring Garry Shandling, with guests Roseanne, Tom Arnold and George Segal (Ceefax) (s) (820110) 11.40 Seinfeld. American sit-com (Ceelax) (s) (512329). Followed by Weather 12.05am The Midnight Hour (s) (6852646)

12.30-6.00 The Learning Zone

CHICE From the Edge .

BBC2, 7.30pm The disability series returns on the eve of Valentine's Day to take a timety look at love among the disabled. The programme shows that many disabled people enjoy happy and successful relationships, with partners who may or may not be themselves disabled. But the lock of access to the head of access to the lock of the lock the lack of access, both to the outside world and within it, can often be an inhibiting and within it, can often be an importing factor. The chances of meeting a partner are greatly reduced if disability confines people to their homes or prevents them from using clubs, bars and other social meeting places. One answer is advertising in a lonely hearts column, though this means having to decide whether to must like disability in a distance of whether to reveal the disability in advance of a possible meeting. The attitudes of the non-disabled towards marrying disabled people are revealed in a Gallup poll which was commissioned for the programme.

Great Ormond Street BBC1, 8.00pm

Feeding problems dominate the latest report rom the children's hospital, as the carneras nick upon Danny and Jamie. Danny is now four. Three years ago he choked while eating and developed a lear of most foods. The result is that he will only ear chocolate and milk, an over-rich diet and one that is rotting his teeth. Five-year-old Jamie is unable to eat at all, because his intestine cannot absorb food, He is kept alive on a drip and has lived in the hospital, with his parents, for the past year. The film is not about miracle cures, only dedicated professionals doing what they can. In Damy's case this means gradually persuading him to widen his diet. For Jamle there is yet another operation, his seventh, but the chance at last to go home. You feel for the raterits almost as much as for the kids. nilk, an over-rich diet and one that is rotting as they hope for the best but fear the worst.

Public Eye: Reasonable Force BBC2, 8.00pm

Although it enjoys a lower profile than other current affairs programmes, Public Epe is often no less trenchant in its coverage of topical matters. Back for a new run, it investigates a subject much in the news recently, the amount of restraint which police officers should use when dealing with suspects. Nicola Carslaw's report fairly balances the dangers faced by police on the streets, and the need to protect themselves against attack, with concern about deaths in custody. She examines the guidelines laid down for police officers on "reasonable force" as defined by the law, looks into the contentious subject of neck holds and asks whether handcuffs are used too often. We hear from officers injured while trying to make arrests as well as the families of people

The House: Settling Scores BBC2.9_30pm

The more this unmissable series progresses. the more your reservations about the Royal Opera turn to sympathy. If Covent Garden puts on audience-grabbing (are such as Toson, it is accused of playing safe. If it ventures into Harrison Birtwistle, demonstrators demand a return to traditional music. And whatever it does, there are budgets to be trimmed. People talk large figures. I could give you £100,000 but not F200.000." is the conciliatory opening remark of Nicholas Payne, the Royal Opera's new director, as he faces a finance denarment desperate for cuts. Tonight's film has Payne at its centre. After a notable career at Opera North, he has to prove himself on a ar Opera North, he has to prove chinsen on a larger stage. The wisdom of his decision to stage an obscure work by Massener is put in question when the conductor walks out and the public stays away.

Peter Waymark

8.00em GMTV (2357400) 9.25 Win, Lose or Draw (s) (3045527,

9.55 Regional News (Telesent) (5334213) 10.00 The Time ... the Place (s) (15.58232, 10.35 This Morning (15442139) 12.20pm Regional News (Teleteic, (6345771)

12.30 News and weather (Teleters: 3220705) 12.55 Shortland Street (s) (3172537) 1.25 High Road (Teletert) (4193226) 2.00 Home and Away [Teletex] (57.725226) 2.25 Chain Letters (Teletext) (s) (5750396*,

2.50 Vanessa (Teletext) (s) (2534684) 3.20 Hows headlines (Teletext) (2337503) 3.25 Regional News (Telatext) (2926874).

3.30 The Magic House (s) (1326348) 3.40 Tots TV (s) (3334052) 3.50 Budgle the Little Helicopter (s) (1224536; 4.05
Tiny Toon Advantures (1924145) 4.30
Cone Zone (Teleted) (s) (961) 5.00
Animanises (r) (Teleted) (s) (5497495) 5.10 Animai Country (6288042)

5.40 News and weather (Teletext) (343481) 6.00 Home and Away (Teletext) (s) (996503) 8.25 HTV News (Teletext) (154416) 7.00 Emmerdale (Teletext) (s) (7139)

7.30 West Eye View. Across the region people are raising concerns about the potential threat to children's health from living close to high-voltage power lines

6.00 The Bill. Tosh tackes a case of possible underage sex (Teletext) (9787)

8.30 Outside Edge. Condusion of the cricketing cornedy series. The day of Kev and Mag's wedding blessing is not without a little drama (Teletext) (s) (5394) 9.00 FiLM: Taking Care of Business (1990). Cornedy starring James Belushi and Charles Grodin. An escaped convict takes on the persona of a high-flying executive when he finds his personal organiser. Continues after the news (Teletaxi) (s) (2413)

10.00 News at Ten and weather (Teletext) 10.30 Regional News (Teletext) (296619)

10.40 FILM: Taking Care of Business. Conclusion (Teletext) (s) (191400) 11.40 Street Legal (s) (304787)

12.35em FILM: B.L Stryker - High Rise (1990) starting Burt Reynolds and Ossie
Davis. A couple are taken hostage by a gang of crazed burglars who will go to any lengths to avoid capture. Directed by Nick McLean (852424)

2.20 Late & Loud (5) (2747511) 3.15 The Chart Show [r] (s) (4678938) 4.10 Footbell Extra (r) (2906707) 5.00 On the Road to the Islands (99578) 5.30 Morning News (15801)

As HTV WEST except

5.10pm-5.40 The Re Programme ($288042) 6.25-7.00 Wales Tonight (154416) 7.30-8.00 Knowing My Place (690) 11.40 Championship Boxing (304787)

WESTCOUNTRY

As HTV West except 12.55 Emmerdale (3172597) 1.25-1.55 Chain Letters (84564771) 1.55 Home and Away (47313892) 2.25 Vanessa (57721313)

2.55-3.20 A Country Practice (2578810) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (8288042) 6.00-7.00 Westcountry Live (42348) 7.30-8.00 The Middle Ages (690) 11.40 Prisoner Cell Block H (304787)

CENTRAL

As HTV West except. 12.55 Home and Away (3172597) 1.25 Chain Letters (84564771) 1.55 A Country Practice (34223042) 2.20 Vanessa (57722042) 2.50-3.20 Look and Cook (3534684)

5.10-5,40 Shortland Street (8288042) 6.25-7,00 Central News (154416) 7.30-8.00 Heart of the Country (690) 11.40 Film: Some Girls (285481) 1,25am Late & Loud (8502172) 2.25 Hotel Babyton (4299424) 3.05 Funny Business (4487) 172) 3.30 Football Extra (3142578)

4.10 Jobfinder (3316356) MERIDIAN As HTV West except:

1.25 Home and Away (84564771) 1,55 Shortland Street (34223042) 2.20 Vanessa. Studio discussion series on a women's topic, chared by Vanessa Feltz

12.55pm Chain Letters (3172597)

(57722042) 2.50-3.20 The Afternoon Show (3534684) 5.10 Home and Away (8288042)

6.00 Meridian Tonight (226) 6.30-7.00 Surprise Chefs (706) 7.30-8.00 24 Hours (690) 11.40 Prisoner Cell Block H (304787) 5.00am Freescreen (99578)

54C Starts: 6.35 Think Tank 88 (5958665) 7.00 The Big Breskfast (37503) 9.00 Fifteen to One (11936) 9.30 Schools: law! (2851481) 9.50 law! (2954145) 10.10 Maths Everywhere (8453145) 10.25 (echyd A (8369752) 10.45 Quest (9870077) 11.00 Science in Focus (3266348) 11.20 Stage One (7011416) 11.35 Film and Video Showcase (2229348) 11.45 First Edition (2646058) 12.00 House to House (24400) 12.30pm Earthworm Jim (52771) 1.00 Slot Melthrin (30690) 1.30 Time Team (44955) 2.30 Screaming Reets (139) 3.00 Love in the Afternoon (9955) 4.00 Backdate (619) 4.30 Seved by the Bell: The New Class (503) 5.00 5 Pump: Uned 5 (1145) 5.30 Countdown (955)6.00 Newyddion 13521451 6.15 Heno (790752) 7.00 Pobol Y Cwm (101313) 7.25 Dudley (369226) 8.00 Pscto (7329) 8.30 Newyddion (3935) 9.00 O Flaen Dy Lygaid (8145) 10,00 Brookside 123459) 10,30 Island of Dreams (70023) 11,30 Rising Damp (23868) 12.00am The Decision

6.35am Think Tank /r) (Telefext) (s)

7.00 The Big Breakfast (37503) 9.00 Fifteen to One (r) (Teletext) (s) (11936) 9.30 Schools Eurekal (5820987) 9.45 Stop Look Listen (4375892) 10.00 Forways Farm (3626668) 10.10 Maths (8453145) 10.25 How We Used to Live (8369752) 10.45 Guest (9870077) 11.00 Science (3266348) 11.20 Stage One (7011416) 11.35 Film Showcase (2229348) 11.45 First Edition (2646058) (s)

12.00 House to House (24400) 12.30pm Sesame Street (43226) 1.30 Ovide (85719413) 1.55 Act V (86167665)

2.05 Waterways (r) (Teletext) (s) (61533955) 2.35 FILM: The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend (1949) Cornedy with Betty Grable as a sharp-shooting saloon owner who poses as a trontier lown schoolteacher after an accident Directed by Maunce Elvey (Teletext) (6843416)

4.00 Backdate (Teleted) (s) (619) 4.30 Countdown (Teleted) (s) (503) 5.00 The Montel Williams Show (Teleted) (s) (4335495) 5.50 Terrytoons (538023) 6.00 The Avengers (r) (Telelext) (33690)

7.00 Channel 4 News (Teletext) (109771) 7,55 The Slot(426394)

Mark Walton on the Wartburg (8.00pm)

8.00 Ride On. Nicky Campbell meets Shane Collins, one of the organisers behind the "Reclaim the streets" campaign. Muncl Gray has her Peugeot GTI tuned for maximum speed. Alain de Cadenet meets competitors in the biannual Louis Vuitton rally in Italy; while Mark Walton meets fans of the East German Wartburg (Teletext) (s) (7329)

8.30 Brookside (Teletext) (s) (3935)

9.00 The Decision. Following a group of would-be transsexuals to The Netherlands to meet Europe's most experienced gender team (Teletext) (s)

10.00 FILM: Criminal Justice (1990) starring Forest Whitaker. A tormer offender accused of assault and robbery chooses to go to trial rather than accept a pleabargain. Directed by Andy Wolk (Teletext) (s) (179935) 11.45 Nurses. Hospital comedy (Teletext) (s)

(144416) 12.15cm The Bird, Short animation (5610917)

12.25 Footbali Italia — Mezzanotte: Fiorentina v Parma (1689207) 1.20 Next Stop Hollywood: 12.01 (/) (7338424)

1.50 FiLM: The Desert Trail (1934, b/w). John Wayne and Eddy Chandler take on a gang fed by Paul Fix, to clear their names of robbery charges (4972191) 2.55 The Dispossessed: No Going Back. Focusing on the Alghan people who have been refugees for more than a decade (r) (8746462) Ends et 3.55

For more comprehensive listings of satellite and cable channels, see the Vision supplement, published Saturday SKY ONE

7.00mm Boled Egg ($2619) 8.30 Press Your Luck ($246110) 8.50 Love Connection (8058077) 9.20 Court TV (4188313) 9.50 Oprah Wartrey (4937619) 19.40 Jacopardyl (1527771) 11.10 Selfy Jessy Raphael (6375787) 12.80 Beachy (91684) 1.00pm The Weltonis (7232) 2.00 Garaldo (51619) 9.00 Court DV (5501) 3.90 Colest Methods The Weltons (7332) 2:00 Garaldo (51619) 3:00 Court IV (3619) 3:30 Open Writery (644)961) 4:15 Under 5:00 Star Trais. The Next Generation (4771) 8:00 The Simpsons (1077) 8:30 Jeopardy (6329) 7:00 LAPD (5400) 7:30 M*A*S*H (4333) 3:00 The Worst of Police Stop! (10797) 9:00 Chicago Hope (27023) 10:00 Star Teis: The Next Generation (4310) 1:40 Law and Outse Generation (4310) 1:40 Law and Outse Generation (20110) 11.00 Law and Order (77145) 12.00 Law Show (2010559) 12.45am The Uniouchables ($283337) 1.30 Sas ($495) 2.00 Hz Mix SKY NEWS

News on the hour.
6.00em Surrise (3878077) 9.30 Fashion TV(50199) 10.30 ABC Nightline (69869) 11.00
News (711400) 1.30 pac CBS News (27313)
2.30 Parliament (6457329) 3.15 Parliament
(3571619) 5.00 Une at Five (1955) 6.30
Tonight (23226) 7.30 Sportsime (11685)
8.30 Target (9597) 11.30 CBS News
(2006) 1.30 Target (9597) 11.30 CBS News am ASC News (90298) 1.30 Tunight Replay (89443) 2.30 Target (97040) 3.30 Parlament | 13089) 4.30 CBS News 5789201 5.30 ABC News (57801) SKY MOVIES

8.00mm The Big Parada of Comedy (1984) ($4080874) 7.50 David Copper-field (1934) ($1153841) 10.00 Call of the Ward (1933) ($3665) 12.00 Pamping Iron R-7ne Women (1986) ($2334) 2.00pm Dr. Jonworld (1983) ($1685) 9.30 Tender is the Night (1981) ($6559) 8.00 Call of the Wild (1980) ($1226) 8.00 Call of the Wild (1980) ($1226) 8.00 Ed (1988) ($1260) ($1260) ($1260) ($1260) $2.00 The Crew (1984) ($1285) ($1271) $2.00 The Crew (1984) ($2388) 11.45 Final Wilselm (1995) ($43088) 1.20em Jenhance Pas (1982) ($28575) 3.15 Final Chapter — Walking Tall (1977) $7627260)

SKY MOVIES GOLD

Herry (1941) (13668) 8.00 All of Me (1964) (18313) 18.00 Gendhi (1962) (31304416) 1.10em The Best (1962) (747153) 3.05-2.40 Sunnyelde (1919) (7820153)

6.00am Goldilocks and the Three Bears (1904) (28615) 7.00 The Emperor's New Clothes (1984) (72874) 8.00 The Geometic Greet Adventure (6913) 10.00 Bride of Venglamos (1993) (87435) 12.00 Submarine Commend (1993) (87435) 12.00 Submarine Commend (1993) (1993) 2.00pm The Poter Bear King (1982) (1522) 4.00 The Geognet' Great Adven-ture (4605) 6.00 2.1 bits Mulicia and the (1522) 4.00 The Canonies orang source turn (445) 6.00 3 Little Hinds and the Lost Treasure (1980) (52507) 7.30 Journal (7023) 8.00 A Few Good Hen (1982) (51604329) 10.20 The Vanishing (1993) (728226) 12.10am Swing Kids (1993) (71801) 2.05 Live Wire (1992) (23228) 3.40 Roadie (1880) (57801808) THE DISNEY CHANNEL

THE MOVIE CHANNEL

Sky Movies Gold takes over from 10pm to 4am. Sity Blowles Gold takes over from 10pm to 4mm.

8.00pm Under the Umbrete Tree (82782597) 6.30 Fraggle Rock (41889771) 7.00 Whither the Pooh (93775825) 7.30 Under (5375825) 8.00 Chip in Dels (15074313) 8.30 Adventures it Worderland (15074313) 8.30 Fraggle Rock (15108348) 11.00 Under the Umbrete Tree (41899023) 10.30 Fraggle Rock (15108348) 11.00 Under (15108348) 11.00 Cluste Attack: (150717400) 12.30 pm Ountoo's Circus (40917223) 1.00 Adventures in Worderland (90125067) 1.30 Sirbod (40316597) 2.00 ToAcleans (17193526) 2.30 Stick watt Me, Kid (41224023) 3.30 Whitne Inter Pooh (83987416) 4.90 Custe Attack (88279029) 4.30 Ductailes (83275425) 3.00 Chip in Dele (23499918) 5.30 Dangter Bay-(83966787) 8.00 Taxan (83287300) 6.30 Diressure (88274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley Diressure (88274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley Diressure (88274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley Capital States (88274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley Capital States (88274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley (88094787)

(68366787) 8.00 Tarzen (68263400) 8.36 Diressurs (68274752) 7.00 Thunder Alley (82842874) 7.30 Film Gus (45684787) EUROSPORT 7,30mm Eurogolf (90684) 9,30 Speedworld (49232) 10,50 Alpent Sking (78329) 12,00 Football (87708) 1,00pm Str. Jumping (70228) 2,00 Bahelanth (8950%) 1,40 Aleina Footbell (67705) 1.00pm Str. Jumping (7028) 2.00 Bobsingh (82505) 3.00 Alpins Sking (49955) 4.00 Kerling (2080) 5.00 Sitoyling (1759) 6.00 Boding (5680) 7.00 Sating (26329) 10.30 Socoler (84145) 12.00-12.30em Pro Wiesding (36714)

SKY SPORTS 7.00em Sports Centre (31318) 7.30 Recing News (25346) 8.00 American Sports Canal-cade (26619) 9.00 Aerobox (46669) 8.30 Tarter: Earth (86787) 10.00 Opposite, Lock (66029) 12.00 Aerobox (45669) 8.30 Tarter State (86787) 10.00 Opposite, Lock (66029) 12.00 Aerobox (2532) 12.30pm Mondey Night Foliated (41674) 2.30 Tarter State (8674) 3.00 Davis Cup Terms (25077) 5.00 WWF Marris (604) 6.00 Sports Centre Cricket Spocial (6053) 8.30 for Warnor (51460) 7.30 Boding (644619) 10.00 Sports Centre Cricket Spocial (6053) 8.30 for Warnor (51460) 7.30 Boding (644619) 10.00 Sports Centre Cricket Spocial (60536) 10.00 Fusbol Municipi (13661) 12.00 Joe Wentor (57530) 1.00em Sports Centre Spocial (60566) 2.00 Tarten Botte (94827) 2.39-3.00 British Reity

SKY SPORTS GOLD T3.00em World Cup Hall of Farra (8509684) 10.30 Golden Gloves (3086684) 11.30 The Golden Age of Motor Racing (3174226) 12.30-4.00em World Sport

Tartan Extra (94827) 2.30-3.00 British Rath

THE CHRISTIAN CHANNEL 6.15mm Power for Lwng 6.45-7.00 Good Morning Europe 4.00pm Christian Music TV A.15 Nets TV 4.30 Jack Van Impo 5.00 Voice of Victory 5.30 kids TV 5.45 Rodney

SKY SOAP 7.00am Guiding Light (5284874) 7.55 As the World Turns ($435787) 8.50 Peyzon Place (2881957) 9.20 Days of Our Lives ($033858) 10.10-11.00 Another World (5451690)

SKY TRAVEL

11.00ms Globerotter (2004226) 11:30 Traibide (200666) 12.00 On Top of the World (950956) 12.30pm Frugal Gournel Cooles Instant (742345) 1.00 Around the World (200618) 1.30 Trave Guide (9873936) 2.00 Std Special (6811329) 3.00 Getsway (6730222) 3.30-4.00 Kids Down THE HISTORY CHANNEL

4.00pm Death Tide at Tarevra (2181706) 5.00 The Life and Times of Lord Mounthet-ten (8858884) 8.00-7.00 Beography (1827856) THE SCI-FI CHANNEL . 7.00pm Invisible Man (8853961) 8.60 Fil.M. Abbott and Costello So to Mars (8053042)

9,30-18.00 Inside Space (6977351) 1,000m Invisible Man (3062627) 2,00 FLM Orespono 2 (9325733) 3.30-4.00 Ray Bractoury Treatre (5250443)

9.00em Irus Romance (1895619) 9.30 Grow with Joe (4256229) 18.00 Two's Country (8168042) 18.30 Our House (1877503) 11.00 The Partied House (534477) 11.10.00 Julian Chife (1795959) 12.30pm The Flugal Geutmet (4250145) 12.00pm The Flugal Geutmet (4250145) 13.00 Yan Can Cook (8039990) 1.30 Local Herose (4259145) 2.30 Dogs with Durber (1658228) 2.30 Second Centures (1667961) 3.00 Two's Country (1634361) 3.30-4.00 This Old House (1679709)

UK GOLD 7.05am Angels (425084) 7.30 Neighbours (118464) 8.00 Sons and Deughbeu (179422) 8.30 EastEnder (173537) 8.00 The Ball (180077) 9.30 The Sulvens (425787) 10.00 Howard: Way (578642) 11.00 Juliet Bravo (6761412) 12.00 Sons and Deughbes (1797313) 12.30pm Neigh-bours (425253) 1.00 EastEnders (2734508) 1.30 The BRI (4251874) 2.00 The Sullivers (1551684) 2.30 Get Some in

(1676219) 3.00 Angels (1643619) 3.30 Beharab (157936) 4.00 Casuary (5337481) 8.00 Generation Carni-(32825416) 6.10 Anniya Come Citta (2008256) 6.25 EactEnders (755023) 7.00 (220800) 625 ESSENDER (1,500122) 7.00 Editosob (1,655400) 7.30 And Moher Makes Fivo (1584684) 8.00 Get Some Ini (9779110) 8.25 Buberlies (1900854) 9.00 The Sweeney (8202019) (10,00 The Bit (4951955) 10.35 Classic Sport (5846684) 11.35 Meru Vos (545973) 12.25 FLL/ Horror Express (7724039) 2.05-1.00 Shopping at Nert (7439827) TCC

6.00em Swen's Crossing ($2348) 6.30 Pugwel (57139) 7.00 Ready of Not ($8897) 7.30 Cellomis Dreams ($232) 8.00 Sweet Valley High (86313) 8.30 Tary, TOC (24427752) 12.35pm Trly TCC (45457619) 2.30 Happily Ever Aller (8222) 3.00 Spric the Hadgering (2836) 3.30 Cocar's Crotes-tra (1077) 4.00 Cellorita Disems (7684) 4.30-5.00 Sweet Valley High (8688)

NICKELODEON 6.00mm Baneris Sandrich (19897) 7,08 Albeit of the Killet Tomaloss (2085) 7,00 The Littlest Pet Shop (1690) 8,00 Wish-borns (20767) 8,30 Rude Gog and the Derects (20082) 9.00 (3 mmy (5U/10) 9.30 Carusa (5729) 10.00 Rugrat. (94348) 10.30 Rai Moreter, (36394) 11.00 Rod of 46684) 11.30 Carus (37313) 12.00 Setel 5579 (23874) 12.00 per Potel 51145) 1.00 Carta Creart (2625) 1.30 The Lifetz Pet Shop (50416) 2.00 Wishbone (1739) 2.30 Rude Dog and the Dreects (3418) 3.00 Carta Cuckula (6874) 2.30 Teartage (4/2474) Hero Turkes (8961) 3.30 Tearings Valuet Histo Turks (8951) 4.80 Pagana (1852) 4.30 Tales of the Cryphaeosi (2892, 5.00 State Softe (850 A 5.30 Mesion Top Searce (222) 6.00 Ren and Strop, '4145) 6.30-7.00 Clareta Explants 1 AT 2597) DISCOVERY

4.00pm 8.sh funker klan (15.85313) 4.30 Parmedes (1521537) 5.00 Classic Wheels (1552313) 6.00 Terra × (1558590) 6.30 Beyond 2000 (9514129) 7.30 Artini C Care : Word of Brange Powers 158:2256 6.00 Lightners (61)65971 8.00 Secret Wespors (64)7435 9.30 Field of Armour (16742!! 18.00 Classic Wheels (8204348! 11.00 Drong Passions (5204348) 11.00 Driving Passions (5336752) 11.30-12.00 Top Marques

BRAVO 12.00 FILM: The Heleous Sun Demon (7674690) 1.20pm Honey West (4173042) 2.00 The Wat Wild West (6173042) 3.00 The Butterness (1687877) 3.00 The Adventures of Wildam Tell (1666232) 4.00 FILM: Brighton: Rock (1630503) 6.00 Dead at 21 (1660416) 6.30 Automan (9001665) 7.30 The Green Homet (1579752) 8.00 Space 1999 (6105023) 8.00 Alien Nation

102987871 10.00-12.00 FILM The Erety

PARAMOUNT

7.00em Seauty and the Boars ($1435) 8.00 Entertainment (7503) 8.00 Wings ($1105 5.00 Soap ($9356) 9.50 Lawerne and Switey ($8451) 10.00 Entertainment Torgett ($24503) 10.30 Bosom Buddes ($7023) 11.00 Physics ($1576) 11.00 Stedge-trainment ($4771) 12.30 pas The Odd Couple ($2585) 2.00 Along ($1576) 1.30 Soap ($2596) 2.00 Lawerne and Shirtey ($2256) 2.30 Entertainment ($8256) 3.00 Bosom Buddes ($1771) 2.30-4.00 Physic ($3566) Buddles (81714) 2.30-4.08 Pigsty (95366) UK LIVING

5.00am Agony Hour (7784435) 7.00 Kiltoy (7799771) 8.00 Estiner (5494567) 8.30 Gardianaese (5844428) 9.00 Tesies of Wales (9653043) 9.35 Rate and Aller (2556139) 10.05 Jony Springer (8622394) 11.00 The Young and the Restless (8029023) 11.55 BoxNostice (7505313) 12.30pm Dangerous Women (4504521) 1.25 Crosswitz (6518296 2.00 Agony Hour (8605351) 3.00 Live at Three (7278226) 4.00 Infathation UK (9645481) 4.30 Crosswitz (6963961) E.05 Lingo (41438351) 5.30 Lindy Ladders (9638145) 6.00 Bewindred (9530539) 6.30 (9700536) 6005503) 7.05 Machius Jailey (8141400) 7.40 The Joine's Wild (9459400) 8.05 The Young and the Restless (1405139) 8.00 Fill.M. Endless Love (43385416) 11.15 Sylvana Wales (2405771) 11.45-12.00 Entertainment Novi (2741110) FABBILLY CHANNEL

5.00pm Ocean Odyssey (4435) 5.30 Truin (874667) 5.55 Balman (722706) 6.30 Catcriphrese (8313) 7.00 Truin Pursuit (1771) 7.30 My Two Dade (4597) 6.00 FILM Hart to Hart Home & Where the Hart (94787) 16.00 Treasure Hurt (57954) 11.00 Cate Eyes (60145) 12.00 Truin (45004) 12.30 ass Bordenown (27658) 1.00 Balman (10004) 1.30 GP Hopocrates (34172) 2.00 Bg Brother Jake (39088) 2.30 Anton Skies (40820) 3.00 GP: Hippocrates (90240) 3.30 Bg Brother Jake (31172) 4.00 Alman Scies (29337) 4.30-5.00 Cean Odyssy (61199)

FAMILY CHANNEL

Bg Brother Jake (31172) 4,000 Arrows (51199) (59337) 4,30-5,00 Ocean Odyrsey (61199) MTV 6.30sm The Grind (59597) 7.00 3 from 1 (9255394) 7.15 Wildside (5658145) 8.00 Music Videos (302416) 11.00 The Soul (78116) 12.00 Greatest His (91856) 1.00pm Music Non-Stop (7290886) 2.45 3 from 1 (2529232) 3.00 Cinemetric (7229336) 3.15 Honging Out (4818348) 4.00 News 130 (313) 4.15 Harging Out (200936) 4.90 Dat (5225) 5.00 Hanging Out (5315) 5.90 Boom in the Alternoon (2706) 6.09 Hanging Out (9619) 6.30 Sports (9941) 7.00 Graatest Hite (54351) 8.00 Ultimate Collection (18067) 6.30 Beews and Butt-Collection (18067) 6.30 Beens and Butt-Head (41315) 16.00 MTV News at Night (36396)1 10.15 Cinemake (388416) 10.30 Real World London (71435) 11.00 The End? (34394) 12.30am Hight Videos (1366530)

VH-1 7.00asn Power Breekfast (3074690) e.00 Cal4 VH-1 (8300700) 12.00 Heart and Sout (5427810) 1.00pm The Vinyl Years (5644338) 2.00 Curits Stepors (6813787) 3.00 firth the Music (7297771) 8.00 VH-1-1-3. Peter Gebnel (80278741 7.00 VH-1 for You (8862619) 8.00 Review (8775139) 8.00 CMT EUROPE

Country music from 6ard to 7pm on caleine, including 5.00pm Saturday Nire Dance Rance 6.00-7.00 Big Ticket

ZEE TV_ 7.00mm Zee Presonts (43849329) 8.30 Fifth Chaldrer (1589825) 8.00 Gujarab Move, Ma Khodiyar Na Khemkers (5600550) 12.00 Bunyasat (1593042) 12.30pm Andez (91112199) 1.00 Hinda 12.30pm Ardaz (9)112199 1.00 Hmb Merier Perisah (23318042) 4.00 Dostra Kewal (80154495) 4.30 Nukhad (84754459) 5.00 Zeu Zone (34056222) 5.30 Tamis Sertal Kannam Peoch (49508351) 8.00 India Busness Report (42758874) 8.30 Zee end U (69704954) 7.00 Urdu Sensi Tanhayan (5708365) 8.00 News 8.30 Hindi Moure Red Rose (96438684) 11.30-12.00 Scandal (64151110)

CARTOON NETWORK/TNT Carloons from Sent to 7pm; TNT films. 7.00pm The Tembouse of the August Moon (1956) (18384059) 9.15 The For-mula (1980) (57167023) 12.15 The Moonshine War (1970) (49021435) 1.00pm A

CNN/QYC CNN provides 24-hour news and QVC is the home shopping channel.

PERFORMANCE 7.00pm Richard III 10.00 La Fille Mal Gardée 12.00-3.00am Mozan's the Magic

BBC WORLD

News on the hour.
8.00km News 8.15 Panorama 8.00 News
9.25 Tomorow's World 18.00 Newsdesk
12.15pm The Money Programme 1.15 Busness Raporl 1.30 Newshour Asia and Pacific 2.25 Andrew Neil 3.15 Panorama
4.00 News 4.25 Food and Drink 8.00 News
6.15 Business Raporl 5.25 Film 198 8.80 World Today 8.05 Panorama 9.25 The Clothes Show 18.00 World Report 11.00
News 12.30am Newshight 1.00 Newsroom News 12.30am Newsright 1.00 Newsroom 4.05 Timewatch 5.06 Newsday

MOTOR RACING 41

VILLENEUVE REFUSES TO SETTLE FOR SECOND BEST

CAPRIATI SERVES NOTICE OF HER RETURN TO COURT

TUESDAY FEBRUARY 13 1996

Curtain rises on troubled World Cup

England's first target is quarter-final place

CRICKET CORRESPNDENT

IN AHMEDABAD
LAUNCHED amid hot air and ill will, the World Cup needs urgent redemption tomorrow, when the talking must pause for an interlude of cricket. And it is England, mere spectators through the days of rancour and rhetoric. who are charged with restoring the sense of purpose that this event has mislaid.

Not the least of the illogicalides of the compeddon is that the inaugural match does not feature either Pakistan, the holders, or India. their co-hosts. Instead, it is a meeting of England and New Zealand, neither of them pre-vious winners of the Cup nor conspicuously tikely to change their habits now. It is a game England are expected to win: could all too easily lose.

Given the flabby format, a defeat for England in this unlovely textile city would be

BY SIMON WILDE

HOPES that on-field affairs in the cricket World Cup might now take precedence were dashed yesterday by the dis-bomb, which was located a mile from the Premadasa Sta-

This find, plus reports of a

Sri Lanka, raised fresh doubts over the willingness of the

Zimbabwe and Kenya teams to fulfil fixtures on the island.

Indies have forfeited matches against Sri Lanka rather than go there, after a suicide bombing in Colombo two weeks ago. Both teams were scheduled to play at the Premadasa

Zimbabwe are perhaps the Already Australia and West

dium in Colomba.

anything but terminal. How-ever, to lose their first game, with the eyes of every competing nadon upon them, would undermine their credentials and expose their brittleness, reviving the readily dismissed yet sensitively recent memory of their demise in the one-day series in South Africa.

England have no complaints about their itinerary. and nor should they. After New Zealand, priced by the bookmakers at a scornful 28-1, they play United Arab Emiraies on Sunday and Holland next Thursday. Even Raymond Illingworth, not a notoriously gung-ho manager, admits there is the prospect of three wins to seal a favourable quarter-final, "It has fallen quite well for us," he concedes. New Zealand will have no respect for this view. They were the revelations of the last World Cup, devising and adhering to an inventive gameplan that involved opening their bowling with off spin

Bomb discovery heightens doubts about Colombo

the new developments. Their match is in Colombo on February 21, while Kenya's is on March 6. Several of the Zimbabwe players were anxious about the original decision to go ahead with their

If Sri Lanka gained two more walkovers they would enter the quarter-finals without playing any cricket, an unacceptable state of affairs.

The tournament would be

The Zimbabwe party arrived in Hyderabad yesterday

visit to the island.

held up to ridicule.

NEW ZEALAND (from): C J Spear-man, N J Astle, S P Fleming, R G Twose, C L Caims, A C Parore, S A

Umpires: S G Randeli (Australia) and B C Cooray (Sri Lanka). Roteree: M A K Pataudi (India).

and following up with a sequence of slow, accurate seamers. They will probably retain a similar pattern here. What they cannot call upon, however, is the inspirational batting of Martin Crowe.

The present New Zealand side, led by the scarcelyknown Lee Germon, is young and impossible to pigeon-hole. England know all about Roger Twose and Chris Cairns, and morning for their game against West Indies on Friday.

Late last night, Babu Meman.

their tour manager, had heard nothing official about the discovery of the torry bomb and declined to speculate on what

Zimbabwe's reaction to the

At the weekend, a spokesman for the Tamil Tigers, who are waging a guerfilla war in Sri Lanka, said that the group had no intention of attacking foreigners or sports personalities. The bomb yesterday was planted in a temple com-

The incident will cause intense embarrassment to the World Cup organisers, who have consistently dismissed as unfounded the fears that the

Australia and West Indies

players have raised over

Yesterday, before the bomb was discovered, Inderjit Singh

Bindra, president of the Indian Cricket Board, threatened

Australia and West Indies

with heavy fines - in the region of EZ million - for failing to carry out their

Wes Hall, the West Indies manager, responded to news of the lorry bomb by saying:

We have no comment, it does not concern us ... Don't expect any 'I told you so'

Ironically, security concerns

may now centre on the exhibi-

oon match between Sri Lanka and a combined India-Pakistan team in Colombo today.

It was arranged to recompense Sri Lanka for the loss of two lucrative lixtures and demonstrate that it was quite

New scare, page 10 Marsball retires, page 42

safe to play in the city.

comments from me.

news might be.

they are aware of Stephen Fleming's powerful stroke-Astle and Craig Spearman, the opening batsmen, will be new to them, although Astle is well enough known to Illingworth after spending two years playing for his club, Farsley, in the Bradford League.

Dipak Patel, whose off-breaks with the new ball were so effective four years ago, is back again, as are Gavin Larsen and Chris Harris, the apparently innocuous double act who strangled the middle overs of so many opposition innings. Add Cairns, Dion Nash and Danny Morrison, and their bowling looks any-thing but negligible. England will try to second-guess New Zealand's tactics. "In most circumstances we will use our regular opening batsmen," Illingworth said, "but if we think Patel will open the bowling for New Zealand. we'll probably promote a hit-ter to go in first." This overrated tactic, with a high failure percentage, would fall either to Craig White or Dominic Cork, with the option of Phillip DeFreitas if he is in the final

Whenever England encouner a slow pitch, which means in the majority of their games, they are likely to include both their specialist spin bowlers. Neil Smith and Richard Illingworth. This leaves room for only two front-line seam bowlers: Cork will be one and Darren Gough, his zest and late swing evidently restored, should start as the other. Whoever else misses out be DeFreitas and Peter Martin one absentee will be Robin Smith Injuries have already been unkind to England, with Cork, Gough and Neil Fairbrother all requiring treatment, but Smith alone is ruled out of the opening game and still uncertain if he has a future in the tournament.

England have been reassured that Pilcom, organising committee, will look kindly on requests to replace injured players. They have received no joy on voicing their unease about the process of recalculating targets in the event of rain, or the potential problems in the insistence on restarting games on the reserve day if 25 overs of the second innings have not been bowled. Theoretically, a team could score 300, have the opposition at 70 for nine in 24

England's officials, however, have had to come to India to raise their doubts. They have found the offices of the organisers, Pilcom, a communications blacksoot and estimate no more than 15 per cent of their letters, faxes and phone calls in the past year have been answered. The more one hears about this World Cup, the more wondrous it seems that it is

overs and still have to start again - an extreme case, though not impossible.

England's new change strip, a radical new departure from previous kits and, according to the manufacturer, based on a denim look, was modelled by Alan Shearer and Tim Flowers yesterday. Report, page 40

Europe plans for Bosman era

By David Miller

THE administrative turmoil within football in Europe, and within Uefa, continues. At a meeting of ten national associations from the European Union at Windsor yesterday, it was effectively admitted that the Bosman judgment, outlawing the system of transfer fees, was beyond challenge.

European clubs are going to have to live with it. The only firm agreement was a recommendation to Uefa, football's European governing body, to create a conbracing representatives of clubs and leagues, to help to resolve the crisis that is not of format of European competitions. The next executive meeting of Uefa is in London this "The clock is ricking," Rick Parry, chief executive of the Premier League, said. "The players are organised, the

the EU's making: the future agents are organised, and the danger is that only the administrators are not." There was general approval for national associations approaching their respective governments for assistance in pressing for the inclusion of a sports clause in a revised European treaty. Yet, as Graham Kelly, the secretary of the Football Association, said:

result of a bloody encounter with Ruhen Palacio, of Co-lombia, in September 1992.

When he came back to Britain to defend his title in 1993,

Palacio was found to be HIV-infected. McMillan had tests

Tommy Virgets, Morrison's trainer, said that neither he nor Morrison knew the reason for the Nevada ban. "I would say everything is spec-

Morrison's promoter. Tony Holden, added: "If there is a ulation," Virgets said.

and was cleared.

clubs' income should be dis-Time is running out for tributed among smaller clubs as a replacement for transfer governments to have any impact." A sports clause would acknowledge the right of sport fees - was rejected.
The first concern of Kelly to protect its own interests, as does the culture clause, and Parry is to attempt to though it would not be able to preserve as far as possible the bypass the implications of domestic transfer system, as labour laws regarding transpart of the fundamental finanial structure of the game. There was a majority agree-Kelly said: "We wish to ment that there should be reserve it, because we think it's fair, that it's in the interest negotiations with the EU to secure a transitional period for of the whole game, of all clubs, and of all players".

Parry is also concerned that implementation of the abolition of transfers and the Uefa should not provoke European legislation to the present "three plus two" eligibility rule. This was opposed by England, Scotland and point where it further extends Holland its jurisdiction over the game. "The judgment of December 15 is clear," Parry said. "We have to learn how to deal with There is alarm, domestically, the situation. A lobby by governments [to protect the transfer system] should have change. By agreement among the participating clubs, Uefa has already established that a voluntary "three plus two" eligibility rule — three foreigners plus two assimilated players per club - will continue to operate for the remainder of this season's European comp-taken place five years ago. A transitory period only means ultimate acceptance of the

A "solidarity" proposal sug-gested by the EU — that a percentage of top professional

Swinburn making progress

WALTER SWINBURN, the Derby-winning Irish jockey seriously hart in a fall in Hong Kong on Sunday, regained consciousness yesterday. Last night he was under heavy sedation at the Prince Of Wales Hospital. Although his condition was described as "poor", his life is not in Swinburn, 34, suffered multiple injuries when his horse. Liffey River, hit a running rail and an iron stanction. Surgeons performed a minor op-eration to drain fluid from his skull, He also broke a shoulder and suffered multiple rib and collarbone fractures. Fluid and blood accumulated in his lungs. Swinburn's father, Wally, flew to Hong Kong yesterday to be at his son's

The Hong Kong stewards, concerned over a recent spate of falls at Sha Tin and Happy Valley, have blamed the acca partier - but I am redents on jockeys riding more at the recent intervention by the Office of Fair Trading concerning the television contract of the Premier League. The EU could impose further restrictions and Parry is annua ious to have established something similar to the Sports Trust Act in the United States that allows sports administrators the right to determine television contracts in their own best interests. Where Uefa must be restrained, however, is in its pursuit of an expanded Champions League. A champions' competition is for champions on the ger killed

aved wife

birthday

14 74 75

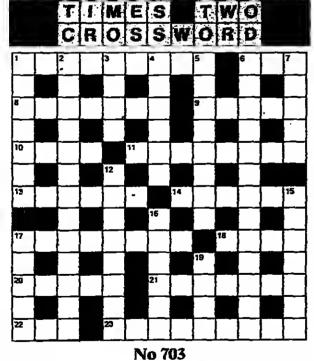

field, not in the stock market. Venables's victory, page 8

You're always switching lights off, lowering the thermostat. you even count all the paper clips. Have we got the copier for you.

Like you, we think a photocopier should be both reliable and very economical.

To see how our range of copiers could improve your productivity please call 0800 262 958 SHARP and quote reference CTI MS INTELLIGENT THINKING

ACROSS

6 A wedge: a cat: The Rock (3) 8 Myth monster: unrealistic

9 Heights between Israel. Svria (5) 10 Hire; sounds like single [4]

11 Triffing (8) 13 Arm-hone: a spoke (6) 14 Feudal homage-ower lot

17 Leave (item) in will (8) 18 Consume in fire (4) 20 Kingdom (5)

21 Observation post (7) 22 Bind: draw [3]

23 Using Imperial measures (3-6)

DOWN

Non-sacred (7) Honest: absolutely [4,3.6] Revoltingly sentimental (4) The other ringed planet (6) 5 Scots 31 December (8) 6 Grim joking (facing death)

(7.6]
7 Exchange (jokes): curved (legs) (5) 12 Ideal person (Nietzsche) (8)

15 Crazy (moon-struck) (7) 16 Russian WW2 leader (0) 17 (French) soft hat (5)

19 Tree-trunk: sounds like con-

2 SOLUTION TO NO 702 ACROSS: 1 Drunkard 5 Scan 8 Shift 9 Cistern 11 Um 12 Hue and cry 13 Botany 15 Big top 18 Subsidise 19 Fee 20 Crooked 21 Tutti 22 Side 23 Tell-tale

DOWN: 1 Disturb 2 Union 3 Kitchen sink 4 Rocker 6 Cresseul 7 Nanny 10 Sentimental 14 Tabloid 16 Preside 17 Riddle

WE ARE NOW OFFERING READERS OF THE TIMES FREE DELIVERY OF THE ITEMS LISTED BELOW AT STANDARD RETAIL PRICE — OFFER EXTENDED TO INCLUDE EUROPE — REST OF WORLD ADD II PER ITEM — STERLING OR USS CHEQUES ONLY — (II - $US LSG.

TIMES CROSSWORDS:— Books 6, 10m 13 E3.99 each, Books 14 to 19 E3.50 each. The Times Concise—Book 2 (240 preziest 15.99, Books 3 to 6 E3.50 each. The Times Two—Book 3 E2.99, SUNDAY TIMES CROSSWORDS: Books 10, 12 E3.50 each. The Book 3 E2.99, SUNDAY TIMES CROSSWORDS: Books 10, 12 E3.50 each. The Book 3 E2.99, SUNDAY TIMES CROSSWORDS: Books 10, 12 E3.50 each. The Sanday Times Concise Books 1, 2, 3 E3.50 each. SPECIAL OFFEE: Any five books above for only LIS. The Times Crosswords Omnibus and Jumbo Books 1 and 2 £4.99 each. THE TIMES MAPS (bided): JUST £4.99 EACH — The World, Ireland, British later Crossed

Send cheques with order payable to Alumn Ltd. 5t Manor Lane, London, SE13 SQW. Delivery up to eight days (UK). Tel: 0151-852 4575 (2-8ars). No credit cards.

Lewis to undergo HIV test

By Srikumar Sen, boxing correspondent

LENNOX LEWIS, of Britain. the former World Boxing Council heavyweight chann The measure is a precautionary one after reports that Tommy Morrison, his last opponent four months ago. may have tested HIV-positive. yesterday, however, that he On Saturday, the Nevada was not worried as Lewis was State Athletic Commission suspended Morrison hours before his bout in Las Vegas against Arthur Weathers, another American. The Commission did not give any reason, but it was widely reported that one of the tests was for HIV - and that Morrison had tested positive. Lewis, whose next opponent is Ray Mercer on May comment yesterday. Frank Maloney, Lewis's manager, said, however: "No one knows exactly what's the matter with Morrison but all the precautions that are necessary will be taken. Lennox is due to have a full medical with the exing board in March and HIV tests will be done then. I spoke to a doctor today - he told me the chance of anyone

10. was not available for catching Aids from a boxing match is a million to one."

Panos Eliades, Lewis's backer, who had told The New York Daily News that "we had better get our man in lot of blood in that fight," said not cut in the bout with Morrison in Atlantic City. The last British boxer to undergo a similar check was Colin McMillan, the former World Boxing Organisation

Morrison: fast living problem we are going to have Tommy refested." Mare Ratner, the executive director of the Nevada Commission said he could not give more details. "I have been instructed by the Attorney General's office not to say anything more," Ratner said, Morrison never made any secret about his fast lifestyle though before the bout with Lewis he said he had changed his ways. "I was a profession-

Andries hopeful, page 41

formed now," he said.

Warren agrees to company ban

BY JON ASHWORTH AND MORAG PRESTON

FRANK WARREN, the boxing promoter, was dis-qualified from serving as a company director for seven years by a High Court judge yesterday. The ban follows a four-year investi-gation by the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) and threatens to cast a pall over next month's world title fight in Las Vegas between Mike Tyson and Frank Bruno.

Mr Warren, who recovered from a gangland shooting incident to be-come the UK's foremost Naseem Hamed and Nigel Benn are also on his books had been due in court on. Monday to fight the DTI action. However, he consented to a seven-year ban in the face of accusations ranging from trading while insolvent to failing to file annual returns.

The disqualification order is linked in part to the London Arena, the entertainment complex in London's Docklands which collapsed in 1991 with debts of more than £20 million. Mr Warren had a key financial stake in the venue, and suffered substantial losses when the receivers went in. The London Arena subsequently reopened under new

Never mind the quality, enjoy the sex, defence tells New York court

Joan Collins: her lawyer said her literary work was "not uneditable, just unedited"

Joan Collins just needed an editor, says her lawyer

FROM QUENTIN LETTS IN NEW YORK

JOAN COLLINS'S main ingredients for the plot of her book were money and sex and power and sex and intrigue and sex", her lawyers admitted yesterday, but they said her prose was "not uneditable, just unedited". Donald Zakarin, summing up for Miss Collins in the New York Supreme Court case brought against her by Ran-dom House, said the publish-ing group had claimed her manuscripts were not "comolete", as demanded by her $4 million contract.

With a flourish, he produced a definition of "complete" from Random Houses's own dictionary. It described the word as "having all parts or elements, lacking nothing, whole, entire, full. Quality was not mentioned, noted Mr Zakarin.

He acrused Random House of trying to intimidate all authors with its case against Miss Collins. They are saying Don't mess with us, or we will show the world the difference between what you send to us and what we publish"."

Random House is suing Miss Collins for the return of a $1.2 million advance after it was dissatisfied with her manuscripts. In the week-long case the court has laughed at extracts from Miss Collins's raw work. "Random House has attempted to humiliate her, said her lawyer.

Before yesterday's proceed ings. Miss Collins admined she was "mistress of adjectives" and sold the New York Post that if she lost the case she would have to "sell a picture or a bracelet or something". She said that when her late agent. Irving "Swifty" two-book deal with Random House, she had gasped.

Mr Zakarin said the only reason the deal went through was that Alberto Vitale, head of Random House, was "starstruck" by the well-preserved 62-year-old actress.

Miss Collins overcame detailed cross-examination House's attorney, Robert Callagy. Proceedings then de-scended to farce when the defence tried to illustrate its closing arguments with large story-boards, placed perilously on a tripod. They fell to earth with a clatter, creating mirth in the courtroom.

Miss Collins might never have had any trouble if the characters in her book had been as colourful as those in court. From the star witness to the irascible Judge Ira Gammerman, the case has classic no-nonsense New York judge, harries lawyers, anacks verbosity and sucks his teeth in the manner of Alastair Sim. Robert Callagy, the lead lawyer for Random House. evokes a pot-boiler anti-hero. During one heated exchange he asked Miss Collins: "Have provided rich material for a novel. Judge Gammerman, a you no shame?" Joni Evans, Random House's chief witness who was agent and one-time friend to Miss Collins, has described the actor's prose as "gothic and dull". Kenneth Burrows, Miss Collins's chief lawyer, is married to the feminist writer Erica Jong and is less than fluent in his advocacy. He often scans the public benches in search of friendly faces. Miss Collins — the undis-puted leading lady — arrives at court in a different outfit every day. She said yesterday that she would use her court experience as inspiration for her next book. "Swifty always told me: 'Remember kiddo, all they really want to know is who you slept with', And to tell you the truth, I do have a few more of those stories left."

meets Martin Scorsese

Joe Joseph meets Victoria Abril

Free 12-page guide to personal pensions

Climber killed as he saved wife on her birthday

By GILLIAN BOWDITCH, SCOTLAND CORRESPONDENT

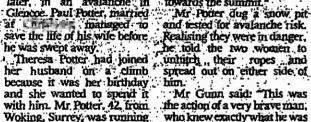

THE sole survivor of an which was not readily apparavalanche in central Asia has died less than three years - were going up the final slope later, in an avalanche in

Theresa Potter had joined because it was her birthday him. and she wanted to spend it with him. Mr Potter, 42, from Woking, Surrey, was running a training course for an adventure holiday company.

Only one person was signed up for the course this week: Alison Todd, 31, an inexperienced climber. She also fived because Mr Potter made both women unhitch their ropes from him and move away.
In August 1993, Mr Potter

was the sole survivor of an expedition he led to Kazakhsfan, when two British and two Soviet climbers were killed on the 23,000ft Khan Tengri in the Tien Shan range. On Monday, he was tack-ling the 2,800ft Aonach Dubh. the most westerly peak in the range. The Scottish Avalanche Information Service has been warning of a serious risk all Yesterday the deputy leader of the Glencoe Mountain Rescue Team. David Gunn, said Mr Potter's final actions had almost certainly saved the lives of the two women. He said: "I understand that all of a sudden, he realised

ent - as the three of them who knew exactly what he was doing. By spreading them out, he drastically cut down the risk of them all being caught by the full force. The two women would have lost their lives if it was not for his experience and knowledge."

Mrs Potter, 37, had been married for less than two months: Her husband's body

Potts: sole survivor of avalanche in 1993

Torment of one-armed man who killed boy

A SOLICITOR defending the one-armed man accused of murdering schoolboy Lee Kinch told yesterday of his client's three-year torment at the hands of local youths which led up to the stabbing.

Julian Linskill, Leo Gavan's solicitor, told Huyton magistrates' court that his client had jost his arm below the elbow when he was seven. Mr Gavan, 36, moved to Huyton, Merseyside, three years ago, and his disability became the subject of taunts. Mr Linskill said: "My client's life has been made a misery. Among other tribulations, bricks have been thrown through windows -often within an hour of their being re-glazed. Youths make it their business to abuse

Mr Gavan, who is unem-ployed, appeared at the court on a charge of murdering 14year-old Lee on Sunday. Reporting restrictions were lifted on the application of Mr Linskill, who said: "I appeal for anybody who has evidence of what he has had to put up with to come forward."

On the night of the murder stones were thrown through Mr. Gavan's windows. He chased the youths, then struck Lee with a knife, Maria Corr, for the Crown, said.

Asked why he had stabbed
Lee, Mr Gavan replied:

"Because he deserved it." He denied intent to kill or cause serious bodily harm. He was remanded in custody and a committal was fixed for April

PRINCIPLES OF INFORMATION:

Hard evidence makes for easier decisions.

In markets where being best invariably means being first, the faster you're able to make your mark, the better.

But you do have to take the right decisions. That's why so many of our customers, from fashion retail chains to

T.V. companies, derive confidence from Informix know-how. Our technology enables them to make swift, sure sense of their market intelligence.

And it keeps us well ahead of the competition too. Call us, for further proof.

World leaders in database technology.

FOR THE SEST INFORMATION, RING (0181) 818 1081. INFORMIX SOFTWARE LIMITED, 6 NEW SQUARE, BEDFONT LAKES, FELTHAM, MIDDLESEX TW14 8HA,

Company given two months to repair Austen film house

By MARCUS BINNEY AND EMMA WILKINS

THE owner of an 18th-century mansion used in the forthcoming Emma. Thompson film of Sense and Sensibility has been ordered to conduct vital repairs or face losing the Grade I listed property. Chandos House, built in 1770 near Harley Street in London, has been left empty since it was bought five years ago by a property develop-ment company whose chair-man is a Nigerian chiefiain. English Heritage has given

Fairgate Investments two months to carry out repair work, otherwise it will consider proceedings for computsory purchase of the house. Sir Jocelyn Stevens, chairman of English Heritage, is concerned by the decaying roof, spreading dry ro and cracked walls. It is unaccept able that a building of this importance has been allowed to fall into a serious state of.

"We hope that the owners. will now act quickly to repair and was used for lavish

Chandos House empty for five years the building or sell it to and bring it back into use." John and Fanny Dashwood.

chaired by Chief Akindele, is estimated to have paid £6 million for the house at the purchase price.

someone who will care for it Chandos House built for the third Duke of Buckingham and Chandos was used for London scenes in the Jane Austen adaptation. The interior, featuring original deco-ration by Robert Adam, became the townhouse of Between 1815 and 1871 the house was the embassy of the parties by Prince Esterhary, the ambassador. It was last used as a headquarters and hostel for the Royal Medical Association eight years ago. Fairgate investments.

Austro-Hungarian empire

height of the property boom. It is understood that the company is unwilling to sell itfor less than the original The company obtained permission to convert the house to a luxury hotel but the work was not considered viable and permission has expired. After the theft of four

Adam fireplaces from the house, Fairgate Investments is suing a security company for £1.5 million. The owners carried out temporary repairs to make the building watertight last year after English Heritage served an urgent works notice. If English Heritage suc-ceeds in obtaining a compul-sory purchase order, the price will be determined by the

Lassionate About Loints Spices

ey, Tiger! Did someone let you down on Valentine's Day?

Not to worry. Here's a very special Valentine's card from a very loyal and loving partner.

Premier Points is one of Britain's best-loved card-based fuel promotions, saving our customers money off whatever their hearts desire at Argos.

At Mobil we put our heart into everything we do – and that means high quality products at very competitive prices.

So listen to your head and your heart and swap partners today.

Points and prices are our passion

Warner Bre plans 1225m studio and Record company sets up helpline to ease grief of teenage fans at the departure of their heartthrobs

Parents urged to sympathise as Take That split

TAKE THAT, whose music and carefully choreographed dance routines caused many a teenage heart to throb, are now breaking them by split-ting up. The four remaining members of the most successful British act of the 1990s insisted yesterday that their decision was unanimous and Take That, who sold ten million albums worldwide and had seven British No I singles, announced their plans to pursue separate careers at a packed news conference in Manchester, their home city.

Within minutes of their announcement some fans were telephoning local radio stations in floods of tears begging the band not to split. RCA, the band's record company, has set up a helpline to get them through the first few months of life without Take That. Fans have also been telephoning Childline, the nat-ional children's charity; to share their grief at the demiss. share their grief at the demise. of their favourite band.

Parents were urged to sym-pathise with upset children: They need to realise that young people have very in-tense feelings about their role-models and heroes."

The band, a polished en-semble of pretty and polite lads called Jason Orange. Robbie Williams, Howard Donald, Gary Barlow and Mark Owen, was formed in 1990. They had their first hit single in 1992 and gron numerous music industry awards and the affection of

to the group earlier millions of screaming fons. They notched up 12 top ten singles, 14 top 40 hits and three albums, two of which reached No I in the charts. Their hit singles included Pray Relight My Fire Babe and Everything Changes. When the band formed they pledged themselves to a pure life without drink, drugs or girlfriends. Recently the boys", as they were referred to in the music press, updated their image, using raunchy dance routines and wearing stage costumes which offered glimpses of their buttocks.

They bow our with their new single, a remake of How Deep Is Your Love? by the Ree Gees, an appearance next week at the Brit awards and a concert in Holland in April. The band's members pleaded with fans to "hold themselves together until the hand mem-bers resurfaced in their new ration; "We have done all we can do as Take That." The four band members had each indopendently decided a few months ago to split while they were "at the top", he added.

Williams is suing RCA to sever his contract. Take That yesierday admitted that this High Court action hung over their decision to split. Eithy per cent of it is that it's what we all decided to do, "Owen said. "There are other factors that we don't want to go into." Despite the band's insis-tence they were all ready to pursue separate careers, Gary Barlow, 25, the band's princi-pal singer and songwriter, was the only member able to announce immediate plans for a solo career. He said he hoped to have a single re-leased by the summer, foilowed by an album and a tour. Barlow is said to be worth £6.5 million, while the other three band members are reputed to have amassed £1.5 million each. They seem correspondingly less confident about their futures, which they hope will be in the music

When asked if Jason, Howard and Mark might sink without trace after the split-lason Orange, 25, replied with a smirk: There's every chance of that." However. Orange said there was every chance of a comeback thing. He told the fans: "When we say it's the end, it's the end of Take That as it is now."

Jane Gordon, page 15

And then there were none: Jason Orange, Gary Barlow, Mark Owen and Howard Donald, who insist the split is unanimous and amicable

Hit and miss careers of yesterday's teen idols

OLD pop groups never die, to centre myself". He returned they go solo, go broke, or stage eternal comebacks. Bros. Wham! and the Bay City Rollers were short-lived teenybopper groups that split up in a blaze of publicity after earning millions of

Only one of the three bands has spawned a successful solo artist - George Michael from Wham! The other former "stars" were relegated to the fringes of the music business. Matt and Luke Goss, the twins who formed Bros, were the idols of a generation of teenyboppers from 1988 to 1991, when their last chart single. Try. failed to climb above No 27. The band split, Luke stayed in London and Matt went to Los Angeles for . three years "to grow as a man, to London and a relaunch as a solo artist last year, while Luke married and formed a hard-rock band called Why. Both men, who are said to have earned and spent £12 million at the height of their fame, have retreated into relative obscurity.

When Wham! split up in 1986, Michael and Andrew Ridgley had sold more than 20 million albums and 12 million singles during four years at the top, earning them 123 million. With such laddish hits as Whom Rop and Young Guns (Go for It). Michael was embarrassed by the group's teenybop image. but his solo career was blight-'ed by a courtroom tiff with. Sony Records, which he lost. The contract dispute was re-

Tartan echoes: the Bay City Rollers at their peak solved when Virgin Records and Dreamworlds Media Empire bought him out for £30 million. Ridgely moved to Monaco and took up Formula

Three motor racing. His only flopped in 1990. By 1992 he had retreated from showbusiness to live with his girlfriend, the Bananarama her son. They live in Corn-wall, where Ridgely spends much of his time surfing.

while royalties roll in. The Bay City Rollers, sensa-tions of the 1970s, are touring in two rival groups which formed when they split up acrimoniously in 1978. The lead singer. Les McKeown. 39, fronts Les McKeown's Seventies Bay City Rollers while the rest of the group won the legal right to call themselves The Bay City Rollers. The two bands play in small venues such as town halls and colleges, where they still wear tartan and pump out old hits such as Shong-a-Lang and Bye, Bye Boby.

They may be inspired by a Seventies revival in America: the Osmonds, minus Donny but as toothsome as ever, have just released The Best of the firms cash in on the lottery

JUNK mail companies are offering misleading promo-tional prize draws which promise the earth but invariably fail to deliver advertising watchdogs said yesterday. The Advertising Standards

Authority said that complaints about direct mail prize draws which mislead people into believing they have won cash prizes have soared since the launch of the National Lottery. Mailings that appear to make, recipients think that they have won big prizes are generally only invitations to enter a prize draw, the Authority said. Research by a direct mail company showed that although 20 per cent of people have entered a prize draw, more than 30 per cent believe them to be "scams." One mailshot from Hospital Insurance Services claimed: "You have won a money prize" but people had to fill in a direct debit form made out to the company to collect a prize. The Authority said the mailing gave the impression that prizes would be large, when in fact many were for small amounts.

Grahame Fowler, for the Authority, said: These firms are exploiting lettery fever. Consumers are aware that their chances of winning the lottery are not high and they are tempted by what look like better odds in these draws. It leaves people angry and

Junk mail Warner Brothers plans £225m film studio and park

BY ERIC REGULY.

in Britain since the Second World War.

Together with MAI, owner. of the Anglia and Meridian ITV companies, Warner Bros announced yesterday à £225 million project to include a theme park with movie-based adventure rides and scenes and sets from famous British movies. About 1,000 full-time jobs are expected to be created.

The park, to be called Movie World, would be built on a largely vacant 150 acre site in the west London Borough of Hillingdon, north of Heathrow airport. Warner and MAI hope to open Movie World in the summer of 1999 The two companies said that borough officials were positive about the project partly because of the job opportunities for the region. The development is forcast to generate about £200 million in annual WARNER BROS, the film emphasised that Movie World studio best known for Case was not a Euro Disney in the blanca, and Bugs Burny, making. The theme park April and October, though the studio would operate yearround, and the site would have no hotels or internal transportation systems.

Visitors - about two million are expected a year - will undoubtedly come up against Warner's cast of movie leg-ends, including Tweetie Pfe, the Tasmanian Devil, the Road Bunner, Daffy Duck and Barman.

The film studio will distinguish Movie World from most of the other theme parks. With 5 000 square metres of soundstage space, it will be the world's most modern and will help to make the west London area, home to the Pinewood and Shepperton studios, the Hollywood of Europe.

Lord Hollick, MAI's managing director, said: "Movie World will give the UK the capacity to meet the demands spending in London and the of an increasingly global film.

Nick Winslow, left, and Sandy Reisenbach, senior Warner executives, flank Lord Hollick yesterday

University pays tribute to Rushdie

THE University of East Anglia has announced the award of Distinguished Fellow in Literature for Salman Rushdie for his "outstanding achievement as a writer". The award also recognised Mr Rushdie's long-standing links with the university.

Only two others, Doris Lessing and Arthur Miller, hold this title. Mr Miller said yesterday: "There cannot be'a writer more deserving of this honour than Salman Rushdie. His extraordinary art aspirations of this civilisation af their noblest." Last month Mr. Rushille was named 1995 Anthor of the Year at the British Book Awards

> Salman Rushdie, page 16 Leading article, page 17

Queen Mother salutes agents who 'set Europe alight'

The Queen Mother arriving at the SOE service yesterday

AND JOHN YOUNG

OUEEN Elizabeth the Oueen Mother undertook her first public engagement since her bip operation last November yesterday when she unveiled a memorial plaque in Westminster Abbey to Allied agents who died behind enemy lines during the Second World War.

More than 200 survivors of the now elderly and several in wheelchairs, attended the service to watch the Queen Mother, herself 95, unveil the commemorative who gave their lives, many by orture and execution

Five years ago the Queen Mother, who is patron of the Special Forces Club, travelled to the south of France to unveil a memorial to SOE at Valençay, near the spot parachuted into the heart of Looking well despite a ban-daged leg, and walking with only one stick, the Queen Mother was joined by a host of veterans, many shadowy and unknown, but some recognisable, including Viscount Slim, president of the Special Forces Club, and the actor Christopher Lee, himself a wartime SOE agent.

The Special Operations Executive was established, with the approval of the War Cabinet, on July 22, 1940, its task being, in Churchill's words, to "set Europe alight. It was headed by Hugh Chancellor of the Exchequer in the post-war Labour government. Like all the other "secret armies" operating behind enemy lines, it attracted men and women whose courage, linguistic abilities and taste for intrigue matched their lack of respect for military convention, and consequently antagonised the establishment. lis creation brought objections from both MI6 and the Army, to which Dalton replied that regular soldiers were "not the men to stir up revolution, to create social chaos or to use all those ungentlemanly means of winning the war which come so easily to the

SOE was at constant logger-heads with its rival, the Special Intelligence Service (SIS), and its first substantive mission, in May 1941, to parachute members of General de Gaulle's Free French army into northern France, was almost frustrated by the reluctance of the Royal Air Force to supply the aircraft. Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal. Chief of the Air Staff, said: "The dropping of men in civilian clothes to kill members of the opposing forces is not an operation with which the RAF

But, with Churchill's enthusiastie support, SOE grew in strength and numbers. Its agents were trained in burglary, safebreaking, hand-to-hand combat and silent killing. The tailors of Savile Row supplied them with clothes that would not look out of place in continental Europe, and the Science Museum provided forged should be associated."

papers. From occupied France, the group's activities spread to eastern Europe and the Balkans, and to the Far East, especially Burma, where intelligence activities proved important in turning the tide of Japanese invasion. Among its more notable tasks was the planning of the destruction of the German heavy water plant in Norway which might have given the Nazis the lead in constructing the first atom bomb. SOE was staffed mainly by British and Canadians, but its principal task was to recruit and in enemy-occupied countries. There were blunders as well as triumphs, and the price was often high. In June 1942 both the Czech ments were betrayed to the Gestapo; in August and September 1944 28 British and French SOE officers were executed in retaliation for Allied bombing raids. In July 1945 the survivors of a group operating behind Japanese lines near Singapore were beheaded. Among the triumphs was a successful mission to France to fly out a number of agents, including François Mitterrand, the future French president, who returned to his homeland three months later to organise a new resistance movement. The value of SOE's efforts was demonstrated on D-Day. June 6 1944, when, to reinforce the Allied landings in Normandy, it alerted 175,000 resistance fighters with the curious signal: The violin strings of au-tumn wound my heart with a monotonous languor.

Electricity lines 'are magnets for toxic pollution'

By NICK NUTTALL ENVIRONMENT CORRESPONDENT POWER lines concentrate car and industrial furnes into clusters of dangerous gases which could increase the risk of Cave cut off for millions of years is home to unknown species that evolved without light

Explorers discover a lost world the apes left behind

ROM NIGEL HAWKES, SCIENCE EDITOR, IN BALTIMORE

DETAILS of a lost world cut off for more than five million years and containing 31 unknown species were described to American scientists vesterday. Rising floodwaters forced the occupants of a Romanian cave to leave behind the normal rules of life on Earth at a time when man's nearest relatives were still living as apes.

The creatures have evolved to live in darkness, without photosynthesis capturing energy from the sun, and instead live on chemical energy provided by an atmosphere of hydrogen sulphide, which would be poisonous to most life on the planet,

They were discovered when the ape-like creatures, now humans drilling the foundations for a nuclear power plant, unexpectedly broke through to the Mobile cave near Mangalia, close to the Black Sea coast, in 1986. A biologist. Serban Sarbu, began exploration when the plant was abandoned because of the unfavourable geology.

fled the Ceausescu dictatorship and were resumed only in 1990, after the regime fell.

Yesterday Mr Sarbu, now at the University of Cincinatti. told the American Association for the Advancement of Science how all the food consumed by the creatures in the cave came from the energy produced by the oxidation of hydrogen sulphide, a gas given off by natural sulphur springs. The creatures who have survived, and in some cases evolved, range from bacteria to spiders, beetles and scorpions. The closest known parallels are communities of nearly one million years, and creatures living around vents on the ocean floor. Mr Sarbu said that the cave was just a small part of an expsystem that spread underground over 100 square kilometres. "We are looking at the entire said. "This particular cave is just one room in a whole maze of passages that are not acces-Most of the unusual animals are found in air pockets which can be reached only by diving. The theory is that they became isolated from the outside world when the level of the Black Sea fell about 54 million years ago. At that time, man's nearest ancestors are believed to have been the southern apes" of Africa.

The walls of the caves and the surface of the subterranean lakes are covered by a dense mat of microbes. DNA analysis confirms that species time. An isopod - a relative of a water scorpion appears to have evolved for between two fnto the unknown: two of the exploration team — and a watchful pet — with biologist Serban Sarbu, right

why the cave system is so extensive, Mr Sarbu says, "We know that the oxidation of hydrogen sulphide will eventually lead to the formacon of sulphuric acid, which will attack the limestone rock." The animals include spi-

and five million years. The ders, leeches, snails, beetles, microbes may be the reason and a range of water-living creatures including nematode worms. All show a condition known as troglomorphy, with pale-coloured bodies, a reducoon or complete loss of the proportions which they use to dark. Of the 47 species found in the caves, 31 were new. Now the explorers are try-ing to make sure that their arrival does not upset the underworld. Working in such oon or complete loss of the eyes, and antennae of gigantic difficult. Even breathing can problems, only three people biologist who is part of the investigating team. "Once you start breathing depleted oxygen, the invertebrates are used to a certain level of oxygen and start cause problems, said Mr are allowed in the caves at any cancer, a scientifie study has shown. Families living near busy roads and overhead cables are most at risk, according to a research team led by-Professor Denis Henshaw of Bristol University.

It found that carcinogenie pollutants such as benzene and radioactive polonium from petrol are attracted to power lines "like bees round a honey pot". The scientists claim homes with naturally occurring radon gas are also affected by overhead power lines, which trigger a build-up of radioactive particles, exposing the occupants to an increased risk of cancer.

Dr Alan Preece, a member of the team, said yesterday that the worst scenario would be that of a family living near a busy road and overhead power lines in an area with high radon gas levels.

The National Radiological ment's radiation advisers, yesterday dismissed the results as speculative". But Professor Henshaw said that it had failed to understand the science behind the research.

His team had crossed the conceptual barrier" that there was no evidence showing how exposure to electro-magnetic fields might cause cancer. "In fact such fields can concentrate a cocktail of known carcinogens," he said. The findings, funded by the Medical Research Council, follow laboratory experiments simulating low and highpowered electric fields.

Professor Henshaw's team claim the radioactive gas particles and traffic-fume pollutants bind to water vapour or aerosols. The power lines. whose fields can penetrate homes, concentrate these hazardous aerosols. The electrical field also causes them to oscillate", making it easier for them to penetrate the lungs and other body tissues.

"The effect we measured indoors could be even more pronounced outdoors. In somes the issue is radon gas. Outside it is other sources, of which motor-vehicle exhausts are a key one," said Professor Henshaw. Many ideas have been advanced to explain why cases of leukaemia are higher near power lines, but no link has been found.

Professor Henshaw said the National Grid might coosider fitting mesb screens, which significantly reduce electromagnetic fields, around power

mpower is the ultimate aphrodisiac" Henry Kissinger

GET ON TO LONDON

〒 0800 11 77 33

When man bites doctor, reach for the antibiotics

tomed to being bitten by dogs as any postman. One assistant in our Norfolk practice became so neurotic about it that be wasted bours a day sitting in his car while he plucked op courage to make a dash for the patient's door. It was no good explaining that dog bites don't usually become infected.

It is different when someone is bitten by another person, as I learnt when a patient dug her teeth into my wrist the resulting wound became most unpleasantly infected. The common clinical observation that the bites of cats and dogs are not so likely to become septie as those of a buman has been confirmed by a study of animal bites by four American doctors, published in the Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology.

In the United States, I per cent of people who visit a casualty department do so because of a dog bite, and half of the American population will be binen by a dog at

and the wound heals rapidly.

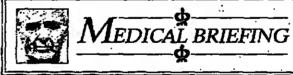

ing countries. We reach Damascus in the evening where we spend three nights at the al-Furadis Hotel. From here we make our visit to Palmyra with the choice of other optional visits including an exploration of the Old City of Damascus, best done on foot, and perhaps a visit to the Street

Then travel orwards overland to Petra for three nights' stay at the Petra Guest House situ ated at the very gates of the site itself. During our stay optional visits may be made to the site of

Petra, best made over two days followed perhaps

Dr Thomas Stuttaford

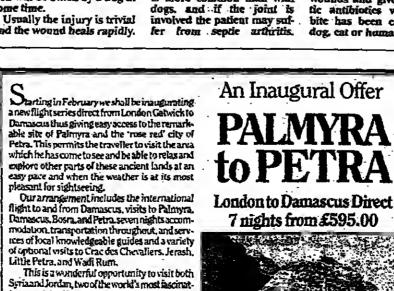

In adults the dog usually bites a hand, arm or the lower legs but in children it tends to go for the face; a good plastie surgeon sbould be consulted at .ooce, In adults, onless there is severe tissue damage or the teeth have been dug in very deeply. secondary infection is so rare after a dog bite that the paper's authors don't even recommend routine anti-

Cats have sharper teeth which act like needles during a bite and carry any organisms that are in the cat's mouth deep into the tissue of the patient's limbs, or sometimes into the small joints of the hand and wrist. Infection is more common than with

However, the most sinister bite of all is that of the buman. Human mouths are teeming with organisms and a bite is capable of spreading bacteria or oral viruses, such as the herpes virus. Abscesses and cellulities and bacterial cellulitis are frequent complications of human bites and a really savage bite can also damage under lying tendons of joints. The wound needs careful cleaning removal of any dead tissue and, if a cat or human bite. antibiotics as well as an anti-tetanus booster. Although the American doctors haven't found it necessary, many British doctors treat all bites as puncture wounds and give prophylac-tic antibiotics whether the bite has been caused by a by excursions to Little Petra, Jerash, and Wadi Rum. Finally, our last night is spent in the town of Bosra where we explore the perfectly preascus for the flight to London Catwick. DEPARTURE DATES & PRICES 1996 Wednesdays - per person in a twin March 6, 13, 20, 27 £595.00 April 10, 24 £595.00

May 1, 8, 15, 22 £595.00 Single supplement: £165.00

0171-6161000 VOYAGES LULES VERINE

London NW1 6QG

Village wins 25-year battle to defeat quarry plan by buying hill with £1m of lottery cash

Welshmen who won an uphill battle to save their mountain

lagnets

or toxic

Ollution'

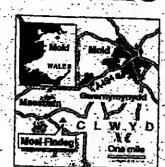

MEDIA CORRESPONDENT RESIDENTS of a tiny rural community in Wales have been awarded fl million of lottery money to buy the heather-clad mountain that overlooks their village and prevent it being quarried for

The 350 villagers of Maeshafn in Clwyd plan to turn Moel Findeg, a pictur-esque 24-hectare site that is home to badgers, snakes and rare heather moorland vegetation, into a nature reserve.

The villagers put in a bid. for lottery money after they lost a 25-year legal battle to prevent a local family-owned civil engineering company. F. G. Whitley & Sons, from digging up part of the mountain to produce road-building materials.

David Scruton, secretary of the Maeshafn and District Rural Association, who helped to lead the battle to save Moel Fundeg, said that the idea for applying for a lottery grant came from his wife, Ann, after she heard a programme about the lottery on the radio. We are delighted. It is a very large hill really, but everybody here refers to it as our mountain. Mr Scruton said. "From the top you can see the Clwydian mountain range and on a clear day you can even see the lights from the Blackpool Illuminquarrying activity would have destroyed the mountain, Mr Scruton said. They would have built a road 100ft wide right up to it. At-present the road is not even the width of a lorry." he said.

The villagers plan to start clearing up the bracken and scrub from the pathways over the mountain, which has had no proper maintenance for 25

Geoff Rutherford, landlord of the Miners' Arms, the only

pub in Maeshafn, said that the villagers were thrilled about the grant. The mountain is very popular with visiting walkers and ramblers as well as with locals. This is a very tight-knit community and it is a great feeling for every-body here to have won this battle," he said.

Stephen Salt, chief planner of Clwyd County Council, said that the council had spent about £100,000 in legal fees trying to save the 400ft hill from being quarried. He said the nature reserve on Moel Findeg, which has been designated an area of constanding natural beauty by the Countryside Commission, would be run by the new Denbighshire County Council ...

The money to purchase the mountain has come from the Heritage Lottery Fund and was announced yesterday as part of an Ell million programme of 49 grants.

Peter Richards, a spokes-man for F. G. Whitley & Sons. said: The company has always appreciated that it is an area of outstanding natural heauty and that if retained itwould be of immeasurable

High hopes: some of the residents of Maeshafn yesterday in front of the bill they know as "our mountain"

Award puts class struggle on the Internet

By KATE ALDERSON

AN elderly couple's collection of memorabilia about labour unrest has been awarded almost £198,000 from the Heri-tage Lottery Fund. The Working Class Movement Library was originally set up by Edmund and Ruth Frow in their semi-detached house at Old Trafford, Manchester.

that it was rehoused in 1958 to a Victorian building owned by Salford city council. Mr Frow, now 89, and his wife, 73, have a flat in the three-storey building. The grant will enable the collection to be catalogued on the Internet, as well as helping to pay for a chair lift and an overhauled heating system.

Students and academics travel from all over the world to visit the library. Yesterday union officer, said: "Ruth and I believe that change comes about through knowledge."

The library, now a trust, is and political cartoons from the eighteenth and nineteenth cenarries. The collection, monitored by the British Library. includes a trade union archive original documents signed by Chartist leaders.

Thousands of books and namphlets cover subjects from anarchism and the co-operative movement to Marx and working-class poetry.

Mrs Frow, a former deputy headmistress, said they were "the luckiest people alive" because they were able to live amone the fruits of their labours and use the library late into the night. They have produced nine books together.

Boy's death at funfair 'inevitable'

A boy's death on a funfair water-chute that had bolts missing was "an accident waiting to happen", Cardiff Crown Court was told. Timothy Morgan, 9, of Cardiff, was struck by a loose metal bar. knocking him 10ft onto a corrugated roof at Easter 1994. Pat Evans, 73, owner of the fair at Porthcawl, Mid Glamorgan, admined risking passengers' safety by failing to carry out proper repairs. He will be sentenced today.

Job claim lost

A social worker who admitted plotting to murder her former husband has lost her claim against unfair dismissal. Linda Barnes. 44, of Nailsca, Bristol, was sacked by Avon County Council after she was given a two-year prison sentence, suspended for two years, by Bristol Crown Court.

RAF pilot killed

The pilot of an RAF Hawk trainer on a routine mission was killed yesterday as he ejected on take-off from RAI Valley in Anglesey. The pilot. whose has not been named, was alone in the aircraft when it went into a sudden roll. He ejected but was too close to the ground to survive.

Rock fan jailed

A rock fan was jailed for five years at the Old Bailey for the manslaughter of a neighbour who complained about Led Zeppelin's Whole Lotta Love played at full volume. David Ravenhall, 23. of Sydenham, southeast London, admitted stabbing William Clark, 44, through the heart.

Back to the river

A campaign to rebuild the stairs and steps that once gave access to the Thames is launched today. The London Rivers Association also aims to find new uses for abandoned jetties and barges. The steps had distinctive names, such as Hoy Steps. Elephant Stairs and Pickle Herring Stairs.

How the hunt for food helped to put words into man's mouth

The collection grew so large

hy do we have language when other animals do words from? Where do we get one words from? Why are all languages, no matter where they are spoken, so broadly similar?

linguist, formed the bedrock of last night's Reith Lecture by Jean Airchison the Rupert Mordoch Professor of Language and Com-munication at Oxford University. The lecture, the second in a series entitled The Language Web, sought to explore the origins - and evolution – of human language. Professor Altchison said: For centuries ideas about language origin have frothed like soap bubbles, then buest into nothing." spoken, so broadly similar?

She said the subject had long been These questions, which should the focus of one weird idea after intrigue the layman as much as the another John Webb argued in the 17th century, for example, that Noah and his family spoke to each other in Chinese—and that it had become a serious field of inquiry in important part of this impury, as last night's lecture showed - and her next book. The Seeds of Speech Language Origin and Evolution, will be published in March by Cambridge University Professor Aitchison believes that modern humans and human language "probably came from one area of the globe" - Africa. The tectoric shift that created the Great humans in the arid east of the continent, pressing them to adapt in order to survive. Herbivorous man took to hunting and eating meat it was then, also, that he may have taken to language.

In this controversial part of her lecture, the professor stated that since "evolution is as much a case of suppressing some options as it is of selecting others, language may have been a locky choice out of a The professor, of course, leads an Rift Valley there, she said, stranded range of alternatives". As if that were not enough food for thought for one lecture, Professor Aitchison also suggested that the communication of information was not the most important function of lan-

"Language is good at transferring some types of data, especially negative reports such as 'No buses will run on Sunday' but it is bad at other types, especially spatial information, where instructions such as Take the third turning on the right then the fourth on the left' would be much dearer on a man."

Language, she said, was ond she regards as the way we influence and persuade one another". D Professor Aitchison's next lecture is on Tuesday at 8.30pm on BBC Radio 4.

"friendship" and "deceit".

"patchwork of efficiency and inefficiency". Its greatest strength is not as a "fact-swapping device" but as a thread with which to weave webs of

The first she describes as a kind humans use language "to keep in touch with one another"; the sec-

"mutual grooming", where

Somebody out there thinks Wonderfill

You may have received dozens of Valentine's cards but will potential employers know how wonderful you are?

but with PeopleBank you can stay in touch with

You may not be looking for a job right now,

Because with PeopleBank your CV can be the job market in case a really good opportunity called up on computer within minutes by literally millions of potential employers, whether they're round the comer or around the world.

Employers then

select candidates to their precise criteria, so that when you're contacted, you're already on the shortlist!

You can keep your personal details confidential, and if you prefer we will handle initial contact with interested employers.

What's more it's free to join and you can request a registration form to b sent to you by calling Freefone 0800 200 220, or using the coupon.

PeopleBank.

Make a great career move, and give yourself another reason to smile on

Valentine's Day.

Use the coupon or Freefone 0800 200 220

T	ONE CV DISSULLINY PUREYTIAL DAKE
ļ	Please send me a free registration form. Title (Mr, Mrs, Ms, Other) Full Name Address
ŀ	Postcode Home telephone no
I I	Return to PeopleBank, Freepost SL2535, MAIDENHEAD, Berks SL6 1BJ.
ļ	PEODLE BANK

By JILL SHERMAN AND ARTHUR LEATHLEY

MALCOLM RIFKIND resisted demands from Tory Euro-sceptics yesterday for the Government's White Paper on the EU to include radical proposals on the single currency and repatriation of powers from Brussels. The Foreign Secretary dampened expectations that the paper will take a hard line on winning concessions at next month's summit in Turin. He also dismissed calls for immediate clarification of Britain's position on a single currency, and ruled out using the inter-governmental conference as a stage for confronta-tion on qualified majority

Mr Rifkind outlined the Government's position as two rival factions - one Eurosceptic and one pro-European joined battle to try to influence government think-ing on the White Paper.

The group of eight former whipless Euro-rebels appeared yesterday to retreat from their previous outright opposition to a single currency, but called for a referendum. In their paper, An Agenda for the IGC, they say that a Tory government should take Britain into a single currency only in the event of a two-thirds majority

The rebels also said that they would not support John

Major unless the party promised to withdraw from the common fisheries policy and to establish an exclusion zone around Britain's coastline.

The group's consultation paper calls on the Prime Minister to veto any extension of qualified majority voting, to saleguard Britain's immigration barriers, to reform the common agriculture policy. and to stop any move towards a common European defence and foreign affairs policy. Their demands were dismissed as "romantic nostalgia" by the cross-party European Movement, which published its own document. Europe 2000. Edwina Currie. group's vice-chairman, said that the Euro-sceptics came from "another planet ... from Walter Mitty land". She added: "The sceptics" ideas are based on the view that Britain is a top dog nation and can tell the rest of the world what to do. That was true when I was a child but in the 1990s we are a competitor nation, a nation among other equal nations."

The European Movement had put forward positive and realistic proposals for reform at the IGC, she said. "We are not revolutionaries but passionate believers in our country and its role in Europe."

The European movement, chaired by the Labour MP Giles Radice, called for a limited extension of qualified majority voting to cover pan-European research programmes, environmental measures and funds for poor er regions. It also called for a more effective EU foreign policy by allowing states to cooperate in joint actions. Mr Radice said: "There is a danger that the Government's position will be all symbol and no substance — policy which will play well with Euro-sceptics but lets Britain down in Turin. As a result Britain will be isolated, irrelevant and unable to pursue our national interests

Mr Rifkind gave little sign of being influenced by either group as be gave evidence to European Legislation Select Committee. He sug-gested that ministers are unlikely to force a high-profile dispute in Turin over retaining the right of veto, and rejected calls for Britain to use European fisheries policy in making a stand against qualified majority voting. He also dismissed demands from the leading Euro-sceptic Bill Cash for the Government to make clear its position on a single currency and to use the conference to renegotiate proposals for monetary union, "I don't think there is anything to be gained out of dealing with

Labour calls up Corporal Jones

POLITICAL REPORTER

DON'T PANIC! It's only Corporal Jones, the dithering NCO in Dad's Army, urging British voters abroad to back

In a move that would have sent Captain Mainwaring puce with rage. Corporal Jones, alias the actor Clive Dunn, asked for permission to speak yesterday at the launch of Labour's campaign to secure the expatriate vote at the general election. Labour aims to emulate the Tory practice of squeezing in a few extra votes by explaining to Britons abroad how they can register and take part in elections back home.

Mr Dunn. 76, retired with his wife to the Algarve eight years ago after becom-ing disillusioned with Tory rule. "I am a sort of political exile," he said. "I ran register by post and appoint someone to away from Mrs Thatcher — we used to call her Vera Lynn with A Levels." Although a lifelong Labour supporter.

he joined the party only last year after overcoming a fear of political organisations prompted by a four-year stretch in a Nazi PoW camp. "I didn't want to join anything, not even the Boy Scouts," he said. He promised to return to Britain

if Labour won the election. Would Corporal Jones have voted Labour? "That is a very difficult question," he said. "Bot I am certain Captain Mainwaring would have Labour MPs are being given information packs to distribute to supporters' groups while on party or personal trips abroad. Expatriates who have lived in Britain within the past 20 years can.

million eligible expatriates registered and even fewer actually voted. Of those, an estimated 70 per cent voted Tory and 20 per cent Labour.

allow that to happen again." Whether British expatriates respond to might not like it up 'em".

Michael Trend, deputy Tory party vote for them by proxy. Direct postal votes from overseas are forbidden. In 1992, however, only 34,000 of the two

John Prescott, the deputy Labour leader, said that winning the battle for overseas voters helped to keep the Tories in power in 1992. "Labour is not going to the Labour campaign remains to be seen.

In the words of Corporal Jones: "They chairman, said: "Who do you think you are kidding Mr Dunn? It is Labour who

Howard seeks to ease jail pressure

BY RICHARD FORD

MICHAEL HOWARD took steps yesterday to prevent thousands of fine defaulters from being sent to jail.

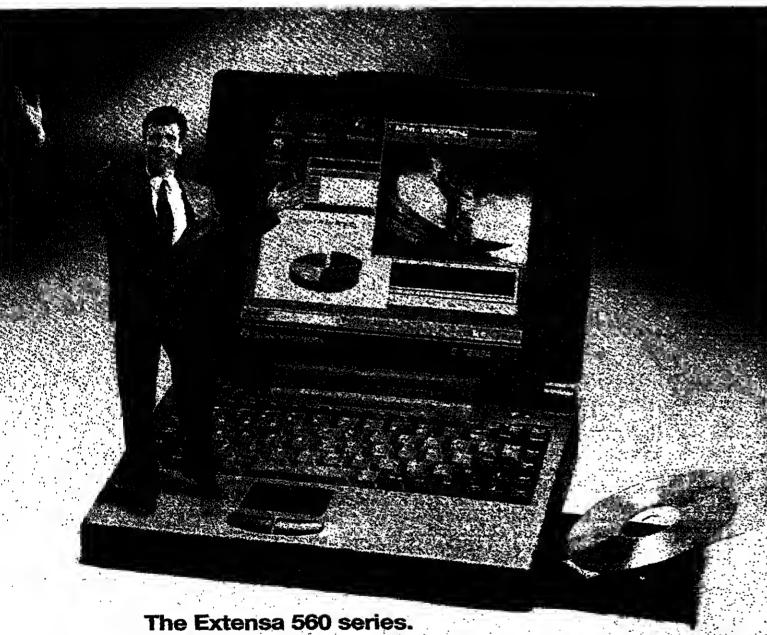

The Home Secretary has ordered a review of court powers to deal with fine defaulters after growing concern about pressure on the prison system.

"Too many fine defaulters are committed to prison," he told the annual Prison Service conference in Brighton. Up to 500 people were serving sen-tences for non-payment of fines at any one time and they were an "unwelcome burden on hard-pressed local prisons".

He was also unhappy that having been sentenced to imprisonment, offenders no onger had to pay their fines. The fine is expunged, thereby frustrating the court's intention that the prisoner should pay something back to the community," he said.

Mr Howard and the Lord Chancellor, Lord Mackay of Clashfern, have set up a working party to produce new guidance for the courts to ensure that the payment of lines is enforced without resorting to imprisonment save in the most exceptional circumstances". Home Office research to be published later this year will show that on average each person jailed for non-payment has defaulted on three fines Affordable multi-media from Texas Instruments.

Turn your presentations into a powerful performance.

Extensa 560 CD 10.5° dual scan

10.4" TET colour display Offering high performance multimedia computing at remarkably low cost, the Extensa 560 CD and 560 CDT notebooks feature 75 MHz Pentium processors, massive HDD storage capacity - from 810 MB (CD) up to 1.2 GB (CDT) - and an integrated CD-ROM. For the professional and business user, they represent exceptional value.

A choice of brilliant, high contrast screens (dual scan and TFT), 16 bit sound, built in speaker and microphone - plus support for full motion video - make these multi-talented notebooks ideal for dynamic product demonstrations and video presentations.

Yet all these features couldn't be more accessible. A dual boot facility, for example, enables you to take full advantage of new Windows 95 features, while retaining the convenience of Windows for Workgroups 3.11 - both softwares are installed, ready for use.

And for easy one-step communications, a Port Replicator offers parallel, Serial, PS/2 (mouse and keyboard), and VGA connectivity. There's even Serial Infrared for more convenient wire-free communications.

Highly modular, Extensa 560 notebooks can be easily reconfigured to meet your changing needs. For extended use between charges, for example, the FDD is interchangeable with an extra lithium ion battery unit.

The Extensa 560 series, from Texas Instruments. Portable Pentium power has never been more affordable. Or multi-media made so accessible. Now there's nothing to stop you doing extraordinary things - contact your TI dealer, today. If you'd like further details on the Extensa range, call the TI Information Line on 0181 875 0044; complete and return the coupon below - or fax back

Texas Instruments Ltd., PO Box 8895 London SW 15 22E Please send me details of the TI Extensa range.

Field's scheme is worthy but what will it cost?

those unusual politi-cians who is almost above party. He has a quasisaintly status as a man prepared to speak his mind regardless of party con-straints. This has at times undermined his influence within Labour, though less so under Tony Blair. A rightly Social Security Select Committee and an original, and problic. thinker on welfare issues. Mr Field is admired as much, and often more, by Tory politicians as by Labour MPs. Baroness Thatcher enjoyed talking with, as well as to,

But his willingness to step outside conventional Labour thinking is not quite what it seems. He has many fresh ideas on welfare dependency. But, at heart, he is still committed to a redistributive system. He may engage in friendly debate with Peter Lilley. But their approaches are wholly different

The starting points are simi-lar since Mr Field is worried not just about the ever-rising costs of dependency but also about the moral implications. The case for the prosecution is strong, as Mr Field underfined last night in his Attlee ecture. The "uncontrollable" welfare budget would threaten any Labour government's at-tempt to shift priorities on. say, education and health. He argues that far from having a clear beneficial impact, the fastest growing part of the welfare budget is insidiously undermining the moral fabric of our society". This analysis is implicit in the welfare-towork proposals of Gordon It is all very well to argue, as interest of individuals needs to be made to promote the common good. That leads him to argue for a return to a national insurance based system in which people make contributions and have rights, what Mr Field called stakeholding long before the term became

The problem, as always, is those whose income is too low to contribute and therefore to build op rights. Mr Field's' solution is to have the State, that is the taxpayer, make up contributions for those on low and irregular incomes. They would therefore become full participants in his proposed universal, and compulsory, funded pension (to run alongside the state pension) and in a new national insurance system. This would link with a radical restructuring of income support into a form of career planning.

The idea of a national pension board, akin to the Singapore scheme, has attracted most attention because of worries over central direction of investment. It is noticeable that Chris Smith has been very wary of a compulsory, centralised scheme following scheme for all would require substantial government subsidies to finance the contributions of the poor up to an earnings-related level. This would have to be paid for by higher taxes or by some ad-

> Similarly, Mr Field wants to break through the means test stalemate for the unemployed by reducing the current withdrawal of benefits, and hence big disincentives, for those entering work. This is a laudable aim; both economically and morally. But making up contributions to ensure that people are part of the national insurance system, even just to finance flat-rate benefits, would also require sizeable taxpayer support.

There are many attractions in Mr Field's desire to move to a system in which individuals have rights and own their assets, linking mutual aid and the private sector. That may be more politically acceptable. But, as he admits, total welfare expenditure would increase. In part, this would not go directly through the Exchequer, but through boards running these funded schemes Nonetheless, a sizeable taxpayer subsidy would still be required. Mr Field needs to spell out the costs of his

PETER RIDDELL

Bid to protect whistleblowers

BY JAMES LANDALE whistleblowers from being be able to obtain an injunetion to prevent threats of reprisals and, where appro-

iate, claim compensation

through the courts for loss of earnings, distress and damage to reputation.

The move has cross-party

EMPLOYEES who blow the whistle on crime or malprac tice at work will get legal protection against reprisals if a Bill published yesterday

The Public Interest Disclosure Bill aims to end what MPs call the "culture of fear amone workers who are afraid to reveal wrongdoing. Many so-called whistlein the public and private sector have been sacked or denied promotion.

The new Bill which is set to receive its second reading on March I, would protect west projects; and discretionary purchases of bigitted homes. Trade and industry questions will be followed by debetes on the Socurity. Service Brill, retaining stages; Local Government Reorganisation; (Compensate to trues of Remuneration) Regulations; and noad first with Norwich — At 1 and A47, in the Lards. Obstates on the Compon Patertes Palifor.

IN PARLIAMENT

support. Yesterday Don Touhig, Labour MP for Islwyn and the Bill's sponsor, sacked, denied promotion or discriminated against if they reveal malpractice in the pubwas backed by the Tory MPs lic interest. However, that Edwina Currie, Iain Duncanprotection is only available if they first raised the matter Smith and Richard Shepherd However, minsters have yet to give the Bill their full support privately with their employers and were ignored.

The whistleblower would and it will founder without sufficient parliamentary time. Mr Touhig said: "Employ ers are entitled to loyalty and confidentiality in normal circumstances. But where there is serious malpractice, it is vital that people know that the law will protect them if they act responsibly,"

HOUSE INSURANCE SAVE 50% or UP TO 50% MORE E.R. LONDON & HOME COUNTIES £100,000 Buildings Sum Insured Premium Only £154.00 LOWER Premiums in most Other Areas Tel: 0181 367 5151 NOW: 0345 123111 Hill House Hammond

Manuel 14

loward seeks to a se jail ressure

:0st?

German rejection of national service echoed in Europe

FROM KOGER BOYES IN BONN

THE German Army is in trouble. Many young Germans are rejecting military service - 161,000 registered as conscientious objectors last year - at a time when Germany is trying to project itself as a military force in the

The figure for conscientious objectors — half the normal intake of recruits — has prompted a debate about the purpose and future of national service in Germany.

Across Europe - in France. even Switzerland — govern-ments and defence planners are considering whether to strap conscription. If they do, it will spell the end of a tradition that resumed in modern times with the French revolutionary armies of 1792. Some trace conscription's oriins to the democracy of ancient Athens,

French plans for a fully professional army have so unsettled the Germans that the subject took up a significant part of the talks this week between Alain Juppe, the Chancellor. For Germany, there are two critical issues. The first is that if some states have purely professional ar-mies while others have a mixture of conscript and regu-lar soldiers, it will be difficult to construct a common European army.

The different levels of expertise and expectations will make units such as the Franco-German Brigade and the multinational Eurocorps even more of a muddle. As recently Across Europe - in France. as the Franco-German summ.

The Netherlands, Austria and it of last December, Herr Kohl. was still thinking in terms of conscription he proposed that German conscript soldiers.

Now even President Herzog, has declared that military service is not a generally valid sternally appropriate manch-ple". For Germans of the middle and older generations, this came as a shock since. 1958 military service has been part of the democratic school ing of Germany.

Shrinking defence builders and the changing nature of war have forced the rethink in French Prime Minister, and Europe. The Netherlands has Helmut Kohl, the German taken the first step by announcing that no new con-scripts will be called up. All conscripts should be released to civilian life by August 30. In Austria Cassar Einem, the Interior Minister, urged an overhand, saying that it was enough for Austrian borders to be defended by "a form of police with somewhat heavier compreent. The Swiss are wondering whether their militig is the appropriate way into the 21st century. The Austrian minister's comments led to protests from the officer corps and from other parties. The German debate looks set to be equally bumpy. The military prefer-eace in Bonn is to boost the value of national service rather than out it. Consecutious objections are meilled to serve their time working in hospi-tals and old people's homes. The constitution says they have to be treated equally with conscript soldiers. In practice they are better off: most weekends are free, they can wear what they want, live at home and (since soldiers have their food and rent deducted) have more cash in hand. The rush to apply to be a conscientious objector is only partly prompted by moral scruples: for the most part, it appears to be a question of comfort.

The political resistance to creating a fully professional German army has been shaped by the period leading up to the war: Professional oldiers, it is claimed, inevitably need a closed professional officer corps which could be pitted against the political

Military service has been regarded as part of democratic culture since the days of the Prussian reformers: the right to the vote was intrinsically finked with the daty to fight. When Prussia beat France 125 years ago, Gustav Freytag, the German writer, concluded that French morale had been sapped by the corrupt implementation of national service; richer Frenchmen could pay others to do their military duty

Freytag claimed that fairly applied conscription made countries less aggressive. The German leader also appears to be convinced that conscription still has a function.

Gerard Leban, president of the jury to find the best French baguette, examines a leading contender in Paris yesterday. Ninety-nine bakers are competing for the

Paris fêtes the breadwinner

Welcome for West's snoopers

Bagnette (Susan Bell writes). The winner will have the honour of supplying President Chirae with his daily areas. Parisians now eat bread for one year, Bread consumption in France is only 160 grams of bread a day, compared with 900 grams 100 years ago. This still adds up to an impressive 1.3 million baguettes a day M Chirac eats one and a half baguettes every day,

France aims to halve number of troops

FROM BEN MACINTYRE IN PARIS

THE French Defence Ministry reportedly has drawn up plans to cut troops by almost half in a drastic overhaul of the armed forces. The plan; which will be presented to President Chirac next week, would reduce the army from 240,000 troops to 130,000, scale down regiments from 186 to 83 and close at least 150 garrisons, Le Monde newspaper reported yester-day. The cuts would have a profound effect on Eurocorps the European defence force created by the late President. Mitterrand and Helmot Kohl. the German Chancellor, in 1992. One division reportedly facing the axe is the 21.000han First Armoured Division, the central component in the French contribution to bullion a year by at least a quarter.

The 14-regiment division. now stationed in Germany. would be brought back to France and then phased out. The 50,000 strong Eurocorps, made up of troops from France Geomany, Spain, Bel-gium and Luxembourg required.

The plan to withdraw the First Armoured Division is ualikely to play well with Frances parmers in Euro-corps, who have yet to be informed of the proposals. M. Chirac is expected to unveil his radical plans for the French armed forces in March, when the Defence.

would be available to Nato if

FROM MICHAEL EVANS, DEFENCE CORRESPONDENT, IN SAVOSTLEYKA, RUSSIA TWO hundred miles east of

Moscow, in temperatures that make the woives and elks howl and bellow at night, an elite Russian Su27 combat fighter squadron is facing a unique challenge For the first time, the airmen of the 54th Fighter Aviation. Regiment (air defence), hidden in the deep forests of the Nizhny Novgorod region, called Gorky before peres-troika, have had to open their hangars to official Western snoopers, a British arms control inspection team who have arrived without warning. Yesterday Major-General Gennadi Mukhamedyarov.

the base commander, himself an Su27 Flanker pilot, wel-comed his British visitors from RAF Scampton, Lincolnshire, and led them past an avenue of silver birch trees covered in snow to a line-up of 34 Flankers sitting in the sunshine, each stamped with a George and Dragon, a symbol of the base.

The sun had only managed to raise the temperature from - 22C(-5F) to -14C (6.8F). As the Russian general looked on. British officers and NCOs who looked underdressed compared with their Russian counterparts in huge fur-lined combat jackets and matching hats, counted the Flankers and peered into the bowels of the aircraft to make a note of the serial numbers. James Bond never had it so good.

The authorised 007 in this case was a woman, Major Margaret Roberts, 35, of the Intelligence Corps, second-incommand of the team of eight Britons, one Norwegian and one Frenchman, who arrived at this once top-secret base on Monday night to fulfil the latest phase of the Conventional Forces in Europe Treaty

(CFE), signed in 1990. Under CFE data exchanges between Russia and the West, the Savostleyka base was supposed to have 37 Flankers. There turned out to be 38, four in hangars. The extra one had arrived recently from the fac-tory. Under the treaty, the signatories only have to report noted down. Russian pilots come here to convert to the Su27 Flanker. one of two aircraft — the other being the MiG29 Fulcrum — which have forced Britain and her Nato partners to develop even more sophisticated fighters to be able to compete. China has just signed a deal with Russia to manufacture increases of 10 per cent or more, so the addition was just

CFE inspections are a serious business, but there is also a degree of comedy. To the official point veteran inspectors who have my heart."

been travelling round Russia and the former Soviet republics. CFE also stands for "Charter For Eating" or "Continuous Food Eating". Under the treaty, the host country receiving an inspection has to guarantee to provide three meals a day.

The serious and the comic combine to build friendships with the Russians. Gone are the stiffness and formality of the bad old days. Once the work is done by the inspecting team, the generals, colonels and sergeants relax. General Mukhamedyaruv,

45, who has been to the American Ellmensdorf air base in Alaska and has flown an FIS, spoke without nostalgia of the Cold War days. He said: "Now I wish the British people health, wealth and happiness. But this is not an official point of view, it is from America rules out manhunt for Serbs

BY MICHAEL BINYON AND EVE-ANN PRENTICE

RICHARD HOLBROOKE, the American negotiator in Bosnia, arrived in London yesterday for talks after Washington had approved the transfer to The Hague of two senior Scrb officers arrested by the Bosnian Government. He said the action underlined American insistence on bringing to justice those guilty of war crimes.

Before Mr Holbrooke left Bosnia, William Perry, the US Defence Secretary, announced a tactical change in the hunt for war criminals. He said that Nato troops would be given photographs of suspects to make it easier for them to be detained at checkpoints. But he said the peacekeepers would not conduct manhunts for the suspects.

Over lunch today with Malcolm Rifkind, the Foreign Secretary, Mr Holbrooke will review his tour of Balkan capitals, undertaken to rescue the Dayton accords from collapse over the arrest of the suspected war criminals.

Mr Rifkind will have talks in Sarajevo next week during a three-day tour of the Bal-kans, including Albania and Greece. He will emphasise the importance of the civilian provisions in the Dayton deal, especially the timetable leading to elections by the end of December.

Nato's delivery of the two Bosnian Serb military officers to the war crimes tribunal in The Hague has been criticised by Russia.

The move also prompted the Bosnian Serb delegation to boycon talks in Vienna aimed at disarmament in the former Yugoslavia.

In the Serbian capital, Belgrade, Vojislav Seselj, the Serbian ultra-nationalist leader and former ally of Slobodan Milosevic, was reported to have applied for a Dutch visa in hopes of testifying against the Serbian President at the war crimes tribunal.

Mr Seselj, who heads the Serbian Radical Party, was quoted as saying that if he got the visa, he would visit The Hague, but that he expected concrete benefit from giving voluntary testimony. His paramilitary troops fought in Bosnia when he was allied with Mr Milosevic.

Dutch Embassy officials last night refused to confirm

Lost Gothic angel is home after 20 years

- By BEN MACINTYRE:

THE Angel of Humbert, one, town of Humbert in the Pasof two beautiful, 13th-century... de-Calais region, where they wooden statues that were sto- remained until 1976 when len from a tiny church in robbers stole them. northern France, has been returned after 20 years.
The "smiling statue" is one of the finest surviving examples of Gothic carving and its return marks the latest chairter in a saga involving French revolutionaries, a Belgian; smuggler, a British collector, and now, in all probability, the European Court.

The statue was one of seven angels carved between 1265 and 1270 for Arras cathedral: Arras was the birthplace of Robespierre, the revolutionary. leader. In 1789, with France them safe from looters.

At least that was the theory. but by the beginning of this century the statues had been dispersed: Two are in an Arras museum, another is in the Louvre and two more found their way to New York.

The last two angels ended up in the church of the little

In April 1994, René van den Berghe, a notorious but latterly repentant international art trafficker better known as "Eric the Belgian", declared that he had discovered and restored one of the missing angels. It transpired that he represented a British art connoisseur living in Gibraltar, Denis Jimenez, who had purchased the statue in good faith from a Portuguese art dealer.

Mr Jimenez, not wanting stolen goods on his hands, began the process of returning the statue to France via Spain. stripped by lawlessness, the It is now being held by Paris statues were removed to keep police while experts appraise and value it. But the angel's tale may not be over yet. Mr Jimenez's widow may file a suit, claiming it was acquired

Six of the angels of Arras are back in France, but the seventh, also stolen from Hum-. bert church, remains on the wing in parts unknown.

The Angel of Humbert, left, is back in France

Bundesbank hints at euro delay

By GEORGE BROCK

THE head of Germany's Bundesbank joined a growing-chorus of hints that Europe's single currency might have to be delayed by publicly conceding for the first time yesterday that the timetable might have to be changed.

Hans Tietmeyer, the Bund-esbank President, told industrialists in Frankfurt that delay would be preferable to any relaxation of the strict rules that will determine which EU states can join the union.

"The currency onion, once set in motion, cannot be allowed to derail. If oecessary, a delay is less problematic," he said

The Bundesbank's opinion on whether workable monetary union can be created on schedule in 1999 is an important influence on German public opinion. M Alain Juppe, the French Prime Minister, was forced to acknowledged in Bonn this week that monetary union might have to be postponed.

Murders of Italian women seen as price for liberation

FROM RICHARD OWEN IN ROME

week by a spate of murders in which the victims were women. The crimes have led sociologists to speculate that the growing independence of women may be provoking a backlash in a minority of violent men. In several cases the women were stabbed

In a map captioned "Italy stained with blood", Il Messaggero summarised eight recent murders of women, which were also featured on nightly television bulletins.

Police point out that the motives in each case were different: a love affair gone wrong, anempted robbery, drugs or a possible argument over money and debt. However, Italians are wondering whether Italy is becoming a more violent society. with women as easy targets. Raffaele Morelli, a psychiatrist, says the murders are "the price Italian women are paying for women's liberation".

ITALIANS were shocked this Men. Dr Morelli said, have not yet accepted the fact that women are taking more control of their lives.

A police unit for the analysis of violent crimes is examining the incidents, staffed by lawyers, psychologists and doctors as well as police. Its head, Salvatore Montanaro, said: "Today Italy is an industrialised, technological, multiracial society in which violence is more and more accessible, as in America." He suggested Italy may have a serial killer at work.

The preoccupation with the murders comes a few days after women MPs forced through a Bill overturning a Mussolini-era law which had defined rape as a crime against "public morality". The law, still to be passed by the Senate, makes rape a crime against the person and increases penalties for sex

The feminists dismiss the argument that crimes against women are on the increase because women's liberation has gone too far in a country used to Latin traditions of male dominance and pride. "We are building a new culture of respect for women's bodies," said Daniela Monteforte, a women's rights campaigner.

Women's groups say crimes against women are not new, and much rape within the home has gone unreported for years. The focus on anacks on women and girls has also led to the setting up of a much-used hotline for frightened or oppressed women, called Telefono Rosa, which from modest beginnings has be-come a powerful campaign centre for women's rights. ☐ Florence: A court of appeal cleared Pietro Pacciani, 70, a farm labourer, of 14 sexual serial killings attributed to a murderer dubbed The Monster of Florence". He had been convicted of the seven double murders in November 1994. but repeatedly protested his innocence. (Reuter)

From just £30 the RAC covers you in any car

From just £30 for a full 12 months' cover, no one offers you more security on the road than the RAC:

RAC Rescue covers you, not your cor. So now you can call on us whenever you need fast roadside assistance, even when you're simply a passenger in

Roadside Rescue. In more than 8 out of 10 cases, our pairols can fix cars on the spot. Otherwise, they'll tow you to a nearby garage, free Accident Service. A replacement cor, free legal odvice, plus we'll deal with your insurers.

Theft and Vandalism Cover. If your car's stolen or can't be driven because of varidalism, we'll remove it to a nearby garage or seatre area.

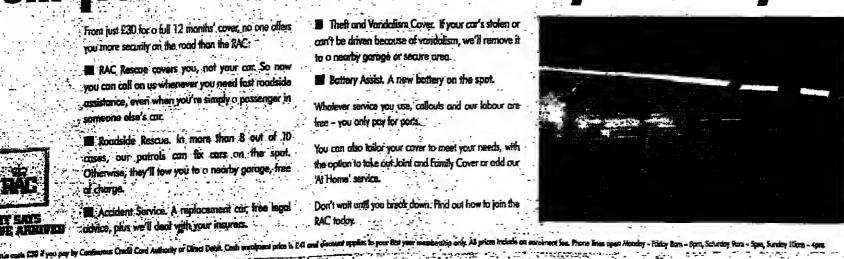

Battery Assist. A new battery on the spot.

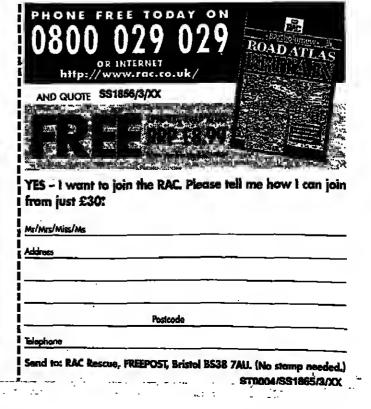

Whatever service you use, callouts and our labour are free - you only pay for ports.

You can also lailor your cover to meet your needs, with the option to take out Joint and Family Cover or add our 'Al Home' service.

Don't wait until you break down. Find out how to join the Figure pay by Continuous Circuit Continuous or American September 1997 and 1997 and

Senator hails narrow win in state he claimed as his own but still looks a likely November loser

Dole's hollow Iowa victory exposes front-runner's flaws

FROM TOM RHODES IN OES MOINES

THE first heat in the prolonged race for the White House left Robert Dole, the Kansas senator, all but crippled yesterday as he limped away from the lowa caucuses as the most hollow victor in a state that he had always claimed as his own.

After a six-month campaign in the Midwestern heartlands. in farms, churches and cities throughout Iowa, Mr Dole gained just 20 per cent of the ole. He was only three points ahead of Pai Buchanan, the conservative commentator whose artful campaign and populist message produced a inal surge in the polls.

Lamar Alexander, the for-mer Governor of Tennessee. came third with 18 per cent after peddling a positive campaign to combat a blizzard of negative advertising that had produced a turnout of fewer than 110,000.

Their backlash against the more than $4 million ($2.6 million) with which Steve Forbes had saturated the radio and television airwaves in the Hawkeye state managed to leave the multimillionaire publisher in fourth place. with 10 per cent of the vote. Phil Gramm, the Texas sena-

Forbes: spent millions

Dole: struggling to

tor, was deemed dead in the water after insisting he would come third but managing only fifth place on 9 per cent.

The real story of lowa lay native of the neighbouring state of Kansas, he had always been considered the man best placed to secure the rural vote

THE VOTING
Robert Dole	26%
Pat Buchanan	23%
Lamar Alexander	18%
Steve Furbes	10%
Phil Gramm	9%
Alan Verse

Richard Lugar. Morry Taylor.

in Iowa and to proceed with a sedate campaign for the presidential nomination later this year. Instead, the senator flew to the New Hampshire primary yesterday as the weakest winner in the caucuses' 24year-history and the uncomfortable front-runner of a divided Republican Party.

Bob Dornan ... less than 1%

Challenged by both Mr Buchanan, now considered the White House." Such traditional conservadate, and Mr Alexander, who is fast assuming the role of Washington outsider. Mr Dole, 72, faces a protracted and bloody battle. He had fallen well below the 37 per cent with which he won lows in 1988 and short of the 30 per vately he needed to achieve momentum for the critical primary next week. In effect, nearly three-quarters of Iowa's rank-and-file Republi-cans would prefer to see another nominee. A victory speech in Des Moines had emphasised Mr

Dofe's age and an increasing fear among party officials that he is incapable of beating President Clinton in November. The senator stood at the podjum, a burst blood vessel in his eye winking at the cameras and his withered right hand clasped firmly to one side, "Thank you, Iowa, than's twice in a row," said Mr Dole in a tone which suggested relief more than confidence. We withstood a harrage of millions and millions and millions of dollars of negative advertising and came out on top ... Tonight was the first big step on our road to return conservative common sense to tism had found only mild support in Iowa. There were signs that many under 65 placed little importance on Mr Dole's heroic Second World War record and consider his length of service on Capitol Hill to be a liability. "The Republican Party respects Dole, but they don't think he is the man to lead them into the next century," said Fred

As in 1988, the Christian Right had played a key role in the lowa caucuses and turned balanced budget towards a fervent call for a new morality in America. At least a third of those who voted on Monday belonged to the growing evan-

Lamar Alexander, accompanied by his wife, Honey, is hugged by a supporter after giving a triumphant speech at a rally in Des Moines.

Alexander, the old campaigner, has his day

LAMAR ALEXANDER wasted no time in capitalising on his surprisingly strong third place in lowa's caucuses. He thanked his supporters at a jubilant Des Moines rally. sped to his waiting plane, and was stumping before dawn in New Hampshire.

It was an exceptionally sweet moment for the former Tennessee Governor who has campaigned in almost complete obscurity for two years - longer than any other candidate. In all that time he never made double figures in mocked by the media.

"I'm a little bit like a country music singer who's and a sunny disposition that suddenly discovered." he would patiently tell sceptics. Now that day has come.

Mr Alexander is a distant fourth in most New Hampshire polls, but now has the Success for Lamar Alexander comes after two years of vainly seeking recognition, writes Martin Fletcher in Washington potential to cause a major upset in next Tuesday's primary. The Granite State's Republicans will have to give the bright, personable 55-year-old a second look following his. Iowa . performance and, given Robert Dole's weakness, may well find themselves attracted. -

Mr Alexander is a moderate conservative like Mr Dole, but has a boundless energy the elderly Senate leader lacks. He is soft-spoken. pleasant and unthreatening whereas Pat Buchanan: the right-wing broadcaster who also emerged triumphant from Iowa's winnowing pro-

Mr Alexander has done the requisite spadework in New Hampshire, walking 100 miles across the state last autumn. He has the lowest negatives" of any candidate. having spurned his rivals' mudslinging. He is well placed to win over Steve orbes's more socially liberal followers if the publisher's collapse continues, but his strongest suit is what he calls only Republican with the vision dynamism and appeal to centrist voters to defeat the Democratic President -

his ABC - Alexander Beats

the 16 per cent of Monday night's voters who named Mr Clinton's removal as their top priority, 46 per cent backed Mr Alexander and 33 per cent

Mr Alexander was brought up in Tennessee, trained as a lawyer, and worked briefly in the Nixon White House and as a Senate aide. He was elected Governor in 1978, after walking 1,000 miles across the state, served two successful terms, and then became president of the University of Ten-

After two years as President Bush's Education Secretary, he took his wife and four children to Australia for a sixrunning his "stealth" cam-paign for President eyer since. spending more than 80 days

A total of 1,990 delegates will be chosen in primary voting, at party meetings known as caucuses, at state conventions and by party officials. The winning candidate will need 996 delegates—one more than half—to become the Republicans Witte House nominee for the presidential election on November 5.

These are the key dates on the Republican campaign calendar followed by state, (c) for cause (b) for primary, (con) for state convention and number of delegates.

plays Alexander's Ragtime Band at rallies. But he also es. He is short of cash, though spending power did nothing for Mr Forbes or the Texas tor, Phil Gramm, in

He is running as a Washdevolve power wholesale not just to the states but also to stayed "long enough to be

He presents himself as a man of the people, wearing a trademark .. red-and-black flannel shirt at every opportustatus opened doors to some lucrative deals. The way things are going. Clintoo cam-

Bere's one statement that doesn't ell the whole story. MORTGAGE STATEMENT Mr. A. Smith

Did you buy your home insurance from your bank or building society? If so, your mortgage statement will probably include details of your home insurance

What it won't cell you is that your lender could be taking up to 30% commission on that insurance. There is no reason to pay this - most of the time buildings and contents insurance don't need to be with your mortgage lender. By buying insurance direct from us you can make significant savings and maintain similar high levels of cover.

Call now for more details. You can even switch over the phone and join the 750,000 bouseholders who have saved money with Direct Line Insurance.

0113 246 8877 0181 686 8877 0141 226 8877 0161 839 8877

0121 236 8877

Evangelical army on the march' THE REPUBLICAN ELECTION CALENDAR

Buchanan goes from strength to strength

BY TOM RHODES

THE air was thick with debate at the home of Danny Bolt in suburban Des Moines as 24 defenders of lower democracy sat in the smoke-filled drawing room to debate a future Republican presidency.

Mr Bolt, an occasional decorator and property manager, had organised the smallest of the city's caucuses at his house and was launching into a strident attack against the anti-abortion rhetoric of the Christian Right.
I think it is a single platform which is trying to dominate the Republican Party, and I find it both revolting John Helvig, an estate agent, and Larry Smith, a wholefood supplier, leapt to their feet in defence of American morality, the issue that dominated the living rooms, churches and rural backwaters of lowa this year. They and eight others in the room had already voted for the candidate who best expressed a groundswell of opinion against the creeping liberalism of President Clinton, and that was Pat Buchanan. The result of this tiny exercise in democracy placed Mr Buchanan an easy first, six votes ahead of Robert Dole, the Kansas senator. The figures were checked, then telephoned through to the convention centre in Des Moines where they played a small but significant part in securing second place for the conservative commentator. The United States has found it hard to credit the rise of Mr Buchanan, whose nationalist sentiments, protectionist plat-form and moral stance are consistently condemned as too radical for the mainstream Republican Party. In the space of only two weeks, however, he has won races in Alaska and Louisiana, has come an unexpected second in lowa, and is looking increasingly strong in New Hampshire.

A straw poll in California, a state deemed unlikely to give

Virginia's caucuses are in finitor over a court case. The state has 53 Republican de for callcuses in Hewell (14'delegates), American Samoa (4 delegates), and the US Virgin lelands (4).

trade, this week placed him second behind Mr Dole, the beleaguered Republican frontrunner for the presidential who had said Mr Buchanan would fade, as he did after crippling George Bush in the 1992 New Hampshire primary, are beginning to sit up and Charismatic, literate and charming to all who meet him, Mr Buchanan is riding a rollercoaster of success and exploiting the lacklustre qualities of his rivals. He talks of economic treachery in the North American Free Trade Agreement and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, of rural firms closing and of the moral decline of America. And the less privileged applaud him for it.

At meetings throughout lowa last week, he received standing ovations from small businessmen, members of the Christian coalition and even from certain farmers undeterred by his wish to curb imports to the state.

in stark contrast to Mr Dole's victory party, the Buchanan fiesta at the Holiday Inn in Des Moines was packed with chanting and screaming supporters, a rally of momentum rather than a wake for lost opportunity.

The test will come next week in New Hampshire, where Mr Buchanan's economic nationalism may play less well and where the evangelical army of the Right is weaker. Its influence is felt in other states. however, and it will be impossible for any candidate to ignore the message it has sent from lowa.

Buchanan charismatic and armed with charm

Zaire troops fail to make Rwandans return home

By Sam Kiley, africa correspondent

HUNDREDS of Zairean troops blockaded the largest Hutu refugee camp in Goma yesterday at the start of a campaign to drive the inmates back to neighbouring Rwanda

The soldiers, a mixture of commandos and armed gen-darmerie, prevented any of the 190,000 Hutus from leaving Kibumba camp, and set up roadblocks which allowed only essential supplies of aid to pass into the teeming

Other troops employed as a camp police force by the UN Commissioner for Refugees for the last six months were patrolling the shanty avenues of Kibumba, asking Hutus to return home.

The situation is very tense, but calm so far. The Zaireans have given assurances that they will not enter the camp to force people home. Hutus are just standing around in groups staring at the soldiers." said Allison Campbell, a spokeswoman for Care, one of many agencies which are preparing relief supplies in case the Hutus cross into Rwanda

Kibumba and other camps in Zaire and Tanzania have become cities in the past year and a half. The Hutus have built guesthouses, bars and schools and started businesses. Their host countries have agreed with the UN refugee agency that the camps should be closed before they become permanent settlements.

The camps have also been hotbeds of Hutu extremism. where militiamen responsible for the genocide of a million of their Tutsi countrymen and Hutu moderates in 1994 have been training, rearming and launching attacks against the Tutsi regime in Rwanda. Tutsi residents of Zaire, themselves victims of Hutu onslaughts dating back to 1959, have also been targeted by Hutus in their villages in Zaire.

Rwanda is just four kilometres away from the camp. The UNHCR and the Zairean authorities have set up a crossing-point for them and sent in trucks to transport them. But not a soul has opted to go home yet." Miss Camp-

Rwanda's Tutsi-dominated Government, which came to power after defeating the Hutu army, whose energies went largely on slaughtering civilians, has imprisoned 63,000 people suspected of taking part in the genocide in overcrowded jails. Few Hutus living in Zaire dare to return to Rwanda for fear of facing a

The aim of the Zairean authorities appears to be to make life in the camps so unpleasant and boring that the Hutus will want to return to Rwanda. But this is unlikely to succeed. Using force might, but it is more likely to end in bloody chaos," said a Western aid worker in Goma, the once sleepy town beside Lake Kivu which is now dominated by the vast refugee camps lying near by.

One frightened refugee said: We have not been told what is happening; it all depends on the will of the Zaireans. I do not want to go back to Rwan-

The relatively small Zairean contingent deployed so far could be reinforced from the local barracks where 1,500 men are stationed, and by air from the capital, Kinshasa, where the better-equipped Special Presidential Division is based.

The number of soldiers taking part in yesterday's operation encouraged aid workers. who said that a larger number was likely to have become unruly and aggressive. "It is a relief they are outnumbered. A bigger number would indicate that the Zaireans were preparing to use force," a senior UN source in Goma said.

Massimo Troisi, left, who died soon after the completion of filming, with Philippe Noirer and Maria Grazia Cucinotta in The Postman

British director tops Oscar nominations

By Dalya Alberge, arts correspondent, and Giles Whittell in los angeles

THE British director Michael Radford's The Postman, the story of an unlikely friendship between a postman and a poet in 1950s Italy, swept the boards at the Oscar nominations yesterday. The star, who was nominated for Best Actor. saw nothing of the film. Massimo Troisi died 12 hours after filming ended.

The film, in Italian with Italian stars, was singled out for Best Actor, Best Film, Best Director, Best Adapted Screenplay and Best Music. Radford recalled yesterday that Troisi's last words to him were: "I'm sorry I couldn't give you my best. In the next five pictures we do together, you'll see the real me." The director said: "I just wept. He looked like a ghost."

strong one for foreigners, were Thompson and Sir Anthony tralian pig.
Nominated for both Best

Sense and Sensibility, Ms Thompson becomes a favourite for at least one Academy Award on March 25. Other

British contenders include. Kate Winslet as Best Support-ing Actress (Sense and Sensibility). Tim Roth as Best Supporting Actor (Rob Roy). and Mike Figgis as Best Director (Leaving Las Vegas). Sir Anthony's Best Actor nomination for Nixon was his

No clear favourite emerged for Best Film, leaving room for two esoteric nominees: Babe. the surreal story of a pig which finds a calling as a

Other nominees, in a lean year for American films but a the British actors Emma Hopkins, and a talking Aus-Actress and screenplay for sheepdog, and The Postman. Radford's moving fable is the first foreign-language film to be nominated in the top category in more than 20 years. The other Best Actor nominations went to Nicolas Cage.

as the suicidal drunk in Leaving Las Vegas, Sean Penn, who spends most of Dead Man Walking on death row, and Richard Dreyfuss, enjoy-ing a comeback at the box third in five years. office as a music teacher in Mr Holland's Opus.

Shepherd and would-be sheepdog in Babe

In the Best Actress category,

Ms Thompson faces tough competition from Susan

Sarandon (Dead Man Walking) and Elisabeth Shue (Leaving Las Vegas). Sharon Stone and Meryl Streep were also nominated.

Thompson: nominated in two categories

.Park has already won two Oscars and the number of nominations for A Close Shave matches that of Waterworld, the most expensive movie ever made. The Kevin Costner epic was nominated for its sound. Refreshingly, the 5,043 Hol-wood insiders who vote on Two other British nominations were A Close Shave, for Best Animated Short, by the the Oscars steered clear of Bristol-based master of anibland, expensively promoted fare. The Bridges of Madison-County and The American President won only two nomi-nations between them. Voters. mated clay. Nick Park, and Anne Frank Remembered, for also surprised critics who have raved over the deeply. depressing Leaving Las Vegas

> Two action-packed blockbusters - Apollo 13 and Mel-Gibson's Braveheart - are in the running for Best Film and a brace of supporting awards? winning nine and ten nominations in all respectively. But for the first time in three years, Tom Hanks, the star of Apollo 13. was left out of the Best by denying it a Best Film.

Woody Allen won his twelfth screenplay nomination for Mighty Aphrodite- bringhim level with Billy Wilder's record.

Fears for life of boy Lama

Hong Kong: The Dalai Lama fears that the six-year-old boy he had picked to be the next Panchen Lama may have been executed by the Chinese Jona-than Mirsky writes). Peking has installed its own "soul boy as the second highest religious figure in Tibet.

Neither the Dalai Lama's choice, whom he describes as "the youngest political prison-er in the world", nor his family have been since last July. Yesterday Tenzin Gyeshe, his private secretary, said from their exile home in Dharamsala, India, that the Dalai Lama feared the boy, identified as the reincarnation of the Panchen Lama, may have been "killed, drugged or put in some sort of asylum where he will be rendered useless".

Kim's ex-wife set to defect'

The former wife of Kim Jong Il, the North Korean leader. her sister and niece are believed to be in hiding in Europe preparatory to defecting to Seoul (David Watts writes). Sung Hye Lim, who is on the run from a Geneva apartment, is known to have given birth to Kim's eldest son, Kim Jung-Nam, now 26. Her defection would be a propaganda coup for the leaders of South Korea.

EU urges end to Rushdie fatwa

London The European Union marked the seventh anniversary of the publication of Ayatollah Khomeini's fatwa against Salman Rushdie by unging Iran to annul the call-for his death and abide by international law (Michael Binyon writes). The death pronouncement was made in response to Rushdie's novel The Satanic Verses.

China rules out Olympic boycott

Hong Kong: China will participate in next summer's Olympic Games in Atlanta even if Taiwanese leaders attend _ (Jonathan Mirsky writes). The decision was confirmed in Peking by Shen Guofang, a Foreign Ministry spokesman, who repudiated earlier hints of a boycott.

Oriental lovers enjoy a chocolate orgy

From Jonathan Mirsky in Hong Kong and Peregrine Hodson in tokyo

LIKE all other deeply senti-mental and commercial Western holidays. Valentine's Day fever is enveloping the Far.

Roses, perfume, chocolates, silk scarves and banquers featuring pink food dominate advertising while the prices of all these good things double. in Hong Kong, flowers nor-mally costing £30 at most are now demanding £75, while a smallish, possibly Italian silk scarf is £150. Restaurants, typically, promise pink food, including roast chicken.

The same degree of vigorous celebrating holds true for Christmas and Easter, which result in an orgy of present

ers and fathers are, of course, honoured in the Confucian tradition, but this too is accompanied by wildly expensive flowers, the giving of diamond-studded watches, silver-mounted pipes, and vast

Chocolate consumption in China is soaring. At Peking department stores, foreign brands offer roses and paper hearts as gifts for lovers buying chocolate. Buyers are plentiful. Chocolate consumption more than doubled to almost 22,000 tonnes in 1994 from 9,500 tomes in 1988.

In Japan, 23 million tons of chocolate worth about £300 million will be given by men in their life - their company bosses and co-workers. A study by a Japanese chocolate manufacturer reveals that more than 80 per cent of Japanese women give chocolate to people "who help them", while only 20 per cent give chocolates to their lovers or husbands. Japanese men do not give chocolate on Valentine's Day. As with so many things, Japan has adopted the festival of love and turned it into something peculiarly Japa-nese: a dutiful ritual of loveless present giving. The gift of giri-choco — or obligatory chocolate - is an annual chore for Japan's female workforce, enforced by peer group pressure, and driven on by Japan's powerful chocolate manufacturers. More than 10 per cent of the nation's chocolate sales

Hopkins: Best Actor

nomination for Nixon

are made on Valentine's Day. The size and value of a girichoco gift is rigorously deter-mined by the recipient's status. On average, chocolate for the president of a company is five times more expensive than for a colleague of equal status, while an office section chief merits only three times the value.

The presidents of powerful companies such as Mitsubishi or Toshiba presumably receive several tons of giri-choco, which raises the interesting question - what do they do with it?

a monster

New York: A natural historian is heading for the South Pacific in search of the sea world's most chilling, myste rious molluse the giant squid (Quentin Letts writes).

Clyde Roper, of America's Smithsooian Institution. plans to enter a mini-submarine and descend more than 3.000ft in the hope of finding Architeathis, the monstron squid that can grow as long as a bus, has eyes the size of a football, and inspired Jules Verne. A few examples of the species have been found, dead, in the nets of terrified antipodean fishermen, but no modern man who saw one alive has ever returned to tell the tale.

In search of | Couple to swap 'virtual vows'

FROM GILES WHITTELL IN LOS ANGELES

JDSEPH PERLING and Victoria Vaughn, both of Los Angeles, plan to celebrate Valentine's Day by getting married. They will be five miles apart, blessed by a clergyman equidistant from them both, with a best man in New York, a maid of honour in Scattle and guests on several continents They will be linked, in a miracle of technology and a resolute denial of romance, by computer. Weddings are not new on the expanding frontiers of cyberspace, but hitherto participants have usually sat side by side to type in their "virtual vows". Computerised ceremonies have often been publicity stunts by software companies, but Mr Perling and Miss Vaughn are breaking new ground, according to the on-line service acting as their host, by having an exclusively electronic wedding and by being physically separate.

Their motive seems to be pure nerdishness. The bride. lives in Hollywood, the groom a half-hour drive away on Venice Beach and his father. the Rev John Perling, who is. due to marry them, in Beverly

The three could easily meet for the ceremony, but the fact that they have chosen not to undertaken lightly. Mr Perling senior insists. This is a lifelong union of two people, blessed by God, he said. "Joseph and Victoria's vows are sacred and heartfelt even though they will take place in -a virtual church." Technically. the congregation will consist not of humans, or even virtual humans, but of "avatars" subscribers to the dreamscape graphical world that has organised the wedding.

In addition to modems and computers, which can access the service for $2.95 (£1.96) an hour, guests need specific software. Joseph and Victoria solved this problem months ago. Instead of wedding invitations, they sent out floppy

OUR LATEST MODEL DRIVES FOUR TIMES FASTER Talk about stunning performance...

as notebooks go, nothing moves faster than our CF-41 Mark III with Quad Speed CD-ROM drive. A faster drive means even smoother video playback and

(6,5) (6 35)

quicker data access. Isn't it time you started living in the fast lane?

For the latest news on the CF-41 Mark III. call us free on 0500 40 40 41 anytime.

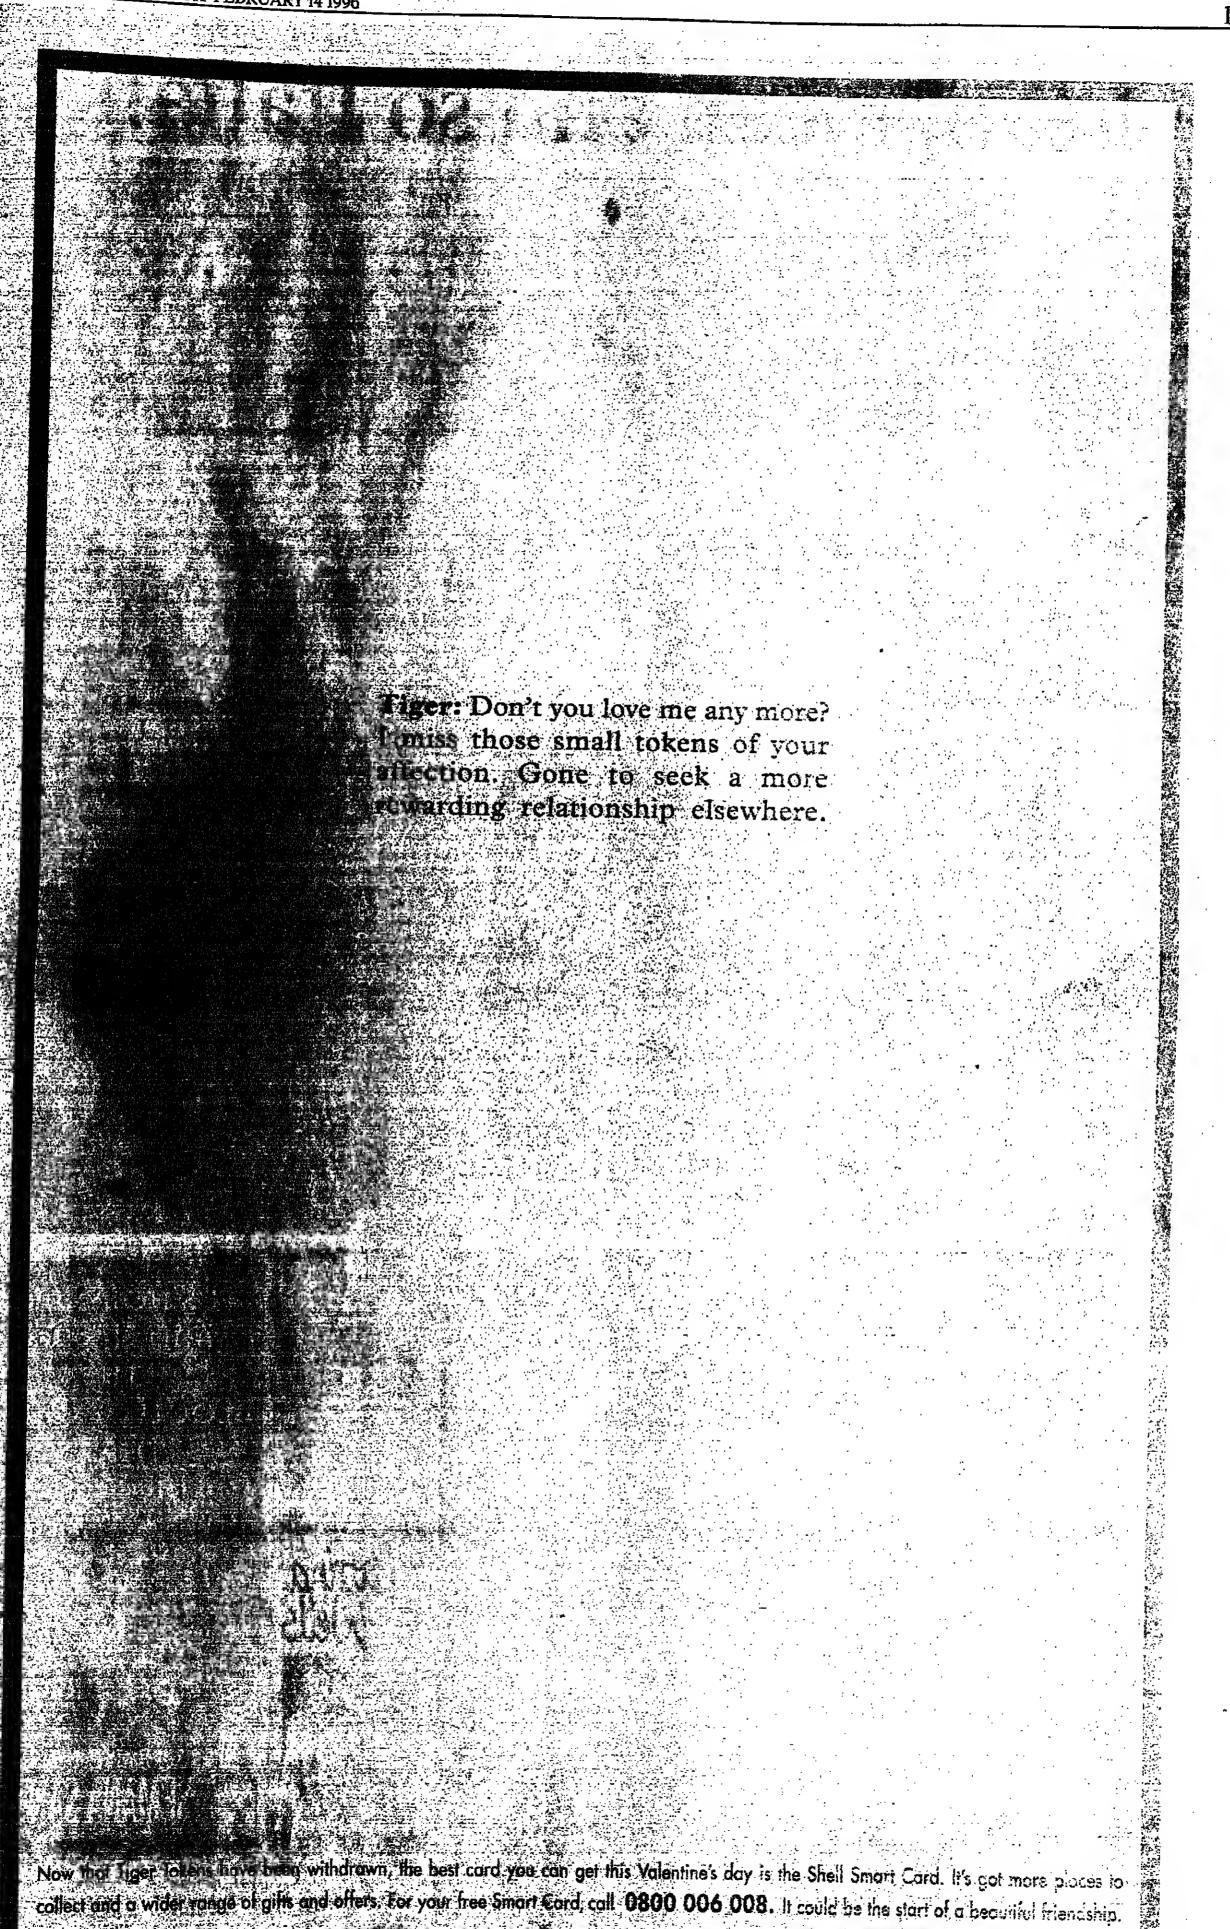

CF-41 Notebook series

No.

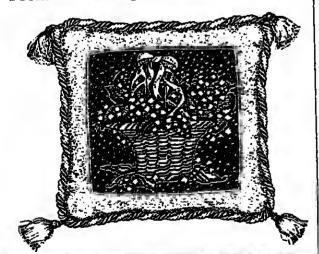

hat a d unifor

Candace Bahouth's Lily of the Valley From Ehrman Tapestry

Taken from her recently published book Romantic Needlepoint Candace Bahouth's Lily of the Valley is a foretaste of spring. The basket of flowers, with its pale pink bow, is set on a powdery blue background sprinkled with a shower of golden dots. The design is surrounded by a patterned border stitched in a combination of ivory and printers a vellow.

patterned oorder stitched in a combination of ivory and primrose yellow.

Measuring 14° x 14° the design is printed in full colour on 10 holes to the inch canvas. 100% pure new wool from the Appleton range is used and the pattern can be worked in although helf arress or tent stitch. The lett costs 500 50 maluting either half-cross or tent stitch. The kit costs $39.50 including postage and packing and comes complete with wool, canvas, needle, instruction leaflet and a black and white symbol chart for cross-reference. When ordering use FREEPOST no stamp is needed.

FOR QUERIES ABOUT DESPATCH TELEPHONE 0191-573 4866.
FOR QUERIES ABOUT DESPATCH TELEPHONE 0191-573 4866.
Ehrman Kits Ltd, 14-16 Lancer Square, London W3 4EP. Registered no. 197636.
Ehrman Kits Ltd, 14-16 Lancer Square, Money back if hat returned unused within 14 declared the control of the c desc allow 28 days for the

To: EHRMAN, FREEPOST, LONDON W8 4BR
To: EHRMAN, FREE GOS, Wits at $39.50 each Please send metapestry kits at $39.50 each
Please send metapesty not be Rupyan for S
Please send me(total) Lenclose cheque/P.o. made out to EHEMAN for S(total)
Name
Address
The fire denies and the second can be analysis at 1 and bear 3 be and 30 and 40
TM 196

ITALIAN fashion is back in fashion. Around the globe the labels to flaunt are Prada and Gucci two traditional fashion houses who have revamped and repackaged themselves with high-profile bluster to become the current darlings of the demi-monde. However, away from the fashion spot-light another Italian designer, Nino Cerrun, has been quietly making a few changes over the past couple of seasons which could put his long established label. Cerruti 1881, back on everybody's lips and hips.

The decide debonair designer, who took over the tamily textile business in 1950, added men's clothing in 1957 and a womenswear line in 1976, looks to be back. on top form v 'h his updated classics. His latest spring/summer collection, worn on this page by the model of the moment, Stella Tennant, was a tremendous success. when it was unveiled on the catwalk in Paris. Although the designer is Italian he has always considered Paris to be the capital of fashion. He moved his company there in 1967 and launched his fashion house at the Place de la Madeleine.

What had become a sober and some-what worthy line at the tail end of the 1980s suddenly looks fresh again. The clean-cut silhouettes and less-is-more styling, the work of new design director Narcisso Rodriguez (ex-Calvin Klein) and arts director Marc Ascoli, exactly fit fashion's current brief — what Cerruti calls fashion reduced to its simplest".

The success of such precise cuts and understated styling relies heavily on the quality of the fabrics, which is where Cerruti's background in textiles and his technical know-how give him the edge. This season he features linens that shine like lip gloss, nylon that crackles like taffeta and super-soft leather.

Colour is also kept to a minimum: predominantly a monochrome mix of sooty black and milky white with additional touches of blue, ecru and camel.

Cerruti interprets masculine tailoring in a feminine way, but the finished result is far from manly. Feminine jackets curve tar from manty. Feminine jackets curve into the waist and trousers feature a fluid flair. Key wardrobe building pieces are tunic tops, strapless dresses, boxy zippered jackets, tie-belt jackets and sleeveless shell tops, everything reduced right down to the bone. Cerruti and his learn are getting it right for the Nineties.

IAIN R. WEBB

ABOVE RIGHT: Navy pinstripe wool top, £149. ABOVE CENTRE: Cream safari jacket, £425; black pants, £179; black T-shirt, £99 Stingbacks; £265, Manolo Blahnik, 49/51 Old Church Street, SW3.

ABOVE LEFT: Black tuxedo

jacket, £449; black palazzo pants, £199; cream T-shirt, £99. Shoes as above. LEFT: Cream short-sleeved shirt, £175; cream skirt, £149: Shoes as above. All clothes by Cerruti 1881, lable from Cerruti 1881. 106 New Bond Street, W1, and from a selection at Harrods, Harvey Nichols,

and Selfridges (inquiries 0171-491 (1881). Photographs by MARC HOM soft suits etc.

Sizes and lengths adjustable for those who differ from stock

Personal SELVICE AUG

prompt delivery.

Brochuse with (abric samples for wift state, etc.

it's HOLY WEEK. AND IT'S NOT THE BLOOD OF CHRIST THAT'S BEİΠG SHARED. David Hewson

IT'S HOLY WEEK IN SPAIN, BENEATH THE COVER OF THIS RELIGIOUS CELEBRATION A SERIES OF HORRIFIC RITUAL MURDERS ARE TAKING PLACE. A TRAIL OF BLOOD THAT LEADS RIGHT BACK TO THE SPANISH CIVIL WAR READ SEMANA SANTA AND PROPEL YOUR SELF INTO A WORLD WHERE EVEN ANGELS FEAR TO TREAD.

OUT NOW

As the debate on school dress code rages, Kathryn Knight goes down to the front line

What a difference a uniform makes

Now the trend is back to uniform - but does it make a difference? The Times visited the Lister Community School, an inner-city mixed comprehensive in East

London. Until three years ago, pupils there wore jeans, leggings, T-shirts and Today, after parental pressure, they are kitted out in black trousers or skirts, flat

black shoes and either a purple sweatshirt with the school logo or jumper, blazer and

tie. This is what the teachers and the

"We're trying to create a culture that relates to hard work and disci-

readily identifi-able. While this has led to a small increase in complaints from neigh-

because they know

where the offending students are from and we can also more easily

identify the trou-

form has helped us to build our relationships outside

Mahfuza Rah-

man says: "This is have a logo that separates us from other schools and it's something to be proud of. I think perception of you

imoroves; if you go for a job

the school."

bours.

this is

Uni-

children have to say.

UNIFORM

Discipline: Deputy head leacher David Whyte says that while pupils have always been reasonably well-behaved, standards have improved since the introduction of uni-form. Previously the school could look quite scruffy and the tone of the place was casual with the attendant huzz that brings - kids found it harder to settle down to

"It was also quite obvious that some students were in the fashion stakes, while others weren't, which caused probwho couldn't afford the right

Kim Walton, a third-year form teacher who started at Lister as uniform was introduced, says it definitely affects discipline: "When the students come into school in uniform they are rather like working people who put their suits on in the morning to go to the office - they go into work mode. We occasionally have non-uniform days for charity and the kids are definitely harder to teach. All they want to do is discuss their clothes." Mahfuza Rahman, a fifthyear pupil, spent the first two years at Lister in uniform. "In our own clothes we obviously had more individuality, but that meant we were less inclined to settle down. While I sometimes think I'm too old for uniform now I can definite ly see its advantages — it does help with discipline." Cheryl Miller, 14, in the third year, says: The ones who don't make an effort with their uniform are definitely ruder to the teachers.

The British used to have a peculiar enthusiasm for school uniform, happily supposing that hlazers and gymslips would produce discipline and good exam results. Then came the Seventies, when schools across the land abandoned dress rules altogether.

According to its supporters, uniform gives children a sense of identity and creales disciplined teamwork. Opponents say it stunts individuality, and that community and hard work have nothing to do with clothes.

Truancy: "Most inner-city schools have some truancy. and we did have a problem with pupils leaving within schooltime, says own clothes they were obviously less conspicuous and so locals would not null them up."

Exams/results:

The school averaged 20 per cent of pupils achieving

five GCSEs grade

A-C. In 1992, 75 per cent went on to

sixth form educa-

Parents: Alan Clark, chairman of governors, whose

16-year-old son

Gary attends List-

duction of uniform

FREE

Ice Scraper

with every quote

CAR INSURANCE

Looking for the lowest premium?

NO-NONSENSE VEHICLES.

said parents wanted the intro-

Befnre: Lister pupils when fashion was king

After: neat, disciplined and ready for work for a number of reasons. "With the cost of clothing generally and peer pressure to wear the right things, parents were hit in the pocket. There was also a perception, right or not, that schools with uniform seemed to do better in the league tables. We wanted the school to have an identity within the community." David Cassidy. 13, agrees. "Some people can't afford all the changes in fashion, and it is unfair on those who can't compete."

Discipline: "I think the introduction of uniform has shaped the feel of the school - it's given students a common identity," says Mr Whyte. The tone is much quieter, the image is more groomed, and it has also made a difference in terms of being an appreciated school in the area. Discipline has improved.

people will think better of For Parvez lobal, 16, a uniform restricts personal freedom and thus helps chanoel the school atmosphere towards work and discipline. Cheryl Miller says: You're not coming to school to look good, you're coming to school to learn and uniform helps with that. When the uniform first came out we used to get called boffin by some of the other students who didn't want to wear it but we're all used to it now and it's not a Tim Kerin, a fifth-year tutor who was initially not in favour "At first, the uniform created you had to pull the children up all the time. But once they realised it wasn't going to go away most have stuck to it

Truagey: "Uniform has definitely helped," Kim Walton says. The colour stands out so vividly that people outside can: identify our pupils if they are out and about during the day and contact the school. We can easily identify them as well. Having said that, it's importani to emphasise that you can still draw out the students' individuality in uniform their personality still comes through." For Parvez Iqbal, the issue was simple. "You are more conspicuous in your

Exams/results: After a slight slump in results two years ago, the school had a 7 per cent increase in its GCSE performance last year to 22 per cent and the number of children staying on into sixth form has increased to about 93 per cent in the past three years.

Mr Clark says: "As a parent. I feel there has been an upturn in standards generally, with students working harder for exams and working more closely with teachers and it all seems to have happened since uniform was brought in."

Mr Whyte says: "It is too soon to say if uniform has affected exam results, but we do feel that it, combined with other strategies such as afterschool clubs, will ultimately have an impact on grades."

Parents: Parents agree that the uniform was designed to be as financially viable as possible and are in no doubt that it is cheaper for them. even if they have a number of children at the school. While a blazer costs from £31 sweatshirts and jumpers start at £10.95. By comparison, a pair of designer trainers, now outlawed, can cost from £20 to El20. Many parents also see the uniform as a security measure because strangers who enter the school stand out against the uniformed pupils. "I think parents feel the school has more focus, and our students walk with their heads held higher." Mr Clark says. They can look people in the eye and know they're as good as anyone else."

Mums, too, can go into mourning for Take That year ago, there is an inch of dust on the CD collection and the Robbie doll lies naked and abandoned at the bottom of the old toy chest. Nevertheless, there was a minute of silence in our house vesterday when Take That announced that they were to part.

The music of Manchester band orchestrated the adolescence of my 15ear-old daughter. Their songs were as much a part of the soundtrack of her progression from the slamming of doors and the stamp ing of her first pair of Doc Martens.

And though we al were never really serious musical rivals to the Beatles, they bearts of my daughimportant as John Paul, George and

Ringo were to mine. night the Designer's Guild wallpaper in her bedroom was lost behind a mass of posters cut from Smash Hits and fortnight she and her best friend had changed their names to Mrs Mark Owen and Mrs Robbie Williams. Within a month her love was carved in stone. Well, actually "I love Robbie" was etched into her wooden

For nearly three years she worshipped Take That and for those years her bedroom remained their shrine. Life, existing between concerts. television appearances and record releases (such was her devotion that she even bought every recording on CD, although she didn't have a player).

My own memories of the

Jane Gordon explains why it was always safe to have a band of lusty boys in the bedroom

Take That that's that, at last band are very nearly as affectionate, and perhaps rather less embarrassing. picking her up from a concert in the summer of 1994 when she was just 13 - and asking her how it had been.

"It was very, er, rude," came her cautious reply, "In They, well, er, simulated

"What with?" I gulped: "The floor," she replied. Like a great many other was actually quite grateful minute sequence in which boys made simulated love to parquet floor, Fantasy, I decided was infinitely prefhad begun to discover as they grew up and out of Take

Indeed, boy bands have, for generations, performed an important function in the life of the pubescent girl. Looking back through the annals of pop music there is for every wave of teenage girls a band made to match them - from the Beatles to the Bay City Rollers and of safe sex. A gentle, occasionally shockdisturbing introduction to the mating game.

The fact that my own daughter has from such things divorced herself, as it were from Robbie of the band breaking sands of girls. Because now I have o concern myself the not too distant alities. Now I have to cope with the fact that the boys she likes are flesh and blood and not posters torn from

It seems rather ironic that the band's last single is entitled How Deep is your Love? because 18 months ago my daughter would have said that her love for Take all those years ago when, in fact, it was actually a rather shallow kind of love. But a love, nevertheless, that will mania is to me now. Take That will always be the first notch in her bedhead, how ever much she might now

like to erase that "I love

Robbie carving

DEBENHAMS Cookware event Plus offers on other famous brands like Meyer, Tefal and Prestige. From now until 24 February

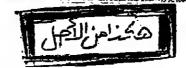

We're talking about the most economical van you can buy. The very latest Daihatsu Hijet with its new diesel engine. At 3p a mile less to run than even its nearest rival, it'll save you £1,800 over 60,000 miles. Add that to its already class beating payload, cargo capacity and turning circle and you'll see why the Hijet has been What Van's "Best Microvan" three years running.

ERENCE IS

Services, FREEPOST 50	d this coupon to Daihatsu Info 16. Sandwich, Kent CT13 98R.
ADDRESS.	C1472
	POSTCODE	5
TÉL	TICK IF UNDER 18 []	Į.
CURRENT VEHICLE	The state of the s	4
MODEL	YEAR

THE DAIHATSU HIJET

16

If the fatwa has failed, admit it

Salman Rushdie calls on EU

leaders to force Iran's hand

even years ago, the Govo suppress a novel and to silence its author. Medieval religious concepts (heresy, apostasy, "unclean blood") were invoked, but the means of their propagation and proposed enforcement — global communications, international terrorism - were anything but medieval. The attack upon The Satanic Verses was sophisticated, original, ruthless and sustained. And it failed. The anathemaosed novel, the book that was to be erased from history, is freely available in 20 languages. Defended with great courage and high principle by booksellers and publishers, and by thousands of individuals and organisations who joined in a determined defence campaign. The Satanic Verses has survived, to make the long jour-ney home from the world of scandal to the world of books.

It has been defended, too. by hundreds of Muslim intellectuals, and by Muslim readers in many countries. It is being taught, I hear, in Damascus. The quiet voices of those who have liked this fiction are replacing the angry noises of those who loathed it, often (but not only) on the basis of hearsay alone. As to the author in question, he has continued to publish, and to speak his mind: so we may at least agree that he has not been silenced.

I have tried, too, shadows to which I was, for a time, confined. To lomat in London, "speaking go on writing and to live more openly are my ways of showing that I have not been intimidated. Some commentators have criticised me for nobody to kill me, so I could being seen in oublic; let them consider the "message" that would be sent by my remaining invisible. Do we really want to tell the world that fatwas work?

In recent months I have travelled to a dozen countries (at no expense, may I say, to the British taxpayer), and have found, among readers, booksellers, even journalists, an atmosphere of wary celebration. And there is something for us warily to celebrate. The blunting of the threat, the frustration of the fatwa's prime purposes, has not been achieved by the intervention of states or statesmen. It is something we have done together: we, the readers, the informal international freemasonry of book-loving folk, with our secret handshakes, our hidden networks, our occult practices; with our stubborn, bloody-minded, bespectacled.

ink-stained will. is it not regrettable, when the powerless have done so much, that the possessors of real power have achieved so little? For the fatwa has not been cancelled: an Iranian envoy to Norway recently re-stated it. Iran's rulers continue to contend that they can do nothing about either the edict or the obscene financial reward for its fulfilment. Even the EU's minimum-terms dement guaranteeing not to carry our the fatwa, and to desist from encouraging others

This latest European initiaove began a year ago, during the French presidency of the EU, after I met M Chirac and M Juppé. We agreed that the agreement would not be an alternative to cancelling the fatwa, but would be seen as a step towards it; that if such an agreement were secured there would follow a long monitoring period, during which Iran would be on probadon; that Iran would receive no rewards for agreeing, so to speak, to behave normally; and that if Iran were to refuse to sign, so effectively refusing to renoun-ce the possibility of terrorist action against EU citizens. there would be "diplomatic and economic consequences". In Paris last June, after leading everyone, including the French, to believe that the deal was done. Iran refused to sign. Under the Spanish presidency, the matter was pursued without success at meetings in New York and Madrid. A proposed exchange of letters came to nothing. The present Italian presidency of the EU has is-sued a statement declaring the fatwa "nuli and void", but that is a unilateral declaration. As for the threatened "diplomatic and economic consequences". there is, perhaps predictably, no sign of them.

True, the Iran-

issue is

The EU ians have repea-tedly said that the fatwa "over".

should swiftly fulfil its promise named Iranian dipwith the full authority of the Rafsanjani Government", was quoted as giving me an "assurance" that Iran would send resume a normal life".

In the past nine months. such statements have been made by President Rafsanjani. Foreign Minister Velayati and the Speaker of the Majlis (and probable next president) Nateq-Nouri. It is a welcome change of tune. But the refusal to bring this long world crisis to a formal, signed and sealed conclusion must make us deeply sceptical about the singers' credibility.

The crux of the matter is not, finally, whether i am able to "resume a normal life". It is that the State of Iran, in an edict issued by its Head of State and repeatedly endorsed by its entire leadership, embarked on a course of censorship by state terrorism, whose targets were the free peoples other nations. That was a grave and criminal endeavour. And the fatwa, let us remember, has been implemented. Professor Hitoshi Igarashi, the Japanese translator of The Satanic Verses, was murdered. Dr Ettore Capriolo, the Italian translator, was assaulted, and William Nygaard, the novel's Norwegian publisher, was shot. Happily, both recovered. The EU has solemnly undertaken to resolve this problem. I call upon it to do so with extreme urgency. What we, as citizens, could do to stand up for freedom and against intimidation, we have done. After seven years, it is time for our leaders to follow our lead.

When big is ugly

There was no bomb. There was no horror. There was no so-called ceasefire collapse. There was no sudden coming together of London and Dublin. There were no platitudes from Washington and no policemen on London's streets, toting weapons, boasting "enhanced security" and frightening tourists. There was silence. There was nothing.

Sometimes I believe we should "solved". "ancient history", a pretend not to know of an outrage. "dead letter". Last Without knowledge, there can be no terror. A bomb would be a random incident, affecting only its immediate victims. Not until a blast ignites the gas of publicity is there a holocaust. It is the holocaust that devastates and > demoralises nacions. In Northern Ireland this week, as last, people went about their business. They worked and played, they learned and taught, they shopped and travelled. They were sad about the London bomb, marched for peace and balanced clouds and silver linings. as Ulster people have always done. Catholics conversed with Protestants. They worked together building hospitals, mending roads, running buses, fixing street lights. Republican and Unionist, Sinn Fein and loyalist, Derry and Belfast city councils bartered such power as direct rule permits them, almost as if nothing had happened. They respected the fact of all divided societies, that violence is never far beneath the surface and the best way to handle it and self-discipline. Just over two years years ago, the Downing Street declaration pro-claimed something called the Peace Process. This was followed by the ceasefire, the third since the current round of troubles began. Such was the euphoria that any scepticism was denounced as bad form. A new dawn had arrived. Gerry Adams had gentrified Europe's most primitive political entity, the Provisional IRA. Al Capone had taken up morris-dancing and sent his son to Eton. John Major's style of diplomacy, that of passionate compromise, deserved the highest award in British politics, the benefit of the doubt.

is through communal responsibility

Last Friday I joined many in feeling sorry for Mr Major. We had known that the time for a sort of ceasefire had arrived, that the IRA needed to pause and regroup. Mr Adams's generation of IRA leaders was now ageing and wanted to see their children respectably through IRA bombs can't block reconciliation in Ulster if London ignores them college. But Mr Major had shown a new commitment to cleansing this darkest blot in Britain's modern history. In August 1994, he won the province a respite. Last week's bomb appeared to blow it away, and with it Mr Major's most obvious chance for glory. The man deserved sympathy. Yet a gulf divided intention and implementation. At the time of the 1993 declaration, sceptics pointed out that there was never any way of some all-Ulster constitution marrying the IRA's historic demand for a united Ireland with the Unionist insistence on the Union. British direct rule had London. Dublin and Washington. been sustained only by stripping the Unionist majority of all power over the nationalist minority. British troops could uphold the Union, but the price was that Unionists could never again enjoy ascendancy over nationalists.

Each search for a settlement has implied some qualification of that understanding. All "talks about talks" have presaged the replacement of direct rule by some new assembly. They have implied some devolved Northern Ireland administration in which, by virtue of its majority, the Unionist interest would inevitably predominate. This prospect has kept Unionism sweet over years of apparent British concessions to the IRA. Yet whatever new administration is agreeable to the Unionists cannot be agreeable at least to the IRA. The latter does not recognise Northern Ireland, and certainly would not re-cognise an executive with a Unionist majority, whatever its checks and balances. This latest Peace Process had one day to confront this, as had all the others. Mr Adams might sit down with lan Paisley and his friends, but as soon as one side started talking, the other would walk out. The circle cannot be squared. This always discredited the route sought by Mr Major, not to mention the Irish leader John Bruton, President Clinton, the Westminster Parlia-ment, Northern Ireland politicians, the media and assorted pundits. They have danced down this latest Yellow Brick Road, but with no sense of direction. Sooner or later they were bound to find that the Wizard of Oz was not to be trusted. Everybody cries, "We must get all parties talking round the table". But about what? Peace? The only IRA peace is in a united Ireland.

Over a quarter century of blood-shed, the most talented minds in the kingdom have tried every conceivable route to involve the IRA in a Northern Ireland settlement. It is hopeless. For two years, clouds of optimistic hot air have risen over

> The cloud enveloped even the down Mr Adams, whose demise was signed by his jetting to the White House and the lionising of him by New York high society. All politi-cians have their backwoodsmen, but none has them like

Mr Adams. Each champagne cork that popped over the Peace Process sent a grun echo through the glens of Armagh and the backstreets of Ardoyne. I do not say that Friday's bomb was Bill Clinton's doing, but less charitable observers might.

The IRA has never been what the Peace Process requires it to be, a liberation movement that negotiates settlements. and hands over weapons to its enemies. It is an ancestral mafia of tight-knit families obsessed with a united Ireland. Its methods are those of Irish rebels and bandits down the ages, instilling anarchy through atrocity and making Ireland ungovernable. Mr Adams might tire of the struggle and seek legitimacy through the ballot and the club-class lounge. But there are always sons and nephews waiting in back alleys. When on January 30 a leader of the INLA splinter group was gunned down in Belfast, a shudder must have passed through Mr Adams. It was time to go home.

Every route to a settlement has been tried, bur one. The logic of the failure of formal negotiation involv-ing the IRA is not to revive it. It is to do everything to marginalise this organisation, to disregard it and its outrages. I wrote last week (before the bomb) that there were now two distinct Ulster peace processes in train. One is the international one that will doubtless stagger on through next week's Anglo-Irish summit, but which gave unsustain-able status to the IRA. The other is quite distinct. It is the "process of peace" on the ground in Northern Ireland. It involves the steady recovery by the province of its economic and political self-confidence. Unlike the Peace Process, this is real.

This progress could be jeopardised by Priday's bomb, but only if fools decide so. Northern Ireland's return to progressive descent and the peace the peace of the pea to normality depends not just on the IRA; but on the authorities refusing reinstating grim security measures measures which do little to improve security, but demoralise the public and disrupt daily life. It means refu-sing to treat a bombing or shooting as a "breakdown in the Peace Process", and treating it rather as the paranoid twitchings of a fanatical gang. Most of all it means strengthening those aspects of politics in Northern Ireland which are aimed at precisely the goals the formal Peace Process purports to seek: devolved local democracy but at a lower level than that of the province as a whole. In 1994, as in 1992 and often before, the Government rejected the option of building up the province's emerging democratic activity via the new dis-trict councils and (possibly) restored county ones. It rejected the chance of building on the cross-community elected institutions that already exist-ed. This was reckless. What else has all the international diplomacy been about but finding a way of getting Protestant and Catholic to share in the running of local hospitals, parks and housing estates? That is what hundreds of local councillors are doing already.

I believe this route was not taken because it was not a "big solution". It relied on democratic responsibility growing from the bottom up. To Westminster and the world outside. Northern Ireland was suffering from too glamorous a disease for such lowtech surgery. It demanded massive intervention, complex, telegenic, cos-mopolitan. Mr Major's Peace Process was the culmination of decades of lrish history. It proved too big for what should have been more modest

Scott, Whitehall and us

Sir Humphrey is doomed, says

Sue Cameron

ministerial heads rolling in the dust this week could be the impact of Sir Richard Scott's findings on the machinery of govern-ment itself. The signs are that Whitehall may be about to sustain a bigger shock than any since the great Northcote-Trevelyan reforms of the 1850s, which ended jobbery and corruption in the Civil Service. The real issue Scott raises is not who knew what and when. It is whether civil servants have an allegiance to the public interest beyond their duty to ministers. The inquiry has found disturbing indications that the proper relationship between civil servants and ministers has become blurred. There is uncertainty about when officials can and should say no to ministers.

The difficulties of mounting a robust defence of Whitehall's methods were illustrated by a chance remark by Sir Robin Butler, the Cabinet Secretary. As he gave evidence to the inquiry two years ago, he found himself trying to draw a distinction between "accountability" and "responsibility" to Parliament. So great were the difficulties of definition that at one point he had to acknowledge defeat. "We just do not have a blame-free word." he

The admission was worthy of Sir Humphrey himself. Yet Humphrey's richly comic sophistry can strike a sour note when it is echoed in real life - as it was all too often during the Scott hearings. The inquiry was told that "the truth is a difficult concept", that parliamentary answers were an "art form, not a means of Tow the risk is that civil servants will be regarded less as people of goodwill serving the public interest from above the political fray, and more as mercenaries who can be put into the front line of the political battle. The Scott report is expected to tell the tale of a Rolls-Royce administrative machine that seized up. It is likely to expose weaknesses in Whitehall comimmications, a lack of co-ordination across departments and an obsession with secrecy that led senior mandarins to shroud facts from each other

N 1 2 7 8 8 1 8

a me longer

हिन्द्र है। संदर्भ प्रदेश

 $= \mathbb{Z}_{p^{\prime}} \in \mathbb{Z}_{q^{\prime}}$

المارية والمنافعة المناوية . وقد والمنافعة المناوية . والمنا

The second of the Transfer

and the second

لينه بالأرادي

1

let alone the outside world. The Scott findings come while the Civil Service is still adjusting to a breakneck programme of reform which split the old monolithic Whitehall into more than a hundred semiautonomous agencies. The report will be a watershed — even if it exonerates all the officials of bad faith. It is not so much the revelations about Whitehall's semantic games or its failure to tell Commons committees the whole truth that has caused dismay. Many officials certainly regard such conduct as par for the course. But the prosecution of three businessmen for doing something that some people within the government machine knew about and approved has shamed even insiders.

hatever the detailed find-ings about the role of indi-viduals, Sir Richard Scott's report will leave the Civil Service with a blemished reputation. Changes in the structure, the rules and the very ethos of the Civil Service add up to the death of Sir Humphrey's Whitehall. Sir Humphrey was mendacious, Machiavellian and ruthless. Yet he was held in affection because although he did not always get things right, he always believed he was acting in the public interest. He would have found a way to say no to any minister who tried to flout that interest. He would have warned of the embarrassment if word ever got out. He would have manipulated other politicians to put pressure on his own minister. If all else failed, he would have threatened to record his formal disagreement with his minis-ter — as real-life civil servants, including Lord Armstrong, have done in the past. The changes in Whitehall have been brought about partly by a shift in the political climate that is putting greater strains on the loyalty of civil servants—and which is certainly not their fault. It is hard indeed for officials to draft speeches or parliamentary answers or press releases for ministers without.

One of the results of the Scott report will surely be reforms which clarify the mutual responsibilities of civil servants and ministers. There must also be changes in the rules that call for blanket secrecy to cover all advice from civil servants to ministers. Yet such moves could make ministers and civil servants more wary of each other. Politicians might decide it would be more comfortable to have committed outsiders in key advisory posts.

The British public is still old-fashioned enough to expect its offici-als to be honourable. Yet in the welter of self-justification, denial and early retaliation, not one of the leading figures has stepped forward to apologise. Neither ministers nor Whitehall will openly express regret for an episode which even a former mandarin such as Sir Charles Powell has called "a shambles". The public will comes the curse of Tatler. The society creatures who decorate its social column, "Bystander", enjoy a marriage failure rate which is considerably worse than the national average. Half of the sparkling couples who pose for the glossy end up divorcing. Among those who have floundered in the Tatler theme park are the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Aga Khan and the Begum Aga Khan. as well as Mick and Bianca Jagger.

The author's film about the impact of Scott on Whitehall will be shown on Newsnight tonight on BBC2

Short courtships and engagements are the hallmarks of these champagne-swillers, says the magazine's social editor, Ewa Lewis. The column features people like the Earl of Lichfield, Lulu de la Falaise and Lady Leonora Grosvenor. They are people who live in the fast lane and have high expectations of life that constantly fall short," she says. "They tend to be glamorous and good looking and therefore have larger choices in life." Poor darlings.

Don't cry HE MAY HAVE caused diplomat-ing broker. Rushdie recently mer Argentina's Foreign Minister in Buenos Aires. He put his case for freedom of speech, and conversation turned to Madonna and the protests she had encountered in Argentina after news of her movie role hit the streets. After hearing Rushdie out, the Minister got on the blower to the Ministry of the Interior and demanded that Argentinian police be deployed to ensure that the film, directed by Alan Parker, could proceed unhindered.

TIMES

"I wouldn't say it was all down to the meeting," says a diplomatic source, "but it was a well-timed conversation at a senior level.

• The mother of the convicted insurance fraudster Darius Guppy has burst into song to celebrate his release. Shusha Guppy is launching a compact disc and has included two Bob Dylan songs - but not the number Absolutely Sweet

Fan dance

IOHN MAJOR'S reputation as a peace broker is undiminished, despite the IRA outrage in London's Docklands last Friday. The Prime Minister's office has been besieged by Take That fans who want him to intervene and bring members of the pop group, which announced vesterday that it was splitting up, to the negotiating table.

Shusha Guppy: Darius's

The Take That fan club got through by telephone to Major's private office yesterday but to no avail. It was gently explained that although he was a powerful man this was a national tragedy in which he could not intercede.

Whippy lash

WILLIAM WALDEGRAVE has suffered the final indignity. With the Scott report just hours away, he was approached in front of TV cameras the other day for help in the exportation to Iraq of a tank converted into an ice-cream van. Waldegrave was approached for a Channel 4 television show by the comedian Mark Thomas, who parked an armour-plated "Mr Whippy" tank adorned with icecream cones outside his home. Thornas asked how he could ship it to a friend in the ice-cream business in Iraq. The Treasury Minister was not amused. "This is a very stupid stunt," he snapped.

Not cricket

THE LESS salubrious menswear shops have for many years been selling MCC ties with the famous red and yellow stripes to non-members, strictly against the rules. But no longer. The glob has made an from my stalker

application to the Trade Marks Registry to register its egg and bacon colours. Colonel Stevenson, a former MCC Secretary of 15 years standing, says that sales of ties and braces to non-members is an old problem. "At the authorised shops. MCC membership cards must be shown before purchase," he says. Not everybody likes the distinctive colour scheme, however. "The Duke of Edinburgh once said they were 'bloody awful colours'."

draw its own conclusions.

EUROMYTHS TWO

Single market and single currency: another Brussels fallacy

To judge by his dismissal of the European Commission economist, Bernard Connolly, for the crime of talking sense about monetary union, Jacques Santer does not much like the truth. The kindest interpretation of the myth about Europe which the President of the European Commission has made his rallying cry is that he is tolerant of economic lunacy, provided it serves a political purpose. The myth is this that the European single market is in danger of destruction if the euro is not introduced in January 1999 as planned. Does Europe face a choice-between a single currency or the single market, able to have both or neither?

if the answer were yes, it would be a powerful, if rather negative argument for EMU. Mr Santer hopes that it will be powerful enough to sustain the French and ther struggling countries through their mnecessary and damaging martyrdom to ne religion of EMU. However, the case he takes is improbable in the extreme and the pposite may well be more accurate. The rgument rests on the following logic. If in a ngle market, nations can lower their costs y "competitive devaluation" of their curencies, they will. Other states will counter his by restoring the non-tariff barriers and parright tariffs that the 1992 process swept way. Ergo, the single market would be eroded if not eliminated. The euro would make such currency tactics impossible and hence preserve free and open trade.

The emergence of Mr Santer's argument at this stage is rather curious. When the single market enterprise was launched in the mid 1980s the Commission was notably silent on the implications it might have for exchange rates. Indeed, of the numerous debilitating trade barriers that the 1992 reforms would tackle, none of the published offenders included the transaction costs of maintaining separate currencies. All the various Delors reports on EMU postdated the Single European Act. Today's emphasis on a link between the two seems somewhat. convenient, not to say impromptu.

There are a number of difficulties with the Santer analysis. At a technical level it is far from clear that the exit of the pound and lira-

from the ERM, or the devaluations of the peseta and escudo within the system, can be described as "competitive" in the predatory sense. Indeed, the devaluations of all these currencies were actively demanded by the Bundesbank. These currencies were all substantially overvalued inside the ERM and free floating or devaluation restored them to a position judged more appropriate not only by the markets, but also by their national governments and even the Bundesbank.

There is another even more fundamental inconsistency in the Commission's case. According to its own officially sanctioned evaluation of the impact of monetary union - One Market, One Money - competitive devaluations cannot succeed. All they produce is inflation. How the single market could be imperilled by states adopting a strategy that the Commission believes to be ineffective is thus a mystery. Indeed it is absolutely central to the logic of a single currency that countries cannot engineer prosperity by debasing their coinage. If they could, why would they sacrifice that option by losing control over their exchange rate?

As Sir Leon Brittan, the Commissioner with the greatest responsibility for free trade, and commitment to it, has stated, the single market is a separate matter from any proposed European currency. The single market is enshrined in laws and agreements, ranging from the Single European Act to the Gatt treaty, which are not only legally enforceable, but seen to be mutually beneficial by all the main European states. As a political proposition, it beggars belief that a great trading nation such as Germany would want to deny its exporters the benefits of a single market out of pique at the failure

To link the single market with the single currency in the manner of Mr Santer is thus politically unrealistic, as well as intellectually dishonest. The question of whether to introduce the euro should be considered on its merits, which include the very real issues of its economic costs. To raise the mythical prospect that internal commerce will collapse unless the euro prevails does nothing but confuse the real arguments.

SEVEN YEARS ON

Salman Rushdie still lives under sentence of death

Seven years have passed since the word ... wrote; securing the comradeship of those "fatwa", then in hesitant italies, entered who read books and allowing that bond to everyday English. Seven years to the day, as strengthen his resolve. the target of that fatwa writes on the page opposite, "the Government of Iran set out to Last Sigh, his latest novel, a book that is for Sever years on, Salman Rushdie still lives under sentence of death.

February 14, 1989, the late Ayatollah Khomeini, then Iran's undisputed spiritual and political leader, decreed that Mr Rushdie should die for the "blasphemy" published in The Satanic Verses. The avatollah, flouting all norms of international law and civilisation, urged "brave Muslims" to "quickly kill" Mr Rushdie and all those involved in the publication of the novel.

to date, the Japanese translator of The Satonic Verses has been killed, the Italian translator brutally assaulted and its Norwegian publisher shot. Mr Rushdie, as the whole world now knows so well, has had to live a life of no fixed address, protected round the clock, guarding against the death which the ayatollah had decreed.

But Mr Rushdie has continued to write, and to express his bravery through his books. How easy it would have been - and how understandable - to let the ink run dry. to unplug the word-processor, to twist writing-paper into anguished balls, to let fear scorch his mind and his imagination. Mr Rushdie did not do that Instead, he

From that resolve was born The Moor's poress a novel and to silence its writer", many of us his finest creation yet. It should we believe, have won last year's Booker Prize: not, as we pointed out at the time, for its having been written in conditions that make the air chill, but for his creation of a never-before-seen world.

"Here I stand. Couldn't have done it differently," says Moraes Zogoiby, the book's narrator. Yet the European Union, yesterday, should have done it very differently indeed. The EU's Italian presidency. in a statement to mark the seventh year of the fatwa, appeared to reject calls for firmer action against Iran, preferring instead to pursue a "critical dialogue". "The EU renews its demand that Iran abide by international law and calls upon the Iranian authorities to join the EU's efforts to obtain a satisfactory solution in respect of Salman Rushdie." The demand could not have been more vague, nor more mealy-mouthed.

Iran must declare the fatwa null and void: nothing less will do. In Mr Rushdie's own words, the crisis has to be brought to "a formal, signed and sealed conclusion". Iran is today a pariah state. The West must not permit it to lose its stigma by stealth or quick fix. Only by rescinding the fatwa can it re-enter the civilised fold.

CHURCH FOR THE TIMES

Rock of Ages cleft for me, are you becoming too PC?

When Henry the Eighth brought the Church of England into existence to put a woman in her place he can never have imagined that her successors would one day be in charge. As we report on the front page today, a survey of the Synod shows that a majority of the House of Laity is now made up of women, and pretty progressive ones at that. This may not come as a surprise in the bishop's palace in Barchester, where Mrs Proudie has always worn the gaiters, but how many churchgoers will be entirely happy with a body originally built to embody eternal truth moving so modishly And the second lines. with the times?

Statistics in a survey can never give us a full picture of the established Church, its real nature as rich and complex as the embroidery on the vestments of a Puseyite prebendary. But the figures on the page of his study tell us much about the figures who run the Church of England, and how much they have changed since Cosmo Cantuar.

The removal of the barrier from pew to pulpit for the female sex has gone hand in hand with a broader ferninisation of the Cof.. E. There have always been powerful women in the English church, from the mysticlulian of Norwich through its stalwart Ill bo recognisable rectors and bishops wives drawn by the Trollopes. Joanna and Anthony. But even Mrs Proudie at her most Assertive might have shuddered at the thought of an inclusive liturgy which avoids. that has its roots in the past but today takes mought of an inclusive heargy which avoids that has the Times.
references to God as Father; lesbian clergy; its cue from The Times.

administering the sacraments and the most prominent priest in popular culture being played by Dawn French.

The regiment of women may have been monstrous to a good Presbyterian like John Knox. It may be more in tune with the spirit of the age than the ageless design of the Holy Spirit. But the synod survey suggests that even those parts of the church which are male monopolies cannot be relied upon to uphold ancient wisdom. The House of Bishops, the only section of the synod still all-male, harbours two members who believe the church should not speak out on adultery. Do they think God got it wrong or are ten commandments too many?

Perhaps the Bishops' reluctance to take a tough line on sin stems from ignorance of its prevalence. No bishop admitted to taking a tabloid newspaper. Given how many of them, and their clergy, appear in The News of the World, it seems an unpardonable

Elevated origins are no excuse. The proportion educated at public school or Oxbridge is in decline. Figures such as the formidably intellectual Old Etonian and Cambridge scientist John Habgood, lately Archbishop of York, will soon be as much an anachronism as the fox-hunting parsons of Surfees. There is, however, a glimmer of hope that enlightment will not elude the men in mitres. Their preferred paper is this one. Perhaps it is no bad thing to have a Church

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

1 Pennington Street, London El 9XN Telephone 0171-782 5000

Fresh pursuit of a lasting peace in Northern Ireland

From Mr H. R. Mcliveen

Sir. Lord Rees-Mogg ("Isle of Dogs may be the IRA's Waterloo", February 12) stripped away much Irish mist when he reminded us that the IRA has lost its way...

In 25 years former "Stormont rule" anomalies and alleged injustices have been put right. The credit for this lies with Westminster. The peace process, which the Prime Minister and his Irish counterpart have made plain they will continue to pursue (reports and leading article, February 13), has the support of all factions in Ulster. Cross-border relations with Dublin have improved steadily at pragmatic, if not always political levels. The timely visit of President Clinton in November inevitably added an international dimension to the search for progress and settlement. The democratic process now envisaged must fully involve the Ulster people. The majority of silent and lawabiding citizens would, by means of elections, be able to return their cho-sen representatives in proportion to their mandate. With only a small vote, Sinn Fein is likely to move to the bottom of the table. That is democracy: it does not fit the power game in which Mr Adams has seen himself as a key

In those 25 years Ireland, too, has moved on. Lord Rees-Mogg understands this when he refers to the urban modernism of the new Ireland; do the politicians, North and South?

The historical Celtic crusade against the occupying English is playing itself out. Modern Ireland cannot afford to nurture old griefs forever. and the shape of its changing society reflects this.

Should an all-Ireland settlement ever be achieved it will be by consensus and democratic progress. The IRA has no place in such a state: that is its Yours etc. HUGH McLLVEEN. Wood House, Whichford. Shipston-on-Stour, Warwickshire, February 13.

From Mr P. C. Beaver

From Mr Ion Josephs

to the tune of E20 billion".

Sir, William Rees Mogg's article did not touch on the forgotten or Ignored aim of the IRA, which has not chang-ed: the formation of a socialist republican state. The aims and politics of

Heseltine and debts

Sir, A heading on Libby Purves's arti-

tine is wrong to defend late payers who are indebted to small businesses

Michael Heseltine, my former partner, was actually defending small businesses against big business creditors pressing them for payment by explaining to the Forum of Private Business various ways of avoiding bank-ruptcy (report, February 5). He cer-tainly never endorsed large companies holding up payments to smaller ones, nor I am sure did he ever do so once he had himself got into the big

Plenty of lodgers owed money to Michael and me in our early days, but we never threw anybody out into the street. Should we have evicted people

Libby Purves suggests that small businesses should pass the risk to the "poor old bank". The banks are responsible for far more liquidations than the likes of Michael Heseltine and myself. If it looks risky they pull the plug and down the small fry go unless they find a way of keeping other creditors waiting a little longer. Nearly every small business runs into trouble at some time in its early years and has to choose either liquidation or to keep creditors waiting for payment. Which option should be

The Regency School of English, Royal Crescent, Ramsgate, Kent.

From Mr Patrick Nicholls, MP for

Sir, Libby Purves ("Governing ambiguities", February 13) trots out the tir-ed old canard that ministers signed public interest immunity (PH) certificates that "could have led to the conviction" of the innocent. The truth is Pils do not prevent the trial judge

seeing the documents: they simply reserve to him the ultimate decision about whether they are revealed or

That is exactly what happened in the Matrix Churchill trial and the defendants were duly acquitted. In short, the law operated as it was sup-

Letters for publication should carry regret that we cannot accept

Business letters, page 29

Teignbridge (Conservative)

Yours faithfully.

IAN JOSEPHS

February S.

(Chief Executive)

Scott inquiry

quite different.

posed to.

Yours faithfully.

February 13.

PATRICK NICHOLLS.

House of Commons.

just to pay our creditors on time?

such a state are dictated by the IRA, not Sinn Fein, which is merely a weak political shell.

The IRA knows perfectly well that political victory for Sinn Fein, in elec-tions in the North, South, or a united Ireland, is unlikely in the foreseeable future. After so many years of sus-tained violence few are likely to vote

The IRA wants a united Ireland of its choice and will use Sinn Fein as its political engine, provided it can be relied upon to toe the time. As a former serving officer in Northern Ireland for 32 years I believe the Docklands bombing was a deliberate reminder. not a blunder as Rees-Mogg says.

Gerry Adams, on the other hand, has changed. He seems to believe that a united Ireland is within sight and to understand that it can be achieved only with Unionist consent. Within a politically weak organisation he is probably the only one with whom the Government or the Unionists can discuss the way ahead. He can apparently make no promises on the future be-haviour of the IRA. If he condemns violence he is finished with the IRA: if he doesn't he is probably finished with the Government and the Unionists.

The real problem for the British and Irish governments remains the IRA. Yours faithfully

PHILIP BEAVER. The Malt House, Poulton, Cirencester, Gloucestershire.

From Mrs Deirdre Rowe

Sir, No one in Northern Ireland has been untouched by the violence, only the degree differs. Quite often in life it's the "average" voice that is least

My family and I fall into this category. We are non-political Catholics, some of whom are still living in Andersonstown. In 1979 my father, on his sixty-ninth birthday, was murdered by the INLA for reporting a hijack-

For seventeen years we've been living in silence and grief, but there are many people like us. We don't want vengeance or justice: we just want peace. That means talks, uncondition-O/ talks.

I appeal to Mr Major to let the IRA keep their weapons till they rot; they're only symbolic and they can be replaced. The "four green fields" of the old Irish song aren't worth one life, and neither is an election. I don't speak for the minority; I think I speak for a quiet majority. Yours truly.

DEIRDRE ROWE. Chalet Tarentaise. Le Pre. Villaroger, 73640 Ste Foy Tarentaise, France. February 13.

From Mr N. J. Mustoe

Sir, There is not much good that can be said of the IRA, but one has to admire their propaganda. After their killing of several thousand people and causing millions of pounds of damage bere and in Ulster, after their having made no concessions towards a political solution or recognised the hatred they have generated in the majority community, honest people are still blaming the problems on the Ulster

The Unionisis have steadfastly con-demned the activities of the IRA and the so-called loyalist paramilitaries. They have agreed to talk to the men who have slaughtered so many members of their community, provided they promise not to do so in future.

Anyone who asks the Unionists to do more is asking them to surrender

Yours faithfully JOHN MUSTOE. Blackthorn Cottage, 20 Cross End, Thurleigh, Bedfordshire.

From Mr Lucas Mellinger

Sir, Sir David Mitchell, MP, asks (letier. February 12), "Do the IRA . . . ever want the peace process to move forward?" I would go further: "Can the IRA make peace?" The inevitable answer is that they cannot.

They cannot destroy their roison d'etre; cannot, in their conscience, abandon their fathers' commitment; cannot, in their eyes, betray the martyrs who have died for the only cause

Decommissioning their arms, in their psychology, would imply decom-missioning their integrity.

Yours faithfully. LUCAS MELLINGER, 9 Mortlake Terrace, Kew Green, Richmond, Surrey. February 13.

Balance of sexes in MPs' selection

From Mr Paul Nicholls

Sir, Now that the Labour Party has decided (rightly in my view) not to ap-peal against the industrial tribunal decision declaring all-women shortlists unlawful (report, January 9) there is a presumption that the Sex Discrimination Act 1975 and Race Relations Act 1976 do apply to the selection process for political parties. This will remain the case unless there is a future selection challenge that results in an appeal to the higher courts. Whilst there may be be some disappointment at the loss of the "positive action" mechanism for redressing the balance of the sexes, the long-term implications of the application of dis-crimination legislation to candidate selection in all political parties gives ground for hope for future change.

fective steps to ensure compliance with equality law when choosing can-

All the political parties are going to have to conduct a thorough review of their selection processes to ensure that they do not infringe discrimination legislation. They will need to take efdidates if they are not to be held liable for unlawful questions posed during the selection process. Effective guidance is going to have to be given to deter the perennial,

"Will your wife be helping you in the campaign?" (or vice-versa), or similar stions loaded in favour of male, or indeed female, candidates. Selection panels will need to be reminded of their equal-opportunity responsibilities. Any process that has a disproportionate impact is indirectly discriminatory. Indirect discrimination (unlike direct) can be lawful but only if it is justifiable in all the circumstances. It will be interesting to hear the Justification argument.

In the long term the successful Keighley tribunal challenge should lead to real progress in achieving equality in Parliament.

Yours faithfully, PAUL NICHOLLS, Dibb Lupton Broomhead Isolicitors). Carlion House, t8 Albert Square, Manchester 2. February 5.

Holocaust accounts

From Professor Alan Thompson

Sir, The statement by the Swiss Bankers Association ("Swiss in clash over Holocaust assets", February 8) that the amount of cash in dormant accounts belonging to Holocaust victims is only £21 million surely merits further investigation.

While I was in the Commons I was involved in some of the work of the Association of Nazi War Camp Survivors and of the Wiener Library. Although I have no knowledge of the overall sum involved, my impression of the scale and injustice of the tragic and deeply disturbing cases which came to my attention leads me to believe that this sum could be a considerable under-estimate. It is certainly a maner which deserves some form of international consultations under the aegis of the Swiss Government.

Although this is not normal banking practice, this is not a normal situation. Given the unique nature of the unspeakable atrocities which gave rise to these dorman accounts it would be surely appropriate for the Swiss authorities to cooperate.

Yours faithfully. ALAN THOMPSON (Labour MP for Dunfermline Burghs. 1959-64). 11 Upper Gray Street, Edinburgh 9. February 8.

Beating the weather From Sir Ion Morrow

Sir, During the recent severe weather the National Grid issued a warning (report, January 31; see also letters. February 9) that it might run out of generating capacity, caused in part by the fact that some gas-fired stations were closed through tack of fuel from British Gas because the contracts were interruptible at British Gas's op-

It seems irresponsible to include in "available capacity" plants that can be closed legitimately by an outside

Power, communications and transport are three services that must never fail through lack of capacity, whatever the weather; otherwise the country faces a repeat of the three-day week chaos of 1972, with devastating economic consequences.

contact telephone numbers. We Yours truly, IAN MORROW, letters by telephone but they may be sent by fax to 0171-782 5046. 2 Albert Terrace Mews, NWI.

Wolves in the wild From Mr Leslie J. Hathaway

Sir, Mr Roger Panaman (letter, February 2) and Mr John Gudgeon (February 7) may be interested to know that wolves bave indeed been known to roam in Church Street, Kidlington. From 1931 until 1937 Gosford Hill Farm, Kidlington, was the site of the Oxford Zoological Gardens. In 1937. as the zoo was closing down, a few wolves escaped. They made their way through Church Street to open fields

For a few days this caused havoc and anxiety to local farmers and villagers, who were warned to be on their guard. Several sheep and their lambs

Unfortunately at least two alsatian dogs were mistakenly shot before the wolves were tracked down and shot, Yours sincerely,

L. J. HATHAWAY, 3 South Avenue, Kidlington, Oxfordshire. February 9.

Lords' ruling on computer privacy

From Ms Shelogh J. Gaskill

Sir. In the appeal of R v Brown (Law Report, February 9), the House of Lords has reached an astonishing decision. Put simply, their lordships decided (by a majority) that calling personal data from a database on to a computer screen and reading the information so displayed does not constitute "using" the information within the meaning of Section 5(2) (b) of the Data Protection Act 1984, Accordingly Mr Brown could not have commined the offence of misusing the informa-

As Lord Griffiths makes clear in his dissenting speech, if "use" is given its ordinary and natural meaning and the prosecution has therefore to prove not only illegitimate access to personal data but also some subsequent application of the information derived rom the access to it, the difficulties of enforcement will be immense. So if I illegitimately gain access to someone's personal data and as a result decide to take no action - an outcome which may be just as harmful to the person concerned as taking positive action. and just as much an invasion of his or her privacy - 1 will apparently not have commined the offence.

Although "information privacy" is not a right expressly guaranteed and protected by the Act as it now stands, that position must change when, with-in three years, the Government is due to implement the European Union directive on data protection in our domestic law. At that point, this over-simplistic distinction between processing of data up to the point of displaying the information on a computer screen (which, as a result of this decision, is not "use") and some subsequent application of that information (which is "use") will simply be unsustainable, because the directive defines "processing" very widely. That definition in-cludes the word "use" as well as the word "retrieval".

This is consistent with the directive's stated purpose of protecting the individual's right to privacy with respect to the processing of personal

Yours faithfully, SHELAGH GASKILL Masons (sollcitors), Minerva House, 29 East Parade, Leeds, West Yorkshire, February 9.

Communion in hand

From the Reverend R. M. E. Poterson Sir, John Selwyn Gummer ("At your Communion in the hand and characteristically despises the "easygoing modern . . . trendy or off-hand".

The accounts of the Last Supper (Mark xiv. 22-25 and I Corinthians xi, 23-26) make it clear that the bread and the cup would have been received by the apostles in their hands, certainnot, as Mr Gummer would have it, "placed reverently upon the tongue just as it always used to be".

After centuries of clericalisation this ancient and important practice fell into disuse and the Council of Rouen in 878 forbade it. In the Prayer Book of 1552 Archbishop Cranmer restored the primitive tradition and although modern liturgies do not normally specify the method, this remains the proper tradition in the Anglican Church.

ROBERT PATERSON [Secretary, Liturgical Commission of the Church in Wales). The Rectory, 85 Broadway, Cowbridge, South Glamorgan.

S for serendipity

From Mr Fritz Spiegl

Sir, My late cousin Alfred Geiringer, whose obituary you printed last month (January 10), told me that a young clerk in his office at Reuters filed Chiang Kai-shek under ! - "tssimo, General . . . " (letters, February 6

But then, according to the new ways of spelling Chinese words in European characters. Chiang has now probably been moved to X - for

Yours faithfully. FRITZ SPIEGL 4 Windermere Terrace, Liverpool 8. February 9.

Fortune's fools

From Dr M. S. E. F. Holland

Sir. In the new gallery of Hellenistic art in the British Museum there is a photograph of the Louvre statuette of the so-called Tyche of Antioch, with the caption:

How could it be that one man lived and died an Alexander while another lound himself condemned ... to beg for food in rags on the streets of Smyrna? The increasing uncertainty of Hellenistic society promoted an obsession with such concepts as . . . Tyche (Luck or Fortune).

Mutatis mutandis, our divide between fat cat and poor pilgarlick seems to have thrown up a fresh version of the archetype, in the iconographically similar figure (long, flowing robes, rather different headdress) which has appeared on billboards all over the metropolis, bearing the message: "Is Lady Luck with YOU?".

Yours faithfully, MERIDEL HÖLLAND, 9 Holion Terrace,

The state of the s

His ghoulish exhortation was not ignored:

COURT CIRCULAR

BUCKINGHAM PALACE Tebruary IX: The Queen held an Investiture at Buckingham Palace

moesture a Buckinguan variate this morning.

Mr Andrew MacKity MP (Vice-Chamberlain of the Hausehold) was received in audience by Her Majesty and presented an Address from the House of Commons to which The Queen was graciously pleased to make public.

The Ri Hon John Major MF (Prime Mini acr and First Lord of the Treasury) had an audience of Her

Treasury) had an audience of Her Majesty this evening. The Duke of Edinburgh, President and Henorary Life Fellow, this morning chaired a meeting of the Environment Comminee of the Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arty, Manufactures and Commerce at Backingham Palace.

The Hon Mary Morrison has socceeded Lady Dugdale as Lady in Watting to The Queen.

February 13: The Prince Edward.

February 13: The Prince Edward, Trustee. The Duke of Edinburgh's

Award, this evening anemded a Dinner to celebrate the Chinese New Year at the Oriental Restaurant, the Dorchester Hotel, London WI, February 13: The Princess Royal, Patron, the Busic Skills Agency, this rurning attended an Advisory Com-mittee Meeting at Communicath Husse, New Ordord Street, London

WC1 Her Royal Highness, President, Save the Children Fund, this aftermoon chaired an Industry and Conmoree Group Meeting and after-wards presented Curporate Members' Fundraiser Certificates at CLARENCE HOUSE February 13 Queen Elizabeth The Ducen Mother, Patron of the Special Forces Club, this afternoon unveiled a Memorial to the Special Operations Executive in Westminster Abbey, The Hon Mrs Rhodes and Sir Alastair Aird were in attendance.

Today's royal engagements

The Duke of Edinburgh, as Permanent Master, will present the Shipwrights Queen's silver medal to Mr. John McDonald and the company's bronze medal to Mt David Stewart at Buckingham Palace at 11,00; and, as President and Honorary Life Fellow of the Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts. Manufactures and Commerce, will attend a meeting of the president's forum followed by luncheon at St James's Palace at II.45.

The Prince of Wales will visit SciMat, Dorean 200, Murdock Road, Dorean, Swindon, at 10.35; and will visit Dyson Appliances. Tetbury Hill. Malmesbury, at

The Princess Royal, as President of "Who Cares?" for long term care at the Prudential Corporation, 142 Holborn Bars, ECI, at 9.30; as Chancellor of London University, will open the refurbished Slade School of Fine Art. Gower Street.

Birthdays

Butterfill, MP. 55: Sir John Clark. Lord Rossmore, 65. Mr Michael former chairman. The Plessey Cumpany, 7th Professor Evelyn Ebsworth, Vice-Chancellot, Dutham University, 63; Sir Arnold Elion, consultant surgeon, 76; Sir Jack Hibbert, former director, Central Statistical Office, 64: Sir Derrick Holden-Brown, former chairman, Allied-Lyons, 73: Miss K.M. Jenkins, former director of personnel. Royal Mail, 51: Mr Kevin Keegan, football manager, 45: Mr John MacGregot, MP, 59,

ST JAMES'S PALACU
February 13: The Prince of Wales this afternorm visited Royal Victoria Dack, London Eln. following last Friday's terrorist incident.
His Royal Highness afterwards visited Limehouse Police Station to thank representatives of the police, fire and ambulance services.
The Prince of Wales later visited the temporary offices of Franklin Mint at the Tower Hotel

the Tower Hotel

His Royal Highness subsequently met nurses, docurs and surgeons who have been treating and caring for victims at the London Hospital.

KENSINGTON PALACE
February 13: The Princess of Wales, Purvas. London City Ballet, this norming received Mr Michael Prescust (Chief Executive) and Mr Harold King (Artistic Director).

February 13: The Duke of Gloucester, Patron, opened the Eulabition, "Fred-erick Leighton (830-1896" and subsequently was present at a dinner at the Royal Academy of Arts. Picca-dilly, London WI.

dilly, London WI.
YORK HOUSE
February 13: The Duke of Kent this morning visited the John Humpden Grammar School. Marlow Hill, High Wycombe. Buckinghamshire, and was met en arrival by Mr John Paterson (Her Majesty's Vice LordLieutenant of Buckinghamshire!.
His Royal Highness later visited Wycombe. Summit. Abboy. Barn Lune, High Wycombe. and this afternoon opened Colston Half. afternoon opened Colsion Half. Gerrards Cross Memorial Centre. East Common. Gerrards Cross.

Buckinghamshire, Captain Marcus The Duchess of Kent, Patron, UNI-CEF, this morning visited Jafferpet

Her Royal Highness this afternoon visited the Village Primary Health Care Centre. Thiravalant, and the First Referral Unit. Taluk Hospital, Wallajaper. Tamil Nadu, India.

WCl, at 200; as President of the Royal Yachting Association, will attend a council meeting at the Royal Thames Yacht Club at 4.30; and will deliver the 1996 Barnett fecture as Toynbee Hall at

> The Duke of Gloucester will visit historic sites in Harwich. Essex. The Duke of Kent, as natron, will attend the British Computer Society awards lectures at the Insti-tution of Civil Engineers at

Today's events

The Queen's Life Guard mounts : Horse Guards at 11,00,

Requiem Mass

Philip Lawrence rence will be held in Ealing Abbey on Friday, February 16, at 10.30am followed by a private burial. The reception of the body is on Thursday, February 15, at 7.30pm. At the request of Frances Lawrence no

The Prince of Liechtenstein celehrates his 51st birthday today. The Right Rev Peter Ball, formet Bishop of Gloucester, and his twin brother, the Right Rev Michael Ball, Bishop of Trum, 64: Mr John

player, 29: Countess Mountbaner of Burnia, 72: Professor Sir Charles Ostley, electrical engineer. 92: Mt Alan Parker, film director, 52: the Hon Hanning Phillips, former Lord Lieutenant of Dyfed, Rudman, theatre director and producet, 57: Sir Albert Sloman. former Vice-Chancellor, Essex University, 75: Sir Joxelyn Stevens, chairman, English Heritage, 64: Mr D.M Stewart, former Prin-cipal, Lady Margaret Hall, Ox-ford, 66: Mr A.W.H. Stewart-Moore, former chairman. Gallaher, 81: Land Wilson of Tillyorn, 61: Mrs Margaret Wright, chief commissioner, The Guide Association, 54.

February 8th. to James (née Devien) and Andrew, a son, Matthew Rhys William. a brother for Hannah.

BATES - Colla Critichanias
FCGI C.Eng aged 82.
Peacetully in hospital in Cuddierd on 90 February 1996 after long suffering which was courageously borse. Dearly loved husband of Zena Evelyn and Sather to Colin and Zena. Funeral at Guiddford Crematorium on Mondey 19th February at 11.30 am. Family flowers only please. Denations it visited to British Heart Foundation c/n Mesars Matthews Lipman & Scartf, 34 Artitlary Lane, London
El 71.5.

BECKETT - James Cambin (Professor) 12th February 1996 peacefully at Seachill Private Nursing Home to his Söth year. Funeral Service by St. Thomas Parish Church. Egiantine Account. Selfast, tomorrow Thursday 15th February at 11 am, followed by interment in Selfinderry Parish Churchyard. Desoty regretted by his many friends.

ROHM - Journa Cecilio (Hand) pacefully on Friday 9th February, after a leng tilmest "Mourned by her children Nicky, Antonia, family and friends, Cremation at West Herts Cremation at West Herts Cremation at West Herts Cremation for Westerday 21st February, Any donations to Medical Foundation for Victims of Torbure or Art Collections Fund or Sowers, Enquiries 4/6 Coodchilds Funerals, St Albems, (D1727) 853177.

DEATHS

Four of Mel Calman's little masterpieces are among cartoons that will appear on stamps from February 26.

Hundreds enter young cartoonist award

BY ROBIN YOUNG

THE best entries for the Mel Calman Awards, a competition sponsored by The Times to encourage young cartoonists, are to go on show at the National Postal Museum from February 26.

They will be displayed in an exhibition coinciding with the launch of new greetings stamps featuring the work of renowned cartoonists, including the late Mel Calman, in whose honour the awards are named.

Calman's wry line drawings enlivened our front page for 15 years until his death in February 1994 at the age of 62. Typical examples of his work are on four of the ten first class stamps in the new issue. The stamps will be sold in books of ten with 20 free greetings labels, some of whose ooe-liner captions are also derived from Calman's cartoons.

Hundreds of entries were received for The Times Young Cartoonist of the Year competition, organised in conjunction with the British Cartoonists' Association, for which the Mel Calman Awards are the prizes.

The competition was inspired by the realisation that cartoons and caricature have been an essential ingredient of British life for more than three centuries, but that there are now fewer and fewer outlets for carroonists' work, and little encooragement for young artists to continue in what has been a great tradition.

Entries were restricted to those under 30, with a special category for those under 18, Seven winners will be presented with their prizes by Peter Stothard, Editor of The Times, at an awards ceremony on the day the exhibition opens.

The judges, who included such leading exponents of the cartoonist's art as Peter Brookes of The Times, Peter Maddocks, Posy Simmonds, Steve Bell of The Guardian, John Jensen, chairman of the British Cartoonists' Association, and Enzo Apicella, were impressed and encouraged by strength and quality of the entries for the competition, which it is hoped will become an annual event. One of the judges, David Driver, the design editor of The Times, said: "I have always feared that there were not a great number of cartoonists out there waiting to show what they could do, but the entries came in their hundreds and were of a very high standard. We have discovered several promising young

The National Postal Museum is in King Edward Building, King Edward Street, London ECI, and is open daily from 9.30am until 4.30pm, Admission is free. The exhibition, which all includes a display on the new cartooo stamps, will continoe until May 3.

Memorial service The Royal Society of Chemistry

The following were admitted as Fellows of The Royal Society of Chemistry in January 1996. They are entitled to use the designation 'Chartered Chemust' and the letters CChem FRSC:

R F Appleton, B T Callan, J N Cape, D Caner, A G Cockburn, J P Cole, A N Cormack, J D Conon, T H O Cummines, W Dawson, A J Dyer, D Gilbert, G F Hall, J F Jin, S R Korn, A B Mandal, B Mateon, S R Nalk, I Rabigopal, J W Readman, A D Ruthven, J M Streete, D J Tapolczay, D Urquban, T C White, W K M T L Wijesckera, V Zalchick.

Luncheon

HM Government Mr Michael Portillo. Secretary of State for Defence, was the host yesterday at a luncheng given by Her Majesty's Government at Admiralty House in honout of Mr Stanislaw Dobrzanski. Polish Minister for Reception

Funeral Baswich
Crematorium, Stafford,
3.50pm Friday Ioth
Febroary, No flowers,
Docalions if desired to Marie Carle Cancer Core or Mocroillan Nurses c/o W.
Emery & Son Funeral Directors, The Laurels, County Road, Stafford.

HALL - Johanna "Jook" (bee Carp) suddenly on 9th February 1996, much loved mother of Henry and mother of Henry and friends. Funeral Service and friends. Funeral Service at St James's Church, Futiner, Bucks, on Friday 16th February at 11.16 am. Flowers or donotion if desired for Riding for the Disabled Association c/o Arnold Funeral Service, 38 Oak End Way, Cerrards Cross, Bucks, 91.9 EBR.

HARDING - Physic on 12th February 1996 at Sue Ryder House. Cheftenbant. In pote with her children heade her. Devoted wife of the late Col. Denis Harding, beloved and joving mother and grandmoner. Will be safey prised by all who knew and loved her. Service at Christchurch, Cheltenbann on Tuesday 20th February at 11,15 am fellowed by Christmurch, Chellenhium on Tuesday 20th Februshy at 11. [5 am fellowed by private cramation. Family fewert only, donations to her memory to Suc Ryder Home, Lackhamshan Coert. c/o Selim. Smith & Co. Ltd. 7d Presidenty Read. Challenham, Glob.

Stowe School
The Right Hon Sir Leon Brittan, QC, was present at a recognor held last week at Stowe School, Buckingham. to talk to students and to open the School's new European and Careers

Oxford University The George Webb Medleyes on prize 1995 has been awarded to Miss Karrina Couch, St Edmund Hall. Sir Deals Dobson, QC The Lord Chancellor was represented by Sir Thomas Legg, QC, ar a service of thanksgiving for the life of Sir Denis Dobson, QC, held

Dinner

The Electrical Contractors'

Association Mr John Harrower, President of the Electrical Contractors' Association, presided at the annual dinner held-last night at Grosvenor House. The Right Hon John Gummer, Secretary of State for the Environment, was principal guest and speaker. Among those present were:

Office Bearers from the Leading Trade Associations. Confederations and federations, EETFU, the permanent Civil Service, Members of Parlianent and leading figures and company representatives from the electrical Industry.

on Monday at the Temple Church. Canon Joseph Robinson, Master of the Temple, officiated, Mr. Roger Dobson, Mr. Paul Dobson and Mr. Michael Dobson, sons, read the lessons. Lord Hailsham of St Marylebone, KG, CH, FRS, gave an address.

The Lord Chief Justice, the President of the Family Division and the Treasurer of the Middle Temple attended. Among others orcsent were:

present were:
Lady Dobson (widow), Mr Neville
Boden and Ms Zutella Dobson and Mr and Mars Ronald Strunch (Sons-inlaw and daughters). Mrs Roger Dobson and Mr Poul Dobson (daughters)-in-law), Mr William Dobson, Miss Serena Dobson, James
Dobson, Miss Serena Dobson, James
Dobson and Charlotte Dobson Igrandchildren).
Lord and Lady Achier, Lord
Nicholis of Birkenhead, Lady Borrie,
Lord Slynn of Hadley, Lord and Lady
Roskill, Lord Campbell of Alloway,
OC and Lady Campbell, Lady GoreBooth, Lord Justice Simon Brown, Sir
Raiph and Lady Grisson, Lady Justice
Butler-Sloss, Sir Michael and Lady
Palliser, Lord Justice Rose, the Hon
Mrs Justice Morge the Hon Lucinda Royle, Sir Wilfred Bourne, QC, and Lady Bourne
Sir Douglas Falconer, Lady
(Charles) Noton, Sir James Nursaw,
QC, Sir lan Sinclair, OC, Sir Donald
Logan Brompton Association, Lady
(Charles) Noton, Sir James Nursaw,
QC, Sir lan Sinclair, OC, Sir Donald
Logan Brompton Association, Perir
Henry de Waal QC, Lady (Peter)
Foster, Sir Paul and Lady Osmond.
Sir Gordier: de Deney, Sir Richard and Lady Bayliss. Mr Justice Lindeay, Sir David Wes-Rassell, Sir William
Goodhar, QC, Sir Kenneth Hollings,
Sir Derek Oulon, QC, Sir Vinceni
Evans, QC,
Judge Aglienby. Mis Honour

Anniversaries

BIRTHS: Claude Prosper Cre-billon, novelist, Paris, 1707, Thomas Malthus, economist and demographer, Rookery, Surrey, 1766: Christopher Sholes, pioneer of the typewriter, Mooresburg, Pennsylvania, 1819, Frank Harris, tering, Calumn 1886, Jeroid Zais, writer, Galway, 1856; Israel Zan-gwill, writer, Zionist and philan-Taylor, OC. Mr Geoffier Biffee, OC. Mr J M Cartwright Sharp, Mr Ludovic Boden, Mr and Mrs G P. Davidson, Mr Norman S Marsh. Mr David Williams, Mr O Sowande. Mi Edward Caldwell, Mrs Gerald Oraper, Mr K Newman, Miss Pas Nalley, Mr and Mrs Karl Newman, Mr David Edward, Mrs Amanda Piper, Mr Godfrey Carler. Mr Eurrence Shurman, Mr Keith Carmichael, Mr and Mrs James Mason.

Mr J A C Watherston [Head of International Division. Lord Chancellors Department, Mrsser McKenie, Of Registrar of Criminal Appeals]. Mr Michael Blair (deputy chief escurity and general counsel, The Securities and Liwestments Beard). Professor Ray Coode Irepresenting Justice) and Mr Mark Heldon (Linklauers and Paines). thropist, London 1864.

DEATHS: King Richard II reigned 1377-99, murdered at Pontefract Castle, 1400: John Hadley, pioneer of the sexiant, East Barner, Hertfordshire, 1744; Cap-tain James Cook, explorer, murdered by natives, Hawaii, 1779; Sir William Blackstone, jurist, London. 1780: Henry Maudsbay, inventor of the metal lathe. London, 1831; William Dyce, painter, London, 1864; William Sherman, Union General in the American Civil War, New York, 1891; Sir Pelham (P.G.) Wode-house, writer, New York, 1975; Sir Julian Huxley, biologist, London, 1975; Frederick (Fritz) Loewe, composer, Palm Springs, 1988. The Great Ormand Street Hos-pital for Sick Children, Landon, admitted its first patient, 1852. Murcini began regular broadcasting transmissions from Essex, 1922.

The St Valentine's Day massacre took place in Chicago, 1929. The German battleship Bismarci was launched, 1939. The Bank of England was nationalised 1946.

Forthcoming marriages

Mr M.H. Drese and Miss C.de P. Gauvain

The engagement is announced between Markus, son of the late Mr W.H.B. Drese and of Mrs A.E. Drese, of Dusseldorf, Germany, and Claire, daughter of Colonel Ade P. Gauvein, read, and Mrs. Gauvain. of Bushops' Sutton,

Mr S.M. Freedman and Miss T. Barnett The engagement is announced between Simon Michael, son of Mr and Mrs L. Freedman, of Oakwood, London, and Trudi, daughter of Mr and Mrs A.J. Barnett, of Guildford, Surrey.

Mr D.B. Gilbert and Miss P.A. Gardner The engagement is announced between David, eldest son of Mr and Mrs Barry Gilbert of Walsall, West Midlands, and Parricia, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs George Gardner, of Kings Norton, and Miss L.A. Farnworth The engagement is announced between Cynan, eldest son of Mr www.M. Jones, of Llangybi, Dyfed, and of Ms M.R. Jones, of Aberarth, Dyfed, and Licy, youngest daughter of Mrs J.A. Farnworth and the late Mr. W. Farnworth, of Gresford, Clwyd.

Mr D.S. MacDonald : and Miss C. Morley-Fletcher and Miss C. Morley-Fletcher
The engagement is announced between Dorian Stephen, son of Mrs Margaret MacDonald and the late Mr Douglas MacDonald, of East Grinstead, West Sussex, and Mirmie, daughter of Mrs.
Susan Morley-Fletcher, and the late Mr Charles Morley-Fletcher, of Charles

Mr J. Mills and Mrs R.E.A. Woods The engagement is announced between John Mills and Rachael

E.A. Woods, nee Farrant, both of Edinburgh. Mr O. Ostin and Miss L.A. Guinness The engagement is announced between Olav, only son of the late Monsieur Jacques Ostin and of Madame Ene Balder, of Megeve.

France, and Lucy, only daughter of Mr and Mrs. John Guinness, of London, and Norfolk. Mr P.G. Pinnock and Miss P.A.P. Grosvenor The engagement is announced between Peter Gavin, son of Mr. and Mrs Roger Pinnock, of Milton Malsor, Northamptonshire, and Petra Antonia Primrose, daughter

The engagement is announced between Douglas, elder son of Mr and Mrs Mark Petheram, of Fulham London, SWo, and Flons. younger daughter of Mr James Douglas-Robertson, of Brightwellcum-Sotwell, Oxfordshire, and of Mrs. Hildegard Douglas-Robert-son, of Fulham, London, SW6.

Douglas-Robertson

Dr S.L. Preston and Dr R.L. Ginks The engagement is announced between Sean, son of Dr and Mrs John Preston, of New Jersey, USA. and Rebecca, daughter of Dr William and Dr Susan Ginks, of

Jersey, Channel Islands. Mr D. Scriven and Miss S.R. Nugent The engagement is announced between Dominic son of Mr Tim between Dominic, son of Mr Tim Scriven, of London, and Mrs Valerie Scriven, of London, and Sheelin Rose, daughter of Mr David Nugent, of Wexford, Repub-lic of Ireland, and Lady Eliza Mays-Smith, of Chaddleworth, Mr G.P. Sorens

Mr G.P. Sorcasen
and Miss E.M. Coyle-Camp
The engagement is announced between Gordon, son of Mr R. Ben Sorensen, OC, and Mrs Joyce Sorensen, of Ottawa, Canada, and Elizabeth, daughter of Lieutemant
Colonel Peter Camp and Mrs
Elizabeth McGlade Camp, of Ot-

Mr P. Spratt and Miss D. Chidell
The engagement is announced between Phillip, only son of Mr and Mrs G.W. Spratt, of Atts. near Bristol, and Dinah, younger gehter of Mr and Mrs D.C.L. Chidell. of Gerrards Buckinghamshire. Mr J.N. Wildman and Miss C.O.B. Taylor

The engagement is announced between Nigel Wildman and Caro-

Marriages Mr S.P. Marsh and Miss J. Stephens The marriage took place quietly at Club Caribbean, Jamaica, on January 31, of Simon Peter, elder son of the late Mr and Mrs Peter Marsh, of Formby, Lancashire, and Janet, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs John Stephens, of Crosby, Liverpool. MI A.N. SECT and Mrs L.I.G. Dove

n N N at Att

100

4.5

777

The marriage took place in Oak-ham on February 12, between Mr Andy Stewart and Mrs Lucy Dove. of the Hon William and Mrs Grosvenor, of Potsgrove, Woburn, Bedfordshite.

Latest wills

Mrs Gabrielle Muriet Keiller, of Shockerwick, Avon, the champion golfer, benefactor and collector of cinded work by artists such as Bellmer, Bream, Dali, Delvaux, DuChamp, Ernst, Giacometti.

Duchamp, Ernst, Giacometti, Magritte, Miro, Picabia, Man Ray and Tanguy, left estare valued at E8.228.240 net.

She feft her collection of 20th-century art, not accepted by the Inland Revenue in satisfaction of Inheritance tax, to the Scottish Gallery of Modern Art, her collection, of silver cow creamers to the City of Leeds, her clothing leasees turs) to the Converts Ald Society, and the remainder of her estate mostly to her son.

canon John Charles Edwint Hayter, of Lymington, Hampshire, former chaplain to the Bishup of Singapore (the Right Rev
John Leonard Wilson) 1942-45, and priest-in-charge of Kuala Lumpur as the time of the Japanese invasion of Malaya in December 1941, left estate valued at £297, 452 net. He left £65,000 and his shares in the Chorcher Estate, Derwin, to personal legatees, and the residue equally between Boldre Chbrch, lymingron, the Lencing Coffege Chapel Fund and the USFG.

Mr James Thomas Breen, of Luton, Bedfordshire, left estate valued at £129,260 net. valued at EL29,260 net.
He left EL300 to the Department of Social Security Invalidity Pensions Department, EL,000 to the International Revenue Income Tax Division, ER250, some effects and 1/3rd of the residue to personal legaters, and

TICKETS FOR SALE

TICKETS

FOR SALE
When responding to advertisements
advertisements
remarks are advised to establish the face value and full details of tictosis before entancing into any committeent, bloost sports tickes has subject to strict re-sale and transfer rules.

ABACUS

Other estates include (net, before Mr Arthur Frederick Miller, of Looe, Cornwall....... E588,560. Mr Neil Nathaniel Saunders, of Berkhamsted, Hertfordshire E923/039.

Mr Richard Harry Burgess, of London SW6 ______E1,C 4,127
Mrs Olive Christine Thornton-Clough, of Hove, East Sussex E712,299

Mr Robert Marcus Earl, of Weston Hills, Lincolnshire _ El.839,142 Mr Norman George Eggleton, of Gloucester ... Mr Lynn Housley Evans, of Cardiff El,792,486
Mr. George William Fisher, of London NW10 E711,659 Mr Giacomo Gorrara, of London WCl... E869.049 Mr Peter Leonard Mason, of Kings Lynn, Norfolk £1,088,975

Lecture

Wellington Society
Mr Stephen Green, Curator of the MCC's collection at Lord's Cricket MCC's collection at Lord's Cricket Ground, delivered the Wellington Society lecture yesterday at the Wellington Hospital, St John's
Wood, Mr Basil Helal presided.

TICKETS FOR SALE

5 Nations Rugby 96

Wales v Scotland France v Irelan Match (ickets available now

0171 929 5622

(City)

All oc's accepte

TICKETS

(Bought & Sold).

BMD'S: 0171 782 7272 : 0171 481 4000

Miss Manuela Maleeva, tennis

PERSONAL COLUMN

TRADE: 0171 481 1982 FAX: 0171 481 9313

BMD'S: 0171 PRIVATE: 01
When John came to show you the right way to live, you did not bettere him, but the tax collectors and prostitutes did and even when you saw that you did not believe him. Matthew 21: 32 (REB)
BIRTHS
ALDRIDGE - On February 81th. 10 Christina (nee Dimmock) and Richard, a daughter, Rosie Freya, a state for Polly and Sam. AVENY - On Str. February, to Nicholas and Alixandra mee Strumen), a daughter, Padget Charlotte, a sister for Honor.
Charlotte, a sister for Honor, BICHON: Cara was born at The Portland Hospital on February 5th to the delight of her brother Guillatune and her parents Corione and Herve Bichon, BIGGS - On 9th February, to Warren and Christine (née Dandridge), a son, Edward Chartes Warren, a brother for James.
COLLEGE - On February 12th (1996. to Rathel Infe Tarmor) and Dominic, o son. Louis Dominic, a brother for Sam. DAY - On February 12th. to Milchael hind Sophy (ode Pilkington), a daughter. Quorgla Briony.
FASTELL - On 6th February at Pembury Hospital, to Jene inde Tomberl and Noll. a daughter, Grace Lity Jame, o sister for Rose.
Daeld, a son, Benjamin Carew, a brother for Jacqueline's daughters Annabel and Litry. LOMAS - On Tuesday 6th February, to Tracy and Iso. a son, Charles Alexander Inn. a brother for Sophie. NUCENT - On 6th February, to Rosemery and Jonaphan, a 360 Timothy Edward Kendáll. STORK - On February 9th. to Sophilo (hée Macarthur Ouslav) and Peter. a son. Fraderick George Lovik. SWAN - On February 2nd

Frederick George Lovis.

SWAN - On February 2nd
1996, to Susaman tole Noy
Scott and Matthew, a son, Patrick Christopher Noy.

DEATHS DEATHS DEATHS DEATHS DEATHS CASE - North Mary - died peacefully on l'Oth February at Royal United Hospital - Bath - aged 56 years. Fuseral Service to be held at Haytombe Crematorium on Monday 19th February at 12 acon. Flowers to E. Hooper & Son, 13 St James Parade. Bath, BAI 1UL. Titley - On February 13th to Kate (nea Aspinali) and Philio, a daughlar, Molly Charlotte Babingson.

HAMPTOR - On February 10th, Eugénie Hampton, OBE, DL. JP, at home after a long illners. Service at Alderahot Cremstortum at 9.30 am on Thureday February 15th. Family Howers only, but doubtions to Marie Carle Cancer Cays. A public Methodal Service will be at anged.

HENDERSON - Strin Inte Walter). Wife of the late Robert McLaren Henderson, adored mother of Clafford and Robert, gradmother: and great-grandmother. On February 13th at Meadingsh Niming Home, Satternes, accel 86, after a long and pational Elector. HIMBURY - Roweng Editi Inte Robaldi, of Kinstey House, Knighton, Powys, Born Armadale, NSW, 1903.

LOCICHART - Pencerully at home on February 1:th 1996 after a long tilness borne with great courage. Brian Juseph. Lifeticapi Cobonel, refined of the Stuce & Royals, aged 60 years, of Manuerubury. Stow-on-thea Hoyais, aged 60 years, or Managerbury. Stow-on-the-Weld, Clou. Beloved imstand of Shefa. dearly loved inther of Sarena. Edward, Crigata and to Roote and Laura. Private lamily funeral service. Memorial Service to be announced later. All orquiries to W.J. Wright Funeral Director, Wed Lane. Stow-on-the-Weld. (0145) 851829).

MACKERZIE - Hugh Rotle suddenly no Sunday Feorusny (1th 1996, in hospital, The beloved wan of Olive, brother of Gisian and Singen, Funeral Service at St. James the Great Church, Sooth Leigh, Ogan, an Monday February 1994, at 12.30 nm. Family Sowersolly, dumitions if desired to Friends of John Warin Ward. Churchell Oxford-Raddille Hospital. Old Road. Headington, Oxford.

POWELL - Dr. Thomas Philip Street Powell, FRS. FRCS. Emeritus Fellow of St John's Oxford. deef February Sin. at RUM Bath, after a short littness. Leaves a widow babelle, children Philip and Rossillod and livo granddapophters. Private funeral family Dowers only. Depathons. It desired, to Arthritis and Rheumathim. Council c/o L.J. Copan. 12 Charlton Road. Keynsham. Bristol. MARRYAT - Robert on 11th February 1996 peacefully after a long times bravely borns aged 55 years. Beloved insidend of Donnier dearly loved father of Lt. Julie and Jenny and grendfather of Nicky. Chris. Sex. Andrew and Micheel. Donniers. If wished to the Erall. c/o he States Tressiny. Gosmany. He will be renterabered for what he was: a truly good asid wise man.

PERRY - John of Wallington.
Survey. Nuch loved husband of Hilary, father of Jacqueline and Sanet and grandfather of Sarah, Funeral Service at All Saints Church, Bassiand, Surrey, 2mm Friday 16th February,
Flowers to W.A. Treature & Son Ltd., 109 Station & Road, Wallington, Surrey Side 9AP, 60181-647 1032).

PLIMETT - Mails and 16 peacetally on February 13th, befored Caughter of Davis and Colors and Editor. Funeral Thorsday February 18th 3pm at Great Taw Church. Family flowers only. Donaltons to St. Michael's Church, Great Tew.

MATHIAS - (nie Wrubal) en February 10th. 1996, poarefully aller a vallani stupple. Barbara, in her 46th year. Dearly leved by her Ausbahd Robert. har children James and her prother Junes and her parents David and Mila. Private crevation, All are welcome at the Thankspring Service at St Peter's Charch. Limpsflaid. Burrey nn Saturday February 24th at 2.30 pm. No flowers, but denalizes please to Berbara Medice Fand (for overtan Medice Fand (for overtan Cancer). c/o National Westpilester Bank, Berkeley Square, Wix 6Ax RIDDELL-BLOUNT - Anneon 9th Petrusy 1996 in her79th year, peacefully at the Royal Free Hospital, hampetsad Forthed by the Rites of the Charth. Stage of Eleanor and the late Path and suni of Isabette and Jollan, Funeral Mass on Priday, 16th Februsry 1996
at Mapiredurham House, Mapiredurham, near Gaversham, Oxfordahre,
Funeral c/o J.H. Kenybe, 49
Marloss Road, London Wit
GLA.

ROHAR - George Alexander, Rodenly on Petrusty. Sin aged 85. Beloved father of Gabriella and Carolice, secular to their children and former humand to Susanue. A remarkable man who will be greatly mined by make, Private family functial, Memorial Service to be arranged. Flowers, if desired, and enquiries to E. Larner & Son. 246 Upper Richmann Reed. Putney, London SWIS. Tel. 10181) 788-2942.

fiaMUELSON - Peter Bernard. Artist. died bestefully in the Horton Geneti Hospital, Bushiny in Monday. 12th February, aped 85 years.

SHARP - Kathieth Frances died peacefolly on 9th February at her home in February at her home in Petersham aged 55. The funeral service was be at 5t
Michel and All Amedia Church, Sedoord Park, W4 on Thursday 22nd February at 2.30 pm. The Service will be taken by The Fovershid Terry Bother, The Reception is to be at the Church Mall at 3 pm. Cremanion following at 3 pm. Cremanion following at is to be at the Church Hall at 3 pm. Cremanion following at 3.50 pm at Mortiake Cremanion for house and dose friends. Flowers samily and close friends. Flowers samily and close briends: Andrew Holmes & Sea Undertakers. 378 Richmond Rosellens. 378 Richmond Rosellens. 38 Richmond Dosellens cus be made to The Treasurer. St Mitchel and All Angels Church. Bedford Park, W4.

SMARY - "Ted" Edward George Smart passed Descetully away, after a short Bases on 23rd January 1996 aged 83. Beloved brandsand of Dork and much loved (ather of John, Catherine, Anita and STAFYLTON-SMITH - On SIN Pahrunry 1996, Anne. died anddenly and unexpectedly, aged 72 years. Daughter of the late his Misse and Marioria Stapylton-Smith, sister of the late Slawart and of Robert. Funeral Service at St Mary's Courte, Techunry at 3.30 pm. Family flowers only. Danations, it desired: to Cancer Research Punic (19 C. Waterbouse & Sous, Righ Street, Burwanh, Eds., Tel. (0) 435) 882219.

TWIST - Anthony, en Jahunny 24th, beloeed husband of Jean and father to Caroline, Resulted and FLATSHARE CATTURNEA Prof (comple, 28 +, over the name & separate 2 2 had the with exciter, 4380 pcm excl. June on 0:71 339 0096 CHREWICK, (W4) Double has young in 2 bed house, v. Innorth-cost, all must cone, stays between with: 1 elber, between 950, 5 mins tabe, v. Offst ten area, N/s pred 2000 year. Offst 996, 2866. FLATBLATES Landow's Eventual CH 1970 Promisional flat sharing service, 0171-669 5491 CENTRON he may self that. Use of he has absorve high 15 mins Car Congre 0161 202 8603 874 WENTAM - John William on 15th Fabruary, peacefully at nome. Funeral at St. Andrew's Church. Limbon Read. North Oxford. 11.18cm, burlet at Almajon. near Salusbury. 4 nm Monday (5th Fabruary. SW7 1. And swif 10 share 3 dat red for Set 3 other Cling Politics. St artestics, 5120per, Nam gas high. Tel Stone Off 7. 353 1500per STT, 575 ST08509.

Wiednes - (nie Staticker)
Norah Mary en Fehrussy12m peacehdly at Torquey12m peacehdly at Torqueyin her 94th year, widow of Philip and Normen Bowaterand store of 20e, Much loved by all her flexity and friends, Cremation arivate, Service of Taxologiving at 5t Matthews
(12 noon Saturday March 2nd, Donations of dealed to Chestine Home, Brichem er
R.U.K.B.A. All empiries to Torquey & District Propersi.
Service. Torquey 1e1:
(01 803) 315006. IN MEMORIAM -PRIVATE

DEATHS .

TICKETS ALLAGHER - Constance 14th February, 1994, in my thought this day and every V.I P. Service Rugby, Euro 30 Pootball, Phanton, Absolutely all Pop, Sport & Theatre. Tet: $181 573 2544 BURTHDAYS RHTTPDAY CHIL Come have such I love you? To the moon and back! From the dealery in the heat field.

ACCESS TICKETS Specialists in SOLD OUT EVENTS S Nations Reply
Bruce Springsteen,
Enic Capton
and all major pop show
All theatre ticlets
inc Phantom etc. Call to Now ! Tel: 0171 821 6616

ALL TICKETS 5 Nations Rugby 96 Bruce Springateen, Capton Swar Dance, Royal Ascot Phenium, Sureet Mc. We obtain the unobtainable 0171 403 9565 MATTONS house 16 Tides Wanted for all transfers To -0171 325 8822/ F. 920 545

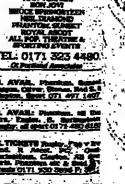

0171 488-4414 TICKETS A NATIONS HUGBY -BRIC CLAPTON, CASE, TINA TURNER, BON JOY! BON JOVI BRUCE SPHINGSTIEN NEL DIAMOND PRANTON SURBET ROYAL ASCOT ALL POR THEATHER & SPORTING EVENTS TEL: 0171 323 4480. ALL, AVAIL, Phantum, Square Sugar, Ogver, Stones, Red S. I Chapten, Sport (771 497 1407 Ara, Lagion, B. Springered Region, of sport 01 71 480 6181 ALL TICKETT Bushy, Fas y hy lend. R Asset, Pri. Ont. Curtasition. Clarton. All 6th Curta. Planton. at a Seed Francis 0171 500 3006 Fr 55.

THEFT

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR STEPHEN CARLILL

Vice Admiral Sir Stephen Carlill KBE, CB, DSO, last British commander of the Indian Navy, died on February 9 aged 93. He was born on December 23, 1902

STEPHEN CARLILL was the last British Chief of Naval Staff in India. His departure from Delhi on April 21. 1958, nearly 11 years after Indian independence, closed a significant chapter in the history of the two countries. He was the last British officer to command one of India's armed services, and his task had been to nurse the Indian Navy towards independence, not only in the matter of naval personnel but in developing institutions such as the fine modern training station at Cochin on the west coast of India.

But although it had fallen to Carlill to sever many of the links between the Indian Navy and the Royal Navy, he had aimed to stress the special camara-. derie which existed between the two navies. A state of dependence was giving way, he hoped, to a spirit of friendly competition between two equals (although of course the Indian Navy was considerably the smaller of Carlill had been popular in India and he, in his farewell broadcast, said that he had "immensely enjoyed" his service there, during which he had invariably received the greatest cooperation from his colleagues and from the Indian Government. In the Royal Navy he had formerly had a distinguished career as a gunnery socialist and destroyer commander.

Stephen Hope Carlill was the son of Harold Flamank Carlill, a civil servant at the Board of Trade. There was no oaval tradition in the family, but Carlill had always wanted to go to sea and went to the naval colleges Osborne and Dartmouth. He was a keen sportsman, and he played hockey. squash, cricket and tennis, as well as rugby for the Royal Navy in 1928.

He first went to sea in 1920, serving in home and Mediterranean waters. In 1927 he qualified as an interpreter in German. He studied the language in the Black Forest under Professor Willie Nohe, at the same time as Hugh Gaitskell, with whom he became friends. The two went on a walking tour together, and Terence Rattigan later wrote a play about this unusual establishment, French Without Tears (Rattigan changed the language in order to avoid the wrath of Nohe). Carlill met his future wife there, Nohe's daughter Hilla, whom he married in 1928. Carlill specialised in gunnery. He was gunnery officer in the cruisers Norfolk in the Atlantic Fleet and Dunedin in New Zealand, and in the battle-cruiser Hood, from which he was promoted to commander in 1937. For the next two years he was squadron gunnery officer in the Galatea, flagship of the Mediterranean flotilia.

Shortly, after war broke out, he joined the training and staff duties division at the Admiralty, but in April 1940 resumed sea service in command of the new Hunt class destroyer Hambleton, When she was damaged by a mine, he moved into a sister-ship, the Farndale, where in 1942 he was awarded the DSO. It was the Farndale which in December 1941 sank the Italian submarine Ammiraglio Caracciolo while she was on passage from Libya to Italy. Carlill took 53 prisoners before discovering that among these were a number of Italian senior military officers who had been trying to get home.

On promotion to captain in 1942 he was appointed to the new destroyer

Quillinm as captain of the 4th destroyer flotilla, seeing action in the Eastern Fleet and during the landings in Sicily and at Salerno, for which he was mentioned in dispatches. From 1944 until the end of the war he served in the Gunnery Division of the Naval Staff as deputy director.

in 1946 he was appointed Chief of Staff to Admiral Lord Fraser. Commander-in-Chief, British Pacific Fleet. and continued with his successor, Admiral Sir Denis Boyd until 1948, subsequently commanding the gunnery school HMS Excellent and the carrier flustrious. Following his promotion to rear-admiral in 1952, he was appointed to the directing stall of the Imperial Defence College then to command of the Home Fleet Training Squadron, being promoted to vice-admiral in 1954. From 1955 to 1958 Carlill was Chief of Naval Staff in India. His leavetaking in April from the New Delhi railway station was celebrated with suitable pomp. White uniformed naval personnel were there in strength, and Carlill and his wife were saluted by the assembled nava) ratings, and by the new Chief of Staff. Vice-Admiral Katari with the words: "Admiral Carlill and Lady Carlill Ki Jai" (Victory to Admiral Carlill and Lady Carlilli They left Bombay on the liner Strathmore. A 15-gun salute was fired, aircraft flew past and officers and men of the Royal Indian Navy cheered.

in recognition of his exceptional work Carlill was made an honorary vice-admiral in the Indian Navy - the first British officer in modern times to hold on honorary flag rank in any service outside the Royal Navy. He retired in 1959, having been made a CB in 1954 and created KBE in 1957. He worked until 1966 for the West Africa Committee, which guarded the interests of a group of businesses, first as their representative in Ghana and later in London. He then retired to Milford on Sea, where he grew roses and was surrounded by grandchildren and dogs, one of which he named Quilliam, after the ship he had commanded during the war.

His wife died in 1991, and he is survived by their two sons.

NEIL FRANKLIN

Neil Franklin, Stoke City, Hall City and England centre-half, died on February 9 aged 74. He was born on January 24, 1922.

IN THOSE haleyon days when what are now known as centre-backs still used to be called centre-halfs. Neil Franklin was the finest of them ail. In the history of the game there has probably been no more accomplished footballer in an England defence than he was. Sir Stanley Manhews, his Stoke City and England colleague, considered him superior, as a constructive defender, even to the late Bobby Moore.

Cornelius Franklin was born in Sneiton, Stoke-on-Trent. After the end of the Second World War he was the unchallenged England centre-half for 27 consecutive matches. He had gained 12 wartime caps as the successor to the legendary Stanicy Cullis, But Franklin's coreer was then dis-rupted by a secret and ill-advised departure from Stoke City in the spring of 1950 for the Santa Fé club of Bogotá, Colombia. Together with George Mountford. Stoke's outside right. Franklin and his family leh for Bogota, having signed contracts immediately aher the conclusion of the domestic season and without informing Stoke. He had told the Football Association that he would not be available for the imminent World Cup finals due to be played in Brazil - En-gland's first participation in this event - because his wife Vera was expecting their secand child, and he wished to be with her. Vera planned, in fact, to have the baby in Bogota,

This was the era of the maximum wage of I20-a-week in English football and no player had signed for a League club. Stoke had refused Franklin's request for a move, in spite of the fact that Bob McGrory, Stoke's manager, disliked Franklin's stylish, intelligent game. In his autobjography Soccer at Home and Abroad (1956) Franklin wrote: "I have never been able to understand why I should be expected to hurt a fellow player. Any lout can knock a man off a ball. It needs a footballer to take the ball off an opponent."

A number of English players were tempted by South American money but the expe-rience of Franklin and others was to leave little but disillusionment. (Colombia was free to entice foreign players in freedom of contract once a breach of existing contracts from his second.

because it was not affiliated to FIFA, the world governing body.

In the event, having been assured of the provision of a house but finding themselves accummodated in an hotel instead. Vera decided to fly home for the hirth. Franklin by agreement with Santa Fé. accompanied her as far as New York but finding no flight booked for his wife - as had been promised - also flew back on impulse to England.

For breach of contract at Stoke (The nicest player we ever signed," the Stoke chairman said in his defence at the disciplinary hearing) and for his deception of the FA, Franklin was suspended without pay until the following year. An illustrious career had been effectively destroyed. Although, for a £22,500 transfer fee, he subsequently joiced Hull City, where the manager was his former international colleague Raich Carter, Franklin was never again selected for England. The English team tried a dozen centre-halves during a downward spiral over the next four years but had no luck until Billy Wright was switched to that position in 1954. A crowd of 55,000 greeted Franklin's first appearance for Hull, but a later cartilage injury curtailed his success. After brief moves to Crewe Alexandra, Stockport and Macclesfield, he became a player manager with Wellington in Shropshire, then man-ager of Colchester in the Football League, leading the club to promotion from the fourth division in 1966. He retired two years later to become a publican.

He was twice married, marrying his second wife, Beryl, in 1968. He is survived by her, a son and a daughter from his first marriage and a stepson

GENERAL ADOLF GALLAND

Adolf Galland, German wartime fighter ace, died on February 9 aged 83. He was born on March 19. 1912.

A FLYER who was among Germany's top aces of the Second World War, Adolf Galland commanded the fighter arm of the Luftwaffe from the end of 1941 until 1945: Credited with 103 kills by Luftwaffe statisticians, he was a tactician skilled in the handling of fighter forces. He always attributed the In 1932 he joined Germany's Luft affe's defeat in the Battle of Britain to the fact that it was ne properly deployed by Goering, who used its fighters as a strategic rather than as a tactical weapon.

Thus, the Messerschmitt Mel09 was used as a bomber escort - a role for which its short range made it unsuitable — rather than being used to attack the RAF's fighters. The flawed German system of using Luftflotten, air fleets of. mixed fighters and bombers. rather than organising them as separate commands told against them when they were concentrated against the numerically inferior but tactically superior RAF in the summer of 1940

Throughout the war Galland was a fearless critic of his boss, Hermann Goering, whom he regarded as being unfit for the command he held. With his thick, black hair and moustache, easy grin and cigar clamped between his teeth, even when airborne, Galland was a reassuring figure to his young pilots, and after he attained general's: rank always remained "one of the boys".
Adolf Galland qualified as a glider pilot while in his teens. commercial airline. Lufthansa, and when it was formed, transferred to the Luftwaffe. He flew 300 missions for the Kondor Legion during the Spanish Civil War and gained: much valuable experience of operations.

At the outbreak of the Second World War Galland was in a training post and took no part in the air operations of the Polish campaign. But by April 1940 he was back to active service in fighters and took part in the air attacks which supported the invasion of the Low Countries and France in May 1940. As an officer in the celebrated Jagdgeschwader 26 be played a prominent part in the Battle of Britain, making a name for himself along with Werner Mölders and Helmut Wick as: one of the most successful pilots on the German side. In August be was appointed to lead a fighter group in the battles which raged in the skies over the Channel and the South East of England. In the following year he was involved in countering the RAF's daylight fighter sweeps over

Much of Galland's success as a fighter pilot was due to his never underestimating his opponents: unlike Goering he did not make the mistake of disparaging the RAF's capacities at the outset of the Battle of Britain. Indeed, he is said. jokingly to have told the latter when questioned as to Luftwaffe needs during the battle, that a squadron of Spitfires would benefit the performance of his Gruppe. Mölders had been made Inspector of Fighters in 1941-but was killed in an air crash later that year and in November Galland was appointed to succeed him. In the following year he was promoted to become, at 30, the youngest general in the German armed

For the next two years it was his melancholy task to attempt to orchestrate an air defence for the Third Reich against the numerically and technically superior air forces of the Western allies, and to witness the total destruction of his .command under the relentless night and day onslaught mounted by the RAF and the US 8th Army Air Force, It was a tribute to his qualifies as a leader that he was nevertheless continually able to inspire his pilots whose numbers daily dwindled, especially heavy toll being taken of their attempts to break up the massive daylight raids of the American bomber squadrons with their powerful longrange fighter escorts.

Nevertheless he was always alert to make the latest techni-cal advances available to his pilots and continually strove for tactical innovations which would offset the Luftwaffe's inferiority in numbers. Thus such novelties as rocket and even bomb attacks were ex-perimented with, against the tightly packed American bomber formations.

Although rising to high command, he retained the mentality of, and sympathised with, the problems of the front line pilot with whom he was prone to side in the frequent arguments between the operational units and the Supreme Command. In particular, he was a severe critic of Hitler's inidal decision to deploy the new Me262 jet lighter - which would have given the Luftwaffe a perhaps decisive air superiority over the Allies - only as a fighter bomber.

This stance made him enemies and in January 1945 he was relieved of his command when Goering ordered him on permanent leave without naming a successor. However, he did fly operationally again and was shot down in combat with an American Mustang fighter a formight before the end of the war.

After the war Galland pursued his interest in commercial and military aviation and was for a period a consultant and adviser to the Argentine Air Force.

Galland typified to a degree the chivalry which existed between combatants in the air and was a popular figure at the air force reunions of his old adversaries. He was, for example, a welcome figure at the thanksgiving service for the life of the legless RAF ace Sir Douglas Bader, in St Clement Danes Church in the Strand, in 1982.

He was married with two children.

ALEXANDER SEDGWICK Alexander Sedgwick

American journalist. died in Athens on January 19 aged 94. He was born in Stockbridge, Massachusetts, on February 8. 1901. A PROFOUNDLY cultured man, Alexander ("Shan") Sedgwick was a great lover of poetry and would recite it with surprising case even when he complained that old age had weakened his memory. He kept a dog-eared copy of the Oxford Book of English Verse always within reach, even on his deathbed. But it was in the less gentle art of journalism that Sedgwick really made his name. As a foreign correspondent for The New York Times throughout the Second World War, he covered the Balkan scene and the Greek-Italian from in Albania from his base in Athens. He fled Greece, as the German Army approached the capital in April 1941, and set up his base in Cairo. From there he covered the Desert campaign of the Brinsh Eighth Army, reporting the battle of El Alamein. Characteristically, he neglected to inform his editors in New York that he himself had been wounded in the battle.

Sedgwick's reminiscences of the Albanian and Desert campaigns produced his first book Wind Without Rain, a social satire. Later, in a second book Tell Sparta, he recounted what had happened in the war and the story of the Resistance in Greece.

In October 1944, as the Germans were bearing a hasty retreat from Greece, Sedgwick joined Brigadier George Jellicoe's Special Boat Squadron at Megara in order to be with the first British troops to enter Athens. In 1947 he was appointed an honorary OBE for his wartime reporting.

Alexander Cameron Sedgwick was born in a fine 18th-century house, one of the Stockbridge. His family was of British lineage and, with a deep sense of tradition, he was always to remain proud of his ancestral heritage. He felt a loyalty towards the British people and a love for practically all things Brirish. At the age of 19 he took a job as a deckhand in a cattle-ship and worked an uncomfortable passage to the UK, - "the Old Country", as he liked to call it. After graduating from Harvard in 1924, Sedgwick was recommended by his uncle, then editor of the Atlantic Monthly, for a post at the New Fork World. His employers, however, soon decided that he was a "pinko". He used to tell this story with amusement since later in life he was often accused of belonging to the "far Right". He was, for instance, the only American correspondent who treated the 1944 Athens putsch as a Moscow conspiracy to bring Greece into the Soviet orbit rather than a revolt of oppressed democrats.

His reporting during and after these events showed a clear understanding of British policy in Greece at a time when it was being vigorously challenged both at home and in the United States. This experience, and the Civil War that ensued, inevitably hardened his ideological approach. and after his retirement it induced him even to express sympathy for the Greek colonels who, taking advantage of the turmoil in Greek politics. seized power in 1967.

His first assignment with The New York Times in 1925 was as a junior police reporter. a job he endured until 1928. He then moved to Europe where he worked as a sherry salesman while writing his first novel. After briefly joining the Associated Press, he rejoined The New York Times in 1937, becoming a member of its staff in 1939 and filing for it regularly throughout the Second World War. From 1944 until his refrement in 1961, he served as the New York Times correspondent in Greece and Turkey.

He is survived by his wife Roxanne Sotiriadi, the daughter of a Greek professor of archaeology. There were no children.

CAPITAL FLIGHTS

ALL BUNGPEAK & WORLDWIDE DISCOUNTS AVAILABLE: Patall Agent

FLIGHTS

50 LISA 50 Careta 50 Carlitour 50 Africa 40 For East 50 S.America 50 Austria

OVERSEAS TRAVEL FOR SALE 1791-1995 other remains. Ready for pre-n. - sho ." Bundays". her When. 0181-088 arets, Villes/ages, hote possedes, golf hole, fligh Longmere Int'l, U1 $1 654 245 Rend agents, ARTA E145K 311-975 FLIGHTS RENDEZVOUS WANTED wasted-0171-229 9618. HOLEX AND CARTER had con strong paid. Tel: 0171 409 MUSICAL -INSTRUMENTS

IQE. Discounts on new 5/1 d. digital. Yeangchang. Wabiff
d. Yannaha. Controva mainfealer. Rental/ Purchase getting. Pres cathogun. Too Place Workshop. 30 Highwale
Md. Lekslow, NWO, 037, 267
7877, 8 112 Dewill Rd. Surviva.
Survey 0181 3399 4210 ALTERNATIVE

PIANO SALE! Chains from 100's of new & inconditional Upright, Grand & Deligal planet. You can green three one from only 120 the mouth with an option to r month with an option to MARKSON PIANOS 0181 854 4517 (SE18)

0171 436 3616 الأزارة المناب UP TO 60% DISCOUNT ON SCHEDULED FLIGHTS WORLD LINK Agents for ATOL controllers

01476 74111 TEL: 0171 538 8273 TRAILFINDERS >

Low cost flights worldwide AND UP TO 65% DISCOUNT ON HOTELS & CAR PENTAL DI UP TO 65% DISCOUNT ON HOTELS & CAR
CONTRIBUTED TO THE COMPLET T

Atte

OSTGUTTEMS on Dights & hole to Europe, URA & mast destina-sione, Dipiomet Travel Services Lot: 0171-750 2201. ASTA 26703 IATA/ATOL 1266. The state of the s Tel: 01273 70073

ANNOUNCEMENTS please contact Larry A. Vog c/o Fax 001-615-641-0000.

Brillant . POSITION Free Voucher What more could a girl want? All my love, Pete.

TV QUIZ Do you earn 100k+ a year? Would you like to take part in a fun tr quiz show on UK Lifestyles? If so please ring Ricochet Films 0171 251 6966

ANNOUNCEMENTS How near we are to the cure... idepends on you LEUKAEMIA RESERVED FUND 43 Great Occasional Street London WC1H 2H WZ-600 S1M1 relating Branches Sermines School

USE WELL POWER TO CHEAT DEATH We do. Kidney research sav lives. So do legacies. MATIONAL

RESEARCH FUND 3 Archers Court, Studeley Road, Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire PE18 8XG Telaphone 01490 454926

The Malcolm Sargent Cancer Fund For Childre The young people to whom we give practical help have the will to live and many of them do I By remembering the Fund-in your Will you will enable us to expend our work. For further information please contact

te en 0171 937 4405 or write to 14 Ablanden Rose London WS 6AF, Registered Charity No. 256435

THE LOVE LETTERS OF GENERAL BOOTH. A NOTABLE LIFE STORY.

Mr. Harold Beghie has not spared paper and print in his * Life of William Booth * published to-day by Macmilian. In the two thick volumes in which he tells the story of the founder of the Salvation Army there must be close on 400,000 wonis, and the author, as well as the General, often repeats himself.

The man was a born fighter and a born leader of men. He was withil, headstrong, passionate and fond of fur. But as a child he was not happy. No one, he says, told him anything about religion. At the age of 13 he was apprended to a Unitarian payabroker, and two years later, after a struggle with his conscience, which led him in humble himself by confession to another boy whom he had wronged, he decided of his own accord "to go in for God." A little later, influenced by the call of the streets, he began to do mission-work among the surers, he began to do mission-work among the boys of the Nottingham sturns. At the end of his six years' apprenticeship he came to London, and while continuing his double career of pawn-broking and succe-preaching met Catherine Muniford, line high-minded and altogether exceptional girl who afterwards became his wife.

The latters that covered how are them within these. The letters that passed between them while they stood on the threshold of the wonderful love story of their life are singularly beautiful. Hers were full of the tender advice of the woman who must mother the object of her love." My dearest love,"

ON THIS DAY

February 14, 1920

The life of General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, was never uneventful and often tempestuous, and it is clear from Mr Begbie's biography how much he owed to his remarkable wife, Cotherine Mumford.

she writes, "beware how you indulge that dangerous element of character—ambition. rected. it will be everlasting ruin to yourself and, perhaps, to me also ... Don't indulge in ambrion to be either a revivalist or anything else . . . Watch against more animal excitement in

He, for his part, wrote often of his preaching rie, for his part, whose cuter of his preacting experiences as well as of his love and his personal needs: "My dearest and most precious love,——I just scribble you a line. Tuesday and Wednesday evertings were the most triumphant I ever witnessed under any circumstances. ... Last night twice or thrice I became alarmed, the excitment was almost overwhelming; I feared for the people.
I feared lest we should not be able to keep the reins of the meeting. The cries of distress were thrilling.

piercing, running, as one gentleman expressed it, through you to your finger ends. Some were violent, commenced shrielding, clapping the forms, etc.; these I stopped directly; in fact, all the more violent I stopped as soon as I could. If I doubted, as in two instances, sincerity, I stopped them authoritatively: if I had confidence in them I poured on the belim of Jesus' salvation and the sweet promises of His word, and they soon turned sweet promises at riss word, and they soon torned their tears and wailing into joy... Give my love to mother. Gut me two good shirts and two night wirts, I yard and 4 long at least, ready to send next week when I send you word. Farewell, Heaven bless and care for thee."

In 1865, after a period of wonderful success as a revivalist preacher, during which most of the chapels as well as the churches shut their doors in his face, he came again to London. Ten years of work in the East-end streets brought him at last to the conviction that the only way by which the people whom he was trying to save could really be changed was by making them in their turn seekers and savers of the lost. It was this conviction that eventually led him in 1878 to found the Salvation Army.

Mr. Begbie presents with judicious restraint and perfect fairness the contrast between the two remaining phases of General Booth's life—the period of the army militant, when almost every man's hand was against it, and the later patriarchal period, when, as his biographer says:

"He ceases to be an object of scom: he became a hern of the armed?" hero of the world" . .

T Rosemary's lest | lie (suptite) my lovely eight times Valentine ARUNDEL LADY Thank you for our year. I would not have changed is in any val Vour loving Ven. we're the opes that elways will be Kathleens: Entity John

BANANAS What's in a name? Tune into Virgin Radio, Monday 8.15am And yours could win you £20,000

B. One crowded hour of gloriou life is worth ou age without name. B. R. P.S. and I love you. B. MASYNOSE I can't wait to be Mrs Benymone. All my love, Hugh. RAMBS Deticions, determible, destroble, georgeous, sylphiliss, adored by naughty old Sadget don guaranteed. Doc

XXXXX

A.J. Ten years on I still love you more than ever. S.P.

A.P.S. - Miles mean nothing my heart files to you! Electrally yours. V.R.O. XXX

AAH up where you belong Love from Mr Luggs.

DORABLE Ellern that you specking eyes should claim to is my desire.

ADRIAN The guardian of my 500 mude, my life, my sore always

A heart drowns in golden honey, a loud sings somets for you, whitst these birds fly to carry my Valentine.

aime Shirile comme Hacu

U.L. Heray can up for his little Jane is to give love long lastin

AMARYLLIS, You're beautif and I love you. Can't was h April, XXXXXXXX

MORE Man you, rains you, him you, can hardly wall for the rabbit slaw, love Terry.

AttpREW The one thing I know for sure is that we lote each other. O vive sweet lamous Lamous, iscoour. Oh yes, we love sech offer, and vive sweet lamous, AJ KKK

ANGEL loving cou make each amile from your heart more beautiful and each moment more importantio share.

there you are my special valen-time, my love lor you gets strett-ger everyday Thank eou valentine, I love you Anna.

ARIA BB. Did you raise me? All my love Suly B??

ARMS of Granada PU love you always, now and lorsuet and all of my days: (Philip)

You're my delly bliss Love S.K.

MNIE: The old on is still under the spell of ginger witch

Ni, you are my only Valentine oth whom I shear all my lose

MNDUCHKA, We is not so sweet so love, be my Valentine.

ANN P Be my Valentine. With all my love, J.C. XXX

ANN Steam roller your way to my heart. My love always C

OUESTIONABLE

OPENING LINES

$

wonderful years Love now and always.

BARBARA 25 years and flame still strong. Looking forward to the steed 25 years. BARBARA Forsier-Russell: Al my love, Valentine's day, every day, Fudges Dad.

BECAUSE life is short and the road timevent, and because of the power of love; Dominic Scriven and Rose Nugori pladged to be happing wed.

you. I love you. Benny. JOCK

B. fancy you' more than ever talking is the only solution LAS.K. or always H. BIGBUM My bornes are old, the room is cold.

Sty time is ebility fast, but I always kniew.

sance I first met you, surce I first met you.

Our love was built to last.

Powyrful Paddy.

my love F... Bupn. to led now). Lots of love X SLUTEBELL Always Utinking of you. Lots of lave from Spoots

BONNIE Deepty, medicy. passionately love you always, P BOORIS See entry at top of list. PROCES Punk elephants Literates
Harry the hat Mestigher Grande I love you very must always. Boom. BOX 9451 Valentining to my sexy smoothing Hosmicing totalty satisfying bequirelly belding R. Fondest love YOCK BOY or girl the Clangers with twars love you both. BRAVE SOLDER Lob of love on Velentines Day. From Duzzle and Clopde.

ROCK. Brighto Brech Hat Hopefull Happiness All my love. BROWN EYES I will think that you are wonderful. Always will. will.

age a broamstick. Brandle.

Buth DARLING - Voo've had the bug for over 25 years now. Haven't we done well? All my love. Bus. XXX BUFFY Love always Bas XXXX BUMBY You have been so strong and loving. I love you from the bottom of my heart, giveny junity, souscook BUSENYKIRS, my sweeter and most impetions all my love from Micky Rabbit. TH love you forever. Hubby.

BUNTIN I love you, you love me so let fly together to eternity Love, Neil XXXXX BUSITY The pretiest porter in the larmyard: I also dream of Bessle with the light brown hair. Martin. BUSHBASY blue eyes. Thenk you for saying yes! It's definately euphorever! always. O.B. BUT Binker's always Sinker and is curtain to be there. BUTTOMS I love you more than ever. From your very own identifice. BUTTON Shupple ple and cuddle custerd lonight? I love you Devey Waves

CAROLE Pag gulactic manager? SELOVED, she yearly and stronger them every. Therefor for the completing Love Page.

Experiment of the completing the completi

CHARLES STEWART YOU are always to my thoughts, my secret lave surrounds con. If only I could let the world, J.J. CHARLOTTE Our destu are feet eway, why must our tearts be miles apart 7 Ben. CHELLI con Carney. My lavouri valentine dish. I'll devour yo in March. OK? Love ????????

Need TLC? Call PPP healthcare

now There's always a friendly voice at the end of the phone.

0800 33 55 55

PPP healthcare

CHOP chop busy Lizzy work work busy bany bany ver plose.

CHRES, Fur behaved like a low dewn hed. Drink, debts, hes and that ally woman. Forgive the John Stanley.

CHRIS Your my private dancer. Simply the best, Kies, All my love, J 200 CHUSINY of Ewhurst, we love you From Chumble, Alex. the Georges', Billy and The 'Boys' C J T VVMT five years our love fusion pleasure pain and deepest facilings. CLARE B. I never imagined that I would grow to want, to need and to love you so much. Love Jon. Jon.
CLASSE you are my sunstine.
You are my life, be my vicentine CLASSE I have been planning to tall oraybody what I'm about to tall oraybody what I'm about to tall. That is, I love you!

CLARKE I've got a frog lo my throat - which is silly. Much love G. Rivet thet.. CLIVE Shiret you're my obse-alon forget discretion I love you Lise. CLIVE he so pice you being to my jite, love slwsyy Karen. CMM remember it you over been a husple ris always there 123. COCKER Loves your buby blue cives, Marry me Barbara. Stoo my sights. COCOMUT deatest we're so sad when we're apart, but you're always in my heart, loving Dade and the children.

yet to be.

COMCRETE cassons contain Lagoonfuls of leasyes lave for Lodester of lady's life. CLIDDLE Bumpy 'Eternal love maintain thy love in me' Huggy Bear

PLANIANCE NEGOT. YOU melt mo heart. Less baths in honey for-ever - Bricosypose XXX. DARLING Honey Burny Jo, only fifty six until we go. I can't wall All my love the Hampohire Hop.

DAVE Love your odd.chaped bail. lef's bave a scrumi Love. McL DAVE, you are my Valenth today and always. All my lov Ruth. DAVID The sexiest hornies intelligent MD around, you're too good to waste, hope you find comeace extra special twherever you aret). With love a friend, admirer, B. XXXX DAVID let me good for you and your sotophone because you are so good for the Ste.

DAVID Sectestone 1 adore cou and I want the world to know.

All my love State. DAVID darling life together grown more precious as tim-goes by ...M.D. DAVID true Valentine look to my ledder any time. All Love Must.

DAVID Chart see you in Chester Saturday night for dinner, love Allson. DAVID loves ples. David loves, likes once met Lts. David ? DAVID P.F.T.D July 21st. I love you. N. DAWNIE diamonds are forever, so are stallions. U.D. 7300 theys of Heesen. Bertin Mehico, Premie, towal I neve loved anybody the way that invo you. Everything's about you. Just you - and Jesse, Jed-and Vincenti DAZZING Sparking Dahhie do-ighted, de-ictors, de-irechie, de-ictable, de-vastating, de-iones, de-voted, de-maddening, De-mented. DDF I hope that you test your star but leep ob chimins. Love king Fros.

DIARE hat love fantacte after twenty three years Love always Dave 2000: DI Ride the wind with me below everythings possible. Let the fire your desires (without smoke)

are free now, how about some reare long 'tunches', from the Rep who loves beards.

DOUGLE We'll share our love on Aphrodian's latend. Till then, hast cuedles with Rosy. DREAMING to amortisms near ness and love an varietien eve-nings of sexy Heathron embracing in love shadleship. Diff Richmend the long sessions of waiting have been there that worthwhile. You will always have my heart, Miss Honey. BUCKLING Ten years together and the more I know you, the more I love your

NCE FOR WOMEN

D. You may be able to give reading, old I will server be a to give up loving you. Not a for a week. D.C.

SERT I SQ loves you more the Scoty, moore the Manchego?. You know yo can always trust a Reft

of the pasty ghour. XXXXXX

ELEPLA, to just one year you have become the centre of my life History champer bytam. ELIZABETH summersize is you ting closer, by my valentine an EMER Dering Honeybur. I lo you with an uncontrollable po stop Tristan. Expert.

EMBLA, Now Wester's pone and regamen's on the way, wish it accompany your Mast each and or one day. Agade Michael

EMMA Pursey. Warren Street: Twickenham. Sad Boys Sherier, Los Loces to Ch. Latico, Golden Eye to Seve Nos Edward VV. to Nic Charles, True Romance. Love

aramis

OCAREST Twentype Face, our hyppiness together and love for each other will last torever! Butter and

DEAREST Some the last month has been great, You has know a has? Deepen love, Rahul

DEAR Jenuma All my love . Phi

DEAR LOURSE Transis for let wonderful chourts. I'm sure the future will better still. Happy Valentines Day, Love, Paul.

DESCRIPTION OF YOU TOTALLY AN ARTHUR PORTY TOTALLY PROPERTY NAME AND THE PROPERTY MAIN.

Well-You Crasses

Dell-Cittle Des I love you and was: everyone to know. Please always be my Valentine. Thank you for everything. Saily.

return to

Always my love, I jove beens, spikes & soul

ARLING KAREN No house, no furniture, but I still 'pine' for EVELYN The embers of my esta-tions you farmed into furms. low you medy and forever G. EVER through you're a Phildere-neld susporter I will always love you. See you to Backmool 1002. EVE - Truby madby deeply?

Absolutely! Additionally! exclusively, constantly.
unconditionally, stemally.

F.M. The cider are becomes, the greater one loves, O.P. F.W. I sore you so much. Ratty. PATHER CUDELEMAS Hope Venturing and Later but I will come spain by love. In it were ben bousing mile. PATHER CUDELEMAS Hope Venturing Day with love Pathylogic and the sale XOCC. FAYOURITE BARY of mine Make my dep' be my velentine. huge and cuddles are yours to claste 'SUPPLIT' let me show you now to play my state. FELSITY. As the sun burns through the day so do f love you, in the soft quiet hours of the hight I have you, and wen at the light lades from my eyes I will job a you thereto. Philip.

PRET Rate, Each Capital Kindles Loving Extinct.
Thosis and villa
drate only a beautiful memory.
"Where are year". C. PECED in "sig", Heaven in "seven". Jan in: "sight". Aust cam's waith Luv you Fred so let's get wed? PLOWER of the West is witting without the Spirit. FLUIDE Another year my tru love both my heart all year.

to catch you. Be my Ve Please Tries Chevrens. FRANCESCA LEVETT You are my love my life, my chesty in the parties. FRANCES A get who's tun, a girl hed to but you Live J. TOVE Joshon.

File United Sending you all are form on Valentines Day. Helen, Nucl. Park. NOX.

GEORGE You flustly biol. https://dec.nov.valentine.arm.php. helm. Valentine.arm.php. helm. Valentine.arm.php. helm. Valentine.arm.php. pages contentions. Lovy Rig P NOX.

GEORGE The members. GRURGE The greatest inspects of the 20th century. I hope not for you I am sorty.

GERRI, I given's have am always will love you, Please marty me. CELL Foreive me dear my low the we are worlds apart Chelse Carl don't break my beart C both. Note:

GIRL Not: I wish to most melther an only recogned without your and only recogned without you.

GHILLA, nothing to time print in ever book news. The house of this, to may be the and conditions to you exhaus to make the print of SO. All my love. Brian. G, my special RWA. Let's mail this a good one, bare with the my friend Luy u lots R.W. XXX SOLD Card, silver wing, bias sports car, massive credit time Nice But all that matters i your precious love and oo wonderful family From M Stores Manager.

GRANT, Our love is warth pre-close, and will always be true-sored. Forever in adoration, Jo. GREY predictable parenold the man with no tests in ciothes it.) eattleav The longer we less together, the longer I love you Grubby, X X X X X

EWIL, Life without you would be tike a broken bench. Pointless

H.R.w. Love via S.M.K.W. for M.J.W.

H.L. Still loving after all these years log Either Dog. Dis Paul.

HALP A Day well become a tife time. Never death your other. I'm yours, love you, Miles.

HAMPER-POTTS Delicious lov and acrumptions thoughts from Ps-on and thermb close. MAMPSTER I love you with all my heart my mind and little floper passionately Teady. Gruer.

HAPPY Valentime. I care. I cao wall long.

HAPPY Valentime's Day Pook from your devoted Spusses.

HAPPY Valentime's Day Pook from your devoted Spusses.

HAPPODE cool laddes. Alberts Christmes entire. Lynns tasiness care.

HAPPODE cool laddes to the look process these not best line. Process these not best line ab't residentally.

HAPPODE The very best mod the most special, love. One Tay Process.

HAPPODE AND THE PROCESS.

HELEN, Love to my Valentin from across the sea. Also, HELLO PIE, Love South.

HELSEY Babe be my special Value Big P. HENRY My darking, forever len-king criptigh, our love keem growting. Fl. 'PERRE'S intenting you 'sexy', All 'try love facetor more and arways. Les. ger here, fost get here if you can. All my love, Hayler XX

COTTE, & you play these trucks g will tell you a story. Hootie truck 4. You Morrison-Days like this-truck 1. Sophie B Hawking-Whater-truck 6.6 & & Mendion-belighters/front-truck HOPPY stop hopping and let's start bossing t much lave from your BW. HOW beautiful you are lind not pleasing. D love, with you delights Song TV6 Margi. How you, Your Mont. RUBATY Beaves left on he beed. RDE thought the we dead. H & S feared for her sur yival but thought's limit ensured a payival.

H. You're thy best friend. I love you more so neril XXXX

I love you Gigl. You are my roul most and the only person I evist want to be with. Never doubt it. And Oriens so our secret. Feel. Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.

Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Ten Phy. 2001.
Big Bugs & Masse, Bugs love you now as I always but and so it will always be, I hope you understand that more now you're on H.R.T. LOVE you pasterday, I love you today, I love you souroday. I love you souroday to row you four, no force, but for not firee, but four.

1 LOVE you buildha man, the lake soudess.

"M : one man," who althous minity natired would live i visit Hotel Minella for dinner eight and dirir dawring. I'M your big, and he's your title.

Be our Valentine and you'll be in the maddle.

I never botleved drawns could come true until I that you.

Blante 18 Title the first time you've opened The Times and no turned to the crossword first? Love to Que 2005. BTILL love steek lines of SEC black beauty siler 5 years. TCHY Bones I love you. Will you many me? Your Welsh Witserd.

IVANHOE, My knight to rust armost You have captured my heart. Forever and always Lady Rowens. WARDENED lonely as a cloud until 1 gried you, my love, my somes, my leo. 1 lave you barrie.

JANET

NANCY EACH YEAR SIMPLY THE BEST

5.8. - My favourte gym teacher to the world. I love you. A.O. J. I wash I had look you all those ...yetca.ago I love you. You age furever in my moughts. your Charab. LP, but heart, my soul, my whole being are yours forever, I love you. It.

J. Thinking of a new parts for you. Are you did snough?

L.A.M.U. Sparks. J. 2 yes sup the Night want out at my 16s, despite a full moon a and up my bitthaus, think of you, miss you, new you tour everyday, plane, let the know how you are, where ever you are now. JACK speaking the s.w.

JACKE FE love you more lovery. Love Brian JACKIE Sound, Did you burt yourself when you fell from JAKES, Brief 'encounter this im't, always intep the love you save, O.H.C. JAM he my write, my best frien and my Rid. I'll love you to ever. Stewart. JAM, I love you more today to yesterday, trut less than too row. He mine forever, John

LAW What can I say after at these years except I love you Secretag Dick JEAN Darling. I love you more every year, thirty more please Keth. MENNIFER will you Srighten WITH MY life is yours together with my love.

JE TADORE Yes so much so I will shut it myself. JILL I type you tend, no millions and fallions and frillions of tens. Have a wonderful Valentines Day, even more love Centum.
Jish My during heres to Placcat! In Francial Love always your Medican. JOAN DARLING My syclosury Valentine 1984 elementy, a my low. John. OMNNY. 1944 1996 Springs, Summers, two children, Antonius, Winters, three grand children, All plottons loving, P. JOHNAY Thought about you 429 times since we last mai will it be 4046 mare before we meet against Frankle.

JOYCE 10 rears together state and steere side, much low

JULIA Cartisle grantings school has long since gone, but the love of this stath former is so strong as ever.

-37 -4.

- 3-4-50 - 3-4-50

7.2

-42.00

KAREM We love you lots and lots and lots. Love from H. D + A. thel I love you, love S. WAREN, Date Atlanta fight, will went seat next to you. KATE I love you hears, petal. Air MATTE still the breezes blow, still old love keeps on the go. Kurtiski is grie our armiversary? 'I am 'yours, you are mine for ever, it love you Tingle. If No matter how many liketimes we tree I lare you atward. KMOWANG you has given my life meaning and purpose. I love you.

L. It's never too late, Better times are sheed I am wave. L.R. LADY P. Joves Professor P., he JSA thirteen years and still going strong, now will you believe that I love you. Allebant JITTLE bear shedgen debedaba ITTLE squeezy bush we lave and miss you Love Poppet 1 & 2.

LITTLE Buddhs. Pipey Touge Missiedo. Big Buddhs. Minute-do. Big Buddhin. LITTLE pands. I love you more than ever. Big you. Way we go. Chrystal Tips. Wos thee thrice. All my love. L LITTLE Bear is loved more stal-more each day by biggest Bear. Lift towed you back in '59, Love you more now. Say cou'll be my Valentine.

and more offers to 11 other cities, see your travel agent, or phone: 0121 252 3665 Thomson CITYBREAKS aight in 17 hotel in taalfet

TUSCANY Per Donna aramis

ROMANTIC * MEMORABLE *

SMAZ I love you, my emer' super year Part's plumpeur. Marries Auryston

CHEEA, my cars eyed beauty The adventure and

The adventure goes are with you at ar tweeter and us always closer. Lone, always, Jon-Jon.

SHEELA We both love your! Barnath Great Dane: and Great XX

SHERAKING I fore you to places. Foreign. Don

SHELD MY INTO YOU'ER LAW A FREE GENERALLY JAMES Y FREE
GENER

SHIPMERRIES Stammingson Shippin shocked should chickets shower stames on hi old chicket am I cracket.

$1 love you more each hour, you will always be no flower forms former F.

State foreer's.

SHAVER back loves Thress Canstic engineering imports' regard Paper breaks out stonedly wissing you the the dwest must be fain Love always, Faith

Mattry Bartle and Ken can or Anotice. I'll lone you covered. Paul plan Francy bundle pro-dence and Held. Held accord

SMALL BEAR Hugging you is knowing you. I love you more such day fruh

SMART ARSE: We may be along the but we're leader. I'll help my 16mm entil but met for you love you. Durab Banay was you to bits - so does Pop

REGORY: B. Real Brace).
Radion Brice. Story Same.
Revealing Senger. Par Bosts.
Romanic Servine.
Romanic Romanic.
Bed? - Roses Burich XXXX

SHUFFLE sending all my love to you being spart is one big boo Alvesse bours. Nasi SATUFFLEXIBLE LOSKING SOWARD to entirely our years and a smalle losight. Humphrey SATUGGE ET VARRENCY. BOTH YOUR DON'S OVER JOHN WITH ALL THEIR BEACH. B. BOS & L. BROCK.

Caddlebum WG SLR.

OM

MARIA, my greek baba. Fit miss you in Cormany - Your Hockey player. MORREY FEST | leve you now and for always spines kness RETIRED CIVIL for ant seeing life-lates of position with accretion 31 year old partner. Third age lates for their affection During Low Miles orbit peret to sens Lore abusto T TURAN Mil broutful brown word baby when can be filter nate together again? Low you zively, your winter Beat.

RETINE with the and he pry friend, let sensons blend and, love suffice, while blood's still warm, time M all. RESETT free wife, it just down't get any befor than the Love you forever dertine. AWA

RIBBLE BOX I love you immerse abnorms always and forevery Outs Outs.

RICHARD after Nigeria are your eth on the stanet? Love Jean Phrase Repty to Bor No S649

RICHARD stero are the words think you've been waiting for-lets you Jane, NCK

ATTA I don't care what they say about you I think you are airight. Fondest love, Miske

ROBERT, to Love of Love be

STORE THE THY HE THE STORE WITH THE STORE WITH THE STORE METHOD TO STORE WITH THE STORE WITH THE STORE WITH THE STORE ST

ROSES are red. vedicts are bitse. at now and before. I will always love you Mappy Antitivesary.

ROSES are red. Percy's is blue you're my Tass Cruise and love you

DEES Are red. Vision are blue period. Carettee I toke you MOSY, sweetness, televad mine afer, yet close together. This year, any forever, To Bull, my saigning.

Time peaces, Prompts remain.
Love you teday, nonerrow and alvens, Suge.

RUSTY - ADC BS Adorphic, desiculate, curry and beast; ristly ways, All ms, love - ATISC.

ps and margs to the T belding building I recent rising deems. illing all because of er always love you. Rougue .wishes ou special lady a very sday ' Kildarabaca'.

pecial dream com happiness. Love i Hopsiess. life is love, you are LYN All my love so always day ling, your own, Ray.

LYARRE Loads of love from the three men in your life. Love Ryan, Oliver and Populcie.

M.J love and marraige do go togother, many mers, years shead, tole you forever, W.E. MADELENE him winter gloom into suramer with one andie, you've ansazing. Edward.

MARIDA However I'm acting Whatever I've said, I still love you. Lets talk soon. MARION Guy with our another substree in my arms while the listing blooms and the hornbill stops. Nigel. MARION Another common had definished the same Valentine. I love you. Y. MARION You are our Valentine, we love you, Peter, Men. Topy. MARJA-LEENA Abre miss your oh my heart and head hours. Happy times, Garate.

MARK I miss you. You pusice me laught All my love, Claire. MARIK, my force for you is in The Times. The me up in beather black. You take me to the world above, because you are my only MARTIN Nat King Cole was right. Unforgenable that's what you are's Love you always and forever. MARTIN Lovel-Knight. So I've blown 519...heat I do love your Armie. MASSEE do you remember floriember to Sentine? Jo raine buttours, sentine? Jo raine toutours, sentine? Jo raine toutours, sentine and the sentine to make which is errorves. ing 143.

MAJORE, words eloquent and improvers a words eloquent and improvers a management and interesting and improvers a management and interesting an ARRA Thank you for 1.4 February 1995. You atwars were won-downs a you still are George MSET me on the bridge, bring the ring. Fil. have the pank carnations, and together we'll find the church Never stooped loving you. Social XXX. MEET you at best beecht Looking forward to the rest of our lives lossibler. Running Chesius Meet in you, your to me. I'm stand by you. All my love forever to my besulfed lady Calvin.

Casyon.

MisiMi Jimmie burnichen, lied der lieder: 2:3-5, 7:9b, 8:2, 8:6-7 geine Burny.

MisiAHAT You're still the coolest girl ground. Wow. I love you, Ansyn. MELAMIE tornes means been loads buildles stacks of love you are atways on my saind The Flower Shop Boy well-Affill, Don't get too big for your bral Love ya. Jimbo. Tourism and Benji. NOCOOK MELLY, You're the best, be mine for silvens blosse, I love you mady, Your boy, T.R. MEME I love you today and afways whatever the weather ton and snow, Love Corn Mint. MICHAEL Have I told you today how much I love you?

MICHELE String Archives, Vage
Sipel Capella, Procyon Allide Aldebaran; the brightest sheet over my desert Michael.

BEICHELE (one L), How did I com-MICHELE (one L). How did I cope before you aspented, tave, kings, thunks. MAGGE Nothing will over the consult flow did Loose the consult for the consult for the consult flow did Loose the consult flow the consult flow from the consult flow flow from the consult flow from

Come. All my Josting, Your Roo.

MESS ing: OK 5 would may you.

MIT Tak. 4at oroom worth,
Anisho coris trytu occpy sha.
Oh 10. ACM. Lighten.

MLEOU - Hollo pussyrent Foolad you the five? What's the excitainent this year? Maybe conservatory blinds? Loveya Maidave. RORECA I loved you then, I love you now beer lifty years between in all those morths and all those years just twice but but briefly seen. J.

GINGER UP ST. VALENTINE'S

FROM JAMAICA

Also available in 15 litre bottles

MONKEY I tore you mady, lost of hous and kneed, from Gorman Month Parit Castor in the marks ma page has 164 notations service. MODEY With love from your favouries three boys - OW: Choppy and Squiga. MOPSY, You show straight tree my hours and the top of the my list when you handled me, Love you, W. Chi. From Simen. MOUSE I am yours. I'll PJC.
you forever. I leve you.
Bill Badger I'm ander your spell.
let him magic continue. Love
1.000a.X

"OH, The constant, the interpressible contribut of fashing safe with a person". Arms, inter and love of my interpretable to with me very seen. Labe t transactes are transacted, when we' undystee love, John. miver again. Octopiasy.

mill SOLLING Despite tentinicies.

in pretermous somposity i jove you. Consta.

Mill Consta.

Mill Consta.

Mill Consta.

Mill Consta.

Mill June Consta.

Mill June Theody-post for making the sten rise to integhiarized once more. He strong, I'm glumps with you, and touring you always. Little Minn Bomphine. Love Joe. Offe Heart bid any chance is might Hackett 7 sorry, von diamonds. MRS Features how do I love ther? With all my heart for ever your devoted cuffs. SIPS FOX Nothing has changed not will E. All my love Sh. OUR lovetes Mothy, from us at MARS WANDENDERS VILLA May our will a glave areas awaken in our villa of Jova. To grave awaken in our villa of Jova. MR TWITCHER you're the icons on the cate of which I can't est enough, From The Sauge Bulley, MACHOE Crecias for your love. missing you loss Espanol Tel. 1953. lots of kines and memories of 22 July, Tully.

wit DARLENG" Thank you for everything. God Sires you, with love.

MY descent during basis, my love for your goes buyend surings From your cuddly teddy best MY descrit Hob. Thank you for a wanderful Direc years, all my love forever. Larraine. .year I keep you more and more each day, Jimbur Jim IMY fixed charuly you make every "they "a. Tim day Cherusages "Ell alverys. Kerny Kat.

MY LOVE to like your dady "Times, ining established, horself and true, correspitated, by horself and true, correspitated yer, but, put in brist haday my Valenting Christis, My laver, Lois, put in brist haday my Valenting past for you.

PAIR. May still truby madily reached. EACHY Happy Birthbay. Life and lots of lave Battel the Non-Pleane Paul and Billy.

PERCY To Wendy observior 629 on my mind or Fundami. much.... Your prest extent ETAL I love you. Happy Valen thes Day. Purple Bonnic PETE My during man. you are everything to me, all love Ange

PICA I here always loved you Ring me 0184 638 1145. Bren.

AR MY SOME UPDE.

PRETTY Lady mover out of my moughle for more than a few moments I love you so much your member.

to est and in marry All and long. Today. PURSYCAT - YOUR Valents singular 'A one soul novels
a Lone you loss, Annel PYRABILE We mourn you can we asses you have you best always Brown Grey and Honza.

PIGLEY: me and the fuzzies and the squirrels all love you Pook PHERY. Do you believe the move? Mountains of love from your not so serve admirer PSP Please forgive me and come back. I love you. DG Pig. PLACE Jersma in losser, to arm gently, cover in jam, you're on tasky bit of crumpet. All my loss Wooday sixs

OUR torates may vary but may heart still carries valentine lone for the one I reserved. PLAN A or R. you're good for me. Sull scared, but you'll ham-age Love you. Probably definitely PLEASE love the Chome, who wants a residential perma-POMSO I love you with all my heart, forever Poops. PROFE 19 wedged years abouted have made me ward Perfect of remember my love. Should 1 loth your coulse?

POOS Where would I be without your 1900.71 live you. Always have always will The Money. PAMELA My Impatration. Your charm and beauty compare to steal my met away. Your poets wath.

PAMELA 30 years are lodgy, and Fn still in love. Heavy Breathing Patronist.

PAM Soliton at the wine our relationship macross better state of my vegrid.

PAM Little a fine wine our relationship macross better said, page, jack.

PAM You are the invest in my crewn. Lave from your treasured. soul are whorm it, love Shwern, by AsCAL, electricing woman by fair, should the first year heart's abode, I sectore I will be year eacrificial smode. And leryuse beauty and kinchenes lecod with gold you are my dray Valetties. If I may he so hold!

PAT, You have all not love now towers and a day.

PAT desired, You have won my sarvice to love, Please dont give me my for lead. Perrenality years. Captain Krightrider.

PAT desired.

THE FRAGRAN

SALLY— can't well still the weekend . Til he round tonight with a packet of Fruitellas Love COT 5 Hi. by sun and cundletter in the level of every don't most start need. Ing one

SG. Mire pers and I Love y

Junie P's "side nerve vote ruet" ASCP, I've got you bad - Ft PHIE PIC. My heart unto yours is least, so that but one heart we can make of R Steve X. of loving pures to best bins. STEVE, it's on so order, a processful units, you fait in love this is it. ESSS-PORM to you became you is made my greams come true. Caroline. BUE Assertance was but more and more balloons with the ode Mars. I love you. D. Still I love you more as the year go by - Derek. long as that someone is y Love you always, Bernard.

TO O from P - Love you with all my heart now lorever. Happy St Valentine's day. TO EMILY (who is not Emily), Remember that as the rain slasts down across the Great Wall and the strong man combinits beard, the crab scutties effection. The combine the beard of the front Emily fiving in the Emily. TO FFFF Lots of love, affection admiration and respect. You always RR TO her on the cotting from him on the floor, him e I told you lately, well I do. lorever TO J my ever understanding, lot-erant, perpetual driving instruc-

BUSAN DAVIS my Auraic sun shine and lover of tigers, Masse from Savagrana TO my cuddicable, locable old Rappus on our live valercines Day - Percy 70 my during Jane. The most SWAMAGE has arranging stars boldly bring clinometer for Erica aig kins MDMA. TO my darling descendent from the lost tribe all my love on St Valentine's Day Smol SWEET Dimple, you are my belewelled exote, eastern prin-tees, so whereit not Iragental, specking with loy, like straight in diamond. Each experience with you is an ach entere I need you I love you and I mass you. Rebole TO my derting Archie I love you destroity from your Arget Colerto
TO MY depress Airson, I will lose you for always Murray.
TO no Doiry ald Dooper, I love you from Miss. RESIDER

EWELT'S PRE R I was you d. you belier me. I know what the answer while be, if I saked you to marry me the last say year the century. Love Sponnyales darling. Dank you for your palest, white love and for our happy the loye and for our happy the loye and for our happy the loye and for our happy and loye the loye and lone you more than ever, with all my love. Dove SWEETYPOPS, Love you into and lots and lots foreser. Daughes sorganize. SWEETHIS I'd ask you, but you atredy asked. So yes I will Love you Smarty SWEETHESS want to be with you always Please me name.

WYMAS PP SWEETE My love is like a red red rose and now my rose is blooming TMD SWESTPEA I shall always love you but more deeply so three bases SWESTPEA. My dering, thank you for choosing a titeture with you for choosing a titeture with the I lose you more every day. TO my Secret Squirrel Happy Valentine with all my lose Mo-rocco Mole TO RECHOLAS V.B. Geraniums red. delphiniums blue. Nichola fruitcake 0's been 5 tokely years. Love Melante B.
TOMTO Still crary after all these TONTO Still crary after all these years. My love always and screwer, idland

TO 'OVER SO' Mature and gry, make this my special day Wife Arams I'll not result the love that comes my way From 'Special' TO Phil T. Miss you love edg. need you has you Stay warm. bebs-lictors XXX TAPAN A become soring you tim's long enough Highway Bows Jores er G.F. TO SHAROM With all my love.
John lorever always.

TO STEPHANSE All I need is a maracle, all I need is you Frizon. TAJ. its official! Hove you, irrors from the mine and percent at a cross-word come behavior ust
Forever yours - D B FREE TO SHEET PEA you are the most beautiful girl in the world! Thinking of you on our first valentime Lots of lose from Swedness. NOWO. Soverment America who is now Queen of Kingshall Every-day is Valentines day.

TO the Banker Doubt no longer (That you are the love of my life: Little Mine TO the fit cuits beautiful sexy cateurs, Your burner washes loves you like creey TO the chosets one from the man at Covenery station, I have you loo much TEARS of consider from your cres always reflect that certain moment when I first loved you. moment when I first loved you.
TECUM obsers Beens, secure tiver Ames From BC to PS TEBDY Begr, You make my wee obs woo, all my love A.O you.
TEREBA CHAPMAN - Jean oo boosey there from John THARKE YOU for the last 15 years & I look forward to the next 15 years and thank you for Scoule & Athena, Love
TAGREES AND THANKE TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO THE
TEST TO the Lady to Red, love you for ever from Lionel Richte. TOTE - I am so happy that you enjoy Coca Cola so much | jove you kit. TO US: Sun candles and new yes tetdays Love grows with each tomorrow TRACY. A million words could not express how much I love you will you marry pu? Love Andy TREAS Ten years on and still ask here I told you today?

ME cities are still burning, the Dummbe remains blue, while ever the world keeps hirthing. Darling I will always love you. THE ICE MAIDEN when the Ice moth and the rivers run, What the cold imide larns to the run, I will be trure. Michael. TILISEE Deicho in web janna nanum pyar botha hain dewamna şaver bout kyi bahon karnan jayer bout kyi bahon men marsey hum TUPPENCE, you are my mis-trees my concribies, my lover, and how, my wife, my compan-ion, my triend and I love you year much PJB. ME past, today, stways. My beloved is near, Costhe. THE PDEE MING ON how I love thee, my 3/3. From Dog Box are yuckey. Love Justin and TWEETLE For 44 years I have had your love and you what more can I possibly say:

TWEETIE Love
had your love trust care respect had you future.

THERESE Thankyou, thankyou had no had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care respect
had your love trust care res

IOCOVET, TWINKLE EYES" For Laura stak here and discover, my low is forever.

INI TAI

TAI WHITE RABBIT a thousand Wif CORRE: hoy hay salmon on of no 82 7e quereros mucho Agains, Flall, Mini El Wif Wife, friend, lover and mother of lour, What more could I wanti Happy Valentines P.S. Is there life beyond Twickenham? WISHING you a merry true prud, all the way from Toyoko Pur. WITH you mistress kings, my ladi always wags, you are so WOMEAT Can't wait to be due up and brished down! Passion and Pickanes. Fossii WOOD TURNER'S mate pines for Romeo with router and longs to be lattled in sawdust spectacular love specimers, WOOF, I'R never to a page three grif, but I could be a page 201 all my everlanting love X/X WIDDE From a reale? Love from a fonebur? We too are your force, or and a flag, XXXXXXXX

OU ARE my clown, true love remains strong, Valentine Lovely Insolvency Practitioner.

ZURICH Suran with love from

STYLISH * SENSUAL

TUSCANY PER UOMO aramis

VAT payable at time of supply

Firm) v Commissioners of Customs and Excise

Before Lord Justice Staughton. Lord Justice Ward and Sir Ralph Judgment February 7

Sections 4 and 5 of the Value Added Tax Act 1983 determined the amount of tax to be charged and the time when the charge took offert but whether a charge to tax had actually arisen was to be determined under section 2(t) of the ACL Where, therefore, consultancy services were supplied by a firm before it registered for VAT but were only paid for after registration, no VAT was payable as the firm was not ravable under section 2(1) at the time the supply was

The Court of Appeal so held in a reserved judgment allowing by a majority an appeal by the appel-lant. B. J. Rice & Associates, a tax consultancy business, against Mr Justice Macpherson of Cluny who, on March 15, 1994 in the Queen's Bench Division, had upheld the London VAT Tribunal's decision on April 28, 1992 that services supplied before the appellant's registration for VAT but paid for after registration were fully

Section 2 of the 1983 Act pro-

"(I) Tax shall be charged on any supply of goods or services made in the United Ringdom, where it is a taxable supply made by a taxable person in the course or furtherance any business carried on by

Section 4 provides:

Il) The provisions of this section and section 5 below shall apply for determining the time when a supply of goods or services is to be treated as taking place for the purposes of the charge to tax.

"(3) Subject to the provisions of section 5 below, a supply of services shall be treated as taking place at the time when the services

Section 5 provides: "(9) The commissioners may by regulations make provision with respect to the time at which ... a supply is to be treated as taking place in cases where it is a supply (a) of goods or services for a consideration the whole or part of which is determined or payable periodically, or from time to time. or at the end of any period. . ."

Regulation 23 of the Value

Added Tax (General) Regulations (SI 1985 No 586), as substituted by the Value Added Tax (General) (Amendment) Regulations (SI 1989 No 1132), provides:

"(1) ... where services are sup-plied for a period for a consid-eration the whole or part of which is determined or payable periodi-cally or from time to time, they shall be treated as separately and vely supplied at the earlier of the following times — (2) whenever a payment in respect of the supplies is received; or the whenever the supplier issues a tax invoice relating to the supplies."

Mrs Melanie Hall for the Commissioners: Mr B. J. Rice in

LORD STAUGHTON said that at some rime before October 21, 1986 the appellant had done work for a dient and sent out an invoice for £150. It was not and could not be a tax invoice under the 1983 Act. The appellant was not at the time registered for VAT, since his turnover had not reached the level where he was required to register. The bill for £150 was not paid and the appellant wrote it off as a bad

On October 21, 1986 the appel-lant registered for VAT. There was no evidence as to how long before that date the work was done and issued, only that it was hefore that date.

Over four years later, in March 1991, the client had a further need for the services of the appellant and was sold that he must first pay the fee of £150 which was still due for the earlier work, and he did so. Customs and Excise said that, as the appellant was now registered. he had to pay VAT on the supply of

The issue depended entirely on the interpretation of the 1983 Act. but it was by no means easy. There were four elements in section 2(1) of the Act. There had to be (i) a supply of goods or services in the United Kingdom; till which was a taxable supply, in other words, not exempt; (iii) by a taxable person, someone who was or ought to be registered for VAT; (iv) in the course or furtherance of any business carried on by him.

It was not disputed that elements (i). (ii) and (iv) were fulfilled when the appellant did work for the client at some time before Octuber 21, 1986, but element füij was not.

Customs and Excise said that the relevant date was not when the work was done, but in March 1991 when the ELSO was paid. They reached that result by referring to regulation 23 of the Value Added Tax (General) Regulations 1985, as amended. It was common ground that the work which the appellant did for the client came within the description provided by that regulation. Section 9(5) of the Act provided the vires for regulation

Customs and Excise thus concluded that the supply was to be treated as occurring, in point of time, when the appellant's bill was paid in March 1991. The alter-native provided by regulation 23(1)(b) was not applicable because the appellant never did issue a tax invoice, and could not lawfully registered for VAT.

At the time the bill was naid the appellant was registered; and that, he Customs and Excise said. fulfilled the requirement of section 2(1) that he was a taxable person at the relevant time.

If that was the right interpretation of the Act, it produced an unjust result. Either the appellant would be unable to recover the tax from his customer, and would have to pay it out of his own pocket; or else the customer would have to pay tax although it was not chargeable at the time when he both contracted for and received the services of the appellant.

Customs and Excise had argued that there was no injustice because either a trader can and should foresee that he may cros the threshold and word his invoice accordingly, or he could and should have required the customer to pay 25 per cent on top of the bill of £150, on the basis that late payment had brought the trans-action within the VAT net.

His Lordship did not accept that either of those solutions was apt, in fact and in law, to avoid the injustice mentioned, even if 25 per cent was an error for some other

That those who paid their bills late should suffer some penalty was wholly appropriate but his Lordship did not see why the penalty should (i) be determined by the prevailing rate of VAT, however long or short the delay, or (ii) accrue to the benefit of Customs and Excise rather than to the supplier of services.

His Lordship turned to consider whether regulation 23(1) fixed the time for deciding the question whether a supplier was a taxable person within section 2(1) of the Act. At first sight one would have thought that it did not; surely a person who was not registered for VAT, because his turnover was below the statutory limit, should be free to supply goods or services in the confident belief that reither he nor the recipient would have to bear tax on the supply? Customs and Excise argued that sections 4 and S of the 1983 Act and the 1985 Regulations determined conclusively and for all purposes when a supply was to be treated as taking place.

The appellant, on the other hand, maintained that one must first determine on the actual facts, and without deeming anything. ether a charge to tax had arisen

If any of the four requirements was absent, no tax was payable and that was the end of it. Only if all four requirements were met did one proceed to inquire what was supply for the remaining purposes of the Act. The appellant reached that result by pointing to the words for the purposes of the charge to tax in section 4(1). Those words, it was said, were only applicable if there was first a charge to tax within the ordinary meaning of section 2/I). There was a difficulty with that argument, which arose from sec-tion 41. By subsection (I), that section applied where there was a change in the rate of tax in force, or in the description of exempt or zero rated supplies.

Subsection (2) proceeded on the assumption that some of the provisions of section 5 could apply in those circumstances, and gave the supplier an option to disapply them. So section 5 was assumed to lay down the time when, among other things, one ascertained whether a supply was, or had been exempt.

But whether a supply was exempt or not determined whether it was a taxable supply and that was one of the four elements in section 2(1). On the appellant's argument those elements were to be judged at the time of actual supply and not when it was deemed to happen under section 5. So on his argument it was not necessary to disapply section S when goods that were formerly exempt ceased to be exempt; and it chieved nothing to disapply section 5 in the converse case, where xempt had become exempt.

It had therefore to be acknowledged that that obscure provision in section 41 assumed that the question of whether goods or services were exempt would have to be decided at the time when a supply was deemed to take place under section 5, apart from the exception which section 41 made.

goods that were previously not

But his Lordship would regard that as a special provision, derogating from section 2, and that in all other respects the existe a chargeable transaction had to be determined at a time, when the supply was actually made.
Common sense and justice pointed to that result: sections 4 and 5 remained to determine the amount in be charged and the time when the charge took effect. To impose a tax on the appellant in respect of a supply which was not taxable at the time when it was made seemed perilously close to retrospective taxation. Lord Justice Ward gave a concurring judgment. SIR RALPH GIBSON, dissenting, said that he agreed with the VAT tribunal. The unjustness of that result did not seem to his Lordship to be of such an order that the court should depart from what appeared to be the plain meaning of the provisions of the

Solicitor: Solicitor, Customs and

Parrett v Jackson Before Lord Justice Hirst and Lord

[ludgment January 51]

A defendant in a personal injury action who admitted negligence but did not admit any resulting damage had not made an admission of liability on which the plaintiff was entitled to judgment under Order 9, rule 6[1] of the County-Court Rules (SI 1981 No 1687 (1.201).

Therefore, a judge erred in holding that the planniff's action had been automatically struck out under Order 9, rule 10(ii) when 12 months had elapsed from service of the summons and judgment had not been entered against the defendant.

The Court of Appeal so held allowing an appeal by the plaintiff. Roy William Parrott, against Judge Brandt at Colchester County Court who, on June 27, 1995, had allowed an appeal against the order of Deputy District Judge Hodges on June 16, 1995 and granting the defendant, Ronald F. Jackson, a declaration that the plaintif's action for damages for personal injury following a road accident had been automatically struck out under Order 9, rule 10 of the County Court Rules 1981.

In June 1993 the plaintiff served the defendant with a summons and particulars of claim alleging negligence which had resulted in the plaintiff suffering damage. The defence, dated July 30, 1993,

Liability was not admitted stated: "[2] ... the defendant admits that the accident to the plaintiff ... was caused by the negligence of the defendant. (3) The defendant makes no admission in respect of the alleged or any injury

In May 1995 the defendant applied for a declaration under Order 9, rule 10(ii) of the County Court Rules 1981.

Order 9, rule 10 of the 1981 Rules provides: "Where 12 months have expired from the date of service of a default summons and ... (ii) an admission has been delivered but no judgment has been entered under rule 6(1)... the action shall be struck out..."

Mr Harvey McGregor, QC and Mr Steven Dyble for the piziniff; Mr Robert Mozon-Browne, QC and Ms Clare Brown for the

LORD JUSTICE HIRST said that the appeal had raised yet again a question concerning the construction and application of Order 9, rule 10 of the 1981 Rules. The court had been informed that the previous decided cases related to rule 10(i) and that the present case was the first where rule 10(ii)

The judge had held that the defence as pleaded constituted an admission within rule 10(ii) on which the plaintiff had been en-titled to obtain judgment and, accordingly, the action was automatically struck out once 12 months had elapsed and no judgment had been entered.... The plaintiff argued that on a proper construction of the defence nission within rule 10(ii) had been made, damage being the gist of a claim in negligence. He supported his argument by reference to Blundell v Rimmer [1971] WLR (23) and Rankine v Garton

Sons B Co Ltd [1979] 2 All ER

The defendant submitted that those two cases demonstrated an old-fashioned approach which should not now be followed. Alternatively, they should be distin-guished on the ground that they involved denials of damage which were much more categorical than in the present case. He argued that an admission to the accident was tantamount to an admission of

His Lordship was unable to accept the thrust of the defendant's of date and should be discarded

(at pi190) the plaintiff "has & move both elements of his cause of negligence causing the action and of damage resulting from the accident caused by the negligence, is enough ... to entitle him to dement."

Thus the question was whether thus the question was whether the defendant had made a clear admission of flability. His Lordship found it impossible to answer that question in the affirmative.
The plea in paragraph 2 of the defence was equivocal.

His Lordship was unable to accept that an admission of the accident necessarily implied an accept that an admission of the accident necessarily implied an admission of injury to the plaintiff, especially in the light of paragraph 3 of the defence.

If that left the defendant in a grey area he had only himself so blame. One of the tronies of the case was that the defendant had tried to foist the plaintiff with an outright admission which the draftsman of the defence had been careful not to make. it followed that there was no dmission by the defendant in the terms of Order 9, rule 10(ii) and no basis for striking out the action under that rule. Lord Justice Pill gave a concurring judgment.

the expert had no jurisdiction to

3 One would expect clause 55 to precede clauses 52 and 5.3 if the expert was to have jurisdiction.

4 VSEL had conceded that the court was intended to retain juris diction over the ambit of clause 5.5

unless and until the accountants disagreed on that issue.

grant such relief.

Role of expert limited by agreement

British Shipbuilders v VSEL Consortium pic Before Mr Justice Lightman

Judgment February 2) Questions as to the role of an expert had to be determined as a matter of construction of the relevant agreement and if that conferred on him the exclusive remit to determine a question, the invisdiction of the court over it was excluded: but if he went outside his remit the court could intervene and set his decision aside.

Likewise the court could set his decision aside, where the agreement so provided, in case of manifest error, the court had jurisdiction ahead of him to determine the limits of his remit or the conditions with which he had to comply but would, save in exceptional circumstances, decline to do

Mr Justice Lightman so held in the Chancery Division, on the authority of Mercury Communications Ltd v Director General of Telecommunications [1996]] WLR 48], Jones v Sherwood Computer Services (1992) 1 WLR 277) and Normich Union Life Assurance Society v PSO Property Holdings Ltd [1993] LEGLR 164) on an originating summons issued by the plaintiff, British Shipbuild-ers, on Murch 12, 1994.

decide whether work was "reason-tent with the Guide.

entitlement to documents under clause 5.5(b) of an agreement dated March 10, 1986 between it and the defendant, VSEL Consortium plc, for its sale to VSEL of Vickers Shipbuilding and Engineering Ltd clause 5.2(b) a further sum. with s ceiling of £40m; to be certified by reference to the profits of VSEL and its subsidiaries from April I. 1986 to March 31, 1992.

Clause 5.3: of the agreement provided:

"If any disagreement arises between [accountants appointed by BS and the auditors for the time being of VSELI in connection with the certification jof those profits, it was to be referred ultimately to a firm of chartered accounts person) ... ("the expert") [whose] decision shall, in the absence of manifest error, be final and binding ...

Clause 5.5(a) provided, inter alia, that each party should provide appropriate instructions to their respective accommants to certify under clause 5.2; and clause 5.5(b), that "VSEL shall... procure that the accountants appointed by BS will ... be allowed reasonable records of each member of the new

the case he was obliged to put his .

Mr Patrick Phillips, QC and Mr Roger Hetherington for BS; Mr Peter Scott, QC and Mr Alan Griffiths for VSEL MR JUSTICE LIGHTMAN said that when the hearing began and each party had appreciated the other's position, both bad agreed that the respective roles of the court and the expert should be determined prior to anything else. i Could only one, or more than one, reference be made under ause 5.3? His Lordship held its language apt to embrace recurrent ref-crences to the expert.

2 On a dispute between the parties or their accountants as to entitle-5.5(b), had the court or the expen urisdiction, or exclusive risdiction? In his Lordship's view, the role of the accountants did not extend beyond the certification process. They had no role to resolving disputes between BS and VSEL under clause 5.5(b); that of the expert, likewise.

That view was reinforced by: I Absence from the agreement that the expert had a role in resolving disputes between BS and VSEL as to their rights inter se.

2 VSEL's obligation under clause
5.5 was prima facie enforceable by

Mr Scott, submitting that "in connection with" meant "not unrelated to", had urged that disagreement of the accountants was not unrelated to the certifica-tion process; but in the instant context such a construction seemed inappropriate.

Mr Phillips had vigorously con-tended that clause S.5 was for BS's benefit and, mily construed, obliged VSEL to give access to all documents which BS's accountants bona fide or reasonably said fell within it, thus achieving parity of access to what might prove vital information. miormation.

Bot that construction of clause 5.5 involved newriting it, or at least reading in what was not there. The correct view was, therefore, that the court had exclusive jurisdiction to resolve disputes under clause

Solicitors: Ashurst Morris Crisp:

Counsel's final view on appeal chances can be expressed orally and not in writing A determining officer had to his final view at the conclusion of do so and that work would

Lord Chancellor v Brennan [Judgment January 22]

Before Mr Justice Hooper Where counsel who represented a legally aided defendant convicted or sentenced at the crown court orally expressed a final view at the conclusion of the case that an appeal would not succeed, paragraph I of A Guide to Proceedings In the Court of Appeal Criminal Division (HMSO) (1990) did not advice to the same effect.

If, after giving his final view at the conclusion of the case, counsel subsequently rendered such written advice in the absence of a specific request by his client, his

Paris and romance go logether - probably be most people's choice of destination for a

Valentine's Day

This is why

The Times offers

you the chance to take your partner

Phone your answers to the

to this city of lovers.

question below on our hotline before midnight

tomorrow and you and your

to spend a two-night break.

selected at random from all correct entries received.

will be contacted by

EuroDrive, who journey to Paris via Eurostar,

the high speed

London, to the

THE OUESTION

1. In which museum is the Mona Lisa?

minute cheap rate and 49p a minute at all other times.

Phone in your answers on our competition hotline, below, before midnight on Thursday February 15. The prize must be taken before March 31, 1996. Calls cost 39p a

CALL OUR HOTLINE: 0891 81 81 04

train which travels from Waterloo.

will arrange your

the travel

specialists,

The winner, who will be partner could be whisked there date.

claim for standard fees would, in the absence of special circum-stances, normally be refused by the determining officer as work not reasonably done.

Annex H to the Code of Conduct for the Bar of England and Wales (lifth edition (1990) revised 1995) had not been amended to reflect the 1990 changes in the 1983 version of the Guide.

Mr Justice Hooper, sitting with two assessors, so beld in a reserved judgment in the Queen's Bench Division given in open court, dismissing the Lord Chancellor's appeal under regulation 16 of the Legal Aid in Criminal and Care Proceedings (Costs) Regulations [SI 1989 No 343], against Master

THE WESTIMES

Take your Valentine

to romantic Paris

Rogers' decision allowing Miss Janice Brennan's claim for fees for the preparation of written advice, which had been refused by a determining officer.

Miss Brennan, a barrister.

Miss Brentan, a barrister, represented a legally aided, defendant aged 20 who had pleaded guilty in the crown court to burglary and was sentenced to 18 months detention in a young offenders' institution. She offenders' institution. immediately gave him oral advice that an appeal was unlikely to succeed and later that day she prepared a written advice to the same effect. She had not been provided by her instructing solic-itors with any document in the form of Appendix I to the Guide as centre of Paris, in only

You will stay at the three-star Hotel

Cordelia, close to the Opera and a short stroll to the shops on Boulevard

three hours.

Haussmann.

Our lucky

Valentines will be given £200 to spend. For wonderful restaurants, a

Times gourmet suggests La

EuroDrive

TRAVEL CLUB

Coupoule, the quintessential

French brasserie, or Café Flo.

another eaterie with beaucoup

de Gallic ambiance.

provided by paragraph 1.2. A determining officer refused her claim for £29 standard legal aid fees for the written advice on the ground that, applying R v Neill (unreported, February 14, 1986). the work was not reasonably done.

Mr Edward Solomons, solicitor.

for the Lord Chancellor; Mr Nigel

Pascoe, QC, for the barrister. MR JUSTICE HOOPER said that the barrister had understood from the Guide, and paragraph 17 of Annex H to the Code of Conduct that chunsel was obliged to furnish written advice after a client had been convicted or sentenced even when oral advice to that effect had been given earlier. The Guide provided: 1.1 No one convicted or semenced in the crown court in circum-stances where appeal lies to the Court of Appeal. Criminal Di-vision...should be without advice or assistance on appeal... Solic-itors should not wait to be asked for advice by the defendant. The following practice should be followed in all cases.

12 Solicitors include with the trief to counsel a separate form of instruction to give advice- and assistance on appeal in the event of conviction or sentence, see Appendix I.

1.3 Immediately following the conclusion of the case, counsel and solicitor see the defendant and counsel expresses trally either:

Ta) his final view as to the prospects of a successful appeal twhether against conviction or sensence or both]. (i) II there are no reasonable grounds of appeal, the Appendix should be completed and a copy provided then or a soon as practicable thereafter to the defendant by the salicitor. [ii] there are reasonable grounds, the Appendix should be completed and signed grounds of appeal drafted. Thereafter the procedure at L6 should be followed.

(b) his provisional view as to the prospects of a successful appeal.

Appendix I should be completed. Thereafter the procedure at 1.4 should be followed. "(c) that he requires time to consider the prospects of a successful appeal. Appendix I should be completed. Thereafter the procedure at 1.4 should be followed. Coursel will note that the defendant should always be provided with a completed Appendix I either immediately after the conclusion of the case or as soon as practicable

"i.4 Within 14 days counsel sends to solicitors (a) an advice on appeal and (b) where appropriate, signed grounds of appeal

Mr Solomons submitted that whereas the 1983 version made it clear that a written advice was always required within 21 days, the new version made it clear that no such written advice was required if paragraph 1.3(a) of the Guide applied. Unfortunately Annex H had not been amended, as it should have been to take into account the changes to the Guide. The Guide did not require any written advice The above company's cridibuts on he suspected at the offices of Leonard Guests & Go. PO-Box: 563, 30 Easthouther Ferrace. Und Froet-Lendon W2 GUF. between the hours of 10.00 am to 6.00 pm. herdinost daily preparations for the control of the control of the preparation of the control of the preparation of the preparat if counsel expressed orally his final view at the conclusion of the case. Furthermore the period of 21 days had been replaced with a period of advice in writing pursuant to paragraph L4. A determining ofably done" having regard to the current edition of the Guide and not to those provisions of the Code ficer would only in rare cases of Canduct which were inconsisconclude that a written advice given under paragraph 1.4 was "not reasonably done" where he The procedures in paragraph 1.4 decided that counsel should have applied only in the circumstances expressed his final view at the covered by 1.3(b) and (c). If counsel conclusion of the case. expressed orally his "final view" at But where counsel had ex-pressed a final view that an appeal the conclusion of the case, then he should delete paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) on Appendix I and no would not succeed and was thereafter requested by the defendant to put his advice in writing, he should further action was required of him. Where counsel did not express normally be work "reasonably done".

Where counsel expressed his final view and thereafter other than at the defendant's request... forwarded a written advice, then R v Neill provided helpful guidance to a determining officer. But those officers should also bear in mind that the saving of legal aid re-sources might not result in an overall saving of publicly funded

In the present case the work was reasonably done, having regard to the age of the defendant and the possible issue of disparity. His Lordship hoped that the General Council of the Bar would consider amending Annex H to the Code of Conduct to resect the contents of the current Guide.

Finally, it was important that counsel fill in a document with the information contained in Appen-dix I to the Guide. If coursel did not do that there was a much greater risk that the provision of written advice would be found to be work not reasonably done.

Solicitors: Treasury Solicitor.

PUBLIC NOTICES

LEGAL & PUBLIC NOTICES

0171-782 7344

LEGAL NOTICES

THE BROADCASTING COMPLAINTS COMMISSION

Complaint from His Honour Ian Starforth Hill, QC - Draft summary of adjudication

His Honour Ian Starforth Hill, a retired Circuit Judge, complained to the Bradeasting Complaints Commission that he had been unjustly and unfairly rested in a Channel Four programme entitled The The Judge claimed that the presenter had spent the whole programme focusing on a particularly controversial judgment in a case of sexual assault on a child, whom he had described as "not entirely an The Commission End that the programme did not focus exclusively on this case and that the broadcasters had adequately prepared the Judge for the adversarial - even bectoring - nature of the programme. The Commission find no unfairness to the Judge in these respects. The Judge also complained that the showing of a video clip of the victim's response to the judgment, and the mother's presence in the studio audience, broke an agreement that no victims would be

The Commission find to unfairness in the using of a newschip of the unidentified victim commenting on the day of the judgment.

However, the Commission consider that the broadcasters were unfair to the Judge in not warning him that the child's mother was, in effect, speaking for her when she asked the Judge to apologise to her daughter. Her participation broke the spirit of the understanding between the Judge and the Broadcasters and in this one respect the Commission find unfairness.

MOORE AND DONDARY LTD NOTICE IS RETERNY CEVEN pursued to Bection 98 of the sendon year and to bection 98 of the sendon year and to the sendon year and the creditors of the above same concent with the held at the officer of Leutent Curits & Co. allumed at 30 Leutengape Ferrary. Cod Ploor I Leuten. W2 CP, on 5th March 1994 at 12 CO thous for the purposes provided or as Sertion 98 of Ard Art 181 of Franches and distributed of the above company's creditors.

LEGAL NOTICES

Case Number 212 of 1996
COUNTY LEDGET
DO LEDGET
DO BANGETURE OF TOWN OF THE COUNTY TO PAUL WILLIAM WILLIAM OF THE SAME OF THE

If you do not attend the hearing of the polition the Court may

M J ARJON LINGTED
On Creditors Order and Company of the Institution of Ins hibiting the payment. Dated 12th Fabruary 1996. B. R. NAYLOR, Director.

> PUBLIC NOTICES Chang: The Animal > Welfare Trust
> Schane for the adoptestration > of the charity > Reference AR/2005/CD (7)

into

Sever Street and the second

-L 28

....

2.00

21.06

1. Car.

10 3 a 1 4 4 4

7.54

-74.4